Executive Summary

In May 2003 the Survey of Labour and Income Dynamics (SLID) collected data on income from both its third and fourth panels. Panel 3 was in its fourth year of collection and panel 4 was in its first year.

Respondents had the option of answering income questions in an interview, or of giving permission to Statistics Canada to allow SLID to use the information on their income tax return.

This paper describes the collection method and content of the 2003 Income interview.

1. Introduction

In May 2003, the Survey of Labour and Income Dynamics collected data on income for the ninth year. Income information was not collected in May of 2001.

Respondents had the option of answering the questions on income in an interview, or giving permission to Statistics Canada to allow SLID to use the information from their income tax return.

The 2003 Income interview was conducted only for persons aged 16 years or over on January 1, 2003. Cohabitants (new members) identified in the January interview were questioned about their 2002 income (if they were 16 or over). New cohabitants and former household members who returned to the household, identified during the May 2003 interview, will be questioned in May 2004 about their 2003 income.

This research paper presents the content of the Income interview<sup>1</sup> including question wording, possible responses and flows of questions.

2. What's new

No changes have been made since the 2002 Income interview.

3. How to read this document

Text in bold letters is read, as worded, by the interviewer. The questions with "INTERVIEWER:" at the beginning are questions to be answered directly by the interviewer without asking the respondent.

Question numbers:

For each section, the question numbers refer to the actual numbers used in the programmed application and appear on the interviewer's computer screen.

1. The household composition and demographic questions are presented in a separate document.

Naming conventions:

Naming conventions conform to the standards for Statistics Canada social surveys.

Questions with C = (eg. IN_C001) = internal check

N = (eg. PR_N001) = interviewer instructions

E = (eg. IN_E015) = edit question, read out loud to respondent

Pre-fill items:

These are items specific to each respondent's interview. The software adds the relevant information into the question, making the interviewer's job easier.

[respondent] - This is the first and last name of the person to whom the question refers and is not necessarily the person who is talking to the interviewer.

[reference year] – This is the year for which the information is collected (2002).

4. Income Interview

The data were collected by centralized computer-assisted interviewing (CAI) by telephone from Statistics Canada regional offices. The households surveyed received a regional director's letter in April that included a reminder that respondents had the choice of an interview or of giving permission to access their tax records.

During the collection period (May 2003), interviewers contacted the households eligible for the Income survey. Some of the households had a mixture of respondents who had previously given or refused permission or did not file a tax return. Income information was not collected for the members who had given permission previously or who did so during the May 2003 contact. Some households have agreed to do Labour but refused to do an Income interview; these households are not in the May sample. If possible, the information for all eligible members was collected during the same telephone conversation. If a member of the household wished to answer for himself, the interviewer could collect the information separately or make an appointment to call back. If respondents gave permission for Statistics Canada to access their tax returns, the interview ended for that person.

To reduce respondent burden, the household was not contacted if the only member who had not given permission was a member aged 16 or 17. Results from previous years showed most of this age group had no income. They will be asked the tax permission question the following January.

For respondents who were interviewed, edits were programmed using the information collected in the January Labour survey to remind respondents that they had reported being employed or receiving employment insurance, social assistance or workers' compensation.

Amount check

This edit was used during data collection to check the income source amounts entered by the interviewer.

When the amounts entered in the computer are outside the predetermined range, one of two error messages pop up: "Amount seems too high" or "Amount seems too low".

These messages appear when the amounts entered are outside the soft ranges shown in the questions above, which is determined using data collected in last year's SLID income interview. These ranges exclude approximately 5% of amounts below or above the selected limits.

The interviewer has the option to either 'Suppress' to confirm the value or 'Close' or 'Goto' to enter a new value.
