Minister's Message

I am pleased to present Veterans Affairs Canada's Report on Plans and Priorities for 2015–16, my first since being appointed Minister of Veterans Affairs. It is a tremendous honour to have been asked to serve those who have served Canada; I plan to work hard for Canada's Veterans and their families to ensure they receive the services, benefits and respect they deserve. The Report on Plans and Priorities is a key planning document that sets the course for Veterans Affairs for the coming year; it outlines the objectives and lays the foundation for many important initiatives.

As a former military officer, I share a deep passion for service and for Canada. In my role as Minister, I am committed to listening and to coming up with a plan to address what I am hearing. Our plan will focus on the three pillars of placing the Veteran and his or her family at the centre of our policies, processes and services; developing a culture of service excellence; and resolving the challenges that Veterans often face as they transition to civilian life. Going forward the Department will build on accomplishments of the past year, including enhancements to mental health services for Veterans and their families.

This year will build on earlier initiatives such as the work our Government has embarked on to make it easier for Veterans to find employment both in the federal public service and the private sector. Work also began between Veterans Affairs Canada and the Canadian Armed Forces/Department of National Defence to bring about better and faster service for members transitioning from the Canadian Armed Forces, receiving services provided by National Defence, while in the military, to those offered post-release by Veterans Affairs Canada. This year we will build on these and other initiatives as you will see in this document.

In a similar vein, I also look forward to working closely with the Office of the Veterans Ombudsman. I also look forward to listening and consulting broadly with Veterans' associations and stakeholders to gather their valuable advice for the purpose of ensuring the service excellence that Veterans expect.

In the next year, the Department will work to implement a number of recommendations from various sources, including the House of Commons Standing Committee on Veterans Affairs and a recent audit of mental health services.

Commemoration will continue to play a key role this year, as we honour the service and sacrifice of those brave Canadians who served, and continue to serve our country in uniform.

Canada's Veterans, and their families, are respected in areas throughout the world where their efforts have contributed to the defence of freedom and the rule of law. They have earned our respect, our thanks and the right to be treated with dignity, fairness, care and compassion. That is, and should always be our ultimate goal.

Sincerely,

The Honourable Erin O'Toole, P.C., C.D., M.P.
Minister of Veterans Affairs

Organizational Context

Raison d’être

Canada’s development as an independent country with a unique identity stems partly from its achievements in times of war. Veterans Affairs Canada (VAC) exists to assist and help those whose courageous efforts gave us this legacy and contributed to our growth as a nation.

VAC’s mandate is set out in the Department of Veterans Affairs Act. It charges the Minister of Veterans Affairs with responsibility for “the care, treatment, or re-establishment in civil life of any person who served in the Canadian Armed Forces or Merchant Navy or in the naval, army, air forces or merchant navies of Her Majesty, of any person who has otherwise engaged in pursuits relating to war, and of any other person designated . . . and the care of the dependants or survivors of any person referred to.” Veterans Affairs Canada is also responsible for keeping alive the achievements and sacrifices of those who served Canada in times of war, military conflict and peace.

VAC is embarking on a five-year strategy (2015-2020) to enhance support to Veterans, focusing on cultural change as well as departmental output, policies, practices and processes. The strategy will be built on three pillars: a Veteran-focused approach that places Veterans firmly at the centre of all VAC business, ultimately fostering the well-being of Canada’s Veterans; a seamless integration of Veterans Affairs and National Defence transition programs and services by removing the complexities of navigating between the two organizations in order to access benefits during the release process; and a focus on service excellence that will recognize and create opportunities to exceed expectations by understanding Veterans and their needs.

Responsibilities

Veterans Affairs Canada achieves its mandate by providing services and benefits that respond to the needs of Veterans, other individuals, and their families. The Department has three main roles:

Provider of disability compensation, financial support, and transition services: Veterans Affairs Canada administers programs which recognize and compensate for the effects of service-related disabilities. The Department also provides financial support and assistance when career-ending or service-related disabilities affect one's ability to earn an income. The Department's comprehensive Rehabilitation Program assists Veterans as they transition from military to civilian life and departmental case managers work closely with Veterans and their families to identify and address their needs.

Funder for health care and re-establishment services: The Department works with multiple levels of government to provide funding to provinces or Veterans for health care benefits and services that enhance the well-being of Veterans and other eligible individuals and promote independence. The Department also provides financial support to Veterans and their families to ease their transition to civilian life.

Catalyst for national and international remembrance: The Department keeps alive the achievements and sacrifices of those who served Canada in times of war, military conflict and peace, and promotes the importance of these efforts on Canadian life as we know it today. Veterans Affairs Canada builds awareness and creates a legacy for future generations by fostering remembrance of the contributions made by Canada's fallen and Veterans. In addition, the Department maintains and operates 14 memorial sites in Europe.

