President's Message

I am pleased to present the 2015-2016 Report on Plans and Priorities of the Public Service Commission of Canada (PSC).

The mandate of the PSC is to promote and safeguard merit-based appointments and, in collaboration with other stakeholders, to protect the non-partisan nature of the public service. The PSC reports on its mandate to Parliament.

Under the delegated staffing system set out in the Public Service Employment Act (PSEA), the PSC fulfills its mandate by providing policy guidance and expertise, as well as by conducting effective oversight. In addition, the PSC delivers innovative staffing and assessment services.

Our first priority is to provide independent oversight on the health of the staffing system and protect merit-based staffing and the non-partisan nature of the public service. Our plans include: continuing to engage with stakeholders on issues related to merit-based staffing and non-partisanship; working collaboratively with organizations and enhancing support to address issues detected through our oversight; and, conducting up to 11 organizational audits.

Our second priority is to enhance our policy and oversight frameworks to ensure they are well integrated and serve to improve staffing across the public service. Our activities include reviewing and improving our policies and associated guidance; continuing to adapt PSC's oversight mechanisms to a risk-based approach; and engaging with organizations and stakeholders through outreach activities and training sessions.

Finally, our third priority is to offer support and expertise in staffing and assessment to delegated organizations and stakeholders. The PSC will provide integrated advice and services that are responsive to organizational needs and that help to deliver better policy outcomes. We will also modernize staffing and assessment processes, systems and tools in close collaboration with stakeholders.

We recognize that our responsibilities form but one of the many elements of the overall framework for people management in the public service. In order that the whole remains modern, effective and responsive, we continue to explore ways we can better perform our roles with respect to merit and non-partisanship.

We look forward to working with departments and agencies in the coming year to promote innovation and improvement while continuing to deliver on our fundamental responsibility to provide independent oversight to Parliament.

Organizational Context

Raison d'être

The mandate of the Public Service Commission (PSC) is to promote and safeguard merit-based appointments and, in collaboration with other stakeholders, to protect the non-partisan nature of the public service. The PSC reports independently on its mandate to Parliament.

Under the delegated staffing system set out in the Public Service Employment Act (PSEA), the PSC fulfills its mandate by providing policy guidance and expertise as well as by conducting effective oversight. In addition, the PSC delivers innovative staffing and assessment services.

Responsibilities

The PSC is responsible for promoting and safeguarding merit-based appointments that are free from political influence and, in collaboration with other stakeholders, for protecting the non-partisan nature of the public service.

The PSC is mandated to:

- Make appointments to and within the public service, based on merit and free from political influence. The PSEA provides the authority to the Commission to delegate to deputy heads its authority to make appointments to positions in the public service. This authority is currently delegated to the deputy heads subject to the PSEA, across the federal government;
- Administer the provisions of the PSEA that are related to the political activities of employees and deputy heads. Part 7 of the PSEA recognizes the right of employees to engage in a political activity, while maintaining the principle of political impartiality in the public service. It also sets out specific roles and responsibilities related to political activities for employees and for the PSC; and
- Oversee the integrity of the staffing system and, in collaboration with other stakeholders, ensure non-partisanship. This oversight role includes: The regulatory authority and policy-setting function, the ongoing support and guidance and the monitoring of the staffing performance of delegated organizations, the conduct of audits that provide an independent assessment of the performance and management of staffing activities and the conduct of investigations of staffing processes and improper political activities by public servants.

Strategic Outcome and Program Alignment Architecture

Strategic Outcome: To provide Canadians with a highly competent, non-partisan and representative public service, able to provide service in both official languages, in which appointments are based on merit and the values of fairness, access, representativeness and transparency.

Risk Analysis

Key Risks

Risk 1	Risk Response Strategy	Link to Program Alignment Architecture
There is a risk that the PSC might not be able to adapt and effectively respond to the needs of an evolving public service in developing policy instruments, setting expectations and providing advice. This could affect the PSC's ability to respond to requests from federal organizations and could negatively impact the PSC's reputation.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Using lessons learned from oversight activities and feedback from organizations;• Completing the PSC's Enhanced Integration Project to streamline the PSC's policy and oversight framework, instruments and guidance• Implementing a more cohesive approach to policy and oversight and maintaining an enhanced collaboration with and support to organizations; and• Working proactively with organizations (both the human resources community and hiring managers) to find meaningful solutions to persistent problems.	1.1 Staffing System Integrity and Political Impartiality 1.2 Staffing Services and Assessment 1.3 Oversight of Integrity in Staffing and of Non-Partisanship

