ANNUAL REPORT (April 1, 2010 to March 31, 2011)

1.0 Introduction

Canadian Heritage is pleased to present to Parliament its annual report on the administration of the Access to Information Act for fiscal year April 1, 2010 to March 31, 2011. Section 72 of the Act requires that the head of every federal government institution submit an annual report to Parliament on the administration of the Act during the fiscal year.

The purpose of the Access to Information Act is to provide a right of access to information in records under the control of a government institution. It maintains that government information should be available to the public; that necessary exceptions to the right of access should be limited and specific; and that decisions on the disclosure of government information should be reviewed independently of government.

Canadian Heritage is fully committed to both the spirit and the intent of the Access to Information Act to ensure openness and transparency within the Department. The information contained in this report provides an overview of the activities of the Department in implementing the Act.

2.0 Mandate of Canadian Heritage

The Department of Canadian Heritage and Canada's major national cultural institutions play a vital role in the cultural, civic and economic life of Canadians. We work together to promote culture, the arts, heritage, official languages, citizenship and participation, as well as Aboriginal, youth, and sport initiatives.

The Department of Canadian Heritage is responsible for formulating policies and delivering programs that help all Canadians participate in their shared cultural and civic life. The Department's legislative mandate is set out in the Department of Canadian Heritage Act, which offers an extensive but not exhaustive list of responsibilities for the Minister under the heading of “Canadian identity and values, cultural development, and heritage.”

The Department oversees the administration of a large set of governing legislation, notably: the Broadcasting Act, the Copyright Act (shared with Industry Canada), the Official Languages Act (Part VII), the Museums Act, the Cultural Property Export and Import Act, the Status of the Artist Act, the Physical Activity and Sport Act (shared with Health Canada) and the Investment Canada Act in the cultural sector.

The Department of Canadian Heritage is specifically responsible for formulating and implementing cultural legislation related to copyright, foreign investment and broadcasting, as well as policies related to arts, cultural industries, heritage, official languages, sports, state ceremonial and protocol, and Canadian symbols. The Department's main activities involve funding community and other third-party organizations to promote the benefits of culture, identity, and sport for Canadians.

The Minister of Canadian Heritage and Official Languages is responsible for the Department, and is assisted by the Minister of State for the Status of Women and the Minister of State for Sport. The Canadian Heritage Portfolio includes the Department, five departmental agencies, nine Crown corporations and one administrative tribunal.

3.0 The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat

The Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Secretariat is responsible for administering the Access to Information Act within Canadian Heritage. Its mandate is to act on behalf of the Minister of Canadian Heritage in ensuring compliance with legislation, regulations and government policy and to create departmental directives, including standards, in all matters relating to the Act. The powers, duties and functions of the administration of the Access to Information Act have been fully delegated by the Minister to the Director of the Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat.

During the reporting period, the Secretariat consisted of the following positions: Director, Deputy Director, 6 analysts, a project manager and 2 administrative support staff. In the departmental organizational structure, the ATIP Secretariat reports to the Corporate Secretary for Canadian Heritage.

The activities of the Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat include:

- receiving and processing requests in accordance with the Act;
- promoting awareness of the Act within the Department;
- preparing the annual report to Parliament, the annual statistical report and maintaining the Department's Info Source chapter;
- monitoring departmental compliance with the Act; and
- providing professional advice and guidance to senior management and all departmental staff on the Act.

Over the past few years, the ATIP Secretariat has been streamlining its procedures for processing requests. In this fiscal year, a new software system was installed to allow the ATIP Secretariat to more easily review records electronically. Records retrieval requests are now sent to program areas via email. A new procedures manual was created for the ATIP staff that takes account of the changes.

4.0 Administration of Requests under the *Access to Information Act

4.1 Access Requests

The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat received a total of 253 requests during the reporting period of April 1, 2010 to March 31, 2011. One hundred and thirty seven requests were carried over from the previous reporting period for a total of 390 active requests. See Appendix 2.0 for the Report on the Access to Information Act.

The requests for information received by Canadian Heritage cover a wide range of topics, however, as in previous years, certain subjects tend to predominate. For this reporting period, the most frequently requested information related to the Vancouver 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. Information pertaining to the costs of Royal visits was often requested. Other information sought pertained to communications between Canadian Heritage and the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission.

Requests were also made for information related to the grants and contributions process, including the criteria for determining funding and evaluations of requests for funding. As is common across most government departments, Canadian Heritage received requests for briefing notes to the Minister, Question Period card information and information released under previous requests. A number of routine requests were also received including requests for call ups for temporary help services, contract proposals evaluations and deliverables.

4.2 Applicant Sources

Of the requests that were received this reporting period, the majority of Canadian Heritage's client base under the Access to Information Act consists of the media (40.7%) and the public (22.5%). This is consistent with previous reporting periods. The remaining requests were from businesses (19.8%), other organizations (11.9%), and academia (5.1%).

4.3 Extensions

Requests can be extended beyond the 30-day statutory time frame in three circumstances. This reporting period, extensions were taken in 143 cases. In 16 cases, the department required a 30-day time extension to allow for document searching or consultation with other federal institutions. In 127 cases, an extension of over 30 days was required, including 14 for searching, 72 for consultation and 41 for consultation with third parties.

