Economic Action Plan 2014 Act, No. 2

On October 10, 2014 the Minister of Finance tabled a Notice of Ways and Means Motion to implement tax provisions in Economic Action Plan 2014. Subsequently, on October 23, 2014 the Minister of Finance introduced Bill C-43, the Economic Action Plan 2014 Act, No. 2, which included the tax measures proposed in this Notice of Ways and Means Motion. The Bill received Royal Assent on December 16, 2014 and is now referred to as Statutes of Canada: 2014, c. 39.

Bill C-43 contains the remaining Budget 2014 measures, previously announced measures from April 8, 2014, August 29, 2014 and October 10, 2014, and some new measures.

Previously announced measures relating to the following are included in Bill C-43:

- refining services for precious metals
- subsidized residential complexes
- amendments to the definitions of “builder” and “substantial renovation”
- public service body rebates for non-profit organizations that operate certain health care facilities
- pooled registered pension plans (PRPP)

Please see Excise and GST/HST News No. 92 and Excise and GST/HST News No.93 for more information about these previously announced measures.

Cigarette inventory tax refund

Bill C-43 also contains a new measure for the cigarette inventory tax. The Excise Act, 2001 provides authority to the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) to refund the excise duty imposed on tobacco products that are destroyed or re-worked in accordance with that Act. This new measure amends the Excise Act, 2001 to allow the CRA to also refund the inventory tax on destroyed or re-worked cigarettes, in line with the existing refund of the excise duty. The inventory tax was introduced in Economic Action Plan 2014, as part of the excise duty rate adjustment on cigarettes to account for inflation since 2002, and implemented as part of the Economic Action Plan 2014 Act, No.1. This new measure applies as of February 12, 2014.

Draft GST/HST Policy Statement released for public comment

The CRA has published, for public consultation, Draft GST/HST Policy Statement, Qualifying Health Care Supplies and the Application of Section 1.2 of Part II of Schedule V to the Excise Tax Act to the Supply of Medical Examinations, Reports and Certificates.

Amendments to the Excise Tax Act (the Act) clarify that GST/HST applies to supplies (made after March 21, 2013) of reports, examinations and other property or services that are not made for the purpose of the protection, maintenance or restoration of the health of a person or for palliative care.

Part II of Schedule V to the Act sets out the health care services that are exempt under the GST/HST. Section 1.2 of Part II of Schedule V to the Act provides that for the purposes of Part II of Schedule V to the Act, (other than sections 9 and 11 to 14), a supply that is not a “qualifying health care supply” is deemed not to be included in Part II of that Schedule. Generally, supplies deemed not to be included in Part II of Schedule V would be taxable at the applicable rate of GST/HST.

This draft policy statement sets out the CRA’s position in respect of the meaning of the term “qualifying health care supply” for GST/HST purposes.

A “qualifying health care supply” is defined to mean “a supply of property or a service that is made for the purpose of:

- (a) maintaining health,
- (b) preventing disease,
- (c) treating, relieving or remediating an injury, illness, disorder or disability,
- (d) assisting (other than financially) an individual in coping with an injury, illness, disorder or disability, or
- (e) providing palliative health care.”

Section 1.2 is applicable to sections 2 to 8, and 10 of Part II of Schedule V to the Act. This would include supplies of: ambulance services, services rendered by a medical practitioner, services rendered by other practitioners such as optometrists and chiropractors, nursing services, dietetic services, social work services, pharmacist services, dental hygienist services, and laboratory services.

When a supply meets the conditions of one of the above-noted sections it will become necessary to determine the purpose of the supply. If the purpose of the supply does not meet one of the purposes found in the definition of “qualifying health care supply” then section 1.2 would exclude the supply from the exempting provisions in Part II of Schedule V.

Please note that for GST/HST purposes, a supply that is a cosmetic service supply or a supply in respect of a cosmetic service supply is taxable at the applicable rate of GST/HST.

Supplies of medical examinations, reports and certificates

As a result of these amendments, services performed by health care professionals may be taxable or exempt depending on their purpose. This will particularly affect supplies of medical examinations, reports and certificates.

Supplies of medical examinations, reports or certificates that meet the conditions of one of the exempting provisions in sections 2 to 8, or 10 of Part II of Schedule V to the Act will be exempt if made for a purpose that meets the definition of qualifying health care supply. Supplies of medical examinations, reports and certificates that are made solely for other purposes, such as enabling a third party to make a decision for insurance or legal purposes, would be deemed not to be included in Part II of Schedule V and would be taxable at the applicable rate of GST/HST.

In cases where a supply is made for more than one purpose, all of the purposes would be considered when determining if the supply is a qualifying health care supply. If one of the purposes for the supply meets the definition of “qualifying health care supply” then the supply would be a qualifying health care supply.

The entire text of the draft policy statement which includes twenty-three examples of how the GST/HST applies to various services is published in GST/HST Notice 286, Draft GST/HST Policy Statement - Qualifying Health Care Supplies and the Application of Section 1.2 of Part II of Schedule V to the Excise Tax Act to the Supply of Medical Examinations, Reports and Certificates.

Form RC4616 - Election for nil consideration under section 156 of the Excise Tax Act

The election under section 156 permits corporations resident in Canada and Canadian partnerships that are registrants engaged exclusively in commercial activities and that are members of the same qualifying group, to jointly elect to treat taxable supplies (with certain exceptions) between them as having been made for no consideration.

Effective January 1, 2015, an election (or revocation of an election) must be made jointly by a particular specified member of a qualifying group and another specified member of the same group by completing and filing Form RC4616, Election or Revocation of an Election for Closely Related Corporations and/or Canadian Partnerships to Treat Certain Taxable Supplies as Having Been Made for Nil Consideration for GST/HST Purposes which is replacing Form GST25. Form GST25 was not required to be filed with the CRA.

Form RC4616 will be available on the CRA website in January 2015. Parties to a new election must complete Form RC4616 and file it by the earliest day on which the electing members are required to file a GST/HST return for the reporting period that includes the effective date of the election specified on the form.

Parties to an existing election in effect before January 1, 2015, which is still in effect on that date, will also be required to complete Form RC4616 and file it with the CRA after 2014 and before January 1, 2016. In this case, the election remains the original election and, as a result, the effective date specified on the form should be the original effective date of the election.

While an election is between two members, Form RC4616 permits multiple combinations. Every combination of eligible corporations or eligible Canadian partnerships whose names appear in Part A of the form (and on any attached page) is considered to have made the election. Form RC4616 will permit the first specified member to file the election on behalf of the specified members identified in Part A (and on any attached page). Only the signature of the first specified member is required.

The electronic filing of an election (or revocation) will be available through My Business Account (MyBA) in April 2015. Until electronic filing is available, the election must be made using the paper format.
