FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 1929

REPORT OF THE DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT GENERAL

OTTAWA, December 18, 1929.

Hon. CHARLES STEWART,

Superintendent General of Indian Affairs,

Ottawa.

SIR, - I have the honour to submit the report of the Department of Indian Affairs for the year ended March 31, 1929.

In the following pages will be found a brief outline of the more important administrative activities of the department during the period under review.

The Agreements made on the 14th of December, 1929, between the Dominion of Canada and the Provinces of Alberta and Manitoba on the subject of the transfer of the Natural Resources contain important provisions with regard to Indians and Indian reserves, which are reproduced herein.

The taking into treaty of the Ojibwa and Cree Indians residing in the vicinity of Trout Lake in the remote regions of the Patricia District provided a noteworthy feature of the year's work, which received much publicity in the press. In view of the interest that has been aroused by this event, the report of the Royal Commission which made the treaty with the Indians on behalf of the Governments of the Dominion of Canada and the Province of Ontario is included in these pages.

The quinquennial census of the Indians of Canada taken during the present year and published in Part II of this report shows a considerable increase over that of 1924. The fact that the Indians are more than holding their own in point of numbers is gratifying, particularly as it also may be said that, on the whole, they are making satisfactory economic and sociological progress. This favourable generality, however, does not apply in the case of the hunting and fishing Indians whose special problems are discussed in the following paragraphs.

THE PLIGHT OF THE HUNTING AND FISHING INDIANS

The condition of the Indians in the northerly and outlying districts who are still dependent upon the chase for their livelihood has become a matter of grave concern to the department.

During recent years there has been an alarming increase in the number of white trappers who are encroaching upon hunting grounds in the northern parts of the various provinces, which were formerly used by Indians only. White trappers are using poison extensively, and this illegal and vicious practice is becoming a grave menace to game conservation. Not a single instance of the use of poison by any Indian trapper anywhere in Canada has ever come to the attention of the department. It is felt that unless some protection is afforded, the Indian trappers in the northern regions, where other means of livelihood are not available, may become dependent, owing to the depletion of the game.

Hunting and fishing are the aboriginal vocations of the primitive Indians. By immemorial usage the Indians are conservationists of the game and fish, and may be expected to continue so, if protected; on the other hand, if whites are allowed to deplete the fish and game on Indian hunting grounds, the Indians themselves will naturally take all they can, while they can, and there is grave danger that such a situation may bring about intensive competition between whites and Indians, ending in the virtual extermination of valuable species. Indian families, in most cases, are permanent residents, and their hunting grounds are recognized among themselves, and handed down from one generation to another, whereas white trappers are frequently of the itinerant class, whose practice is to trap out an area and then move elsewhere.

In the opinion of the department, the only satisfactory solution of these problems will be to set aside adequate areas in which Indians only shall be allowed to hunt. This plan has already been carried out, with success, by the Dominion Government in the Northwest Territories, where Indian hunting reserves, for the exclusive use of the aborigines, have been set aside by Orders of His Excellency in Council with satisfactory results.

In the province of Quebec two Indian hunting reserves were set aside by Order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council dated the 21st day of April, 1928. These reserves may be described as follows: -

"The first, named Abitibi reserve, bounded on the south and north by the 49th and 50th lines of latitude, on the east by the 78th line of longitude, and on the west by the frontier line between Quebec and Ontario, the whole comprising an approximative extent of 4,000 miles.

"The second, named Great Lake Victoria Reserve, bounded on the south by the 47th and 48th lines of latitude, on the east by the extension towards the south of the division line of the townships Cambray and Vimy to its meeting with the 47th line of latitude, on the west by the extension towards the south of the division line of the townships Chabort and Landanet to its meeting with the 47th line of latitude, the whole forming an approximative extent of 6,300 miles.

"The Honourable Minister recommends moreover that a licence to trap be issued free to any Indian who may hunt in such reserves, and at the end of the season, that a report of the quantities and kinds of fur taken by each of them be made by them or through their missionary.

In considering this question, it should be understood that the department only desires special hunting privileges for Indians in the outlying districts where other sufficient employment is not available. In the settled and organized localities, the department affords the Indians ample opportunity for agricultural and industrial pursuits, and discourages them from dependence on the chase.

Another source of hardship to Indian bands in various parts of the country is the commercialization of fishing waters in the vicinity of Indian reserves without consideration for the needs of the Indian population. In some cases exclusive licences have been granted to white fishing interests covering waters fronting reserves upon which the Indians had originally located themselves expressly on account of the fishing advantages. To be cut off in this arbitrary manner from their natural food supply is a serious and unmerited misfortune for the Indians concerned. These conditions, needless to say, are not within the control of this department which, however, loses no opportunity to obtain redress and protection for its wards.

An important and gratifying departure in the interests of the hunting and fishing Indians of Alberta and Manitoba is revealed in the recent Agreement made on the 14th of December, 1929, between the Dominion of Canada and the provinces aforesaid, both of which contain a provision for the taking of game and fish for food by Indians at all times of the year. The clause, in each Agreement, reads as follows: -

"In order to secure to the Indians of the province the continuance of the supply of game and fish for their support and subsistence, Canada agrees that the laws respecting game in force in the province from time to time shall apply to the Indians within the boundaries thereof, provided, however, that the said Indians shall have the right, which the province hereby assures to them, of hunting, trapping and fishing game and fish for food at all seasons of the year on all unoccupied Crown lands and on any other lands to which the said Indians may have a right of access."

TRANSFER OF THE NATURAL RESOURCES OF MANITOBA AND ALBERTA

The Agreements made on the 14th day of December, 1929, between the Dominion of Canada and the Province of Manitoba and between the Dominion of Canada and the Province of Alberta on the Subject of the Transfer of the Natural Resources each contain the following important provision with respect to Indian Reserves: -

INDIAN RESERVES

"All lands included in Indian reserves within the province, including those selected and surveyed but not yet confirmed, as well as those confirmed, shall continue to be vested in the Crown and administered by the Government of Canada for the purposes of Canada, and the Province will from time to time, upon the request of the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, set aside, out of the unoccupied Crown lands hereby transferred to its administration, such further areas as the said Superintendent General may, in agreement with the Minister of Mines and Natural Resources of the Province, select as necessary to enable Canada to fulfil its obligations under the treaties with the Indians of the province, and such areas shall thereafter be administered by Canada in the same way in all respects as if they had never passed to the province under the provisions hereof."

"The provisions of paragraphs one to six inclusive and of paragraph eight of the agreement made between the Government of the Dominion of Canada and the Government of the Province of Ontario on the 24th day of March, 1924, which said agreement was confirmed by statute of Canada, fourteen and fifteen George the Fifth chapter forty-eight, shall (except so far as they relate to the Bed of Navigable Waters Act) apply to the lands included in such Indian reserves as may hereafter be set aside under the last preceding clause as if the said agreement had been made between the parties hereto, and the provisions of the said paragraphs shall likewise apply to the lands included in the reserves heretofore selected and surveyed, except that neither the said lands nor the proceeds of the disposition thereof shall in any circumstances become administrable by or be paid to the province."

Each Agreement contained also a provision with respect to the right of Indians to hunt, trap and fish for food in all seasons of the year, which is quoted in the section of this report dealing with the hunting and fishing Indians.

FARMING AND STOCKRAISING AMONG THE INDIANS OF THE PRAIRIE PROVINCES

FARMING

The Indian farmers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta shared the vicissitudes of the season of 1929 with their white neighbours, and their fortunes varied locally with climatic conditions. On the whole their crops are considerably better than was at first expected.

The spring of 1929 opened up somewhat late and wheat seeding continued well into May. The area under crop this year consisted of the following: -

Wheat	37,059 acres
Oats	23,160 acres
Barley	6,510 acres
Rye	2,378 acres

This grain went into the ground in good condition and there was every prospect for a large crop, but about the middle of July it was realized that there was great danger of an absolute crop failure owing to the fact that there had been no rain up to that time. From that date there was practically no rain throughout the whole of the province of Saskatchewan, very little in Manitoba and only a few scattered showers in southern Alberta. As a result the crop at most points was very light and in some places not more than a third was harvested. However, on the Blood reserve approximately 140,000 bushels of grain and on the Peigan approximately 30,000 bushels was harvested. On the Blackfoot reserve, where the Indians had 5,680 acres in wheat, a severe loss was suffered through hail. An area of 3,500 acres was damaged and this on top of a light crop brought the yield down to 16,519 bushels. The wheat at points graded very high, most of it being No. 1 Northern, and as the price realized was good these Indians are most fortunate. In the northern part of Alberta there was little rainfall, and as a result the crops were light, averaging less than ten bushels to the acre at Hobbema, Edmonton, Onion Lake and other points. However, the prices even here helped to make up for the loss in quantity. In northern Saskatchewan, in fact throughout practically the whole of the province, the wheat crop was very light, perhaps one-third of an average crop, but here also the price will make up to some extent for the small yield. In Manitoba the wheat crop would average from eight to ten bushels to the acre. The grades there were also good. Although there was no rain throughout the whole summer the Indians did much summer-fallowing. The exact figures are not available at the time of writing, but the estimate is placed in the neighbourhood of thirty thousand acres. It is believed that had this season been a favourable one the Indians would have had a splendid crop, as the preparation made for it was excellent. The Indians broke a large acreage of land this year. Owing to the extreme drought the hay crop at many points in the three provinces was quite light, and for a time it was feared that it would be necessary to sell a great number of head of stock in order to save them. However, as the season advanced it was found that there was more hay than was expected, and this hay, together with what straw the Indians have, which has all been carefully stacked, should carry them through the winter.

STOCKRAISING

The cattle situation on all reserves in the three provinces is most satisfactory and while the season was dry there was sufficient pasture to put them in good condition for the winter. The Indians have sold cattle to the value of $140,117.64. When there is taken into consideration the large number of cattle that was sold, as well as the cattle that have been, and will be consumed, the cattle industry among the Indians would appear to be in a very flourishing condition. The high reputation which the Indian cattle have established in previous years on the Winnipeg market is being maintained. Last spring the department bought about sixty head of purebred bulls which have been distributed to the various points where they were required throughout the three prairie provinces.

The Indians on the reserves where farming is carried on have improved the quality of their horses, many of them now being of a heavier type, and they are being better cared for than formerly. The department has purchased with band funds over 200 head of horses, which has put the Indians in a better position to carry on their farming activities. The horses purchased were of a good working type, weighing from 1,300 to 1,400 pounds.

As the years pass, an increased number of Indians are milking cows and making butter, also keeping hens. The improvement in this respect has been particularly marked this year and last.

During the past two years 689 new Indian dwellings have been built. These houses are of a much better type than those in which the Indians lived in the past. A great many of them are built from logs brought in either from British Columbia or northern Manitoba. They have four and five windows, one or two doors and many of them are on cement foundations. They all have shingled roofs, are plastered with lime and sand and make very comfortable homes for the Indians. It is also gratifying to report that during the past year 143 barns have been built. Many of these are excellent buildings with shingled roofs, and quite up-to-date.

A large number of farm implements have been bought for various bands throughout the Prairie Provinces and there is still a demand for a further supply. Of course, many of the Indians buy their own implements but there is always a large number of school graduates and other young Indians who require assistance from the department.

INDIAN HEALTH SUPERVISION

The report for the year ending March 31, 1928, contained a general outline of the health activities of the department. In this report it is proposed to go into somewhat greater detail so as to show what is being done in various parts of the country.

The chart which forms a part of the report shows the parliamentary appropriations for health work in each subdivision of the country, and the personnel employed. The hospitals enumerated in column 6 include thirteen institutions maintained by the missionary societies of Canadian churches, or by local hospital boards. These hospitals while not under the administration of the department, are in some cases entirely and in all instances largely operated for the benefit of Indians. The number of hospitals which the department owns and entirely administers is seven. Of these, the new hospital at the Blood Indian Reserve in southern Alberta deserves special mention. Many years ago a hospital was opened at this reserve by a religious order. The institution grew and the buildings were enlarged from time to time, but at last it was apparent that they had outlived their usefulness and were beyond repair. A new brick building was completed during the past year and was opened in the spring. In construction and equipment it is considered to be the equal of any hospital of similar size in the country. It has a capacity of thirty-six beds, with special accommodation for maternity, contagious and tuberculous cases, and it's an important addition to the facilities of the department.

