INTRODUCTION

The Access to Information Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. A-1) came into force on July 1, 1983. The Act grants Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and persons residing in Canada the right to access information in records held by the federal government, except for types of information falling under the exemptions or exclusions. Section 72 of the Act requires every head of a federal government institution to submit a report to Parliament on the administration of the Act within their institution during the fiscal year.

This report is submitted in accordance with section 72 of the Act. It presents an overview of access to information activities carried out within Environment Canada during the reporting period April 1, 2012, to March 31, 2013. Further, since the Canada Emission Reduction Incentives Agency was not operational during this reporting period, an Agency report will not be prepared for this period.

The Department of the Environment was established by the Government Reorganization Act (1970-71-72, c. 42) on June 10, 1971. A number of acts and regulations provide the Department with its mandate and allow it to carry out its programs. Under the Department of the Environment Act, the powers, duties and functions of the Minister of the Environment extend to and include matters relating to:

- the preservation and enhancement of the quality of the natural environment, including water, air and soil quality;
- renewable resources, including migratory birds and other non-domestic flora and fauna;
- water;
- meteorology;
- the enforcement of any rules or regulations made by the International Joint Commission relating to boundary waters; and
- the coordination of the policies and programs of the Government of Canada respecting the preservation and enhancement of the quality of the natural environment.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

The Director General of the Corporate Secretariat is Environment Canada's Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator, and has delegated authority on all matters concerning Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP). The ATIP Secretariat, which is a part of the Corporate Secretariat, is the central coordinating body for all requests received by Environment Canada under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act.

The ATIP Secretariat directs all activities within Environment Canada relating to the administration, application and promotion of the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. It provides advice to senior management on the implementation of the statutes and prepares reports to Parliament, the Treasury Board Secretariat and senior management. The ATIP Secretariat represents the Department in complaints and investigations conducted by the Information Commissioner and Privacy Commissioner of Canada, and in any Federal Court applications arising from ATIP matters.

Capacity Development

Environment Canada remains committed to recruiting, training and maintaining a workforce that possesses specialized skills and that will continue to provide the best possible service to both internal and external clients.

Environment Canada is continuing to focus on developing capacity through its ATIP Professional Development Program. The program aims to train employees over a period of three to five years through a combination of competency-based training, professional development training and work assignments. Candidates enter the program at the PM-01 or PM-02 level and graduate as Senior ATIP Advisors at the PM-04 level. Current participants are progressing through the program with additional recruitment planned.

The Professional Development Program is enabling the ATIP Secretariat to better manage increasing workloads while facilitating succession planning through the transfer of corporate memory. The program also encourages staff to remain with the Department for a longer period of time.

In addition, Environment Canada's ATIP Secretariat engaged in a number of staffing activities throughout the year in an effort to maintain the Department's capacity in the face of increasing workloads. The ATIP Secretariat supplemented its staff by hiring consultants who focused on processing older requests.

DELEGATION ORDER

Decision-making responsibility for the application of the various provisions of the Access to Information Act has been formally established and is outlined in the departmental Delegation of Authority Instrument. The current Designation Order was approved by the Honourable Peter Kent, Minister of the Environment, on January 6, 2011. A copy of the designation order as well as the specific delegation notes pertaining to the Access to Information Act are in Appendix B on page 20 of this report.

