Introduction

The Privacy Act (Revised Statute of Canada 1985, Chapter P-21) was proclaimed on July 1, 1983.

The Privacy Act extends to individual Canadian citizens and permanent residents, the right of access to information about themselves held by the government, subject to specific and limited exceptions. The Privacy Act also protects the individual's right to privacy by preventing others from having access to personal information and gives individuals substantial control over its collection and use.

Section 72 of the Privacy Act requires that the head of every government institution prepare an annual report on the administration of the Privacy Act within the institution during each financial year for submission to Parliament.

This annual report is submitted by the Office of the Commissioner of Lobbying (OCL) in accordance with the Privacy Act. It describes how the OCL fulfilled its responsibilities in fiscal year 2012-2013.

The Office of the Commissioner of Lobbying

The Commissioner of Lobbying is responsible for the administration of the Lobbying Act (the Act) and the Code. The Office of the Commissioner of Lobbying (OCL) supports the Commissioner in her mandate. The authority of the Commissioner is derived from the Act. The legislation seeks to improve transparency and accountability regarding communications between lobbyists and federal public office holders and increase the confidence of Canadians in the integrity of government decision-making.

The mandate of the Commissioner is threefold:

- Establish and maintain the Registry of Lobbyists, which contains and makes public the registration information disclosed by lobbyists;
- Develop and implement educational programs to foster public awareness of the requirements of the Act; and
- Undertake administrative reviews and investigations to ensure compliance with the Act and the Lobbyists' Code of Conduct (the Code)

Under the Act, the Commissioner of Lobbying also has the authority to grant exemptions to former designated public office holders who are subject to a five-year prohibition on lobbying activities.

The Commissioner reports annually to Parliament on the administration of the Act and the Code. The Commissioner is also required to table to Parliament reports on investigations, which include her findings, conclusions and the reasons for her conclusion.

Responsibility for Information Rights / Delegation of Authority

The Privacy Act provides the authority to exercise full powers to the Commissioner of Lobbying. The OCL's Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Coordinator is delegated the authority via a Delegation Order, which is attached in Annex A. The OCL has two positions responsible for the administration of the Privacy Act, an ATIP Coordinator and an ATIP Advisor.

The Deputy Commissioner, as the ATIP Coordinator, is responsible for the development, coordination and implementation of effective policies, guidelines and procedures to manage the OCL's compliance with the Privacy Act. The Coordinator makes decisions on the disposition of requests under the Privacy Act, promotes awareness of the legislation to ensure organizational responsiveness to its obligations, as well as monitors and advises on compliance with the Privacy Act, regulations, procedures and policies. Further, the Coordinator acts as spokesperson for the OCL in dealings with the Treasury Board Secretariat, the Privacy Commissioner, and other government departments and agencies. The Coordinator is also responsible for conducting consultations with other governments within Canada and other federal organizations, as required. Finally, the Coordinator is the point of contact on issues involving the collection of personal information and privacy.

The ATIP Advisor is responsible for processing the requests received under the Privacy Act and making recommendations to the ATIP Coordinator on the disposition of any requests received. Under the authority of the Act, the OCL collects personal information from registrants and the disclosures filed by registrants are accessible on the OCL's website at the following address: <http://www.ocl-cal.gc.ca>.

The Act prescribes that investigations be conducted in private. In the event of requests for information related to possible administrative reviews and investigations conducted under the Act and the Code, the OCL will not confirm or deny that an investigation is taking place. The only exception is when the information has been confirmed at a Parliamentary Committee and is therefore in the public domain.

Reports on Investigations that are completed must be tabled in both Houses of Parliament. They are also posted on the OCL's website.
