THE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES OF CANADA

Section A

SUMMARY FOR CANADA

1956

The improvement in manufacturing production begun in the summer of 1955 continued at an accelerated rate in 1956. The selling value of factory shipments at $21,636,748,986 was the highest on record and exceeded by 10.9 p.c. the high mark attained the previous year. In employment, however, the record was not so impressive. Although there was an increase of 4.2 p.c. in the number employed in 1956 as compared with 1955, the number was only 25,569 higher than the record number employed in 1953. Salaries and wages paid at $4,570,692,190 and value added by manufacture at $9,605,424,579 were the highest on record, exceeding the previous high of 1955 by substantial margins.

The physical volume of production in 1956 was 5.4 p.c. higher than in the previous year, while the increase in the value of factory shipments was 10.9 p.c. The greater increase in the value of factory shipments is accounted for by an increase in the wholesale prices of partly and fully manufactured goods. The output of durable goods rose by 7.4 p.c., while non-durables were 4.4 p.c. higher. The index for manufacturing as a whole in 1956 stood at 285.9. For non-durable goods it was 245.6 and for durable goods 348.9. These levels were in all cases the highest on record. Since the end of the war both the durable and non-durable sectors experienced an uninterrupted expansion in volume of production, the only exception being 1954 when the output of both durable and non-durable goods was lower than the previous year. Since 1946 durable goods rose by 70.1 p.c., non-durable goods by 36.3 p.c. and manufacturing as a whole by 50.6 p.c.

In the non-durable goods sector all groups, with the exception of textiles, reported increased activity in 1956 as compared with 1955. The greatest increase in volume of production was reported by the products of petroleum and coal group with a percentage increase of 14.8. The leather products which has experienced a long-term downward trend reported the second highest increase in volume with 8.2, followed by printing, publishing and allied industries with 7.9, rubber and rubber products 7.5, tobacco and tobacco products 7.3, beverages 5.1, clothing including knitting mills 4.7, paper products 4.5, chemicals and allied products 3.1, and foods 1.1. Textiles with a decline of 1.6 p.c. was the only group in the non-durable sector to report a decrease. In spite of the substantial increase in volume for manufacturing as a whole during 1954 and 1955, both textiles and clothing were still below the levels they attained in 1953.

In the durable goods sector all groups reported higher levels of production. The highest percentage increase of 14.1 was reported by the iron and steel products group. This was followed by non-metallic mineral products with 11.5, transportation equipment 6.0, non-ferrous metal products 5.5, electrical apparatus and supplies 2.8 and wood products 0.5. The transportation equipment group which was the only group in the durable goods sector to report a minor decline of 1.2 p.c. in 1955 reported an increase of 6.0 p.c. in 1956. Aircraft, automobiles, railway rolling stock and shipbuilding, all operated at higher levels. In spite of the improvement in 1956 the transportation equipment group was still about 15 p.c. short of the high level attained in 1953. The modest increase of 0.5 p.c. shown by the wood products group was the result of two counter movements. The increased volume needed to satisfy the requirements of the domestic boom in construction was just about counterbalanced by the decline in export sales. Exports of planks and boards which were valued at $326,445,303 in 1956 declined by 14.5 p.c. as compared with the previous year. Red cedar shingles and veneer and plywood were also lower with declines of 20.7 and 7.3 p.c. respectively.

The improvement in manufacturing operations which occurred during 1956 was the result of three main factors. First was the accelerated spending on capital goods, such as construction and machinery and equipment of all kinds which rose from $6,350,000,000 in 1955 to $8,024,000,000 in 1956, an increase of 26 p.c. This stimulated the durable goods industries to a marked degree, and is reflected in the increased output of pig iron which rose from 3,215,367 tons in 1955 to 3,568,203 tons in 1956, steel ingots and castings from 4,534,672 tons to 5,301,202 tons, aluminum from 612,543 tons to 620,321 tons, nickel from 174,928 tons to 178,515 tons, cement from 4,404,480 tons to 5,021,683 tons, and motor vehicles from 452,114 units to 471,350 units. The second factor was the improvement in the export demand for many Canadian manufactured commodities. Newsprint, whiskey, aluminum and its products, copper and its products, aircraft, lead and its products, non-farm machinery and synthetic plastics were all substantially higher in 1956 as compared with the previous year. Exports of wood pulp, nickel, automobiles and parts, artificial crude abrasives, and zinc and its products were moderately higher, while exports of planks and boards, red cedar shingles, veneer and plywood, wheat flour, farm machinery and fertilizers were considerably lower. The third factor was the impact on the consumer goods industries of the increase of about 425,000 in population as well as by the rise in labour income.

Ontario which is now recognized as one of the world's major industrial areas, accounts for approximately half of Canada's manufacturing production. Despite the great industrial progress made by other provinces, Ontario continues to maintain its predominance, and in 1956 accounted for 49.2 p.c. of the total value of factory shipments. Quebec with 30.6 p.c. of the total shipments ranks as the second largest industrial province, while British Columbia with 8.6 p.c. of the total ranks third.

The increased activity reported by the manufacturing industries during 1956 was not uniformly distributed as between provinces. From the point of view of numbers employed, British Columbia with an increase of 6.0 p.c. over 1955, once again made the greatest gain in manufacturing production. This was on top of an increase of 6.8 p.c. in 1955 and 2.2 p.c. in 1954. As a result of this uninterrupted expansion during the past few years, British Columbia is gradually increasing its share of the Canadian total. Alberta in 1956 reported the second highest expansion with an increase of 5.6 p.c. in employment, followed by Ontario with 4.5 p.c., Quebec 3.9 p.c., Nova Scotia 2.4 p.c., Newfoundland 1.4 p.c., New Brunswick 0.6 p.c., Saskatchewan 0.4 p.c., and Prince Edward Island 0.3 p.c.

The industrial expansion of Canada since Confederation has been phenomenal. In the past generation alone, Canada has changed from a country producing and exporting mainly primary products to a country that is increasingly producing and exporting manufactured products, until to-day manufactures account for about 30 p.c. of the value of all goods and services produced, and also rank as the leading employer of labour in Canada.

Canada is no longer on the fringes of industrialization but ranks among the world's most important manufacturing countries. Basic historical developments, such as the opening of the West and the magnitude of requirements of all kinds for World Wars I and II, have been followed by recent discoveries of far-reaching significance. Such events as the discovery of a major oil pool on the prairies in 1947, the discovery of large-scale deposits of iron and the successful search for uranium have given new dimensions to Canadian thinking and business planning. These are the factors that explain the records of capital expenditures year by year since the end of the War. Yet it is not the mere rate of expansion that is significant. There have been other periods when Canada's population has grown more rapidly and in many respects the rate of industrial expansion in the late 1920's was relatively as great as in the post-war years. The real significance of the latter period is that never before has there been an advance on such a broad industrial front.

The second point to be observed is the changing emphasis of Canadian manufacturing activity. By 1949 the period of post-war conversion was passed and Canada had entered a new phase of economic expansion which derived its dynamic from the discovery of new resources and the application of new processes. This meant that even the sharp recession in the United States in the year 1949 failed to have significant effects in Canada. The influence of Korea and the consequent rearmament program gave an added impetus to the expansion of Canadian industry and to the development of Canadian basic resources. Capital expenditures that contributed most to the defence of Canada were given priority. Additional capacity was created to meet requirements of the specialized defence program—aircraft, electronic equipment, ships and guns—many items of which had never before been produced in Canada. Measures such as steel control, credit regulations and deferred depreciation had the desired effect. A shift gradually took place toward the further expansion of basic industrial capacity and away from investment in consumer goods and services.

The stability of current levels of manufacturing is indicated by the fact that such activity is the result of business assessments of resources and market potentialities. Millions of dollars are being invested in oil because the prairies can produce oil as economically as other great fields on the North American Continent. Petro-chemical plants are being erected because the raw materials are readily at hand. Kitimat is based on the coincidence of abundant and cheap hydro-power and access to ocean transportation, both of which are essential to the low-cost production of aluminum. The exploitation of the Ungava iron deposits rests on the belief that the steel industry of the North American Continent will need the high-grade ores involved in order to meet continuing peace-time demands. No country is in a more favourable position than Canada to supply uranium for the production of atomic energy.

