REVISIONS TO PREVIOUSLY PUBLISHED ESTIMATES

SHIPMENTS: - The annual revision of the monthly shipments series to base current survey trends on the latest available census data was advanced to May this year when the 1957 census values became available. Consequently no revisions have been made to 1957 and 1958 shipments at this time and the revisions to the 1959 series have consisted solely of revisions for late returns for earlier months and adjustments to the group of reporting firms.

INVENTORIES: - Values from the 1957 Census of Industry have been incorporated as benchmarks in the inventory series. All monthly values for 1957 have, therefore, been adjusted to spread the error in the series as at December, 1957 equally over the preceding 11 months and all monthly estimates from January, 1958 on have been adjusted to project the December, 1957 values.

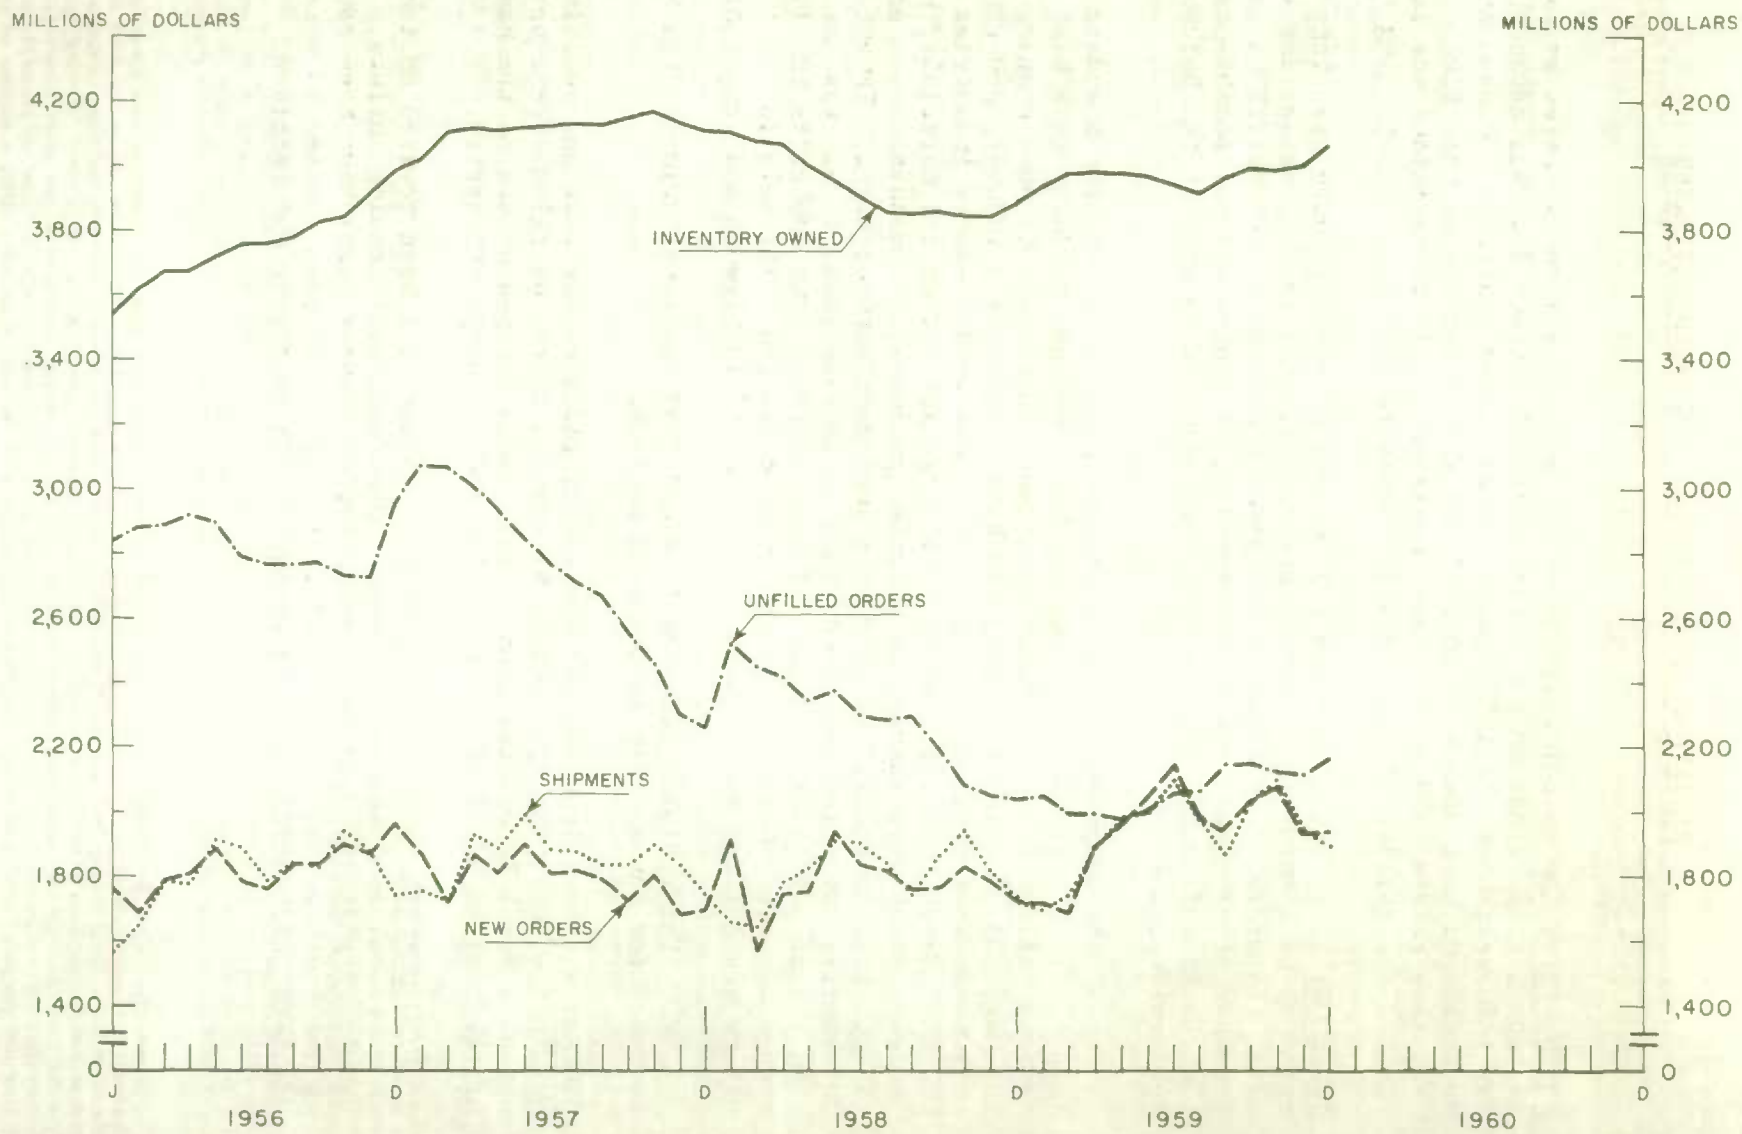

The component parts of the inventory estimates for Standard Industrial Classification, group 7 - Wood and Wood Products have been revised following the redefinition of work in process in wood planing mills, the hardwood flooring industry, the boxes and baskets industry and the miscellaneous wood products industry. In these wood products industries it is now considered that all inventory holdings are either raw materials, which includes rough sawn lumber, or finished products; the manufacturing process is such that no stocks are held in a semi-manufactured state. Inventories in sawmills have also been re-defined to exclude goods in process for the same reason. In this industry, of course, rough sawn lumber is the finished product. Goods in process inventories are still held in the furniture and coffins and caskets industries and in plywood and veneer mills.

The revision made for 1958 and 1959 year-end estimates has been extended for the monthly series back to 1956.

ORDERS: - Values from the 1957 Census of Industry for year end unfilled orders have been incorporated as benchmarks in the unfilled orders series. All data for 1957 on have been re-calculated for new orders on the basis of the revised unfilled orders series and the shipments series.

TRADING OUTLETS: - The trading outlets values have been revised on the basis of a special 1957 year-end survey of manufacturers' trading outlets. Values of shipments and inventories for subsequent years have been revised to incorporate 1957 values. Values for 1956 have been revised as more adequate information for trading outlets in this year was received.

ESTIMATED VALUES OF SHIPMENTS, INVENTORY OWNED, AND ORDERS IN ALL MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES

TREND SUMMARY

Preliminary estimates indicate the following trends for December:

SHIPMENTS: Preliminary estimates of shipments in 1959 show a record of $23,238 million over seven percent higher than shipments in 1958 of $21,656 million and almost five percent above the previous peak year, 1957 when shipments reached $22,178 million. Shipments during 1959 were consistently higher in each quarter as compared with the corresponding quarter in the previous year and as in 1958 reached a peak in the second quarter.

December shipments are estimated at $1,892 million just less than three percent lower than the revised estimate of shipments for November of $1,948 million but nine percent higher than shipments in December 1958. December shipments have been consistently less than November shipments since 1955; this year's decline, indicative of the higher level of shipments this year is appreciably less than usual.

Thirteen of the sixteen standard industrial groups published in the bulletin shared in this new peak level of shipments in 1959, all that is except S.I.C. 11, transportation equipment, S.I.C. 12, non-ferrous metal products and S.I.C. 13, electrical apparatus and supplies. Shipments in both the non-ferrous metals industries and in the electrical apparatus and supplies industries were higher this year, however, than in the previous year, by twenty-two percent and two percent respectively, although neither regained the previous peak reached in 1956. Shipments in the transportation industries having reached a peak in 1957 of $2,269 million declined both in 1958 to $2,037 and again in 1959 to $1,981 million; this decline in shipments was the only decline shown in the S.I.C. groupings in 1959. (The comparison of shipments in the electrical apparatus industries is invalidated to some extent by a shift in the structure of distribution activities in the industries although the initial and essential aspect of the change was to increase stocks of finished products at the plant level.)

