FOREWORD

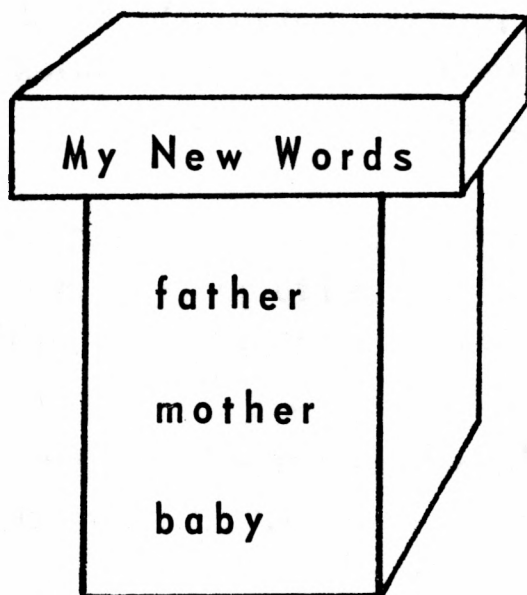

This experimental booklet is designed to supplement the Grade II Spelling program in northern schools where age-grade differences exist.

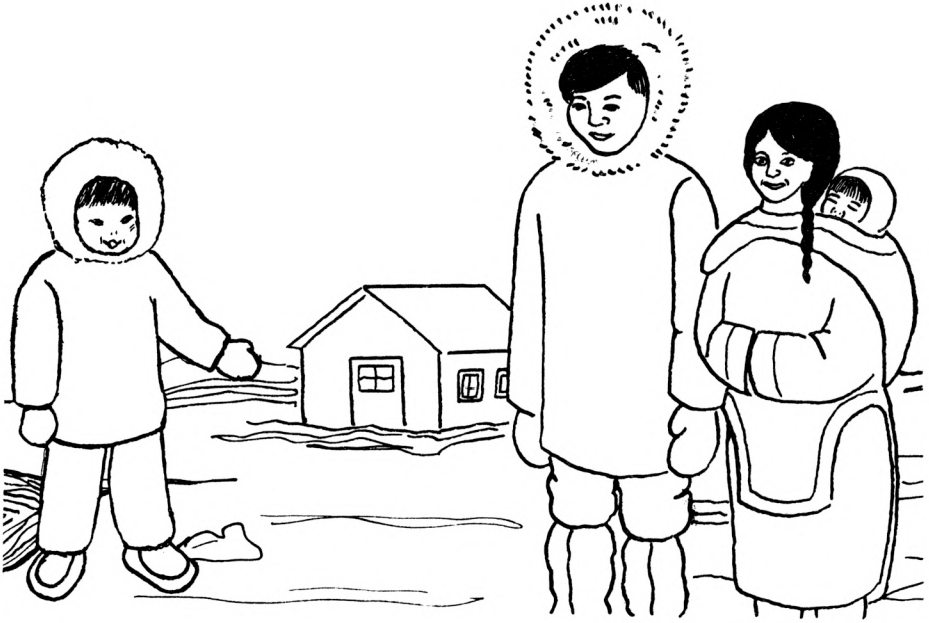

During the year we plan to extend and revise this booklet to include follow-up activities and additional stories.

Suggestions and comments from our northern teachers will be used to guide us in the completion of a northern oriented Speller for Grade II.

This booklet was prepared by Shirley M. Smith under the direction of R.C. Stewart, Head, Curriculum Section.

This is my family.

See my father.

See my mother.

See the baby.

