The System of National Accounts

In Canada, the National Accounts have been developed since the close of the Second World War in a series of publications relating to their constituent parts. These have now reached a stage of evolution where they can be termed a "System of National Accounts". For purposes of identification, all publications (containing tables of statistics, descriptions of conceptual frameworks and descriptions of sources and methods) which make up this System carry the term "System of National Accounts" as a general title.

The System of National Accounts in Canada consists of several parts. The annual and quarterly Income and Expenditure Accounts (included with Catalogue Nos. carrying the prefix 13) were, historically speaking, the first set of statistics to be referred to with the title "National Accounts" (National Accounts, Income and Expenditure). The Balance of International Payments data (Catalogue Nos. with prefix 67) are also part of the System of National Accounts and they, in fact, pre-date the Income and Expenditure Accounts.

Greatly expanded structural detail on industries and on goods and services is portrayed in the Input-Output Tables of the System (Catalogue Nos. with prefix 15). The Catalogue Nos. carrying the prefix 15 also provide measures of the contribution of each industry to total Gross Domestic Product at factor cost as well as Productivity Measures.

Both the Input-Output tables and the estimates of Gross Domestic Product by Industry use the establishment as the primary unit of industrial production. Measures of financial transactions are provided by the Financial Flow Accounts (Catalogue Nos. with prefix 13). Types of lenders and financial instruments are the primary detail in these statistics and the legal entity is the main unit of classification of transactors. Balance sheets of outstanding assets and liabilities are published annually.

The System of National Accounts provides an overall conceptually integrated framework in which the various parts can be considered as interrelated sub-systems. At present, direct comparisons amongst those parts which use the establishment as the basic unit and those which use the legal entity can be carried out only at highly aggregated levels of data. However, Statistics Canada is continuing research on enterprise company establishment relationships; it may eventually be feasible to reclassify the data which are on one basis (say the establishment basis) to correspond to the units employed on another (the company or the enterprise basis).

In its broad outline, the Canadian System of National Accounts bears a close relationship to the international standard as described in System of National Accounts, 1993, a joint publication of the Commission of the European Communities, International Monetary Fund, Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations and World Bank.

Le système de comptabilité nationale

Au Canada, les comptes nationaux ont fait l'objet depuis la fin de la Seconde Guerre mondiale de toute une série de publications portant sur leurs éléments constitutifs propres. Ils ont connu une telle évolution qu'on peut maintenant les qualifier de "Système de comptabilité nationale". Aux fins d'identification, toutes les publications qui font partie du système (elles contiennent des tableaux statistiques, la description du cadre théorique et l'explication des sources et des méthodes) portent le titre général de "Système de comptabilité nationale".

Le système de comptabilité nationale du Canada se divise en plusieurs catégories de comptes. Les comptes annuels et trimestriels des revenus et des dépenses (paraissant dans les publications dont le numéro de catalogue commence par 13) ont constitué le premier ensemble de statistiques à être connu sous le titre de "Comptes nationaux" (Comptes nationaux, revenus et dépenses). Les données sur la balance canadienne des paiements internationaux (numéro de catalogue commençant par 67) font également partie du système de comptabilité nationale; elles ont même existé avant les comptes des revenus et dépenses.

Une nomenclature beaucoup plus détaillée d'industries et de biens et services figure dans les tableaux d'entrées-sorties du système (numéro de catalogue commençant par 15). Les publications dont le numéro de catalogue commence par 15 comprennent aussi les mesures de l'apport de chaque branche d'activité au total du produit intérieur brut au coût des facteurs ainsi que les mesures de productivité.

L'établissement est l'unité primaire de production industrielle tant dans les tableaux d'entrées-sorties que dans les estimations du produit intérieur brut par activité économique. Les comptes de flux financiers (publications dont le numéro de catalogue commence par 13) mesurent les opérations financières. Les catégories de prêteurs et d'instruments financiers forment les éléments de base de ces statistiques et l'entité juridique est le point de départ du classement des agents économiques. Les comptes du bilan des actifs et passifs en cours sont disponibles annuellement.

Le système de comptabilité nationale constitue un ensemble conceptuellement intégré dans lequel les diverses catégories de comptes peuvent être considérées comme des sous-systèmes étroitement liés entre eux. Au stade actuel de développement, on ne peut faire de comparaison directe entre les éléments basés sur l'établissement et ceux qui sont basés sur l'entité juridique que lorsque les données sont groupées dans des catégories très générales. Toutefois, Statistique Canada poursuit ses recherches sur les relations entre l'entreprise, la société et l'établissement. Il sera peut-être possible un jour de reclasser les données établies sur une certaine base (l'établissement par exemple) de manière à les faire correspondre aux données établies sur une autre base (société ou entreprise).

Dans ses grandes lignes, le système de comptabilité nationale du Canada suit de très près la norme internationale exposée dans la publication System of National Accounts, 1993 produite conjointement par la Commission des Communautés Européennes, le Fonds Monétaire International, l'Organisation pour la Coopération et le Développement, les Nations-Unies et la Banque Mondiale.

Notice to users

This publication presents information about Canada's National Income and Expenditure Accounts (IEA). These accounts portray the evolution of the Canadian economy on a quarterly basis. They record the components of income and expenditure, saving and investment, and borrowing and lending of each of four broad sectors of the economy: (i) persons and unincorporated businesses, (ii) corporate and government business enterprises, (iii) government and (iv) non-residents. The sum of the final (non-transfer) income or the final (non-intermediate) expenditure of all domestic sectors equals gross domestic product at market prices, the market value of total production in Canada.

The sectoral structure of these accounts can best be explained through an example. Consider the corporate and government business enterprises sector. Corporations receive income in the form of profits, other investment income and capital assistance from government. They pay out part of that income as interest and dividends, direct taxes or other transfers such as charitable donations, and save the remainder. Corporations also invest in plant, equipment and inventories. To the extent their investment exceeds or falls short of their saving, they either borrow from or lend to other sectors in the form of financial transactions. The net borrowing or lending of a sector is also the difference between financial asset acquisition (bank deposits, purchase of bonds, purchase of equity and so on) and liability acquisition (bank borrowing, bond sales, equity financing and so on). The system as a whole, then, provides two equivalent measures of net lending by sector, which differ somewhat due to statistical errors. The sum of net lending by all sectors must be zero.

Financial transactions are expanded in the Financial Flow Accounts (FFA). The FFA show the details of the financing of economic activity, as well as the economy-wide intermediation of funds, in considerable detail (covering 30 institutional sectors).

Documentation

The concepts, sources and methods of the IEA and FFA are described in the following publications:

Avis aux utilisateurs

La présente publication nous renseigne sur les Comptes nationaux des revenus et dépenses (CRD) au Canada. Ceux-ci permettent de constater l'évolution de l'économie au Canada sur une base trimestrielle. Ils font état des composantes des revenus et des dépenses, de l'épargne, de l'investissement, de l'emprunt et du prêt de chacun des quatre grands secteurs de l'économie: i) les particuliers et les entreprises individuelles; ii) les sociétés et entreprises publiques; iii) les administrations publiques; et iv) les non-résidents. La somme du revenu final (excluant les paiements de transfert) ou des dépenses finales (excluant les coûts intermédiaires) de chaque secteur domestique correspond au produit intérieur brut aux prix du marché, c'est-à-dire la valeur marchande de la production totale au Canada.

La structure sectorielle de ces comptes mérite d'être expliquée. Prenons par exemple le secteur des sociétés et entreprises publiques. Les sociétés touchent des revenus sous forme de bénéfices, d'autres revenus de placements et des subventions d'équipement des administrations publiques. Elles versent une partie de ces revenus en intérêts et en dividendes, en impôts directs et sous forme d'autres transferts, par exemple des dons de charité, et épargnent le reste. Les sociétés investissent en outre dans des installations, du matériel et des stocks. Selon que leur investissement est supérieur ou inférieur à leur épargne, elles empruntent de l'argent d'autres secteurs ou en prêtent à ces derniers sous forme de transactions financières. L'emprunt ou le prêt net d'un secteur peut être aussi la différence entre l'acquisition d'actifs (dépôts bancaires, achat d'obligations, achat d'actions, etc.) et d'instruments de passif (emprunts bancaires, vente d'obligations, financement par actions, etc.). Le système dans son ensemble fournit par la suite deux mesures équivalentes du prêt net par secteur qui diffèrent quelque peu en raison des erreurs statistiques. La somme du prêt net de tous les secteurs doit être égale à zéro.