The Office of the Veterans Ombudsman helps Veterans, men and women in uniform of the CAF, members and former members of the RCMP, as well as families and other individuals, address concerns related to Veterans Affairs Canada and the Veterans Bill of Rights^{iv}. As an impartial and independent officer, the Veterans Ombudsman reports directly to the Minister of Veterans Affairs and works to ensure that Veterans, their representatives and their families are treated fairly.

Risk Analysis

Key Risks

Veterans Affairs Canada is continuing its focus on providing improved and faster service while working to ensure that Veterans and their families receive the support they need, when they need it. Assisting Veterans as they make the transition from military life is extremely important as the Department serves more modern-day Veterans. In support of this, the Department continues to perform Integrated Risk Management in all planning, priority setting, and performance evaluation activities.

The table below outlines the Department’s top three external risks and the steps being taken to mitigate them.

Risk	Risk Response Strategy	Link to Program Alignment Architecture
The Department’s efforts may not keep pace with Veterans’ expectations for reducing red tape to speed up access to benefits and services.	Veterans Affairs Canada will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continue to streamline the decision process for large programs such as Disability Pensions and Disability Awards; • implement national training initiatives to further enhance services for Veterans; and • collaborate with the Department of National Defence and other partners to ensure the seamless delivery of benefits and services. 	Strategic Outcome 1
Veterans may not have enough information on programs and services to access these supports.	Veterans Affairs Canada will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • increase the visibility and profile of online information on the Department’s programs and services; • expand its review of departmental letters, and other correspondence, to ensure they are clear and easy to understand; and • ensure employees have easy access to clear, up-to-date tools and information that will enable them to provide excellent service to Veterans. 	Strategic Outcome 1
The successful transfer of Ste. Anne’s Hospital to the Government of Quebec may not occur in 2015-16.	Veterans Affairs Canada continues to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • work diligently with the Government of Quebec towards a successful transfer of the Hospital, while maintaining excellence in care for Veterans; and • ensure employees are kept informed of developments, and supported as they prepare for the transfer. Budget Planning Summary

Veterans Affairs Canada delivers its mandate through three strategic outcomes:

Strategic Outcome #1

Financial, physical and mental well-being of eligible Veterans

The programs associated with this strategic outcome represent almost 97% of the Department's planned spending in 2015–16. As has been the trend in recent years, spending on the Financial Support Programs is expected to increase over the three-year planning horizon. This is largely due to increased demand in the Earning Loss and Supplementary Retirement Benefits by our Canadian Armed Forces Veterans.

Strategic Outcome #2

Canadians remember and demonstrate their recognition of all who served in Canada's efforts during war, military conflict and peace.

The Department will lead and support various ceremonies in Canada and overseas recognizing Canada's Veterans and fallen. Ceremonies will mark such anniversaries as the centennials of the Battle of Ypres / St. Julien, the Gallipoli Campaign and the 70th anniversary of the Liberation of the Netherlands. The Department will continue to work on the creation of a permanent Visitor Education Centre, scheduled to be opened in 2017 at the Canadian National Vimy Memorial in France.

Strategic Outcome #3

Veterans' rights to services and benefits that address their needs are considered by the Veteran Affairs Portfolio.

Over the three-year planning horizon, planned spending within the Veterans Ombudsman program is expected to be relatively stable.

VAC Internal Services

The Department also incurs costs associated with its Internal Services. These expenditures support program delivery and the corporate obligations of the organization. As reflected in the following Budgetary Planning Summary table, the forecasted spending in 2014–15 and the planned spending from 2015–16 to 2017–18 show a decrease when compared to the actual spending in earlier years. These savings are the result of continued efficiencies in operations. Actual expenditures in 2013–14 also reflect one-time costs associated with workforce adjustment impacts and the settlement of specific collective agreements.

The Department has adjusted its model for allocating Full Time Equivalent (FTE) staff across the Program Alignment Architecture to more accurately reflect where resources are located to serve Veterans. As a result, some program areas may have significant variation in their FTE numbers from previous years.

Planned spending on the three strategic outcomes and on internal services is shown below.

Changing demographics of the Veteran population means that uptake of programs for war-service Veterans is decreasing while uptake for New Veterans Charter programs continues to increase.

² Planned Spending for Health Care Program and Re-establishment Services reflects the fact that the transfer of Ste. Anne's Hospital is not yet complete. 2015–16 Main Estimates include all costs associated with transferring Ste. Anne's Hospital. As this transfer is not yet complete, planned spending allows for the continued operation of the Hospital.

Departmental Spending Trend

Veterans Affairs Canada’s budget fluctuates each year due to the demand-driven nature of its programs which are based on Veterans’ needs and entitlements. In other words, a Veteran who is entitled to a benefit is paid that benefit, whether 10 Veterans come forward or 10,000.