The doctors shown in the chart are mostly physicians living in the neighbourhood of Indian reserves, and employed on a part-time basis for Indian work. Included in the number, however, are twelve doctors employed on full-time work, of whom four combine the duties of Indian agent and medical attendant.

EPIDEMICS

The department has had to contend with two major outbreaks of communicable disease during the year. The early part of the year was remarkably free from epidemics, but in November smallpox was reported at Caughnawaga, a few miles outside the city of Montreal. There are about 2,500 Indians at this point, and they mostly live in one large village. The outbreak had gained some headway before the diagnosis was established. Isolation hospitals were opened, and the whole population vaccinated at once. The epidemic virtually ceased on the fourteenth day after vaccination was completed, but the infection had been so widely spread that eighty-three cases required isolation and treatment. The department takes no little pride in the fact that the disease did not spread off the reserve and wishes to gratefully acknowledge the help tendered by the Directress of the Sacred Heart Hospital, Caughnawaga, in supplying personnel and direction for the isolation hospitals. The district medical officers of health of the province of Quebec also rendered very valuable assistance. The Indians co-operated splendidly by obeying quarantine orders and by submitting to vaccination. This epidemic is discussed at some length as an example of the policy and practice of the department in regard to communicable disease. It is sometimes stated that Indians will not submit to public health regulations. It would be difficult to find a white community which would be willing to co-operate with authority more thoroughly than did these Indians. Only one death occurred among those suffering from smallpox, and that one was probably only hastened by the disease, as the patient was a chronic sufferer from another complaint.

Following this epidemic a thorough going campaign of vaccination of Indians was instituted throughout the Dominion, and the Indian population has been largely revaccinated.

During the winter the Indians, in common with the white people, suffered extensively from influenza. On the more settled reserves the epidemic was not of remarkable severity, but in the northern forests where hunting Indians scatter into widely isolated groups of a few families the disease appeared to attain greater virulence. All means of transportation were employed, including the aeroplane, for carrying doctors and food supplies, but it is extremely difficult to render effective help to such a scattered population. Fortunately the actual number of Indians involved was comparatively small. This situation recurs from time to time, and always presents a difficult problem to the department, which, with the best will possible, finds it virtually impossible to reach settlements of Indians in the forest, where the distances from camp to camp may easily consume two or three days travel.

There was an outbreak of whooping cough at a small reserve on Lake Winnipeg. Primitive Indians are ill-equipped to resist this disease, the treatment of which is more a matter of nursing and good surroundings than of medical treatment. The medical attendant, in company with the Indian agent, drove an automobile across Lake Winnipeg in the depth of winter to visit the reserve, and a doctor from a local lumber camp gave some attendance.

Minor outbreaks of contagious disease occurred in other places, but were promptly checked by vigorous action carried out by local officials.

TUBERCULOSIS

The department does not maintain sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis, but is able, in most provinces, to utilize the institutions engaged in this service. Advantage is taken of this privilege up to the limit of available funds for maintenance of patients. Many tuberculous Indians are also accommodated in local hospitals. Special food, particularly milk, is issued to patients who either cannot be accommodated in sanatoria, or who will not take advantage of the opportunity to go there. This service was maintained and extended throughout the year under review, and will be further extended in the succeeding year, with the increased funds available.

This report may be concluded by a brief account of the extension work in the different administrative subdivisions of the country.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The department gave substantial assistance in the construction by the provincial Government of a new hospital at Bella Coola, a work made necessary not only by the outworn condition of the old hospital, but by the changing of the course of the river, and the consequent flooding of the hospital and town sites. A revision of physicians' salaries was made, and opportunities taken for co-operation with the provincial Government and the Victorian Order of Nurses in establishing district public health nurses. Increased interest on the part of all connected with medical work was manifested by a demand for treatment on the part of the Indians which taxed the funds provided for this province to the utmost, even with the assistance of that part of the special grant of $100,000 which was set aside for medical purposes.

MANITOBA, SASKATCHEWAN, ALBERTA AND THE NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

The building of the new Blood Reserve Hospital has already been referred to. A few further indications of progress may be noted. At the Stoney reserve, West of Calgary, infant mortality had been so serious as to threaten the future of the band. A nurse was stationed there in 1927, and a definite improvement is already apparent. Out of thirty-two children born in the succeeding year, twenty-eight survived their first twelve months of life, which is a reversal of the previous state of affairs. Very satisfactory reports are being received from the Sarcee reserve, where the appointment of a businesslike doctor as Indian agent in 1921 has given splendid results.

Changes in medical personnel at the Blackfoot reserve presented an opportunity for the appointment of a woman physician. This was in the nature of an experiment, but the results have been most encouraging. The Indian women and children are taking advantage of her services much more freely than they did of those of the very capable male physician who formerly gave attendance. The outcome of this innovation is being watched with great interest.

The condition of the northern hunting Indians cannot be said to be improving. The tide of wild life has been at its lowest ebb during this year, and the competition of white trappers is growing continually more serious. Influenza has taken a severe toll in some localities. The health of these people, not to say their very existence, depends upon the maintenance of an adequate food supply, and the outlook is not encouraging.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC

The new Lady Willingdon Hospital at the Six Nations reserve near Brantford has been filled to capacity throughout the year. It will probably be necessary in the near future to secure additional accommodation for patients by erecting a nurses' residence. The Indians of northern Ontario suffered widely from influenza during the winter, but largely escaped smallpox which was widely although not intensively prevalent. An outbreak of scarlet fever among the white population at one point scarcely at all affected the Indians resident there owing to prompt inoculation by the local doctor.

In northern Quebec the department, for the third successive year, maintained a medical patrol along the Transcontinental railway. The Indians of this region are more than usually primitive and nomadic. The doctor who carries out the patrol has been able to teach them much, and has vaccinated almost the entire population against smallpox. The services of a public health nurse, newly stationed at a point in the gulf of St. Lawrence were taken advantage of for, the local Indian population, by the kindness of the Government of the province of Quebec.

Among the Indians of the southern parts of Ontario and Quebec, tuberculosis, while still prevalent, is no longer a menace to the survival of the race. The hunting Indians of the northern parts of these provinces, however, are much afflicted by this disease, and furnish many candidates for sanatorium treatment. It is possible that the department may be compelled to provide one or more sanatoria for Indians alone.

MARITIME PROVINCES

The Maritime Indians present the department with a special problem. They are relatively few in number, but are scattered in small groups on small reserves which do not offer much opportunity for agriculture. Unemployment is very common and in consequence they are poor, and tuberculosis is prevalent. The department, maintains a travelling public health nurse in Nova Scotia and is planning to place another in New Brunswick. The local sanatoria have been very kind in accepting Indian patients. Much extra food and relief is being distributed, and it is hoped that the situation will improve. At one point where conditions of housing and overcrowding are particularly bad, arrangements are being made to move the whole community to a new location, with greatly increased acreage and to build new houses.

It may not be out of place to refer briefly to the activities of the medical branch of the department at Ottawa. The Director of Medical Services was appointed in 1927, and much of his time has been occupied in surveying the problem in the field and at headquarters. It has been found possible to place the system of dealing with doctors and hospitals on a somewhat more regular basis and to bring into operation a standard schedule of fees paid for doctors' services. The supply of drugs for use by dispensers on reserves has been systematized. Economies have been effected in some respects, but the policy of the department is rather to extend the service than to reduce the cost. The most important and far-reaching accomplishment has been that of devising a Public Health Regulation which clearly defines the responsibilities and powers of Indian agents and departmental physicians in dealing with outbreaks of communicable disease, and gives definite instructions for prompt action. This regulation may be stated to have the effect of applying to Indian reserves the public health regulations of the province in which the reserve is situated. The Indian agent is responsible directly to the department for this duty and acts under the advice of the reserve physician. Application of this regulation has had the effect of checking several outbreaks before they had a chance to get headway without the necessity of reference to superior authority. A close study is being made of the provincial systems of public health nursing, and it is hoped that within the near future, the department will be able to report definite progress in this field which is considered to present great possibilities for improvement of health conditions.

The activities of the year cannot fairly be judged by the visible results. Forces are being gathered and plans laid which, with the increased funds available for the succeeding year, should enable the department to report a very considerable degree of progress in 1929.

LANDS AND TIMBER

LANDS

During the fiscal year ending March 31, 1929, the sales of Indian lands and the collections of payments on account of previous sales continued the very decided improvement noted during the previous year. The cause of this remained the same; that is, satisfactory crop conditions in the three western provinces, where the greater proportion of surrendered Indian lands sold for agricultural purposes are located.

During the year new lands sales in area amounted to 19,740.41 acres, realizing $204,387.79. This is a considerable increase over the previous year during which 11,480.35 acres were sold at a price of $113,956.70. The increase in sales was due principally to the fact that during the year three auction sales were held and at which about 10,000 acres were sold. A portion of the Little Black Bear reserve, in the province of Saskatchewan, containing 4,636 acres, was sold by auction realizing $55,522. In like manner, 4,658 acres of the Michel reserve, in the province of Alberta, were sold realizing $65,233. In addition to these two sales the unsold portion of the townsite of The Pas was offered for sale by public auction and a considerable number of lots sold realizing $37,155.

Collections from sales of surrendered lands in the Blackfoot reserve at Gleichen, Alta., continued most satisfactory, the department receiving during the year on account the sum of $205,282.40. Of this amount $138,434.50 was received from crop share leases. Collections in connection with most of the other sales were also satisfactory.

PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS

During the year there was considerable interest in prospective petroleum and natural gas development on three of the larger reserves in Western Canada; namely, the Blood, Stony and Sarcee reserves, all in the province of Alberta. The discovery of petroleum and natural gas in commercial quantities in the Turner Valley has resulted in the focusing of considerable attention on these three reserves as geologists and practical oil men contend they are located within the same oil belt which runs in a northerly direction from northern Montana and up through the Turner Valley district. A number of leases have been issued by the department on the Stony Indian reserve at Morley and from present indications there is likely to be a similar activity on both the Blood and Sarcee reserves. For the purpose of dealing with this new phase of Indian administration departmental Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulations have been drafted and approved by Order of His Excellency the Governor General in Council and dated respectively the 7th day of February, 1927, and the 12th day of March, 1929.

LEASES

Under the provisions of section 11 of the Regulations for the Disposal of Indian lands leases were issued to white men at the request of Indian locatees to the number of 149, and on March 31 last there were 1,332 leases current. This is an increase of 79 over the previous fiscal year.

LOCATION TICKETS

Location tickets, granting title under the provisions of the Indian Act, to individual owners for lands on the reserves were issued during the past year to the number of 106, and on March 31 last there were current 2,851 location tickets, an increase of 247 over the previous year.

ENFRANCHISEMENT

Under the provisions of section 114 of the Indian Act (formerly section 122A) there were enfranchised during the past fiscal year 20 Indians, heads of families, comprising a total of men, women and children of 63. This is a decrease of 16 heads of families as compared with the previous year.

LAND PATENTS

During the fiscal year 1928-29 there were issued 446 patents to Indian lands purchased and paid for in full. This was an increase of 212 over previous year.

TIMBER

The quantity of timber cut for sale from Indian reserves in the Dominion during the 1928 - 29 season was about the same as last season. The slight decrease in the quantity of softwoods was more than made up by a corresponding increase in hardwood varieties.

