During the course of gathering material for a revision of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' publication University Entrance Awards, a good deal of information on Canadian graduate awards, not included in Awards for Graduate Study and Research, 1959, was gathered. Although that publication is usually revised every second year, it was decided to issue this supplement so that the new data would be made available at an earlier date. It will be revised and incorporated into the 1961 edition.

The reader should refer to Awards for Graduate Study and Research, 1959, for greater details with regard to making application for awards, and for further source material. The following information indicates the organization of the entries that follow, and gives general notes on the awards listed.

Method of listing awards

The awards are listed in five general sections: (I) Two or more areas of study. (II) Humanities, (III) Social Sciences, (IV) Natural and Applied Sciences, and (V) Medical Sciences. The sections are in turn subdivided into groupings of sources by countries of award which include (A) Canada, (B) the United States, (C) the United Kingdom, and (D) other countries.

The following is a guide to the division of the fields of study in sections II to V. When an award is tenable in two or more fields in different sections, it is listed in section I. While the fields below may not include all those represented, they should serve as a guide in following the presentation used.

SECTION II - HUMANITIES: Art, Classical Studies, Dance, Drama, Fine Arts (excluding Architecture), Graphic Arts, Languages, Literature, Medieval Studies, Music, Painting, Philosophy, Sculpture, Theology.

SECTION III - SOCIAL SCIENCES: Accounting, Actuarial Science, Anthropology, Archaeology, Business, Business Administration, Commerce, Counselling, Demography, Economics, Education, Ethnology, Government, History, Home Economics, Human Relations, Industrial Relations, Journalism, Labour Relations, Law, Library Science, Physical Education, Political Science, Population, Psychology, Public Administration, Religious Education, Safety Education, Social Work, Sociology, Speech, Speech Pathology, Vocational Guidance.

SECTION IV - NATURAL AND APPLIED SCIENCES: Agriculture, Architecture, Engineering, Forestry, Geography, Mathematics, Pure Sciences, Statistics.

SECTION V - MEDICAL SCIENCES: Medicine, Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Pharmacy, Physiotherapy, Psychiatry, Recreational Therapy, Veterinary Science.

FOR A COMPLETE PICTURE OF WHAT IS AVAILABLE IN ANY PARTICULAR FIELD, SECTION I (AWARDS TENABLE IN TWO OR MORE AREAS OF STUDY) SHOULD THEREFORE BE CONSULTED AS WELL AS THE SPECIFIC SECTION IN WHICH INFORMATION IS SOUGHT. As far as possible, sciences relating to medicine have been included in section V, but as in some cases they may be considered as natural or applied sciences, section IV should be checked. The reverse would apply to some of the natural and applied sciences, which could be included in section V. Persons interested in education should consult section III, and should also consult the section containing information regarding awards in the particular subject in which they are interested.

Two indexes appear in this publication. The first lists the awards by the five general sections, subdivided by country of origin. The second index is designed to facilitate the location of information when only the name of the award, the name of the awarding agency, or the institution where the award is tenable, is known.

A definite cut-off date for inclusion of entries in the main body of the publication was established. Information received after this deadline is included in an addendum which appears at the back of the volume. Where possible, such awards are included in the second index.

Canadian awards open to students from other countries

To assist in determining quickly by whom Canadian awards may be held, one of the following code numbers is used after the name of the award if the requisite information is available.

- (1) The award is open only to Canadian citizens or to those who are landed immigrants in Canada;
- (2) The award is open to Canadian citizens, to residents of Canada, and to graduates from, and/or students at, Canadian universities.
- (3) The award is open to all British subjects;
- (4) The award is open to graduates of any university.

Any exceptions are noted in the paragraph on "Conditions" for each award. Generally, for awards open to graduates of any university, the prospective recipient must meet all Canadian immigration requirements. Graduates of Canadian universities who are not Canadian citizens may in some cases have to undertake to remain in Canada for a certain period after the completion of the tenure of the award.

General notes on awards listed

Unless otherwise stated, the values of the awards listed from sources other than Canadian are in the currency of the country of origin.

Candidates for awards should, unless mention is made to the contrary, have a working knowledge of the language of the country in which they plan to study.

It should be borne in mind that many of the awards from sources outside Canada, unless specifically stated as being open only to Canadian students, are open to nationals of the country of award as well as to those of other countries, and hence the total number of awards offered is not necessarily the number reserved for Canadian applicants.

