ACCESS TO INFORMATION ACT

ANNUAL REPORT (April 1, 2007 to March 31, 2008)

INTRODUCTION

The information contained in this report pertains to the administration of the Access to Information Act within the Department of Canadian Heritage.

The Department of Canadian Heritage is responsible for policies and programs relating to arts, culture, heritage, broadcasting, Canadian identity, multiculturalism, official languages, aboriginal culture and languages, youth, citizens' participation and sports. More specifically, areas of responsibility include:

- developing Canadian cultural and broadcasting policies; assisting cultural industries and arts and heritage organizations; and encouraging the creation, production, distribution, consumption and preservation of cultural and heritage goods and services;
- fostering Canadians' collective sense of self and promoting civic participation among all members of Canadian society;
- promoting a greater understanding of human rights;
- managing programs and initiatives related to the multicultural character of Canadian society;
- encouraging and developing sports; and
- advancing the equality of status and use of the official languages, and supporting the development of official-language minority communities.

Four (4) ministers with responsibilities related to Canadian Heritage have been appointed within the portfolio of the Minister of Canadian Heritage and Status of Women. They are the Minister of Canadian Heritage, Status of Women and Official Languages and Minister for La Francophonie, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Trade and Minister for the Pacific Gateway and the Vancouver-Whistler Olympics, the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs and International Trade and Sport and the Secretary of State for Multiculturalism and Canadian Identity.

Regional operations are the responsibility of five regional offices (Atlantic, Quebec, Ontario, Prairies and Northern and Western).

The responsibility for the administration of the Access to Information Act lies within the departmental Corporate Secretary's office. The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat coordinates all activities related to the legislation within the Department both at headquarters and in the regions.

The following report presents an overview of activities carried out within the Department during the reporting period of April 1, 2007 to March 31, 2008.

Statistical Report - Access to Information Act Requests

The appended report (Appendix A) contains detailed statistics on the information requests processed under the Access to Information Act.

INTERPRETATION OF THE STATISTICAL REPORT ACCESS TO INFORMATION ACT REQUESTS

Between April 1, 2007 and March 31, 2008, the Department received two hundred and seventy-one (271) formal information requests under the Access to Information Act. Ninety (90) requests were carried forward from the previous reporting period. Two hundred and sixty-two (262) requests were completed before the end of March. Ninety-nine (99) requests were carried forward to the next reporting period for the following reasons: eighty-two (82) requests required additional time to allow for consultations with third parties and seventeen (17) requests were received at the end of the reporting period. All of the requests that are shown as carried forward from the 2006-2007 reporting period were completed during the reporting period under review.

The following is a percentage breakdown by source of information requests received during 2007-2008:

30.3%	public
21.0%	media
19.6%	business
9.2%	academia
19.9%	other organizations

In most cases, the information that was exempted from disclosure from those records that were "disclosed in part" was personal information pertaining to other individuals, third party financial and/or commercial information, advice or recommendations developed by the Department or accounts of internal discussions.

In five (5) cases, all of the requested information was exempted from disclosure under section 24 of the Act.

The twenty-nine (29) requests that were abandoned were received from individuals who, after being informed of the provisions of the Act, either withdrew their requests or did not respond to our correspondence.

The thirty-eight (38) requests included in the “unable to process” category were received from applicants who requested access to records that either did not exist or were not described clearly enough to allow for their identification.

Fees

The Department has adopted Treasury Board Secretariat of Canada guidelines on fees and fee waivers. Processing fees that do not exceed $25 are automatically waived. Decisions to waive or reduce processing fees that exceed $25 are made on an individual basis and are based on the public benefit which would be derived from the disclosure of the records.

No waiver is granted for the initial application fee. It is, however, reimbursed under the following conditions: when the request is for information that is available under the Privacy Act or when the information is available informally.

Time Limitations

During fiscal year 2007-2008, 37% of completed requests were processed within the initial 30-day period. In thirty-six (36) cases, the Department required a 30-day time extension in order to conduct consultations with either third parties and/or other federal government departments. In one-hundred and twenty-nine (129) cases, an extension of over 30 days was required because of the number of records requested and to enable the Department to conduct necessary consultations.

Costs

The costs reported in the statistical report include not only those costs incurred for the processing of information requests, but also those incurred for activities related to the administration of the Act such as the presentation of briefing sessions, the development of information materials on the Act and the development of policies and procedures.

FORMAL/INFORMAL INTERFACE

Departmental officials continue to respond to informal requests from the public. Program officers are aware of the impact of the legislation and promptly refer formal information requests to the ATIP Secretariat. Program officers also contact the Secretariat for guidance on the disclosure of information through informal processes.

COMPLAINTS/INVESTIGATIONS

During the reporting period under review, one (1) complaint was filed with the Office of the Information Commissioner of Canada.

This complaint concerned the delay in responding. It was not resolved at the end of the reporting period.

FEDERAL COURT OF CANADA

No appeals were filed by applicants with the Federal Court of Canada during the reporting period under review.

ADMINISTRATIVE PRACTICES

Delegation of Authority

Decision-making responsibility for the application of the various provisions of the Access to Information Act is fully delegated to the Departmental Access to Information Coordinator.

Procedures

The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat acts as a central coordinating point for the processing of information requests received under the Access to Information Act. As such, the Secretariat maintains data banks and keeps statistical records on requests processed. Requests are received by the Secretariat and forwarded to the appropriate Program for retrieval of the requested records. Program officials retrieve the records and prepare preliminary recommendations concerning their disclosure. These recommendations are reviewed by the Secretariat. The Secretariat assesses the application of the Act, conducts all necessary consultations with and/or notifications of third parties, and prepares final recommendations for review by the appropriate delegated authority. When the final recommendations have been approved by the appropriate delegated authority, the Secretariat prepares the records for disclosure.

Reading Room

To encourage the public to use existing channels for obtaining departmental information and in response to the requirements of the Act, a “Reading Room” is maintained within the Departmental Library. The content of the reading room is reviewed and updated on a regular basis.

The Reading Room contains publications to assist applicants to identify departmental records (e.g. InfoSource, Departmental File Classification Manuals, etc.) and facilitate the formulation of requests. Copies of InfoSource and of departmental manuals are also available for consultation in departmental regional offices.

Numerous departmental documents are made available to members of the public for consultation on the premises or through interlibrary loan. These documents include; for example, consultants' reports, research reports, briefs and news releases relating to departmental activities.

Briefing Sessions/Information Pamphlet/Website

To ensure that all employees of the Department are aware of the legislation, an Employee Orientation Session is given periodically. These briefing sessions provide basic information on the provisions of the Access to Information Act.

In 2007-2008, seventeen (17) information sessions on the Access to Information Act were given to departmental employees in the National Capital Region. As well, two (2) information sessions were held in the Saskatoon and Yellowknife regional offices. In total, two hundred and forty-seven (247) employees attended these sessions.

An information pamphlet is available to employees of the Department, providing them with an overview of the Access to Information Act so that they have a general understanding of this Act, the impact that it has on the Department and on their responsibilities with respect to the creation and conservation of departmental records. This pamphlet also describes the policies and procedures that promote efficiency and effectiveness in the collection, use and dissemination of information.

The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat's website resides on the Department's intranet site. The website describes the ATIP Secretariat's roles and responsibilities and provides information on the Access to Information Act and related departmental policies and procedures. The site is continuously being updated and new tools are added.