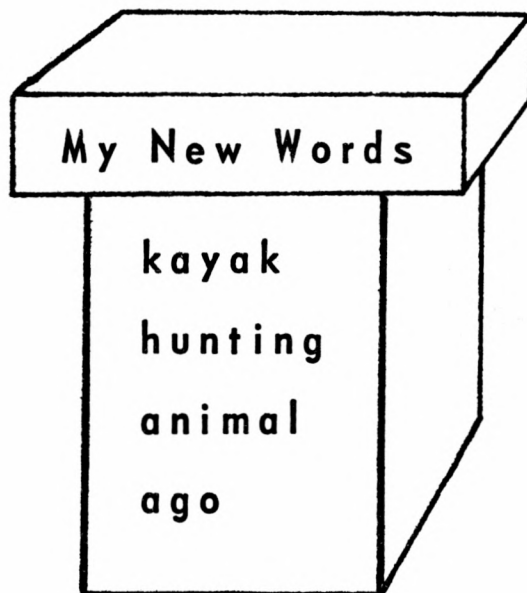

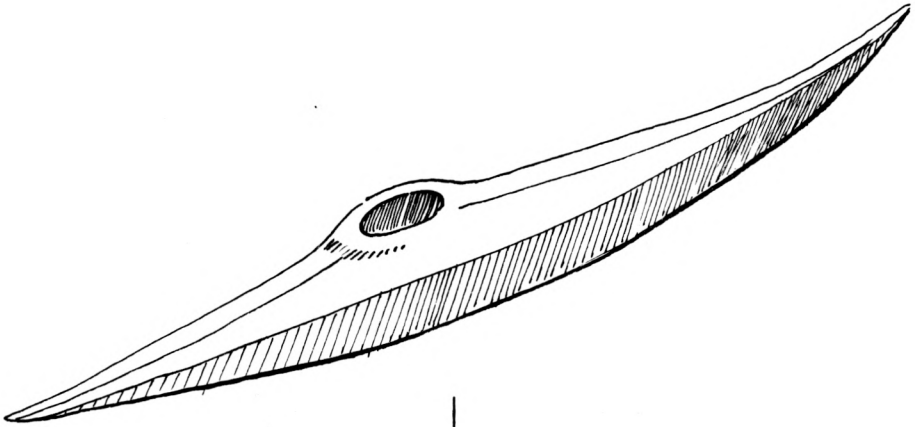

This is a house.

It has two windows and a door.

The house is near the water.

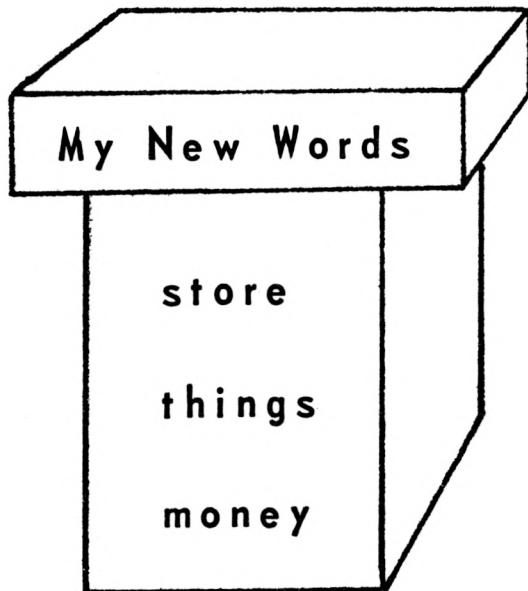

This is a kayak.

It is made from the skins of an animal.

A long time ago we used the kayak for hunting.

Now we use other kinds of boats.