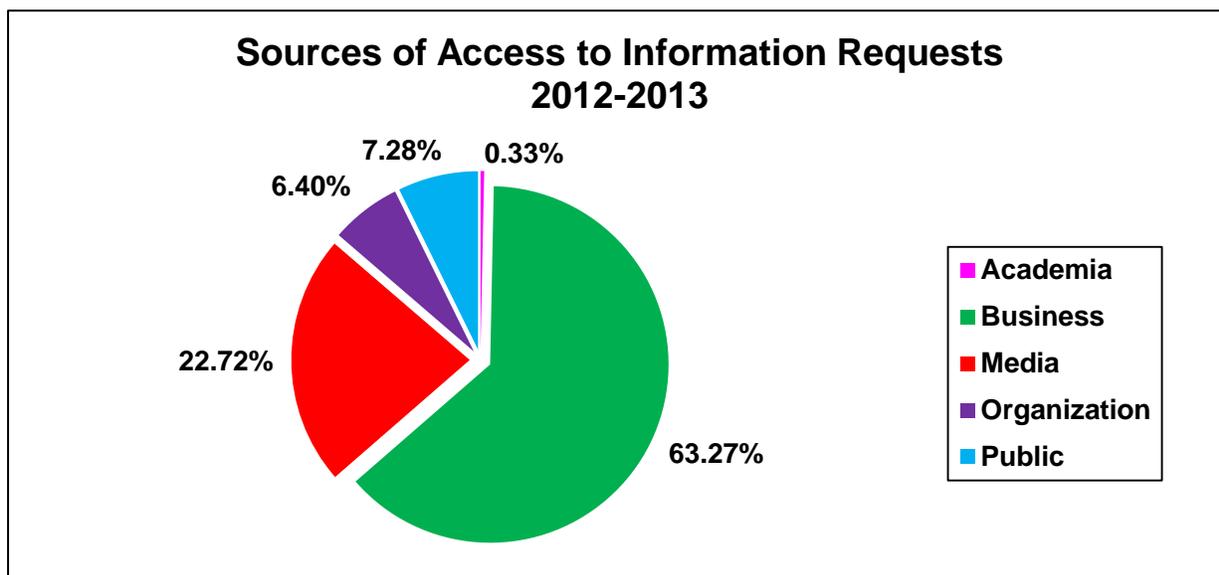

INTERPRETATION OF THE STATISTICAL REPORT

Environment Canada's Statistical Report on the Access to Information Act is included in Appendix A on page 13 of this report.

Between April 1, 2012, and March 31, 2013, Environment Canada received 1827 requests under the Access to Information Act. There were 168 requests carried forward from the 2011–2012 reporting period, for a total of 1995 active requests in the 2012–2013 reporting period. In 2012–2013, a total of 1810 requests were completed, and 185 were carried forward to the next reporting period.

The following is a percentage breakdown of the sources of access to information requests received in 2011–2012:

Academia	6	0.33%
Business	1156	63.27%
Media	415	22.72%
Organization	117	6.40%
Public	133	7.28%
Total	1827	100%

