FOREWORD

The Canadian census, a national stock-taking of population, housing and agriculture, is of the utmost importance. It is taken to obtain statistical information which provides the basis for many important planning decisions made by the general public, aboriginal peoples' organizations, businesses and governments.

The success of the 1991 Census largely depends on you because you will collect the basic facts from the people living in your area. It is from these facts that statistical information can be developed for aboriginal groups and their communities. I count on you to perform your duties efficiently and effectively.

In order for you to do this, you must learn and use the procedures in this manual.

Good luck in what will be a challenging assignment! I hope that you will enjoy your work and find it interesting and rewarding.

The Chief Statistician of Canada.

I. INTRODUCTION

A. What is the Census?

It is Canada's official counting of population, dwellings and farms. It is like a photograph of the country every five years at one specific point in time.

B. Your Responsibility as a Census Representative

It is your responsibility to ensure that a Population Questionnaire, Form 2D, is completed by interview for each private dwelling within your enumeration area (EA). It is also your responsibility to ensure you identify any agricultural operators, agricultural land and collective dwellings in your EA. You are required to perform these tasks by following the procedures in this manual.

It is important that you encourage the co-operation of the people who live in your enumeration area and that you promote the value of the census to them.

C. Your Manual

This manual contains the information, procedures, questionnaire content explanations and definitions which you will require to enumerate the Indian reserve EA and/or Indian settlement.

Since the STANDARD APPLICATION of these procedures is very important for the collection of good data, you must become familiar with this manual and learn how to use it.

Your responsibilities have been grouped in the manual as follows:

- Chapters I to IV describe general information, definitions, forms and responsibilities;
- Chapter V describes the procedures for private dwellings;
- Chapters VI and VII provide information related to your pay and the finalization of your assignment;
- Chapter VIII is a reference chapter that provides additional questionnaire content explanations;
- Chapter IX contains procedures for your Census Commissioner:
- Appendix A describes the sections of the Statistics Act which apply to enumeration;
- Appendix B describes procedures for missing population questionnaires and partial refusal cases.
- Appendix C is a chart that you can use if the respondent wants help using his/her income tax return to answer questions on income.

C. Your Manual -Concluded

Appendix D contains instructions for preparing the additional questionnaires you will need if a household has more than six members.

D. Quality Control of Your Work

To ensure uniform quality of data and maximum coverage, it is necessary that your work be checked. Your Census Commissioner will perform regular checks on your work and will do a final check of your completed assignment.

Following your Census Commissioner's check, your work will also be checked by a quality control technician.

E. Terms and Conditions of Employment -Census Representatives (Form 24A)

- 1. Review your Terms and Conditions of Employment, Form 24A, to ensure that you understand your responsibilities, method of payment, etc. If you have any questions, contact your Census Commissioner.
- 2. In the event of disputes arising from rates of pay and terms of employment, the decision of the Chief Statistician will be final.
- 3. It is your responsibility to ensure that your automobile insurance is adequate while working on the 1991 Census of Canada.

F. Illness or Accident

- 1. Should you be ill on any working day, call your Census Commissioner.
- 2. Exercise caution when confronted by situations which may be dangerous to your health, e.g., dogs.
- 3. In the event of injury or accident on the job, advise your Census Commissioner as soon as possible. You may be entitled to compensation benefits as provided for by the province or territory in which you are working.

G. Confidentiality During and after the Census, be careful not to reveal and Security information to anyone other than the respondent.

> The Statistics Act provides that all information collected by the census be kept confidential. By law, Statistics Canada may not reveal any information regarding an individual to any person, business, agency or other department of the government. This also applies directly to you. Disclosure of any information obtained under this Act is an offence and any person found guilty of this offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding $1,000 or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to both (see Appendix A, section 17 and section 30).

G. Confidentiality and Security -Concluded

The security of all completed questionnaires and census material is your responsibility. At home, ensure that no one, including members of your family, has access to completed questionnaires or other material. Follow the DOs and DO NOT's listed on the back cover of this manual.

H. Public

A communications program has been prepared to inform native Communications groups about the census. This program is designed to support your efforts when you make personal contact with your respondents.

> The Additional Questionnaire Content Explanations chapter, Chapter VIII, is to be used to assist you in asking and obtaining responses to questions.

The 1991 Census Guide (Form 9B) contains an explanation of why each question is asked. This guide was designed for use by respondents in mail-back areas; the questions and answers do not match the questionnaire 2D exactly. However, the information in the guide will help you when you need to explain a question.

L Questions Frequently Asked by Respondents

1. Legal Requirement

Is there a legal requirement to take a census?

The information sought in relation to, or associated with, the census of population is requested pursuant to the Statistics Act. As indicated in the top right-hand corner of the front cover of census questionnaires, there is a legal requirement to provide this information. The questions which relate to a census of population or census of agriculture are prescribed by the Governor in Council or asked pursuant to section 22 of the Statistics Act.

2. Invasion of Privacy

(a) Is this information not already available from other government records?