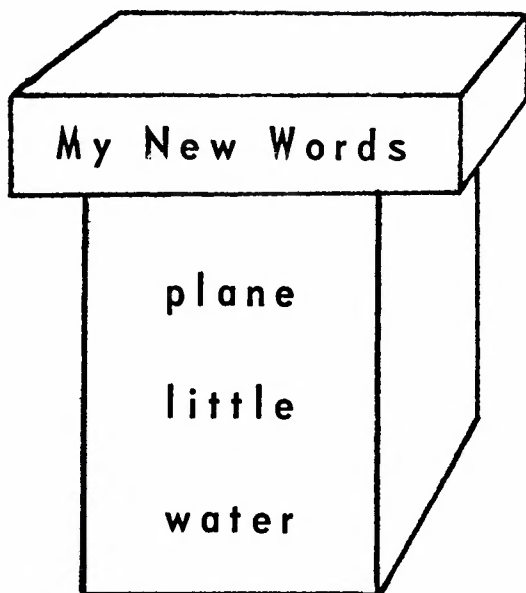

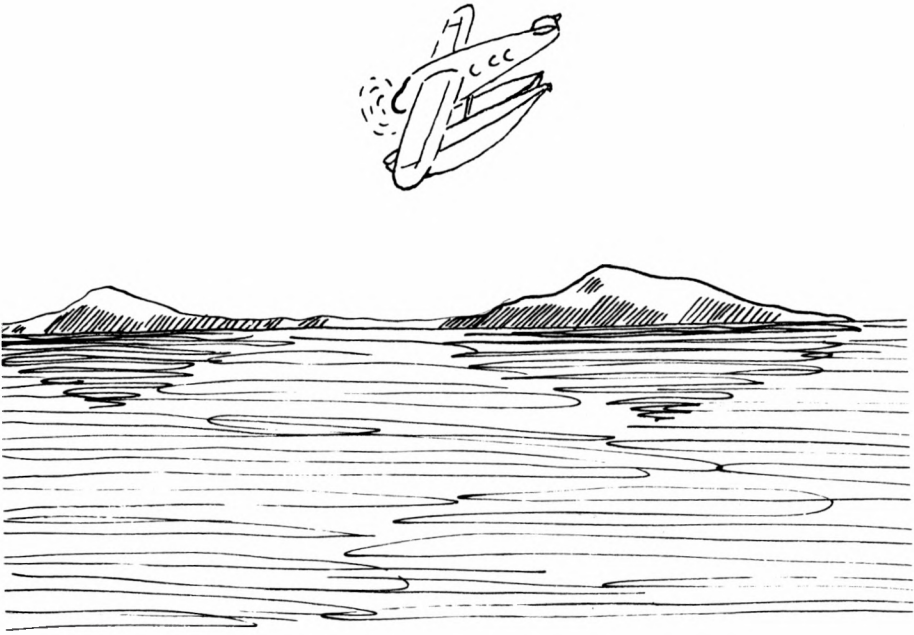

This is a store.

There are many things in the store.

We use money to buy things at the store.

Look!

The plane is coming.

It is a little plane.

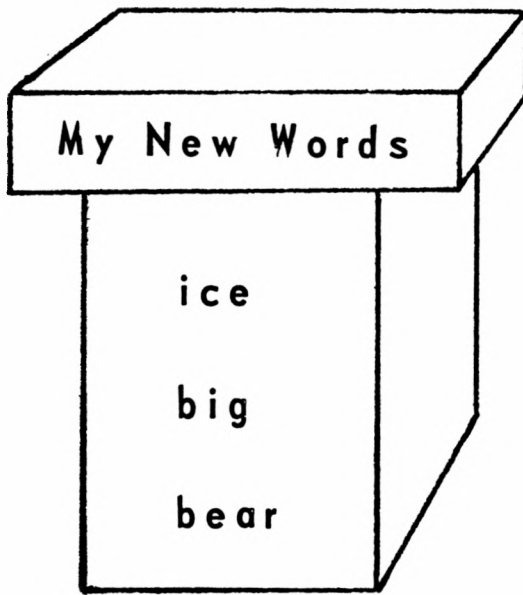

It will land on the water.

A long time ago we lived in snowhouses.

Now we live in other kinds of houses.

See the polar bear.

It is on the ice.

The polar bear is big.

