Re: ERRATA

In the introduction (Page (iii)) to each Provincial volume the following two sections should be added:

1. "For inclusion in the present volume a program offered by a Federal Government Department had to meet one of the following conditions:
  - (i) The program had a specific allocation of expenditures to native peoples.
  - (ii) There were in existence specific delivery or administrative mechanisms which allowed for the identification of native expenditures.
  - (iii) Expenditure information on native peoples was monitored.
  - (iv) By its nature or intent the program had a major impact on native peoples."
2. "Where it is not otherwise specified the Federal Government Department responsible for delivering a program or sub-program detailed in this volume is Indian and Northern Affairs Canada."

In addition, the following general amendments should be made to the appropriate Program/Sub-Program descriptions in each Provincial volume:

1. Program: Housing and Community Services.
Sub-Program: Off-Reserve Housing.
Add "Finance: Funding provided by CMHC and reported as part of the financial data for the Rural and Native Housing Program."

2. Program: Housing and Community Services.
Sub-Program: Rural and Native Housing Program.
Finance: Note (2) should read: "Loans forgiven information not available by province or native people."
Add: "(3) Expenditures for the Off-Reserve Housing sub-program is included in these tables."

3. Program: Economic Development.
Sub-Program: IEDF.
Add Authority: "Indian Economic Development Direct Loan Order (P.C. 1977-3609), Economic Development Guarantee Order (P.C. 1977-3609). Both effective 22/12/77."

Add Mode of Delivery: "Headquarters, Economic and Employment Development Branch."

4. Program: Employment.
Sub-Programs: Youth Job Corps - Summer Student
Youth Job Corps - Year Round

Finance: The tables appearing at the end of 'Youth Job Corps - Year Round' should be at the end of 'Youth Job Corps - Summer Student'. The Youth Job Corps - Year Round sub-program did not start until fiscal year 1979-80. In addition the funds administered by Indian and Northern Affairs under 'Youth Job Corps - Summer Student' are included under the sub-program 'Summer Youth Employment'.

5. Program: Justice.
Sub-Program: Policing.
Add: Authority: "Federal-Provincial cost sharing agreement approval given by Treasury Board June 1973."

6. Program: Social Services.
Sub-Program: Rehabilitation.
Add: Finance: 'Note' under Native Alcohol Abuse: "The information for expenditures in each province by Indian and Northern Affairs under the Native Alcohol Abuse Program were not available from the chart of accounts. However, since the program is cost-shared it can be assumed that DIAND's expenditures match those of NH&W. Hence total NAA expenditures are double those reported."

7. Financial Summary tables. The expenditures under "Native Alcohol Abuse" sub-program should be doubled, with consequent adjustments to totals under the Social Services Program and the grand total, for each fiscal year.

Further, the following amendments of application to specific provinces should be made, as appropriate:

1. Province: New Brunswick.

Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development,
Ottawa, 1981.

This volume attempts to provide a description of federal programs and services available to Indian people. The material does not deal with national programs of universal application to which Indian people have access in the same manner and under the same conditions as other Canadian citizens, such as unemployment insurance, family allowances, etc. In addition, financial expenditure information, where available, is provided for each program. In the tables a zero entry refers to nil expenditure, while a "blank" means that information is not available. The totals may not add due to rounding.

At this stage, the material is not as complete as might be desirable and as such will be the subject of on-going review and modification. Similar volumes are now available for all other provinces in Canada.

This volume was prepared from the combined inputs of regional office and headquarters staff of the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development. The work was co-ordinated by the Intergovernmental Affairs Branch in Ottawa and any questions, comments or additional information concerning this volume and other provincial volumes is welcomed and should be directed to the following address:

History:

In the early seventies various Métis and non-status Indian groups across Canada began pressing the federal government to respond to the deplorable housing conditions of native peoples. In September 1973, the Native Council of Canada presented a brief to the Minister of State for Urban Affairs asking for an immediate commitment to build 30 000 to 40 000 new homes in the next five years.

CMHC established a policy group to develop a housing program using the existing legislation and adapting it to meet the needs of rural Canada. CMHC channelled funds through the National Housing Act, Part V, grants to various native groups to study their housing needs. A "winter warmth" program was funded as the first step toward improving housing for native people.

This activity culminated in March 1974, with a Cabinet commitment to build and rehabilitate 50 000 units over a five-year period and establish a responsibility centre in CMHC - The Rural and Native Housing Division.