Answer: No. While some information is available from the records of other departments, it is not complete and would not provide reliable statistics on a national scale. Most other government records do not account for all persons and all households in Canada; however, the census does.

(b) Why do you need all this personal information?

Answer: Information obtained with respect to each person is made into statistics which reflect economic, social and cultural conditions throughout Canada, not only as of Census Day but as they change from census to census. The questions asked provide data for forming statistics only. The data cannot be identified with individuals.

I. Questions Frequently Asked by Respondents Continued

3. Confidentiality

(a) How do I know that information I provide on my questionnaire will be kept confidential?

Answer: The Statistics Act requires that information about individuals be protected. The Statistics Act ensures that only employees who have been sworn to secrecy can see individual information. Penalties for employees who breach the Act include both fines and imprisonment. Special security measures are enforced throughout the collection process to protect your information. No one outside of Statistics Canada will have access to individual records at any time or under any authority - not other government agencies or departments, not even the RCMP or the CSIS (Canadian Security Intelligence Service).

(b) Why do you need persons' names as well as an address on the questionnaire?

Answer: Names and address are required to make sure that no one is missed in taking the census and that no one is counted twice.

Names and street addresses are not included in the statistical tabulation of the data from the questionnaire.

(c) What happens to my questionnaire after it is completed?

Answer: After your census questionnaire is completed, it is checked for completeness and then given to the Census Commissioner to be forwarded to the regional processing centre in your area. From there it is shipped to Statistics Canada head office in Ottawa, where the questionnaires will be retained in secure storage until they are destroyed.

(d) Who has access to these questionnaires?

Answer: Only employees sworn to secrecy under the Statistics Act will have access to your questionnaire.

4. Uses of Census Data

(a) What is census data used for?

This census will provide information important to the ongoing administration of the band. The population figures alone will help the band establish a rate of growth and project future needs. It will tell how many school age children there are, what labour activity the people of the band are involved in, how adequate housing is and the present education levels. By comparing data from previous censuses, the band can measure the relative well-being of its people and trends in the retention and use of aboriginal languages.

A. Duties at Home Before Enumeration Concluded

- 4. Ensure that your carrying case contains the following:
 - (a) Aboriginal Peoples Procedures Manual, Form 42A;
 - (b) Visitation Record (VR), Form 1, and a black pen;
 - (c) notices of Census Representative's call, Forms 1B;
 - (d) EA map (and township plan if applicable);
 - (e) population questionnaires, Forms 2D;
 - (f) individual census questionnaires, Forms 3;
 - (g) missing questionnaire cards, Forms 4A;
 - (h) incomplete questionnaire cards, Forms 4B; and
 - (i) 1991 Census Guide, Form 9B.

B. Mapping Instructions

1. How to Read Your Map

(a) Direction - North

The top of your map always points north unless otherwise indicated.

- (b) Landscape Symbols
 - (i) The main landscape features are indicated by symbols on most maps. If you use these symbols, you can determine your location within your EA by picking out landmarks (railways, churches, schools) along a road and comparing those landmarks to the symbols on your map. The most important symbols are:

Roads =	Cemetery
Railways +	Buildings	- 1
Stream, ditch	House	•
Power line	Barn	/ L
Telephone lines	School	₫ ms
Quarry, sand pit	Church	i +
	Post Office	■ P

(c) Map Legend

The following map legend symbols will appear on your EA map.

EA NUMBER

1) BLOCK NUMBER

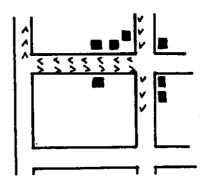

Note: Block numbers are not common but numbered blocks may appear on your map. If your map has block numbers, follow the instructions in Section I of the VR.

2. Planning Your Enumeration Route

Ensure you understand the boundaries of your EA.

(a) General

- (i) The boundary of your EA is outlined on your map with a purple line. Never change your boundaries or enumerate outside the purple line.
- (ii) Where a road or street forms the boundary between two EAs, only the dwellings on the side of the road or street within the boundary of your EA are your responsibility.
- (iii) Indicate by arrowheads (>>>) the route you plan to follow, obeying the rules that follow.

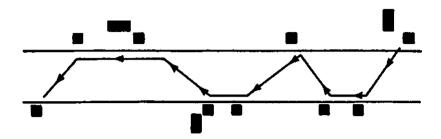

(b) Route Plan

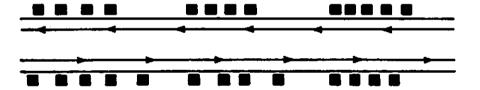

Plan your route to cover all roads without excessive travel.

(i) Start your route at one corner of your EA, if possible.

(ii) In typical rural areas, canvass both sides of each road, crossing back and forth as you come to each dwelling, but remain within your EA.

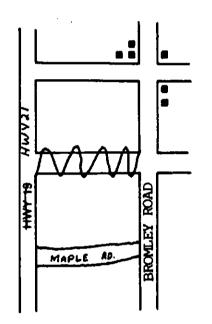

(iii) In built-up rural areas, canvass one side of the road, then the other.