An attempt has been made to indicate whether instruction is offered to the Master's or Doctor's level. If such information was provided, it is given in the description of awards for individual institutions.

The closing date for receipt of applications means the date by which completed application forms, transcripts of marks, and all other supporting documents must be in the hands of the awarding bodies. Such being the case, initial contact should be made as early as possible before the final deadline in order to allow a sufficient interval for the exchange of correspondence and for the collection and forwarding of the necessary documents. As in most cases no personal interview is possible prior to the granting of the award, the application and supporting documents should be as complete as possible.

ADDENDA

79. THE CANADIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY FELLOWSHIP

Field of study: Nursing Research, Nursing Education, Social Work or Hospital Architecture.

Value: The amount of the bursary will be related to the needs of the candidate. It is hoped that an annual grant can be added to the fund and that the total amount accruing will be the limiting factor in relation to the degree of support, the length of study and the frequency of award. These matters are left open deliberately until experience has been gained through a consideration of the needs of actual candidates.

Number: 1.

Duration: Not specified. Next award available in 1961.

Conditions: The qualification of a given candidate should include professional maturity, registration in Canada, at least a baccalaureate degree and professional experience covering a period of not less than 5 years. Preferably, the preparation sought should be a specific position available and accepted by the candidate. However, this does not rule out a situation where the actual conduct of a piece of research might, if under suitable auspices, constitute the process through which preparation could be obtained. The word "research" is used in its broadest sense and is not intended to set a standard beyond the needs which might be presented. Naturally, with but one national fellowship available, the sphere of influence would be a factor in the final selection of the candidate.

Where tenable: Not specified.

Apply: Enquiries should be directed at an early date to the National Director of Nursing Services, Canadian Red Cross Society, 95 Wellesley Street East, Toronto, Ontario.

Awarding agency: The Canadian Red Cross Society.

(No. 80 appears under OTHER COUNTRIES)

Number: Not more than 100 for 1960-61.

Duration: Normally 2 academic years and the intervening summer.

Conditions: Open to men and women who are citizens of a British Commonwealth country and are normally resident in any part of the Commonwealth other than Canada. Awards will usually be made for advanced study or research and will be open to students who by September 1960 will hold a degree from a recognized university, or an equivalent qualification. In exceptional cases an award may be made to a graduate who wishes to study for another undergraduate degree or may be made to an undergraduate, if the programme of studies he wishes to follow is not available in his own country. Normally, the awards are open to persons who have not reached their 35th birthday by October 1, 1960. In special cases this age limit may be raised. Holders will be expected to reside in Canada for the duration of the award; may not serve on the staff of their country's representative in Canada; may not, without the consent of the Canadian Committee, undertake paid employment; and are expected to return to their own countries at the end of their scholarship period. Candidates must be prepared to show that they have an adequate knowledge of French or English, and must be able to comply with the normal immigration requirements for entry of students into Canada.

Where tenable: Canada.

Value: The emoluments are intended to cover expenses of travel, living and study during the tenure of the award.

Number: Under the Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan various Governments within the Commonwealth are providing fellowships and scholarships, mainly for postgraduate study, tenable in their countries by men and women students from other parts of the Commonwealth. It is expected that when the Plan is in full operation over 1,000 awards (including Canadian) will be available. Of these, 500 will be tenable in the United Kingdom and the balance in other Commonwealth countries. A smaller number will be available for 1960-61.

Duration: Normally 2 academic years.

Conditions: The awards are primarily available for graduate study and research and are open to men and women who are normally resident in countries of the Commonwealth other than the country in which they wish to study (a Canadian, for example, could not make application to study in Canada). Candidates must normally be Commonwealth citizens or British protected persons who are or, by the time of taking up an award in 1960, will be graduates of a university or college in their country or holders of an equivalent qualification. Applications will also be considered from such persons without a degree or similar qualification who wish to take a first course of study, provided they are normally resident in a country where no university or college offers courses in the subjects of their choice. Applications will not be considered unless they are made through the appropriate agency in the country of a candidate's normal residence. Applicants should not have reached their 35th birthday by October 1, 1960 for 1960-61 awards. Scholars are expected to return to their own countries at the conclusion of their studies. Holders are expected to reside in the country of study during tenure of the award.

Where tenable: British Commonwealth countries.

Apply: Canadians wishing to study abroad should apply to the National Conference of Canadian Universities and Colleges, 77 Metcalfe St., Ottawa, Ontario. A resident of another Commonwealth country should apply to the appropriate agency in his own country.