Les transactions financières, sous une forme non désaisonnalisée, figurent aussi dans les Comptes des flux financiers (CFF). Les CFF nous renseignent sur le financement de l'activité économique ainsi que sur l'intermédiation de fonds, et ce à un niveau très détaillé (30 secteurs institutionnels).

Les concepts, sources et méthodes des CRD et CFF sont décrits dans les publications suivantes:

Guide des comptes des revenus et dépenses, no 13-017-X au catalogue.

Guide des comptes des flux financiers et des comptes du bilan national, no 13-585-XPF au catalogue.

On trouvera aussi d'autres explications dans les textes de nature technique paraissant de temps à autre dans les publications des comptes nationaux. On trouvera ci-après une liste des articles déjà parus.

Highlights

Second quarter 2008

Real gross domestic product (GDP) edged up 0.1% in the second quarter of 2008, following a decline of 0.2% (revised from -0.1%) in the first quarter. While final domestic demand continued to outpace GDP, growing 0.5% in the quarter, foreign demand for Canadian goods and services registered its fourth consecutive quarterly decline.

Final domestic demand continues to outpace GDP

quarterly % change, chained (2002) dollars

Consumer and government spending on goods and services advanced. Businesses increased their inventories and reduced their expenditures on fixed capital. Corporate profits grew significantly as prices, particularly for energy products, jumped. The international trade surplus, measured in nominal values, increased as exporters benefited from higher commodity prices. Nonetheless, the volume of exports declined in the quarter.

Faits saillants

Deuxième trimestre de 2008

Le produit intérieur brut (PIB) réel a légèrement augmenté de 0,1 % au deuxième trimestre de 2008. Cette augmentation fait suite à un recul de 0,2 % (révisé par rapport au taux de -0,1 % publié précédemment) enregistré au premier trimestre. Alors que la croissance de la demande intérieure finale a encore été supérieure à celle du PIB (+0,5 % au cours du trimestre), la demande étrangère de biens et services canadiens enregistré une baisse pour un quatrième trimestre consécutif.

Graphique 1
La demande intérieure finale continue de progresser plus rapidement que le produit intérieur brut

variation trimestrielle en %, dollars enchaînés (2002)

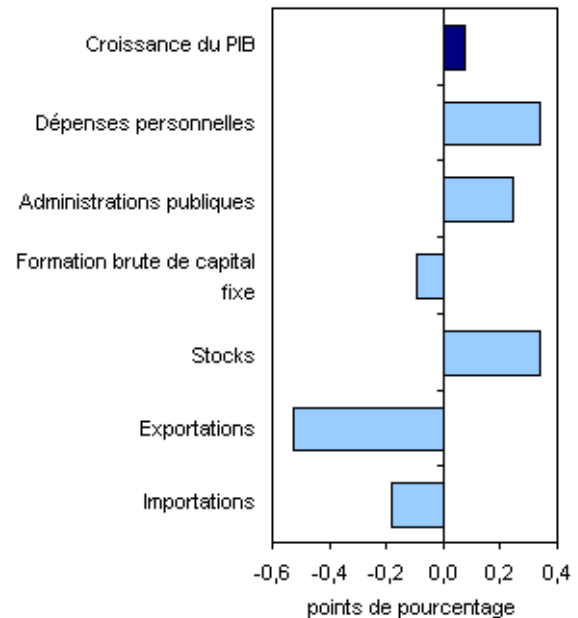

Les dépenses de consommation et les dépenses des administrations publiques en biens et en services ont progressé. Les entreprises ont augmenté leurs stocks et ont réduit leurs dépenses en capital fixe. Les bénéfices des sociétés ont progressé de façon marquée en raison de la forte hausse des prix, surtout ceux des produits de l'énergie. L'excédent du commerce international, mesuré en valeurs nominales, s'est accru, les exportateurs ayant tiré profit des prix plus élevés des produits de base. Néanmoins, le volume des exportations a diminué durant le trimestre.

1. The change is the growth rate from one period to the next. The annualized change is the growth compounded annually. The year-over-year change is the growth of a given quarter compared with the same quarter in a previous year.

1. La variation est le taux de croissance d'une période à l'autre. La variation annualisée est le taux de croissance composé annuel. La variation d'une année à l'autre est le taux de croissance d'un trimestre donné par rapport au même trimestre de l'année précédente.

Export volume continues to fall

The volume of exports of goods and services fell 1.5% in the second quarter, the fourth consecutive decline, leaving their level 4.7% lower than in the second quarter of 2007. The decline in the second quarter of 2008 was widespread as international sales of forestry products, machinery and equipment, and automotive products continued to fall reflecting, in part, declining U.S. expenditures on these goods. The volume of energy exports decreased 3.7% following a jump in the first quarter.

La baisse du volume des exportations se poursuit

Le volume des exportations de biens et de services a diminué de 1,5 % au deuxième trimestre, ce qui constitue la quatrième baisse consécutive. Le volume des exportations est maintenant inférieur de 4,7 % au niveau enregistré lors du deuxième trimestre de 2007. La baisse des exportations survenue au deuxième trimestre de 2008 a été généralisée. Les ventes internationales de produits de la forêt, de machines et matériel ainsi que de produits automobiles ont continué de chuter, ce qui reflète, en partie, le fléchissement des dépenses américaines liées à ces biens. Le volume des exportations de produits de l'énergie a diminué de 3,7 % après avoir connu une forte progression au premier trimestre.

Service exports also fell, after a large drop in the first quarter. Exports of commercial services receded for the second consecutive quarter, and have been on a downward trend since reaching a peak in the fourth quarter of 2005. Exports of travel services registered an increase, after three quarters of decline.

Exports down again

quarterly % change, chained (2002) dollars

The volume of imports of goods and services advanced 0.6% after falling 2.3% in the first quarter. After a downturn in the first quarter, machinery and equipment imports grew, continuing the upward trend that began in 2003. The volume of international purchases of energy products jumped, mostly due to increased imports of crude petroleum. Energy imports have posted an average quarterly growth of 9.8% in the first half of 2008.

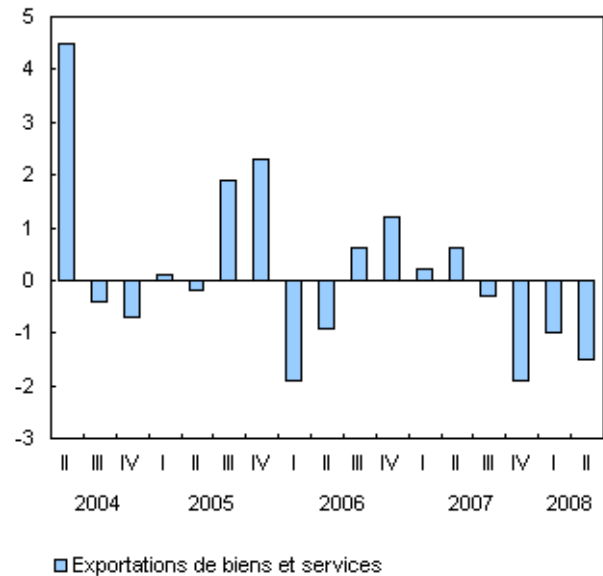

Imports of industrial goods and materials declined for a second consecutive quarter, reflecting the slowdown in the manufacturing sector. Imports of agricultural and fish products also fell for a second consecutive quarter. Imports of other consumer goods were unchanged, following a drop in the first quarter.

Imports of services declined as a decrease in Canadian travel expenditures abroad (travel services imports) was partially offset by gains in commercial services and transportation.

Les exportations de services ont aussi reculé, après avoir accusé une baisse marquée au premier trimestre. Les exportations de services commerciaux ont fléchi pour un deuxième trimestre consécutif, poursuivant une tendance à la baisse depuis le sommet atteint au quatrième trimestre de 2005. Les exportations de services de voyage ont augmenté, après avoir diminué pendant trois trimestres.

Nouvelle baisse des exportations

variation trimestrielle en %, dollars enchaînés (2002)

Le volume des importations de biens et de services a progressé de 0,6 %, après avoir chuté de 2,3 % au premier trimestre. Après avoir fléchi au premier trimestre, les importations de machines et de matériel ont augmenté, poursuivant la tendance à la hausse amorcée en 2003. Le volume des achats internationaux de produits de l'énergie a bondi, surtout en raison de la hausse des importations de pétrole brut. Les importations de produits de l'énergie ont affiché un taux moyen de croissance de 9,8 % par trimestre au cours de la première moitié de 2008.