Turning to the industries grouped according to an economic-use the decline of shipments in the transportation industries shows up in the decline of eighteen percent in shipments in heavy transportation equipment which is reflected in the decline, by three percent, of shipments in the capital goods group. One other group, construction goods industries, showed only a fractional increase in shipments in 1959; in fact shipments in this group during the last three years have remained very stable with annual shipments of $1,834 million in 1957, $1,823 million in 1958 and $1,828 in 1959.

The general increase in shipments in 1959 ranged from the two percent increase in shipments in the electrical apparatus industries to the twenty-two percent increase in shipments of non-ferrous metals, already mentioned. The largest industry group, foods and beverages had shipments of $4,687 million, five percent higher than in 1958 ($4,471 million) and marking a steady increase from shipments in 1957 ($4,171 million) and 1956 ($3,823 million). The clothing and wood products industries both showed shipments up four percent over 1958 to $933 million and $1,447 million respectively. The remaining groups had increases of seven percent, the general average, or more. Shipments in non-metallic minerals, chemical products and tobacco industries were seven percent higher than in 1958; textiles, excluding clothing were up by eight percent; products of petroleum and coal were up by nine percent; the iron and steel industries had shipments in 1959 of $2,979 million, twelve percent higher than the year before, $2,663 million, although shipments here as in the petroleum and coal and clothing industries were only slightly higher than shipments in 1957. Shipments in the leather products industries, the miscellaneous industry group and in the rubber industries were twelve, thirteen and fourteen percent higher respectively than in 1958 although, in contrast to the rubber industries where shipments are only fractionally higher at $356 million than their previous peak in 1956, both the leather products industries and the miscellaneous industry group have shown a steady increase in shipments during the past four years. Shipments in the non-ferrous metal industries although twenty-two percent higher in 1959 at $1,694 million than in 1958 ($1,385 million) are only fractionally higher than shipments in 1957 and eight percent lower than shipments in 1956 ($1,844 million).

Consideration of the movement of shipments by economic-use groupings shows considerable contrast between the different groups. Shipments in the consumer goods industries, perishable, semi-durable and durable, have all been increasing steadily from 1956 to reach a peak in 1959 of $6,724 million, six percent higher than shipments in 1958 of $6,337 million. The motor vehicle industry group none of which, for statistical not conceptual reasons, is included in durable consumer goods and the industries producing largely for export both show a greater increase in 1959 shipments, up by ten and eleven percent respectively from 1958 than the consumer goods industries but neither has yet regained the level of shipments sustained in 1956. The construction goods group where shipments increased only fractionally this year has been at a consistently high level for the past three years. The decline in shipments of heavy transportation equipment has already been referred to; at the same time other capital goods industries although higher this year than last year have not reached the level of shipments shown in 1957. Both the intermediate goods industries and industries in the unclassifiable group which includes such varied industries as printing and publishing, petroleum refining, sheet metal products and plywood and veneer mills increased shipments in 1959 as compared with 1958, by sixteen and six and one-half percent respectively but shipments in that year, in both industry groups, were lower than in 1957.