The kinds and quantities cut were as follows: -

Pine (white)	319,726 f.b.m.
Pine (red or Norway)	206,870 f.b.m.
Pine (yellow or bull)	144,744 f.b.m.
Pine (jack or banksian)	2,062,940 f.b.m.
Spruce (various)	6,154,334 f.b.m.
Hemlock (western)	3,847,645 f.b.m.
Hemlock (eastern)	1,844,320 f.b.m.
Cedar (red)	842,372 f.b.m.
Cedar (white)	334,346 f.b.m.
Fir	3,456,376 f.b.m.
Balsam	1,539,023 f.b.m.
Tamarac	1,407 f.b.m.
Maple	2,546,659 f.b.m.
Birch	1304,243 f.b.m.
Beech	261,429 f.b.m.
Ash	8,89,3 f.b.m.
Elm	58,970 f.b.m.
Oak	50,175 f.b.m.
Basswood	475,230 f.b.m.
Poplar	108,090 f.b.m.
Cottonwood	163,200 f.b.m.
Cordwood (mixed)	5,664 cords
Pulpwood	34,267 cords
Shingle Bolts	79 cords
Ties	21,640 cords
Poles	2,305 cords
Posts	5,636 cords
Piling	47,378 lin. ft.

The total quantity of timber cut for sale, in terms of board measure feet was approximately forty-seven million, and in addition to this, the Indians cut approximately nine million f.b.m. for building, fencing and fuel.

Sales of timber during the year were: -

Mattagami Reserve, Ont	Deposit $2,000
Harwood Island, B.C	Deposit 1,500
Cash receipts were as follows: -	...
Licence dues and royalties	$60,058 18
Permit dues	20,061 82
Rentals and fees	1,155 50
Deposits	3,500 00
Payments on account	77,258 85
Trespass dues	618 29
Sand and gravel royalties	1,968 74
Total	173,611 88

There were 23 timber licences current on April 30, 1929, being 3 less than the previous year, 2 having terminated, 1 cancelled, 1 relinquished and 2 new ones having been issued.

Very little fire damage to timber was sustained during the year, the usual ranger patrol having been maintained, and plentiful rains having fallen during the hazardous periods of spring and fall.

Estimates of timber and reports on land were made of five reserves during the usual administrative work, and this data has been added to the record of the timber resources of the Indians.

EDUCATION

During the year, 78 residential schools and 263 day schools were in operation, a total of 341 centres for Indian educational activity. The total enrolment was 15,347 and the average attendance, 11,258. Ten years ago, there were a total of 322 Indian schools. Although the number of schools has shown but a normal increase, larger appropriations by Parliament since the War have enabled the department to enlarge as well as reconstruct buildings and to supply better and more varied equipment. Higher salaries and grants have attracted better qualified teachers and instructors. It may be said, therefore, that larger appropriations have resulted in larger and better schools. Further, Indian communities have evinced more interest in their children's welfare. The following table shows the rapid increase in enrolment and attendance: -

Fiscal Year	Residential Schools		Day Schools		Total
...	Enrolment	Average attendance	Enrolment	Average attendance	Enrolment	Average attendance	Percentage of attendance
1918 - 19	4,640	4,014	7,312	3,587	11,952	7,601	63.59

1928 - 29	7,075	6,282	8,272	4,976	15,347	11,258	73.35

In ten years, enrolment has increased 28 per cent and attendance, 48 per cent. The percentage of attendance has increased approximately 10 per cent. Not only are more children attending, but they are attending more regularly. This has had an interesting effect on the academic standing of pupils. In 1918 - 19, 878 Indian children were studying in grade 5 and higher. Last year, 2,228 were in the higher grades.

All this is very gratifying, but there is much to be desired yet as far as day school attendance is concerned. Every energy is being bent to make instruction at these schools attractive. Better qualified teachers, more interesting texts and teachers' aids, more playground and outdoor activities and better correlation with the Indian home environment are the aims. In Part II of this report will be found a tabular statement, showing the location and indicating the enrolment at all Indian schools.

Compared with the previous year, there was an increase of one residential school. New institutions were opened at St. Philips, Sask., and Sioux Lookout, Ont. The first is under the management of the Oblate Fathers and the second is conducted by the Missionary Society of the Church of England. The Old Sun School, in Alberta, was destroyed by fire and at the time of this writing is being rebuilt. During the year three day schools were closed on account of poor attendance, and in three communities the department is associated with a local school district in the conduct of new combined Indian and public schools.

The work at residential schools was particularly encouraging. The churches that are associated with the department in the conduct of these institutions have been more careful in the selection of principals and other officers. As before, vocational training has been emphasized. Special funds are now available for this phase of the work in the province of British Columbia and all residential schools there are now well equipped for manual training and related instruction. In Ontario and the Prairie Provinces emphasis is placed on farming, gardening and the care of stock. Seven thousand and seventy-five pupils were enrolled at residential schools during the year. Compare this with 4,640 the number maintained and trained in boarding schools ten years ago, and the increasing importance of this part of the Department's educational program is apparent.

The co-operation of the churches in the management of these residential schools was as follows: -

Roman Catholic	43 residential schools
Church of England	20 residential schools
United Church	13 residential schools
Presbyterian Church	2 residential schools
Total	78 residential schools

All Indian schools were inspected frequently by officers of the department. In addition, public and separate school inspectors visited all classrooms, except in the provinces of New Brunswick and British Columbia, where there were special Indian school inspectors. More thorough inspection has resulted in a higher standard of instruction. Classroom activity in Indian schools is now comparable to the work in white schools of the same localities. It is the practice at Indian schools to follow provincial curricula and to engage fully qualified teachers.

The health of Indian children studying in boarding schools has been given special attention. Medical and dental supervision and treatment have been arranged. Travelling nurses spent part of their time at these institutions. There was considerable expenditure for the removal of adenoids and diseased tonsils and for the correction of defective vision. There has been a special effort during the year to vaccinate every Indian school pupil. Improvements have been made in the children's diet and in the playground activities. Milk herds have been tested and careful attention has been given to water supply and sewage disposal systems.

New main buildings were commenced during the year at the Cecilia Jeffrey Residential School, near Kenora, Ont., and at the Alert Bay Institution, in British Columbia. In addition, the department secured a suitable farm and building site and commenced the erection of the necessary buildings for a large boarding school at Shubenacadie, N.S. This last named institution will provide an academic and vocational training as well as maintenance for orphans and other neglected Indian children in the Maritime Provinces. The boys' wing at the Kamloops Indian Residential School, in British Columbia, was completed during the year. At nine day schools, new classrooms or teacher's residences were erected.

One hundred and forty-five graduates of Indian schools, who showed academic promise, received grants for the purpose of continuing their studies at high schools, universities and business colleges. The policy is to make grants to the most promising, physically fit graduates of our own schools. If church and department representatives consider a graduate worthy a grant is allowed when the bona fide intention of the pupil is evident and provided proper supervision can be secured for the period of advanced study. These tuition grants are continued only when satisfactory reports are received. Last year, besides those taking advanced work, there were approximately 225 Indian children attending white schools and orphanages. All these are in addition to the enrolment at Indian schools as shown in the tabular statements. The expenditure from parliamentary appropriation on behalf of these special students amounted to $39,000 during the year. The practice of assisting selected ex-pupils of residential schools to start farming and housekeeping has been continued.

In the past, the funds of certain Indian bands have been used to meet some of the costs of conducting day schools on their reserves. The year under review is the first that all expenditure for education has been provided by parliamentary appropriation. The program of free education is now extended to all Indians in Canada. The expenditure for Indian education for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1929, amounted to $2,215,411.98, as follows: -

REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS RE ADHESION TO TREATY No. 9 FOR THE YEAR 1929.

To the Honourable

The Superintendent General of Indian Affairs,

Ottawa, Canada.

The undersigned commissioners appointed under and by virtue of a commission dated the 30th day of May, 1929, in accordance with a minute of a meeting of the Committee of the Privy Council approved by His Excellency, the Governor General, on the same date, copy of which minute is attached hereto, to negotiate with the Ojibway and other Indians in northern Ontario, an extension of James Bay Treaty No. 9, respectfully submit the following report: -

James Bay Treaty No. 9 was negotiated in 1905 with the Ojibway, Cree and other Indians inhabiting a certain tract of land comprising some ninety thousand square miles more or less in the province of Ontario, described as bounded on the south by the height of land and the northern limits of the territory ceded by the Robinson-Superior Treaty of 1850, and the Robinson-Huron Treaty of 1850; on the west by a part of the eastern boundary of the territory ceded by the Northwest Angle Treaty No. 3, and on the east and north by the boundaries of the said province as then defined by law. At this time the northerly boundary of the province was the great Albany river running several hundred miles in a somewhat irregular though constantly easterly direction from lake St. Joseph on the west at the Northwest Angle Treaty 20 boundary to James bay. The area immediately north of the said river was at that time comprised within the limits of the northwest Territories and under the jurisdiction of the federal government.

Under Treaty No. 9 not only did the Indians within the said area south of the Albany cede, release and surrender their rights but those resident in the area lying north of the river (to a straight line AB roughly drawn from the Northeast Angle of Treaty No. 3 in a north-easterly direction to a point on James bay approximately midway between the mouth of the Attawapiskat river on James bay and that of Winisk river on Hudson bay, did likewise.

In the year 1912 the limits of the province of Ontario were extended (see Statutes of Canada, Chapter 40 - 2 George V, and Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 3, 2 George V), beyond the Albany river to the province of Manitoba on the west Hudson bay on the north, and the northwestern shore of James Bay on the east, now known as the Patricia portion of the district of Kenora.

Under Treaty No. 9 certain reserves were set aside to the extent of a square mile for every family of five and certain of these reserves lie north of the Albany (now within but in 1905 without the limits of the province) viz.: north part of Osnaburgh, Fort Hope, Marten Falls, and Fort Albany.

While the province of Ontario since 1912 has recognized the extinguishment of the rights of the Indians who were attached to the bands making cession in 1905 of the territory lying South of the line AB and north of the Albany to the extent of annually paying the federal Government the $4 per capita treaty money, no approval by Lieutenant Governor in Council, as is required, has been given to the said reserves.

In view of the foregoing circumstances and the fact that the pushing back of the frontier is inevitable due to the spectacular interest and activity in the mining industry with its concomitant development, it was found necessary to extinguish the rights of those Indians resident north of the line AB; deemed advisable to confirm the cession made in 1905, by those Indians in the territory between line AB and the Albany river, and to deal with the above mentioned reserves within such area.

The program having been mapped out by the Indian Department it was decided with the consent of the Indians that they should be admitted to Treaty under the same conditions as applied to those covered by Treaty No. 9, and hence steps were taken towards effecting an adhesion thereto.

Three special points were selected at which all the Indians should assemble for consideration of the question, viz.: Trout Lake, the mouth of the Severn river on Hudson bay, and the mouth of the Winisk river on Hudson bay.

Consideration by the commissioners was to be given to the claims of the Attawapiskat Indians for a separate reserve in addition to the one already at Albany, the boundaries of which might be modified in the discretion of the commissioners to accord with any recognized claims of the Attawapiskat Indians.

Because of the magnitude of the area involved and the lack of ready transportation facilities, except flying boats, it was decided to take the air route. As it was found impossible owing to insufficient gas caches on Hudson bay at the points named, and an inability to provide such in due time for 1929 summer flying, the program provided Trout lake as the only point at which adhesion should be signed this year and that at the other reserves, like English river, those on the Albany already mentioned, and those on James bay, viz.: Moose Factory, Fort Albany and Attawapiskat, the regular annual treaty money be paid, Commissioner H.N. Awrey, representing the Indian Department as Paymaster, and Commissioner Cain, representing Ontario, on making observations at the old treaty payment points.

The program further provided that visitation to the two points on the Hudson bay be deferred until the summer of 1930 and that in the meantime steps be taken to transport the necessary gasoline supplies.

In pursuance of a joint understanding between the Dominion and the province two planes were requisitioned, one provided by the former and one by the latter. The Royal Canadian Air Force, through the Department of National Defence, after some unexpected incidents, supplied a cabin plane, a new 71 Fairchild WX, with wasp engine. Ontario, through the Department of Lands and Forests, supplied a Baby Moth, O.A.C.