3. How to Complete Your Map

One of your major responsibilities during enumeration is to complete your map. When an error, omission or deletion is discovered, correct your map.

The following diagram illustrates how you are to correct your map and shows examples of the entries you are to make:

- (a) If there is a new road or highway not shown on your map, draw it in and enter its name (e.g., Maple Rd).
- (b) If a road or highway no longer exists, draw a wavy line through it.
- (c) Cross out with a straight line, names of roads or highways which have changed and enter the new names (e.g., Hwy 19 to Hwy 21).
- (d) If you are required to make too many changes to your map, redraw it.

When redrawing your map, show the most important features, that is roads, rivers, railways, etc., and enter the PROV, FED and EA numbers.

Please return your redrawn map with the original map in the pocket of the Visitation Record.

4. Map Entries

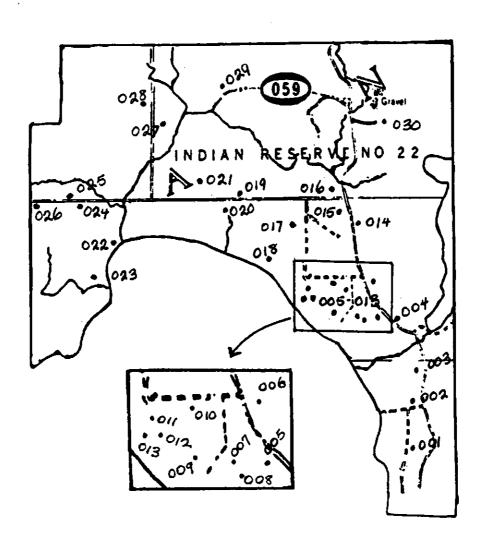

- (a) Make any necessary corrections according to the instructions in point 3 above.
- (b) Enter the household number (the number from Column 2 of Section I of the Visitation Record) as close to the location of each dwelling as possible.

Note: Household numbers need not be entered for urban area maps.

- (c) If you have a group of dwellings together and there is not enough room to enter all household numbers:
 - (i) enter the household number of the first and last households in the group;
 - (ii) enclose the group of households within a square on the map;
 - (iii) sketch at the bottom of the map, a map of the area identifying each household by its household number.

C. Procedures for Canvassing Your EA

- 1. Use your planned enumeration route to find and visit every dwelling in your enumeration area. If you have difficulty determining your EA boundaries, contact your Census Commissioner.
- 2. Examine every building from the outside for signs of more dwellings within (e.g., electrical wires, side entrances, stairs at rear). By following this procedure, you can help reduce the possibility of people or dwellings being missed.
- 3. Ask at the band office, community hall, stores, garages, restaurants, schools, churches, etc., to determine whether there might be living quarters within, above or behind.
- 4. Look for telephone wires, trails, mailboxes, etc., which may lead you to a dwelling not visible from the road.

D. Procedures for Approaching a Household

The people in your enumeration area may or may not know about the census. The success of your visit may depend upon how you capproach each household.

- 1. Be polite and friendly.
- 2. Introduce yourself as the Census Representative and show your identification card.
- 3. Inform the householder that the purpose of your visit is to obtain a completed census questionnaire and that it will not take very long.

F. Agricultural Operators and Agricultural Holdings

An operator is the person responsible for the day-to-day decisions made in the operation of an agricultural holding.

Agricultural holding is defined as a farm, ranch or other agricultural holding (other agricultural holdings include, for example, feedlots, greenhouses, mushroom houses, nurseries, fur farms and beekeeping, sod, berry and maple syrup operations). - 2. If you have to delete a line or part of a line in the VR because of an error, draw a line through the incorrect information and correct it as neatly as possible on the same line.
- 3. When making entries in the VR, a black pen is to be used. Ensure that your entries are legible.
- 4. If your map has block numbers, e.g.,

be sure to enter them in Column 1 of the VR for each dwelling in the block.

5. If your map is for an Indian settlement which is an unincorporated place, be sure to enter the name of the unincorporated place in Column I of the VR.

Note: If confusion exists as to whether you are to list the dwelling or in what section to list the dwelling, consult your Census Commissioner.

H. Completion Status Reports

3. Dwelling Under Construction

This is any new dwelling which is under construction but is not yet complete.

The dwelling is considered complete when it meets all three of the conditions necessary for year-round occupancy (a source of heat or power, year-round access to drinking water, and shelter from the elements).

That is, it does not meet all three conditions necessary for year-round occupancy: a source of heat or power, year-round access to drinking water and shelter from the elements.

A dwelling that is unsuitable for a few days while new windows are being installed or while awaiting approval for new electrical wiring should not be regarded as under renovation or conversion, but should be treated as a regular occupied private dwelling.

VIII. ADDITIONAL QUESTIONNAIRE CONTENT EXPLANATIONS

This chapter is intended to be used along with the 1991 Census Guide, Form 9B. The chapter contains additional explanations and examples to assist you during enumeration.

