EXPRESS STATISTICS

FOR

1926

The following tables show the financial and operating statistics for 1926 of the express companies operating in Canada.

The Dominion Express Company changed its name during 1926 to the Canadian Pacific Express Company. This is a subsidiary company of the Canadian Pacific railway and handles the express business of the parent company. The express business of the Canadian National system is handled by a department of the railway, but the accounts are kept separate and the data are included in this report. The British American Express Company operates over the Algoma Central and Hudson Bay and the Algoma Eastern railways, the Central Canada Express Company over the Central Canada, the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia, and the Alberta and Great Waterways railways, and the American Railway Express Company operates mainly over the Canadian sections of the United States railways.

The express privileges shown in the following tables are the amounts paid to carriers for transporting the express matter. The capital of the Canadian National Express Department is the capital of the original express companies and advances from the railway.