Of strategic importance, and probably of even greater long-term significance to the Canadian economy, has been the growing world-wide shortage of raw materials; a shortage born of rising levels of employment and income, and accentuated by the course of international events, especially since 1950. These demands have shown few signs of abating and they have led to substantial increases in Canadian primary manufacturing capacity, particularly in so far as the light metals, nickel, chemical fertilizers and the cheaper grades of paper are concerned.

In recent years the demands stemming from population growth and a rising standard of living have been noticeable at all levels. In food processing, a steady up-grading in the quality of foods sold on the domestic market has been even more important than population growth. The two together have almost doubled the dollar sales of processed foods in this country since 1945. And at the intermediate level other important changes have taken place. Many of Canada's new chemical plants, for example, have been built with the domestic consumer market in mind. Frequently using petroleum or natural gas as a source of raw material, they have gone a long way towards making Canada independent of imports in such categories as vanillin, nylon and rayon intermediates, and plastics for packaging and similar uses.

The tremendous development which has taken place in Canada during the past ten years is strikingly illustrated by the increase of 50.6 p.c. in the physical volume of manufactured products between 1946 and 1956 as compared with an increase of only 31 p.c. in the population. Part of this increase, resulted from an increased demand abroad for Canadian manufactured goods, part to the demands imposed on Canadian industry as a result of the expansion in the economy during the past decade, and part to the increase in the standard of living of the Canadian people. The increase of 70.1 p.c. in the output of durable goods consisting mainly of building materials, transportation equipment as well as machinery and equipment of all kinds reveals the extent of the contribution made by Canadian industry to the phenomenal expansion in the productive capacity of the country. Non-durable goods during the same period increased by 36.3 p.c. Although this increase is quite large it is, nevertheless, overshadowed by the much larger increase of 70.1 p.c. in the durable goods industries of the manufacturing sector.

With only one exception, all groups in both the durable and non-durable sectors recorded marked advances in volume output since 1946, the exception being leather products with a decline of 11.9 p.c. In the durable goods sector the most striking advance was made by the non-metallic mineral products group with an increase of 137.5 p.c. This was followed by electrical apparatus and supplies with 122.5 p.c., non-ferrous metal products 78.5 p.c., transportation equipment 67.9 p.c., iron and steel products 47.3 p.c. and wood products 46.6 p.c.

In the non-durable goods sector the greatest advance was achieved by the products of petroleum and coal group with 164.3 p.c. This was the highest increase of any group of either sector. Rubber and rubber products with an increase of 101.6 p.c. came second, followed by printing, publishing and allied industries with 64.7 p.c., beverages 60.6 p.c., tobacco and tobacco products 59.2 p.c., paper products 48.1 p.c., chemicals and allied products 26.5 p.c., foods 15.9 p.c., textiles 12.8 p.c., and clothing 2.0 p.c. The output of the leather products group declined by 11.9 p.c.

Manufacturing establishments reporting in 1956 numbered 37,428. Of these 783 were located in Newfoundland, 192 in Prince Edward Island, 1,402 in Nova Scotia, 1,004 in New Brunswick, 12,112 in Quebec, 13,215 in Ontario, 1,534 in Manitoba, 798 in Saskatchewan, 1,971 in Alberta, 4,393 in British Columbia and 24 in the Yukon and Northwest Territories. These plants furnished employment to 1,353,020 persons who received $4,570,692,190 in salaries and wages. They also shipped goods with a selling value at the factory of $21,636,748,986 and spent $11,721,536,889 for materials, while the value added by manufacture totalled $9,605,424,579.

The value added is obtained by subtracting the cost of materials, including fuel and electricity, from the gross value of products. The difference represents the value added to the materials by labour. It is this difference which the employer of labour uses to pay for the labour itself, the overhead expenses, interest and profits.

To calculate the value of production, it is necessary to adjust the value of shipments for the difference in the opening and closing inventories of finished goods and goods in process. As the census of industry schedules for 1952 and 1953 did not contain data on opening and closing inventories, no calculation can be made directly for value of production. For these two years, therefore, the value added is obtained by subtracting from the shipments the cost of materials, including fuel and electricity. The value thus obtained is somewhat different to the actual value. Beginning with 1954 it is again possible to obtain value of production figures, by adding to the value of shipments the changes in the inventory of finished products and goods in process. The figures for value added in 1954 and subsequent years are, therefore, comparable with 1951 and prior years.

A number of industries still report value of production. To calculate value added by manufacture for these industries, the value of materials used, including the cost of fuel and electricity, is subtracted from the value of production reported, no account is taken of inventory change. For this reason the figures on value added by manufacture for manufacturing as a whole or for major groups published in this report differ slightly from the calculated figures derived by using the formula for converting shipments to production values which is "Shipments plus closing minus opening inventories of finished goods and goods in process equals value of production". To illustrate this point 1955 figures for Canada will be used. These figures are as follows:

Value of factory shipments	19,513.9
Inventory of finished goods and goods in process:
Closing	1,738.6
Opening	1,619.7
Cost of materials used	10,338.2
Cost of fuel and electricity	457.8
Calculated value of production (19,513.9 plus 1,738.6 minus 1,619.7 - 19,632.8)
Value added by manufacture (19,632.8 minus 10,338.2 minus 457.8 - 8,836.8)

This is slightly different to the 8,753.5 figure given in Table 1. The difference is due to the fact that the figures for inventory change used in the formula are for manufacturing as a whole and include the figures for those industries still on a production basis and for which inventory changes have not been taken into account in calculating their value added by manufacture.

⁴ Newfoundland is included for 1949 and subsequent years, however, figures for the fish processing industry, 1949 and 1950, are not available for this province and therefore not included.

THE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES OF CANADA

Section B

ATLANTIC PROVINCES

The Atlantic Provinces are of economic importance in a number of fields, such as pulp and paper, fish processing, sawmills and primary iron and steel. In Newfoundland manufacturing production is dominated by the forest and fisheries resources. Pulp and paper was the most important industry in 1956 with shipments valued at $68,085,288, followed by fish processing with $18,279,005. These two industries accounted for 70 per cent of the total production of the Province. In Prince Edward Island agriculture and fishing resources make butter and cheese, slaughtering and meat packing, and fish processing the leading industries. Nova Scotia is renowned for its coal mines and its fisheries as well as extensive forests and agricultural lands and is favoured with easy access by sea to the high-grade iron-ore supply of Newfoundland. On these resources are based the leading manufactures of primary iron and steel, fish processing, pulp and paper, shipbuilding and sawmills. In addition, an important petroleum refinery, railway rolling stock, cotton yarn and cloth and coke and gas plants add to the diversification of the Province. The forests of New Brunswick give a leading place to its pulp and paper and sawmilling industries. Other important manufacturing and processing activities are based on fish and agricultural resources.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, despite the lack of large rivers, have valuable sources of hydraulic power, a considerable portion of which has been developed. Tentative estimates give Newfoundland a potential of almost 1,000,000 h.p. at ordinary minimum flow, while in Labrador, the Hamilton River is outstanding as a potential source of power. Turbine installation at the end of 1956 totalled 336,750 h.p. in Newfoundland, 1,882 in Prince Edward Island, 177,018 in Nova Scotia and 164,130 in New Brunswick. Compared with Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, the installed power in the Atlantic Provinces, is very small, amounting to 679,780 h.p. This compares with a total of 1,191,745 in the Prairie Provinces and 18,403,048 in the whole of Canada.

Manufacturing establishments reporting in 1956 numbered 3,381 for the Atlantic Provinces as a whole. These plants furnished employment to 65,774 persons who received $178,707,950 in salaries and wages. They also shipped goods with a selling value at the factory of $845,867,291 and spent $464,478,173 for materials, while the value added by manufacture totalled $353,904,067.

Considering the Atlantic Provinces as an economic unit, pulp and paper was the leading industry in 1956 with factory shipments valued at $191,465,894. This was followed by fish processing with $81,202,927, primary iron and steel $51,321,212, sawmills $44,251,499 and railway rolling stock $33,758,676. These five industries accounted for 49 p.c. of the total value of factory shipments of the Atlantic Region. Other important industries, in order of value of factory shipments and with shipments valued at $10,000,000 or more, were: petroleum products, sugar refining, butter and cheese, shipbuilding, bread and other bakery products, slaughtering and meat packing, sash, door and planing mills, miscellaneous food preparations, printing and publishing, prepared stock and poultry feeds, breweries, miscellaneous iron and steel products, and coke and gas products.

