Industrial Production: Canada's seasonally adjusted index of industrial production edged down between October and November last year to 166.5 from 167.5; declines in manufacturing and mining were partly offset by increases in electric power and gas utilities. The current index is 4% below the peak of 173.5 reached in January. (Pages 2-3)

Labour: Claimants for unemployment insurance benefit on November 30 last numbered 485,200, up by 155,000 from October 31 and up by 68,000 from November 30, 1959. Males accounted for 85% of the October-November rise, and some 15,000 claimants were identified as seasonal ... Federal Government employees in October 1960 numbered 341,074, and had earnings of $121,309,000 (Page 3)

Traffic Accidents: Motor vehicle traffic accidents in November last year took 325 lives as compared to 301 in the like 1959 month. (Page 4)

Merchandising: Retail sales in November 1960 were larger by 3.3% than a year earlier at $1,381,954,000, while sales in the January-November period were virtually unchanged at $14,579,967,000 versus $14,551,607,000 ... Sales by wholesalers in November were up by 8.1% from the preceding year at $697,558,000, while January-November sales were larger by 1.7% at $7,708,515,000 ... Sales of new motor vehicles were larger in November and the January-November period of 1960 as compared to a year earlier. (Pages 5-6)

Construction: Building permits issued in November last year at $185,976,000 were up 13.4% from a year earlier. Value of both residential and non-residential permits was larger as compared to the like 1959 month. (Page 7)

Manufacturing: Steel ingot output in the week ended January 21 amounted to 105,456 tons, smaller than the preceding week's 110,720 tons and the preceding year's 127,801 tons ... Shipments of Canadian-made motor vehicles in 1960 rose 7.3% to 395,613 units from 368,587 in 1959. (Page 8)

Education: Full-time university-grade enrolment in Canadian universities and colleges at December 1, 1960 numbered 114,000, larger by 11.8% than a year earlier. This was the greatest percentage increase since 1946-47 when there was an influx of student veterans. (Page 11)
The seasonally adjusted index of industrial production declined by about one-half of 1% in November. Declines of less than 1% in both manufacturing and mining were partially offset by an increase in the output of electric power and gas utilities. The November decline left the index at a level of 166.5, 4% below the January peak.

Within manufacturing, non-durables showed a gain of 0.6%, but durables declined by 2.5%. The durable group is now at a level about 10% below the January peak while the non-durable group has remained virtually unchanged.

The 0.6% advance in the output of non-durables was the result of production gains in paper products (5%), printing, publishing and allied industries (3%), and clothing products (1%). Declines occurred in textiles (4%), rubber products and chemicals and allied industries (2%). The remaining major groups within the non-durable division, foods and beverages, tobacco products and miscellaneous manufactures, remained virtually unchanged.

The 2.5% decline in durable manufacturing output was primarily due to a 13% drop in transportation equipment, in turn caused by substantially reduced motor vehicle production, seasonally adjusted. Lesser declines of 2% and 3% in wood products and electrical apparatus and supplies also contributed. Elsewhere, increases of 1% were recorded in both iron and steel products and non-ferrous metal products and 2% in non-metallic mineral products.

In the mining component of the index, metal mining and fuel mining were off 1% and 2%, respectively. Non-metal mining advanced 9%, reflecting a similar advance in asbestos production. Within the detail, production declines were registered in gold (5%), iron ore (12%), zinc and lead (2%), natural gas (6%) and crude petroleum (3%). Increases occurred in copper and nickel (3%) and coal (11%).

EDUCATION

Full-Time Enrolment in Universities & Colleges

Full-time university-grade enrolment in Canadian universities and colleges at December 1, 1960 was estimated at 114,000, larger by 11.8% than the preceding year's comparable figure of 102,000, and was the largest percentage increase for any single year since 1946-47 when there was an influx of student veterans, according to advance DBS figures that will be contained in the annual issue of "Fall Enrolment in Universities and Colleges".

The increase in enrolment was greatest in the four western provinces (13.8% to 32,200), followed by Quebec (12.8% to 38,000), the Atlantic Provinces (10.4% to 11,700), and Ontario (9.2% to 32,100). The increase in enrolment of women (17.3%) was higher than that for men (10.8%).

