Chairperson's Message

Our 2017–18 Departmental Plan provides Parliamentarians and Canadians with information on what we do and the results we are trying to achieve during the upcoming year. To improve reporting to Canadians, we are introducing a new, simplified report to replace the Report on Plans and Priorities.

The title of the report has been changed to reflect its purpose: to communicate our annual performance goals and the financial and human resources forecast to deliver those results. The report has also been restructured to tell a clearer, more straightforward and balanced story of the actual results we are trying to achieve, while continuing to provide transparency on how tax payers' dollars will be spent. We describe our programs and services for Canadians, our priorities for 2017–18, and how our work will fulfill our departmental mandate commitments and the government's priorities.

It is my pleasure to present the Department Plan for the Military Police Complaints Commission of Canada (MPCC) for 2017-18.

In the coming fiscal year, we will continue to monitor and investigate complaints to promote the highest standards of conduct of Military Police members in the performance of policing duties, and to ensure the integrity of Military Police investigations. In doing so, we intend to continue to implement improvements to timeliness in the complaints process started in the last fiscal year.

The MPCC's outreach program is key to building relationships with the Military Police, the community they serve and the Canadian Armed Forces at large. We will further develop the Outreach program by maintaining our increased participation in courses at the Canadian Forces Military Police Academy and refining the outreach program to provide a more interactive style presentation to senior Military Police members.

In line with the government-wide workplace mental health strategy, we will continue to promote a healthy, respectful, and supportive work environment through holding awareness seminars and by providing employees with the tools and resources to help themselves or others. We will continue to focus on the development and implementation of Talent Management within the organization to engage, develop and retain excellent talent.

Hilary C. McCormack, LL.B. Fellow Litigation Counsel of America Chairperson

Implement an effective talent management strategy plan: The Military Police Complaints Commission of Canada continues to invest in its employees by developing talent management plans for employees who surpass their work objectives for the year.

Refine the MPCC's Outreach program: The Military Police Complaints Commission of Canada continues to engage with the Canadian Forces Provost Marshal and bases across Canada as well as the Canadian Forces Military Police Academy to refine the Military Police Complaints Commission of Canada Outreach program in order to target specific groups which include providing a more interactive style presentation to senior Military Police members.

These plans support the mandate of promoting the highest standards of conduct of Military Police members in the performance of policing duties, and to ensure the integrity of Military Police investigations.

For more information on the Military Police Complaints Commission of Canada's plans, priorities and planned results, see the "Planned results" section of this report.

Raison d'être, mandate and role: who we are and what we do

Raison d'être

On behalf of all Canadians, the Military Police Complaints Commission of Canada (MPCC) exists to provide greater public accountability by the Military Police (MP) and the chain of command in relation to Military Police activities. The MPCC derives its mandate from Part IV of Canada's *National Defence Act*ⁱ (NDA).

Mandate and role

The MPCC's mandate is to:

- review and investigate complaints concerning MP conduct; and
- investigate allegations of interference in MP investigations.

The MPCC's mission is to promote and ensure the highest standards of conduct of MP in the performance of policing duties and to discourage interference in any MP investigation.

The MPCC fulfils its mandate and mission by exercising the following responsibilities:

- monitoring investigations by the Canadian Forces Provost Marshalⁱⁱ (CFPM) of MP conduct complaintsⁱⁱⁱ;
- reviewing the disposition of those complaints at the request of the complainant;
- investigating interference complaints iv; and
- conducting public interest investigations and hearings^v.

In fulfilling its independent civilian oversight responsibilities, the MPCC has a crucially important working relationship with the CFPM and the Deputy Commander, Canadian Forces Military Police Group/Professional Standards^{vi} (DComd CF MP Gp/PS).

Fostering a mutually respectful working relationship between the MPCC, the CFPM and DComd CF MP Gp/PS facilitates the conduct of complaint investigations and the likelihood that recommendations will be accepted and implemented.

For more general information about the department, see the "Supplementary information" section of this report. For more information on the department's organizational mandate letter commitments, see the Minister's mandate letter on the Prime Minister of Canada's website. VII

Operating context: conditions affecting our work

Reporting burden

The MPCC continues to explore efficient ways to meet the reporting demands. With increased central agency standards in strategic planning, reporting, finance, human resources, staffing, security, ATIP, records and information management and heightened quality assurance expectations, MPCC staff are required to re-evaluate their daily tasks and take on additional work to meet new policy requirements.

Phoenix Pay System

The MPCC was part of the phase two roll-out of the Phoenix pay system in April 2016. Despite the planning and preparation, the roll-out caused multiple challenges outside the MPCC's control. MPCC staff worked diligently and in collaboration with intra-governmental stakeholders in order to address issues to limit any negative impact on employees' pay. An unusually high proportion of its internal services had to be devoted to managing issues arising from the deployment of the pay system.

