

AIDE AUX ARTS VISUELS, 1998-1999

- En 1998-1999, le Conseil des Arts du Canada a accordé aux arts visuels du Canada des subventions d'une valeur globale de plus de 15 millions de dollars. Ce montant représente une augmentation de 2,2 millions de dollars par rapport à 1997-1998.
- Le Conseil a attribué 5,2 millions de dollars aux artistes en arts visuels et 10 millions de dollars aux organismes d'arts visuels (voir Tableau 1a). Des subventions de programmation et de fonctionnement d'une valeur totale de 5,5 millions de dollars ont été accordées à 71 musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif, tandis que 81 centres d'artistes autogérés ont reçu en tout 2 millions de dollars pour leur fonctionnement.
- Dans l'ensemble, le Conseil des Arts du Canada a soutenu 305 organismes d'arts visuels en 1998-1999, y compris des musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif, des centres d'artistes autogérés, des collectifs et associations, et des galeries d'art et programmes d'arts visuels d'universités. Il a accru son aide aux artistes en arts visuels professionnels; il en a subventionné 632 en 1998-1999 comparativement à 500 en 1997-1998.
- L'aide aux arts visuels représente 15 p. 100 de l'aide du Conseil des Arts du Canada aux arts, ce qui place cette discipline au milieu de l'échelle des subventions accordées (voir Tableau 1b).
- L'aide aux organismes et artistes en arts visuels est largement dispersée dans tout le pays entre 181 villes et collectivités (voir Tableau 2). Toutefois, un pourcentage élevé de cette aide se concentre dans les grandes villes dotées d'importants musées et galeries d'art et dans les communautés où les arts visuels occupent une place importante. Par exemple, Montréal et Toronto ont reçu plus de 2 millions de dollars et Vancouver a obtenu 1,4 million de dollars.

QUELQUES FAITS SUR LES ARTS VISUELS AU CANADA

- Selon le recensement du Canada de 1996, le Canada compte 1 900 conservateurs et plus de 13 000 artistes en arts visuels. Le nombre des membres de ces deux professions a augmenté de façon marquée entre les deux derniers recensements (1991 et 1996), celui des conservateurs de 36 p.100 et celui des artistes en arts visuels de 17,5 p. 100.
- Les données du sondage effectué par le Conseil pour le monde des affaires et des arts du Canada¹ auprès des musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif en 1997-1998 révèlent qu'environ 22 millions de personnes ont visité les musées et galeries d'art du Canada en 1997-1998, soit 2,4 millions de plus que l'année précédente. Le succès de l'exposition Picasso du Musée des beaux-arts est en partie responsable de cette augmentation, car le Musée a reçu 50 p. 100 plus de visiteurs qu'en 1996-1997.
- En dépit de la hausse marquée de l'aide du Conseil des Arts du Canada aux galeries d'art à but non lucratif en 1997-1998, par suite de la création du programme d'aide à la programmation et au fonctionnement des musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif, le pourcentage des revenus de fonctionnement globaux (de certaines galeries) assuré par le Conseil est demeuré à 1,4 p. 100 (le même qu'en 1996-1997). Le montant de 3,4 millions de dollars accordé aux galeries d'art à but non lucratif n'a pas modifié la répartition des subventions gouvernementales totales en raison de la composition de l'échantillon du sondage; bon nombre des galeries à but non lucratif qui ont participé au sondage en 1997-1998 peuvent ne pas avoir été admissibles à ces nouveaux fonds.

Le sondage inclut les importants organismes artistiques tels que le Musée des beaux-arts du Canada, le Musée des beaux-arts de l'Ontario et le Musée des beaux-arts de Montréal.