Les importations de biens et matériaux industriels ont reculé pour un deuxième trimestre de suite, ce qui témoigne du ralentissement survenu dans le secteur de la fabrication. Les importations de produits de l'agriculture et de la pêche ont chuté pour un deuxième trimestre consécutif. Les importations d'autres biens de consommation sont demeurées inchangées, après avoir accusé un recul au premier trimestre.

Les importations de services ont diminué, la baisse des dépenses de voyage des Canadiens à l'étranger (importations de services de voyage) ayant annulé en partie les hausses enregistrées au chapitre des services commerciaux et des transports.

Personal spending moderates

Personal spending grew 0.6% in the second quarter, continuing to moderate after gains of 1.8% and 0.8% in the previous two quarters. The slowdown reflects the drop in spending on durable goods. Notably, purchases of motor vehicles declined after substantial increases in the previous two quarters.

Personal spending on motor vehicles dips

quarterly % change, chained (2002) dollars

Spending on non-durable goods was similar to the previous quarter. Households reduced their food and non-alcoholic beverage and energy consumption, as prices for these commodities grew strongly.

Conversely, purchases of clothing and footwear remained strong. Personal expenditure on furniture, furnishings and household equipment posted a sixth consecutive quarterly increase of over 1%.

Spending on services picked up with financial and legal services and restaurants and accommodation services contributing the most. Personal expenditures of Canadian residents abroad registered a small decline, but were still 25% higher than the first quarter of 2007, due to the strong increase in foreign travel that occurred in the last three quarters of 2007.

Ralentissement des dépenses personnelles

Les dépenses personnelles ont augmenté de 0,6 % au deuxième trimestre, poursuivant ainsi leur ralentissement à la suite de hausses de 1,8 % et de 0,8 % observés au cours des deux trimestres précédents. Ce relâchement reflète la baisse des dépenses en biens durables, notamment celles en véhicules automobiles qui ont diminué après avoir connu une forte hausse lors des deux trimestres précédents.

Fléchissement des dépenses personnelles en véhicules automobiles

variation trimestrielle en %, dollars enchaînés (2002)

Les dépenses en biens non durables sont demeurées au même niveau que lors du trimestre précédent. Les ménages ont réduit leur consommation d'aliments et de boissons non alcoolisées ainsi que d'énergie, les prix de ces produits ayant augmenté fortement.

Par contre, les achats de vêtements et de chaussures sont demeurés vigoureux. Les dépenses personnelles au chapitre des meubles, des accessoires d'ameublement et de l'équipement ménager ont augmenté de plus de 1 % pour un sixième trimestre consécutif.

Les dépenses au titre des services se sont accélérées, les services financiers et juridiques ainsi que les restaurants et l'hébergement ayant contribué le plus. Malgré une légère diminution, les dépenses personnelles engagées à l'étranger par des résidents canadiens sont demeurées de 25 % supérieures à leur niveau du premier trimestre de 2007, étant donné la forte augmentation des voyages à l'étranger au cours des trois derniers trimestres de 2007.

Housing investment declines

Business investment in residential construction declined 1.0%, following a 1.7% drop in the first quarter.

The downturn in the second quarter affected all areas of housing investment. Renovation activity posted its first quarterly decline since the third quarter of 1999, as home building material stores registered weaker sales. The value of new housing construction declined for a second consecutive quarter. Ownership transfer costs, reflecting housing resales, also declined but at a much slower rate than in the previous three quarters.

Businesses reduce investment in plant and equipment

Business investment in plant and equipment declined 0.4% in the second quarter. Engineering construction increased 0.2% whereas capital spending on non-residential buildings dropped by 1.9%.

Investment in machinery and equipment was down 0.3%. Businesses reduced their expenditures on automobiles, trucks and other transportation equipment. However, increases were recorded in agricultural machinery, industrial machinery, telecommunications equipment, and other machinery and equipment.

Fléchissement de l'investissement en logement

L'investissement des entreprises en bâtiments résidentiels a diminué de 1,0 %, faisant suite à un recul de 1,7 % au premier trimestre.

La baisse survenue au deuxième trimestre a touché toutes les composantes de l'investissement en logement. Les activités de rénovation ont affiché une première baisse trimestrielle depuis le troisième trimestre de 1999, les magasins de matériaux de construction spécialisés ayant enregistré des ventes plus faibles. La valeur de la construction résidentielle neuve a diminué pour un deuxième trimestre consécutif. Les coûts de transfert de propriété, qui sont associés au marché de la revente, ont eux aussi diminué, mais de façon beaucoup moins marquée que lors des trois trimestres précédents.

L'investissement des entreprises en usines et matériel a diminué de 0,4 % au deuxième trimestre. Les travaux de génie civil ont progressé de 0,2 %, mais l'investissement en bâtiments non résidentiels a baissé de 1,9 %.

L'investissement en machines et matériel a fléchi de 0,3 %. Les entreprises ont réduit leurs dépenses en automobiles, en camions et en autre équipement de transport. Toutefois, des hausses ont été enregistrées en ce qui touche la machinerie agricole, la machinerie industrielle, l'équipement de télécommunication et les autres machines et matériel.

Inventories accumulate

Inventory accumulation picked up after easing in the first quarter. Businesses have been accumulating inventories since the third quarter of 2004. Manufacturing inventories were built up after a reduction in the first quarter. Retailers reduced their stocks, particularly of motor vehicles. Other non-farm inventories, particularly natural gas, also accumulated.

The economy-wide inventory-to-sales ratio edged up to 0.694, leaving sufficient inventories to satisfy 63 days of sales.

Corporate profits strengthen

Corporations recorded a significant profit increase in the second quarter (+8.3%), spurred by price increases, particularly for crude petroleum, natural gas and coal. This was the strongest gain in profits since the first quarter of 2004. While non-financial corporation profits jumped 10%, financial corporations registered a marginal increase.

Accumulation des stocks

L'accumulation des stocks s'est accélérée après avoir ralenti au premier trimestre. Les entreprises accumulent des stocks depuis le troisième trimestre de 2004. Les stocks du secteur de la fabrication ont augmenté après avoir été réduits lors du premier trimestre. Les détaillants ont réduit leurs stocks, en particulier les stocks de véhicules automobiles. Il y a aussi eu une accumulation des autres stocks non agricoles, en particulier les stocks de gaz naturel.

Le ratio des stocks aux ventes pour l'économie dans son ensemble a augmenté légèrement, atteignant 0,694, de sorte que les stocks étaient suffisants pour 63 jours de vente.

Raffermissement des bénéfices des entreprises

Les sociétés ont enregistré une hausse marquée de leurs bénéfices au deuxième trimestre (+8,3 %), stimulés par la hausse des prix, en particulier ceux du pétrole brut, du gaz naturel et du charbon. Il s'agit de la plus forte hausse des bénéfices observée depuis le premier trimestre de 2004. Alors que les bénéfices des sociétés non financières ont bondi de 10%, ceux des sociétés financières ont augmenté légèrement.

Corporate profits advance

In addition, farmers nearly doubled their net income in the second quarter, as grain and oilseed prices continued to increase.

Personal income advances

Labour income advanced 1.1%, as growth in services-producing industries remained strong. Employment was up 0.3% while average hours worked declined.

Personal income growth slowed to 0.6%, from 2.0% in the previous quarter, when large one-time government transfers boosted income. Personal disposable income increased 1.1%. Personal outlays outpaced income growth and the saving rate slipped to 2.8%.

National saving advances

Significant expansion in corporate and government saving contributed to a rise in the national saving rate to 13.1% from 12.4% in the previous two quarters.

Graphique 6
Hausse des bénéfices des entreprises

De plus, le revenu net des agriculteurs a presque doublé au deuxième trimestre, les prix des céréales et des oléagineux ayant continué d'augmenter.

Augmentation du revenu personnel

Le revenu du travail a augmenté de 1,1 %, la croissance des industries productrices de services étant demeurée vigoureuse. L'emploi a progressé de 0,3 %, tandis que le nombre moyen d'heures travaillées a diminué.

La croissance du revenu personnel a ralenti pour s'établir à 0,6 %, par rapport à 2,0 % au trimestre précédent alors que des transferts ponctuels importants des administrations publiques avaient eu pour effet de gonfler le revenu. Le revenu personnel disponible a augmenté de 1,1 %. Les dépenses des particuliers se sont accrues plus vite que leurs revenus, et le taux d'épargne a fléchi à 2,8 %.