A. Step 5 and Step 6

Living here means that the person or persons have no other usual place of residence. If persons or families stay at more than one dwelling, they should be counted at the dwelling they stay at the longest.

Include all persons who usually live in the dwelling even if they are temporarily away working, at school, or on holidays. Be sure to include:

- o household members who may be away hunting, fishing, trapping or guiding;
- o children away at boarding school;
- o persons who usually live in the dwelling who have been away in an institution (e.g., a hospital, nursing home, correctional centre), for less than six months, that is, they entered the institution after December 4, 1990.

When in doubt, include a person in a household unless it is likely that the person will be included in another household.

In Step 6, if the respondent gives you additional names:

- Add the additional names to the list in Step 5.
- Make sure that the person being interviewed is on the list.

B. Question 2, Relationship

If the respondent cannot identify the exact relationship of Person 2 or other household members to Person 1, mark the "Other" circle and print the exact response in the write-in space provided. If no exact response can be obtained, print "Unable to determine" in the write-in space.

Note: Stepchildren, adopted children and children of commonlaw partners are to be considered as sons and daughters.

Foster children, wards and guardianship children who are not related to Person 1 by blood, marriage, adoption or common-law should be listed as lodgers.

C. Question 3, Date of Birth

If the respondent cannot provide the month, ask for the season and get the best estimate of month as follow:

Winter (December, January or February)

Spring (March, April or May)
Summer (June, July or August)

Fall (September, October or November)

Record the month as a number starting with:

January 01 February 02 and so on to December 12

If the respondent does not know the year of birth, ask how old he/she is and follow the applicable instructions below:

IF THE MONTH OF BIRTH IS:	THEN:
January to May	- Subtract the age from 1991 (e.g., 1991 - 60 = 1931).
June to December	- Subtract the age from 1990 (e.g., 1990 - 60 = 1930).

D. Question 4, Sex

Be sure to ask this question for every member of the household. Certain names can be given to either males or females.

E. Question 5, Legal Marital Status

If the respondent is unable to reply, probe to determine a response remembering the following:

- o legally married (and not separated) means a certificate from a priest, minister, judge or justice of the peace.
- o legally married and separated means currently married, but the husband and wife have stopped living together and have not obtained a divorce certificate;
- divorced means previously married, but the husband and wife have stopped living together and have obtained a divorce certificate;
- o widowed means previously married, but the husband or wife has since died.

If none of the above apply, mark "Never married".

F. Question 8, Knowledge of Other Languages

Answers such as "Indian", "Native", "Amerindian" or "Native language" must be more specific, for example, "Cree" rather than "Indian". In such cases, determine the specific language.

Question 9, Home Language

Also, answers using a language family, e.g., Algonquian or Athapaskan must be more specific as shown in the table below.

Question 10, Language First Learned and Still Understood

IF A RESPONDENT ANSWERS:	THEN:
Algonquian	o Probe to determine the specific language, such as Blackfoot, Cree, Malecite, Micmac, Montagnais-Naskapi or Ojibway.
Athapaskan	o Probe to determine the specific language, such as Carrier, Chilcotin, Chipewyan, Dogrib, Loucheux, Slave, Tahltan or Tutchone.

G. Question 15, Cultural Origins

If the respondent says he/she is "Indian", including "status Indian", "treaty or non-treaty Indian", "non-status Indian" or "registered Indian", mark circle 20 (North American Indian).

If the respondent gives the name of an Indian tribe (for example, Cree, Chipewyan, Mohawk), enter the respondent's answer in the first write-in space provided, box 23.

If the respondent gives any other answer(s) than the nine groups shown on the questionnaire, enter the answer(s) in the remaining blank write-in spaces.

Examples of other cultural groups include Norwegian, Swedish, Icelandic, Ukrainian, Italian.

If you do not have enough space to write all the answers a person gives, use the "Comments" section at the back of the questionnaire. Be sure to enter the person number and the question number with the additional responses.

H. Question 16(b), Band/First Nation

Question 16(b), This is a special instruction that applies to you and is different Band/First from what appears in the 1991 Census Guide, Form 9B.

If the person is not a member of a band or first nation, mark the "no" circle and print "NOT APPLICABLE" in the write-in space provided for the Band name.

I. Question 21, Same or Different House 5 Years Ago If the respondent is unable to answer because he/she is not sure about the time period, try to calculate the person's age 5 years ago. Then use this age to try to determine where the person lived 5 years ago, when he/she was X years old.

J. Question 22, Place of Residence 5 Years Ago

If the respondent's address has changed simply because the boundary or name of the municipality or reserve/settlement has changed, mark answer circle 03 (Lived in the same city ... or Indian reserve).

If the respondent has moved to a different municipality or reserve, mark answer circle 04 (Lived in a different city ... or Indian reserve).

You can use the answer categories to help the respondent answer. For example, you can ask:

- Five years ago, did you live on this reserve/settlement?
 If yes, mark 03 (Lived in same city ... or Indian reserve);
- did you live off the reserve or on a different reserve/settlement?
 If yes, mark 04 (Lived in a different city ... or Indian reserve).