For the Atlantic Provinces as a whole there was an increase of 1.5 p.c. in the number of persons employed and 10.6 p.c. in the value of factory shipments in 1956 as compared with the previous year. Not all industries, however, shared in the advance. Of the leading industries, fish processing with a loss of 8.4 p.c. in the value of shipments reported the greatest decline. This was followed by sawmills with a drop of 4.9 p.c. and shipbuilding with a drop of 4.2 p.c. The majority of the leading industries with shipments of $10,000,000 or more, however, reported increased shipments. The greatest gain of 97.4 p.c. was reported by the railway rolling stock industry, followed by primary iron and steel with 17.8 p.c. and pulp and paper 7.5 p.c. A notable feature of the 1956 manufacturing operations in the Atlantic Provinces was the expansion in the petroleum products industry in Nova Scotia, with shipments almost double the previous year.

THE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES

In the Atlantic region the program of industrial development has been more selective than in some of the other provinces. Fish processing, new sawmills, increased pulp-making capacity and the manufacture of non-metallic building materials like cement and gypsum products have accounted for well over half of the industrial growth. There are however, a few outstanding exceptions. Two sizeable defence plants have been established in Nova Scotia, one to repair and overhaul naval aircraft and the other to build and repair radar and related electronic equipment. Considerable development has taken place in Newfoundland. Besides plants for the manufacture of cement and gypsum wallboard and plaster, factories for producing boots and shoes, birch veneer, leather goods, industrial machinery and a leather tannery were established, thus broadening the industrial base of the province. With these exceptions, most of the developments in the Atlantic Provinces have been either small and scattered or confined to the modernization and expansion of manufacturing facilities that were already established at the close of World War II.

In spite of the rapid development in the Atlantic Provinces since 1949 manufacturing production did not quite keep pace with the development in the more industrialized provinces of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia. This is indicated by a slight drop in the Atlantic Provinces' share of the Canadian total from 4.52 in 1949 to 3.83 in 1956. In number of persons employed there was an increase of 2.4 per cent for the Atlantic Provinces as compared with an increase of 15.3 per cent for Canada as a whole. For salaries and wages paid the increase was 49.3 per cent as compared with 76.2 per cent for Canada, and in selling value of factory shipments the increase was 46.6 per cent for the Atlantic Provinces and 73.2 per cent for Canada as a whole.

Up to 1952 the increase in employment in the Atlantic Provinces was about the same as for Canada as a whole. Between 1953 and 1955, however, employment in the Atlantic Provinces declined by 6.0 p.c. while for Canada as a whole the decline was only 2.2 p.c. In 1956 the same situation prevailed. Employment in the Atlantic Provinces rose by 1.5 p.c. as compared with 1955, while for Canada as a whole the increase was 4.2 p.c. The increased employment since 1949 reported by Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia was offset by a drop 3.8 p.c. in New Brunswick, resulting in a net increase of only 2.4 p.c. for the Atlantic Provinces as compared with an increase of 15.3 p.c. for Canada. Selling value of factory shipments was 46.6 p.c. higher in the Atlantic Provinces while for Canada as a whole it was 73.2 p.c. higher.

³ Exclusive of fish processing.

THE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES OF CANADA

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

LES INDUSTRIES MANUFACTURIÈRES DU CANADA

Section C
PROVINCE DE QUÉBEC

Quebec with about 30 per cent of Canada's total selling value of factory shipments ranks as the second largest industrial province in Canada. The manufacturing industries of Quebec in 1956 shipped goods with a record selling value at the factory of $6,622,502,699 and represents an increase of 11.8 p.c. over the previous year. Accompanying the increase in shipments was an increase of 3.9 p.c. in the number of persons employed which totalled 446,137. Although the value of factory shipments in 1956 was 22.9 p.c. higher than in 1953 the number of persons employed increased only by 1.0 p.c. This result conforms to the trend in recent years for employment to increase at a lower rate than volume of production. With the increase in automation and technological improvements this trend should continue even at a more accelerated pace. Indicative of this trend is the increase since 1949 for Canada as a whole of 31.8 p.c. in the volume of production as compared with an increase of only 15.5 p.c. in the number of persons employed. Since indexes of volume of production are not available by provinces no comparison can be made for Quebec. There is no doubt, however, that the volume of production in Quebec in 1956 was the highest on record.

The recovery in 1955 from the minor recession of 1954 continued at an accelerated pace in 1956. All groups reported higher value of shipments in 1956 as compared with the previous year. For the province as a whole the increase was 11.8 p.c. as compared with an increase of 10.9 p.c. for Canada. In employment too, all groups with the exception of three reported increases. Employment in the clothing group which provides work to the greatest number of workers was about the same as in 1955. Employment in the chemicals and allied products group was slightly lower, while the products of the petroleum and coal group reported a drop of 9.4 p.c. For manufacturing as a whole in Quebec there was an increase of 3.9 p.c. in the number of persons employed as compared with an increase of 4.2 p.c. for Canada.

Indexes of physical volume measure changes in production more accurately than any other indicators. Since such indexes are not available for provinces, changes in employment have to be considered as reflecting more or less the growth or decline of the various sectors of the manufacturing field. In comparing the changes in employment between the record high of 1953 with that of 1956 it is found that in spite of an increase of 22.9 p.c.

Le Québec, qui compte environ 30 p. 100 de la valeur totale de vente des expéditions des fabriques, est la deuxième province industrielle du Canada. En 1956, la valeur de vente à la fabrique des marchandises expédiées par les industries manufacturières du Québec a atteint le sommet de $6,622,502,699, dépassant ainsi de 11.8 p. 100 le montant de l'année précédente. Le nombre des employés a aussi augmenté de 3.9 p. 100 et se chiffrait par 446,137. Même si la valeur des expéditions de 1956 marquait une avance de 22.9 p. 100 sur 1953, le nombre des employés n'a augmenté que de 1 p. 100. Cet écart est conforme à la situation en cours depuis quelques années, à savoir que l'emploi augmente moins vite que le volume de la production. L'automatisation et les progrès techniques, en s'intensifiant, vont probablement accentuer encore davantage cet écart. On voit une preuve de cette situation dans le fait que depuis 1949 et pour l'ensemble du Canada le volume de la production a grossi de 31.8 p. 100 et le nombre des employés, de seulement 15.5 p. 100. Comme on ne dispose pas d'indices provinciaux du volume de la production, il est impossible de comparer le Québec. Il ne fait aucun doute, toutefois, que le volume de la production dans le Québec en 1956 a été le plus fort jamais signalé.

La reprise commencée en 1955, après la légère récession de 1954, s'est accélérée en 1956. Dans tous les groupes, les expéditions de 1956 ont donné une valeur accrue sur l'année précédente. Pour l'ensemble de la province, l'augmentation a été de 11.8 p. 100, comparativement à 10.9 p. 100 pour le Canada. L'emploi aussi s'est accru, si ce n'est dans trois groupes. Le groupe du vêtement, qui compte le plus grand nombre d'employés, n'a guère changé depuis 1955. L'emploi a diminué un peu dans celui des produits chimiques et parachimiques; il est tombé de 9.4 p. 100 dans celui des dérivés du pétrole et du charbon. Dans l'ensemble de la fabrication dans le Québec, le nombre d'employés a augmenté de 3.9 p. 100, tandis qu'au Canada entier, il a augmenté de 4.2 p. 100.