Hausse de l'épargne nationale

Une augmentation marquée de l'épargne des entreprises et des administrations publiques a contribué à la hausse du taux d'épargne nationale, qui a atteint 13,1 %, contre 12,4 % lors des deux trimestres précédents.

Jump in export prices fuels gross domestic product price increase

The price of goods and services produced in Canada, as measured by the chain price index for gross domestic product, increased 2.5% in the second quarter, the largest quarterly gain since the first quarter of 1982. Export prices advanced sharply (+8.2%) providing an income boost for exporters, particularly energy producers. Excluding energy, overall prices advanced 0.7%.

Prices for consumer goods and services advanced 0.8% in the quarter, driven by a 2.2% increase in prices for non-durable goods, such as food and energy.

Import prices increased 4.0% after climbing 3.4% in the first quarter. Businesses paid higher prices for plant and equipment, notably for non-residential structures. The final domestic demand price index increased 0.9%.

Le bond des prix à l'exportation alimente la hausse du prix du produit intérieur brut

Les prix des biens et services produits au Canada, mesurés par l'indice de prix en chaîne du PIB, ont augmenté de 2,5 % au deuxième trimestre. Il s'agit de la plus forte hausse trimestrielle enregistrée depuis le premier trimestre de 1982. Les prix à l'exportation ont connu une hausse marquée (+8,2 %), ce qui a stimulé les revenus des exportateurs, en particulier les producteurs d'énergie. Si l'on exclut l'énergie, les prix dans l'ensemble ont augmenté de 0,7 %.

Les prix des biens et services de consommation ont augmenté de 0,8 % durant le trimestre, en raison de la hausse de 2,2 % des prix des biens non durables, comme les aliments et l'énergie.

Les prix à l'importation ont augmenté de 4,0 %, après avoir grimpé de 3,4 % au premier trimestre. Les entreprises ont acquitté des prix plus élevés au chapitre des usines et du matériel, notamment les bâtiments non résidentiels. L'indice de prix de la demande intérieure finale a augmenté de 0,9 %.

Table 3

- [1] Chained dollar series are calculated as the product of the chain-type quantity index and the current-dollar value of the corresponding series, divided by 100. Because the formula for the chain-type quantity indexes uses weights of more than one period, the corresponding chained-dollar estimates are usually not additive.

Table 5

- [1] Sum of accrued net income of farm operators from farm production and net income of non-farm unincorporated business, including rent.
- [2] Total income minus current transfers to government.

Table 6

- [1] Includes interest and dividends received from non-residents.
- [2] Interest on the public debt is routed to other sectors of the economy through the corporate sector due to incomplete information on the transactions of government debt instruments.

Table 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13

- [1] [2] In GDP, government current expenditure is recorded on a net basis, that is, after deduction of sales of goods and services. In the government sector accounts, sales of goods and services to other sectors are shown separately as part of revenue, and current expenditure is recorded on a gross basis, which leaves saving unchanged.

Table 14

- [1] [2] [3] This account presents the saving as well as the net lending or borrowing position of non-residents with respect to their transactions with Canadian residents. The sign of these aggregates is, therefore, the reverse of what appears in the Canadian Balance of International Payments.

Table 15

- [1] [2] [3] [4] By definition, the sum of this aggregate over all sectors is equal to zero.

Notes

Tableau 3

- [1] Les séries en dollars enchaînées sont calculées en multipliant l'indice de quantité de type chaîne par les séries en dollars courants correspondantes, le tout divisé par 100. Étant donné que la formule de calcul des indexes de quantité de type chaîne utilisent des poids provenant de plus d'une période, les estimés de dollars en chaîne qui en sont dérivés ne sont généralement pas additifs.

Tableau 5

- [1] Somme du revenu comptable net des exploitants agricoles au titre de la production agricole et du revenu net des entreprises individuelles non agricoles, loyers compris.
- [2] Revenu total moins transferts courants aux administrations publiques.

Tableau 6

- [1] Comprends les intérêts et les dividendes reçus des non-résidents.
- [2] Les intérêts sur la dette publique sont affectés aux autres secteurs de l'économie par le biais du secteur des sociétés en raison d'un manque d'information sur les transactions de titres de dette des administrations.

Tableau 9, 10, 11, 12 et 13

- [1] [2] Dans le PIB, les dépenses courantes des administrations sont enregistrées sur une base nette, c'est-à-dire après déduction des ventes de biens et services. Dans les comptes sectoriels des administrations, les ventes de biens et services aux autres secteurs sont montrées séparément sous les revenus et les dépenses courantes sont enregistrées sur une base brute, ce qui laisse l'épargne inchangée.

Tableau 14

- [1] [2] [3] Ce compte présente la position des non-résidents en regard de leurs transactions avec les résidents canadiens, et ce pour l'épargne ainsi que, le prêt ou l'emprunt net. Conséquemment, le signe de ce agrégats est inversé par rapport à ce qui figure dans la balance des paiements internationaux du Canada.

Tableau 15

- [1] [2] [3] [4] Par définition, la somme de cet agrégat pour tous les secteurs est égal à zéro.

Concepts, méthodologie,
qualité des données

The following information should be used to ensure a clear understanding of the basic concepts that define the data provided in this product, of the underlying methodology, and of key aspects of data quality. This information will provide users with a better understanding of the strengths and limitations of the data, and how they can be effectively used and analysed.

Concepts and variables measured

At the core of the Income and Expenditure Accounts (IEA) is the concept of Gross domestic product (GDP) and its components. It is a measure of aggregate economic activity that represents the unduplicated value of production in two ways: Incomes arising from production; and final expenditures on production. The first is simply to sum the factor incomes generated by productive activity – that is, incomes representing the returns to the labour and capital employed. The second is to sum all sales to final users (consumers, governments, business on capital account, exports less imports). The two measures of GDP may not be equal to each other, giving rise to a statistical discrepancy.

Gross domestic product income-based

The income-based estimates show factor incomes accruing to labour and capital generated as part of the production process. The largest source of factor income is wages, salaries and supplementary labour income, accounting for over half of GDP. The other income components are corporation profits before taxes, interest and miscellaneous investment income, the accrued net income of farm operators, net income of non-farm unincorporated business (including rent), and the inventory valuation adjustment. Together these six aggregates, plus taxes less subsidies on factors of production, yield Net Domestic Product at basic prices. GDP at market prices is calculated by adding taxes less subsidies on products as well as capital consumption allowances and one half of the statistical discrepancy.

Gross domestic product expenditure-based

In the expenditure-based estimates, GDP is broken down into the categories of final purchases of goods and services. The major aggregate is personal expenditure on consumer goods and services, accounting for close to 60% of GDP. Government current expenditure on goods and services is a second component and government and business investment spending is a third. The sum of these components of the summary expenditure account is referred to as final domestic demand. To move from final domestic demand to GDP, the value of physical change in

Les renseignements qui suivent sont destinés à faciliter la compréhension des concepts de base qui définissent les données fournies par ce produit, de la méthodologie qui les sous-tend ainsi que des aspects liés à la qualité des données. Ils permettront aussi à leurs utilisateurs d'avoir une meilleure compréhension des limites des données ainsi que de la façon de les utiliser et de les analyser à bon escient.

Concepts et variables mesurées

Les Comptes des revenus et des dépenses (CRD) ont pour concept central celui du Produit intérieur brut (PIB) et de ses composantes. Il s'agit d'une mesure agrégée de l'activité économique qui représente la valeur sans double compte de la production établie de deux façons : d'après les revenus générés par la production, d'une part, et d'après les dépenses finales au titre de la production, d'autre part. La première mesure consiste simplement à additionner les revenus des facteurs générés par l'activité de production, c'est-à-dire les revenus représentant le rendement de la main-d'œuvre et du capital utilisés. La deuxième consiste à additionner toutes les dépenses des utilisateurs finals (consommateurs, administrations publiques, dépenses des entreprises en capital, exportations nettes). Ces deux mesures du PIB ne sont pas nécessairement égales, ce qui produit une divergence statistique.

