Prime Minister's Message

I am pleased to present the 2015–16 Report on Plans and Priorities of the Privy Council Office, which provides an overview of the department's priorities and planning highlights for the fiscal year.

The fiscal discipline that our Government has exercised in the past few years will translate into real results in 2015–16 with the balancing of the federal budget and with a significant amount of money being put back into the pockets of hard working Canadians through initiatives such as the Family Tax Cut, the increased and expanded Universal Child Care Benefit, the greater Child Care Expense Deduction Limits, and the Children's Fitness Tax Credit.

In the coming year, measures will be taken to enhance the safety of Canadians. At home we will be working to ensure our laws and police powers are strengthened in the areas of surveillance, detention and arrest following the deadly attacks on Warrant Officer Patrice Vincent and Corporal Nathan Cirillo. We will also be working in Parliament to advance legislation pertaining to the Canadian Victims' Bill of Rights, the Tougher Penalties for Child Predators Act and the Protecting Canadians from Online Crime Act.

We will further advance the free trade agreements with the European Union and Korea, paving the way for billions of additional dollars being injected into the Canadian economy. Our Government will continue implementing the most ambitious infrastructure initiatives in Canadian history through the New Building Canada Plan and other measures. These measures will generate jobs, growth and long-term prosperity for years to come. Together with the provinces and territories, our Government will also continue moving forward with the implementation of the Canada Job Grant providing training, employment and growth.

The economic measures being taken will help Canada navigate a global economic recovery that continues to be fragile and uneven.

On the international front, we will continue to lead global efforts to promote maternal, newborn and child health, ensuring that these issues remain front and centre on the global development agenda.

Canada will continue to pressure the Putin regime to cease its military aggression and to respect Ukraine's territorial integrity and sovereignty. In addition, our Canadian Armed Forces will continue their vital work in Iraq, helping protect innocent civilians from the murderous rampage of the terrorist group known as ISIL, and preventing its spread.

In the coming year, a number of historical milestones will be marked on the Road to 2017, the 150th anniversary of our country's Confederation. These include the 175th anniversary of the election of Baldwin and Lafontaine, leaders of responsible government; the 150th anniversary of the Fenian Raids; and the centennial of women's suffrage.

During the year, the Privy Council Office will play a central coordination and advisory role within the Public Service to help ensure that the Government achieves its stated priorities. I invite you to read this report, which outlines how the Privy Council Office will contribute to the Government's priorities and commitments in 2015–16.

The Right Honourable Stephen Harper

Risk Analysis

In order to support the early identification and mitigation of risks that could affect the achievement of its strategic outcome and priorities, PCO actively monitors its operating environment and implements integrated risk management across the department. The following are some key risk areas that PCO has identified through its integrated risk management process and will monitor during the 2015–16 fiscal year.

Key Risks

Risk	Risk Response Strategy	Link to Program Alignment Architecture
Risks to the Policy and Legislative Agendas	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Actively monitor emerging domestic and international developments;</li> <li>Provide timely intelligence assessments;</li> <li>Foster networks to promote the sharing of critical information; and</li> <li>Coordinate with other federal departments and other partners in a timely manner to support Canada's response to emerging issues and crises.</li> </ul>	Program 1.1 Program 1.2 Program 1.3

Risks to Security and Emergency Management	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Ensure coordinated responses within PCO and the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) to incidents and crises;</li> <li>Continue to mature business continuity planning; and</li> <li>Develop talent management and succession planning for security officials.</li> </ul>	Program 1.1 Program 1.2 Program 1.3 Program 1.4 Internal Services

Risks to the Policy and Legislative Agendas

PCO supports the Government in the development, articulation and implementation of its policy and legislative agendas. This role requires PCO to identify and mitigate risks that have the potential to adversely impact these agendas. These risks include those within the scope of the Government's control (e.g., timing, scheduling and integration of the policy and legislative processes), as well as those that are outside of its influence (e.g., significant domestic or world events impacting priorities).

To proactively identify and mitigate these risks, PCO will monitor emerging domestic and international developments and provide timely intelligence assessments to the Prime Minister regarding situations that could affect Canada's interests. It will foster networks, both throughout government and with allies, to promote the sharing of critical information. It will also continue to coordinate with other federal departments and other partners in a timely manner to support Canada's response to emerging issues and crises.

Risks to Information Technology Infrastructure

Like many other organizations, PCO is a knowledge-based department that relies heavily on information technology to enable its work. There is therefore a risk that disruptions in the department's information technology infrastructure may result in a diminished capacity to fulfil its mandate. In order to mitigate this risk, and in support of the Government of Canada's efforts to modernize information technology, PCO will undertake the following key initiatives during the year: enhancing end user services in the department; preparing for and supporting the Email Transformation Initiative; establishing enhanced government-wide secure network connectivity; and consolidating data centres, which include enterprise applications.

