INTRODUCTION

A contribution is a conditional transfer to a Recipient of funds to be used to support a set of activities specified in a Contribution Agreement (CA). Contribution payments are subject to review and audit by Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada (AAFC). As a Recipient of AAFC contribution funds, you must be familiar with your responsibilities, as well as with the procedures and rules that stipulate how you may spend the approved funds.

This document is intended to provide you with key information to request payments under your CA and to comply with the reporting requirements set out within it.

Your AAFC Program Officer will be your principal contact for the purposes of your CA and is available to advise you throughout the course of your project.

Shortly after your CA is signed, your Program Officer may contact you to organize a start-up meeting to discuss and review your CA, and to outline and clarify AAFC's expectations that are specific to the Program from which you are receiving funding.

SECTION 1 – REQUESTS FOR PAYMENT AND FINANCIAL REPORTING

The information provided in this Section is largely organized sequentially, reflecting the order in which a Recipient would carry out the activities related to payment and financial reporting.

Identify a Responsible Officer

- ☐ Identify a Responsible Officer for certifying requests for payments and other reports. It is recommended that more than one person be identified in this capacity, in the event that one of them is unavailable when needed.
- ☐ Complete the Responsible Officer(s) Authorization Form (provided in Appendix A) and submit it to AAFC after the CA has been signed. The form should be certified by the person who signed the CA on behalf of your organization.

Set up your accounting systems and procedures

- ☐ Set up and maintain appropriate accounting systems and procedures to record and track all project costs and funds received for the project from all sources, and to produce financial reports required by AAFC pursuant to your CA.
- ☐ Keep project accounting separate from your organization's regular operations. It is imperative that you are able to easily identify project expenditures. You will be asked to provide forecasts and regular financial reports. In addition to using a financial system that allows you to track the use of the project's funding, you may wish to use a separate bank account.
- ☐ Ensure that your accounting systems and procedures comply with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and any other requirements specific to your Program and your CA. You will need to demonstrate that all project funds, including funds provided by other project supporters (such as governments, and/or industry supporters, partners or association members) are being used for their intended purpose and that the provisions in the CA are being met. You will also need to ensure that you are able to provide appropriate supporting documentation for your claims when requested.
- ☐ Your project accounting procedures should include strong internal controls and provide for a proper segregation of duties. For example, no individual should be able to approve his/her expenses or sign his/her cheque for reimbursement.

- ☐ If you would like to receive payments from AAFC electronically, complete the Recipient Registration and Electronic Payment Request form (provided in Appendix B) and return it to AAFC after the CA has been signed. Otherwise, a cheque may be issued.

Enter into agreements with suppliers and contractors

- ☐ Keep proof on file of the competitive or reasonable business process that took place to ensure that a fair and transparent process resulted in competent and qualified contractors and/or personnel working on the project.
- ☐ Keep appropriate records of contracts with other parties to carry out specific activities related to your project. You may be required to demonstrate that the funds allocated to these contracts are eligible, spent in accordance with the provisions in your CA, and in keeping with the purposes of your approved project. You are ultimately responsible for the management of the project funds and for compliance with all the terms and conditions in your CA.
- ☐ Ask suppliers and contractors to include detailed information on their invoices/receipts (e.g., clear descriptions of goods and services provided, dollar value, delivery dates, etc.), to allow for verification of expense eligibility and reasonableness. These details are required when transactions are sampled by AAFC, or in the event of a Recipient audit. You must be able to demonstrate that you exercised due diligence in the spending of public funds. AAFC may ask you for a copy of any signed contract with a supplier or contractor.

Verify eligibility of expenses

- ☐ Check the earliest and latest approved dates (specified in your CA) for incurring project costs. Costs incurred before and after these dates will not be eligible.
- ☐ Do not pay or allow to be paid, any portion of AAFC's contribution to any Government of Canada department or agency, including to another AAFC funding program. This also includes any portion of AAFC's contribution towards travel and accommodation costs for federal employees.
- ☐ Familiarize yourself with the criteria, pre-approvals and restrictions for specific project costs (such as maximum amounts for consultant per diems, travel and accommodation expenses, equipment and capital assets) identified in your Applicant Guide and/or CA.

- ☐ Note that down payments for goods or services made because of a contractual obligation may be considered an incurred expense where, in the opinion of AAFC, expenses are reasonable and respect normal business practices for the type of goods or services being provided. In such cases, the down payments may be claimed for reimbursement for the period in which the payment is issued by the Recipient. Ensure that the down payment is deducted from the final invoice from the supplier.

Document all project costs and payments

- ☐ Retain originals of all supporting documentation for project costs for review by Program administrators or for audit purposes. Supporting documentation must indicate the costs incurred, how they are related to the approved Work Plan, that they are eligible, and that they were paid (e.g., purchase orders, invoices, contracts, time sheets, payroll registers, receipts, cancelled cheques, bank drafts and other types of proof of payment). This documentation need not be submitted to AAFC unless requested. Note: Credit card statements do not qualify as receipts, invoices or proof of payment.
- ☐ Ensure that goods or services purchased by other project supporters (such as governments, and/or industry supporters, partners, or association members) with their cash contributions qualify as eligible costs under the terms and conditions of your CA and Program Applicant Guide.
- ☐ Keep supporting documentation where other project supporters use their cash contributions to the project to pay for eligible costs. Supporting documentation must indicate the costs incurred, how they are related to the approved Work Plan, that they are eligible and that they were paid (e.g., purchase orders, invoices, contracts, payroll registers, receipts, cancelled cheques, bank drafts and other types of proof of payment). You may be asked to provide this information to Program administrators to validate cash contributions reported or in the event of a Recipient Audit.

