

Need a Summer Job?

Do you need help looking for a job or planning your career?
Service Canada Centres for Youth can help!

About Service Canada Centres for Youth

Service Canada Centres for Youth (SCCYs) provide free services to help employers advertise summer work opportunities, and to help youth find jobs in their communities.

More than 300 SCCYs are open during the summer months across Canada to help young people with their career-related needs.

Our proud history

SCCYs have a long and proud tradition of connecting young people with employers. For more than 40 years, they have been a recognized and stable presence in communities across Canada.

Throughout the years, the philosophy behind SCCYs has remained the same: students helping students find jobs.