The Moth, with Commissioner Cain and pilot Capt. Roy Maxwell, hopped off from Toronto Harbour at midday, June 25, the inclement weather preventing an early morning start, for Remi Lake, this being an air base of the Ontario flying service situated six miles north of the Transcontinental railway and forty miles west of Cochrane, where both planes were to meet.

The Fairchild with Commissioner H.N. Awrey, George Rutherford, Movie Picture Camera Operator of the province, Pilot Kingsley Rose and his mechanic, one Shaw, left Ottawa on the morning of June 26. Both planes met at Remi Lake according to schedule and here the Fairchild picked up Dr. G.W. Bell, of Sioux Lookout, representing the Indian Department. On June 27 the planes were thoroughly gone over and on the following day they left for English River post, and apart from the Fairchild, which left several hours earlier than the Moth, running into a dense fog and being required to return a portion of the distance and take refuge in a safe lake until improved visibility came, the planes reached English River post without untoward incident, a distance of 123 miles, on the evening of June 28.

This place was termed in the commissioner's report of 1905 "a desolate post of the Hudson Bay Company." Conditions have not materially changed since then; the Hudson Bay Company while still there have as competitors the younger trading company Révillion Frères, who are erecting a new residence (rather a pretentious structure) for their factor.

Commissioner Awrey as paymaster, in the presence of Commissioner Cain, paid treaty money to some 99 individuals, over twice the number that presented themselves for admission to Treaty in 1905, as then about half of them had gone to the "line" to trade.

The commissioners addressed these Indians, who were formerly members of the Albany band, emphasizing the necessity of obeying all laws and regulations respecting fishing, trapping, hunting and forest protection. Dr. Bell exhorted them to exercise care with regard to their health and in his sympathetic way gave them excellent advice in matters with regard to maintaining and improving their general welfare.

The Moth left English River on Sunday, June 30, for Osnaburgh House, with stop-over at Ogoki for half a day and at Fort Hope for a night and half day, leaving the latter point at noon on Monday, July 1. At each of these points Indians waiting for Treaty money were met. Osnaburgh was reached at 1.30 p.m., where Commissioner Awrey had landed the night previous at 7.30, his plane WX having proceeded thence to Sioux Lookout with Dr. Bell, and camera man Rutherford, the intention being to return early next morning, July 1, but due to temporary indisposition of pilot Rose did not return until Tuesday morning, July 2.

At Osnaburgh some 498 Indians were paid treaty money and during the afternoon of Dominion Day a program of sports with suitable prizes was provided. The games consisted amongst others of running, jumping and stone putting. The unfortunate absence of the movie picture operator lost an opportunity of securing some historic records of the first Dominion Day Celebration the band had ever experienced. The games were all spiritedly contested and special features such as the Baby Beauty Show, the most successful hunter, and the shot putting contest, gave the Indians decided enjoyment.

The commissioners listened to certain alleged grievances the Indians had with regard to hunting and fishing and explained fully the laws and regulations, as well as the Indians' rights and privileges. The Indians were strongly urged for their own material welfare to respect the game and fire laws and the response made by them through the interpreter and their own facial expression, and the handclapping, showed their approval. The full meaning of a Dominion Day Celebration and the significance of the Union Jack were explained to and appreciated by them. Discussion with regard to the use by the Indians of the reserve and the necessity of having that portion lying north of the Albany river duly approved was pointed out.

While treaty money was being paid and medical attention was being given, the two pilots, Rose and Maxwell, in the WX plane, in preparation for the last leg in the journey to our main objective, Trout Lake, transported gas to Lansdowne House and established an emergency cache of ten gallons at Nibinamik, or Summer Beaver Lake, about 50 miles north of Lansdowne.

On Wednesday morning, July 3, at 11.50, the moth left Osnaburgh for Lansdowne House, where a stop-over was considered wise. Lansdowne House was reached at 1.30 p.m. and Commissioner Cain spent the afternoon interviewing the trading companies' factors and making a general survey of conditions. Certain Indians, about 50 in number, of the Trout Lake Band, were encamped here for the purpose of being duly enrolled by the Commissioners on their return from Trout Lake.

The Moth left Lansdowne House at 6.25 p.m. Wednesday, July 3, and after two hours' delightful flying with the visibility the keenest up to then met on the trip, reached Trout Lake at 8.30 p.m. The companion plane WX had not then arrived. To view from the air in an open plane such a scene as followed the Moth's arrival over the lake was a memorable sight. It was hailed by the Indians with a real delight and childish conviviality, the usual restraint characteristic of the race having been carelessly thrown aside in a comic display of pent up energy, as they rushed pell mell to greet the "fire canoe" and its occupants.

On the following morning, July 4, in order to allay the anxiety of the Indians and their evident impatience, Commissioner Cain called together all the members of the band, some 600 in number, under arrangements with Rev, Mr. Garrett, the resident Anglican missionary, who very generously opened his church for the purpose and his house for members of the party. A personal glad hand shaking of each member of the band, even to the babies in arms, followed, all this having been preceded by a special message of the chief, a very alert and intelligent leader, that his people especially desired to welcome the representatives of the King. The commissioner, after greeting all, addressed the band as they gathered outside the church, not large enough to accommodate all, and fully explained the purpose of the visit and that their Great White King, George V, had delegated two commissioners, the other, Mr. Awrey, being on his way by the air route, to bring them peace, good cheer and happiness. They were congratulated on their manifest interest in the religious services, on their ability to sing and chant, their evident intelligence and their clean and well dressed appearance.

Plane WX with Commissioner Awrey and Dr. Bell reached Trout Lake on the evening of Thursday, July 4, the delay being due to adverse weather conditions at Osnaburgh, on account of which the load had to be reduced by leaving the mechanic and camera man at Osnaburgh, the intention being to make a second trip for them.

The arrival of Commissioner Awrey was the signal for a repetition of the acclaim accorded the earlier plane and Commissioner Awrey was given a right royal welcome. On Friday morning, July 5, Plane WX returned to Osnaburgh to get the two members of the party left behind, Captain Maxwell having arranged with Pilot Rose to bring back ten gallons of gas for the use of the Moth.

The weather being ideal the commissioners lost no time in calling the entire band together to address them on the object of the official visit. The services of one William Cromarty, a half-breed interpreter, were enlisted but his inability to raise his voice much above a whisper necessitated the words being relayed through the Chief. After fully understanding the explanations of the commissioners they were requested to remain in conference, appoint leading representatives of the band, six in number, in addition to the Chief, to meet the commissioners at the leaders' convenience and enter into full discussion of the terms and conditions of the treaty.

The commissioners withdrew and after dinner word came from the leaders that they were prepared to meet the commissioners for consideration of the treaty proposals and that they had full authority to act for the band, it having been clearly pointed out to the assembled Indians in the morning that what was agreed to by their leaders or representatives would be binding upon the whole band.

The commissioners and six leaders, Samson Beardy (Chief), George Winnapetonge, Jeremiah Sainnawap, Isaac Barkman, Jack McKay and Jacob Frog, met in a new unoccupied one-room building, "The Historical Hall", roughly constructed in the form of a 16 foot square, out of pit sawed spruce logs, over which flew a new Union Jack from a substantial pole hurriedly erected by the interested Indians.

Every important point in the treaty proposals from the area involved, which was indicated to the Indians on a roll map hanging upon the north wall of the rude structure was carefully considered to the minutest detail. In this they evinced the keenest interest, particularly in respect of the detailed obligations of the Crown. The ground was thoroughly covered, the commissioners entering into explanations with a particularity of detail, realizing that in the past certain claims have been made that the Indians did not fully understand the meaning of their act.

"THE HISTORICAL HALL" TROUT LAKE

Cognizant of their stolid character in certain circumstances and extremely desirous that any suspicions or apprehensions should be removed, the commissioners not only invited and received many questions but prompted the Indians in seeking data on points such as fishing, hunting, trapping, mining, etc., that might hereafter arise. The questions put to the commissioners and the sustained interest manifested by these alert leaders, who as time wore on became quite talkative, justify the opinion that for general intelligence they are much more advanced than the members of bands closer to the line and the commissioners feel from the observations noted and the comparisons made that the absence of direct and regular contact with the white man has not adversely affected this Northern Band, but on the contrary has obviously kept them free from many of the evil influences that such contact has upon the red man.

During the lengthy discussion it was suggested by the leaders that they get $5 per head annuity, the same as Indians in Treaties Nos. 3 and 5. The inequality of such payment and the fact that it was beyond the powers of the Commissioners to grant it were pointed out to the leaders and understood by them. At the conclusion of the discussion each leader was asked personally if he understood everything and was wholly satisfied and each answered in the affirmative. Each leader not only expressed such satisfaction but the chief and another leader desired that it be placed on record that the leaders put absolute trust in the commissioners and that their frank treatment of all matters gave them confidence in the entire Treaty negotiations.

Consequently at 5 p.m. on Friday, July 5, 1929, the commissioners, followed by the leaders, signed the document, each leader signing his own name in Cree Syllabics. The witnesses were Rev. M. Garrett, Mrs Garrett, his wife, Dr. Bell and Karl Bayly.

The way was now open for enrolment. The same evening twenty young stalwart Indians were enrolled in advance as they had to leave early next morning by canoe for Fort Severn, 260 miles distant, to bring back supplies for the Hudson's Bay Company.

On Saturday, 9.30 a.m., E.S.T., July 6, the Commissioners started to enroll the band, it having been decided to secure if possible the ages of all. The halfbreed interpreter Cromarty, while able to converse more or less freely with the Indians, all of whom were Crees, had no knowledge of spelling, and he was thereupon transferred to Dr. Bell. The commissioner substituted him by a Free Trader, a native of Newfoundland, Karl Bayly, a college graduate, who has been successfully trading in the outpost areas of Manitoba and northwest Ontario for some years. He had come from Norway House on the Nelson river in Manitoba to Trout Lake, a canoe distance of 460 miles, which was made in ten days. Through his knowledge of the Cree language and his acquaintance with a number of the Indians he very materially aided the commissioners in securing detailed information for registration.

The work of the commissioners was much expedited by the preparations made by the Indians, who had been previously instructed by the Commissioners to have in writing facts covering the names, ages and classification into men, women and children and in the case of women into widows, married or maidens. The commissioners deemed it advisable to provide for the permanent statistics the ages of all that the basis of any future study along ethnological lines, and the growth or decline of the band, would be reliable.

Practically every head of a family presented a piece of brown wrapping paper or birch bark, bearing in syllabics the desired information, which, through the splendid service of the Interpreter Bayly, was readily transcribed into English for our official records. The commissioners were thus able to enlist and pay over 525 members of the band up to 6 p.m. the first day.

On Monday, July 8, the remaining members, 52, were enrolled and paid. Other names to the number of 22 were submitted by five heads of families who claimed adherence to the Trout Lake band and had come from the region of Island Lake on the Manitoba boundary but frankly claimed residence in Manitoba, where their wives had been receiving treaty money, although the husbands spend ten or eleven months each year in Ontario, their hunting grounds. The commissioners gave them the alternative of applying to and getting permission from the Island Lake Council to enter their band, for which they expressed a preference, and seek approval thereof of the Indian Department, or appearing next year with their families at Trout Lake and satisfying the commissioners of their change of domicile to Ontario, when they would be admitted without loss of their gratuity except as to their wives, who could be entitled only to the regular annuity.

In addition to the 577 enrolled in the band at Trout Lake some 50 previously referred to were enrolled at Lansdowne House by Commissioner Awrey on the return trip some days later, Commissioner Cain having encountered these on his ingoing journey, but unable owing to illness to be present when their names were submitted. This brings up the total of the Trout Lake Band to 627 for the year 1929.