For answer cicle 04 (Different city... or Indian reserve), follow the instructions below:

IF RESPONDENT ANSWERS THAT HE/SHE LIVED:	THEN:
On a different reserve/settlement	o Determine the legal name of the reserve/settlement and the province and enter this information in the space provided.
Off the reserve/ settlement in a different city,	o Determine the name of the city, town, etc., and the province and enter this information in the space provided.
town, etc.	o If necessary, read the instruction in Question 22 (Some large cities).
	 Print the name of the place and province according to current names and boundaries.
\	o Street names and numbers are not required.

K. Question 23, Number of Births

Ask this question for all women aged 15 years and over, including those who are single (never married).

Include any children born prior to a current marriage.

Stillbirth means an infant who showed no sign of life at birth.

L. Question 24, Highest Grade

If you are only able to determine the level of schooling, note that:

- o Kindergarten means before Grade 1;
- o Junior Elementary means Grades 1 to 5;
- o Senior Elementary or Junior High means Grades 6 to 8;
- o Secondary or Senior High means Grades 9 to 12 (9 to 13 in Ontario).

Probe to determine if the level was completed and observe the following instructions:

LEVEL IS COMPLETE:	THEN:
YES	o Enter the number 5 for "Junior Elementary", 8 for "Senior Elementary", 12 for "Secondary" outside Ontario and 13 for "Secondary" in Ontario.
NO and (no specific grade)	o Enter the number 3 for "Junior Elementary", 7 for "Senior Elementary", 11 for "Secondary" in the space provided next to box 60.

M. (i) Question 25, University

In questions 25 and 26: some respondents may answer "yes" to part (a), but they may not have completed a course of studies or may have discontinued their studies before completing a course. In these cases, the number "0" should be recorded in part (b) of the question.

M. (ii) Question 26, Other Nonuniversity -Concluded

For Question 26, if a respondent cannot determine whether a particular schooling experience qualifies, explain the following:

- craft courses or formal training, retraining or upgrading courses related to livelihood or to business should be included:
- o also included are courses sponsored by Canada Employment and Immigration Commission or provincial or territorial ministries of labour or manpower.

Do not count courses related to leisure or recreation.

N. Question 30, Hours of Work Last Week

Remember that the following count as work:

- working for a pay cheque;
- running a business, even if it's not making money;
- hunting, fishing and trapping (except as a sport);
- fixing nets, guns, etc., used to hunt, fish or trap;
- native arts and crafts made for selling or trading;

0. Question 33, Looking for Work in the Last Four Weeks

Remember the following also count as looking for work:

- asking friends or relatives if work is available;
- checking billboard notices in community centres or local stores for jobs;
- checking newspapers for jobs.

P. Questions 36 and 37. Industry

For persons who report working "for the Band", try to obtain more detail on the kind of business (e.g., school, band police, band administration) and record this in Question 37.

Q. Place of Work

Question 38(b), For persons who reported hunting, trapping, fishing, guiding or logging in Question 37, print "no usual place" in the space provided for street address.

> Where these activities are carried out on a reserve, also print the full name of the reserve in the spaces provided.

R. Questions 39 and 40, Kind of Work

If the respondent reports "Government make work project" or "Labouring", try to obtain more detail as to his/her specific activities, i.e. house construction, digging ditches, building roads.

If no job is reported, refer to Question 35. Try to find out if the respondent last worked in 1990 or 1991. If yes, try to obtain answers to Questions 39 and 40.

Note: Seasonal occupations (regular work during some season of the year) or irregular work should be reported even if no money was received (for example, guiding, craft-work).

If the respondent reports he/she did not work, try to determine if the person maintained his/her family, for example, by hunting, fishing, trapping, trading or farming, and enter the replies in the spaces provided.

S. Question 41, Class of Worker

For persons who have reported hunting, trapping, fishing or guiding in Questions 37 or 39:

If the person uses equipment he/she owns or has a share in, mark "working for self" in Question 41(a) and determine in Question 41(b) if he/she had paid help.

T. Question 42, Legal Status of Business

Refers to the legal status of a business. An INCORPORATED BUSINESS has been formed into a legal corporation, having a legal entity. It usually has a name ending by "Inc.", "Ltd.", or "Co.". An UNINCORPORATED BUSINESS has no separate legal entity, but may be a partnership, family business or owner-operated business.

On reserves/settlements, persons who report they were "working for self" will usually not be incorporated.

U. (i) Question 45, Income

Income means money income received during 1990.

For each part, determine whether the respondent received any income. If so, check the "Yes" circle and enter the amount. If not, mark the "No" circle. Even if the respondent had income from a source but cannot provide the amount, mark the "Yes" circle.

Do not assume that some income sources are not applicable. For example, an individual may not be working at the time of the census but might have received wages during 1990. Or, an individual might be working at the time of the census but might have received unemployment insurance benefits in the previous year.

