WEST VIRGINIA'S TOP AGRICULTURAL EXPORT MARKETS

BILATERAL TRADE SUPPORTS INCREASED SECTOR SPECIALIZATION, INTEGRATION AND EFFICIENCIES

West Virginia's second largest agricultural export is animal feed (hay and straw). West Virginia exported animal feed to Canada, which helped feed the horses, donkeys and mules that were then exported to West Virginia. The integration of West Virginia-Canada supply chains enables product specialization, ensuring a successful trading relationship where both are supplied with high quality agricultural products.