Risk 2	Risk Response Strategy	Link to Program Alignment Architecture
There is a risk that the design and implementation of enhancements to the risk-based approach and methodology for PSC audits will not produce the intended results. This could have an impact on the PSC’s ability to meet the needs and expectations of Parliament and deputy heads for feedback and assurance information. It could also have an impact on the PSC’s reputation for providing effective oversight and for delivering audits that are relevant and support organizations in managing their delegated authority.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Conducting extensive internal and external consultations during the development of the enhanced audit approach and methodology; • Assigning dedicated resources to ensure effective planning, project management and the identification and mitigation of risks; • Actively participating in the renewal of policy instruments; and • Engaging and reporting to the Commission on a regular basis and at key milestones during planning and implementation. 	1.3 Oversight of Integrity in Staffing and of Non-Partisanship

Risk 3	Risk Response Strategy	Link to Program Alignment Architecture
There is a risk that the PSC will not have sufficient staff with specialized skills to fully respond in a timely manner to government-wide transformation initiatives (such as the Common Human Resources Business Process, common financial systems, Web Renewal and initiatives proposed by Chief Information Officer Branch and Shared Services Canada), given the number of initiatives, the pace at which they are being implemented and the reduction in the PSC’s resources. This could compromise the PSC’s ability to deliver on its mandate and meet the Government of Canada’s renewal objectives and impact on the PSC’s ability to maintain existing systems, transition to new systems and to realize efficiencies.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Re-allocating key resources to the priority projects and effective use of contingent workforce, when operationally required; • Ensuring work plans in place for government-wide initiatives; • Implementing the Threat and Risk Assessment portion of the Departmental Security Plan (DSP) and identifying business impacts and revising DSP in 2015-2016; • Continuing initiatives for system rationalization and innovation; • Identifying key positions, understanding the career plans of current employees and ensuring a sound succession plan is in place, where needed; and • Identifying and assessing alternate ways of providing management services, where necessary. 	1.1 Staffing System Integrity and Political Impartiality 1.2 Staffing Services and Assessment 1.3 Oversight of Integrity in Staffing and of Non-Partisanship Internal Services

Risk 4	Risk Response Strategy	Link to Program Alignment Architecture
There is a risk that the PSC will be unable to deliver policy, system and communication tools in a timely manner regarding the implementation of Bill C-27. This could impact the PSC's ability to match job opportunities in the federal public service to veterans who are found qualified.¹	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Working closely with National Defence and Veterans Affairs to ensure that, should Bill C-27 receive Royal Assent, all those affected by these changes are aware of the new entitlements and increased access to opportunities in the public service; • Participating in an interdepartmental governance committee and continuing the PSC's internal governance committee at the VP level in order to address all aspects of the Bill pertaining to the PSC, including policy, systems and communications; and • Reallocating resources in a timely and effective manner. 	1.1 Staffing System Integrity and Political Impartiality 1.2 Staffing Services and Assessment Internal Services

1. Should Bill C-27 receive Royal Assent, veterans who are medically released due to a service-related injury or illness would become the top statutory priority with an entitlement period of five years. The regulatory entitlement for medically released former members of the Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) whose release is not attributable to service would also be extended from two years to five years. The Bill also contains two other mechanisms to support the hiring of veterans and current members of the CAF who have at least three years of military service: A 'veterans preference' provision that would facilitate the appointment of qualified veterans to jobs that are open to the Canadian public and an eligibility provision allowing veterans and current CAF members to participate in all advertised internal hiring processes.

Departmental Spending Trend

Analysis of the Spending Trend

The decrease in the spending is primarily the result of the implementation of Spending Review 2012 saving measures for a total of $9.0M on an ongoing basis.

In 2017-2018, the reference levels are being adjusted following the re-profiling of funds to 2013-2014 to support the relocation of the PSC's offices from Ottawa to Gatineau, which took place during the fall of 2013.

- Building on stakeholder engagement through activities such as the PSC Symposium, the Public Service Commission Joint Advisory Council, SMART Shops¹ and communities of practice for political activities, Priority Administration and investigations.

1. The Public Service Commission (PSC) offers information sessions to provide practical insights on issues relating to the Public Service Employment Act (PSEA) and the PSC's Appointment Framework.

The PSC's information sessions are led by PSC subject matter experts. They assist human resources professionals and sub-delegated officials in gaining a deeper understanding and practical knowledge of the flexibilities of the PSEA and the PSC Appointment Framework.

Through structured presentations, practical exercises and group discussions, participants will share best practices and familiarize themselves with the issues surrounding each topic.

Sub-program 1.1.2: Delegation, Political Activities, Official Languages and Priority Administration

Description

The Delegation, Political Activities, Official Languages and Priority Administration sub-program administers the delegation of appointment authorities to departments and agencies through articulated delegation instruments, learning products and services, staffing advice, intelligence gathering to support the PSC oversight function and support to organizations — enabling delegated appointment and appointment-related authorities to the most suitable level(s) and full exercise of their delegated staffing authority. This sub-program is also responsible for the administration of the political activities regime and the determination of eligibility for the legislated mobility provisions, monitoring and providing expert advice on the use of the Public Service Official Languages Exclusion Approval Order and the administration of priority entitlements established under the Public Service Employment Act (PSEA) and the Public Service Employment Regulations.