By faculty, largest increases were in library science (35.4%), physical and health education (33.7%), journalism (30.5%), optometry (23.7%), and physiotherapy and occupational therapy (21.1%). Only four faculties showed decreases, led by law (8.5%), fine and applied arts (4.2%), forestry (3.5%), and medicine (0.5%). Enrolment in medicine (4,244) has shown small yearly decreases since 1956-57 when the figure was 4,494. Engineering enrolment showed a small increase of 3.3% to 15,190.

Including enrolment at all affiliated institutions, the largest was the Université de Montréal with 14,950, followed by the University of Toronto (13,599), the University of British Columbia (12,683), Université Laval (9,847), McGill University (7,751), the University of Alberta (6,974), the University of Manitoba (6,278), and the University of Saskatchewan (5,391).
Marital Status, Age & Sex In 1959

The trend toward earlier age at marriage during the war and post-war period is reflected in the sharp rise in the proportion married in the age group 15-24 years, where the percentage increased from 8.0 in 1941 to 16.0 in 1959 for males and from 21.7 in 1941 to 34.2 in 1959 for females, according to annual DBS estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex.

Other interesting features of these marital status estimates are the excess of married males over married females (largely owing to a preponderance of male immigrants whose wives had not yet joined them), and the large number of widows as compared to widowers in the population.

The estimated total population of Canada, excluding Yukon and Northwest Territories, on June 1, 1959 was 17,408,000, of whom 11,600,000 or 66.6% were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males 15 years of age and over was 5,858,500, of whom 1,795,700 or 30.7% were single, 3,850,100 or 65.7% were married, and 212,700 or 3.6% were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,741,500, of whom 1,331,900 or 23.2% were single, 3,816,100 or 66.5% were married and 593,500 or 10.3% were widowed or divorced.

Canada's total population, exclusive of Newfoundland, Yukon and Northwest Territories on June 1, 1941 was 11,489,713, of whom 8,296,713 or 72.2% were 15 years of age and over. The total number of males 15 years of age and over was 4,274,205, of whom 1,700,576 or 39.8% were single, 2,396,633 or 56.1% were married and 176,965 or 4.1% were widowed or divorced. The females 15 years of age and over in 1941 numbered 4,022,508, of whom 1,327,678 or 33.0% were single, 2,333,429 or 58.0% were married and 361,401 or 9.0% were widowed or divorced.

Supplies of wheat remaining on or about December 1, 1960 in the four major wheat exporting countries for export and for carryover at the end of their respective crop years amounted to 2,681.0 million bushels, exceeding the December 1, 1959 total of 2,478.6 million bushels by 8%. December 1 supplies, in millions of bushels, were: United States, 1,817.7 (1,648.8 a year earlier); Canada, 768.7 (705.7); Argentina, 34.0 (58.9); and Australia, 60.6 (65.2)

Exports of wheat and wheat flour, in terms of wheat, from the four countries during the August-November period of the current Canadian crop year totalled 384.5 million bushels, some 32% above the earlier figure of 290.9 million bushels. August-November exports from the four countries, in millions of bushels, were: United States, 203.9 (128.3 a year earlier); Canada, 108.5 (109.2); Argentina, 31.0 (19.0); and Australia, 41.1 (34.4). Production Of Honey In 1960

Canada's 1960 honey crop amounted to an estimated 32,200,000 pounds, 2% above the 1959 crop of 31,500,000 pounds and 12% above the 1949-58 average of 28,700,000 pounds. An increase in the average yield per colony from 95 pounds in 1959 to 99 pounds in 1960 more than offset a decline in colony numbers from 330,700 to 325,540. The number of active beekeepers was also lower, being estimated at 12,420 in 1960 as against 14,180 in the preceding year. Although colony and beekeeper numbers in 1960 were substantially smaller than the average for the period 1949-58 there was a 27% increase in average production per colony. (32)
Production & Acreage Of Hops  Production of hops in 1960 amounted to 1,149,200 pounds, a decrease of 17.3% from the preceding year's 1,389,700 pounds, according to preliminary DBS figures. Year's acreage was also smaller at 772 as against 1,034, while the average yield per acre was larger at 1,489 pounds as against 1,344. The value of the crop in 1959 was $858,000 and the price per pound was 60¢; similar figures for 1960 are not yet available. Production was confined to the Province of British Columbia both in 1959 and 1960.