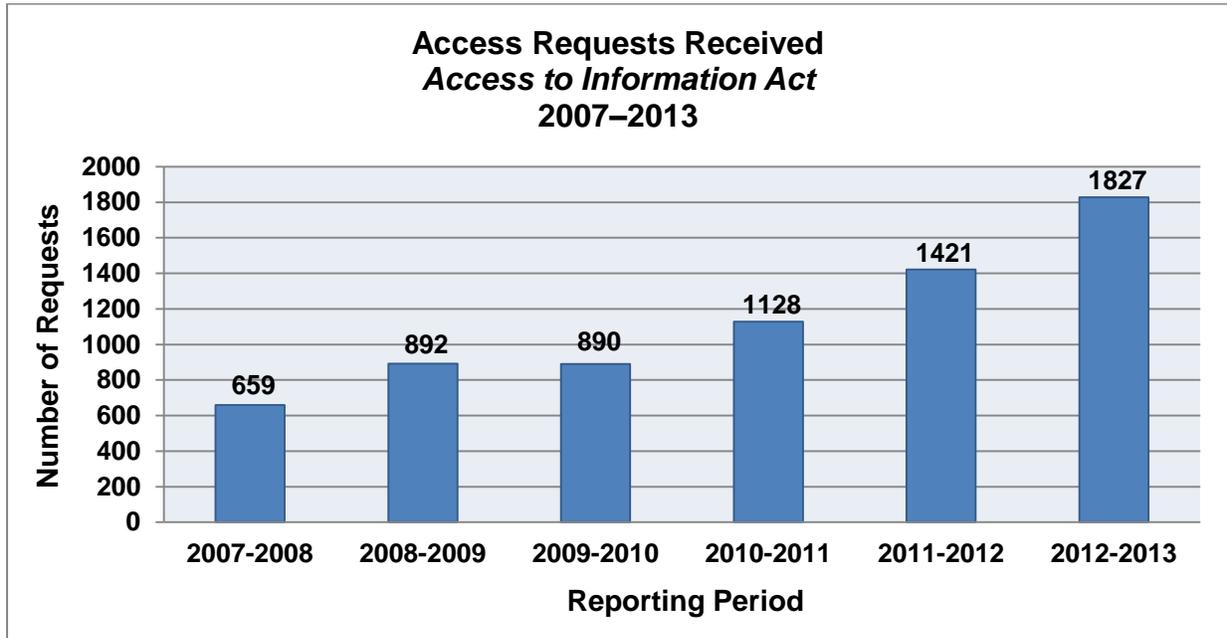

During the 2012–2013 reporting period, 80 requests were abandoned by applicants for various reasons, including the requirement to pay additional fees. In addition to the abandoned requests, 7 requests were received by Environment Canada for records under the control of other departments, and they were transferred to the organizations concerned.

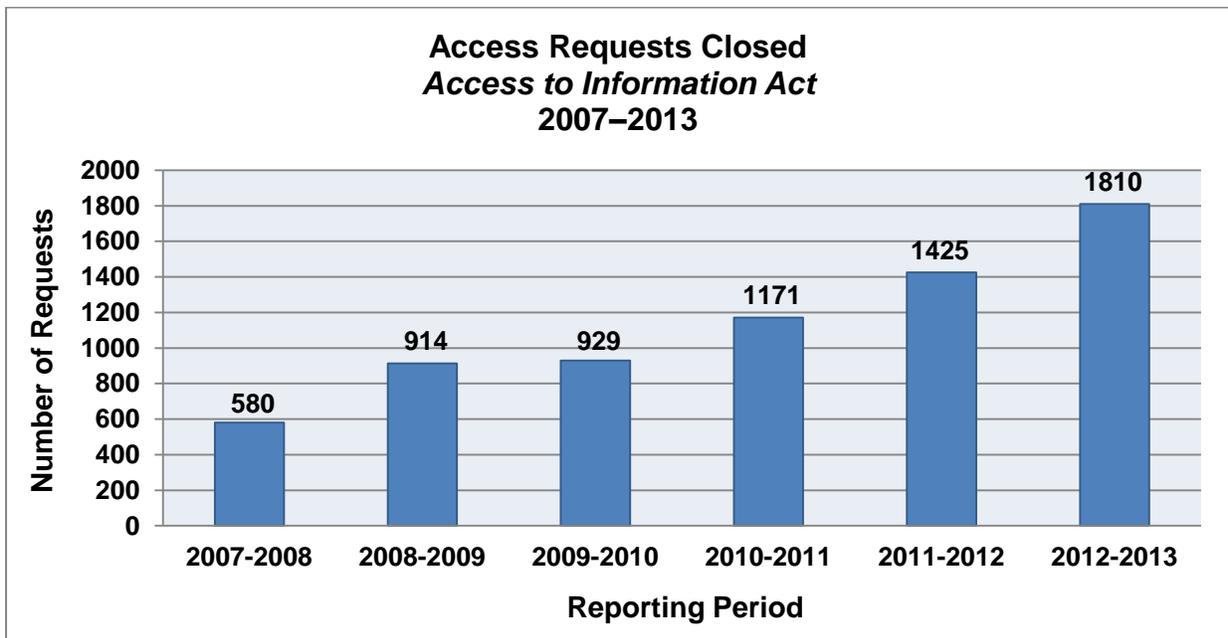

There were 1013 requests for information for which there was no record. Environment Canada receives a number of requests each year for documents pertaining to the environmental compliance of properties. Most of these no-record requests consisted of environmental compliance requests where no records were located concerning the properties in question.

In 2012–2013, there was a substantial increase in the number of access to information requests received by Environment Canada. The 1827 access to information requests received in the 2012–2013 reporting period represent a 22.2% increase over the previous reporting period. In addition, the number of access requests completed during the 2012–2013 fiscal year increased by 21.3% compared with the previous reporting period.

The following graph displays the number of access to information requests that were received by the ATIP Secretariat from 2007–2008 to 2012–2013.

