First Quarter 2009

Major collective bargaining settlements in the first quarter 2009 provided base-rate wage adjustments averaging 2.4% annually over the contract term, lower than the 3.3% figure in the previous quarter. The results are based on a review of 93 settlements and cover 301,880 employees.

When the parties to these first-quarter settlements negotiated previously, the resulting wage adjustments averaged 2.5%, only a fraction higher than their current settlements (2.4%). Contract duration in the first quarter 2009 averaged 45.3 months, compared to 44.4 months in the previous round of settlements.

In the first quarter 2009, 57.6% of employees recorded average annual wage adjustments in the 1.0 to 1.9% range; 15.8% of employees received adjustments in the 2.0 to 2.9% range; 15.9% of employees received adjustments in the 3.0 to 3.9% range; only 1.1% of employees received adjustments in the 4.0 to 4.9% range; 9.6% of employees received wage increases in the 5.0 to 5.9% range (mostly in Newfoundland and Labrador and Alberta).

The majority of agreements (82.8%) and employees (94.6%) in the first quarter 2009 was in the public sector. Public-sector wage adjustments averaged 2.4%, a decrease from 3.4% in the previous quarter. The public-sector results are based on a review of 77 settlements and cover 285,620 employees. This includes the 15 agreements in the federal jurisdiction.

Private-sector wage adjustments averaged 2.8%; a decrease from the 3.0% figure recorded in each of the 2 previous quarters. The private-sector results are based on a review of only 16 settlements and cover 16,260 employees.

The first-quarter figure was largely influenced by 15 federal public-sector agreements providing 141,100 employees with an average annual wage increase of 1.8%. Employees in these federal public-sector agreements accounted for 46.7% of the total employee coverage in major settlements during the quarter. Four Quebec public-sector settlements also recorded a relatively low average of 1.6%. In Ontario, public-sector wage adjustments averaged 2.5%; in Manitoba, 3.0%; in Alberta, 4.9%; and in Newfoundland and Labrador, 5.0%.

On an industry basis, the largest adjustment in the first quarter 2009 was in the utilities sector, at 4.1% (due largely to 2 ATCO Gas agreements in Alberta at 5.1%). The smallest average wage adjustment was in the finance and professional services sector at 1.7% (due to a single agreement with the National Research Council Canada). The majority of agreements (54.8%) was in the education, health, and social services sector where wage adjustments averaged 3.5%.

On a jurisdictional basis, Newfoundland and Labrador recorded the largest wage increase, at 5.0% (9 public-sector settlements, all at 5.0%). The smallest average wage adjustment (1.6%) was in Quebec; the largest concentration of agreements (45.2%) was in Ontario, where wage adjustments averaged 2.5%. In the federal jurisdiction, 19 settlements provided 145,080 employees with wage adjustments averaging 1.8%.