(The Rural and Native Housing Program was approved by the federal Cabinet on February 21, 1974.)

Territory: Yukon (plus B.C. north of 59th parallel)

Services Available: Assistance in cash or in kind to meet the cost of food, clothing, shelter, fuel, utilities, etc., while attending post-secondary institutions outside the territory. Counselling for elementary and secondary students, boarding home programs and the provision of group homes or student residences.

Eligibility: All status Indians regardless of where they live.

Mode of Delivery: At community level, counselling is carried out by band-employed cross-cultural co-ordinators on behalf of the department.

Native Input: Advisory participation in decision making and implementation by native associations and bands. All suggestions are considered.

Variations from Established Policy: All elementary and secondary education is provided for by the territorial government. Until 1978 very little local control was held by native people. School committees have now been established whose role is strictly advisory. In 1978 the Kluane Tribal Brotherhood established its own school without DIAND or territorial aid; it now has an agreement with the territorial government for funding.

Selkirk band now has considerable input into new school and programs. All post-secondary programs are funded by the department.

Participation by
Other Agencies:

Elementary and secondary education is provided by territorial government. Natives may be elected to school committees or departmental committees to advise on policy and planning.

History:

Originally all education services were provided by DIAND. In 1967 a financial agreement was signed with the commissioner of the Yukon and the minister of DIAND to provide all elementary and secondary services. This agreement had very little input from native people. This situation remains to present day.

No program descriptions are available; however, the major differences in the operation of the Economic Development Program in the Yukon region as opposed to the southern regions are:

1. No districts - clients deal directly with regional staff and thus are one step closer to the decision-making level.
2. Renewable resources - the pursuit of traditional economics such as trapping is still very prevalent in the Yukon and financial support from the department is required to maximize this potential.
3. Alaska Highway Pipeline - although the department has little control over this project the construction of the pipeline will present to Indian people many varied and unique business opportunities. New money and manpower must be found to assist Indian people in this area.
4. Land claims - as in 3 the settlement of land claims will also increase the demand and potential for business development.

Program: Employment
Sub-program: Canada Works
Territory: Yukon

Objectives and Services Available: The Canada Works Program is designed to utilize the expertise of local organizations in the development and management of projects that will create new short-term employment opportunities. The objectives of the program is to get needed work done and to benefit the public by employing people whose talents are temporarily surplus to private sector needs. The federal government through this program provides a contribution to employee wages and other project costs.

Eligibility: Any established organization, partnership or corporation may submit an application to sponsor a project.

Applications from individuals or newly formed groups will be considered for funding if local circumstances are such that insufficient acceptable applications have been received from established organizations and no appropriate established organization is available to sponsor the project. Hiring of employees is done through the Canada Employment Centre (CEC). Persons referred to a project must have major labour force attachment, be unemployed and be registered with the CEC as actively seeking work. Preference is given to those whose personal circumstances, through the judgement of the CEC show them to be most in need of the employment opportunity. All persons working on a project must be Canadian citizens or permanent residents legally entitled to work in Canada.

Mode of Delivery:

When a Canada Works project is approved, a formal agreement is signed between the government of Canada and sponsors. The sponsor then becomes an employer with full employer's responsibilities.

Responsibility for Delivery:

CEIC is charged with the financial responsibility for program services. The regional office promotes the program and a project officer solicits, develops and monitors each project.

Program: Employment

Sub-program: Young Canada Works

Territory: Yukon

Services Available: Young Canada Works is a federal government program designed to fund projects at the local community level that provide work experience and skill development for students during the summer. The program stresses the creation of employment that will enable students to contribute to community needs and that will facilitate their future access to the labour market by enabling them to test possible career interests.

Eligibility: Sponsors are defined as established organizations, partnerships or corporations. In exceptional cases or in isolated areas, agreements may be made with individuals. Municipalities and other primarily tax-supported groups are eligible, but not federal and provincial government departments. It must be established that the proposed activities would not be undertaken as a result of normal or planned expenditures.

All persons working on a project must be students who are Canadian citizens or permanent residents legally entitled to work in Canada. For the purposes of the Young Canada Works Program, a student is someone who was registered full-time at a secondary, post-secondary, or vocational school during the preceding year. Unemployed youth may be hired in exceptional cases, in rural areas or on Indian reserves where suitable participants may not otherwise be available; or as a project manager, if no suitably qualified student is available in the community.

Mode of Delivery: Administrative arrangement used to deliver the services is an agreement between the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission and the sponsor for up to $25 000.