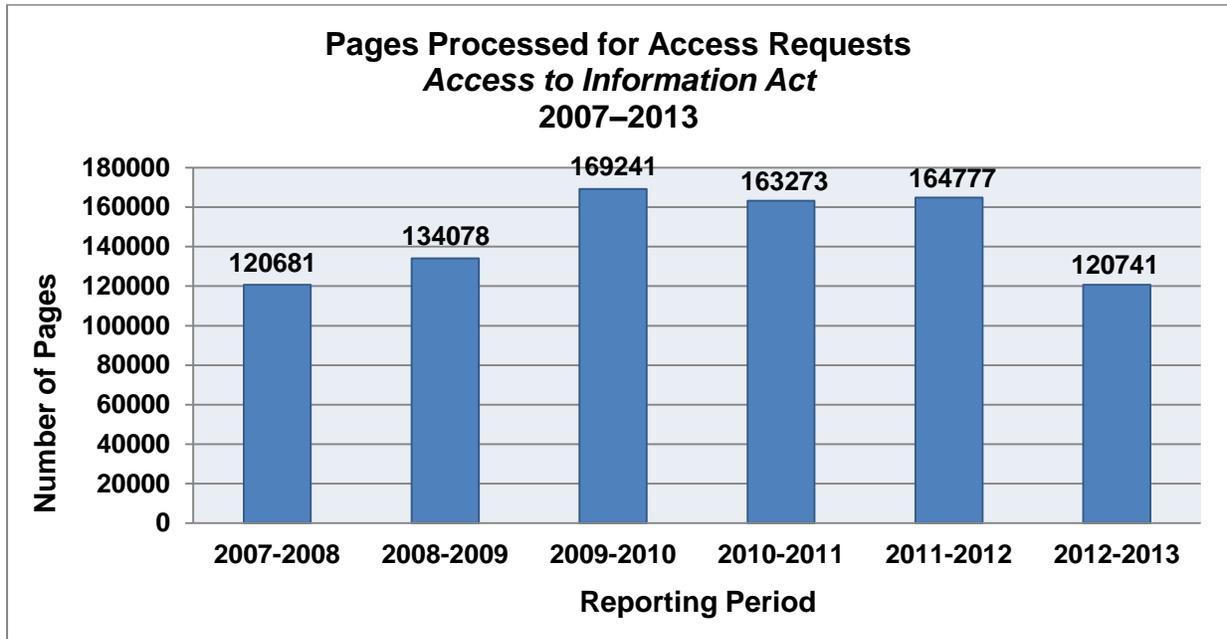

This next graph displays the number of access to information requests that were closed by the ATIP Secretariat from 2007–2008 to 2012–2013.

The number of pages processed in response to access to information requests during the 2012–2013 reporting period was lower than in the 2011–2012 reporting period: 120741 pages processed compared with 164777 pages during the previous period. This is a decrease of 26.7%.

This decrease can be attributed in part to the work undertaken by the ATIP Secretariat to consult with applicants in order to clarify the scope of requests to ensure applicants receive information of interest.

The following graph displays the number of pages processed by the ATIP Secretariat in processing access to information requests under the Access to Information Act from 2007–2008 to 2012–2013.

Exemptions and Exclusions

The Access to Information Act prescribes a number of exemptions and exclusions that allow or require the Department to refuse to disclose certain types of information. The two most common exemptions invoked by Environment Canada in 2012–2013 were for personal information (section 19) and government operations (section 21). In 2012–2013, exemptions and/or exclusions were cited in 27.2% of the completed requests.

Time Limitations

During the 2012–2013 reporting period, 1,193 (65.9%) of the completed requests were processed within the initial 30-day period. This included 799 completed in the first 15 days, and 394 completed between 16 and 30 days.

The following graph displays the breakdown of completion times for requests completed during the 2012–2013 reporting period.

A total of 208 requests were completed beyond the legislated deadline. Of the 208 late requests, 69 requests were late as a result of the need to conduct external consultations.

Extension of Time Limits

Section 9 of the Access to Information Act allows government institutions to extend the deadline for responding to a request if the request requires the institution to search a large number of records, to consult with other government institutions, or to communicate with third parties.

In 2012–2013, 269 requests required extensions of 30 days or less, 290 required an extension of between 31 and 60 days, 156 required an extension of between 61 to 120 days, and one required an extension of 121 days or more. In total, 716 requests required an extension past the original deadline of 30 days. The main reason for extensions was due to the volume of records involved in completing requests or the need to conduct a large search.

