PREFACE

This report presents information on 385 museums, art galleries, botanical and zoological gardens, historic houses, and similar permanent institutions, open to the public in 1964. Federal and provincial government departments and municipalities operated 172, independent authorities were responsible for 150, and 30 were part of educational institutions. Another 33 were under combined authorities.

More than 60 per cent of the museums were established since 1945, and six were founded before 1867. Decorative and fine arts were the subjects of collections in 132 institutions, 277 had historical collections, and 128 reported natural history and science collections. Educational programs for adults and children were organized by 44 museums, and library services were provided by 101.

Information on staff was reported by 244 institutions, which employed 1,118 full-time, and 992 part-time employees. The median salary of directors of all the museums reporting was $6,192; for those with total expenditures over $50,000 per year, the median salary of directors was $10,286.

Financial data were supplied for the fiscal year beginning in 1963, or the calendar year 1964, by 214 museums, which reported $9,465,607 total current operating income. Of this, 73.7 per cent was from federal, provincial and municipal government sources, and the balance was from admissions, gifts, and similar sources. Current operating expenditures were 56.6 per cent for salaries, and display materials, publications and supplies accounted for the remainder. In addition, $2,030,730 was received for capital purposes, including additions to collections.

The survey was conducted in the Education Division, under the Director, Dr. F.E. Whitworth, by Mrs. Edith Adamson, Chief, Adult Education Section.

PRÉFACE

Le présent rapport renseigne sur 385 musées, galeries d'art, jardins botaniques et zoologiques, maisons historiques et institutions semblables, de nature permanente, qui étaient ouverts au public en 1964. Cent soixante-douze de ces institutions relevaient des ministères fédéraux, provinciaux ou des municipalités, 150 d'organismes indépendants et 30 de maisons d'enseignement. Trente-trois autres étaient dirigées par plus d'une autorité.

Plus de 60 p. 100 des musées ont été fondés depuis 1945 et six dataient d'avant 1867. Les arts décoratifs et les beaux-arts faisaient l'objet de collections dans 132 institutions; 277 comptaient des collections historiques et 128 ont déclaré des collections ayant trait à l'histoire naturelle et aux sciences. Quarante-quatre musées avaient des programmes éducatifs à l'intention des adultes et des enfants et 101 possédaient des services de bibliothèque.

Deux cent quarante-quatre institutions qui employaient 1,118 employés à plein temps et 992 à temps partiel ont fourni des renseignements au sujet de leur personnel. Le traitement médian des directeurs de tous les musées déclarants était de $6,192; dans le cas de ceux dont les dépenses totales surpassaient $50,000 par année, le traitement médian des directeurs était de $10,286.

Deux cent quatorze musées dont de l'année financière débutant en 1963, ou année civile 1964, les recettes de gestion courantes totales atteignaient $9,465,607 ont fourni des données financières. Du montant précité, 73.7 p. 100 provenaient des gouvernements fédéral, provinciaux et municipaux et le reste, des droits d'admission, de dons et de sources semblables. Des dépenses de gestion courantes, 56.6 p. 100 représentaient les salaires, et le reste, le matériel d'étagage, les publications et les fournitures. De plus, $2,030,730 ont été reçus à des fins de capital, y compris les additions aux collections.

La présente enquête a été dirigée par madame Edith Adamson, chef de la Section de l'éducation des adultes, avec la permission du directeur de la Division de l'éducation, monsieur F.E. Whitworth.

WALTER E. DUFFETT,
Statisticien du Dominion.

INTRODUCTION

Surveys of museums, art galleries, and similar institutions in Canada were conducted by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for the years 1938 and 1951-52. In response to the need for more current and complete information, the present survey was designed and conducted, with the assistance of members of the Canadian Museums Association, officials of provincial government departments concerned with museums, and other interested individuals. Their co-operation is much appreciated.

The following definition, based on one supplied by the Canadian Museums Association, was used in selecting the 385 institutions included in this survey:

A museum is a permanent establishment, open to the public, for the purpose of conserving, studying and exhibiting objects and specimens of educational and cultural value, including artistic, historical, technical and scientific material.

Forms were sent to a wide variety of institutions and organizations, including art galleries, art exhibit centres; historical museums, historic houses, archives; natural history museums, botanical gardens, zoological parks, aquaria, planetaria; preservation projects, public libraries. Only institutions established before January 1, 1965 were included.

Section I of this report contains statistical tables, summarizing the data collected, accompanied by brief explanatory notes.

Section II contains a directory listing of the institutions, arranged by provinces, from east to west. Within each province the names of the municipalities in which the museums are located are arranged alphabetically. Within each municipality, the museums are arranged alphabetically by name. Each entry contains the following information, where available:

Name of institution.

Street address.

Date of establishment.

Type of governing authority, by educational institution, federal government, independent, municipality, and provincial government. In a few cases, combined authorities operate the museum, and this is indicated by a hyphen.

When open; admission, free or charge; languages used.

Subjects of collection.

Number of staff.