Veterans Affairs total planned spending for the 2015–16 fiscal year is $3.5 billion. The majority of planned spending (98.1%) will be used to meet the expected results of the three strategic outcomes with only 1.9% allocated to Internal Services. Planned spending is expected to decrease slightly over the following two years with a slight decrease of 0.2% ($6.8 million) in 2016–17 and another 0.9% ($30.2 million) in 2017–18 based on current projections.

Section II: Analysis of Programs by Strategic Outcome

Strategic Outcome #1: Financial, physical and mental well-being of eligible Veterans

Program 1.1: Disability and Death Compensation

Description: This program supports eligible Veterans, Canadian Armed Forces Veterans and members, survivors, spouses/common law partners, dependants and civilians whose lives have been permanently affected as a result of service to their country. In recognition of the effects of service-related disabilities or death, compensation is provided in the form of monthly disability pensions, lump-sum disability awards and/or monthly allowances. Tax Expenditures and Evaluations

The tax system can be used to achieve public policy objectives through the application of special measures such as low tax rates, exemptions, deductions, deferrals and credits. The Department of Finance Canada publishes cost estimates and projections for these measures annually in the Tax Expenditures and Evaluations^{xiii} publication. The tax measures presented in the Tax Expenditures and Evaluations publication are the responsibility of the Minister of Finance.

Appendix: Definitions

Appropriation: Any authority of Parliament to pay money out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Budgetary expenditures: Include operating and capital expenditures; transfer payments to other levels of government, organizations or individuals; and payments to Crown corporations.

Departmental Performance Report: Reports on an appropriated organization's actual accomplishments against the plans, priorities and expected results set out in the corresponding Reports on Plans and Priorities. These reports are tabled in Parliament in the fall.

Full-time equivalent: Is a measure of the extent to which an employee represents a full person-year charge against a departmental budget. Full-time equivalents are calculated as a ratio of assigned hours of work to scheduled hours of work. Scheduled hours of work are set out in collective agreements.

Government of Canada outcomes: A set of 16 high-level objectives defined for the government as a whole, grouped in four spending areas: economic affairs, social affairs, international affairs and government affairs.

Management, Resources and Results Structure: A comprehensive framework that consists of an organization's inventory of programs, resources, results, performance indicators and governance information. Programs and results are depicted in their hierarchical relationship to each other and to the Strategic Outcome(s) to which they contribute. The Management, Resources and Results Structure is developed from the Program Alignment Architecture.

Non-budgetary expenditures: Include net outlays and receipts related to loans, investments and advances, which change the composition of the financial assets of the Government of Canada.

Performance: What an organization did with its resources to achieve its results, how well those results compare to what the organization intended to achieve and how well lessons learned have been identified.

Performance indicator: A qualitative or quantitative means of measuring an output or outcome, with the intention of gauging the performance of an organization, program, policy or initiative respecting expected results.

Performance reporting: The process of communicating evidence-based performance information. Performance reporting supports decision making, accountability and transparency.

Planned spending: For Reports on Plans and Priorities (RPPs) and Departmental Performance Reports (DPRs), planned spending refers to those amounts that receive Treasury Board approval by February 1. Therefore, planned spending may include amounts incremental to planned expenditures presented in the Main Estimates. A department is expected to be aware of the authorities that it has sought and received. The determination of planned spending is a departmental responsibility, and departments must be able to defend the expenditure and accrual numbers presented in their RPPs and DPRs.

Plans: The articulation of strategic choices, which provides information on how an organization intends to achieve its priorities and associated results. Generally a plan will explain the logic behind the strategies chosen and tend to focus on actions that lead up to the expected result.

Priorities: Plans or projects that an organization has chosen to focus and report on during the planning period. Priorities represent the things that are most important or what must be done first to support the achievement of the desired Strategic Outcome(s).

Program: A group of related resource inputs and activities that are managed to meet specific needs and to achieve intended results and that are treated as a budgetary unit.

Program Alignment Architecture: A structured inventory of an organization's programs depicting the hierarchical relationship between programs and the Strategic Outcome(s) to which they contribute.

Report on Plans and Priorities: Provides information on the plans and expected performance of appropriated organizations over a three-year period. These reports are tabled in Parliament each spring.

Results: An external consequence attributed, in part, to an organization, policy, program or initiative. Results are not within the control of a single organization, policy, program or initiative; instead they are within the area of the organization's influence.

Strategic Outcome: A long-term and enduring benefit to Canadians that is linked to the organization's mandate, vision and core functions.

Sunset program: A time-limited program that does not have an ongoing funding and policy authority. When the program is set to expire, a decision must be made whether to continue the program. In the case of a renewal, the decision specifies the scope, funding level and duration.

Target: A measurable performance or success level that an organization, program or initiative plans to achieve within a specified time period. Targets can be either quantitative or qualitative.

Whole-of-government framework: Maps the financial contributions of federal organizations receiving appropriations by aligning their Programs to a set of 16 government-wide, high-level outcome areas, grouped under four spending areas.