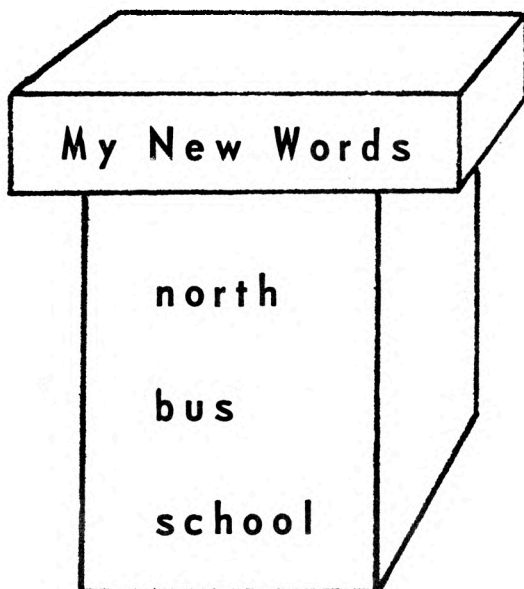

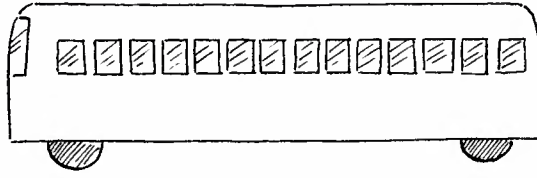

This is a car.

It can go fast.

It can go faster than a dog team.

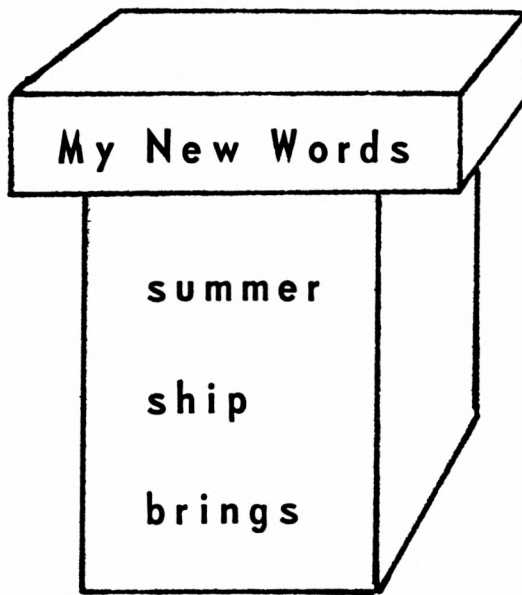

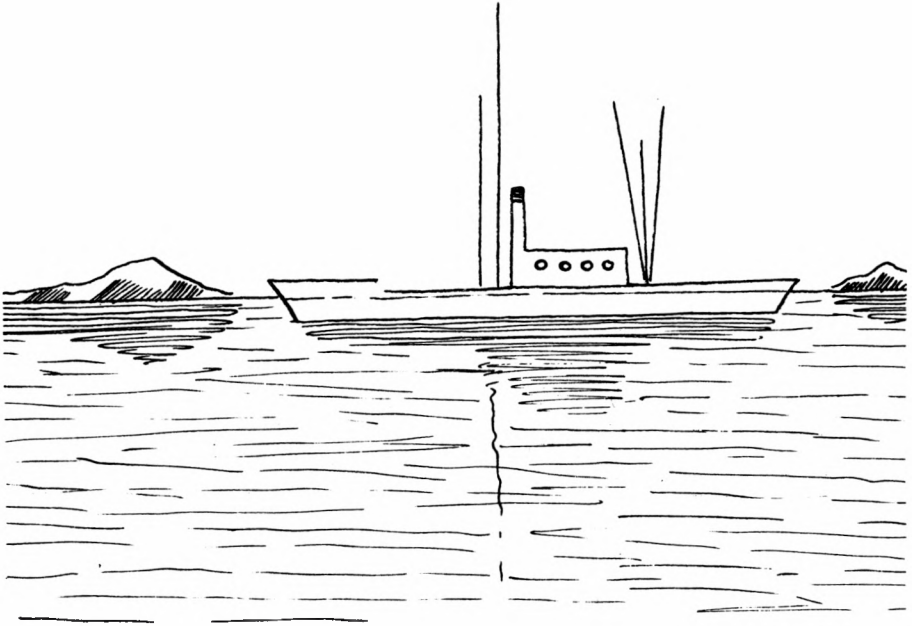

This is a bus.

Some children in the north go to school in a bus.

Do you go to school in a bus?

This is a ship.

In summer the ship brings many things to us.

This is a church.

On Sunday we go to church.

We sing and pray at church.