Les indices du volume physique mesurent les variations de la production avec plus de précision que tout autre indicateur. Comme ces indices ne sont pas connus pour les provinces, on juge que les fluctuations de l'emploi reflètent plus ou moins celles des divers secteurs de l'industrie manufacturière. Si l'on observe le mouvement de l'emploi entre le sommet de 1953 et celui de 1956, on constate que, malgré une hausse de 22.9 p. 100 de la valeur des expédiin value of shipments for the province as a whole, employment went up only 1.0 p.c. during the same period. The greatest decline in employment since 1953 was reported by the transportation equipment group with a drop of 22.4 p.c. This was followed by products of petroleum and coal with a drop of 6.7 p.c., leather products 6.6 p.c., clothing 5.2 p.c., and textiles 3.0 p.c. All the other groups reported more employees in 1956 than in 1953. Of these, electrical apparatus and supplies with an increase of 18.8 p.c. reported the greatest expansion in production. This was followed by non-metallic mineral products with 17.1 p.c., paper products 14.6 p.c., printing, publishing and allied industries 9.8 p.c., rubber goods 9.5 p.c., non-ferrous metal products 6.4 p.c., miscellaneous industries 6.4 p.c., foods and beverages 5.0 p.c., iron and steel products 4.5 p.c., chemicals and allied products 2.6 p.c., knitting mills 2.1 p.c., wood products 2.1 p.c. and tobacco and tobacco products 1.4 p.c.

Quebec has developed its $6.6 billion manufacturing output with such leading industries as pulp and paper, non-ferrous metal smelting and refining, petroleum products, slaughtering and meat packing, cotton yarn and cloth, men's and women's clothing, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes, synthetic textiles and silk, railway rolling stock, leather footwear and miscellaneous electrical apparatus. In common with the rest of Canada, Quebec experienced a great industrial expansion following the second World War. Nor was this expansion confined to the existing industrial areas, but spread to many towns and villages in the accessible areas of the province.

Quebec's leading industry is pulp and paper with an output of approximately $618 million in 1956. Quebec is a principal world centre for the production of newsprint with 55 major pulp and paper plants concentrated in the Trois-Rivières and Shawinigan Falls districts as well as along the Saguenay, Ottawa, and St. Lawrence rivers. The production of non-ferrous metals has expanded considerably during the past decade. The output of aluminum in Canada has made impressive strides during the past years and reached a record total of 620,321 tons in 1956. After the end of the war, with the disappearance of the demands for defense, surplus productive capacity appeared. New civilian uses were found to take up the slack, so that by 1948 the industry was producing 75 p.c. of its peak wartime output. To this has been added the defense demands created by the Korean war and in 1952 the peak level of production attained in 1943 has again been reached. Quebec, with its new furniture factories, its new titanium smelter and its expanded aluminum-making facilities, is challenging Ontario's long established lead in a number of the wood and non-ferrous metal products industries.

tions dans la province entière, l'emploi n'a avancé que de 1 p. 100. La réduction la plus forte de l'emploi depuis 1953 a été marquée par le groupe du matériel de transport, soit 22.4 p. 100. Les autres baisses ont été marquées par les dérivés du pétrole et du charbon (6.7 p. 100), les produits du cuir (6.6 p. 100), les vêtements (5.2 p. 100) et les textiles (3 p. 100). Tous les autres groupes ont compté plus d'employés en 1956 qu'en 1953. En particulier, le groupe des appareils et fournitures électriques a marqué la plus forte augmentation de production, soit 18.8 p. 100. Voici le pourcentage d'augmentation des autres groupes: produits des minéraux non métalliques, 17.1; produits du papier, 14.6; impression, édition et industries connexes, 9.8; articles en caoutchouc, 9.5; produits des métaux non ferreux, 6.4; industries diverses, 6.4; aliments et boissons, 5; produits du fer et de l'acier, 4.5; produits chimiques et parachimiques, 2.6; tricots, 2.1; produits du bois, 2.1; et tabac et produits, 1.4.

Grâce à des industries telles que la pâte de bois et le papier, la réduction et l'affinage des métaux non ferreux, les dérivés du pétrole, les abattoirs et conserveries de viande, les filés et tissus de coton, le tabac, cigares et cigarettes, les textiles synthétiques et soie, le matériel roulant de chemin de fer, les chaussures en cuir et divers appareils électriques, le Québec a porté sa production manufacturière à 6,622 millions de dollars. Comme le reste du pays, il a été témoin d'une forte expansion industrielle à la suite de la seconde guerre mondiale. Cette expansion ne s'est pas limitée aux seules régions industrielles existantes, mais s'est étendue à nombre de villes et de villages des régions accessibles de la province.

La principale industrie de la province de Québec est celle de la pâte de bois et du papier, dont la production a été d'environ 618 millions de dollars en 1956. Principal centre mondial de production de papier-journal, le Québec possède 55 grandes pulperies-papeteries, qui se concentrent dans les régions de Trois-Rivières et de Shawinigan-Falls ou s'échelonnent le long du Saguenay, de l'Outaouais et du Saint-Laurent. La production de métaux non ferreux a sensiblement augmenté depuis dix ans. Celle d'aluminium a fait des bonds impressionnantes au Canada depuis quelques années et a atteint le chiffre sans précédent de 620,321 tonnes en 1956. La guerre terminée et, partant, la disparition de la demande de défense, la province disposait d'une productivité excédentaire, qui a été absorbée par de nouveaux usages, de sorte qu'en 1948, l'industrie atteignait 75 p. 100 de sa production maximum de temps de guerre. A cela est venue s'ajouter la demande créée par la guerre de Corée, et, en 1952, la production réatteignait son niveau maximum de 1943. Le Québec, avec ses nouvelles manufactures de meubles, son nouveau smelter de titane et ses installations agrandies pour la production d'aluminium, menace de ravir à l'Ontario la prédominance qu'on lui reconnaissait depuis longtemps dans un certain nombre d'industries des produits du bois et des métaux non ferreux.

There are several important factors which contributed to the great industrial development of the Province. To begin with, the geographic situation of the Province is extremely favourable, with an excellent large harbour 800 miles inland where seagoing vessels of heavy tonnage can dock. There is also an extensive highway system linking the small rural areas to the big industrial centres. Other significant factors include abundant forest resources, water power, minerals, agricultural lands and, of even more importance, an industrious and stable population.

Quebec is the richest of the Canadian provinces in both developed and undeveloped water-power resources. Its present installation, approaching 8,500,000 h.p., is more than 45 p.c. of the Canadian total. The Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission's Beauharnois development on the St. Lawrence river, with present capacity of 1,408,000 h.p., is to be expanded to a capacity of more than 2,000,000 h.p. The Shipshaw plant of the Aluminum Company of Canada on the Saguenay River is rated at 1,200,000 h.p. On the St. Maurice River, the Shawinigan Water and Power Company operates seven hydro-electric plants with a total capacity of 1,695,000 h.p. Up to 1955, two of these developments were the largest in the country. The completion of the Sir Adam Beck-Niagara Generating Station No. 2 on the Niagara River which raised the combined capacity of Stations Nos. 1 and 2 to 1,820,000 makes it the largest single installation in Canada.

Two of the most important industrial developments in Quebec today are the Ungava iron ore project and the new titanium industry. With the exploitation of the Ungava iron deposits on which it is believed, the future of the great steel industries of this Continent rests, Quebec's industrial base is being expanded to the point where the future industrial development of this Province is well assured.

Quebec's industries are not as diversified as those of Ontario, although a number have an output approximately half or more of the total Canadian production. The manufacture of pulp and paper occupies the premier position. Fifty years ago this industry had hardly come into existence in the Province and in the mid-1920's the annual gross value of production had not yet reached $100,000,000. By the end of 1956 it accounted for about 9 p.c. of the gross value of Quebec's manufactures and for about 42 p.c. of the Canadian total for this industry. Other large Canadian industries in which Quebec predominates are tobacco, cigars and cigarettes 93.1 p.c. of the Canadian total; women's factory clothing 69.9 p.c., cotton yarn and cloth 67.7 p.c., men's factory clothing 56.2 p.c., synthetic textiles and silk 51.8 p.c., miscellaneous electrical apparatus and supplies 46.5 p.c., non-ferrous metal smelting and refining 43.7 p.c., pulp and paper 42.5 p.c., railway rolling stock 42.0 p.c., miscellaneous chemical products 40.3 p.c., brass and copper products 40.1 p.c., acids, alkalies and salts 39.8 p.c., air-

Divers facteurs importants ont contribué à la grande expansion industrielle de la province: sa situation géographique particulièrement favorable, son excellent port de mer à 800 milles à l'intérieur, où les océaniques de gros tonnage peuvent mouiller; un vaste réseau routier, qui relie les petites régions rurales aux grands centres industriels et, facteurs non moins importants, ses abondantes ressources forestières, ses sources d'énergie hydraulique, ses minéraux, ses terres agricoles et, ce qui compte le plus, sa population industrielle et stable.