Commercial Acreages Of Vegetables In 1960  Area planted to 15 specified commercial vegetables in 1960 amounted to an estimated 214,800 acres, 4.5% larger than in the preceding year when the acreage was 205,430, according to preliminary DBS figures. Acreages were larger for 11 and smaller for 4. Crops grown either on farms or elsewhere for home consumption are not included in these estimates.

Acreage estimates for individual crops for 1960 follow: asparagus, 3,900 (3,930 in 1959); beans, processing, 10,710 (10,010); beans, fresh, 1,160 (1,160); beets, 4,290 (3,610); cabbage, 8,220 (7,450); carrots, 13,240 (12,510); cauliflower, 2,570 (2,830); celery, 1,280 (1,380); corn, processing, 42,430 (39,360); corn, fresh, 13,480 (14,730); cucumbers, 9,330 (9,890); lettuce, 7,560 (6,100); onions, 7,990 (7,470); parsnips, 830 (720); peas, processing, 45,910 (40,230); spinach, 1,550 (1,230); tomatoes, processing, 29,480 (32,510); tomatoes, fresh, 10,780 (10,330). Laundries

New records were established by the 1,813 power laundries and dry cleaning and dyeing plants operating in Canada in 1959, according to advance DBS figures that will be contained in the annual issue of "Laundries, Dry Cleaners and Dyers". Some 330 establishments were classified as power laundries and 1,483 as dry cleaners and dyers. Receipts from laundry work amounted to $58,535,322, of which 78% was the volume done by power industries and 22% by dry cleaning establishments. In contrast, receipts from dry cleaning totalled $88,804,594, of which 12.9% was the volume done by power laundries and 87.1% by dry cleaning and dyeing establishments.

Exclusive of the receipts for dry cleaning reported by power laundries which had no facilities for dry cleaning and cleaning plants using both petroleum and synthetic solvents, the combined revenue from dry cleaning work performed by power laundries and dry cleaning and dyeing plants amounted to $82,152,377. Receipts of the 937 plants using petroleum solvents were $50,161,846, and those of the 659 plants using synthetic solvents were $31,990,531.
The 330 power laundries reported receipts of $68,095,503, of which 52.2% was for laundry work, 16.6% for dry cleaning, 3.6% for wholesale laundry and dry cleaning, 20.3% for coat and towel rentals, and 7.3% from other sources.

The 1,483 dry cleaning and dyeing plants had receipts totalling $92,211-939, of which dry cleaning accounted for 78.8%, laundry 10.9%, wholesale laundry and dry cleaning 5.8%, and all other sources 4.5%.

Power laundries and dry cleaning and dyeing establishments employed 31,187 persons in 1959 versus 30,979 in 1958, and salaries and wages paid amounted to $76,208,129 against $72,280,096.

Total operating expenses of power laundries at $63,190,387 were 4.2% higher than in 1958. By comparison, the operating expenses of dry cleaners and dyers at $83,827,285 were 5.8% higher than in the preceding year. Salaries and wages took 49.8% of the receipts of power laundries as against 45.9% of the receipts of dry cleaners and dyers, materials and supplies 9.8% against 11.5%, fuel and electricity 3.8% against 4.1%, and other expenses 29.4% for both industries.

This brought generation in the January-November period to 104,076,695 mwh from 94,105,756 mwh, an advance of 10.6%.

November imports of electric energy increased to 39,675 mwh from 23,861 mwh, and exports to 356,586 mwh from 444,493 mwh. Eleven-month imports declined to 274,597 mwh from 482,593 a year earlier, and exports advanced to 5,188,046 mwh from 4,138,361 mwh. Energy made available in Canada in the month was up to 9,266,932 mwh versus 8,906,497 mwh, and in the 11-month period to 99,163,246 mwh from 90,449,988 mwh. (36)

Landings of Sea Fish and Shellfish by Fishermen in the Maritime Provinces in December 1960 declined to 27,884,000 pounds from 42,226,000 in December 1959, and the landed value to $2,803,000 from $4,017,000, according to monthly summary fish statistics for this region released jointly by the Department of Fisheries and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