U. (i) Question 45. Income -Concluded

A respondent can refer to his/her income tax return to provide answers to Question 45. In Appendix C, there is a chart that shows how the information requested in Question 45 corresponds to the entries on the income tax return. You may use this chart when interviewing the respondent, but only when he/she requests your assistance.

- (ii) Question 45(a), Include tips, commissions and bonuses. U. Wages and Salaries
- U. (iii) Question 45(b), Any profits from self-employment in fishing, hunting or trapping Profits from activities should be included in Question 45(b). Selfemployment

Include in 45(g) any monetary payments to individuals from these programs whether received from federal, provincial/territorial or municipal governments or from the band or district council.

U. Band Trust Funds

(v) Question 45(h), Income received from band trust funds should be reported in 45(h) as investment income.

V. Question H1. Person Responsible for Dwelling Payments

If the respondent reports that payments for the dwelling are made by the band council, mark answer circle 07 in the "NOTE" (no one living here makes such payments) and indicate that payments are made by the band council in the "COMMENTS" section of the questionnaire.

W. Band Housing, to him/her: Rented or Owned

Question H2(a), If the respondent asks for more information, read the following

- 1. Band housing refers to a dwelling on land that belongs to the Band but is provided to one or more band members. If you, or one of the household members, have a Certificate of Occupation (C.O.), or you occupy the land at the pleasure of the band council, you should indicate "Band housing".
- 2. If you, or one of the household members, possess a Certificate of Possession (C.P.) or a Location Ticket for this dwelling, or have been allotted this land by tradition or custom, you should indicate "Owned".

X. Questions H6. H7 and H8. Dwelling Cost Payments

If the respondent is unable to reply, probe to determine the amount of money spent on the categories listed in H6(a), (b) and (c), H7 and H8(a), (c) and (f).

If the respondent answers "NONE", try to determine if there are no expenses or if someone else pays for them and record this information in the "COMMENTS" section of the questionnaire.

Note: For Questions H6 and H8(c) only: if the household has lived in a dwelling less than one year, determine the payments up to the date of enumeration; then calculate the yearly payments. If payments are for six months, multiply by 2, if payments are every three months, multiply by 4, if payments are every two months, multiply by 6, etc. Costs should be for the dwelling in which you are interviewing.

Where the householder pays only part of the amount (for example, one part is paid by the band council), enter only the part paid by the householder.

Where more than one family occupy the same house, the full amount paid by both families should be entered.

Y. Question H8(d), Value of Dwelling This question only applies to persons who own a house or are in the process of buying a house.

Enter the estimated value as reported by the householder (i.e. the value that could be obtained if the dwelling were sold on the reserve).

IX. CENSUS COMMISSIONER INSTRUCTIONS

Introduction Α.

All Indian reserve and Indian settlement EAs are to be enumerated using the interview or canvasser method. Complete Form 2D questionnaire information will be collected.

Census representatives will begin enumeration on or about June 4 and will continue until the enumeration of all of the EA(s) is complete.

B. Automated Band/Reserve Profile System

The purpose of this automated system is to help census staff to plan, control and evaluate the enumeration of Indian reserves and Indian settlement EAs.

You will receive printed band and/or reserve profiles for Indian reserves in your CCD.

You are to ensure that:

- 1. all information on the profile is complete and accurate;
- 2. you update the profile if you are responsible for conducting the pre-enumeration visit;
- 3. you return a copy of the profile to the Census Area Manager if you make any updates during the pre-enumeration visit;
- 4. you return the original profile to your Census Area Manager after enumeration is complete.

C. Management Information System (MIS)

You are to complete the reports in the Form 29I for any Indian reserve EAs.

D. Reserve Co-ordinators

You may receive additional direction from your CAM concerning the appointment of a reserve co-ordinator to oversee the enumeration of one or more Indian reserve EAs. Your CAM will advise you as to the reserve co-ordinator's duties and your responsibilities for the selection, pay and supervision of such a person.

E. Visit

Pre-enumeration Your Census Area Manager will inform you if you are to undertake this visit. If you are, follow the procedures below:

> 1. Point out the aims of the census and the importance of cooperation by the Band. Use the information in Chapter I, Section I.4, page 4 of this manual. Also explain that the Aboriginal Postcensal Survey will be conducted on all reserves that participate in the census.

E. Visit -Concluded

- Pre enumeration 2. Verify the contact information on the band and/or reserve profile. Verify the following:
 - (a) name and correct spelling of the Band and each reserve;
 - (b) name and mailing address (including the chief or band manager).
 - 3. Discuss the boundaries of all band reserve EAs and ensure they are well defined. Check that all populated band reserve EAs are identified as separate EAs. If you discover a problem, contact the CAM.
 - 4. Show the boundaries of the enumeration area(s) and identify the number of census representatives required.
 - 5. Obtain nominations for the position of Census Representative who are acceptable to the Band. Also, point out that candidates will have to pass a written test and that only those who pass can be hired.
 - 6. Explain how the census will be conducted on band reserve EAs. Make a note of any objections that the band has. Report any objections to your CAM.
 - 7. Using the census maps, determine or arrange to determine the location of dwellings on the band reserve EAs and plot them on your reference maps. If residents are living just outside of the reserve boundaries, contact your CAM.
 - 8. Determine whether there will be many residents of the band reserves away at the time of enumeration and the expected date of return. If there will be residents away, make a note of the number of residents and where they will be at the time of enumeration.
 - 9. Determine what census information is available from band records or other records (school, church, etc.). Request permission to use records at a later date if necessary.
 - 10. Confirm whether there are any agricultural operators and/or holdings on the reserve.