INVENTORIES: The preliminary estimate of the book value of total manufacturing inventory owned at the end of 1959 at $4,065 million is nearly two percent higher than the revised November estimate of $3,997 million. The December level is the highest since March 1958 and almost equal to the value in that month, a point reached in the decline which started in November 1957 and continued with only minor pause in September 1958 until December of that year. The movement during 1959 has been much more varied but the trend has been upward.

The movement in the component parts, raw materials, goods in process and finished products has also shown considerable variation during the year. Although the peak in stocks of finished products was reached in March to be followed by a steady but slight decline from April to September, the level at no time during 1959 fell to the level of the last six months of 1958. The level of the stocks of finished goods in relation to shipments has been significantly lower in the last three quarters of 1959 as compared to the ratios prevailing during 1957 and 1958 reflecting the upward trend in shipments during this period.

Inventories of raw materials and goods in process during the past year have not shown the same upward trend although it is apparent that most industries have higher levels of both at the end of this year than at the end of 1958 and that both are lower than stocks held during 1957 and the first half of 1958. Goods in process inventory holdings cannot actually be discussed in total, they show a decline of nearly six percent in December 1959 from the end of 1958, as significant differences appear in the trend between the industries manufacturing under progress payment arrangements and other industries. The value of inventory held but not owned is largely included with goods in process inventory and this part of inventory has fallen sharply from the September 1958 peak of $522 million to $324 million at the end of December 1959, a decline of nearly forty percent. The decline from the year-end in 1958 to December 1959 was thirty-two percent. Generally it appears as if both raw materials and goods in process inventories are being sustained at a high and fairly stable level somewhat below the levels reached in 1957 when stocks were being built up.

Industry differences are however considerable and the largest industry group, foods and beverages has, along with the tobacco industry, been moving quite differently from the general pattern during the last three years. In these industries goods in process inventories reached a peak at the end of this year, having risen steadily each year end from 1956. Raw material stocks were lower at the end of 1957 than at the end of 1956 but were higher at the end of 1958 and rose again at the end of this year. The steady increase in shipments however has prevented a comparable rise in stocks of finished goods which in foods and beverages have been successively lower at the end of December each year from 1957 to 1959, this has resulted in very low ratios of stocks of finished products to shipments during the year. The situation in the tobacco industry is similar except that stocks of finished goods reached a peak in 1957, were lower at the end of 1958, and were six percent higher at the end of this year than the year before.

The textile industries, both S.I.C. group 5 and 6, show an interesting pattern of stability in goods in process inventory during the past four years, a decided drop in raw materials stocks in 1958 and 1959 as compared with 1956 and 1957, with stocks of finished goods rising from the beginning of 1956 through the first six months of 1958 and declining from then until the beginning of this year. Steadily higher shipments in 1959 have resulted in a considerably lower ratio of finished products to shipments during this year than in the two previous years.

The main industries producing under progress payments are included in three S.I.C. groups: 10 - Iron and Steel Products; 11 - Transportation Equipment; and 13 - Electrical Apparatus and Supplies. In all three groups inventories held but not owned have fallen during 1959 but in only one group, transportation equipment, has the decline been reflected in a decline in total goods in process inventory. In the iron and steel products industry the amount of inventory held under progress payments is fairly high, something over a third of goods in process, but the decline in this industry has been moderate; in the electrical apparatus and supplies group it ran at almost forty percent of total goods in process from 1956 to mid 1958 but has fallen now to about twenty percent. In the transportation equipment group inventory held but not owned fell from $336 million at the end of 1958 to $201 million at the end of this year, a decline of forty percent which was reflected in a decline of twenty-five percent of the total goods in process inventory.

This contrast in the level of goods in process inventories is borne out by consideration of the levels shown in the economic-use groups where the consumer goods industries and the perishable consumer goods industries in particular show an increase in goods in process inventories and the capital goods industries show a decided decline. This decline is again the result of the substantial decline in the inventory held but not owned in the transportation equipment group. The separation of the motor vehicle industries in the economic use grouping brings out the very great increase in goods in process in this industry during the year as it increased by twenty percent to $92 million to bring it almost up to the level obtained at the end of 1956. The increase is also considerably higher than the increase in goods in process inventory in the durable goods industries which rose by twelve percent between the end of December 1958 and the end of December 1959. Here again the level is back to the same level as of December 1956 although in this industry group the level fell much less and remained quite stable in the intervening years.

ORDERS: The value of manufacturers' unfilled orders at the end of 1959 reversed the trend of the previous two years to show an increase of six percent as compared with the previous year-end. The level of unfilled orders although only four percent below the level at the end of 1957 is still only seventy-three percent of the value of unfilled orders at the end of 1956.

The increase in the level of unfilled orders during this past year being accompanied by an increase of seven percent in shipments was the result of a considerable increase in new orders particularly in the last three quarters of the year. New orders in the last three quarters not only ran eleven percent above new orders in 1958 but averaged $6,027 million a quarter a rate considerably higher than in any of the past four years.

The increase in new orders in 1959 was general throughout the industry groups the exception being in durable consumer goods and motor vehicles. The increase in new orders in the capital goods industries and especially in the heavy transportation goods industries being particularly noteworthy in view of the very substantial decline in orders in 1957 and 1958. Unfilled orders in the heavy transportation goods industries were still at the end of December some six percent below the level at the end of 1958 and almost forty percent below the level at the end of 1956.

(1) Includes Pig Iron, Steel Ingots and Castings, Rolled Iron and Steel Products and Ferro-Alloys. (2) The value of Inventory held but not owned in this industry is very small, and sample coverage is not adequate to provide separate data. Estimates of this type of inventory are included with Total Inventory Held; for all practical purposes this can be considered the equivalent of Inventory Owned as well.

(1) Part of the change in values from December 1958 to January 1959, is the result of the discontinuing of Trading Outlet operations for goods of own manufacture by some of the establishments reporting in the Electrical Apparatus Industries group. The sales and inventories previously shown in Trading Outlets are now included in the relevant manufacturing industries and industrial groups.

INDUSTRIAL GROUPINGS

The industries shown in the Standard Industrial Classification Groups and the Economic Use Groups are listed below.

A single asterisk (*) preceding the individual industry title indicates that the industry is shown separately in Table 5 - Statistics for Selected Individual Industries.

A double asterisk () preceding the individual industry title indicates that the industry is shown in Table 5 combined with one or more other industries. The industries grouped are listed in footnotes to the table.

The bracketed letters following the individual industry titles indicate the statistical series - shipments, inventories and orders-in which the industry is included monthly: (s) means the industry is included in the shipments series; (i) in the inventory series; and (o) in the orders series. Industries for which monthly coverage is not indicated are included in the all-industry and group totals estimates as described on page 79.