Complexity of Files

A number of files were considered complex for various reasons. Out of the 1810 requests closed during the 2012–2013 reporting period, 481 were considered to be complex. There were 411 requests that were complex due to the need to conduct consultations, 54 requests were considered complex due to the assessment of fees, 4 requests required legal advice, and 12 requests were classified in the “other” category. The “other” category consists of files containing high-profile subject matter, records held in a region or another country, or records that are in a language other than French or English.

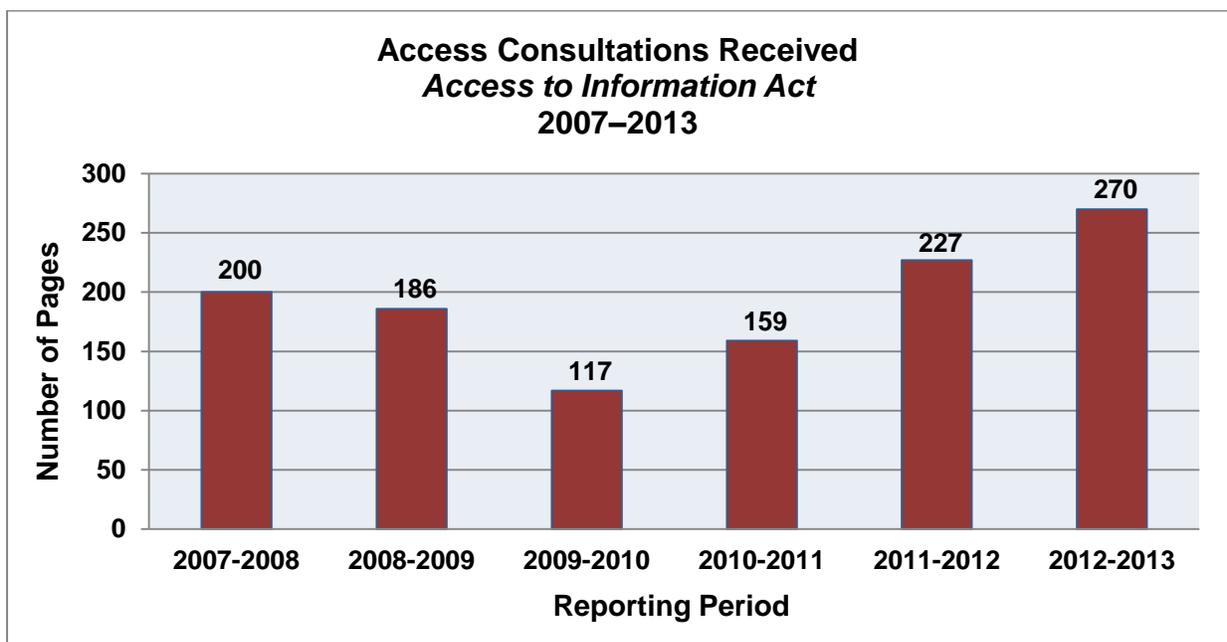

Consultations

As an integral part of departmental processing procedures, other government institutions are consulted if access requests contain issues of interest to them. Although formal consultations are undertaken in writing, additional discussions between ATIP offices are initiated as required in order to facilitate the completion of each case. Consultations are also regularly undertaken with third parties and other levels of government.

In 2012–2013, Environment Canada received 270 access to information consultations from other federal government institutions. This constitutes a 15.9% increase relative to the previous reporting period. In addition, 256 access consultations were completed during the 2012–2013 reporting period, an increase of 14.5% compared with the previous reporting period. There were 12 access consultations outstanding from the previous reporting period, and 26 access consultations were carried forward to the next reporting period.

The following graph displays the number of access to information consultations that were received by the ATIP Secretariat from 2007–2008 to 2012–2013.