Le Québec est la province la plus riche en ressources hydrauliques exploitées ou latentes. Ses installations actuelles fournissent près de 8,500,000 h.p., soit plus de 45 p. 100 du total canadien. La Commission de l'hydro-électricité de Québec doit porter la puissance de son usine de Beauharnois, sur le fleuve Saint-Laurent, de 1,408,000 à plus de 2 millions de h.p. L'aménagement de Shipshaw, sur la rivière Saguenay, fournit 1,200,000 h.p. à l'Aluminium Company of Canada. Sur la rivière Saint-Maurice, la Shawinigan Water and Power Company exploite sept usines hydro-électriques dont la puissance globale atteint 1,695,000 h.p. Jusqu'en 1955, deux de ces aménagements étaient les plus considérables du pays. L'achèvement de la seconde centrale de la Sir Adam Beck-Niagara, sur la rivière Niagara, a porté la capacité globale de cette usine à 1,820,000 h.p. et en fait la plus vaste installation du genre au Canada.

Deux des développements industriels les plus importants du Québec sont les exploitations de minerai de fer dans l'Ungava et la nouvelle industrie de titane. Grâce à la mise en valeur des gisements de fer de l'Ungava, dont dépend, croit-on, l'avenir des grandes industries de l'acier du continent, les assises industrielles de la province de Québec sont étendues au point où l'avenir de la province dans ce domaine est assuré pour longtemps.

Les industries du Québec ne sont pas aussi diversifiées que celles de l'Ontario bien que certaines d'entre elles aient une production d'environ la moitié ou plus de la production nationale du Canada. L'industrie de la pâte et du papier vient en tête. Elle naissait à peine il y a cinquante ans et vers 1925 la valeur brute de sa production annuelle n'atteignait pas encore 100 millions de dollars. A la fin de 1956, elle est d'environ 9 p. 100 de la valeur brute de la production manufacturière de la province et d'environ 42 p. 100 de la valeur totale de la production de cette industrie au Canada. D'autres grandes industries canadiennes où la province de Québec occupe une place prépondérante sont: tabac, cigares et cigarettes, 93.1 p. 100 du total national; confection pour femmes, 69.9 p. 100; filés et tissus de coton 67.7 p. 100; confection pour hommes, 56.2 p. 100; textiles synthétiques et soie, 51.8 p. 100; fournitures et appareils électriques divers, 46.5 p. 100; réduction et affinage de métaux non ferreux, 43.7 p. 100; pâte et papier, 42.5 p. 100; matériel roulant de chemin de fer, 42 p. 100; produits chimiques divers, 40.3 p. 100; articles de laiton et de cuivre, 40.1 p. 100; acides, alcalis et craft and parts 37.1 p.c., and petroleum products 35.0 p.c. Two medium-sized industries with Canada shipments of over $100,000,000 also predominated in Quebec. These were leather footwear with 57.8 p.c. and medicinal and pharmaceutical preparations 47.1 p.c.

Quebec also predominates in a large number of the smaller industries. The candle industry contributed 95.2 p.c. of the Canadian total, men's clothing contractors 93.7 p.c., women's clothing contractors 82.2 p.c., cotton thread 79.5 p.c., children's clothing 76.9 p.c., embroidery, pleating and hemstitching 76.0 p.c., oiled and waterproofed clothing 75.3 p.c., dyeing and finishing of textiles 75.2 p.c., oilcloth, linoleum and other coated fabrics 73.0 p.c., narrow fabrics 72.6 p.c., fur dressing and dyeing 72.3 p.c., process cheese 70.9 p.c., lasts, trees and shoe findings 69.8 p.c., boot and shoe findings, leather 68.8 p.c., artificial flowers and feathers 67.8 p.c., miscellaneous clothing 67.4 p.c., miscellaneous textiles 61.4 p.c., fur goods 59.6 p.c., corsets 58.5 p.c., buttons, buckles and fasteners 51.6 p.c., asbestos products 50.5 p.c., woollen cloth 38.4 p.c., etc.

Manufacturing establishments reporting in 1956 numbered 12,112. These plants furnished employment to 446,137 persons who received $1,396,414,564 in salaries and wages. They also shipped goods with a selling value at the factory of $6,622,502,699 and spent $3,605,521,666 for materials. The value added by manufacture totalled $2,888,148,758.

The value added is obtained by subtracting the cost of materials, including fuel and electricity, from the gross value of products. The difference represents the value added to the materials by labour. It is this difference which the employer of labour uses to pay for the labour itself, the overhead expenses, interest and profits.

To calculate the value of production, it is necessary to adjust the value of shipments for the difference in the opening and closing inventories of finished goods. As the census of industry schedules for 1952 and 1953 did not contain data on opening and closing inventories, no calculation can be made directly for value of production. For these two years, therefore, the value added is obtained by subtracting from the shipments the cost of materials, including fuel and electricity. The value thus obtained is somewhat different to the actual value. Beginning with 1954 it is again possible to obtain value of production figures, by adding to the value of shipments the changes in the inventory of finished products. The figures for value added in 1954 and 1955 are, therefore, comparable with 1951 and prior years.

sels, 39.8 p. 100; avions et pièces, 37.1 p. 100; et dérivés du pétrole, 35 p. 100. Deux industries d'importance moyenne, dont les expéditions ont dépassé les 100 millions de dollars, ont également fait figure au Québec; ce sont l'industrie des chaussures en cuir (57.8 p. 100) et les préparations médicinales et pharmaceutiques (47.1 p. 100).

Le Québec tient aussi le premier rang dans nombre de petites industries, dont la chandellerie qui répond de 95.2 p. 100 de la production nationale; les entrepreneurs en confection pour hommes, 93.7 p. 100; les entrepreneurs en confection pour femmes, 82.2 p. 100; le fil de coton, 79.5 p. 100; les vêtements d'enfants, 76.9 p. 100; les broderies, plissés et ourlets à jour, 76 p. 100; les vêtements huilés et hydrofugés, 75.3 p. 100; la teinture et le finissage des textiles, 75.2 p. 100; le linoléum et autres tissus enduits, 73 p. 100; la rubanerie, 72.6 p. 100; l'appâtage et la teinture des fourrures, 72.3 p. 100; le fromage refait, 70.9 p. 100; les formes, embauchoirs et crêpins, 69.8 p. 100; les crêpins en cuir, 68.8 p. 100; les fleurs et plumes artificielles, 67.8 p. 100; les vêtements divers, 67.4 p. 100; les textiles divers, 61.4 p. 100; les articles en fourrure, 59.6 p. 100; les corsets, 58.5 p. 100; les boutons, agrafes et attaches, 51.6 p. 100; les produits d'amiante, 50.5 p. 100; les lainages, 38.4 p. 100; etc.

En 1956, 12,112 établissements manufacturiers ont fait rapport; ils ont fourni de l'emploi à 446,137 personnes qui ont reçu $1,396,414,564 de rémunération. La valeur de vente à la fabrique des marchandises expédiées a atteint $6,622,502,699; le coût des matières premières a été de $3,605,521,666 et la valeur ajoutée par la fabrication, de $2,888,148,758.

La valeur ajoutée par la fabrication s'obtient en soustrayant de la valeur brute des produits le coût des matières premières, du combustible et de l'électricité utilisés. La différence donne la valeur ajoutée aux matières premières par la fabrication. C'est sur cette différence que l'employeur paie sa main-d'œuvre, ses dépenses générales, ses intérêts et tire son bénéfice.

Pour obtenir la valeur de la production, il faut corriger la valeur des expéditions par la différence des stocks de produits finis au début et en fin d'année. Comme les questionnaires du recensement de l'industrie de 1952 et de 1953 ne comportaient pas de questions sur les stocks à l'ouverture ni à la fermeture, le calcul direct de la valeur de la production est impossible. Pour ces deux années, la valeur ajoutée s'obtient en soustrayant des expéditions le coût des matières premières, y compris le combustible et l'électricité. La valeur ainsi obtenue diffère quelque peu de la valeur réelle. A partir de 1954, il est possible d'établir la valeur de la production en corrigeant la valeur des expéditions par le changement des stocks des produits finis. On peut donc comparer la valeur ajoutée de 1954 et de 1955 à celle de 1951 et des années antérieures.