CONCEPTS, METHODS AND LIMITATIONS

C O N C E P T S

PLANT SHIPMENTS, ORDERS, AND INVENTORIES (Tables 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7):

Shipments - represent an estimated projection, on a monthly basis, of the latest available Gross Value of Factory Shipments from the annual Census of Industry. In the majority of cases, Census of Industry values include (a) sales from manufacturing plant of products made at the plant, (b) amounts received for repairs or custom work, (c) shipments of goods manufactured in the plant for further processing in another unit of the same company, and (d) shipments of finished products to manufacturers' sales branches for sale, for each establishment included. The value level used is defined as "factory selling value". Goods purchased for re-sale without further processing are not included. (1)

New Orders - This series is designed to indicate the rate at which new business is being received. It is defined as all New Orders Received during the period at estimated selling values. Thus it covers total new orders, net of cancellations, regardless of whether the orders will be filled from stock or as a result of activity during the same month (and, therefore, will also be reported as shipments in the month received) or whether they will be added to existing backlogs.

Unfilled Orders - are defined as estimated selling value, at the end of the period stated, of orders received but not yet shipped (or treated as a sale), irrespective of work done on them or of stocks from which they can be filled. (Since progress payments are treated for this survey as sales in the month received, total unfilled orders reported each month by firms operating on a progress payments basis are reduced by the total of progress accounts for these firms.) This definition of Unfilled Orders is therefore an expression in terms of future shipments values.

(1) There are a few exceptions to the definition of Census of Industry values given above:

- (i) In two industries, Sawmills, and Slaughtering and Meat Packing, custom work is valued at the estimated selling value of the product rather than by the amounts received for such work.
- (ii) In nine industries (Fish Processing, Veneer and Plywoods, Sawmills, Pulp and Paper, Non-Ferrous Metals, Smelting and Refining, Coke and Gas Products, Petroleum Products, and Miscellaneous Products of Petroleum and Coal) the Census of Industry values represent production of finished goods rather than shipments. For these industries the Census of Industry values are adjusted by change in finished products inventory before projection for the monthly series.
- (iii) In four industries, Fabricated and Structural Steel, Aircraft, Railroad Rolling Stock and Shipbuilding, the Census of Industry value is for "work done during the year", i.e. production of finished goods plus change in goods-in-process inventory during the year, rather than shipments. For these industries, the Census of Industry values are also adjusted by change in finished products inventory before projection for the monthly series.

There are three industries apart from those listed under (ii) and (iii) above, for which adjustments to Census of Industry values are made before projection for the monthly series. In the Flour Milling, Brewing and Fruit and Vegetable Preparations industries, all of which are characterized by large seasonal variations, many large firms operate on fiscal year periods (which are used in Census of Industry compilations) differing from the calendar year. In unusual years the projection of Census of Industry values for these industries, as if they represent calendar year values, could cause considerable distortion in the estimates. To avoid this, the Census of Industry values from 1954 on have been adjusted to estimated calendar year values before projection. This adjustment is based on values reported to the monthly survey.

Firms operating on long-term contracts represent a special problem for the monthly series. The value levels projected are those of the Census of Industry as described in the first paragraph (except for the four industries described under (iii) above). However, for the monthly series, all progress receipts on long-term contracts are included as sales in the month received, instead of the total sale being included in the month the sale is finalized. It is felt that this treatment gives a better indication of monthly activity but it does allow possible distortion of value levels in that, for the Census of Industry value which is being projected, any final sale will be recorded in one specific year, while the monthly series may have spread this sale over more than one calendar year. Since the bulk of the value of long-term contract work falls in the four industries noted (in (iii) above), for which adjustments for work done are made in compiling the Census of Industry value, this inconsistency does not affect the all-industry or group totals to any great extent.

Total Inventory Owned - represents the estimated book value of inventory owned by manufacturers in connection with manufacturing operations, whether held at plant or not, at the end of the period stated. It is made up of:

- (a) raw materials;
 - (b) goods in process;
 - (c) finished goods of own manufacture at plant and warehouse;
- less (d) value of inventory held but not owned. This item cannot be assigned to specific components.

Since the series relates to manufacturing inventory only, the value of inventory of goods purchased for re-sale without further processing is not included.

Inventory Held but Not Owned - represents, as far as possible, the portion of manufacturers' total inventory holdings which are no longer owned by the reporting manufacturers because of payments made on long-term contracts as work on these progresses. This item is applicable only to the relatively few industries where long-term contracts are common although, because of the nature of the item, the value per industry is high.

Because of variations in accounting methods there are a few cases where it is not possible to obtain values for this type of inventory - some firms treat progress receipts as sales and reduce book value of inventory as payments are received; in some of these cases they no longer have records of actual holdings above the book value level. Wherever estimates are available, these have been included, but the estimated value of inventory under this heading must be considered, to some extent, incomplete.

Total Inventory Held - represents the estimated total book value of manufacturers' inventory holdings in connection with manufacturing operations, regardless of ownership; it differs from total inventory owned because of the inclusion of inventory held under progress payments arrangements. It includes items (a) to (c) as shown above under total inventory owned.

Inventory Components: Raw Materials, Goods in Process, and Finished Products, are reported and compiled as on the books of each manufacturer, i.e. there has been no attempt to make definitions of components appropriate to each industry.

The inventory components are always a breakdown of total inventory held, not of total inventory owned. In industries where these two items differ, due to the inclusion of inventory held but not owned (see above), it is not possible to obtain value of inventory owned by components since, where separate progress accounts are maintained, firms concerned can only state that, of total holdings, a certain amount is no longer owned by them. It is fairly obvious that the bulk of such payments apply to goods in process holdings but due to time lags in shipments and to prepayments some of the total value of inventory held but not owned would be applicable to finished products or raw materials.

Any comparisons of shipments/inventory ratios should be made using total inventory owned, not total inventory held, since the latter includes values which have already been written off to sales. If shipments/inventory ratios are desired using inventory components, rather than total inventory, a reasonable approximation to total inventory owned by components would be obtained by assuming that all inventory held but not owned had been included with goods in process.

Industries and Groupings - All individual industries (Table 5) and the Standard Industrial Classification groupings of industries used in Table 3, are defined according to the Standard Industrial Classification Manual.

The Economic Use groups of industries (Table 4) were designed to facilitate the analysis of trends by a grouping based on the use made of each industry's products i.e. on the main demand factors affecting each industry. In drawing up this classification the groupings were designed to tie in with National Accounts concepts as closely as possible; as a result the three main groupings - Consumer Goods industries, Capital Goods industries, and Construction Goods industries - contain only industries producing mainly final products in each of these categories. Only industries in which substantially more than half the production is of items clearly belonging to one or other of these three specific categories or industries in which half the production falls into one such category and the remainder is scattered over two or more other categories, were assigned to one of the main groupings. All other industries were assigned to a miscellaneous category which was sub-divided into four further groupings of related industries: Industries Producing largely for Export, Intermediate Goods and Supplies, Motor Vehicles and Related Industries, and a final unclassifiable group. The latter groupings cut across the Economic Use criteria to some extent. For further detail on the considerations leading to the assignment of industries for these groupings reference should be made to the December, 1955 report.