Risks to Security and Emergency Management

PCO proactively identifies and seeks to mitigate the risks posed by potentially significant security incidents or emergency management events. To minimize the risk of loss, safeguard assets, protect personnel and assure the continuity of its operations, PCO will:

- ensure coordinated responses within PCO and the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) to incidents and crises;
- continue to mature business continuity planning; and
- develop talent management and succession planning for security officials.

Departmental spending in 2013–14 was $3.8 million lower than in 2012–13, which is explained in part by a decrease in spending within the offices of the portfolio ministers due to a change in their responsibilities, and a decrease in salary-related costs such as severance pay and contributions to employee benefit plans. The decrease in spending can also be explained in part by the completion of the Commission of Inquiry into the Decline of Sockeye Salmon in the Fraser River, and by lower than anticipated workforce adjustment costs in 2013–14, due to the fact that most employees affected by the Workforce Adjustment Directive left the department in 2012–13.

PCO reallocated some existing funding to invest in a number of administrative initiatives in the 2013–14 fiscal year. These investments enhanced PCO's efficiency and effectiveness and positioned the organization for government-wide transformational changes.

PCO anticipates that its departmental spending in 2014–15 will be $1.2 million higher than its 2013–14 actual spending. This is explained mainly by an increase in spending of $2.6 million due to a one-time transition payment made across the government to implement salary payment in arrears, as well as by the creation of the Central Innovation Hub within PCO. These increases are partially offset by a decrease in spending within the offices of the portfolio ministers due to a change in their responsibilities, a decrease in salary-related costs such as severance and separation pay, contributions to employee benefit plans and by lower workforce adjustment costs.

Alignment of Spending with the Whole-of-Government Framework

Departmental Spending Trend

As illustrated in the graph above, between 2014–15 and 2017–18, departmental planned spending is expected to decrease by $8.5 million (from $127.6 million to $119.1 million). This decrease is mostly explained by:

- the sunseting of funds related to the Canadian Secretariat to the Canada-U.S. Regulatory Cooperation Council, the Beyond the Border Action Plan, the Office of the Special Advisor on Human Smuggling and Illegal Migration and the coordination of government-wide communications for Canada's Economic Action Plan;
- decreased spending because of a transition payment made across the government in 2014–15 to implement salary payment in arrears, which will not reoccur;
- spending related to workforce adjustment costs that will not reoccur, as well as salary-related costs such as severance pay; and
- the permanent transfer of resources associated with the consolidation of pay services.

These decreases are partially offset by:

- the creation of the Central Innovation Hub, which will support departments and agencies in adopting new tools and nimble approaches to policy and program challenges; and
- spending related to contributions to employee benefit plans.

Decisions regarding sunseting programs will be made in future Budgets and may be reflected in future appropriations.

Section III: Supplementary Information

Future-Oriented Statement of Operations

The future-oriented condensed statement of operations presented in this subsection is intended to serve as a general overview of the Privy Council Office's operations. The forecasted financial information on expenses and revenues are prepared on an accrual accounting basis to strengthen accountability and to improve transparency and financial management.

Because the future-oriented statement of operations is prepared on an accrual accounting basis and the forecast and planned spending amounts presented in other sections of this report are prepared on an expenditure or "cash" basis, amounts will differ.

A more detailed future-oriented statement of operations and associated notes, including a reconciliation of the net costs of operations to the requested authorities, can be found on the Privy Council Office's website.<sup>7</sup>

Future-Oriented Condensed Statement of Operations For the Year Ended March 31 (dollars)

Financial Information	Estimated Results 2014–15	Planned Results 2015–16	Difference
Total expenses	146,228,611	142,611,572	(3,617,039)
Total revenues	89,265	91,588	2,323
Net cost of operations	146,139,346	142,519,984	(3,619,362)

The net cost of operations for the 2015–16 Planned Results is expected to decrease by $3,619,362 when compared to the net cost of operations for the 2014–15 Estimated Results. This decrease is mostly explained by:

- the sunsetting of funds related to the Beyond the Border Action Plan, the Office of the Special Advisor on Human Smuggling and Illegal Migration and the coordination of government-wide communications for Canada's Economic Action Plan;
- decreased spending related to workforce adjustment costs and salary-related costs such as severance pay;
- the permanent transfer of resources associated with the consolidation of pay services;
- services provided without charge such as accommodation and employer's contribution to the health and dental insurance plans; and

- a net change in the non-appropriated accounts such as the provision for vacation pay, the amortization of prepaid expenses and the amortization of capital assets.