OTTAWA

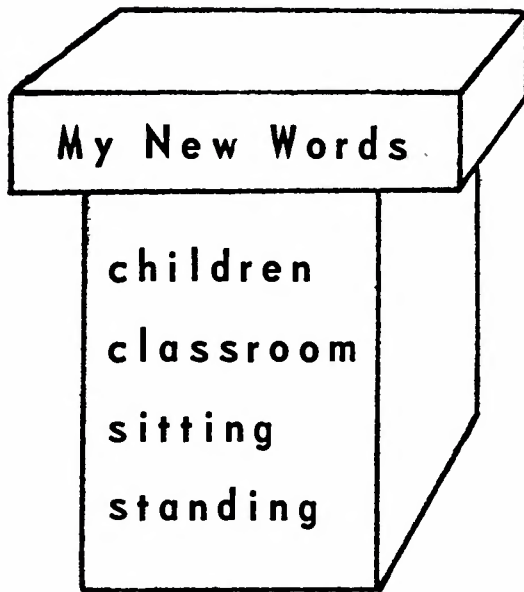

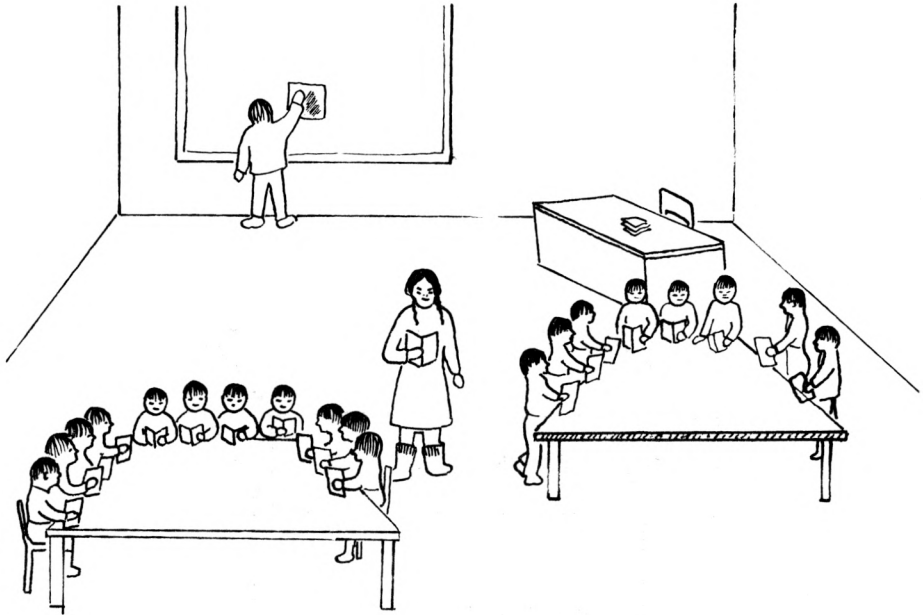

What a party!

Many people came.

The big cake had one hundred candles on it.

It was Canada's birthday party.

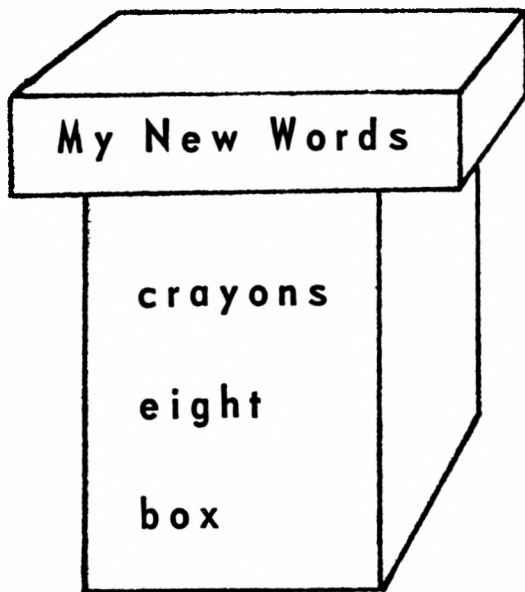

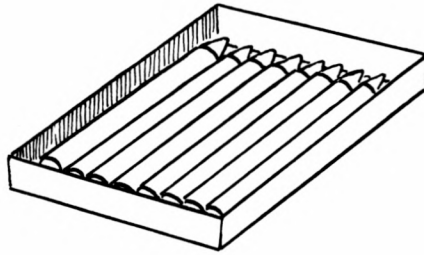

This is a classroom.