TRADING OUTLETS SALES AND INVENTORIES (Table 8): See Page 72.

Trading Outlets are defined as any establishments operated by manufacturers, apart from their plants (or plant warehouses), which carry stocks and make sales direct to customers. Sales offices which merely arrange sales but do not carry stock or which carry small quantities for demonstration purposes are not included. Sales arranged by outlets carrying stock but shipped direct from plant are excluded wherever possible. Inventories of trading outlets include any holdings at warehouses which serve the outlets. Other warehouses, unless they have sales staffs, are excluded.

The Trading Outlets series has two purposes:

- (a) To clarify the manufacturing shipments and inventory series by excluding distribution activity (the extraneous activity which is most commonly included in reports by manufacturers) so that the manufacturing series is confined, as far as possible, to plant activities only at plant value levels;
- (b) To provide as complete and consistent a series as possible on manufacturers' distributional activity, so that this can be combined with the manufacturing series, if desired, for analytical purposes; or combined with data for independent wholesalers to provide a more complete picture of current wholesale activity than has previously been available.

Trading Outlets may or may not be separately incorporated wholesale companies. The majority of them are not separately incorporated. Any separately incorporated wholesale company owned by a manufacturing company or by a group of manufacturing companies is, however, included if the bulk of its sales are of goods manufactured by the owning or associated companies. Since it is obvious from the reports received that almost all unincorporated outlets handle mainly the products of the owning manufacturing company the Trading Outlets series may be taken to represent the activities of establishments the main function of which is to distribute the products of the manufacturing companies which own them.

This series was first published a year ago in the December 1958 bulletin. It is still to some extent in the experimental stage in the sense that the universes which are being projected monthly are not necessarily final, and the levels of the published data are, therefore, subject to revision over the next few years. In addition, only part of the total material collected for the series is considered adequate for publication at this time. It has, however, rectified to a large extent two areas of inconsistency in previous reports, one practical and the other conceptual.

The practical inconsistency was that many companies selling entirely or partially through their own sales organizations find it simpler to report total company sales monthly than to report "shipments leaving plant", which may be either final sales or shipments to their own selling outlets. Such reports were previously accepted in a large number of cases but were used to project the latest available Census of Industry values, which are generally defined as shipments from plant at plant selling value. For many of these companies it has now been possible to arrange for a monthly report covering an estimated value of plant shipments at plant selling value, in addition to the company sales figure. The former is now used for compilation of shipments values for Tables 1 to 5. To the extent that trends in the plant shipments series were being distorted by use of company sales values rather than plant shipments values this change represents an improvement. (It should, however, be noted that the change has not yet been possible in all relevant cases.)

The conceptual inconsistency was that, while shipments represented plant level shipments, the finished products inventories values previously represented total finished products owned by manufacturers, whether held at plant, warehouse or trading outlets, rather than plant finished products only. The two separate series, one for plant, and the other for trading outlets, now each cover sales and inventories for comparable activities.

(It should not, however, be assumed that the plant finished products series and the Trading Outlets inventory series are, when summed, the exact equivalent of the previous manufacturers' finished products series. As a matter of fact, they are reasonably close to being equivalent, but the former finished products series included some retail store operations of manufacturers (retail operations are excluded from the Trading Outlets series) and the Trading Outlet series includes a number of separately incorporated wholesale companies which were not previously included.)

The problems which have been raised by a separate series covering sales and inventories of Trading Outlets are due basically to difficulties of response. The major problems are:

- (a) In the cases remaining where it is still impossible to obtain plant level shipments values on a monthly basis it is often also impossible to obtain plant level finished products inventory holdings separately from Trading Outlets holdings. The inventory breakdown is, in these cases, available only at year-ends. There is, therefore, an element of uncertainty in the monthly finished products trends for the two series when used separately which did not exist when the two elements were combined. For one industry group, Tobacco Products, it was impossible to obtain separate Trading Outlets data, so total finished products inventory values for this group were left in the manufacturing series.

- (b) In a number of cases, Trading Outlet sales and inventory values, while easily available separately from plant values, are not available broken down as between "goods of own manufacture" and "goods purchased for re-sale". This is more often the case with separately incorporated wholesale companies than with other outlets. In most industry groups enough reports are available which distinguish between own and purchased goods to make a separation of values under this heading feasible. For one industry group, Petroleum Products, the separation is, however, not possible, so total sales and inventories have been included under the heading of "goods of own manufacture" for this group.
- (c) In a number of cases where the separation, by the appropriate reporting firms, of plant level shipments and Trading Outlets sales is not yet available it has been possible to estimate Trading Outlets sales of goods of own manufacture on the basis of the total sales figures for the companies concerned and the probable proportion of total sales which are being made through outlets. It did not, however, appear possible to estimate sales of purchased goods in these cases, because of the wide range of ratios of own to purchased goods in the sales values reported by the remaining companies. It is hoped that some improvement can be made in this area in the coming year. In the meantime, with the exception of the Electrical Apparatus and Supplies group where practically no estimating problem occurs, it is felt that the estimates of sales of goods purchased for re-sale do not yet warrant publication. This problem is not so acute for inventory values of goods purchased for re-sale, since year-end values at least are generally available for own and purchased goods separately, but it is felt that publication of this item should be postponed until comparable sales values are available.

Many of the companies operating trading outlets are multiple-unit firms with operations crossing two or more individual industries. No attempt has been made to obtain detail at this level for the Trading Outlets series. This means that the industry-group (e.g. Foods industries, Iron and Steel Industries) is the smallest unit for which data can be shown separately. There are a few cases where outlet operations cut across two industry-groups, and in these cases the values have been assigned to the group in which the bulk of the manufacturers' production falls.

Because of the relatively small number of companies included and because, on the whole, this type of operation tends to be large it can be expected that, when a company gives up its distributing organization or when new organizations are set up, the effect on the series will be to cause considerably larger sudden changes than are common in the plant shipments and inventory series.

METHODS

(a) Current Estimates -

For eight series (plant shipments, raw materials, goods in process, plant finished products, inventory held but not owned, unfilled orders, trading outlets sales, and trading outlets inventories,) current value estimates for each industry covered are made by applying the monthly percentage changes shown by the unweighted group of reporting firms in each industry to the latest available benchmark values for the same industries. Industries not covered are carried at the latest available benchmark levels.

