An integrated series of income data from the Survey of Consumer Finances and the Survey of Labour and Income Dynamics

1989 to 1997

A new report, available today, presents several of Statistics Canada's most important income series. These integrated series use data from the Survey of Consumer Finances (SCF) up to and including the 1995 reference year. From 1996 onwards, the data come from the Survey of Labour Income Dynamics (SLID).

Family income data have been based on the SCF for many years. The SLID has been collecting longitudinal labour market and income data since 1993, and is also capable of producing annual cross-sectional data.

Estimates from the two surveys line up well and tell essentially the same story.

This report, Bridging two surveys: An integrated series of income data from SCF and SLID, 1989-1997 (75F0002MIE), is available free on Statistics Canada's Web site (www.statcan.ca) under Products and services, then Downloadable research papers followed by Income, expenditures, pensions, assets and debts and Income.