Certaines industries déclarent encore la valeur de la production. Pour obtenir la valeur ajoutée par la fabrication dans ces industries, on soustrait de la used, including the cost of fuel and electricity, is subtracted from the value of production, no account is taken of inventory change. For this reason the figures on value added by manufacture for the province as a whole or for major groups published in this report differ slightly from the calculated figures derived by using the formula for converting shipments to production values which is "Shipments plus closing minus opening inventories of finished goods and goods in process equals value of production". To illustrate this point 1955 figures for Quebec will be used. These figures are as follows:

	millions of dollars
Value of factory shipments	5,922.4
Inventory of finished goods and goods in process:
Closing	494.7
Opening	456.8
Cost of materials used	3,152.5
Cost of fuel and electricity	159.5
Calculated value of production (5,922.4 plus 494.7 minus 456.8 = 5,960.3)
Value added by manufacture (5,960.3 minus 3,152.5 minus 159.5 = 2,648.3)

This is slightly different to the 2,622.3 figure given in Table 1. The difference is due to the fact that the figures for inventory change used in the formula are for manufacturing as a whole and include the figures for those industries still on a production basis and for which inventory changes have not been taken into account in calculating their value added by manufacture.

valeur de la production celle des matières premières utilisées, y compris le combustible et l'électricité, sans tenir compte des changements des stocks. Voilà pourquoi la valeur ajoutée par la fabrication, telle que le rapport l'indique pour l'ensemble de la province ou pour les principaux groupes, diffère légèrement de la valeur obtenue en se servant de la formule de conversion des expéditions en valeur de production, à savoir: "Expéditions plus stocks des produits finis ou en cours de fabrication à la fermeture, moins ces mêmes stocks à l'ouverture, égale valeur de la production". A titre d'illustration, prenons les chiffres du Québec pour 1955. Les voici:

	millions de dollars
Valeur des expéditions des fabriques.....	5,922.4
Stocks des produits finis ou en cours de fabrication:
A la fermeture.....	494.7
A l'ouverture.....	456.8
Coût des matières premières utilisées	3,152.5
Coût du combustible et de l'électricité ...	159.5
Valeur de la production (5,922.4 plus 494.7 moins 456.8 = 5,960.3)
Valeur ajoutée par la fabrication (5,960.3 moins 3,152.5 moins 159.5 = 2,648.3)

Ce montant diffère légèrement des $2,622,300,000 du tableau 1. La différence tient à ce que les données du changement des stocks utilisées dans la formule portent sur l'ensemble des industries manufacturières et comprennent les chiffres des industries qui se fondent encore sur la production et pour lesquelles on n'a pas tenu compte des changements de stocks en calculant la valeur ajoutée par la fabrication.

Section D

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

The manufacturing industries of Ontario in 1956 reported $10,655,098,620 as the selling value of factory shipments, an increase of 10.8 p.c. over the previous year. This is the first time that shipments passed the ten billion mark and accordingly are the highest on record. Accompanying the increase in shipments was an increase of 4.5 p.c. in the number of employees which totalled 641,190 in 1956. Although the selling value of factory shipments in 1955 and 1956 exceeded the previous high reported in 1953 by 20 p.c., the number of persons employed was only 6,636 or 1.0 p.c. higher. This result conforms to the trend in recent years for employment to increase at a lower rate than volume of production. With the increase in automation and technological improvements this trend should continue at a more accelerated pace. Indicative of this trend is the increase since 1949 for Canada as a whole of 31.8 p.c. in the volume of production as compared with an increase of only 15.5 p.c. in the number of persons employed. Since indexes of volume of production are not available by provinces no comparison can be made for Ontario. There is no doubt, however, that the volume of production in Ontario in 1956 was the highest on record.

As Ontario is a major producer of durable goods, such as transportation equipment, primary iron and steel, telecommunication equipment and heavy electrical machinery, it therefore experiences wider fluctuations in manufacturing production than provinces producing nondurable or consumer goods. As a result, the small downturn of 1954 was more keenly felt by Ontario manufacturers. Factory shipments in that year were 3.9 p.c. lower as compared with a drop of 1.3 p.c. for Canada as a whole, while in employment the drop in Ontario was 5.6 p.c. while for Canada it was 4.5 p.c. Conversely, with the improvement during the past two years Ontario in 1956 reported an increase of 24.9 p.c. in factory shipments and 7.1 p.c. in employment as compared with 1954. This compares with increases of 23.3 p.c. and 6.7 p.c. for Canada as a whole.

Ontario, which is now recognized as one of the world's major industrial areas, accounts for approximately half of Canada's manufacturing production. Here, the proximity of raw materials, cheap hydroelectric power, and a strategic location in relation to export markets, not only on this continent but overseas, have been the decisive factors in the development of Ontario to its present industrial position. Most of the manufactures of the province and most of its population are located in Southern Ontario. This area has the inestimable advantage of bordering on the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway system which gives access westward to the heart of the continent and eastward to the shipping routes of the world, and which is also the source of most of Ontario's hydro-electricity. Many new industrial areas are being created as new industries and branch plants of established industries are increasingly being located in the smaller towns.

Despite the great industrial progress made by other provinces, Ontario continues to maintain its predominance and in 1956 produced about 49 per cent of the nation's manufactured goods. A vast increase of steel ingot capacity is being made possible by developments at Steep Rock Iron Mines. At Sarnia, huge investments have gone into the construction of new plant for a whole group of new products based on Alberta oil flowing through the Edmonton-Superior pipe line. Other significant developments are taking place in synthetic rubber, synthetic textiles, and industrial and consumer chemicals. Ontario has continued to gain in such traditional lines as motor vehicles, industrial and farm machinery, and the manufacture of household equipment. The same may be said of other "hard" goods like business and office machinery and electrical apparatus and supplies. Numerous plants making aircraft components and building materials have favoured the Toronto area, while chemical and synthetic textile plants have been rising in the vicinity of Sarnia and along the lower reaches of the St. Lawrence River between Cornwall and Kingston.

Ontario has the greatest diversification of manufacturing production of any province. Certain industries, such as the manufacture of motor vehicles, motor vehicle parts, heavy electrical machinery, agricultural implements, machine tools, starch and glucose, bicycles and the processing of raw tobacco are carried on practically in this province alone. Of the forty leading industries in Canada in 1956, a substantial number of them were dominated by Ontario's share of the total production. These industries, with the percentage which the production of each bears to that of the 1956 Canada totals are as follows: motor vehicles 98.8, motor vehicle parts 95.4, heavy electrical machinery 89.7, rubber goods 81.5, primary iron and steel 78.1, telecommunication equipment 76.7, iron castings 71.9, fruit and vegetable preparations 67.4, sheet metal products 59.7, wire and wire goods 58.4, aircraft and parts 58.1, industrial machinery 57.4, printing and book-binding 57.3, brass and copper products 55.1, miscellaneous chemical products 54.6, acids, alkalies and salts 53.0, boxes and bags, paper 52.0, miscellaneous electrical apparatus 50.6, furniture 49.7, printing and publishing 48.7, synthetic textiles 44.9, and stock and poultry feeds 44.3.

There are also a number of medium-sized industries with a total Canadian production of over $100,000,000 in which Ontario dominated. Agricultural implements with 90.5 p.c., soaps and washing compounds 88.5 p.c., household and office machinery 80.0 p.c., refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, etc. 79.6 p.c., hardware, tools and cutlery 72.8 p.c., heating and cooking apparatus 68.7, and confectionery 57.2 p.c. were in this category.

In addition Ontario dominated many of the smaller industries in 1956 as is indicated by the following percentages of the Canadian total. In this category were: machine tools 100.0, tobacco processing and packing 93.8, bicycles and parts 92.9, non-ferrous metal products 92.3, prepared breakfast foods 90.5, automobile accessories, fabric 88.6, wine 88.1, typewriter supplies 86.5, leather tanneries 84.3, artificial abrasives 83.8, cordage, rope and twine 77.5, sporting goods 76.0, carpets, mats and rugs 75.7, batteries 73.1, white metal alloys 72.8, jewellery and silverware 71.9, toys and games 71.5, wool yarn 70.2, feed mills 69.9, aluminum products 64.8, animal oils and fats 61.3, boilers, tanks and plate work 55.3, knitted goods, other than hosiery 47.9, hosiery 44.3, etc.