Some children are sitting and some are standing.

A boy is putting a picture on the wall.

There are twenty boys and girls in the classroom.

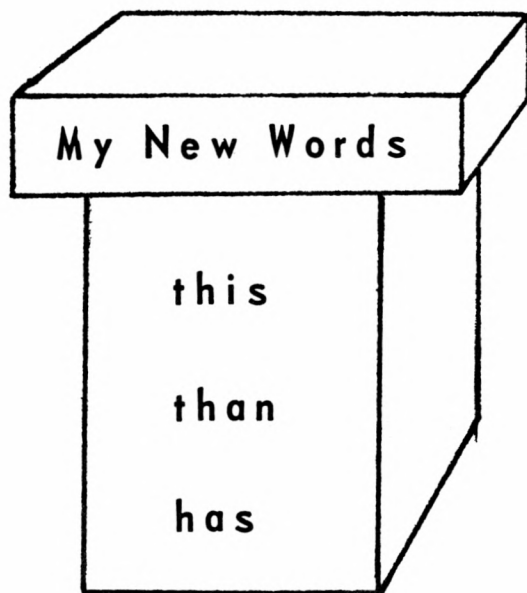

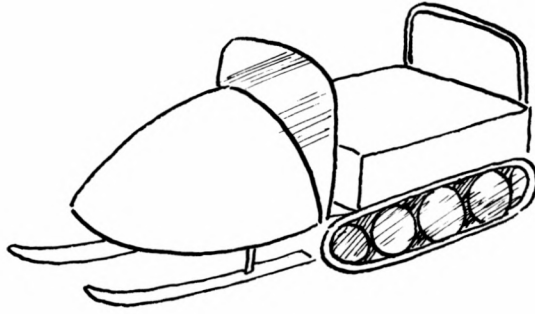

These are crayons.

There are eight crayons in the box.

Their colours are red, blue, black, orange, yellow, brown, green and purple.

This is a ski-doo.

It can go faster than a dog team.

The ski-doo has a motor.

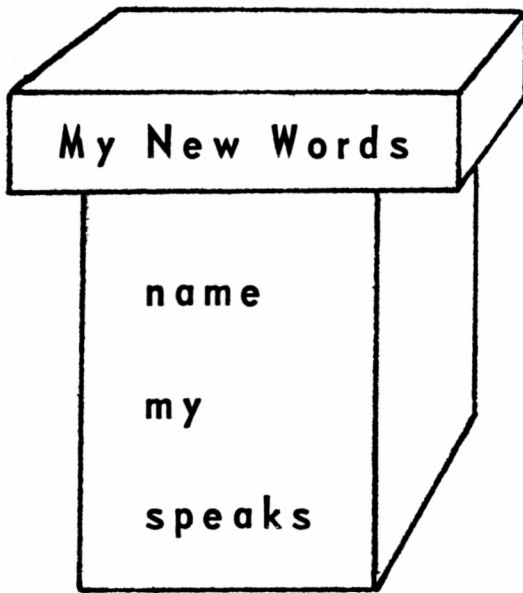

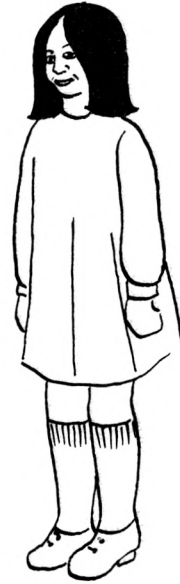

This is my friend.

He is from Ottawa.

Ottawa is the capital of Canada.