If there are any, try to determine who operates them (i.e. the band, individual operators or operators who live off the reserve).

If the Band operates the holding(s), make arrangements to complete the Agriculture Questionnaire, Form 6, with the person responsible for the farm operations or a knowledgeable person in the band office.

E. Pre-enumeration Visit Concluded

If the Band does not operate the holding(s), try to determine as much information about the individuals who do operate the holdings and enter the information on the profile.

- 11. Determine or confirm whether there are any collective dwellings on the reserve.
- 12. Try to answer any questions asked. If you do not know the answer, note the question and inform the person you will find the answer and get back to him/her.
- 13. Determine who will be the main contact for the Band and enter this person's name, address and telephone number in the profile.
- 14. Make a note of any problems encountered during the visit.
- 15. Make a photocopy of the band and/or reserve profile and pass the photocopy with any updates to your CAM.
- 16. Inform your Census Area Manager of the results of your visit.

F. Recruitment

The selected Census Representative should pass the written test and must be acceptable to the Band (see Chapter 6, Section E of the Census Commissioner's Manual - Form 43 or Form 44). If it is not possible to recruit a native census representative from the Band, attempt to hire a census representative who lives off the band reserve who is acceptable to the Band.

Note: In this situation, it may be necessary for you to hire an aboriginal person from the reserve as a guide or interpreter to accompany the Census Representative and assist him/her in the enumeration. Discuss this with your Census Area Manager.

G. Reserve Boundaries

Ensure the reserve boundaries are clear to the Census Representative so there will be no loss of coverage or duplication of enumeration. See Section 3.T of the Census Commissioner's Manual (Mail-back Areas) and Section 3.R of the Census Commissioner's Manual (Canvasser Areas).

H. Agriculture

You are responsible for ensuring that any agricultural holdings on the reserve are enumerated.

Using the information obtained during the pre-enumeration visit and the Indian Band/reserve profile, you will plan the enumeration of any agricultural holdings on the reserve as follows:

IF THERE ARE:	THEN:
Less than five holdings	o Do the enumeration yourself in consultation with the band manager or individual operators.
Five or more holdings or it is impossible for you to do the enumeration	o Assign the enumeration to a census representative off the reserve who is trained in agriculture.
·	o Make arrangements for this person to be accompanied by someone from the reserve while on the reserve.

Note: If it is not possible for you to do the enumeration or to assign it to a census representative off the band reserve, train the Census Representative from the reserve.

Census representatives have been instructed to ask the agriculture question in Column 9 of Section I of the VR and to identify agricultural land in the "CENSUS REPRESENTATIVE'S NOTES" section at the back of the VR. If you discover an additional holding or agricultural land that has not been accounted for, ensure the holding is enumerated and the agricultural land is accounted for. When the enumeration is complete, ensure that: the appropriate VR entries are made, the identification entries are made on the Form 6 and the completed questionnaire(s), Form(s) 6, are inserted into the appropriate EA box.

I. Collective Dwellings

You must ensure that all collective dwellings located on the band reserve EAs are enumerated according to the procedures in the regular Procedures Manual, Form 41 or Form 42.

Prior to June 4, Census Day, you are to arrange for the enumeration of all collective dwellings on band reserve EAs. The options available are:

OPTION:	DESCRIPTION:
1.	o Do the enumeration yourself and arrange to be accompanied by someone from the band reserve.
2.	o Have the Census Representative from the EA do the enumeration and provide this person with the necessary instructions and training.
3.	o Have a census representative from another EA off the band reserve do the enumeration and arrange to be accompanied by someone from the band reserve.

Chapter IV, Section E, instructs the Census Representative to update the List of Collective Dwellings in EA, Form 7A, and to identify any new collective dwellings. If any new collective dwelling is discovered, you must arrange for its enumeration.

Remember that whichever option is chosen, you must ensure that:

- (a) you follow the collective dwelling instructions in the Census Commissioner's Manual, Form 43 or Form 44;
- (b) the enumeration is as complete and accurate as possible;
- (c) the VR entries are made and the completed forms are inserted into the appropriate EA box.

J. Training

To train census representatives for Indian reserves you will follow the Form 52F, Indian Reserve Census Representative Training Guide.

K. Supervision

You will be responsible for verifying the work of the census representatives.

When you visit the census representatives you are to:

- edit as many questionnaires as the time permits;
- ensure that the census representatives are made aware of any problems and perform the necessary follow-up.

