

The Fiscal Monitor

A publication of the Department of Finance

Introduction

The Fiscal Monitor provides an overview of monthly and year-to-date financial results for the Government of Canada. It is prepared in accordance with the same accounting policies used in the annual audited financial statements of the Government of Canada. Summary financial results reported in The Fiscal Monitor are based on financial transactions recorded in the Accounts of Canada, maintained by the Receiver General for Canada.

There can be significant volatility in monthly results due to the timing of revenue receipts and expense recognition. For instance, a large share of government spending is typically reported in the March Fiscal Monitor. For fiscal year 2015–16, while a surplus is expected for February, Budget 2016 projects that the cumulative budgetary balance will deteriorate to reach a year-end deficit of $5.4 billion.

In this context, the year-to-date cumulative surplus is expected to be overtaken by:

- A significant deficit in March, as historically, a large share of total expenses is recorded in that month (see chart below).
- Negative year-end adjustments relating to corporate income tax revenues, reflecting actual results for the 2015 tax year. Although the recent decline in oil prices is unprecedented, negative year-end adjustments have been recorded in previous years following periods of economic weakness.
- The cost of measures undertaken to improve benefits for veterans announced in Budget 2016.

Highlights

There was a budgetary surplus of $1.1 billion in January 2016, compared to a surplus of $2.2 billion in January 2015. Revenues increased by $1.4 billion, or 5.4 per cent, reflecting increases in most revenue streams. Program expenses increased by $2.5 billion, or 11.8 per cent, reflecting increases in major transfers to persons and other levels of government and direct program expenses. EI benefit payments increased by $0.5 billion, or 27.1 per cent, reflecting in part year-over-year differences in the timing of payments. Children's benefits, which consist of the Canada Child Tax Benefit and the Universal Child Care Benefit (UCCB), increased by $0.4 billion, or 37.7 per cent, largely reflecting increased benefits related to the enhancement and expansion of the UCCB in 2015.
- Major transfers to other levels of government consist of federal transfers in support of health and other social programs (primarily the Canada Health Transfer and the Canada Social Transfer), fiscal arrangements and other transfers (Equalization, transfers to the territories, as well as a number of smaller transfer programs), transfers to provinces on behalf of Canada's cities and communities, and the Quebec Abatement. Major transfers to other levels of government increased by $0.5 billion, or 9.6 per cent, largely reflecting legislated growth in the Canada Health Transfer, the Canada Social Transfer, Equalization transfers and transfers to the territories, as well as a downward adjustment to the Quebec Abatement, based on the latest estimated value of these tax point transfers.

EI benefit payments increased by $1.4 billion, or 9.7 per cent, and children's benefits were up $4.1 billion, or 37.8 per cent, largely reflecting increased benefits related to the enhancement and expansion of the UCCB.
- Major transfers to other levels of government were up $2.4 billion, or 4.6 per cent, largely reflecting legislated growth in the Canada Health Transfer, the Canada Social Transfer, Equalization transfers and transfers to the territories.
- Direct program expenses were up $4.3 billion, or 5.1 per cent. Within direct program expenses:

Public debt charges decreased by $1.1 billion, or 4.8 per cent, largely reflecting lower average effective interest rates on Government of Canada bonds and treasury bills.

Financial requirement of $17.3 billion for April 2015 to January 2016

The budgetary balance is presented on an accrual basis of accounting, recording government revenues and expenses when they are earned or incurred, regardless of when the cash is received or paid. In contrast, the financial source/requirement measures the difference between cash coming in to the Government and cash going out. This measure is affected not only by changes in the budgetary balance but also by the cash source/requirement resulting from the Government's investing activities through its acquisition of capital assets and its loans, financial investments and advances, as well as from other activities, including payment of accounts payable and collection of accounts receivable, foreign exchange activities, and the amortization of its tangible capital assets. The difference between the budgetary balance and financial source/requirement is recorded in non-budgetary transactions.

With a budgetary surplus of $4.3 billion and a financial requirement of $21.5 billion from non-budgetary transactions, there was a financial requirement of $17.3 billion for the April 2015 to January 2016 period, compared to a financial requirement of $6.1 billion for the same period the previous year.

Net financing activities up $39.5 billion

The Government financed its financial requirement of $17.3 billion and increased cash balances by $22.2 billion by increasing unmatured debt by $39.5 billion. The increase in unmatured debt was achieved primarily through the issuance of marketable bonds and treasury bills.

The level of cash balances varies from month to month based on a number of factors including periodic large debt maturities, which can be quite volatile on a monthly basis. Cash balances at the end of January 2016 stood at $50.1 billion, up $13.4 billion from their level at the end of January 2015.