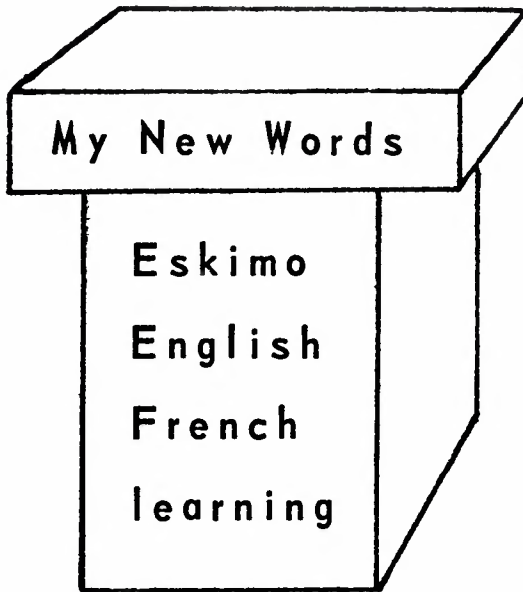

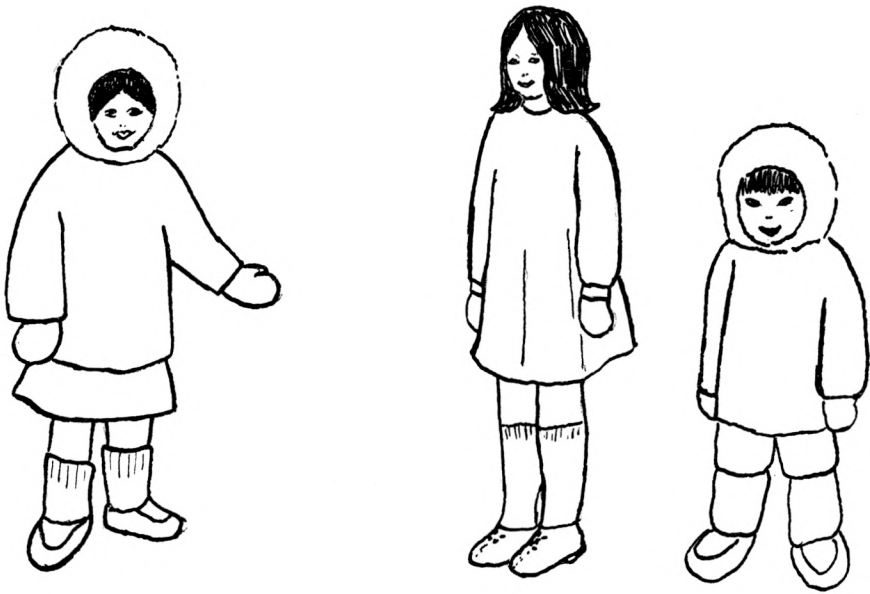

This is my friend.

Her name is Lisa.

She is from Montreal.

She speaks French.