(The above is subject to a few exceptions. In one industry, reporting firms are treated as a stratum sample, rather than as an unweighted group. In three industries, available physical data on stocks and shipments are valued using price indexes. In three industries, shipments estimates are based on employment data and price indexes.)

Total inventory held in each industry is the sum of the estimated values for raw materials, goods in process, and finished products. Total inventory owned in each industry is calculated by deducting the estimated value for inventory held but not owned from estimated total inventory held. Value of new orders in each industry is derived from estimated shipments and unfilled orders using the formula "Unfilled Orders at end of previous month plus Net New Orders during month less Shipments during month equals Unfilled Orders at end of Current month".

(b) Benchmark Revisions -

As new benchmarks become available, estimates for the year to which the benchmarks apply are revised as follows:

- For the plant shipments series, the Census of Industry value for the year for each industry is spread by months according to the trend shown by reporting firms in the original estimate for that year.

- For the trading outlets sales series, the estimated value for the year, obtained from the Annual Trading Outlets survey, for each industry is spread by months according to the trend shown by reporting firms in the original estimate for that year.

- For the five basic inventory series (raw materials, goods in process, plant finished products, inventory held but not owned and trading outlets inventory) and the unfilled orders series, where the benchmark values apply to the Year-End rather than to the entire year as in the shipments series, the error in the original estimate for the year-end for each industry is assumed to have accumulated equally over all twelve months of the year (i.e., one-twelfth of the amount of the error is added to the original estimate for January; two-twelfths is added to the original estimate for February; three-twelfths to March and so on).

- The three derived series (total inventory held, total inventory owned, and new orders) are re-calculated on the basis of the revised data for the other six series.