Produit intérieur brut en termes de revenus

Les estimations en termes de revenus montrent les revenus des facteurs afférents au travail et au capital qui sont générés dans le cadre du processus de production. Les salaires, traitements et revenus supplémentaires du travail, qui représentent plus de la moitié du PIB, constituent la source la plus importante de revenus des facteurs. Les autres composantes des revenus sont les bénéfices des sociétés avant impôts, les intérêts et revenus divers de placements, les revenus nets des exploitants agricoles, les revenus nets des entreprises non agricoles non constituées en société (y compris les loyers) et l'ajustement de la valeur des stocks. Ensemble, ces six agrégats, majorés des impôts moins les subventions sur les facteurs de production, donnent le produit intérieur net aux prix de base. Le PIB aux prix du marché se calcule en ajoutant les impôts moins les subventions sur les produits, ainsi que les provisions pour consommation de capital et la moitié de la divergence statistique.

Produit intérieur brut en termes de dépenses

Dans le cas de l'estimation en termes de dépenses, le PIB est ventilé selon les catégories d'achats finals de biens et de services. Les dépenses personnelles en biens et services de consommation, qui représentent près de 60 % du PIB, constituent l'agrégat le plus important. La deuxième composante est constituée des dépenses courantes des administrations publiques en biens et services alors que les dépenses d'investissement des administrations publiques et des entreprises forment la troisième. La somme de ces composantes du compte sommaire des dépenses est inventories, net exports of goods and services (that is, exports minus imports) and one-half of the statistical discrepancy are added.

Real gross domestic product

Real GDP is related directly to other key macroeconomic variables such as employment, business cycles, productivity and long-term economic growth.

Real GDP is a measure of the volume of production. To measure this concept, GDP expenditure-based components are adjusted to eliminate the effect of price change. This process is known as deflation, and makes use of expenditure-side associated price indexes. Up to 2001, real GDP was calculated by using a Laspeyres' formula. As of May 31st, 2001, the quarterly IEA adopted the Fisher index formula, chained quarterly, as the official measure of real expenditure-based GDP. The reason for the adoption of this particular formula is that it produces the most accurate measure of quarter to quarter growth in GDP.

Coverage

GDP includes all activities within the SNA production boundary. Illegal transactions are, for the most part, excluded.

Sector accounts

The IEA also provide considerable information on the four major sectors of the economy: persons and unincorporated business, corporations, governments and non-residents. The sector accounts record (i) incomes and outlays, (ii) saving and investment and (iii) transactions in financial assets and liabilities for each of the four broad sectors of the economy. Additional information is also provided for sub-sectors of the government and corporate sectors. The sum of the final (non-transfer) income, or the final (non-intermediate) expenditure, of the sectors equals gross national product.

A sector has current incomes and current outlays. The difference between the two is saving. Saving, combined with capital consumption allowances and net capital transfers, is a source of funds for investment, or non-financial capital acquisition. To the extent that saving exceeds (falls short of) investment, the sector is said to be in a net lending (net borrowing) position. A second measure of net lending/borrowing is provided by the difference between the transactions in financial assets less the transactions in liabilities and equity. The two measures differ somewhat due to statistical errors.

appelée demande intérieure finale. Pour passer de cette dernière au PIB, il faut ajouter la valeur de la variation matérielle des stocks, les exportations nettes de biens et de services (c.-à-d. les exportations moins les importations) et la moitié de la divergence statistique.

Produit intérieur brut réel

Le PIB réel est en rapport direct avec d'autres variables macroéconomiques importantes, telles que l'emploi, les cycles économiques, la productivité et la croissance économique à long terme.

Le PIB réel est une mesure du volume de production. Pour mesurer ce concept, on ajuste les composantes du PIB en termes de dépenses afin d'éliminer l'effet de la variation des prix. Ce processus, qui est appelé déflation, s'appuie sur les indices de prix associés au côté dépenses. Jusqu'à 2001, on calculait le PIB réel selon la formule de Laspeyres. Depuis le 31 mai 2001, la division chargée de produire les comptes trimestriels des revenus et des dépenses a adopté la formule de l'indice en chaîne de Fisher comme mesure officielle du PIB réel en termes de dépenses. Cette formule a été choisie parce qu'elle produit la mesure la plus exacte de la croissance du PIB d'un trimestre à l'autre.

Couverture

Le PIB inclut toutes les activités comprises dans le domaine de la production du Système des comptes nationaux (SCN). Les transactions illégales sont, pour la plupart, exclues.

Comptes sectoriels

Les CRD fournissent aussi une foule de renseignements sur quatre grands secteurs de l'économie, à savoir les particuliers et les entreprises individuelles, les sociétés, les administrations publiques et les non-résidents. Sont enregistrés dans les comptes sectoriels i) les revenus et les dépenses, ii) l'épargne et l'investissement, et iii) les transactions relatives aux actifs et aux passifs financiers pour chacun des quatre grands secteurs de l'économie. Des renseignements supplémentaires sont également fournis pour les sous-secteurs des secteurs des administrations publiques et des sociétés. La somme des revenus finals (ne provenant pas de transferts) ou des dépenses finales (non intermédiaires) des secteurs est égale au produit national brut.

Tout secteur a des revenus et des dépenses courantes. La différence entre les deux est l'épargne. Conjuguée aux provisions pour consommation de capital et aux transferts nets de capitaux, l'épargne est une source de fonds pour l'investissement ou pour l'acquisition de capital non financier. Dans la mesure où l'épargne est supérieure (inférieure) à l'investissement, le secteur est considéré comme étant dans une position de prêt net (emprunt net). Une deuxième mesure du prêt/de l'emprunt net peut être obtenue en calculant la différence entre les transactions en actifs financiers nettes et les transactions en passifs et en capitaux propres. Il existe certains écarts entre les deux mesures à cause des erreurs statistiques.

The IEA make up part of an integrated sequence of accounts. The source of information for the financial transactions of the sector accounts is the associated quarterly Financial Flow Accounts release. The end result of economic and financial activity is presented in the National Balance Sheet Accounts.

Data sources and methodology

The IEA measure of macroeconomic activity on a quarterly basis as represented by income and expenditure-based GDP, relies heavily on a wealth of information from various areas of Statistics Canada.

Sources

A very large amount of information from various survey divisions within the bureau, along with other data, are compiled, integrated and analysed as part of the complex process of arriving at GDP and its component categories and underlying sector accounts.

Major suppliers of data within Statistics Canada include Agriculture Division, Investment and Capital Stock Division, Income Statistics Division, International Trade Division, Distributive Trades Division, Manufacturing, Construction and Energy Division, Industrial Organization and Finance Division, Labour Division, Prices Division, Public Institutions Division and Tax Data Division. There are also a host of external and administrative sources of data used.

General methodology

Final expenditure measures by detailed component are compiled for the major sectors of the economy. Data are analysed for time series consistency, links to current economic events, issues arising from the source data, and finally with respect to coherence. The same process is followed for the income measures. Initial estimates of income and expenditure-side GDP are then produced, and the discrepancy is assessed. Real estimates are then compared with the results of the monthly GDP by Industry program.

Annually, the income and expenditure data are benchmarked to the Input-Output Accounts

For further details on definitions, concepts, sources and methods, please refer to the “Guide to the Income and Expenditure Accounts”, catalogue no. 13-017-X.

Seasonal adjustment

Almost all series of the quarterly IEA are seasonally-adjusted. Seasonal adjustment is generally made at the

Sources des données et méthodologie

Les CRD donnent une mesure trimestrielle de l'activité macroéconomique, telle que représentée par le PIB en termes de revenus et de dépenses, dont la production dépend fortement d'une foule de renseignements fournis par divers programmes de Statistique Canada.

Sources

Le processus complexe de calcul du PIB, de ses composantes et des comptes sectoriels sous-jacents nécessite la compilation, l'intégration et l'analyse d'une très grande quantité d'information provenant de diverses divisions d'enquête du Bureau, conjuguée à d'autres données.

À Statistique Canada, les grands fournisseurs de données incluent la Division de l'agriculture, la Division de l'investissement et du stock de capital, la Division de la statistique du revenu, la Division du commerce international, la Division de la statistique du commerce, la Division de la fabrication, de la construction et de l'énergie, la Division de l'organisation et des finances de l'industrie, la Division du travail, la Division des prix, la Division des institutions publiques et la Division des données fiscales. Il existe aussi une grande quantité de sources de données externes et administratives.

Méthodologie générale

Les dépenses finales selon les composantes détaillées sont calculées pour les grands secteurs de l'économie. Les données sont analysées afin de vérifier la convergence des séries chronologiques, d'établir les liens avec les événements économiques courants, de cerner les problèmes que soulèvent les données de référence et, en dernière analyse, d'assurer la cohérence. Le même processus est suivi pour les mesures du revenu. Vient ensuite la production des estimations initiales du PIB calculé selon les revenus et selon les dépenses et l'évaluation de la divergence. Puis, les estimations réelles sont comparées aux résultats du programme d'évaluation du PIB mensuel selon l'industrie.