Responsibility for Delivery: The Canada Employment and Immigration Commission is charged with the financial responsibility for program services.

Indian/Inuit/Native Input: Initiation of projects; discussions on funding.

Sub-program: Job Experience Training

Territory: Yukon

Services Available: Places in employment with private sector employers recent school leavers between the ages of 15 and 24 who have been unable to find employment due to a lack of work experience and skills. The Canada Employment and Immigration Commission (CEIC) subsidizes employers at a rate of up to 50% of the hourly wage paid, up to $1.50 per hour, to a maximum of $1 560. Employers are also provided with an opportunity to assess these young people as potential permanent employees after the wage subsidy period has ended. Employers enter into an agreement with the federal government to provide 26 weeks of actual work experience in a newly created position. Local chambers of commerce and boards of trade participate actively and in some localities provide the basic management for the program.

Eligibility: Unemployed, recent school leavers aged 15-24.

Mode of Delivery: There are three delivery options:

Under Option I, the CEIC utilizes the services of sponsors to administer the program. Sponsors include chambers of commerce, boards of trade or other community organizations. The sponsor conducts all aspects of the program on behalf of the CEIC with the exception of participant identification and pre-employment orientation. The sponsor is entitled to a contribution of $60 per placement to cover its administrative costs.

Under Option II, the sponsor assists the CEIC in delivering the program and is awarded a contribution of $35 per placement to cover its administrative costs.

Under Option III, the CEIC assumes total responsibility for delivery of the program.

Program:

Grants for the Promotion of Better Understanding Between Native People and Those Who Represent the Legal System (formerly the Program of Grants for the Education of Native People in the Legal System)

Territory:

Yukon

Objectives and Services Available:

The program was planned and implemented in the 1974-75 fiscal year with the objective of reducing the communication barrier that exists between native people and those who represent the legal system by educating native people within the legal system. It became evident after two years of operation that an equally effective approach to the same basic objective would be to sensitize or educate those who represent the legal system (judges, police, and the legal profession) to the problems distinct to native people. The revised criteria provide for an extension of the classes of recipients and broaden the base of the program while retaining the original philosophy.

The projects that are funded would fall under three categories:

1. conferences, meetings or workshops between native people and those involved in the administration of justice;
2. educational or informational projects designed to increase the understanding of native people with respect to the law, its administration and enforcement; and

3. sensitization projects for judges, magistrates and other officials of the legal system, designed to increase their awareness of problems distinct to native people.

The program lapsed at the end of the 1977-78 fiscal year. The new preventive thrust under the Native Courtworker Program absorbed this program by promoting a better understanding between the native people and those who administer the legal system; this will be done on a cost-shared basis with the provinces and/or territories where the need has been identified, and an agreement has been drawn up and signed by those concerned.

Expiry Date:

1977-78

Responsibility for Delivery: Provincial government, but 50/50 cost-shared provincial/federal governments (Department of Justice).

Native Input: The "carrier agency" is normally a native organization and all courtworkers are natives.

Services Available: Financial assistance is available to native communications resource organizations located throughout the country. However, the financial support is limited to one resource organization per region.

Eligibility: The organization should be managed and controlled by native people; respond to native communications needs; and involve itself to the greatest possible extent with the community it was designed to serve and with the larger society.

Where a resource organization operated multimedia projects, it would be prepared to lend any native group in the region such equipment as that group might reasonably require and provide training and assistance to such a group as appropriate free of charge.

Mode of delivery: The organizations apply annually for their grants. The application is first reviewed by a field officer to ensure criteria are satisfied; then copies are circulated to members of the regional co-ordinating committees.

The committee, chaired by the regional director, meets with the organization to review the application and the regional director then make his recommendation for funding levels to the minister. Then comes the review by headquarters and settlement of any problems. Ministerial approval is then requested. The department has authority for grants up to $250 000.

Responsibility for Delivery:

Administration is shared by the regions and headquarters, Secretary of State.

(approved the Native Communications Program to March 31, 1979);

T.B. Minute 762881, January 26, 1979.

Participation by
Other Agencies:

Membership on regional co-ordinating committees includes representatives of provincial or territorial governments, of the CBC and NFB, and of the native associations involved, with standing participation by officials of the departments of Communications, Indian Affairs and Northern Development and the Secretary of State. The committees make recommendations to the native participation chairman on the allocation of grants to native communications projects.

Evaluations: 1977 - program review.

Start date: March 1974.