A certain number of Indians inhabiting the regions surrounding lake Wendigo and Round lake, who it was believed claimed adherence to the Trout Lake band, were duly advised by the Indian Department in January last to present themselves and families at Trout Lake for admission to treaty, but for some reason they did not appear nor have any representatives meet the commissioners and in consequence their claims were not considered. It was intimated, indirectly by other Indians, that they did not fraternize with the Trout Lake Band proper and preferred a separate band of their own with the right to select their own chief. From the scant information received at Trout Lake their numbers were calculated at about 150, and it was tentatively agreed by the commissioners at Trout Lake that in the absence of any explanation of their failure to attend it might be unfair to exclude them from the usual gratuity privileges and admission to treaty, provided next year when the Commissioners visit Trout Lake the Indians and families appear, present their grievances and become enrolled.

Reserves. - On the assumption that the entire band would approximate 750, the number being indefinite owing to the lack of information respecting the Wendigo and Pound Lake Indians, reserves were set aside for the use of the Indians on the basis of one square mile to every five persons. The chief maintained that the flat nature of the country, with its low lying lake conditions, lessens the opportunity for full development and the selection of areas in different localities would increase the chances of more successfully establishing in the future community life and making the land productive. The chief expressed the hope that some day a community system based upon that similar to the white man would be evolved for his race. The magnitude and inaccessibility of the region in question, involving such long and arduous canoe trips for all to assemble at any one given point at a specified time, was an added reason for a division of the acreage to which the band would be entitled. Consequently the Commission felt justified in allocating four different Reserves as follows: -

1. Trout Lake. - This was to be the largest and the central point at which treaty payments should be regularly made.
2. Sachigo, on the west.
3. Wunnummin, on the southeast.
4. Round Lake, or Wendigo, on the southwest, at such point to be hereafter established.

Chief Beardy expressed the hope that this reserve would be treated by the Wendigo and Round Lake Indians as a token of the good will he and all the Trout lakers assembled had for their absent though rather diffident Indian brothers for whom the chief had the highest regard and all of whom he considered his children.

The following is a rough description of each reserve, which shall be duly surveyed at the earliest time possible by an Ontario land surveyor, at the direction of the Dominion Government.

Reserve 1, Trout Lake, comprising roughly an area lying on the east or southeast shore of Trout lake, where it empties into the Fawn river and extending on both sides thereof along the shore of the said lake for 3 1/2 miles more or less, and back therefrom to a distance of approximately 10 miles, always, as far as possible, at a distance of 3 1/2 miles from the shore on each side of the main channel of the said Fawn river, containing 70 square miles more or less.

Reserve 2, Sachigo Lake, comprising an area lying at the outlet of Sachigo lake where it empties into Sachigo river, and extending on both sides thereof along the shore of the said lake for 3 1/2 miles more or less and back therefrom to a distance of approximately ten miles, always, as far as possible, at a distance of 32 miles from the shores on each side of the main channel of the said Sachigo river, containing 14 square miles more or less.

Reserve 3, Wunnummin Lake, comprising an area lying at the southeast end of Wunnummin lake where it empties into Winisk river, 4 1/2 miles frontage by 6 miles in depth, the area to be largely to the south side sufficient of the north side to be included so as to cover both sides of the river, containing 27 square miles more or less.

Reserve 4, Round Lake, or in Wendigo Lake Region, the area to be of such size and dimensions as may be determined by the commissioners, provided the Indians of such region accept treaty and are admitted in the year of 1930, the acreage of such proposed reserve to be the difference between the aggregate acreage required to be allotted to the whole band and that covered by the first three mentioned reserves.

The commissioners deem it worthy of note that of the 627 enrolled in Trout Lake Band 43 are widows of whom some 16 are childless, the other 27 having 95 children. In other words 22 per cent of the total members of those enrolled are widows and their dependents, a number of husbands having died last winter as the result of an apparent flue epidemic. The clean and well dressed appearance of the widows seemed to indicate their condition at the moment was satisfactory and their lot fairly happy. However, with such a proportion of dependents it is reasonable to conclude that in the not far distant future appeals for relief will be made and efforts towards meeting these will accentuate the problem of the Department of Indian Affairs in providing emergency or general relief essential in such a far flung portion of the province, so many miles back from the coast, and so remote from the ordinary lines of communication.

Trout lake, where the Adhesion was signed, is the most important reservoir of the Severn river, its main outlet to the Severn proper being the Fawn river, the distance from the lake to the mouth of the river on the Hudson bay being 260 miles by canoe travel and 175 miles by air route. The lake lies between 53 1/2 and 54° North latitude, and 89 1/2 and 90° West longitude. Mail reaches here but twice a year, occasionally but once a year, coming as do the supplies via York Factory or Fort Churchill, thence by schooner to the mouth of the Severn, hundreds of miles, thence by canoe route to Trout lake. Some twenty-five years ago two Indians blazed a straight compass winter dog route from Trout Lake to York Factory, 250 miles, which is now used when necessary. Transportation charges are necessarily heavy and reflected in the prices of staple commodities. Flour costs 35 cents a pound, sugar $1 a pound, tea $2.50 a pound, pork $1 a pound, salt 50 cents a pound, and shortening $1 a pound.

The Hudson Bay Company have had a post established here for many years, at present in charge of W.H. Allison, with Ernie Hampton as clerk. These comparatively young men were extremely courteous, very hospitable and most obliging and furnished very comfortable quarters for several of the Treaty party. They rendered excellent service in offering information in respect of the Indians with most of whom they regularly trade. The remaining Indians market their furs with a free trader. The Hudson Bay post is situated near the north shore of the lake, on an island, which contains a very inviting sand beach affording safe anchorage for air craft.

The Anglican community has a mission church of log construction and a nearby house where the present rector, Rev. M. Garrett resides. Practically all the Indians of the band show adherence to the Anglican faith (although one lay Methodist Itinerant preacher was enrolled), and during the week spent there by the treaty party daily attended services and the fervour and devotion indicated by their outward demeanour, as they sang hymns and chanted psalms, along with the general tranquility of the band, are direct evidences of the christianizing influence of the mission.

In pursuance of a long and well established practice regular elections for chief and councillors were held for the newly admitted band. There was no dearth of candidates and after an animated contest the following were elected, and established in office: Chief, Simon Beardy, Councillors: George Winnapetonge, Jeremiah Sainnawap and Isaac Barkman.

In accordance with the provisions of the treaty the chief was presented with a large Union Jack, the symbol of authority, and each councillor with the chief had pinned upon his person his official badge, in accordance with the provisions of the treaty.

At the conclusion of enrolment and payment the Indians expected the usual feast that accompanies such treaty negotiations, but owing to the lack of provisions at the post the looked-for formalities were abandoned. The commissioners, however, assured the band that next year if there be ample supplies in store the deferred feast would be given. Partly in substitution of such feast commissioners arranged rather an extended program of sports and the carrying out of these was indeed a new experience for the Indians. All the band evinced the greatest interest as they squatted about upon the somewhat spacious though rather rough cleared area on the shore of the lake. The contestants enthusiastically entered into the spirit of the games and some of the younger element, those athletically inclined, gave promise of sturdy development. As a matter of official and historic record the program of the event appears below, with the prizes designated.

Event	Prize
Baby show	1st, 2nd and 3rd prize - cup each
Best looking girl	Ball
Best looking boy	Ball
Largest family	Large size frying pan
Best hunter	Trap
Oldest Indian	Tobacco
Oldest squaw	Shawl
Best pair twins	Large balls
Boys' race (50 yards) under 12	Mouth organ
Girls' race (50 yards) under 12	String of beads
Boys' race (50 yards) under 16	Pair of braces
Girls' race (50 yards) under 16	Handkerchief
Shot putting, men	Pipe
Men's race (75 yards)	1st and 2nd, hat each
Men's broad jump	Watch
Sack race	1st and 2nd, jack knives
Canoe race	1st and 2nd, watches

Monday evening, July 8, was drawing to a close when a challenge from the aborigines to the white men, limited to seven, for a test of supremacy in field agility, was issued and there being no "war weapons" in the form of gutted sticks to display the hectic value of Canada's national game, a football possessed by the well practised Indians was requisitioned and a real soccer struggle ensued. The seven whites, consisting of the two commissioners, with Dr. Bell, Captain Maxwell, Karl Bayly, the interpreter, the Hudson Bay factor and his clerk, with an average age of 36 years, forced the seven adroit red skins, with an average of 25 years, to bite the dust and after forty minutes hit and miss warfare emerged the winners by two goals to zero. The entire band urged on their followers to a frenzied effort but all in vain. Three rousing cheers for the winners and the vanquished concluded an eventful day in the lives of these new treaty Indians.

Tuesday, July 9, 1929. The commissioners having fully completed their work by noon were still anxiously waiting for plane WX which had failed to return from Osnaburgh. Several days having elapsed since it left consideration was given to a probable line of action with regard to proceeding with the Moth and arranging a search party. In the afternoon, however, a plane came in sight which turned out to be a new machine, Fairchild XB, piloted by Flight Lieutenant Higgins, with Sergeant Green as mechanic, and brought the sad news that the WX had crashed at Osnaburgh, resulting in the loss of one life, the cook at the Hudson Bay factors' post there, Sandy Morrison, and a serious injury to Pilot Rose, and minor injuries to passenger Hooker, the Hudson bay factor at Osnaburgh. The injured were taken by plane to Sioux Lookout hospital for attendance. Plane XB had come from Ottawa following the crash, communication via Government plane to Sioux Lookout and telegraph having been employed. Pilot Higgins had no knowledge of the arrangements made between Pilots Maxwell and Rose respecting a gasoline supply for the Moth but very kindly syphoned out five gallons, as a partial relief from his machine, thus enabling the Moth to proceed to Lansdowne House in the expectation of refuelling from the 10-gallon cache at Nibinamik, or Summer Beaver Lake, some 100 miles south of Trout Lake, and about 60 miles north of Lansdowne. At 5 p.m. Tuesday, July 9, both planes took off for Lansdowne House but XB, because of a slight leak in gas tank, continued without stop to Fort Hope for the purposes of short repairs, on completion of which the same evening returned to Lansdowne House.

The Moth practically followed the same course on its outward journey from Trout Lake, as on its inward, for some distance, but bucked a fairly heavy cross wind all the time, and found its limited gas supply subject to a heavier consumption than under normal conditions. It was therefore decided, to refuel at Nibinamik Lake, rather than flirt with uncertainties, but because of the similarity of the lakes, the shore lines and the islands it was difficult to pick up the cache land marked only ten days before, and a slight turn to the right rather than the left resulted in overlooking the cache and a further westward survey over a string of lakes failed to disclose its real location. Pilot Maxwell, understanding that prospectors were actively carrying on investigations in the chain of lakes and trusting to the possibility of securing gas from their operating company, proceeded westward and after landing at a small lake to await the dropping of the unfavourable wind and to investigate an old encampment which proved an abandoned Indian lodge, proceeded farther westward to select a propitious landing shore, and in due time observing a very inviting sand beach on a lake of reasonable size, landed with but sufficient gas to carry on taxiing on the lake. This lake was not shewn upon our map but lies at the western end of the chain of lakes of which Wunnummin, emptying into the Winisk River, is the most important indicated on the map.

Commissioner Cain and Pilot Maxwell were thus forced to camp in the wilds on the sand beach in the hope that a provincial air service plane would locate the position of the Moth within a day or two should one of the different commercial planes operating in this section not do so. That evening after the camp fire had been extinguished and preparations were being made for open air beds, several Indians ploughed through the deep waters and drew up their canoes alongside the Moth which had attracted their attention some miles distant. Little information could be secured from them except that they were Crees and had an encampment on the opposite side of the lake. After an unsatisfactory attempt on their part to explain their coming they hopped into their canoes promising to return the following day. About midday on Thursday, July 11, the Indians again called, this time six only in number including two new faces, and gradually the occurrence of the night before was being repeated when much to the amazement of Commissioner Cain their leader, the chief, very unceremoniously extracted from his pocket a letter written by Dr. D.C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, in January, 1929, directing him as Chief of the Wendigo Indians to appear at Trout Lake for treaty negotiations. These then were representatives of the very Indians whose absence from Trout Lake gave the commissioners much concern and caused considerable discussion.