Annuellement, les données sur les revenus et les dépenses sont étalonnées d'après les comptes des entrées-sorties.

Pour plus de détails sur les définitions, les concepts, les sources et les méthodes, veuillez consulter le Guide des comptes des revenus et dépenses, n° 13-017-X au catalogue.

Désaisonnalisation

Presque toutes les séries des CRD trimestriels sont lowest level of aggregation, and seasonally-adjusted aggregates are obtained by summation. Statistics Canada's X-11 ARIMA is used to seasonally adjust series.

Revisions

Estimates for each quarter are revised when those for subsequent quarters of the same year are published and when those for the first quarter of each of the next four years are published. They are not normally revised again except when historical revisions are carried out, usually once per decade. Statistical revisions are carried out in order to incorporate the most recent information from quarterly and annual surveys, taxation statistics, public accounts, censuses, etc., as well as from the annual benchmarking process with the Input-Output Accounts.

Reference period

Data are released within 60 days after the reference period.

Data quality (accuracy)

The accounts are designed as a double-entry system in which the income- and expenditure-based GDP totals should, in principle, be identical. In fact, a difference virtually always arises between them due to errors in the source data, imperfect estimation techniques, differing seasonal adjustment methods and discrepancies in the time at which the incomes and expenditures are recorded.

The size of the discrepancy, which stems from the estimation procedure, is one gauge of the system's overall reliability. However, it is a partial and quite insufficient gauge. Another quality measure is how well real expenditure-side GDP compares to the real GDP by Industry measure.

No direct measures of the margin of error in the estimates can be calculated. The quality of the estimates can be inferred from analysis of revisions and from a subjective assessment of the data sources and methodology used in the preparation of the estimates.

Comparability of data and related sources

It is not possible to produce an equivalent to the income or expenditure accounts except at the aggregate level. At the level of GDP, the unduplicated value of production can also be measured by taking the gross value of production of each firm and subtracting from this each firm's intermediate inputs in the form of its purchases from other désaisonnalisées. En général, la désaisonnalisation est faite au niveau d'agrégation le plus petit et les agrégats désaisonnalisés sont obtenus par sommation. Les séries chronologiques sont désaisonnalisées selon la méthode X-11 ARIMA de Statistique Canada.

Révisions

Les estimations produites pour chaque trimestre sont révisées lorsque celles des trimestres subséquents de la même année sont publiées, puis quand celles du premier trimestre des quatre années suivantes sont publiées. Normalement, elles ne sont plus révisées après cela, sauf quand une révision historique est réalisée, habituellement une fois tous les dix ans. Des révisions statistiques sont faites afin d'intégrer l'information la plus récente tirée des enquêtes trimestrielles et annuelles, des statistiques sur l'impôt, des comptes publics, des recensements, etc., ainsi que du processus annuel d'étalonnage d'après les comptes d'entrées-sorties.

Période de référence

Qualité des données (exactitude)

Les comptes sont conçus comme un système à double entrée dans lequel les valeurs totales du PIB en termes de revenus et de dépenses devraient, en principe, être identiques. En fait, il existe presque toujours un écart entre les deux à cause de la présence d'erreurs dans les données de référence, de l'imperfection des techniques d'estimation, de différences entre les méthodes de désaisonnalisation et de différences entre les moments où les revenus et les dépenses sont enregistrés.

La grandeur de la divergence, qui découle de la procédure d'estimation, est un indicateur de la fiabilité globale du système. Cependant, cet indicateur n'est que partiel et plutôt insuffisant. Un autre indicateur de qualité est la mesure dans laquelle le PIB réel en termes de dépenses se compare au PIB réel selon l'industrie.

Aucune mesure directe de la marge d'erreur dans les estimations ne peut être calculée. Il est toutefois possible d'inférer la qualité des estimations d'après l'analyse des révisions et d'après une évaluation subjective des sources de données et de la méthodologie utilisées pour produire les estimations.

Comparabilité des données et des sources connexes

Il est impossible de produire un équivalent des comptes des revenus et des dépenses, sauf au niveau agrégé. Au niveau du PIB, la valeur sans double compte de la production peut également être mesurée en soustrayant de la valeur brute de la production de chaque entreprise, la valeur des intrants firms (including imports), to yield the 'net value added' to production by the firm. Estimates of this type are produced in the annual Input-Output tables, as well as in the monthly industry-based estimates of GDP.

Certain components of income and expenditure-based GDP can be obtained in survey divisions, but typically the data are not directly comparable. For example, the variable "corporate profits" is published in the Quarterly Financial Statistics release, but it differs from the income-based GDP measure by certain national accounts concept adjustments.

intermédiaires de l'entreprise sous forme de ses achats auprès d'autres entreprises (y compris les importations). On obtient ainsi la « valeur ajoutée nette » de l'entreprise à la production. Des estimations de ce type sont produites dans les tableaux annuels des entrées-sorties, ainsi que dans les estimations mensuelles du PIB selon l'industrie.

Certaines composantes des valeurs du PIB en termes de revenus et de dépenses peuvent être obtenues auprès des divisions d'enquête, mais, habituellement, les données ne sont pas directement comparables. Ainsi, la variable « bénéfices des sociétés » est publiée dans les Statistiques financières trimestrielles, mais elle diffère de la mesure du PIB en termes de revenus à cause de certains ajustements apportés aux concepts des comptes nationaux.

Glossary

Accrued net income of farm operators from farm production. Net income received by farm operators from farm production plus the undistributed portion of earnings arising out of the operations of the Canadian Wheat Board and the adjustment made to shift agricultural subsidies from a cash to an accrual basis.

Associations of individuals. Non-profit institutions serving households, such as churches, labour unions and charitable organizations, plus credit unions, trustee pension plans, life insurance companies, fraternal societies and mutual non-life insurance companies. They are treated as businesses with respect to their capital outlays and their intermediation activities, but as persons with respect to their current expenses.

Base period. Reference period from which prices are taken to calculate an index.

Basic prices. A basic price valuation includes the costs of production factors (labour and capital) and indirect taxes and subsidies on production factors. Income measures are estimated at basic prices or market prices.

Bonds. Marketable and non-marketable securities issued in Canadian or foreign currency with an original term to maturity in excess of one year. Includes:

Canada bonds. Direct bonds of the federal government (of which, Canada Savings Bonds) and guaranteed federal enterprise bonds.

Provincial bonds. Direct bonds of provincial governments (of which, provincial savings bonds) and guaranteed provincial enterprise bonds.

Municipal bonds. Direct bonds of municipalities and guaranteed municipal enterprise bonds.

Other bonds. Bonds issued by Canadian corporations, hospitals and non-profit institutions, as well as non-guaranteed bonds of government business enterprises. Also included are asset-backed securities.

Business gross fixed capital formation. This expression covers all expenditures on buildings, engineering construction and machinery and equipment by the business sector, both corporations and unincorporated businesses. Business gross fixed capital formation is divided into three major categories in production accounts: residential structures, non-residential structures and machinery and equipment.

Business investment in inventories. Business sector inventories consist of two categories: (a) non-farm inventories and (b) farm inventories and grain in commercial channels. These two categories are presented in detailed tables in the Income and Expenditure Accounts. Business sector inventories are themselves subdivided into those of the persons and unincorporated businesses sector and those of the corporations and government business enterprises sector. These two estimates are shown in the respective sector accounts under the inventories heading.

Business sector. All transactors producing goods and services for sale at a price intended to cover costs of production, namely corporations, government business enterprises, unincorporated businesses and independent professional practitioners. Also includes owners occupying their own dwelling, treated as businesses renting to themselves, and associations of individuals, treated as businesses with respect to their capital outlays and their intermediation activities.

Canada and Quebec pension plans. The part of the government sector which consists of the operations of the Canada and Quebec pension plans, established in 1966.

Canadian residents. Institutional units, such as persons, corporations and non-profit institutions, which have a centre of economic interest (a dwelling, a business location) in the economic territory of Canada.

Capital and financial account. This account shows, for each major sector, a) the saving and acquisition of non-financial capital and the difference between them, called net lending; and b) transactions in financial assets, transactions in liabilities and the difference between them, called net financial investment. In theory, the two balancing items, net lending and net financial investment, are equal; in practice, imperfections in the statistics lead to a difference between the two, shown as a statistical discrepancy.