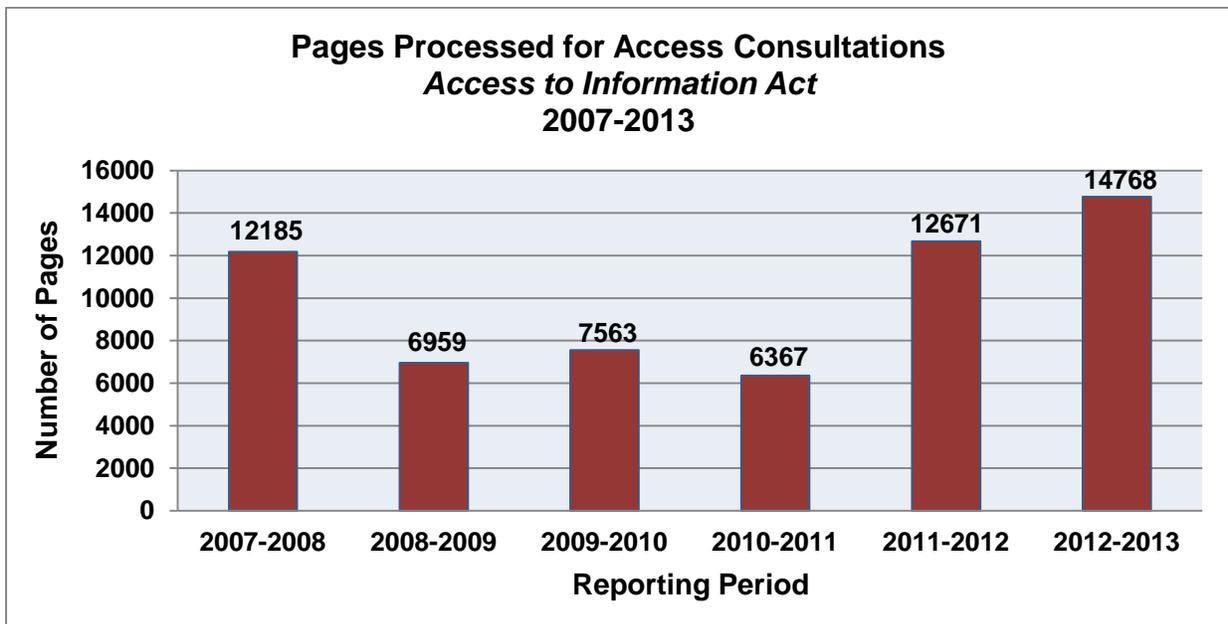

This next graph displays the number of access to information consultations that were closed by the ATIP Secretariat from 2007–2008 to 2012–2013.

The number of pages processed in response to access to information consultations during the 2012–2013 reporting period increased over the 2011–2012 reporting period: 14768 pages were processed for consultations compared to 12671 pages during the previous period. This is an increase of 14.2%.

The following graph displays the number of pages processed by the ATIP Secretariat in response to access to information consultations received from 2007–2008 to 2012–2013.

During the 2012–2013 reporting period, 174 (68%) of the completed access consultations were processed within the initial 30-day period. This included 78 completed in the first 15 days, and 96 completed between 16 and 30 days.

Environment Canada undertook 46 consultations with Privy Council Office, Legislation and House Planning in 2012–2013. 40 responses in 2012–2013 were received after the deadline. This resulted in delays of as many as 365 days or more to complete the processing of a request.

Informal Requests

Between April 1, 2012, and March 31, 2013, Environment Canada received 66 informal access to information requests. There were 14 informal requests carried forward from the 2011–2012 reporting period, for a total of 80 active informal requests in the 2012–2013 reporting period. In 2012–2013, a total of 76 informal requests were completed, and 4 were carried forward to the next reporting period.

This represents a decrease in the number of informal requests received compared to the 2011–2012 reporting period when 155 informal requests were received.

Fees

In the 2012–2013 reporting period, total fees of $10,835 were collected for the processing of 1729 requests. This consisted of search fees in the amount of $1,940 and application fees totalling $8,895. In addition, $1,575 in search fees was collected for ongoing files which have carried over to the 2013-2014 period. No other fees were charged for production, preparation or reproduction.

In accordance with Treasury Board Secretariat guidelines, Environment Canada waived fees that individually amounted to $25 or less, although no waiver is granted for the initial $5 application fee.

Costs

The cost involved in administering the Access to Information Act was $814,915 for salary and $574,493 for goods and services ($503,329 for professional service contracts and $71,164 for other costs). This brings the total cost to $1,389,408.