LIMITATIONS TO THE USES OF THE DATA IN THIS REPORT

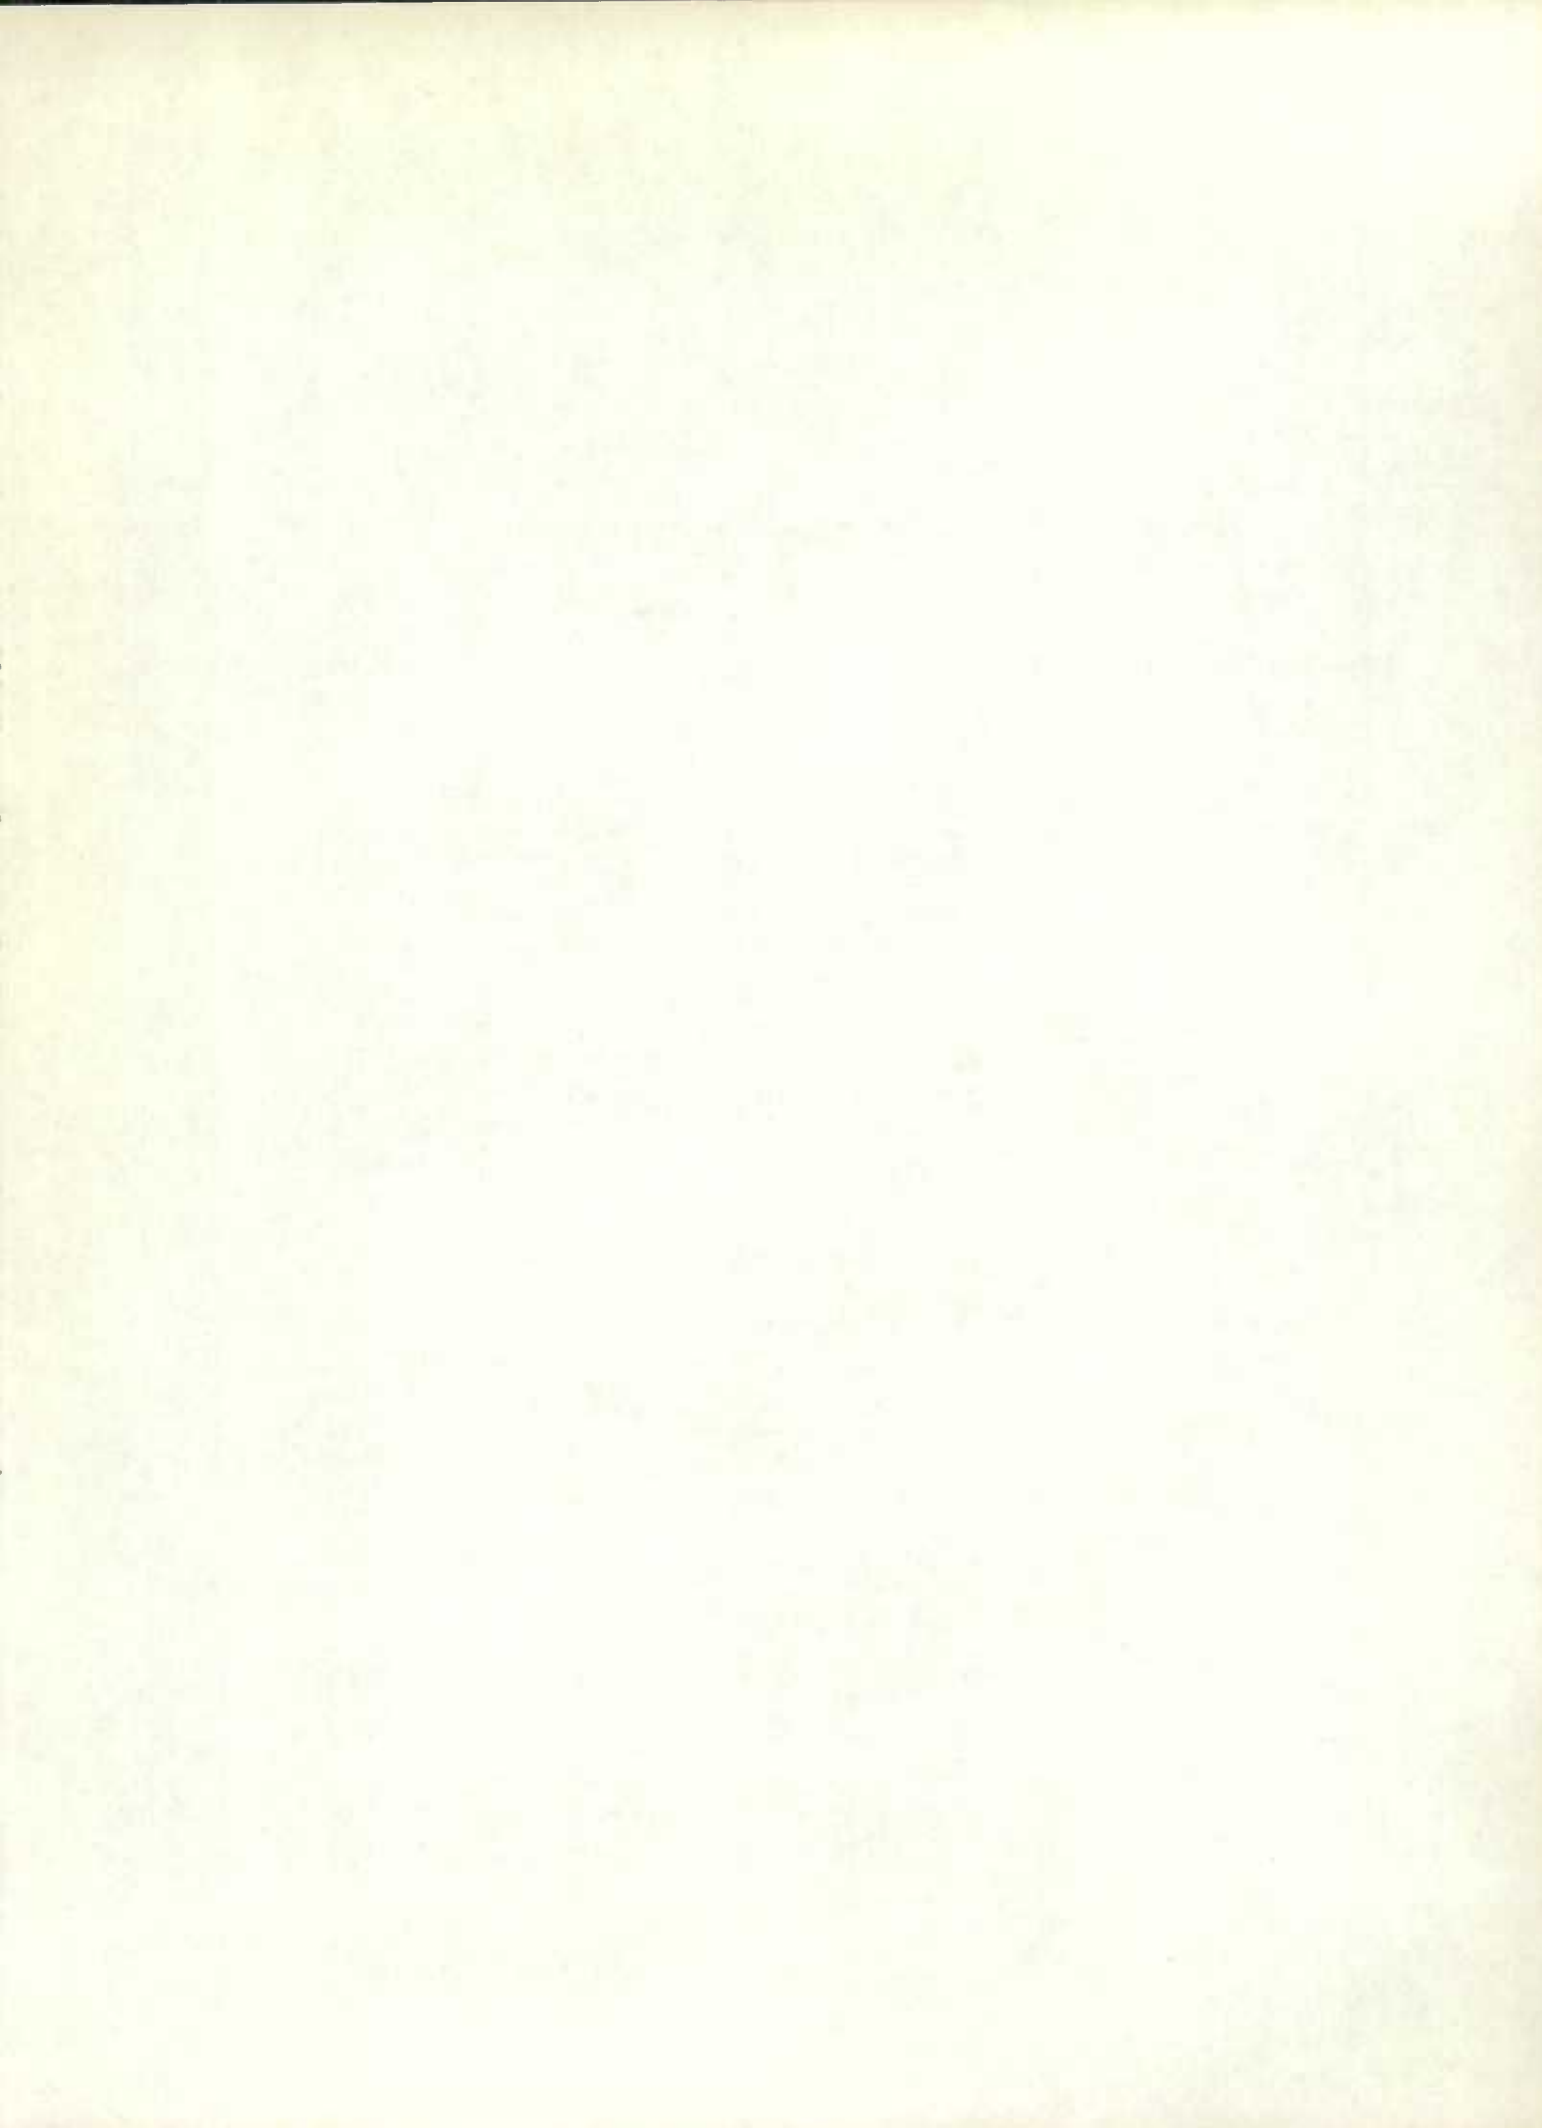

- (1) Data for individual industries should not be interpreted as commodity data, since very few industries produce only one commodity or only one class of commodities.
- (2) Since the series are in terms of current values, changes over time may be the result of both price and volume changes. Some indication of the extent to which changes in value are due to price changes, thus isolating the physical change which has taken place, can be obtained by reference to the wholesale price index. This procedure is, however, inadequate for anything more than a general indication of trends. The main problem is that the wholesale price index is a commodity price index, while the shipments, orders, and inventory series are industry series with the possibility of changes in commodity content over time. These changes in commodity content could seriously affect the weighting pattern to be applied to price indexes considered applicable for any specific industry. In considering inventory values turnover rates and valuation methods are other important variables which should be taken into consideration but for which adequate data are seldom available.
- (3) Shipments data do not necessarily represent market sales for the manufacturing universe.
(a) Apart from the few exceptions as noted under (b) below they are defined (see Page 72) to include total movement of goods out of manufacturing plants (or, in some cases, divisions of plants); shipments of goods for further processing by other plants of multiple-unit companies are, therefore, included as well as shipments for sale. (b) In a few special cases, the Census of Industry values include goods in-process change, and for these cases progress receipts on long-term contracts are included as shipments as they occur, rather than at the time sales are finalized. (c) Many manufacturers re-sell purchased goods, in addition to sales of their own products and these re-sale items are not included.
- (4) The component breakdown for inventories is on an establishment, not a commodity, basis. Since each manufacturer reports inventories as on his own books, both for the monthly and annual surveys, and since a number of industries contain plants at various stages of processing, the finished products for one plant might represent commodities which would be considered raw materials or goods in process for another plant in the same industry. The composition of each industry must be studied before attempting to use the component breakdown as applicable to the industry as such, rather than to the firms in the industry.
- (5) For Unfilled Orders, the following reservations apply:
 - (a) The series, by definition, excludes plants producing entirely for stock. Since approximately 40% of manufacturing is done by such plants the trends shown are not necessarily applicable to manufacturing in general.
 - (b) Since the series is defined as "unshipped" orders, rather than "unproduced" orders, there is always the probability that some of the Unfilled Orders are accounted for in inventory holdings. The reduction of unfilled orders by progress receipts eliminates to a considerable extent the effect of large goods-in-process holdings in connection with long-term contracts, but the amount of the remaining inventory, either goods-in-process or finished products, which is held in connection with existing unfilled orders would be difficult to evaluate.
 - (c) The series includes total orders, not just those considered as "binding", so estimates of future shipments trends based on these may be overstated due to the possibility of cancellations.
 - (d) Unfilled Orders for all industries include to some extent a duplication due to the fact that orders for final products in one industry may result in orders to firms at secondary or primary stages of processing. Since the total gross value of shipments will contain the same duplication, this does not invalidate the series for purposes of analysis. However, the total impact of any one order on future shipments levels will not necessarily be shown in the Unfilled Orders series since at any stage an order may be filled from stock rather than added to existing backlogs.

- (6) The Economic-Use grouping of industries (Table 4). The difficulties involved in classifying both commodities, and industries on the basis of commodities made, are sufficient to limit the usefulness of this compilation to indications of trends only. The main difficulty is that many commodities may be used for different purposes which cut across classification lines. Depending on the use made of it, the same product may be a "final" product or a component part; or a final product may be used for consumption, capital equipment, or in construction. A second difficulty is that the basic data for this survey are in terms of estimates for individual industries not for commodity data. An industry is a group of establishments primarily concerned with the production of a specified product or class of products. Many establishments produce other commodities in addition to those with which they are primarily concerned and, as a result, very few industries can be considered "pure" in the sense that they produce only the product or class of products implied in their title. Therefore, many industries which might fall quite clearly into specified groups on the basis of the chief use of their main products are much less clear-cut when the additional commodities produced in the establishments concerned are considered.