Capital consumption allowances. Allowances for the using up of capital in the productive process. They are calculated for business and government fixed assets as well as housing. They also include miscellaneous valuation adjustments bringing business accounting records into conformity with national accounts definitions, such as the addition of claims paid by insurance companies to compensate for fire and other losses.

Capital transfers. Transfers in cash or in kind, out of the wealth of the donor (inheritances and migrants' funds, transfer of ownership of an asset or cancellation of a liability), or transfers which the recipient is expected to use towards the acquisition of an asset. Capital transfers have no effect on the saving of the donor or recipient.

Chain Fisher price index. See implicit price indexes.

Chain Fisher volume index. A measure of change in volume from period to period. It is calculated as the geometric mean of a chain Paasche volume index and a chain Laspeyres volume index. In other words, it is the mean of two distinct measures of change in volume: one calculated as if prices were constant in the first of two consecutive periods (Laspeyres volume) and the other calculated as if prices were constant in the second of the two consecutive periods (Paasche volume).

Chain index. An index which is rebased on a period to period basis, accumulated multiplicatively from a base period value. For example, the chain Fisher volume index calculates the Fisher volume index in each pair of consecutive quarters, treating the earlier quarter as the base period.

Chain Laspeyres volume indexes. A measure of the change in volume from period to period. It is calculated as if prices were constant in the first of two consecutive periods. The indexes of each of the periods are linked together in a chain to form an index. Chain Laspeyres volume indexes are one of the components of the chain Fisher volume indexes that are the official measure of the Income and Expenditure Accounts.

Chain Paasche volume indexes. A measure of the change in volume from period to period. It is calculated as if prices were constant in the second of two consecutive periods. The indexes of each of the periods are linked together in a chain to form an index. The chain Paasche volume indexes are one of the components of the chain Fisher volume indexes that are the official measure of the Income and Expenditure Accounts.

Changing the base period. Changing the base period of a series involves redefining the base period on which the weightings are established.

Claims. Financial instrument comprising:

Corporate claims. Loans, advances and issues of debt between associated corporations; on the asset side, also includes investment in shares between associated corporations.

Government claims. Claims between governments, between related government business enterprises or between a parent government and its enterprises, in the form of shares, debt securities, loans and advances.

Consumer credit. Credit extended to persons for purchasing consumer goods and services.

Consumer goods. New goods acquired by households for their own consumption. Comprises three categories:

Durable goods, which can be used repeatedly or continuously for more than one year, such as motor vehicles and major appliances;

Semi-durable goods, which can be used on multiple occasions and have an expected lifetime of one year or somewhat more, such as clothing, footwear and linens;

Non-durable goods, which can be used only once, such as food, gasoline, alcoholic beverages and tobacco; in practice, the latter also include a few goods of little value used more than once, such as household supplies.

Consumer services. Services consumed by households, such as rent (including the rent imputed on owner-occupied housing), transportation, education, medical care, child care, food and accommodation services as well as travel expenditures of Canadians abroad, less travel expenditures of foreigners in Canada. Also includes the current (operating) expenses of associations of individuals and unincorporated businesses.

Contributions to percent changes. These estimates show the contribution of a sub-aggregate to the percent change in an aggregate. For example, if personal consumer spending increases 2% and the contribution to the percent change by motor vehicle purchases is 1%, then motor vehicle purchases would be said to have accounted for half of the increase in personal consumer spending.

Contributions to social insurance plans. Employer and employee contributions to employment insurance, the Canada and Quebec Pension Plans and workers' compensation.

Corporate and government business enterprise sector. All business transactors whose legal form of organization is the corporation, plus government business enterprises. This sector is divided into non-financial and financial enterprises. The latter are comprised of several sub-sectors (Bank of Canada, chartered banks, credit unions, life insurance companies, trustee pension funds, mutual funds, etc.). The intermediation activities of credit unions, life insurance companies and trustee pension funds shown as assets of these sub-sectors are balanced by claim liabilities which, in turn, are assets of the persons and unincorporated business sector.

Corporation profits before taxes. The net earnings from economic activity of privately-held corporations, measured after deduction of capital consumption allowances.

Currency and deposits. Financial instruments comprising:

Currency and bank deposits. Deposits denominated in Canadian dollars at chartered banks in Canada and at the Bank of Canada, plus Canadian currency and coin in circulation.

Other deposits. All deposits at other Canadian deposit-taking institutions, including shares in credit unions.

Current prices. A valuation at current prices is expressed at the prices prevailing during the period being referred to.

Current transactions with non-residents. Exports of goods and services less imports of goods and services, plus net investment income from non-residents and net current transfers from non-residents.

Current transfers. Transfers out of the income of the donor, reducing his saving and adding to that of the recipient.

Current transfers from corporations to persons. Charitable donations and other contributions.

Current transfers from government to business. Subsidies to the business sector.

Current transfers from government to non-residents. Pensions paid to non-residents, contributions to international organizations and economic and technical assistance as well as food aid provided by the Canadian International Development Assistance Agency and other governmental agencies.

Current transfers from government to persons. Payments such as the Child Tax Benefit/Credit, Employment Insurance benefits, old age security benefits, welfare payments, scholarships and research grants, workers' compensation benefits, grants to aboriginal peoples and their organizations, pensions paid under the Canada and Quebec Pension Plans, and veterans' allowances.

Current transfers from non-residents to government. Withholding taxes paid by non-residents to the Government of Canada.

Current transfers from non-residents to persons. Pensions paid by foreign governments to Canadian residents plus remittances by non-residents to Canadian residents.

Current transfers from persons and unincorporated businesses to government. Income taxes, contributions to social insurance plans and other current transfers.

Current transfers from persons to corporations. The transfer portion of interest on the consumer debt.

Deflation. Process of eliminating price change from a specific time series.

Disposable income. See personal disposable income.

Dividends. Income payable and receivable in respect of corporate equities (cash dividends) and further equity participation in corporate enterprises (stock dividends).

Economic territory. The economic territory of a country encompasses the geographic territory, plus the air space, territorial waters and continental shelf, as well as its territorial enclaves abroad (embassies, consulates, military bases, etc.).

Existing assets. See net acquisition of existing assets.

Exports and imports of goods and services. Current receipts and payments arising out of transactions in moveable goods and services between residents and non-residents. Services include travel, freight and shipping, business services, government transactions, financial intermediation and other services.

Factor cost. A valuation reflecting the cost of production factors (labour and capital). It corresponds to the value remaining after the deduction from market prices of all applicable taxes and subsidies.

Farm inventories. Farm output stored on farms; includes grains, tobacco, potatoes and livestock.

Final domestic demand. The sum of personal expenditure on consumer goods and services, net government current expenditure on goods and services, government gross fixed capital formation and business gross fixed capital formation.

Fisher index. Geometric mean of the Laspeyres index and the Paasche index.

Fixed capital. See gross fixed capital formation.

Fixed-weighted price indexes. Also known as "Laspeyres" indexes, these are price indexes where a fixed pattern of expenditure from some base period is used to aggregate the detailed price indexes in each period.

Foreign investments. All marketable financial instruments (bonds, short-term paper and shares) which are liabilities of the non-resident sector (foreign governments and corporations) and assets of domestic sectors.

Government business enterprise profits before taxes. Net earnings from the economic activity of government business enterprises, measures after deduction of capital consumption allowances.

Government business enterprises. Government enterprises and agencies which operate on a profit or cost recovery basis and whose motivation is similar to that of private enterprises. Their total profits (net of losses) are recorded in GDP, while only the profits remitted to government are recorded in the government income and outlay account, under government investment income. The difference between these two measures, retained earnings, forms part of business sector saving.

Government current expenditure on goods and services. All current outlays for goods and services by the government sector, including wages and salaries of government employees. It also includes expenditure on weapons for defence and an imputation for the depreciation of government fixed assets. It is recorded before deduction of revenues from sales of goods and services in the government income and outlay account, and after deduction of these revenues in GDP (net government current expenditure on goods and services).

Government gross fixed capital formation. This expression covers all expenditures on buildings, engineering construction and machinery and equipment. Government gross fixed capital formation includes spending on non-military defence buildings and equipment (airports, docks, roads, hospitals, transport aircraft, etc.). Abbreviated as fixed capital in the government capital and financial account.