TRAINING ACTIVITIES

The Department's ATIP Secretariat continued its training and development activities in the 2012–2013 reporting period. Eighteen (18) information and training sessions were held, attended by approximately 250 Environment Canada employees. The sessions included an overview of the Access to Information Act and a description of internal procedures and associated deadlines for responding to requests. Information and training activities will continue throughout the 2013–2014 reporting period.

In addition, there were 19 Information Management awareness sessions held for Environment Canada employees, which included an Access to Information and Privacy module. Approximately 175 employees attended the Information Management sessions in 2012–2013.

POLICIES, GUIDELINES AND PROCEDURES

Publicly Accessible Information and Inquiry Points

Info Source is a series of publications containing information on the Government of Canada and on the government's data collection activities. Info Source is intended to help the public access government information and to exercise their rights under the Privacy Act and Access to Information Act.

Each year, the ATIP Secretariat prepares updates on Environment Canada's activities and information holdings for publication in Info Source. During 2012–2013, Environment Canada continued to revise its Info Source chapter based on the Department's program activity architecture. Environment Canada also participated in the Treasury Board Secretariat's Decentralized Publishing Project and, as a result, published its Info Source chapter on its website in September 2012.

Environment Canada's comprehensive website provides information on the Department's policies, its organizational structure and the means to contact Department officials. In accordance with the federal government's policy of proactive disclosure, the Department's website also allows access to internal evaluations and audits, as well as information on hospitality expenses, contracts and grants.

Environment Canada has an Access to Information and Privacy Web Page that provides background information on both the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. It also contains a Frequently Asked Questions section and links to access to information request forms, personal information request forms and summaries of completed access to information requests.

Environment Canada's access to information policy framework was approved in November 2012. The ATIP Secretariat is continuing to develop additional procedural guidance documents to assist departmental employees in responding to requests under the Access to Information Act. Once completed, the internal guidance documents will be made accessible to all Environment Canada employees through an ECollab site that was developed during the 2012–2013 fiscal year to share Environment Canada's access to information policy framework documents.

In order to facilitate public access to information and to comply with the Act, the Environment Canada Library has been designated a public reading room. The Library is located on the 6th floor of the Place Vincent Massey Annex, 351 St. Joseph Boulevard, Gatineau, Quebec.

COMPLAINTS/INVESTIGATIONS

During the 2012–2013 reporting period, 22 complaints were filed with the Office of the Information Commissioner of Canada against Environment Canada. Twelve (12) of these complaints as well as four complaints from previous reporting periods were completed in 2012–2013. Eleven (11) complaints received in this reporting period and 14 complaints from previous years remain outstanding.

The following table provides a breakdown of the reasons for and results of the complaints that were completed in 2012–2013.

Explanation of the Results of Investigations

- Well founded – The Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC) found evidence of the complainant’s rights being denied under the Access to Information Act. It was necessary for the OIC to report the finding of the investigation and provide recommendations where appropriate.
 - Well founded, resolved without recommendations – The institution took remedial action to the satisfaction of the OIC during the course of the investigation. The OIC did not need to provide a recommendation to the head of the institution.
 - Well founded, with recommendations – resolved – If the head of the institution accepted the OIC recommendations and remedial action was taken by the institution to the satisfaction of the OIC, the matter is considered resolved and no further action by the OIC is necessary.
 - Well founded, with recommendations – not resolved – If the head of the institution did not accept the recommendations of the OIC, or if the remedial action was not to the satisfaction of the OIC, the complainant will be informed that the matter is not resolved and the complainant, or the OIC with the complainant’s consent, can pursue the matter in court, where the matter relates to a refusal.
- Not well founded – As a result of the investigation, the OIC found that the institution applied the Access to Information Act correctly.
- Discontinued – The complaint was withdrawn or abandoned by the complainant before allegations were fully investigated.

- Settled – In the case of a minor error, the complaint was settled to the satisfaction of the OIC without the need for the OIC to make a finding.

Applications/Appeals to the Federal Court or Federal Court of Appeal

T-828-12 Sheldon Blank v. Minister of the Environment – The application filed pursuant to section 41 of the Access to Information Act in March 2012 was still before the Federal Court of Canada at the end of the reporting period.

T-1423-12 Patrick Whitty v. Minister of Environment – An application was filed pursuant to section 41 of the Access to Information Act in July 2012. The application was still before the Federal Court of Canada at the end of the reporting period.