Establishments reporting in 1956 numbered 13,215. They furnished employment to 641,190 persons who were paid $2,310,634,396 in salaries and wages, and spent $5,683,753,088 for materials used. The value added by manufacture which is the calculated value of production less the cost of materials used, including the cost of fuel and electricity, amounted to $4,868,570,251, while the selling value of factory shipments totalled $10,655,098,620.

The value added is obtained by subtracting the cost of materials, including fuel and electricity, from the gross value of products. The difference represents the value added to the materials by labour. It is this difference which the employer of labour uses to pay for the labour itself, the overhead expenses, interest and profits.

To calculate the value of production, it is necessary to adjust the value of shipments for the difference in the opening and closing inventories of finished goods and goods in process. As the census of industry schedules for 1952 and 1953 did not contain data on opening and closing inventories, no calculation can be made directly for value of production. For these two years, therefore, the value added is obtained by subtracting from the shipments the cost of materials, including fuel and electricity. The value thus obtained is somewhat different to the actual value. Beginning with 1954 it is again possible to obtain value of production figures, by adding to the value of shipments the changes in the inventory of finished products and goods in process. The figures for value added since 1954 are, therefore, comparable with 1951 and prior years.

A number of industries still report value of production. To calculate value added by manufacture for these industries, the value of materials used, including the cost of fuel and electricity, is subtracted from the value of production, no account is taken of inventory change. For this reason the figures on value added by manufacture for the province as a whole or for major groups published in this report differ slightly from the calculated figures derived by using the formula for converting shipments to production values which is "Shipments plus closing minus opening inventories of finished goods and goods in process equals value of production". To illustrate this point 1955 figures for Ontario will be used. These figures are as follows:

Value of factory shipments	9,617.6
Inventory of finished goods and goods in process:
Closing	951.2
Opening	883.2
Cost of materials used	5,014.2
Cost of fuel and electricity	202.9
Calculated value of production (9,617.6 plus 951.2 minus 883.2 - 9,685.6)
Value added by manufacture (9,685.6 minus 5,014.2 minus 202.9 - 4,468.5)

This is slightly different to the $4,426.7 figure given in Table 1. The difference is due to the fact that the figures for inventory change used in the formula are for manufacturing as a whole and include the figures for those industries still on a production basis and for which inventory changes have not been taken into account in calculating their value added by manufacture.

THE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES OF CANADA

1956

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

The leading industries of the Prairie Provinces are those based on agricultural resources—grain-growing, cattle-raising and dairying areas. Next in importance, generally, are industries providing for the more necessary needs of the resident population, such as the baking of bread, printing and publishing, etc. The extensive railway services require large shops for the maintenance of rolling-stock, especially in the Winnipeg area. The widespread use of motor vehicles and power machinery on farms has given rise to petroleum refineries in each province. This industry has made tremendous strides in the Prairie Provinces since 1949. At that time it ranked third in importance, being outranked by slaughtering and meat packing which was then in first place and by flour mills which ranked second. In 1956 it assumed the premier position in the Prairie Provinces in selling value of factory shipments. Of greater significance is the fact that it has increased its proportion of the total manufacturing production of the Prairie Provinces from 8.5 p.c. in 1949 to 16.5 p.c. in 1956. Manitoba, as the early commercial centre of the prairies, has had a greater industrial development than either of the other provinces. Its natural resources of accessible water power, forests and, more recently, minerals, have given rise to quite a diversification of industrial production. In Saskatchewan, while the main economic role continues to be played by agriculture, both oil and mineral wealth are being developed.

Considering the Prairie Provinces as an economic unit, petroleum products, as was mentioned before, had the largest value of factory shipments in 1956, amounting to $272,367,057, followed closely by slaughtering and meat packing with $264,886,950, flour mills $99,572,619, butter and cheese $94,256,285 and railway rolling stock $50,364,723. These five industries accounted for about 47 p.c. of the total value of factory shipments of the Prairie Provinces. Other leading industries, in order of value of factory shipments and with shipments of $15,000,000 or more were: bread and other bakery products, printing and publishing, breweries, bridge and structural steel, men's factory clothing, sash, door and planing mills, miscellaneous food preparations, furniture, sawmills, sheet metal products, concrete products, printing and bookbinding, sugar refining, hydraulic cement, prepared stock and poultry feeds, pulp and paper, primary iron and steel, and carbonated beverages. Non-ferrous metal smelting and refining is also a major industry in the Prairie Provinces. Information concerning it cannot, however, be published without disclosing the operations of individual establishments.

In water-power resources, the Prairie Provinces are not so well endowed as the more highly industrialized provinces of Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia. At the end of 1956 power installation in the three Provinces totalled only 1,191,745 h.p. or about 6 p.c. of the Canadian total. Manitoba had 796,900 h.p., Saskatchewan 109,835 h.p. and Alberta 285,010 h.p. With the present developments of natural gas and oil, the Prairie Provinces, will in large measure be able to overcome a lack of water-power resources which is so vital to industrial development. Manitoba has more water-power resources and has developed them to a greater extent than either of the other Prairie Provinces. Practically all the developed sites are located on the Winnipeg River. These supply not only Winnipeg and its suburban areas but, also more than 400 municipalities and a large part of rural areas of southern Manitoba where farm electrification is a primary objective. In Saskatchewan, water-power development is confined to the northern mining districts. The southern portions of Saskatchewan and Alberta are lacking in water-power resources but have fuel reserves. In Alberta, present developments are located in the Bow River basin and serve Calgary and numerous other municipalities between the International Boundary and the area north of Edmonton.

In the Prairie Provinces, the nature of developments vary from one province to another. Alberta has moved to the forefront, especially since 1950. There the emphasis has been more on the manufacture of machinery and equipment for the burgeoning oil and gas industries. Chemicals, and especially petrochemicals, have made striking gains; second in terms of new growth, they now embrace various rayon intermediates and polythene plastics, as well as fertilizers and the manufacture of other new inorganic products like caustic soda and chlorine. Sizeable gains have been made by the expansion of food-processing plants and the construction of still more factories for making building materials.

Developments in Saskatchewan, by contrast, have continued along more or less traditional lines. The largest gains, for instance, have been recorded in food processing. The manufacture of building materials, including non-metallic mineral products and lumber, has also increased. However, the largest single gain in employment has been in the refining of prairie oil for local use.

Although Manitoba experienced considerable development in manufacturing production since 1949, it did not, percentagewise, keep pace with the other two Prairie Provinces. The change was not so much in the magnitude but rather in the nature of manufacturing production. The emphasis has shifted from the production of food and clothing to the production of products of mineral origin, such as iron and steel, non-metallic mineral products and products of petroleum and coal. There was also a wider diversification of products as is evidenced by the increase of 258 employees in the miscellaneous group. For manufacturing as a whole the increase in the number of persons employed totalled 865. The largest increase of 768 was reported by the iron and steel group. The non-metallic mineral products group with 511 reported the second largest increase, followed by electrical apparatus and supplies with 416, products of petroleum and coal 344, miscellaneous industries 258 and paper products 167. Only three groups reported major declines in employment: foods and beverages 704, clothing, including knitting mills 577 and wood products 170. The foods and beverages group which in 1949 accounted for 25 p.c.

of the employment in manufacturing, accounted for only 23 p.c. of the total in 1956. The foods and beverages group with 9,922 employees was still in first place in 1956 as an employer of labour. This was followed by transportation equipment with 6,604, clothing 5,728, iron and steel products 5,542, printing and publishing 3,793 and wood products 3,033. These six groups accounted for 81 p.c. of the manufacturing employment in Manitoba.

According to Table 1, manufacturing establishments in 1956 numbered 4,303 for the Prairie Provinces as a whole. These plants furnished employment to 91,149 persons who received $290,384,459 in salaries and wages. They also shipped goods with a selling value at the factory of $1,648,781,413 and spent $956,034,201 for materials, while the value added by manufacture totalled $669,476,007.