In this classification only those industries in which substantially more than half the production is of items clearly belonging to a specified grouping or in which half the production is of such items and the remainder is scattered over two or more groups were assigned to the main categories; all industries which could not be so assigned were placed in the "Unclassifiable" category. This means that the inclusion of extraneous commodities is kept to a minimum. It does not, unfortunately, do anything about the fact that each category does not necessarily include all important relevant items. The grouping that is most seriously affected by the forced exclusion of relevant items is the Durable Goods sub-group of the Consumer Goods category. It does not contain the consumer portion of the Automobile industry and, in addition, it does not include the stove portion of Heating and Cooking Apparatus, since the latter industry had to be assigned to the Unclassifiable group. On the other hand, it does include two large industries with important production of items which should not be assigned to Consumer Durables - these are the Furniture industry, which produces office and store furniture as well as household furniture; and the Radios and Parts industry which also produces electronic equipment. The sub-category "Other Capital Goods Industries" contains the highest proportion of industries in which only about half of total production actually should be assigned to the specific grouping but where the remainder of production is dispersed over a number of other groupings. It is, however, felt that this dispersion is not so likely to result in distortion as is possible with the large specific items involved in the Consumers' Durable Goods group.

FOOTNOTES TO TABLES

- TABLE 1. - (1) Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia combined for monthly estimates.
- (2) Yukon and the Northwest Territories combined with British Columbia.
- TABLE 2. - (1) Annual shipments values differ slightly from published Census of Industry totals due to inventory adjustments for certain industries where Census of Industry data represent production rather than shipments values.
- (2) Part of the change in values from December 1958 to January 1959, is the result of the discontinuing of Trading Outlet operations for goods of own manufacture by some of the establishments reporting in the Electrical Apparatus Industries group. The sales and inventories previously shown in Trading Outlets are now included in the relevant manufacturing industries and industrial groups.
- TABLE 3. - (1) See footnote (1), table 2.
- (2) The value of Unfilled Orders for industries in S.I.C. groups - 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 12, 14, 15, 16 and 17 is small, and sample coverage is not adequate to provide separate estimates for them.
- (3) See footnote (2), table 2.
- (4) The value of inventory held but not owned in this group is very small, and sample coverage is not adequate to provide separate data. Estimates for this type of inventory are included with Total Inventory Held; for all practical purposes this can be considered the equivalent of Inventory Owned.
- TABLE 4. - (1) See footnote (2), table 2.
- (2) This grouping does not include the consumer portion of Motor Vehicles, nor of Heating and Cooking Apparatus; it does include the electronic equipment portion of Radios and Parts, (Telecommunication Equipment), and the office and store portion of Furniture. The bulk of Inventory Held but not Owned in this group is applicable to the electronic equipment portion of Radios and Parts.
- (3) This grouping does not include trucks and buses.
- (4) This group comprises only the 6 industries which cannot be fitted into any of the other groups because of the high proportion of total production exported. Shipments are not to be taken as total exports.
- TABLE 7. - (1) Ratios for this group were calculated using values of Total Inventory Held instead of values of Total Inventory Owned. See footnote (4), table 3.
- TABLE 8. - (1) Includes sales and inventories of purchased goods for the Petroleum Refining Industry.
- (2) See footnote (2), table 2.
- (3) This grouping includes industries from the Textile group, the Clothing group, the Transportation Equipment group, the Non-Ferrous Metal Products group, the Non-Metallic Mineral Products group, and the Miscellaneous Industries group. The Leather Products group and the Printing, Publishing and Allied Industries group are not included since no firms in these industries reported Trading Outlets. The Tobacco Products group is not included because Trading Outlet values cannot be separated from plant values.