The unexpected meeting of this band was a striking coincidence when related to the fortuitous landing of the Moth plane.

These Indians of the Wendigo and Round Lake regions, under a false impression that the commissioners were to treat with them separately, had established an encampment on the opposite side of the very lake whose hospitable sand shore had welcomed the Moth. It is believed they numbered around 150 to 175 since by actual count, as was afterwards learned, there were 43 canoes banked. In full expectation of meeting the Commissioners they had posted the lanes for the safe landing of the planes.

That there should be no misunderstanding hereafter Commissioner Cain wrote and presented to the chief the following letter: -

*2.20 p.m. E.S.T.,
Wednesday, July 10, 1929,*

Forced landing, gas low, on Inland Lake, South of Trout Lake, District of Kenora (Patricia Portion).

To the Chief of the Cree Indians,
Wendigo, Ont.

DEAR CHIEF, - On the 29th January last you were advised that the commissioners appointed to negotiate with the Indians of northern Ontario an adhesion to Treaty Nine, would be at Trout Lake on July 3, 1929, and that all the Indians residing in the vicinity of Wendigo and Trout Lake should meet at Trout Lake.

The commissioners, according to arrangement, met at Trout Lake and signed a treaty with nearly 600. You and your Wendigo Indians were not there and therefore you were not entered and cannot be enrolled this year and paid as were those who appeared there.

Now if you wish to become Treaty Indians you must next year bring all your families, women and children, to Trout Lake and you will be entered as Treaty Indians, and the commissioners, if there together, will consider any question or questions you may bring forward.

This letter is written by one of the commissioners to whom, while encamped on the sand beach of this lake, which name he does not know, though the Indians call it something like "Nikip," several Indians came after having seen our plane land to wait for gas supply when a search plane locates us. The one whom the undersigned considers "Chief" presented the letter of Dr. D.C. Scott, D.S.G., dated January 29, 1929, No. 235225 - 1 "A."

Our unexpected landing here and still more unexpected visit by you Indians, seven last evening, within one hour after landing and six today, including the bearer of Dr. Scott's letter, seems a striking coincidence in the train of events occurring in connection with this year's adhesion, particularly when the Commissioners were so anxious to meet the Wendigo and Round Lake newly elected Chief, Sampson Beady, said he had no illwill against your Indians but considered you all his children.

The undersigned is now on his way to Attawapiskat Lake or Lansdowne House and should any of your Indians meet us there we shall indeed be glad to admit you to Treaty.

Those who are not taken in this year must appear next year with their wives and families at Trout Lake if they wish treaty.

Very sincerely yours,
W.C. CAIN,
Commissioner.

The balance of the day was devoted to the setting out of smudges on the mainland in the hope of attracting a searching plane.

On Thursday, July 11, with the remaining gas in the tank the Moth was taxied over to an island, one mile from shore, where several smudges of goodly proportions with great difficulty were set out. The wind being in the tail on the return the Moth drifted to shore without the use of gas.

Towards evening of this day a Cabin plane of the Western Airways on transporting prospectors to a nearby lake observed the Moth and landed. Arrangements were made to bring a supply of gas the following morning to enable the Moth to proceed to Lansdowne and the remaining points of call on James bay. That night, however, a violent illness seized Commissioner Cain that forced him to take plane next morning, July 12, to Sioux Lookout Hospital, reached on the same evening after a stop for refuelling at Cat Lake. He was unable to continue the rest of the journey but as the treaty had been signed at the only point provided in the program and but fifty Trout Lake Indians were to be enrolled at Lansdowne, visited by Commissioner Cain on his inward journey, the latter requested Commissioner Awrey to list and pay them, which was duly done. Certain other questions respecting reserves at Albany and Attawapiskat, that were considered by Commissioner Awrey, were deferred until next year.

Commissioner Awrey continued the journey and while he was engaged at Lansdowne on July 10, XB returned to Trout Lake in search of the missing Moth. Several planes of the Ontario Air Service were enlisted to join in the search and the eastern route to Trout Lake was followed on July 11 and 12, until the announcement of the arrival of Commissioner Cain at Sioux Lookout hospital.

On July 11, 12 and 13, Treaty payments were made at Fort Hope, where the reserve lies north of the river, and is still subject to approval of the Ontario Government. Regular elections were held and on Monday, July 15, Commissioner Awrey returned to Lansdowne House for the enrolment of the fifty Indians covered by the request of Commissioner

Cain, which reached him after his first visit to Lansdowne.

On July 16, XB plane being unable to get connections through Fort Hope radio to Ottawa, proceeded to Allanwater on the Transcontinental for instructions and on its return the party, with Dr. Mitchell of Sioux Lookout, substituting Dr. Bell according to schedule, went to Ogoki where annuities were paid. The day following, July 17, the plane proceeded to Albany arriving at 4 p.m., and here Commissioner Awrey, who had during the early part of the journey discussed the merits of the claims of the Indians to a modification of boundaries of the Albany reserve due to the requests of the Attawapiskat Indians for a separate band, considered it wise to defer the matter until next year.

During the work at Albany XB plane transported Rev. M. Northam, Anglican missionary of Albany, to Sudbury hospital for treatment of a serious illness and returned on Saturday, July 20, On Monday, July 22, when prepared to leave for Attawapiskat the plane was found to have a slightly damaged float and this was repaired. Unfortunately while taxiing out on the following day from shore to set out to Attawapiskat the plane struck a submerged stone and sprang a leak, Pilot Higgins was obliged to return to Ottawa for a new float. Commissioner Awrey, to expedite the business in respect of the claim of the Attawapiskat Indians, instead of waiting for the return of the plane from Ottawa, the date of which was uncertain, took canoe for Attawapiskat on Tuesday and after an unprecedentedly fast trip reached there the following night. Thursday, July 25, Friday, July 26, and Saturday, July 27, were spent in paying treaty money, holding elections dividing the Albany Band and creating a new and distinct one to be hereafter known as the Attawapiskat Band, to meet the view of the Attawapiskat Indians, and dealing with their request for a reserve of their own. A determination of this question, inasmuch as it affects the reserve already laid out, though not confirmed, at Albany, was transferred to next year when both commissioners would be present.

XB Plane having returned from Ottawa on Friday, July 26, the party set out on Sunday, July 28, for Moose Factory, which was reached at 2 p.m. Notification of the serious condition of an Indian boy at Fort George, who had been shot in the hip, and of the need of immediate aid, was received. The work of paying treaty money and making certain investigations into matters respecting fishing, by Commissioner Awrey, was finished on Tuesday, July 30, and at 3 p.m. he left for Remi Lake and arrived there at 5 p.m. Instructions were received from Ottawa to send back the plane to Fort George for the Indian boy but owing to unfavourable weather conditions the plane was delayed until Thursday, August 1. Early in the morning, 4.45, the plane left for Fort George, arriving there at 10 a.m. It left again with the injured lad at 2 p.m. the same day and in a non-stop flight proceeded to Ottawa, reaching there at 9 p.m.

Commissioner Awrey left Remi Lake on Thursday, August 1, for Ottawa, by boat and train, arriving home on Friday, August 2, thus ending a memorable trip that will go down in Indian Treaty history as one crowded with untoward incidents, where tragedy, pathos, humour and devotion to duty each played its important part.

In conclusion the commissioners desire to place themselves on record as being of one accord on the various questions that arose and the problems presented. While differences of opinion in minor matters necessarily were expressed it is gratifying to note that the spirit of conciliation and sympathy always characteristic of the governing powers in Ontario when treating with the Indians, animated all the deliberations and the mutual respect and tolerance of the Commissioners established a common working basis. It was found that an attitude of fairness, even to the extent of leniency, and frankness towards the Indians elicited warm hearted response.

The province of Ontario, through the Department of Mines, and Department of Game and Fisheries, very graciously suggested through their minister, the Hon. Charles McCrea, that certain inquiries be instituted in respect of mining claims and the feelings of the Indians regarding fishing, trapping and hunting. Appeals for commercial rights in fishing had been declined by the Department of Game and Fisheries until the interests of the Indians could be consulted and an official expression of opinion secured. After the closest observations following intimate inquiries at every post visited, both with regard to hunting and fishing, it is the viewpoint of the commissioners that the entire area lying north of the Albany river to James bay on the east, Hudson bay on the north, and to Manitoba and treaty areas 3 and 5 on the west, be exclusively left to the Indians so far as hunting, trapping and fishing are concerned, that they may be assured of a continuous source of natural supply for their sustenance, the Indians to be subject in every respect to the game and fishing laws and regulations of the province.

At but two points in the whole trip did the treaty party get fresh fish, lake trout at Osnaburgh on lake Joseph and at Trout lake on the Severn river, and even here it was with apparent difficulty that the Indians, aggregated for treaty and annuity purposes, secured ample catches to meet their own immediate needs. Not a single dish of sturgeon on the entire trip was served, the opinion being generally expressed that a scarcity existed this year. The Indians at different posts entertained fears lest their fishing and hunting grounds would be encroached upon by the granting of commercial fishing licences and the possible extension of trapping rights to whites. While showing gratitude for the generous treatment accorded them by the Ontario Government in limiting certain privileges to resident Indians they appealed to the commissioners for some assurance that there would be no departure from that policy and that their future means of existence would not be narrowed.

The commissioners in the circumstances respectfully, though strongly, recommend that it be suggested to the Ontario Government that before permitting commercial fishing licences, or granting extensions to whites with regard to hunting and trapping in this remote region, the matter be carefully studied and that as far as it is within the public interests the area be specifically left for the exclusive use of the Indians, the doing of which will, the commissioners believe, in no way interfere: with or be antagonistic to the general fishing or hunting industry.

The commissioners further recommend as follows: -

(a) That the surrender made in the year 1905 by the Indians of that portion lying South of the line AB, then in the Northwest Territories but included in the extended boundaries of Ontario in 1912, be hereby approved and confirmed.

(b) That the following reserves situated in the area referred to in the preceding paragraph (a) be approved and confirmed as already allocated and duly surveyed.

1. Osnaburgh, North of the Albany River, 53 square miles.

2. Fort Hope, 100 square miles, and

3. Marten Falls, 30 square miles.

(c) That the final determination of the size of the Albany Reserve and the location and size of a Reserve to be established for the Attawapiskat Band be deferred until the year 1930.

(d) That the three reserves for the Trout Lake Indians, selected, subject to a proper survey, viz.: Trout Lake, Sachigo and Wunnummim, be approved; and that any mining claims staked out and recorded within any of these three reserves subsequent to the date of the signing of the Adhesion, July 5, 1929, be in all respects subject to the provisions of Cap. 13, 14 George V, in which the rights of the Indians under well defined conditions are protected.

The commissioners desire to direct attention to the necessity of making adequate provision, prior to the advent of cold weather, for the transportation of gas to and the establishment of caches at Attawapiskat, Winisk, Severn River, and also possibly at Trout Lake, to ensure ample supplies for next year's treaty planes.

We beg to submit herewith the original treaty signed in triplicate.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the Commissioners.

Your obedient servants,
W.C. CAIN,
H.N. AWREY.

August 30, 1929.

Adhesions have yet to be taken from the Indians at Wendigo, Fort Severn and Winisk. It is expected that this will be done during the summer of 1930.

Certified to be a true copy of a Minute of a Meeting of the Committee of the Privy Council, approved by His Excellency the Governor General on the 30th May, 1929.