Goods or services purchased with cash contributions from other project supporters form part of the Recipient's Contribution and are not eligible for reimbursement by AAFC.

Document in-kind contributions from all sources

- ☐ Ensure that goods or services received as in-kind contributions qualify as eligible costs under the terms and conditions of your CA. This applies only if in-kind contributions are eligible under the Program.

- ☐ Keep proper documentation for in-kind contributions, (e.g. support for the valuation of the contribution; proof that it is a fair market value for the goods or service provided, etc.). You may be asked to provide this information to Program administrators or in the event of a Recipient Audit. In-kind contributions are not eligible for reimbursement by AAFC.

Spend according to your approved Budget

- ☐ Review the project costs listed in the Budget annexed to your CA regularly. Any variances from these expected costs should be discussed with your Program Officer as soon as possible, as additional advance approvals may be required in order for these cost variances to be eligible for reimbursement by AAFC.
- ☐ Note that the amounts approved in the Budget cannot change without approval. Therefore, you are strongly encouraged to submit a Financial Update for consideration, preferably 45 days before planning to redistribute any material amounts between activities/cost categories in the Budget within a fiscal year. Where any changes alter the Project objectives or key Project Outcomes, this, if approved, would require an Amendment which will take time to process. Therefore, please advise us as soon as possible of any such request. Any amounts spent over the limit(s) established in the Budget beforehand, is done so at your own risk and may or may not be approved.
- ☐ Note that any portion of AAFC's contribution that is unspent at the end of a fiscal year will not be available for you to spend in a subsequent fiscal year.

Check your cost-sharing requirements

- ☐ Verify the requirements for cost-sharing your project with AAFC. These requirements are outlined in your Program Applicant Guide and your CA. Note that you are fully responsible for all sources of funding, including in-kind when applicable, that make up the total cost of the project. If, at the conclusion of your project, it is determined that your project was not cost-shared with AAFC according to the agreed ratio, you may be required to repay a portion of AAFC's contribution.
- ☐ Ensure that you accurately report on all contributions towards the project (both cash and in-kind, if applicable) from all sources, including your own. Immediately report on any shortfall in relation to forecasted funding for your project, whether from industry firms, other governments, stakeholders, etc. You are responsible for making up any difference, or AAFC's contribution may be reduced accordingly.

Submit claims for reimbursement

- ☐ Ensure that the eligible costs for which you submit a claim for reimbursement were incurred and paid by your organisation.

Other project supporters may use their cash contributions to the project to pay for eligible costs but those costs are not eligible for reimbursement by AAFC.

- ☐ Amounts claimed for the reimbursement of eligible costs or reported as contributions to the project may be adjusted without acceptable supporting documentation.
- ☐ Submit a completed Financial Update and a Payment Request Cover Letter, signed by the Responsible Officer, to AAFC, along with a General Ledger or equivalent transaction listing.
- ☐ Prepare a listing (General Ledger or equivalent transaction listing) of the project costs incurred and paid by your organization, to submit with each claim for reimbursement.
- ☐ "Map" or cross-reference the transactions on the listing to the invoices and payroll registers, linking them to the cost category or activity in your CA Budget. Hand-written annotated mappings will be accepted. Add any other information and/or notations that will facilitate the processing of your claim.
- ☐ Account for all spent and unspent portions of an advance payment when submitting a claim for reimbursement.
- ☐ To ensure that there is no delay in paying your claims, please ensure that all the required documents are properly identified with the activity or cost category and that they are included with your claims for reimbursement. Incomplete claims will be returned to you. Program administrators will randomly select a sample of your claimed expenditures in order to verify eligibility and whether expenditures were incurred and paid by you within the claim period.
- ☐ Submit scanned or faxed copies of the requested documents, and keep your original documentation on file.

Submit a request for an advance payment

- ☐ If your CA allows advance payments and you would like to receive one to cover project costs, complete and submit a Financial Update and a Payment Request Cover Letter. The advance period approved for your project is determined based on your immediate cash flow requirements and the results of the risk assessment conducted on your project. You may be asked to provide a justification for the advance.

Holdbacks

- ☐ Ask your Program Officer how holdbacks will be applied to the reimbursement of costs.

Submit fiscal year-end accounting

- ☐ Submit a Financial Update by April 8th, to report on all project costs incurred, but not necessarily paid in the previous fiscal year, ending on March 31st. AAFC will set-up a payable at year-end (PAYE) account which is intended to allow for an expense claim to be submitted after the accounting period for a given fiscal year. PAYE accounts represent costs incurred or financial obligations to organizations or individuals as a result of past transactions and events on or before March 31st that have not yet been reimbursed by AAFC. Any portion of AAFC's contribution that is not claimed and paid before the end of 180 days following the end of a fiscal year may no longer be available for payment to you.

Project completion

- ☐ Submit the final claim for the project and/or account for any advance payment within 180 days following the date you completed your project.
- ☐ Keep all capital assets that you acquired for your project using AAFC funds until you have met all your CA obligations, unless you have AAFC's prior written approval to do otherwise.

SECTION 2 – PROGRESS AND PERFORMANCE REPORTING

Provided below is key information you should note regarding reporting on your project's progress and performance.

2.1 Project Work Plan progress reporting

Check your reporting requirements

- ☐ Ensure that you are aware of the frequency with which you must report on the progress made on key deliverables for your project (set out in the letter accompanying your CA).

- ☐ Note that the frequency for your reporting could change following any re-assessment of the risks related to your project.