4.4 Completed Requests

Two hundred and ninety-six requests were completed by the end of March 2011. The majority of requests completed resulted in either a full disclosure of information (71 requests) or partial disclosure of information (122 requests). Information was exempted or excluded entirely in seven requests. Of the fifty requests that could not be processed, the department had no records for 48 requests. Forty six requests were either transferred to other federal institutions or were abandoned by the applicants.

All the requests received and closed this reporting period were completed within the statutory timeframe. While trying to ensure that new requests were completed on time, the ATIP Secretariat made a concerted effort to complete outstanding files. Of the files that were in a deemed refusal status on April 1, 2010, 67 were completed within the reporting period.

The 296 completed requests were processed in the following timeframes:

- 153 requests completed within 30 days (51.7%);
- 28 requests completed within 31 to 60 days (9.5%);
- 33 requests completed within 61 to 120 days (11.1%);
- 82 requests completed within 121 or more days (27.7%).

4.5 Exemptions / Exclusions

In the processing of requests, exemptions to withhold information were invoked 318 times. The exemptions most commonly applied by the department were: section 19(1), (records containing personal information), applied in 82 requests; section 21(1) (information relating to the internal decision-making processes of government) invoked 114 requests; and section 20(1) (records containing third-party business information) which was invoked 37 requests.

Exclusions were applied a total of 63 times. Fifty nine times were under section 69(1) (confidences of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada) and three were under section 68(a) (published material).

4.6 Complaints and Investigations

Thirteen complaints regarding the processing of access to information requests were filed with the Office of the Information Commissioner of Canada against Canadian Heritage in the fiscal year. This is a continued reduction in the number of complaints received. In fiscal year 2008-2009 the number of complaints totaled 36 while in 2009-2010 there was a total of 19 complaints received. The reasons for the 13 complaints are: delayed responses (2), length of extensions (1), missing information (1) and refusal to provide information (9).

The Office of the Information Commissioner also completed their investigation into thirteen complaints on Canadian Heritage. Their findings concluded that three complaints were not substantiated, four complaints were discontinued as they were either resolved prior to the investigative process or were abandoned by the applicant and six complaints were deemed to be resolved. Of the six resolved complaints, four related to complaints on delayed responses, one involved exempted information and one related to the format of the requested information.

4.7 Federal Court Cases

An application, filed with the Federal Court (T-1249-08) by Reader's Digest Magazines Limited, which was made in regard to the decision of Canadian Heritage to disclose particular records containing third party information belonging to Reader's Digest Magazines Limited, is ongoing.

4.8 Consultations

To assist other government institutions in processing their requests, the ATIP Secretariat reviews and provides recommendations on the disclosure of records that concern Canadian Heritage. During the reporting period, the ATIP Secretariat received a total of 110 consultation requests from other federal institutions. More than half of the consultations received were from 5 departments; Public Works and Government Services Canada (PWGSC) (14 requests), Treasury Board Secretariat (12 requests), Industry Canada (12 requests), the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) (10 requests) and the Privy Council Office (10 requests).

The remaining consultations were from other government departments and agencies, and provincial or municipal governments.

4.9 Fees and Costs

Under the legislation, fees for application and reproduction of a record can be charged. During the reporting period, total fees collected were $2,572.50. Of this amount, $1,440 was for application fees, and $1,117.60 for reproduction. The policy at Canadian Heritage is to waive reproduction and search fees that are under $25. It is also our policy to waive the fees for overdue requests.

A trend that became evident this fiscal year was that more applicants were requesting to receive copies of the requested records on compact disks rather than receive them as photocopies. Reproduction fees can be charged for photocopies but no fees are charged for compact disks as they are not stipulated in the legislation.

The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat incurred $785,305.15 in salary costs and $167,152.50 in administrative costs to administer the Access to Information Act. During the fiscal year the Secretariat completed staffing its vacant positions. It also upgraded its case management and redaction software so that electronic review of records could be conducted more efficiently.

5.0 Education and Training Activities

To increase the knowledge and understanding of the Access to Information Act across the department, training and awareness sessions were delivered to departmental employees. These sessions provided basic information on the purpose and provisions of the Access to Information Act, as well as the roles and responsibilities of departmental employees and the ATIP Secretariat. For sessions requested by branches, information was tailored to meet the specific needs of the branch concerned. Also, a special Info Source session was given to ensure that program areas understood how to provide information for the annual Info Source update.

The ATIP Secretariat has increased its network of colleagues with similar interests within the Department. As a result, information sessions are provided to new departmental staff and managers through the Canadian Heritage orientation program. This program provides an introduction to the key aspects of the Department including who and what we are and how we get things done. Additionally, a kiosk was organized in collaboration with our colleagues in Information Management during National Public Service Week.

The last reporting period, the ATIP Secretariat delivered 19 awareness sessions. With the current reporting year's growing demand, 38 awareness sessions were given on the Access to Information Act to departmental employees in the National Capital Region and regional offices. In total, five hundred and forty nine employees attended information sessions.

The internal website for the Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat was regularly revised with new tools and information. The website describes the ATIP Secretariat's roles and responsibilities and provides information on the Access to Information Act and related departmental policies and procedures. Additionally, the Department's annual reports on the administration of the Access to Information Act have been made available on the Internet site.

6.0 Reporting

The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat met its reporting obligations for the reporting period, by providing timely input to the Management Accountability Framework (MAF), the Departmental Performance Report (DPR), annual reports, and Info Source. The statistical report on the Access to Information Act was provided to the Treasury Board Secretariat.

Internally, situation and update reports were provided to the program areas on a regular basis.