The Committee of the Privy Council, on the recommendation of the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, advise - pursuant to an agreement made on the first day of March, 1929, between the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Dominion of Canada, of the one part, and the Hon. William F. Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests of the Province of Ontario, on behalf of the Government of Ontario, of the other part - that Mr. Walter Charles Cain, Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests for the Province of Ontario, and Mr. Herbert Nathaniel Awrey, of the Department of Indian Affairs, be appointed commissioners, for the purpose of negotiating an extension of James Bay Treaty No. 9 with the Objibeway and other Indians, inhabitants of the territory within the limits hereinafter defined and described, by their chiefs and headmen, for the purpose of opening for settlement, immigration, trade, travel, mining and lumbering, and for such other purposes as to His Majesty may seem meet, a tract of country bounded and described as hereinafter mentioned, and of obtaining the consent thereto of His Indian subjects inhabiting the said tract, and of arranging with them for the cession of the Indian rights, titles and privileges to be ceded, released, surrendered and yielded up to His Majesty the King, and His successors for ever, so that there may be peace and good-will between them and His Majesty's other subjects, and that His Indian people may know and be assured of what allowances they are to count upon and receive from His Majesty's bounty and benevolence, which said territory may be described and defined as follows, that is to say: -

All that tract of land and land covered by water in the province of Ontario, comprising part of the District of Kenora (Patricia portion), containing one hundred and twenty-eight thousand three hundred and twenty square miles, more or less, being bounded on the south by the northerly limit of Treaty Nine; on the west by the easterly limits of Treaties Three and Five, and the boundary between the provinces of Ontario and Manitoba; on the north by the waters of Hudson bay, and on the east by the waters of James bay, and including all islands, islets and rocks, waters and land covered by water within the said limits; the said treaty to release and surrender also all Indian rights and privileges whatsoever of the said Indians to all or any other lands wherever situated in Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba or the District of Keewatin, or, in any other portion of the Dominion of Canada.

The committee, on the same recommendation, further advise that the said Mr. Walter Charles Cain and Mr. Herbert Nathaniel Awrey be paid as commissioners for the purpose aforesaid, the sum of thirty-five dollars and fifteen dollars per diem respectively, together with reasonable travelling expenses.

*G.G. KEZAR,
Assistant Clerk of the Privy Council.*

BUILDINGS

The following are the buildings erected during the fiscal year 1928 - 29.

The Onion Lake R.C. Indian Residential School has been completed and is now occupied.

Indian Residential Schools have been constructed at Shubenacadie, N.S., Cecilia Jeffrey's at Kenora and the Boys' Wing built for the Kamloops Indian Residential School, Kamloops, B.C.

Work has commenced on the new Alert Bay Indian Residential School.

Outbuildings have been provided and improvements made at several of the Residential Schools.

Day Schools have been built at Caughnawaga, Broken Head, Peguis Centre, Little Red River and Thunderchilds.

A modern up-to-date hospital has been erected for the Indians of the Blood reserve. The hospital is located in the town of Cardston.

BRIDGES, WATERWORKS, SEWERAGE AND IRRIGATION SYSTEMS, ROADS, DYKING AND WHARVES

The following engineering works were carried out on the various Reserves throughout Canada by the Department during the current fiscal year.

BRIDGES

Repairs were made for the maintenance of bridges on the following reserves: Montana, Alta., Manitoulin, Ont., Fort William, Ont., Alnwick, Ont., Tyendinaga, Ont., Six Nations, Ont., Maniwaki, Que., Tuquot, B.C., Chapel Island, N.S.

DYKING

Dyking works were carried out for the protection of farming land and the upkeep of highways on the following reserves: - Nyenza, N.S., Deadman's Creek, B.C., and St. Mary's B.C.

IRRIGATION SYSTEMS

Irrigation systems were constructed or improved on the following reserves in British Columbia, where farming operations are progressing: Soda Creek No. 1, and No. 2, Cayoosh Creek No. 2, Dog Creek, Williams Lake, Boston Bar, Canim No. 1, Fontaine Nos. 1 and 3, Lytton No. 18, Meadow Lake, Lower Nicholas, North Thompson and Kamloops.

ROADS

Highways are gradually being constructed in co-operation with provincial Department of Highways and main roads improved on the following reserves:

Province of Ontario. - Tyendinaga, Rama, Alnwick, Muncey, Six Nations, Moravian, Oneida, Golden Lake, Walpole Island, Kettle Point, Sarnia, Shawanaga, Sheshegwaning, Cockburn Island, Gros Cap, Sheguiandah

Province of Nova Scotia. - Eskasoni, Malagawatch, Salmon River, Whycocomagh.

Province of New Brunswick. - Big Cove.

Province of Manitoba. - Dog Creek, Oak Lake.

Province of Saskatchewan. - Kahkewistahaw.

Province of British Columbia. - Lillooet, Fraser Lake, Tachi, Canim Lake.

Province of Quebec. - Restigouche, Abenakis, Oka, Lorette, Bersimis, Maria, Maniwaki, Caughnawaga, St. Regis, Doncaster, Seven Islands, Temiscaming.

SEWERAGE SYSTEMS

Sewerage systems were installed on the following Indian Villages: - Last section and completion of main sewerage system at Odanak on the Abenakis Indian Reserve, Que.

WATER WORK SYSTEMS

Water supply systems were installed or improved to provide the following Indian Villages with water for domestic purposes, and for fire protection: Pointe Bleue, on the Oujatchouan Indian Reserve, P.Q., Sliammon B.C., Massett, B.C., Fort William, Ont.

WHARVES

The construction of a wharf was completed at Massett, B.C., in co-operation with the hospital authorities, the steamship company and the federal Department of Public Works.

SURVEYS

Listed hereunder are the principal surveys performed in respect to this department during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1929: -

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Stikine Agency. - District Group lots Nos. 5456, 5458, 5459, 5460, 5461, 5463, 5464, 5465, 5466, 5467, 5468, 5469, 5470, 5473, 5474, and 5475 Cassiar District.

New Westminster Agency. - Franks Indian reserve No. 10, Sumas Indian reserve No. 12.

Lytton Agency. - Lytton Indian reserve Nos. 2A, 2B, 3B, 8, 9, 9B, 10, 11, 14A, 21B, 22A, 31, 32, 33. Boston Bar Indian reserve Nos. 2, 3 and 8. Squawtitis No. 1, Pavilion No. 4, Popkum No. 1 and Skuppah No. 2B.

Kamloops Agency. - Hihium Lake Indian reserve No. 6, Deadman's Creek.

Nicola Agency. - Lower Nicola Indian reserve Nos. 9, 10, 12 and 13. Nicomen No. 2.

Skeena River Agency. - Nass Indian reserve, Nos. 45, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 57, 59, 60, 61, 68, 76, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87 and 88. Tsimpsean Indian reserve, Nos., 7, 11A, 31, 35, 36, 37, 41, 42, 43, 44, 60, 61, 71, 72, 88, 89, District Group lots 3926, 3959, 3960, 3961 and 3962. Kincolith Indian reserve, Nos. 12A, 26A, 42 and 43, Coast District.

Queen Charlotte Agency. - Massett Indian reserve, Nos. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27.

Williams Lake Agency. - Cemeteries at Redstone Flat, Chezacut and Nazco and reserve, Rich Bar No. 4.

NEW BRUNSWICK

A new reserve was surveyed at Devon.

QUEBEC

The Chateaugay road through the village of Caughnawaga was surveyed.

ONTARIO

About one hundred islands in Georgian Bay were resurveyed and revalued. Subdivision was made of lot 42, Mud lake, a resurvey of Beaver lots in Caradoc and an additional subdivision was made at Whitefish Bay.

MANITOBA

A survey was made of The Pas cemetery and connecting road.

SASKATCHEWAN

A subdivision of Indian reserve No. 106A was made and a cruise of lands preparatory to selecting more reserves. The boundary between Ochapowace and Kakewistahaw was run.

SUMMARY OF INDIAN AFFAIRS BY PROVINCES AND TERRITORIES

The local administration of the Indian lands, on the reserves scattered throughout the Dominion, is conducted through the Department's agencies, of which there are in all 116. The number of bands included in an agency varies from one to more than thirty. The staff of an agency usually includes various officers, in addition to the agent, such as the medical officer, clerk, farm instructor, field matron, nurse, constable, stockman, etc., according to the special requirements of the agency in question. At many of the smaller agencies in the older provinces, where the Indians are more advanced, the work is comparatively light, requiring only the services of an agent. The work of the agencies is supervised by the department's inspectors. There are Indian Commissioners at Regina and Victoria, acting in a supervisory capacity for the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia respectively.

ONTARIO

Agencies. - The Indian Agency offices in Ontario are located as follows Brantford, Cape Croker, Chapleau, Chippewa Hill (Saugeen), Christian Island, Deseronto, Fenella (Alnwick), Fort Frances, Gore Bay, Hagersville, Highgate, Kenora, Longford Mills, Manitowaning, Moose Factory, Muncey, Parry Sound, Peterborough (Rice and Mud Lakes), Port Arthur, Port Perry, (Scugog, Ruby Golden Lake), Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Sutton West (Georgina and Snake Island), Sturgeon Falls, Thessalon and Walpole Island.

Tribal Origin. - The great majority of the Indians of Ontario are Ojibwas, and are of Algonquin stock. The Oneidas of the Thames, the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte, the Mohawks of the Parry Sound district, and the Six Nations of the Grand River, are of Iroquoian stock. There is a band of Pottawattamies at Walpole Island, and Delawares at the Carodoc agency; these are of Algonkin stock.

Occupations. - The Indians in the western, and central parts of Ontario engage largely in farming. The reserves generally are well suited to this purpose and the activity of the department's field agents has resulted in a steady improvement both in the methods of operation and the results achieved. The success achieved by the returned soldiers of this province has been especially creditable and they are rapidly developing prosperous communities.

During the summer months Indians find a profitable source of income as guides and canoemen. Many are employed at various industries and trades, while railway and navigation companies employ a large number. As a rule they are excellent bushmen and many find employment in the various lumber camps. There is still an excellent market for snowshoes, canoes and moccasins, and these are usually manufactured by the other members of the community.

The women also have many sources of income; some are employed as domestics; others support themselves by making baskets and fancy work. In certain districts berry-picking is an important item and furnishes considerable income.

Dwellings. - The great majority of the Ontario Indians have comfortable farmhouses which compare very favourably with those of their white neighbours. Many own houses of brick and stone, although in the outlying and more remote districts the old log houses are in the majority. In the more settled districts the Indians have followed the examples of the whites and both houses and farm buildings are comfortable and of excellent construction.

New Ontario. - In the remote parts of Ontario hunting and fishing are still the chief sources of livelihood. Acting as guides and canoemen during the summer months adds considerably to their income. While agriculture is not carried on to any extent, most of the bands grow considerable crops of potatoes and vegetables. They are, of necessity, more or less nomadic and consequently live in tents most of the year. This condition will greatly change as civilization progresses.

QUEBEC

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of Quebec: Becancour, Bersimis, Caughnawaga, Gaspé, Lake St. John, Lorette, Maria, Mingan, Oka, River Desert, Restigouche, Seven Islands, St. Augustine, St. Regis, St. Francis, Temiskaming and Viger.

Tribal Origin. - The principal tribes found in Quebec are Iroquois at Caughnawaga, Lake of the Two Mountains, and St. Regis; the Hurons of Lorette are also of Iroquoian stock; the Montagnais, who are of Algonkin stock, at Bersimis, Mingan, Lake St. John, Seven Islands; the Abenakis, also of Algonkin stock, at Becancour and St. Francis; the Micmacs, also of Algonkin stock, at Maria and Restigouche; and the Malecites, also of Algonkin stock, at Viger.

In the agricultural districts of the province the Indians are developing a keener interest in farming operations and are making decided progress. In the Gaspé peninsula the Indians find employment in the lumber camps and mills, but on the north shore of the gulf, fishing, hunting and trapping are still the principal sources of income. In the northern part of the province lumbering is the chief pursuit. One of the principal industries of the Indians of Quebec is making baskets, and many of the Indians spend the summer months at the resorts in order to dispose of the baskets, lacrosse sticks, racquets, moccasins, etc., to the tourists. Some of them, particularly in the Saguenay district, act as guides and canoemen.