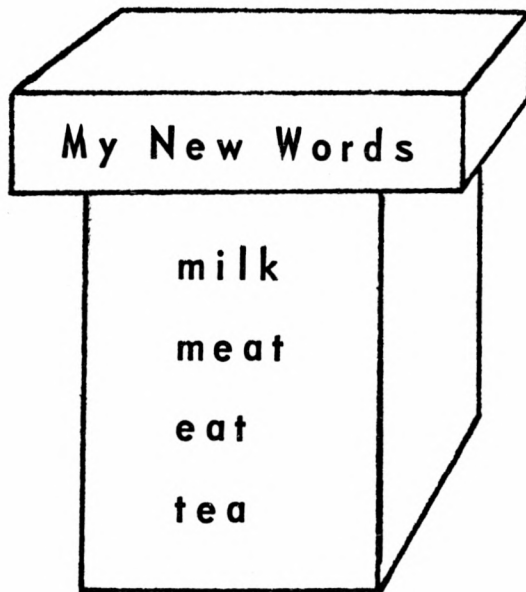

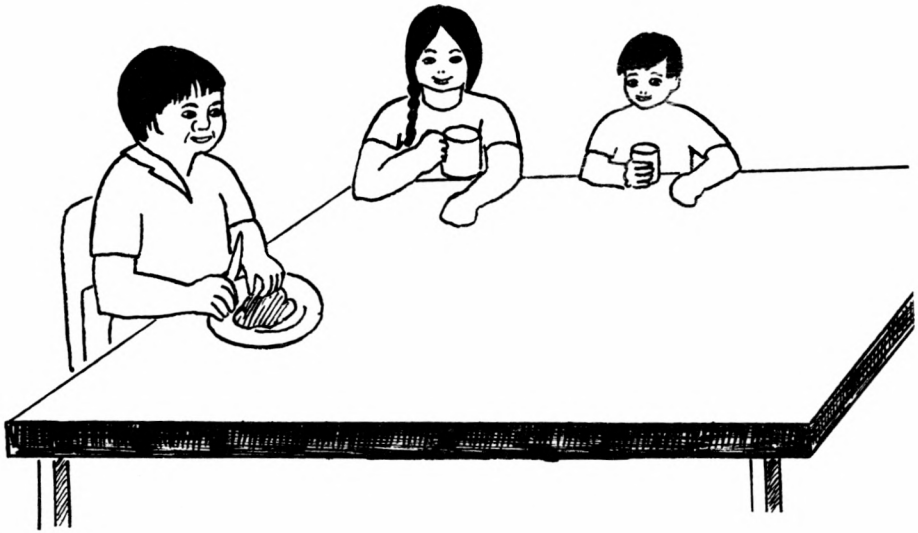

These are my friends.

Their names are Lisa and Jamie.

Lisa speaks French but Jamie and I speak Eskimo.

At school we are all learning to speak English.

It is time to eat.

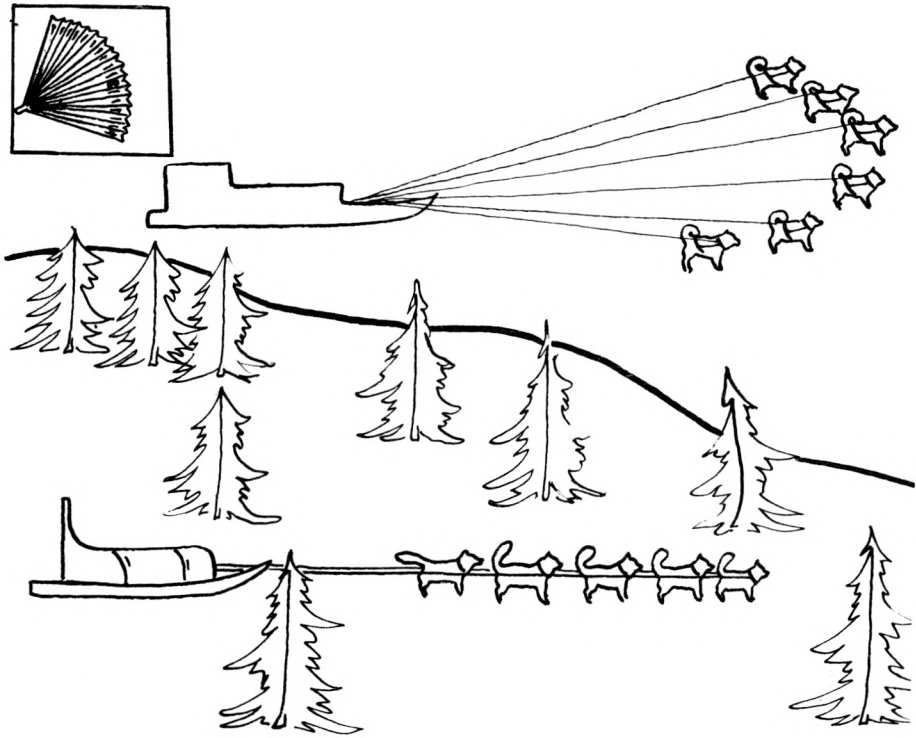

Three persons are at the table.

Father is eating meat.

Mother is drinking tea.

The boy is drinking milk.

Here are two dog teams.

One looks like a fan.

Can you find it?

Which kind of dog team is used where you live?