In addition, you are to carry out the applicable checks in Chapter 13 of your manual plus the guidelines in this section.

Note: Unless you are informed otherwise, all Indian reserves are canvasser EAs. Therefore all references to Forms 2A and 2B should be replaced by Forms 2D where applicable.

1. Prior to Enumeration

Plan a route to follow for the enumeration with the Census Representative (see Chapter IV, Section B.2 of this manual). Obtain as much information as you can from the band council and/or chief concerning the location of dwellings.

Identify the Census Representative's map type (i.e. urban or rural).

2. During Enumeration

Contact the census representatives by telephone daily where possible to ensure the work is progressing at a good pace and to resolve any problems. The enumeration should take no longer than two to three weeks.

Visit the census representatives at least once a week where possible. When you visit, do the following:

- (a) Check the VR and the EA map and ensure the Census Representative is following procedures correctly. Refer to the Census Commissioner's Manual, Form 43, Chapter 13, Section G.1(b) and (c) or Form 44, Chapter 13, Section F.2 and 3.
- (b) Edit as many questionnaires as time allows.
 - (i) Ensure that the PROV, FED, EA VN and Hhld numbers, the address and the TD code are entered on the front cover of the questionnaire.
 - (ii) Ensure that there is an answer for all applicable mandatory questions (i.e. questions with an underlined question number).

K. Supervision - Concluded

- (iii) For all other questions (not underlined), ensure that no more than five questions or part questions are unanswered.
- (iv) Step 7 If there are any temporary residents in the household, ensure that the CR has completed Questions 1 to 10 of a Form 3 (Individual Census Questionnaire) for each temporary resident, and entered the number of temporary residents in Column 14 of the VR.
- (c) Instruct the Census Representative to conduct additional follow-up in cases where questions were missed.
- (d) Ensure the Census Representative is entering the person number, the question number and the reason why the question is not answered in the "COMMENTS" section of the questionnaire for all questions where it was impossible to obtain a response.

L. Quality Assessment of EA

After the Census Representative has completed the enumeration, you must do a quality assessment of the EA. This assessment should be done at the reserve if possible so that corrective action can be taken as soon as possible.

Follow the instructions in this section plus the applicable procedures in your Census Commissioner's Manual concerning quality checks of the EA.

1. Unoccupied Private Dwellings

All unoccupied private dwellings listed in Section II of the VR are to be checked with the band manager or chief to ensure no one is living in them. When it is not possible for you to do this (i.e. remote areas), instruct the CR to do it.

2. Return of Assignment to the Census Representative for Correction

If you identify any errors or omissions, ensure the Census Representative follows up to correct them.

3. Questions for Which Records May Be Used

After enumeration is finished, records may be used to complete questions where it was not possible to obtain a response during enumeration.

Note: Do not use records to do enumeration.

Do not use records to obtain answers for cases of total or partial refusal.

L. Quality Assessment of EA Concluded

Specifically, the questions for which records may be used are:

- Q. 2 to Q. 5, Q. 9, Q. 10, Q. 15,
- Q. H1, Q. H2(b), Q. H4,
- Q. H6(a) to Q. H6(c), Q. H7,
- Q. H8(a) to Q. H8(e).

4. Missing Information Available from Records

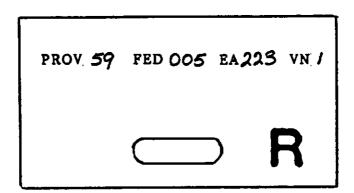

If you determine that some information is available from records to answer unanswered questions on Form 2D, do the following:

- (a) Make the necessary arrangements to have access to the records. Go with the Census Representative if possible.
- (b) Add the missing information.

5. Quality Control

Once you are satisfied that the enumeration is complete and you have exhausted all avenues for follow-up or for obtaining information from the records:

- (a) make sure the contents of the EA boxes are complete;
- (b) mark an "R" in the lower right corner of each end of the EA box as shown in the illustration. ("R" indicates a reserve/settlement EA.);

- (c) telephone the Census Area Manager to request a quality control technician and give him/her your assessment of the quality of the EA;
- (d) submit the EA(s) to Quality Control.

Your Census Area Manager will discuss the action he/she wishes you to take concerning EAs which fail Quality Control.

M. Refusal Reserves If the Band refuses to allow the census to be conducted on the reserve EA(s), or if the census representatives are told to stop the enumeration before it is completed, inform your Census Area Manager of the situation.

He/she will notify the regional census office and an attempt will be made to solicit the co-operation of the Band.

If all efforts to solicit the co-operation of the Band fail you must do the following:

Document the refusal or partial refusal situation as follows:

- (i) Complete the PROV, FED, EA, and VN numbers and print "Refusal Reserve" on the front cover of the VR;
- (ii) Mark the PROV, FED, EA and VN numbers on a blank EA box;
- (iii) Include the VR and any questionnaires for the EA in the EA box;
- (iv) Mark an "R" in the lower right hand corner of each end of the EA box as shown in the illustration in Section L.5 on page 68.