In spite of the rapid development in the Prairie Provinces since 1939, manufacturing production did not keep pace with the developments in the more industrialized provinces of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia. This is indicated by the slight drop in the Prairie Provinces' share of the Canadian total from 8.13 p.c. in 1939 to 7.91 p.c. in 1953. In 1954 conditions were reversed. The Prairie Provinces reported an increase of 1.4 p.c. in the value of factory shipments as compared with a decline of 1.3 p.c. for Canada as a whole. As a result of this the Prairie Provinces' share of the Canadian total was again 8.13 p.c., the same as in 1939. In 1955 and 1956, however, the situation deteriorated again with the percentage of the total dropping to 7.62.

According to the table below, Manitoba and Saskatchewan did not keep pace with manufacturing developments in Canada as a whole. Alberta on the other hand fared much better. Compared with 1949 employment increased by 39.2 p.c. and value of factory shipments by 89.0 p.c. This compares with increases for Canada as a whole of 15.5 p.c. and 73.4 p.c. respectively.

THE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES OF CANADA

Section F

BRITISH COLUMBIA, YUKON AND NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

1956

British Columbia, with factory shipments valued at $1,859,368,466, ranked third among the provinces in manufacturing production. In spite of the rapid industrialization of other provinces, British Columbia succeeded in increasing its share of the total Canadian output. This is reflected in the increase in the total from 7.1 p.c. in 1939 to 8.6 p.c. in 1956.

Forest resources, fisheries, minerals and electric power have given a broad base and wide diversification to its industrial development. While Ontario and Quebec have an outstanding predominance in each of the major industrial groups of the Standard Industrial Classification, in the production of wood products, however, British Columbia with 42 p.c. of the Canadian total holds the dominant position, outranking both Ontario and Quebec which account respectively for 25 and 22 p.c. of the total.

Emphasizing the importance of the forests in the industrial life of the Province, the sawmilling industry ranked first with a gross value of factory shipments of $397,934,856, and pulp and paper second with $184,526,395. Third in importance was the petroleum products industry with factory shipments valued at $123,235,472. This industry received a great impetus in the completion of the Trans-Mountain oil pipeline. In 1953, with shipments valued at $40,562,462 it ranked seventh, and contributed about 3 p.c. to the total value of factory shipments of the Province. In 1954 it assumed third place with the proportion of the total increasing to 5.5 p.c., with a further increase to 6.6 p.c. in 1956. In fourth place was veneer and plywood with $87,532,258 while in fifth place was fish processing, based principally in the estuarial salmon fisheries. This industry was in third place in 1953. British Columbia accounted for approximately 48 p.c. of the output of the fish processing industry in 1956 and plays a large part in making Canada the largest fish exporting nation in the world. Other important industries are: sash, door and planing mills, slaughtering and meat packing, miscellaneous food preparations, shipbuilding, fertilizers, printing and publishing, butter and cheese, fruit and vegetable preparations, bridge and structural steel, etc. The non-ferrous metal smelting and refining industry also ranks high among the leading industries. Information, however, cannot be published as there are less than three smelters located in the province.

A feature of recent progress has been that new developments are taking place in areas far removed from accepted industrial centres. Growing lines of communication and transportation are fanning out from and leading into formerly locked interior communities to tap a vast new potential and offer new sources of provincial economic unity and strength. Factories and plants in remote sections are drawing greater value in employment and dollars from natural resources. The growth of the province industrially may be indicated by the increase in employment which is two and one-half times the pre-war figure. In dollar terms, gross value of manufacturing is also up 650 p.c. since 1939. The consumption of 6.5 billion kwh of electric power by manufacturers during 1955 marks a steady upward climb of 200 per cent in the past decade.

British Columbia ranks second among the provinces in available water-power resources and its hydraulic development which at the end of 1956 totalled 2,566,460 h.p., out of a Canadian total of 18,403,048 h.p., is exceeded only by Quebec and Ontario. Present developments are practically all located in the southern part of the province in the Fraser and Columbia River Basins. The Aluminum Co. of Canada is making excellent progress in its great Kemano-Kitimat scheme, involving diversion of the head-waters of the Fraser River through the coastal range by a ten-mile tunnel to an underground powerhouse. The highlight of hydro-electric construction in 1955 was the completion of the first stage of this project. The first four turbines, each of 150,000 h.p. were brought into operation. A fifth unit of 150,000 h.p. is scheduled for completion in 1957, and the ultimate capacity is expected to be about 2,000,000 h.p. This power will be used in the production of aluminum which is a new product for British Columbia. Present capacity of the smelter is 90,000 tons of aluminum per annum, with a potential of 550,000 tons, a production which will further strengthen Canada's position as an important source of this vital metal.

Manufacturing establishments reporting in 1956 numbered 4,393. These plants furnished employment to 108,595 persons who received $393,869,388 in salaries and wages. They also shipped goods with a selling value at the factory of $1,859,368,466 and spent $1,007,882,346 for materials, while the value added by manufacture totalled $824,249,273.

The manufacturing industries of British Columbia expanded during 1954, at a time when the rest of Canada experienced a minor recession. For Canada as a whole there was a drop of 4.5 p.c. in the number of employees and 1.3 p.c. in the value of shipments. British Columbia was the only province in 1955 reporting increased employment, the increase being 2.2 p.c. Although British Columbia was not the only province to report increased shipments that year, the increase of 7.9 p.c. was, however, the highest of any province. In common with other provinces, manufacturing in British Columbia continued to expand during 1955 and 1956. Of all provinces British Columbia reported the greatest increase in employment and value of factory shipments. Since 1953 employees were 15.7 p.c. higher as compared with an increase of only 1.9 p.c. for Canada, while the value of factory shipments were 36.0 p.c. higher for British Columbia and 21.7 p.c. for Canada as a whole.

³ Includes Yukon and Northwest Territories.

NOTE.—1956 REFERENCE MAPS

The Ninth (1956) CENSUS of Canada has prepared a report which provides a series of reference maps for the 1956 Census. A map is provided for each of the ten provinces of Canada, outlining the boundaries of the counties, or census divisions, as the case may be.

The maps for all provinces except Quebec and Ontario show the various subdivisions of the counties or census divisions. For the Prairie Provinces, the maps outline the boundaries of the municipal units, and, in addition, the lines of the smaller subdivisions indicate the townships. Because of the small scale of these provincial maps, it is not possible to outline the subdivisions of the counties in the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario. If these are required other map sources should be consulted.

This bulletin also contains maps showing the municipalities, or parts thereof included in each of the census metropolitan areas. As in the provincial series, these maps are not drawn to a uniform scale, and are restricted to principal features of outline only. Their main use is as a guide to locations and to show the broad geographical relationships of the areas involved.

A request for this bulletin may be made to the Bureau of Statistics, Information Services Division—Publications Distribution Unit, asking for 1956 Census BULLETINS 1-2, 1-3, 1-4, 1-5, 1-6. Price 25 cents each.

SECTION G

GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRIBUTION

In order to expedite the publication of the present report a change was made in the method of compilation and publication. In the past, the tables were prepared by hand, from the machine tabulations which gave statistics for each industry regardless of the number of establishments in each. The tables then had to be varityped and photographed for printing. This was a costly and time-consuming procedure. Under the new method, the tabulators are set up to provide the appropriate combinations required for publication. All that is now necessary to do by hand is to paste on the appropriate headings. When this is done the page is ready for photographing, thereby saving two costly steps, viz., varityping and proofreading. As the punch card contains only 80 columns, some of the principal statistics are published in thousands instead of units as formerly. It was also necessary to shorten some of the industry titles appearing in the stub and abbreviations used. However, the list of the full titles are given below for reference, including the abbreviations in brackets.

^a Not collected.

^b A change in the method of computing the number of wage-earners in the years 1925 to 1930, inclusive, increased the number somewhat over that which the method otherwise used would have given. In 1931, however, the method in force prior to 1925 was re-adopted. The figures for 1931 and later years are, therefore, comparable with those for 1924 and earlier years.

^c The value added by manufacture is derived by subtracting from the gross value of products the cost of materials and fuel and electricity.

^d Includes Newfoundland.

^e In 1952 the basis of collection became "Value of factory shipments".