Current operating expenditures for the fiscal year beginning in 1963 or the calendar year 1964. In a few cases, financial information was available only for a different year, and the date is given in brackets.

Index code number.

Le bureau fédéral de la statistique a fait le relevé des musées, des galeries d'art et d'institutions semblables, au Canada, pour les années 1938, et 1951-1952. Le présent relevé a été fait, pour obtenir des données plus récentes et plus complètes, avec l'aide des membres de la Canadian Museums Association, des fonctionnaires préposés aux musées dans les ministères provinciaux et des particuliers intéressés au sujet. Leur collaboration est grandement appréciée.

La définition suivante, qui s'appuie sur une définition de la Canadian Museums Association, a servi au choix des 385 institutions incluses dans le présent relevé:

Un musée est un établissement de nature permanente, ouvert au public, qui a pour but de conserver, d'étudier et de montrer au public des objets et des spécimens de valeur éducative et culturelle, y compris du matériel de nature artistique, historique, technique et scientifique.

Le bureau a envoyé ses questionnaires à une gamme variée d'institutions et d'organismes (galeries d'art, centres d'exposition artistiques; musées et maisons historiques, archives; musées d'histoire naturelle, jardins botaniques, parcs zoologiques, aquaria, planétaria; organismes de préservation, et bibliothèques publiques). Seules les institutions fondées avant le 1er janvier 1965 ont été incluses.

La section I du présent rapport contient des tableaux statistiques qui récapitulent les données recueillies, ainsi que de brèves notes explicatives.

La section II contient un répertoire des institutions, par province, d'est à l'ouest. Dans chaque province, le nom des municipalités dans lesquelles les musées sont situés est indiqué par ordre alphabétique. Dans chaque municipalité, les musées paraissent par ordre alphabétique. Chaque description contient les renseignements suivants, lorsqu'ils sont connus:

Nom de l'institution.

Adresse postale.

Date de fondation.

Genre d'autorité dirigeante (maison d'enseignement, gouvernement fédéral, organisme indépendant, municipalité ou gouvernement provincial). Dans quelques cas, plus d'une autorité dirige le musée et en ce cas leurs noms sont réunis par un trait d'union.

Heures d'ouverture; droits d'admission ou non, langue parlée.

Sujets des collections.

Personnel (nombre)

Dépenses d'exploitation courantes pour l'année financière débutant en 1963 ou l'année civile 1964. En certains cas, on n'a obtenu des données financières que pour une autre année, et la date est indiquée entre parenthèses.

Numéro codique à l'Index.

Section III, Index, is an alphabetical location list, which identifies institutions by code number under the following types of entries:

Name of institution.
Name of municipality.
Name of province.

Notes: Art institutions include art galleries and art exhibit centres.

History institutions include historical museums, historic houses and preservation projects.

Science institutions include natural history museums, botanical gardens, zoological parks, aquaria, and planetaria.

In a few cases respondents checked more than one type of institution, and were grouped according to the predominant subjects in their collections.

Notes: Les institutions d'art incluent les galeries d'art et les centres d'exposition d'art.

Les institutions historiques incluent les musées historiques, les maisons historiques, et les travaux de préservation.

Les institutions de science incluent les musées d'histoire naturelle, les jardins botaniques, les parcs zoologiques, les aquaria et les planétariums.

Dans certains cas, les répondants ont indiqué plus d'un genre d'institution, et elles ont alors été groupées selon les sujets principaux dans leurs collections.

Notes: Educational institutions include schools, universities, colleges, technical institutes, and a few private educational institutions, such as seminaries.

Independent authorities refers to groups of private citizens operating institutions.

Municipal authorities include cities, towns, villages, townships, counties, and area governments below the provincial level.

Federal government authority includes all agencies of the federal government, such as parks, historic sites, armed services establishments, etc.

Combined authority exists where any two of the above authorities participate in the operation of the institution.

Out of a total of 385 institutions, 218 reported amount of floor space (averaging 6,559 each); 150 reported wall area (averaging 4,470 each); 115 reported auditoria; 74 reported projectors; and 273 reported date of erection.

Nota: Les institutions d'éducation comprennent les écoles, universités, collèges, instituts de technologie et quelques maisons d'enseignement privées comme les séminaires.

Une autorité indépendante est un groupe de particuliers qui dirigent une institution.

Les autorités municipales comprennent les cités, villes et villages, les townships et comtés, et les dirigeants locaux au dessous du niveau provincial.

Les autorités fédérales comprennent tous les organismes du gouvernement fédéral, comme les parcs, les lieux historiques, les établissements des forces armées, etc.

L'autorité est combinée lorsque deux des autorités précitées participent à l'exploitation de l'institution.

Sur un total de 385 institutions, 218 ont déclaré la superficie des planchers consacrés à l'étalage (moyenne de 6,559 pi. c. chacune); 150 ont déclaré la superficie des murs (moyenne de 4,470 pi. c. chacune); 115 ont déclaré des auditoria; 74 ont déclaré des projecteurs; et 273 ont indiqué la date de construction.
