

MAINE-CANADA

AGRICULTURAL TRADE = $281 MILLION IN 2014

Let's keep a good thing growing!

Maine exported $115 million to Canada, including:

- $27M in prepared chicken meat
- $22M in cranberries and blueberries
- $11M in processed potatoes (including fries and chips)
- $7M in maple syrup
- $5M in potatoes

Maine imported $166 million from Canada, including:

- $33M in processed potatoes (including fries and chips)
- $29M in fruits and nuts
- $29M in animal feed
- $18M in live plants
- $14M in margarine

Maine's top agriculture and agri-food export markets:

A Strong Partnership in Trade:

- Since 2005, agriculture and agri-food trade between the U.S. and Canada has more than quadrupled, leading to significant changes in trade patterns and resulting in a more integrated North American marketplace.
- The U.S. and, in particular, Maine has benefited from this strong relationship - with Canada purchasing over $26B in agriculture and agri-food products from the U.S. in 2014, of which $115M came from Maine.
- Supply chains that cross our shared border are cost-effective and efficient because of the proximity to each other's agricultural inputs and products. For example, Canada is a major supplier of energy and fertilizers, while the U.S. equips Canada with farm machinery and crop protection technologies.
- Access to Canadian cattle, hogs, and oilseeds allows American feedlots, finishers, and crushing plants to run at capacity, supporting U.S. jobs.

Trade and investment with Canada = 38,500 jobs in Maine