Dwellings. - In the older settled districts of the province the Indians own many excellent stone and brick houses. Generally speaking, the buildings are almost all of good construction, comfortable and sanitary. In the more remote districts, where hunting and trapping are still the principal occupations, the Indians necessarily live in tents during the greater part of the year.

The North Shore. - Along the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the Indians have been taking a marked interest in the fishing industry. At Mingan, Natashkwan, Romaine, St. Augustine and Moisie, the fishing is under departmental supervision. Salmon and cod are the principal marketable fish, and are a source of considerable income to the Indians. The land is not suitable for extensive cultivation, but many of the Indians have very creditable gardens.

NEW BRUNSWICK

Agencies. - There are three agencies in the province of New Brunswick, the Northeastern located at Richibucto, the Northern located at Perth, and the Southwestern located at Fredericton.

Tribal Origin. - The majority of the Indians of New Brunswick belong to the Micmac race, which is of Algonkin stock. In addition to these there are some bands of Malecites, also of Algonkin stock.

Occupations. - In the Northeast division the Indians are mostly engaged in fishing, hunting and trapping. Some farming is carried on, and the Indians have rather tended to increase their interest in this regard.

The lumbering industry employs quite a large number and the Indians all through the eastern provinces have become very proficient in the lumber camps, on the river drives and in the mills. In the northern division there is less, farming carried on, and the Indians during the summer months find employment generally as day labourers. In the Southern division they support themselves chiefly by the manufacture and sale of Indian wares.

NOVA SCOTIA

Agencies. - There are eighteen Indian agencies in the province of Nova Scotia, namely: Yarmouth, Digby, Shelburne, Lunenburg, Annapolis, Kings, Windsor, Shubenacadie, Halifax, Cumberland, Colchester, Pictou, Antigonish, Guysboro, Richmond, Inverness, Victoria, Sydney and Eskasoni.

Tribal Origin. - The Indians of Nova Scotia are of Algonkin stock, and bear the distinctive name of Micmac.

Occupations. - They follow various occupations, but, as a rule, do not confine themselves to any particular one. Many of them cultivate the land with indifferent success, but as there are exceptions in almost every case, so it is with our Indians; a few of them are succeeding very well as farmers. The majority of those living near industrial centres usually work as day labourers. Hunting, trapping, and acting as guides for sportsmen are favourite occupations, more especially with Indians of middle age. Basket-making and the manufacture of fancy moccasins, etc., are confined mostly to women. A profitable employment among Indians in a few sections of Nova Scotia is the manufacture of hockey sticks.

Dwellings. - With very few exceptions, Indians in Nova Scotia occupy houses of frame construction, well finished in the outside, but unfinished inside. Every settlement, however, has a few comfortable dwellings well finished throughout. Other buildings owned by Indians - barns and storehouses - are mostly of frame construction also.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Agency. - One agency is sufficient for the purposes of the department in this province, as the total Indian population is only 295.

Tribal Origin. - The Indians of this province all belong to the Micmac tribe, which is of Algonkin stock.

Occupations. - But few of the Indians of Prince Edward Island are farmers. The principal industries are basket-making and fishing.

MANITOBA

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of Manitoba: Birtle, Clandeboye, Fisher River, Griswold, Manitowapah, Norway House, Pas and Portage la Prairie.

Tribal Origin. - The majority of the Indians of Manitoba belong to the Ojibwa race, which is of Algonkin stock. Bands of Swampy Crees are found at the Norway House and Fisher River agencies and in the York factory district; these are also of Algonkin stock. The Indians located at the Griswold agency are Sioux; there are also Sioux at the Birtle and Portage la Prairie agencies. There is a band of Chipewyans at Fort Churchill; this tribe is of Athapascan stock.

Occupations. - The reserves, in Manitoba suitable for extensive agriculture are mainly within the Birtle, Griswold and Portage la Prairie agencies, and generally speaking progress has been satisfactory in recent years.

In the northern agencies the chief occupations are hunting, trapping and fishing. All of the northern Indians are expert guides and canoe-men, and many find employment in this way or with the transport or fur companies.

In the southern and more settled districts many of the younger people seek employment as day labourers, and owing to the high wages, have been fairly prosperous. The Indian women make needle-work, baskets, etc., for which there is a ready market.

Dwellings. - In recent years the Indians have adopted more sanitary methods of living. Their houses are more comfortably furnished and of better construction than formerly. In the north the nomadic life of the Indians does not permit of other than the old-fashioned log house, but even these are being greatly improved and in some cases are being replaced by suitable frame dwellings.

SASKATCHEWAN

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of Saskatchewan: Assiniboine, Battleford, Carlton, Crooked Lake, Duck Lake, File Hills, Isle à la Crosse, Moose Mountain, Onion Lake, Pelly, Qu'Appelle and Touchwood Hills.

Tribal Origin. - The most numerous tribes among the Saskatchewan Indians are the Ojibwas, Swampy Crees, and Plain Crees, which all belong to the great Algonkin stock. In addition to these, Sioux Indians are found at the Assiniboine, Moose Mountain, Qu'Appelle and Carlton agencies, and on the Moose Woods reserve. In the Onion Lake agency there is a band of Chipewyans, who are of Athapascan stock. There are also a few Chipewyan Indians in the Isle à la Crosse district.

The principal occupation of the Indians of Saskatchewan is mixed farming and stock-raising. The close supervision which the department has had over these Indians has greatly improved their methods of farming. Most of the Indians are well provided with machinery of good quality. As a rule they have good stock and suitable houses. In the outlying districts, however, hunting and trapping are still the main sources of income and will so remain until civilization encroaches upon the hunting grounds.

Dwellings. - The dwellings of the Indians on the reserves where farming is carried on are now mostly of frame construction. The out buildings, however, are generally of logs, but even there has been some improvement.

ALBERTA

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the Province of Alberta: Blackfoot, Blood, Edmonton, Hobbema, Peigan, Saddle Lake, Sarcee, Stony and Lesser Slave Lake.

Tribal Origin. - The Alberta Indians are of Algonkin stock, with the exception of the Sarcees near Calgary and the Beavers and Slaves in the Lesser Slave Lake agency, who are Apathascan; the Paul's band in the Edmonton agency, who are Iroquoian; and the Stonies, who are of Siouan stock. The Algonkin Indians of Alberta are subdivided into Blackfoot nation, comprising the Indians of the Blackfoot, Blood and Peigan agencies; Plain Crees found in the Lesser Slave Lake, Saddle Lake, and Hobbema agencies, and a band of Ojibwas at Moberly Lake, in the Lesser Slave Lake agency.

The principal occupations of the Indians of Alberta are farming and stock-raising. Almost all the reserves in the settled districts of the province have large herds of horses and cattle.

In the northern parts of the province hunting and trapping are still almost the sole sources of income; there is practically no farming carried on and the construction of steamers on the Peace and Athabasca rivers, and of the railways to Peace River Crossing and Fort McMurray, have greatly lessened the wages of the Indians with the trading companies and transports.

Dwellings. - In the southern part of the province the dwellings and farm buildings are of excellent construction and quality. Almost all the reserves where extensive farming is carried on boast of up-to-date modern dwellings, comfortable and well constructed. In the northern parts of the province the majority of the Indians continue to follow their primitive nomadic mode of life, and many of them still live in tents and tepees during the greater part of the year.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the Province of British Columbia: Babine and Upper Skeena, Bella Coola, Cowichan, Kamloops, Kootenay, Kwawkewlth, Lytton, New Westminster, Nicola, Okanagan, Queen Charlotte, Skeena, Stikine, Stuart Lake, Vancouver, West Coast, and Williams Lake.

Tribal Origin. - The Indians of the Bella Coola, Cowichan, Kamloops, Lytton, New Westminster, Vancouver, and Okanagan agencies belong to the Salish tribe. The Kootenay tribe is located in the agency of the same name. The Kwakiutl-Nootka tribe is located at the Kwawkewlth and West Coast agencies; the Haidas, in the Queen Charlotte islands; the Tlingits, in the Stikine; and the Tsimshians in the Skeena agency. The Indians of the Babine, Stuart Lake and Williams Lake agencies belong to the Athapascan race.

In addition to these there are about 2,500 nomadic Indians in the province who cannot be correctly classified according to linguistic stock or tribal origin.

Occupations. - The occupations of the Indians of British Columbia vary with their habitat. The Indians situated along the coast earn their livelihood principally by fishing. In many instances they own their own motor-launches, nets and gear, while others are supplied by the various canneries. Many of the women are also employed in the canneries or in the hop fields, and earn a steady income.

In the inland parts of the province some farming operations are carried on and particularly in the irrigated districts grain, fruits of all kinds, and vegetables have been raised with success. These Indians have been making marked progress in this regard and are now well equipped with modern machinery.

The Kootenay, Kamloops, Okanagan and New Westminster Indians own large herds of horses and cattle. While the Indians in the northern and remote parts of the province still depend upon hunting and trapping for their livelihood, the agents report a marked improvement in their manner of living.

Dwellings. - Except in the more remote districts the Indians of British Columbia have built comfortable and modern dwellings and outbuildings. Their progress in this respect has been rapid.

NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

Agencies. - The department has now three agencies in the Northwest Territories, namely, Fort Simpson, Fort Smith, and Fort Resolution.

Tribal Origin. - The principal tribes found in the Far North are the Slave, Hares, Loucheux, Sicannies, Dogribs, Yellow-knives, Chipewyans and Caribou Eaters. All these tribes are of Athapascan stock. There are a few Crees in the neighbourhood of Chipewyan. These are of Algonkin stock. The most northerly tribes are the Takudah, who extend to the Mackenzie Delta; and the Copper Mines, who are located along the Coppermine river. The territory occupied by these two last-named tribes is contiguous to that inhabited by the Eskimos.

These Indians depend entirely upon hunting and trapping for a livelihood.

Occupations. - A few have been induced to raise small plots of potatoes. They own no horses or cattle, transportation being almost entirely by canoe along the great waterways, or by dogs in winter. They catch and preserve large quantities of whitefish for their own use and for consumption by their dog-trains in winter.

YUKON

Tribal Origin. - The Forty Mile, Blackstone, and Moosehide bands belong to the Takudah tribe. There is a band of Slavies at Lancing Creek who migrated from Fort Good Hope, on the Mackenzie river; another band of Slavies, called Nahanies, is located at the headwaters of the Pelly river. All these Indians are of Athapascan stock. At Mayo, Selkirk, Little Salmon and Carmacks there are bands belonging to the tribe known as Stick Indians. Bands belonging to the Tlingit tribe are found at Whitehorse, Teslin Lake, Champagne Landing, and Carcross.

Occupations. - Hunting, trapping and fishing are the chief occupations of the Yukon Indians, and they have been fairly successful during the past year. The women also derive some revenue from the sale of moccasins and curios of various kinds, while the men are expert at making toboggans and snowshoes. Practically no farming is carried on owing to climatic conditions, but some of the Indians cultivate patches of potatoes and other vegetables.

FINANCIAL

At the close of the twelve months ended March 31, 1929, capital of the Indian Trust Fund, which at the end of the preceding year amounted to $13,203,366.84, had increased to $13,629,403.74.

The amounts expended from the Consolidated Revenue Fund were as follows: Voted by Parliament for the purposes of the Department, $4,381,061.20, and annuities by statute, $217,231.00.

On March 31, 1929, the balance to the credit of the Indian Savings Account for the funding of the annuities and earnings of pupils at industrial schools was $212,588.20. Deposits and interest during the twelve months aggregated $43,963.93, and withdrawals, $38,353.71.

GENERAL

The complete census made by the department of the Indians of Canada, during the present year, 1929, will be found in Part II of this report, which follows herewith and therein also will be found statistics with regard to Grain, Vegetable and Root Production; Land, Private and Public Buildings and Property; Live Stock and Poultry; General Effects; Value of Real and Personal Property, and Progress during year; Sources and Value of Income; Schools ; Indian Land; Civil Government; Appropriation Accounts and Indian Trust Fund.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

DUNCAN C. SCOTT,

Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs
