REPORT OF THE DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT

GENERAL

OTTAWA, August 31, 1933.

The Hon. THOMAS G. MURPHY,
Superintendent General of Indian Affairs,
Ottawa.

SIR, - I have the honour to submit the report of the Department of Indian Affairs for the year ended March 31, 1933.

During the past year the Indians may be said to have held their own reasonably well in respect to economic and health conditions when the unfavourable situation throughout the country generally is taken into consideration. It must be admitted, however, that those Indians who are dependent upon industrial employment as wage earners are under a peculiar disadvantage as naturally their white competitors are favoured in securing such employment as is available.

On the other hand, Indian agriculturists, particularly in the Prairie Provinces, are remarkably prosperous at the present time and undoubtedly in a much better position economically than their white neighbours. This gratifying situation may be ascribed to the intensive agricultural assistance and instruction given these Indians during the past half century by the Government. Furthermore, they are protected against the depression by their circumstances, inasmuch as they are exempt from payment of taxes, mortgage interest and principal and other overhead charges. The transition of these Indians appears remarkable when it is recalled that after the failure of the buffalo in 1878 they were left destitute, and were kept alive only by Government rations. Progressive policy has made these Indians self reliant in two generations.

The hunting Indians in the more remote districts are maintaining themselves quite comfortably according to their own native standards of living, which while primitive are simple and healthy. The hunting Indians, however, who are located in the intermediate territory between civilization and the wilds are faced with a difficult problem owing to the depletion of the fur in their habitat and the competition of white trappers who are entering their hunting grounds in increasing numbers.

The Indian fishermen of the west coast of British Columbia who were formerly a prosperous class have suffered severely owing to the depressed state of the fishing industry. It is hoped that this set-back is temporary in character and that these Indians, many of whom are of a progressive type, will be restored to their former good circumstances.

The Indian population remains about 108,000 and there has been no decline in their number in recent years.

AMENDMENTS TO THE INDIAN ACT

ENFRANCHISEMENT

A number of amendments to the Indian Act were passed at the Session of Parliament held in the spring 1933. Among these, that which raised most public interest had to do with the question of enfranchisement. There has been considerable misunderstanding as to the meaning of the term enfranchisement as applied to Indians which is sometimes confused with franchise. The enfranchisement provisions of the Indian Act are not concerned with the right of Indians to vote in Dominion elections. Many unenfranchised Indians may vote; for example, Indian returned soldiers, and in some provinces Indians who do not reside on reserves. Such Indians, although having the right to vote, are nevertheless wards of the Crown and subject to the provisions of the Indian Act in all respects. Enfranchised Indians, however, have ceased to be Indians within the meaning of the Indian Act and are no longer wards of the Crown.

Previous to the passing of the amendment above referred to, provisions of the Indian Act with regard to enfranchisement could be invoked only upon the application of the Indian himself. This restricted procedure was not considered satisfactory as it did not provide authority to deal with cases of Indians in a full self-supporting position, well equipped by education and ability to assume the full responsibility of citizenship, but who for personal reasons and without justification desire to retain for themselves the protection of the Indian Act. In many instances Indians in this category, while having the status of Indians through paternal descent, have in reality been bred white by intermarriage through many generations and are not physically recognizable as Indians. Some of these legal Indians on reserves in the older provinces will be found to have red hair, blue eyes and very fair complexions.

The amendment is as follows: -

BOARD OF ENQUIRY AS TO FITNESS FOR ENFRANCHISEMENT

Section one hundred and ten of the said Act is amended by adding thereto the following subsection: -

"(14) In respect of an Indian or Indians of any band who has not or have not made application for enfranchisement under this section or under section one hundred and fourteen of this Act, the Superintendent General may appoint a Board to consist of any judge of any superior court or any judge of any circuit, district or county court, an officer of the Department and a member of the band to be selected by the band to which the Indian or Indians under investigation belongs or belong, or, failing the selection of such member for a period of thirty days after the date of notice having been given to the Council, the member shall be appointed by the Superintendent General, to make enquiry and report as to the fitness of any Indian or Indians to be enfranchised, and such report shall have the same force and effect and shall be dealt with in the same manner as if the same had been made upon the application of an Indian or Indians under this section: Provided that no enfranchisement of any Indian or Indians shall be made under this subsection in violation of the terms of any treaty, agreement or undertaking that may have been entered into or made between or by the Crown and the Indians of the band in question."

The other amendments are as follows: -

TRUANT OFFICERS

Section ten of the Indian Act, chapter ninety-eight of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, was amended by adding thereto the following subsection: -

"(6) For the purposes of this section, every member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Force and any special constable appointed for police duty on an Indian reserve, shall be a truant officer."

It had been the practice to appoint the member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who happened to be on duty at the time in the vicinity of a reserve, a truant officer under the provisions of subsection three of section 10 of the Act. These members, however, are changed from time to time which necessitates changes in the appointments. It was considered advisable to constitute all members of the force as well as special appointees by the commissioner truant officers under the Act.

REMOVAL OF EXECUTORS

Section twenty-eight of the said Act was amended by adding thereto the following subsection: -

"(2) The Superintendent General may remove an executor of an estate who neglects or refuses to carry out the terms of the will in such time as may be considered reasonable by the Superintendent and appoint some one in the place of such executor."

Complaints were made from time to time against executors of Indian wills neglecting or refusing to proceed with the distribution of estates as provided by the will and the amendment is to enable the superintendent to deal with such cases.

CONSENT OF AGENT REQUIRED FOR SALE OR BARTER - BUYING OF PRODUCE PROHIBITED

Section forty of the said Act, as enacted by section five to chapter twenty-five of the statutes of 1930, was repealed and the following was substituted therefor: -

40. No person shall buy or otherwise acquire from any band or irregular band of Indians or from any Indian and no Indian shall sell or otherwise dispose of to any one other than a member of the band, any cattle or other animals of any kind from any reserve in the Province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta or the Territories without the written consent of the Indian Agent.

Section forty-one of the said Act, as enacted by section six of chapter twenty-five of the statutes of 1930, was repealed and the following was substituted therefor: -

41. No person shall buy or otherwise acquire from any band or irregular band of Indians, or from any Indian, and no Indian shall sell or otherwise dispose of to any one other than a member of the band, any grain, root crops, or other produce from upon any reserve in the Province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, or the Territories, without the written consent of the Indian Agent.

These sections as they stood before the amendments, prohibited any person from buying cattle or other animals and grain, root crops or other produce from Indians, and section 120 imposed a penalty on such purchaser. The Indian was not prohibited from, or penalized for, selling as it was considered that the purchasers were the real offenders. From time to time however representations have been made to the department that the Indian is probably as great an offender as the white man who purchased, and in many cases the Indians have disposed of nearly all their cattle and all of their grain not retaining enough for seed. It was suggested accordingly that the Indian should be made to realize the importance of keeping sufficient stock and grain to properly carry on farming operations. The amendments prohibit the Indian from disposing of his animals or produce without the written consent of the Indian agent.

The sections repealed and re-enacted read as follows: -

40. No person shall buy or otherwise acquire from any band or irregular band of Indians or from any Indian any cattle or other animals of any kind from any reserve in the Province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan. or Alberta or the Territories without the written consent of the Indian agent.

41. No person short buy or,otherwise acquire from any band or irregular band of Indians, or from any Indian, any grain, root crops, or other produce front upon any reserve in the Province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, or the Territories without the written consent of the Indian agent.

ROADS

Section forty-seven of the said Act was amended by adding thereto the following subsection: -

"(3) The Superintendent General shall have the authority to determine where roads shall be established on a reserve."

Circumstances have arisen from time to time which have rendered it advisable that the Superintendent General should have such power in order to avoid the possibility of having some improvements delayed or barred by indifference or opposition of the Indians of a band.

REGULATIONS

Section one hundred and one of the said Act was amended by adding thereto the following paragraph: -

"(k) Regulating the operations of hawkers, peddlers or others conning an the reserve to sell, or take orders for, wares or merchandised."

Complaints have been made from time to time of hawkers, peddlers or others coming on the reserve selling or taking orders for merchandise to the disadvantage of Indian merchants on the reserve. It was pointed out that Indian merchants would not be allowed to go into an adjoining town or city and peddle without paying a licence, and the Indians felt that they should have some control over peddlers coming on the reserve.

This regulation adds to the powers of the Indian Councils, elective bodies which correspond roughly to the Councils of Municipalities. All regulations made by these Councils require the confirmation of the Governor in Council and cover such subjects as: -

The care of the Public health; the observance of order and decorum at assemblies of the Indians in general council, or on other occasions; the prevention of disorderly conduct and nuisances; the prevention of trespass by cattle, and the protection of sheep, horses, mules and cattle; the construction and maintenance of watercourses, roads, bridges, ditches and fences; the construction and repair of school houses, council houses and other Indian public buildings, and the attendance at school of children between the ages of six and fifteen years; the establishment of pounds and the appointment of pound-keepers; the locating of the band in their reserves, and the establishment of a register of such locations; the repression of noxious weeds; controlling or prohibiting participation in, or attendance at, public games, sports, races, athletic contests or other such amusements on the Sabbath.

RESIDING OR HUNTING UPON ANY RESERVE WITHOUT AUTHORITY. PENALTY.

Section one hundred and fifteen of the said Act was repealed and the following was substituted therefor: -

115. Every person, or Indian other than an Indian of the band, who, without the authority of the Superintendent General, resides or hunts upon, occupies or uses any land or marsh, or who resides upon or occupies any road, or allowance for road, running through any reserve belonging to or occupied by such, band, or who is found on the reserve and is unable to prove that he is there for some legitimate purpose, shall be liable, upon summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month or to a penalty not exceeding ten dollars and not less than five dollars, with costs of prosecution, half of which penalty shall belong to the informer.

The amendment was to enable the Indian agent to deal with persons coming unto the reserve particularly at night for no good purpose. There had been numerous complaints in respect of those reserves in particular which are situated near towns or cities.

The section repealed and re-enacted reads as follows: -

115. Every person, or Indian other than an Indian of the band, who, without the authority of the Superintendent General, resides or hunts upon, occupies or uses any land or marsh, or who resides upon or occupies any road, or allowance for road, running through any reserve belonging to or occupied by such band shall be liable, upon summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month or to a penalty not exceeding ten dollars and not less than five dollars, with costs of prosecution, half of which penalty shall belong to the informer.

BUYING OR SELLING CONTRARY TO THE ACT

Section one hundred and twenty of the said Act, as enacted by section twelve of chapter twenty-five of the statutes of 1930, was repealed and the following was substituted therefor: -

120. Every person, who buys or otherwise acquires from any Indian or band or irregular band of Indians in the Province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, or Alberta, or the Territories, or sells to any such Indian, any cattle or other animals or any grain, root crops or other produce, and every Indian who sells any cattle or other animals or any grain, root crops or other produce, contrary to the provisions of this Act, shall on summary conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding thirty days, or to both.

RESTRICTION ON INDIAN DANCES, ETC.

Subsection three of section one hundred and forty of the said Act was amended by striking out the words "in aboriginal costume" in the fifth line thereof.

The subsection amended reads as follows: -

3. Any Indian in the province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, or British Columbia, or in the Territories who participates in any Indian dance outside the bounds of his own reserve, or who participates in any show, exhibition, performance, stampede or pageant in aboriginal costume without the consent of the Superintendent General or his authorized agent, and any person who induces or employs any Indian to take part in such dance, show, exhibition, performance, stampede or pageant, or induces any Indian to leave his reserve or employs any Indian for much a purpose, whether the dance, show, exhibition, stampede or pageant has taken place or not, shall on summary conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five dollars, or to imprisonment for one month, or to both penalty and imprisonment.

This amendment extended the application of the subsection and made it apply to an Indian whether he was in aboriginal costume or not.

REGULATIONS

Subsection two of section one hundred and eighty-five of the said Act was amended by adding thereto the following paragraph: -

(n) Regulating the operations of hawkers, peddlers or others coming on the Reserve to sell, or take orders for, wares or merchandise.

This paragraph which is here added to section 185 in Part II of the Act, is the same as is added to section 101 in Part I of the Act.

INDIAN HEALTH SUPERVISION

There have been no epidemics of major communicable diseases among the Indians of Canada during the past year, nor in fact, during several years past. Smallpox vaccination has been carried on so thoroughly during the past five years that this disease, to which Indians seem to be very susceptible, appears unlikely to assume epidemic form again. Influenza has not been unusually prevalent, nor of a very severe type. There have been very few cases of diphtheria or scarlet fever.

Measles and whooping cough, however, have been very prevalent, and have caused a good many deaths among young children. The death rate from these diseases, and their complications, in any section of the population, is higher than is usually realized. It is very difficult to prevent their spread, there is, no acknowledged specific remedy, and recovery depends largely on the ability of the mother to give adequate nursing care. The standard in this respect is lower among Indians than among white people, and the children suffer accordingly.

Typhoid fever is not prevalent among Indians, but there are a few bands which live on and draw a part of their water supply from highly Polluted rivers. It is necessary to protect these communities by annual anti-typhoid inoculation, which, while effective, is a troublesome and fairly expensive procedure.

During the past four years the department has endeavoured to bring under treatment every known case of syphilis. Only in a few places has any considerable number of Indians been found to be afflicted, and the measures taken appear to have resulted in a substantial improvement. The Indians have responded well to the effort made on their behalf in this direction, as, in fact, they respond to all measures of a similar kind when they understand the reason for the procedure.

Organic heart disease, diabetes, chronic kidney disease and cancer are not major causes of death among Indians, as they are among white people. They appear among those Indian communities who have acquired a fair amount of white blood. It would be very interesting to study this problem from a scientific standpoint. If, for example, it could be discovered why Indians, relatively speaking, do not have cancer, it might be possible to find why white people have it in apparently increasing numbers.

Funds provided by Parliament for medical services during the year were some 20 per cent less than those for the preceding year. This circumstance did not lessen the number of sick Indians, and the department was called upon to provide some services which had not been anticipated. Drastic measures were required to enable the service to be carried on within the amount of money available. In some respects, no actual harm can be said to have been done. Some Indians, like some white people, are prone to consult the doctor for trivial complaints, to appreciate the comforts of hospital care, necessary or otherwise, and to take as great amounts of drugs as can be obtained. In white communities these tendencies are only limited by the financial resources of the individual, or the amount of such services he can obtain on credit, or at the expense of his municipality. Indians, however, are relatively controllable, and the department has been able to effect some substantial economies without causing any apparent hardship.

In some directions, however, the measures taken can only be justified by emergent necessity. No progress can now be made toward solution of the tuberculosis problem among Indians. On the contrary the department has been forced to refuse admission to sanatorium of many cases of tuberculosis which the attending physician reported as hopeful of arrest under sanatorium care, but hopeless if kept at home. These patients are prolific spreaders of the disease, and a burden on the well. The tuberculosis death rate among Indians is many times that among the white population, and every generation of Indians has more intimate contact with white people than the preceding one. The department is doing what it can with the funds available, but no effective program for the control of Indian tuberculosis, can be undertaken until the population at large realizes the menace.

It is the department's unpleasant duty to report that trachoma is even more prevalent than it was known to be a year ago. The survey of British Columbia has been completed, and, while the coast Indians are relatively free, those of the interior have a very great deal of trachoma. A partial survey of Ontario has been made, and it appears that the disease is fairly widely distributed among the Indians of the settled parts, though, with the exception of one agency, there are not many cases at any one place.

There is now sufficient reliable information to enable this problem to be considered intelligently, and the following facts and conclusions are submitted: -

1. There are some 7,000 or 8,000 cases of trachoma among the Indians of Canada, distributed from Montreal to the Pacific coast. The highest incidence occurs in the settled parts of the Prairie Provinces and the interior of British Columbia. The Pacific coast Indians and those of the northern forested areas are relatively free, but the disease extends into northern British Columbia as far at least as the upper Nass, river, and occurs in some parts of the Peace River district.

2. Trachoma in Canada is somewhat less acute in type than in eastern countries, and its progress in the individual is slower. It is, however, serious. Out of 700 Indians in one band, 11 are blind and about 200 infected.
3. Two instances are known in which the disease has spread from Indians to the white population. The danger of spread of infection will increase with the more intimate contact, which may be expected in the future.
4. Trachoma does not tend to disappear from a community, but to spread in it. There are 11 new cases in, one Indian residential school, believed to have been contracted during the summer holidays.
5. The vast majority of doctors and many eye specialists in Canada, have had no opportunity of instruction in the diagnosis of trachoma nor in its treatment.
6. Treatment is effective if carried out persistently over a period of about one year. Daily attention is required. The patient can treat himself, with moderate success, if, and only if, he can be given frequent supervision. The local physician can give this supervision if he has the assistance of an eye specialist in diagnosis, and in deciding when treatment should be altered or can be safely discontinued. No one can say that trachoma will not recur in an apparently arrested case. All patients suffering from trachoma cannot be brought under adequate treatment at anyone time Unless they are inmates of an institution. It will require, therefore, a very long time to control the disease.
7. The Indian Residential School is the key to the problem. Here is collected a large proportion of the growing Indian population of the districts most affected. Treatment and instruction in prevention can be organized effectively. On the other hand, these schools, if not closely supervised, are capable of providing perfect facilities for the spread of the disease, and for its conveyance to districts previously clear.
8. The department has one exceptionally well qualified and industrious eye specialist engaged in the diagnosis and treatment of trachoma. In about eighteen months he has managed to survey the bands residing in settled districts from Montreal to the Pacific coast and to inaugurate a great deal of treatment, especially in residential schools. It would, however, be ignoring the facts of the case to assume that this important work is more than started, or that the situation can be adequately met by one specialist. The field is so large that he can pay only one visit to any district in about fifteen months.

In Western Canada, particularly, the department's survey of trachoma has attracted a good deal of attention, and there is some danger that press comment and other public notice may give rise to a demand for measures which would be costly out of proportion to their value. The department has evolved a program which is considered to be reasonably adequate to the necessities of the situation, which will reach its full development in three years, and of which the cost will be very moderate, considering the extremely serious and urgent nature of the problem.

BUILDINGS

No new hospitals have been erected during the year, but assistance was given to the Reverend Sisters of Providence in providing a small annex for Indian patients at their hospital at Fort St. John, British Columbia. Existing hospitals and physician's residences are showing the effect of reduced appropriations for repairs, but are in sound physical condition.

HEALTH UNITS

During the past few years the department has reorganized the medical service in several Indian agencies by the employment of one full-time physician in place of one or several part-time ones. In some cases there has been a marked decrease in cost, and in all cases a substantial rise in efficiency.

The Qu'Appelle Health Unit, which serves the Qu'Appelle and File Hills agencies, comprises a doctor and public health nurse and has its own hospital. Its district is seventy miles long, and the number of Indians is some 1,400, including the pupils of two residential schools. Four part-time physicians were formerly employed. During the four years this unit has been in operation the tuberculosis death rate among these Indians has decreased by one-half, and there has been a marked improvement in other respects. This particular unit has the advantage of location near a tuberculosis sanatorium, whose officers give the superintendent of the unit frequent assistance and advice. Not all the health units have this advantage, but each, in its own way, has accomplished important objects. A further extension of the policy is the employment of a doctor as Indian agent. This plan is not applicable everywhere, but it has given good results in northern districts, and has been extended to two southern agencies during the year under review.

EDUCATION

There were 80 residential schools and 260 day schools in operation during the year - a total of 340 Indian schools. In addition, the department assisted in the maintenance of 9 combined white and Indian schools. The total enrolment was 17,425 and the average attendance 13,487. This was an increase in enrolment over that of the preceding year of 262 and in the average attendance of 380. A more regular attendance was maintained at the day schools during the year, the percentage being 65.73 as compared with 63.69 for the previous year. The percentage of attendance at all schools was 77.4, a record for the work. The tabular statement, showing the location and indicating the enrolment and other facts in the case of each school, will be found in Part 2 of this report.

Efforts were continued during the year to secure efficiency in both day and residential schools. Many fully qualified teachers and instructors were engaged and equipment was maintained to standard. The residential school activity was particularly encouraging. All these schools had an enrolment of pupils to full capacity. Due to economic conditions, the Indian parents are anxious to place their children in the schools of this class.

Several of the churches are actively engaged in the management of Indian day and residential schools. This co-operation of the churches in the case of residential schools is as follows: -

Roman Catholic	44 residential schools
Church of England	21 residential schools
United Church	13 residential schools
Presbyterian Church	2 residential schools
Total	80 residential schools

In addition to the regular academic work at all Indian schools, there is the very important vocational training at the residential schools. Farming, gardening, the care of stock, manual training, and domestic instruction are being given more attention. The attendance problem at day schools is most difficult, but progress is gradually being made.

Qualified inspectors visit all classrooms, except those in the more northern schools. Under arrangement with the provincial Departments of Education, the services of regular public and separate school inspectors are utilized, except in the provinces of New Brunswick and British Columbia, where there are special Indian school inspectors. In addition, there is a medical inspection and department officers give constant supervision to the vocational training.

Continuation and high school work is taught at several of the day and residential schools. The more advanced pupils in those residential schools that are situated close to municipal collegiates are benefited by secondary training, in competition with white children. There were approximately 230 Indian students, not shown in the tabular statements, attending public schools, high schools and colleges in Canada. The department, in the case of most of these, assists with a grant from parliamentary appropriation.

No new building operations were undertaken. Minor repairs only were carried out in order to keep buildings in a good state of repair. The new building at the Blue Quills Residential School was completed and equipped. The expenditure for Indian education for the year shows a decrease of $292,734.28 as compared with the previous year, this being mainly on account of the deduction in per capita grant to residential schools. The department, however, was able to maintain its educational services in full.

Much consideration has been given to the selection of suitable texts in order to prescribe a complete course of study for Indian schools. In the junior grades, there has been a departure to a more or less extent from the provincial courses.

The health of Indian children in the residential schools continued to receive special attention. Good medical supervision has been arranged.

A severe loss was occasioned by the death of the late Russell T. Ferrier, M.A., Superintendent of Indian Education. During his tenure of office, a period of twelve years, much progress was accomplished in the educational advancement of our wards.

The expenditure for Indian education from parliamentary appropriation for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1933, amounted to $1,712,223.06, as follows: -

LANDS AND TIMBER

LANDS

Conditions with respect to Indian lands during the fiscal year 1932 - 33 differed little from those existing during the previous year. The continued depression made it very difficult, and in many cases impossible, to collect arrears of either principal or interest, thereby complicating an already embarrassing situation. In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, however, where most Indian land sales have taken place, a spirit of optimism is developing and with the return of better times and enhanced prices it is believed that the majority of existing sales contracts will in time be carried out.

During the past year there were no auction sales of Indian lands, due to the fact that prevailing conditions were considered unfavourable and the time inopportune. Any sales recorded were merely transfers from one party to another or the private disposition of parcels which the department was compelled to repossess. Prospects for the ensuing year are, fortunately more encouraging.

QUEBEC LAND CLAIM

By judgment of the Lords of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council as delivered on the 23rd of November, 1920, in what is known as the Star Chrome case, it was held that the surrender of Indian lands, even when in trust for sale, operates to free the surrendered lands from the burthen of the Indian title, for the benefit of the Province in which such lands may be located and without, apparently, affording the former Indian owners any right of compensation. Following this decision of the Privy Council the Government of the province of Quebec demanded from the Department of Indian Affairs an accounting with respect to all Indian lands surrendered and sold in that province, and payment of all moneys received from such sales. No other province made any such claim, and over a protracted period an unsuccessful effort was made to arrive at some basis of settlement with the province of Quebec, other than strictly according to the terms of the Privy Council judgment. From the earliest recorded transaction up to the date of the Privy Council judgment surrendered Indian lands in the province of Quebec to the value of $140,959.37 were sold and the proceeds collected and expended for the benefit Of the former Indian owners. This amount the province of Quebec demanded and finally, failing any other manner of settlement, payment was made by parliamentary appropriation during the session of 1932 - 33.

LIVE STOCK AND AGRICULTURE

The results of the agricultural activities of the Indians in 1932 were generally satisfactory, yields of all crops exceeding the yields of 1930 and 1931 and comparing very favourably with the results obtained by white farmers. Year by year the Indians appear to give more attention to the growing of roots and vegetables, thereby improving their health and adding to their resources of food supplies.

The principal crops grown are wheat, oats, barley, roots and tubers, fodder and hay.

It is interesting to note what may be done in the way of agriculture in the very far North. The Indian agent at Fort Resolution, writing in February last reports a splendid garden of all kinds of vegetables, potatoes in large quantities in spite of a dry period of over six weeks, turnips and beets by the bag-ful, carrots, spinach, lettuce, sun-flowers for the stock and chickens, alfalfa which gave two crops, sweet clover just as good.

A very substantial increase was shown in the live stock at December 31 last. The cattle industry is regarded as a very important one as it not only provides the Indians with a great deal of meat they would not otherwise be able to obtain, but the sale of surplus stock provides a very substantial monetary income and assists greatly in the payment of their accounts.

The Indians in their farming activities continue to require a great deal of supervision and the success obtained is due in large measure to the constant watchfulness of a corps of competent farming instructors.

LOCATION TICKETS

Location tickets, granting title under the provisions of the Indian Act, to individual owners for lands on the reserves were issued during the past year to the number of 167, and on March 31 last there were current 3,205 location tickets.

LEASES

Under the provisions of the Indian Act leases were issued to white men at the request of Indian locatees to the number of 112 and on March 31 last there were 1,255 such leases current.

ENFRANCHISEMENT

Under the provisions of section 114 of the Indian Act there were carried out during the past fiscal year nineteen enfranchisements, the total number of men, women and children enfranchised being fifty-nine.

LAND PATENTS

During the fiscal year 1932 - 33 there were issued 276 patents to Indian lands purchased and paid for in full.

TIMBER

The continued depression resulted in a further slackening of lumbering activity on Indian reserves throughout the Dominion during the season 1932 - 33, the quantity of timber cut being 20 per cent less than the previous year. Revenue dropped to an even greater extent, due to the fact that the Indians in many cases were released from paying dues on timber taken out by themselves, as a measure of relief.

The kinds and quantities of timber cut were as follows: -

Pine (red)	65,888 f.b.m.
Spruce (various)	4,622,464 f.b.m.
Hemlock (western)	2,503,852 f.b.m.

The total quantity of timber cut for sale, in terms of board measure feet was approximately twenty-five million, whilst in addition to this the Indians cut approximately nine million f.b.m. for building, fencing and fuel purposes.

Revenue receipts were as follows: -

Payments on account	$3,000 00
Licence dues and royalties	28,964 81
Permit dues	10,602,06
Rentals of timber limits	2,766 42
Fees	89 00
Interest on overdue accounts	960 00
Trespass dues	215 55
Fines	24 00
Total	$46,621 84

No timber was sold by public tender, owing to the lack of any demand, and there were 18 timber licences current, being 3 less than the previous year, 2 having been relinquished and 1 terminated.

FOREST PROTECTION

During 1932 weather conditions did not create an undue fire-hazard although 25 forest fires were reported on Indian reserves, being 22 less than the previous year.

A large percentage of these occurred in the province of Ontario, where owing to lack of employment, some fires were deliberately started, although actual proof was difficult to establish.

Owing to the necessity for economy, the field work conducted by the Surveys Branch during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1933, was confined to surveys which were immediately required. This policy restricted the work to the following: -

ONTARIO

A survey was made of Sheek Island in the St. Lawrence river, near Cornwall, and the limits of the various holdings on this island were surveyed and posted.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Surveys were made of the Tsinstikeptum Indian Reserve No. 9 and the Mission Creek Indian Reserve No. 8, in the Okanagan agency, in accordance with the new boundaries as required by the report of the Royal Commission on Indian Affairs for the Province of British Columbia.

SUMMARY OF INDIAN AFFAIRS BY PROVINCES AND TERRITORIES

The local administration of Indian lands, on the reserves scattered throughout the Dominion, is conducted through the department's agencies, of which there are in all 116. The number of bands included in an agency varies from one to more than thirty. The staff of an agency usually includes various officers, in addition to the agent, such as the medical officer, clerk, farm instructor, field matron, nurse, constable, stockman, etc., according to the special requirements of the agency in question. At many of the smaller agencies in the older provinces, where the Indians are more advanced, the work is comparatively light, requiring only the services of an agent. The work of the agencies is supervised by the department's inspectors.

ONTARIO

Agencies - The Indian Agency offices in Ontario are located as follows: Brantford, Cape Croker, Chapleau, Chippewa Hill (Saugeen), Christian Island, Deseronto, Fenella (Alnwick), Fort Frances, Gore Bay, Hagersville, Highgate, Kenora, Longford Mill, Manitowaning, Moose Factory, Muncey, Parry Sound, Peterborough (Rice and Mud lakes), Port Arthur, Port Perry (Scugog), Ruby (Golden Lake), Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Sutton West (Georgina and Snake Island), Sturgeon Falls, Thessalon, and Walpole Island.

Tribal Origin. - The great majority of the Indians of Ontario are Ojibwas, and are of Algonkin stock. The Oneidas of the Thames, the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte, the Mohawks of the Parry Sound district, and the Six Nations of the Grand River, are of Iroquoian stock. There is a band of Pottawattamies at Walpole Island, and Delawares at the Caradoc (Muncey) agency; these are of Algonkin stock.

Occupations. - The Indians in the southwestern and central parts of Ontario engage largely in farming. The reserves generally are well suited to this purpose and the activity of the department's field agents has resulted in a steady improvement both in the methods of operation and the results achieved. The success achieved by the returned soldiers of this province has been especially creditable and they are rapidly developing prosperous communities.

During the summer months Indians find a profitable source of income as guides and canoe-men. Many are employed at various industries and trades, while railway and navigation companies employ a large number. As a rule they are excellent bushmen and many find employment in the various lumber camps. There is still an excellent market for snowshoes, canoes, and moccasins, and these are usually manufactured by the older members of the community.

The women also have many sources of income; some are employed as domestics; others support themselves by making baskets and fancy work. In certain districts berry-picking is an important item and furnishes considerable income.

Dwellings. - The great majority of the Ontario Indians have comfortable farmhouses which compare very favourably with those of their white neighbour. Many own houses of brick and stone, although in the outlying and more remote districts the old log houses, are in the majority. In the more settled districts the Indians have followed the examples of the whites and both houses and farm buildings are comfortable and of excellent construction.

New Ontario. - In the remote parts of Ontario hunting and fishing are still the chief sources of livelihood. Acting as guides and canoe-men during the summer months adds considerably to their income. While agriculture is not carried on to any extent, most of the bands grow considerable crops of potatoes and vegetables. They are, of necessity, more or less nomadic and consequently live in tents most of the year. This condition will greatly change as civilization progresses.

QUEBEC

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of Quebec: Becancour, Bersimis, Caughnawaga, Gaspé, Lake St. John, Lorette, Maria, Mingan, Oka, River Desert, Restigouche, Seven Islands, St. Augustin, St. Regis, St. Francis, Temiskaming and Viger.

Tribal Origin. - The principal tribes found in Quebec are: Iroquois at Caughnawaga, Lake of the Two Mountains, and St. Regis; the Hurons of Lorette are also of Iroquoian stock; the Montagnais, who are of Algonkin stock, at Bersimis, Mingan, Lake St. John, Seven Islands; the Abenakis, also of Algonkin stock, at Becancour and St. Francis; the Micmacs, also of Algonkin stock, at Maria and Restigouche; and the Malecites, also of Algonkin stock, at Viger.

Occupations. - In the agricultural districts of the province the Indians are developing a keener interest in farming operations and are making decided progress. In the Gaspé peninsula the Indians find employment in the lumber camps and mills, but on the north shore of the gulf, fishing, hunting and trapping are still the principal sources of income. In the northern part of the province lumbering is the chief pursuit. One of the principal industries of the Indians of Quebec is making baskets, and many of the Indians spend the summer months at the resorts in order to dispose of the baskets, lacrosse sticks, racquets, moccasins, etc., to the tourists. Some of them, particularly in the Saguenay district, act as guides and canoe-men.

Dwellings. - In the older settled districts of the province the Indians own many excellent stone and brick houses. Generally Speaking, the buildings are almost all of good construction, comfortable and sanitary. In the more remote districts, where hunting and trapping are still the principal occupations, the Indians necessarily live in tents during the greater part of the year.

The North Shore. - Along the north shore of the gulf of St. Lawrence, the Indians have been taking a marked interest in the fishing industry. At Mingan, Natashkwan, Romaine, St. Augustin and Moisie, the fishing is under departmental supervision. Salmon and cod are the principal marketable fish, and are a source of considerable income to the Indians. The land is not suitable for extensive cultivation, but many of the Indians have very creditable gardens.

[NOTE. - The remarks under the heading "Occupation" for the various provinces apply to normal times and do not indicate conditions during the present year.]

NEW BRUNSWICK

Agencies. - There are three agencies in the province of New Brunswick, the Northeastern, located at Richibucto, the Northern, located at Perth, and the Southwestern, located at Fredericton.

Tribal Origin. - The majority of the Indians of New Brunswick belong to the Micmac race, which is of Algonkin stock. In addition to these there are some bands of Malecites, also of Algonkin stock.

Occupations. - In the Northeast division the Indians are mostly engaged in fishing, hunting and trapping. Some farming is carried on, and the Indians have rather tended to increase their interest in this regard.

The lumbering industry employs quite a large number and the Indians all through the eastern provinces. have become very proficient in the lumber camps, on the river drives and in the mills. In the northern division there is less farming carried on, and the Indians during the summer months find employment generally as day labourers. In the southern division they support themselves chiefly by the manufacture and sale of Indian wares.

NOVA SCOTIA

Agencies. - There are eighteen Indian agencies in the province of Nova Scotia, namely; Yarmouth, Digby, Shelburne, Lunenburg, Annapolis, Kings, Windsor, Shubenacadie, Halifax, Cumberland, Colchester, Pictou, Antigonish-Guysboro, Richmond, Inverness, Victoria, Sydney and Eskasoni.

Tribal Origin. - The Indians of Nova Scotia are of Algonkin stock, and bear the distinctive name of Micmac.

Occupations. - They follow various occupations, but, as a rule, do not confine themselves to any particular one. Many of them cultivate the land with indifferent success, but as there are exceptions in almost every case, so it is with our Indians; a few of them are succeeding very well as farmers. The majority of those living near industrial centres, usually work as day labourers. Hunting, trapping, and acting as guides for sportsmen are favourite occupations, more especially with Indians of middle age. Basket-making and the manufacture of fancy moccasins, etc., are confined mostly to women. A profitable employment among Indians in a few sections of Nova Scotia is the manufacture of hockey sticks.

Dwellings. - With very few exceptions, Indians in Nova Scotia occupy houses of frame construction, well finished on the outside, but unfinished inside. Every settlement, however, has a few comfortable dwellings well finished throughout. Other buildings owned by Indians - barns and storehouses - are mostly of frame construction also.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Agency. - One agency is sufficient for the purposes of the department in this province, as the total Indian population is only 295.

Tribal Origin. - The Indians of this province all belong to the Micmac tribe, which is of Algonkin stock.

Occupations. - But few of the Indians of Prince Edward Island are farmers. The principal industries are basket-making and fishing.

MANITOBA

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of Manitoba: Birtle, Clandeboye, Fisher River, Griswold, Manitowapah, Norway House, Pas and Portage la Prairie.

Tribal Origin. - The majority of the Indians of Manitoba belong to the Ojibwa race, which is of Algonkin stock. Bands of Swampy Crees are found at the Norway House and Fisher River agencies and in the York Factory district; these are also of Algonkin stock. The Indians located at the Griswold agency are Sioux; there are also Sioux at the Birtle and Portage la Prairie agencies. There is a band of Chipewyans at Fort Churchill; this tribe is of Athapascan stock.

Occupations. - The reserves in Manitoba suitable for extensive agriculture are mainly within the Birtle, Griswold and Portage la Prairie agencies, and generally speaking progress has been satisfactory in recent years.

In the northern agencies the chief occupations are hunting, trapping and fishing. All of the northern Indians are expert guides and canoe-men, and many find employment in this way or with the transport or fur companies.

In the southern and more settled districts many of the younger people seek employment as day labourers, and owing to the high wages, have been fairly prosperous. The Indian women make needlework, baskets, etc., for which there is a ready market.

Dwellings. - In recent years the Indians have adopted more sanitary methods of living. Their houses are more comfortably furnished and of better construction than formerly. In the north the nomadic life of the Indians does not permit of other than the old-fashioned log house, but even these are being greatly improved and in some cases are being replaced by suitable frame dwellings.

SASKATCHEWAN

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of Saskatchewan: Assiniboine, Battleford, Carlton, Crooked Lake, Duck Lake, File Hills, Ile a la Crosse, Moose Mountain, Onion Lake, Pelly, Qu'Appelle, and Touchwood Hills.

Tribal Origin. - The most numerous tribes among the Saskatchewan Indians are the Ojibways, Swampy Crees, and Plain Crees, which all belong to the great Algonkin stock. In addition to these, Sioux Indians are found at the Assiniboine, Moose Mountain, Qu'Appelle and Carlton agencies, and on the Moose Woods reserve. In the Onion Lake agency there is a band of Chipewyans, who are of Athapascan stock. There are also a few Chipewyan Indians in the Ile à la Crosse district.

The principal occupation of the Indians of Saskatchewan is mixed farming and stock-raising. The close supervision which the department has had over these Indians has greatly improved their methods of farming. Most of the Indians are well provided with machinery of good quality. As a rule they have good stock and suitable houses. In the outlying districts, however, hunting and trapping are still the main sources of income and will so remain until civilization encroaches upon the hunting grounds.

Dwellings. - The dwellings of the Indian on the reserves where farming is carried on are now mostly of frame construction. The outbuildings, however, are generally of logs, but even there has been some improvement.

ALBERTA

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of Alberta: Blackfoot, Blood, Edmonton, Hobbema, Peigan, Saddle Lake, Sarcee, Stony and Lesser Slave Lake.

Tribal Origin. - The Alberta Indians are of Algonkin stock, with the exception of the Sarcees near Calgary and the Beavers and Slaves in the Lesser Slave Lake agency, who are Athapascan, the Paul's band in the Edmonton agency, who are Iroquoian; and the Stonies, who are of Siouan stock. The Algonkin Indians of Alberta are subdivided into Blackfoot nation, comprising the Indians of the Blackfoot, Blood and Peigan agencies; Plain Crees found in the Lesser Slave Lake, Saddle Lake, and Hobbema agencies, and a band of Ojibwas at Moberly Lake, in the Lesser Slave Lake agency.

The principal occupations of the Indians of Alberta are farming and stock-raising. Almost all the reserves in the settled districts of the province have large herds of horses and cattle.

In the northern parts of the province hunting and trapping are still almost the sole source of income; there is practically no farming carried on and the construction of steamers on the Peace and Athabasca rivers, and of the railways to Peace River Crossing and Fort McMurray, have greatly lessened the wages of the Indians with the trading companies and transports.

Dwellings. - In the southern part of the province the dwellings and farm buildings are of excellent construction and quality. Almost all the reserves where extensive farming is carried on boast of up-to-date modern dwellings, comfortable and well constructed. In the northern parts of the province the majority of the Indians continue to follow their primitive nomadic mode of life, and many of them still live in tents and tepees during the greater part of the year.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Agencies. - The following agencies are included in the province of British Columbia: Babine, and Upper Skeena, Bella Coola, Cowichan, Kamloops, Kootenay, Kwawkewlth, Lytton, New Westminster, Nicola, Okanagan, Queen Charlotte, Skeena, Stikine, Stuart Lake, Vancouver, West Coast, and Williams Lake.

Tribal Origin. - The Indians of the Bella Coola, Cowichan, Kamloops, Lytton, New Westminster, Vancouver, and Okanagan agencies belong to the Salish tribes. The Kootenay tribe is located in the agency of the same name. The Kwakiutl-Nootka tribe is located at the Kwawkewlth and West Coast agencies; the Haidas, in the Queen Charlotte Islands; the Tlingits, in the Stikine; and the Tsimshians in the Skeena agency. The Indians of the Babine, Stuart Lake and Williams Lake agencies belong to the Athapaskan race.

In addition to these there are about 2,500 nomadic Indians in the province who cannot be correctly classified according to linguistic stock or tribal origin.

Occupations. - The Occupations of the Indians of British Columbia vary with their habitat. The Indians situated along the coast earn their livelihood principally by fishing. In many instances they own their own motor launches, nets and gear, while others are supplied by the various canneries. Many of the women are also employed in the canneries or in the hop fields, in season.

In the inland parts of the province some farming operations are carried on, and particularly in the irrigated districts grain, fruits of all kinds, and vegetables have been raised with success. These Indians have been making marked progress in this regard and are now well equipped with modern machinery.

The Kootenay, Kamloops, Okanagan and New Westminster Indians own large herds of horses and cattle. While the Indians in the northern and remote parts of the province still depend upon hunting and trapping for their livelihood, the agents report a marked improvement in their manner of living.

Dwellings. - Except in the more remote districts, the Indians of British Columbia have built comfortable and modern dwellings and outbuildings. Their progress in this respect has been rapid.

NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

Agencies. - The department has now four agencies in the Northwest Territories, namely, Fort Simpson, Fort Smith, Fort Resolution and Fort Good Hope.

Tribal Origin. - The principal tribes found in the Far North are the Slave, Hares, Loucheux, Sicannies, Dogribs, Yellow-knives, Chipewyans and Caribou Eaters. All these tribes are of Athapascan stock. There are a few Crees in the neighbourhood of Chipewyan. These are of Algonkin stock. The most northerly tribes are the Takudah, who extend to the Mackenzie Delta; and the Copper Mines, who are located along the Coppermine river. The territory occupied by these two last-named tribes is contiguous to that inhabited by the Eskimos.

These Indians depend entirely upon hunting and trapping for a livelihood.

Occupations. - A few have been induced to raise small plots of potatoes. They own no horses or cattle, transportation being almost entirely by canoe along the great waterways, or by dogs in winter. They catch and preserve large quantities of whitefish for their own use and for consumption by their dog-trains in winter.

YUKON

Tribal Origin. - The Forty-Mile, Blackstone, and Moosehide bands belong to the Takudah tribe. There is a band of Slavies at Lancing Creek who migrated from Fort Good Hope on the Mackenzie river; another band of Slavies, called Nahanies, is located at the headwaters of the Pelly river. All these Indians are of Athapascan stock. At Mayo, Selkirk, Little Salmon and Carmacks there are bands belonging to the tribe known as Stick Indians. Bands belonging to the Tlingit tribe are found at Whitehorse, Teslin Lake, Champagne Landing, and Carcross.

Occupations. - Hunting, trapping and fishing are the chief occupations of the Yukon Indians, and they have been fairly successful during the past year. The women also derive some revenue from the sale of moccasins and curios of various kinds, while the men are expert at making toboggans and snowshoes. Practically no farming is carried on owing to climatic conditions, but some of the Indians cultivate patches of potatoes and other vegetables.

FINANCIAL

At the close of the twelve months ended March 31, 1933, capital of the Indian Trust Fund, which at the end of the preceding year amounted to $13,644,079.21, had decreased to $13,580,007.18.

The amounts expended from the Consolidated Revenue Fund were as follows: Voted by Parliament for the purpose of the department, $4,088,866.04, and annuities by statute, $229,321.

On March 31, 1933, the balance to the credit of the Indian Savings Account for the funding of the annuities and earnings of pupils at industrial schools was $232,655.65. Deposits and interest during the twelve months aggregated $37,161.22, and withdrawals $33,436.22.

In Part 2 of the Annual Report which follows will be found statistical information concerning the Indians of Canada.

Your obedient servant,
HAROLD W. McGILL,
Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs.
