CANADA

Statistics Division
Indian & Inuit Affairs Program
August 18, 1978

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

The registered Indian membership is distributed among the categories off reserve, on reserve, and on Crown Land by band. The following rules were used to determine uniquely the location of each of the Indian Bands:

1. In the first instance, bands with a majority of the membership on reserve were assigned to the reserve where most of this majority was known to reside.
2. Bands with a majority of the membership on Crown Land were assigned to the Indian settlement where most of this majority was known to reside.
3. Bands with a majority of the membership off reserve were assigned to the community where most of this majority was known to reside.
4. Bands with a majority of the membership off reserve but whose location was indeterminate were assigned to the reserve where most of the on-reserve membership was known to reside or to the community where some of the membership was known to reside.