Government investment in inventories. Government inventories include only uranium stocks, up to 1981, and those held by federal government commodity agencies, such as the Canadian Dairy Commission. Abbreviated as inventories in the government sector account.

Government investment income. In GDP, includes interest income of public service pension plans, other interest and dividend income of governments and royalties. In the government income and outlay account, it also includes the profits of government business enterprises remitted to government. See government business enterprises.

Government sales of goods and services. Revenues from the sale of goods and services, such as water charges, landing fees and charges for government documents.

Government sector. All departments, agencies, and funds (budgetary and non-budgetary) of the federal, provincial and local levels of government, as well as crown corporations which receive more than 50% of their revenues in grants from their parent governments. Also included are school boards, universities, non-profit colleges, hospitals, non-profit residential care facilities, as well as the Canada and Quebec Pension Plans.

It can be valued either at base price or at market prices. In the Income and Expenditure Accounts, Gross Domestic Product is measured by the income and expenditure approach.

Inventories. See investment in inventories.

Inventory valuation adjustment. The difference between the change in inventory book values and the value of physical change in inventories, which is a measure of the net holding gain or loss realized by business as a result of price changes. This income includes labour income, profits before taxes, interest and miscellaneous investment income, accrued net income of farm operators from farm production, net income of non-farm unincorporated business including rent, and the inventory valuation adjustment. Taxes and subsidies on factors of production are also included since the size of these components is directly linked to the production decisions of producers. Differs from GDP at basic prices in that it excludes capital consumption allowances.

Net financial investment. The net lending (or borrowing) of a sector can be measured either through incomes and expenditures or through financial transactions. Under the financial transactions approach, net lending is called net financial investment. It is equal to a sector's transactions in financial assets less its transactions in liabilities. Net reinvested earnings on direct investment. Reinvested earnings (REI) are profits earned on, less dividends received from, direct foreign investment. From 1961, equity income from direct foreign investment is recorded on an accrual rather than cash basis in the Balance of International Payments. Balance of International Payments Accounts and the National Income and Expenditure Accounts, in which this change has not been incorporated.

In the capital and financial account, transactions of these two sectors are consolidated. Price index. Measure of the change in prices in index form. There are several methods of measuring indexes. See Laspeyres index, Paasche index, Fisher index, chain index and implicit price indexes.

Production factors. Transactors which, when combined, result in economic production. In general, there are two production factors: labour and capital.

Statistical discrepancy. Double-entry bookkeeping is fundamental in national accounting and several aggregates, such as GDP and net lending, can be calculated in two or more ways. In principle, all the measures of an aggregate are equal. In practice, differences invariably arise between them due to imperfections in basic statistics and estimation techniques. This difference is called a statistical discrepancy and serves as the balancing item between two theoretically equal aggregates. It can be recorded as is, like the discrepancy between the two estimates of net lending or it can be divided in two, one half being subtracted from the higher estimate and the other, added to the lower one, like the discrepancy between income-based and expenditure-based GDP.

Subsidies. Transfers from government to the business sector toward current costs of production. These transfers represent additions to the income of producers from current production. Subsidies can be linked to production factors or products.

Subsidies on products. These subsidies are paid by unit of good or service. They can take the form of a specific monetary amount paid by unit quantity of good or service or can be calculated ad valorem as a specific percentage of their unit price. Examples of product subsidies are those paid for agricultural products, transportation services and energy.

They are primarily subsidies on wages and labour, pollution reduction subsidies and interest subsidies. Investment assistance is not included.

Wages and salaries. Total remuneration, in cash or in kind, paid to employees in return for work done. It is recorded on a gross basis, before any deduction for income taxes, pensions, unemployment insurance and other social insurance schemes. Also includes other forms of compensation, namely commissions, tips, bonuses, directors' fees and allowances such as those for holidays and sick leave, as well as military pay and allowances. Excludes employers' social contributions, which are treated as supplementary labour income.

En théorie, les deux postes d'équilibre, prêt net et investissement financier net, sont égaux; en pratique, les imperfections dans les statistiques engendrent un écart entre les deux, montré comme une divergence statistique.

Comptes à recevoir / à payer. Crédit à court terme accordé ou reçu dans le cours ordinaire des affaires par des fournisseurs ou acheteurs de biens et services commerciaux.

Comptes sectoriels. Les comptes nationaux trimestriels comprennent des comptes sectoriels complets. variation en pourcentage d'un agrégat. Par exemple, si les dépenses personnelles de consommation se sont accrues de 2% et que la contribution à la variation en pourcentage des achats de véhicules est de 1% on dira que ces derniers ont contribué pour la moitié de l'augmentation des dépenses personnelles de consommation.

Les dépenses nettes de fonctionnement des associations de particuliers au service des ménages sont aussi incluses, sous "services de consommation".

Divergence statistique. La comptabilité en partie double est à la base de la comptabilité nationale et plusieurs agrégats, comme le PIB et le prêt net, peuvent être calculés de deux façons ou plus. En théorie, toutes les mesures d'un agrégat sont égales. En pratique, des écarts surviennent inmanquablement entre elles en raison d'imperfections dans les statistiques. Cet écart est appelé divergence statistique et sert de poste d'équilibre entre deux estimations théoriquement égales. Il peut être comptabilisé tel quel, comme la divergence entre les deux estimations du prêt net, ou il peut être divisé en deux, une moitié étant soustraite de l'estimation la plus élevée, et l'autre ajoutée à la plus basse, comme la divergence entre l'estimation du PIB en termes de revenus et celle en termes de dépenses.

Hypothèques. Prêts négociés et accords de vente garantis par des biens immobiliers, surtout des immeubles résidentiels. Comprend les première, deuxième et troisième hypothèques. Les hypothèques sont caractérisées par le remboursement, en général mensuel, d'un mélange de capital et d'intérêts.

sont cumulées multiplicativement à partir de la valeur obtenue pour la période de référence. Par exemple, dans le cas de l'indice de volume en chaîne de Fisher, on calcule l'indice de volume pour chaque paire de trimestres consécutifs, en prenant le trimestre le moins récent comme période de base.

Indice de Laspeyres. Indice calculé en utilisant comme poids les prix ou les volumes calculés pour une période de base prédéterminée.

Indice de Paasche. Indice calculé en utilisant comme poids les prix ou volumes calculés pour la période courante.

Indice de prix en chaîne Fisher. Voir indices implicites de prix.

Indice de volume. Mesure de la croissance de laquelle est exclut l'effet de la variation des prix, présenté sous forme d'un indice. Il existe plusieurs méthodes de calcul des indices. Voir indice de Laspeyres, indice de Paasche, indice de Fisher, indice chaîne. Les Comptes des revenus et dépenses utilisent la méthode de l'indice de volume en chaîne Fisher pour calculer le PIB réel.

Indices de volume en chaîne Fisher. Une mesure de la variation en volume d'une période à l'autre. Elle est calculée comme la moyenne géométrique d'un indice de volume en chaîne Paasche et d'un indice de volume en chaîne Laspeyres. En d'autres termes, c'est la moyenne de deux mesures distinctes en volume: une calculée comme si les prix étaient constants dans la première des deux périodes adjacentes (volume de Laspeyres) et l'autre, comme si les prix étaient constants dans la seconde des deux périodes adjacentes (volume de Paasche).

Indices de volume en chaîne Laspeyres. Une mesure de la variation en volume d'une période à l'autre. Celle-ci est calculée comme si les prix étaient constants dans la première des deux périodes adjacentes. Les indices de chacune des périodes sont raccordés ensemble en une chaîne pour former un indice. Les indices de volume en chaîne Laspeyres sont une des composantes des indices de volume en chaîne Fisher qui constituent la mesure officielle des Comptes des revenus et dépenses.

Indices de volume en chaîne Paasche. Une mesure de la variation en volume d'une période à l'autre. Celle-ci est calculée comme si les prix étaient constants dans la seconde des deux périodes adjacentes. Les indices de chacune des périodes sont raccordés ensemble en une chaîne pour former un indice. Les indices de volume en chaîne Paasche sont une des composantes des indices de volume en chaîne Fisher qui constituent la mesure officielle des Comptes des revenus et dépenses.

Indices implicites de prix. Ces indices sont un sous-produit de la procédure de déflation et sont obtenus en divisant une série des dépenses exprimées en prix courants par la série correspondante exprimée en termes réels. Dans le cas de tous les agrégats en volume publiés dans les Comptes des revenus et dépenses, les indices implicites de prix sont des indices de prix en chaîne Fisher.
