New release date for Travel between Canada and other countries

August 2000

The regular monthly "Travel between Canada and other countries" release, containing data for August, has been delayed. The release, originally scheduled for today, October 17, has been postponed to October 24 because of unforeseen operational problems.

For more information, contact Johanne Plante (613-951-1910; fax: 613-951-2909; planjoh@statcan.ca), International Travel Section, Culture, Tourism and the Centre for Education Statistics ■

Travel Activities and Motivation Survey

Data are now available from the Travel Activities and Motivation Survey, which was conducted between October 1999 and March 2000 on behalf of several federal, provincial and territorial agencies responsible for tourism.

The survey collected, among other things, information on Canadian residents' travel patterns during the past two years, their travel intentions over the next two years, their participation in entertainment and recreational activities at home and while on an overnight trip, the reasons for travelling or not travelling in Canada, the types of accommodation used, the sources of travel planning information and their impressions of Canada.

For more information about the current survey results and related products and services, or to enquire about the concepts, methods or data quality of this release, contact Client Services (1-888-297-7355; 613-951-7355; fax: 613-951-3012; ssd@statcan.ca), Special Surveys Division. ■

MAJOR RELEASES

- Urban transit, 1995 2
Despite the constraints on taking urban transit, Canadians are using it less and less. In 1996, each Canadian took an average of about six trips on some form of urban transit, the lowest level in the past 20 years.
- Productivity, hourly compensation and unit labour cost, 1995 4
Growth in productivity among Canadian businesses was relatively weak again in 1996, accompanied by sluggish gains in employment and slow nominal growth during the year.