These decreases are partially offset by:

- the creation of the Central Innovation Hub, which will support departments and agencies in adopting new tools and nimble approaches to policy and program challenges; and
- spending related to contributions to the employee benefit plan.

Supplementary Information Tables

Tax Expenditures and Evaluations

The tax system can be used to achieve public policy objectives through the application of special measures such as low tax rates, exemptions, deductions, deferrals and credits. The Department of Finance publishes cost estimates and projections for these measures annually in the Tax Expenditures and Evaluations publication.<sup>10</sup> The tax measures presented in the Tax Expenditures and Evaluations publication are the sole responsibility of the Minister of Finance.

Appendix: Definitions

appropriation: Any authority of Parliament to pay money out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

budgetary expenditures: Include operating and capital expenditures; transfer payments to other levels of government, organizations or individuals; and payments to Crown corporations.

Departmental Performance Report: Reports on an appropriated organization's actual accomplishments against the plans, priorities and expected results set out in the corresponding Reports on Plans and Priorities. These reports are tabled in Parliament in the fall.

full-time equivalent: Is a measure of the extent to which an employee represents a full person-year charge against a departmental budget. Full-time equivalents are calculated as a ratio of assigned hours of work to scheduled hours of work. Scheduled hours of work are set out in collective agreements.

Government of Canada outcomes: A set of 16 high-level objectives defined for the government as a whole, grouped in four spending areas: economic affairs, social affairs, international affairs and government affairs.

Management, Resources and Results Structure: A comprehensive framework that consists of an organization's inventory of programs, resources, results, performance indicators and governance information. Programs and results are depicted in their hierarchical relationship to each other and to the Strategic Outcome(s) to which they contribute. The Management, Resources and Results Structure is developed from the Program Alignment Architecture.

non-budgetary expenditures: Include net outlays and receipts related to loans, investments and advances, which change the composition of the financial assets of the Government of Canada.

performance: What an organization did with its resources to achieve its results, how well those results compare to what the organization intended to achieve and how well lessons learned have been identified.

performance indicator: A qualitative or quantitative means of measuring an output or outcome, with the intention of gauging the performance of an organization, program, policy or initiative respecting expected results.

performance reporting: The process of communicating evidence-based performance information. Performance reporting supports decision making, accountability and transparency.

planned spending: For Reports on Plans and Priorities (RPPs) and Departmental Performance Reports (DPRs), planned spending refers to those amounts that receive Treasury Board approval by February 1. Therefore, planned spending may include amounts incremental to planned expenditures presented in the Main Estimates.

A department is expected to be aware of the authorities that it has sought and received. The determination of planned spending is a departmental responsibility, and departments must be able to defend the expenditure and accrual numbers presented in their RPPs and DPRs.

plans: The articulation of strategic choices, which provides information on how an organization intends to achieve its priorities and associated results. Generally a plan will explain the logic behind the strategies chosen and tend to focus on actions that lead up to the expected result.

priorities: Plans or projects that an organization has chosen to focus and report on during the planning period. Priorities represent the things that are most important or what must be done first to support the achievement of the desired Strategic Outcome(s).

program: A group of related resource inputs and activities that are managed to meet specific needs and to achieve intended results and that are treated as a budgetary unit.

Program Alignment Architecture: A structured inventory of an organization's programs depicting the hierarchical relationship between programs and the Strategic Outcome(s) to which they contribute.

Report on Plans and Priorities: Provides information on the plans and expected performance of appropriated organizations over a three-year period. These reports are tabled in Parliament each spring.

results: An external consequence attributed, in part, to an organization, policy, program or initiative. Results are not within the control of a single organization, policy, program or initiative; instead they are within the area of the organization's influence.

Strategic Outcome: A long-term and enduring benefit to Canadians that is linked to the organization's mandate, vision and core functions.

sunset program: A time-limited program that does not have an ongoing funding and policy authority. When the program is set to expire, a decision must be made whether to continue the program. In the case of a renewal, the decision specifies the scope, funding level and duration.

target: A measurable performance or success level that an organization, program or initiative plans to achieve within a specified time period. Targets can be either quantitative or qualitative.

whole-of-government framework: Maps the financial contributions of federal organizations receiving appropriations by aligning their Programs to a set of 16 government-wide, high-level outcome areas, grouped under four spending areas.

If another type that is specific to the department is introduced, an explanation of its meaning must be provided.

<sup>3</sup> PCO's Planned Spending for fiscal years 2015–16 to 2017–18 includes anticipated expenditures for other salary-related items, such as severance pay and parental leave. This explains why the 2015–16 Main Estimates are lower than the 2015–16 Planned Spending.