Key risks: things that could affect our ability to achieve our plans and results

Key risks

Risks	Risk response strategy	Link to the department's Programs	Link to mandate letter commitments or to government-wide and departmental priorities
Operational Demands such as an increase in volume or complexity of complaints and whether a Public Interest Investigation (PII) or Public Interest Hearing (PIH) is involved (nature of file)	•The MPCC will follow its critical path in resolving complaints. •The MPCC will remain open to improvements and refinements of its critical path to accommodate unique circumstances. •The MPCC will examine case management, administrative and other options such as procedural efficiencies and technology applications towards the optimization of available resources. •The MPCC will enhance its recordkeeping practices to better support data collection and planning. •The MPCC will offer a web-based complaint form and review the form to allow the MPCC to be more accessible to potential complainants as well as to provide improved services to the public.	Complaints Resolution Internal Services	Not applicable ¹

The complexity and volume of operational files present a risk to the organization since these require increased and specialized resources.

MPCC complex complaint files may at times require research into new subject areas which increases the level of effort required to identify and gather new information and create a new knowledge base. In other cases, the volume of material received takes a great deal of time to review and analyze. As a result, the processes, resources and the time required to prepare reports can increase the duration from receipt of a complaint to issuance of a Final Report. The risks increase whenever a Public Interest Investigation or Hearing is launched. Such PII and PIH files require a significant increase in not only operational support but also in logistical support due to the high profile and public nature of such files. When a PII or PIH is declared, there is often a need to seek additional funds as well as to respond to public inquiries and requests. This leaves fewer resources for regular files unless new temporary funding is sought. Therefore, operational demands by way of volume, complexity or nature (PII/PIH) all pose a significant risk. Due to these challenges, the MPCC continues to review its investigation guidelines and processes on a regular basis to improve on timeliness and ensure an efficient complaints process.

Completion of investigations within a reasonable time is important in order to reduce the potential impact it might cause to stakeholders and partners such as MP, subjects, partners within the DND portfolio and the general public.

Planned results: what we want to achieve this year and beyond

Program

Complaints Resolution

Description

This program aims to successfully resolve conduct complaints regarding Military Police (MP) members as well as interference complaints with MP investigations by overseeing and reviewing all complaints received. This program is necessary to help the MP to be as effective and professional as possible in their policing duties and functions.

Planning highlights

During the 2017-18 fiscal year, the MPCC will:

- Continue to work with the CFPM, the DComd CF MP Gp and other senior MP staff to foster an environment that supports the acceptance and implementation of MPCC recommendations. The MPCC has no control over the complaints received or the resulting volume, complexity and size of the investigations;
- Continue to refine the planning and conduct of its investigations, with particular focus on improving timeliness and ensuring that the resources devoted to a file match its complexity;
- Establish a competitive process to replenish the pool of contract MPCC Investigators;
- Seek to be listed on the schedule of designated entities under the Canada Evidence Act; and
- Continue the MPCC's Outreach Program to increase awareness of its mandate and activities and to respond to questions and concerns about the complaints process in order to increase transparency and accountability in the complaints process.

Planned results

Expected results	Performance indicators	Target	Date to achieve target	2013–14 Actual results	2014–15 Actual results	2015–16 Actual results
Recommendations resulting from investigations of conduct or interference complaints accepted by the Department of National Defence and/or the Canadian Armed Forces (CAF)	% of recommendations accepted	70%	March 31, 2018	90%	40%*	83%
Individual members received remedial measures and/or improvements were made to Military Police policies and practices pursuant to investigations of conduct or interference complaints	% improvements made	70%	March 31, 2018	78%	33%	83%

^{*}An unusually large proportion of the recommendations made by the MPCC during the reporting period – 96/112, or 86%, arises from one large case – a complex public interest hearing (the Fynes PIH). In this case, a large number of the CFPM responses to the MPCC recommendations (70%) were framed in non-committal language, rather than in terms of a straightforward "accepted" or "not accepted". In the circumstances of this case, the MPCC deemed these non-committal responses as not accepting of the associated recommendation. For all the other cases completed during the reporting period, 100% of MPCC recommendations were accepted.

^{}Given the timing of release of certain final reports was late in the fiscal year, confirmation of the status of many recommendations considered accepted was not available at the end of fiscal 2014-15. Therefore, for the purposes of this indicator, those recommendations, which we were advised were at various stages of implementation, were deemed to be not fully implemented at the end of fiscal 2014-15.

The MPCC completed a review of how to improve timeliness in the complaints process. This involved brainstorming sessions with employees aimed at making recommendations to improve timeliness in both the treatment and investigation of complaints by the MPCC. A revised process has been implemented and will be evaluated on a regular basis through feedback of users.

The MPCC is planning to devote approximately 3% to 5% of program funds to experimenting with new approaches to measuring the impact of its program.

In order to reduce spending on webmaster consultant services as well as to enhance its in-house knowledge base to meet the challenges of the Web Renewal Initiative and Open Government, the MPCC determined that it would benefit the organization in considering the classification of its own Webmaster position. While discussions were ongoing, the MPCC seconded a public servant to fulfill webmaster duties. In August 2016, a CS-02 Webmaster position was created. The MPCC is planning to staff this position in 2016-17.

Future-Oriented Condensed Statement of Operations

The Future-Oriented Condensed Statement of Operations provides a general overview of the MPCC's operations. The forecast of financial information on expenses and revenues is prepared on an accrual accounting basis to strengthen accountability and to improve transparency and financial management.

Because the Future-Oriented Condensed Statement of Operations is prepared on an accrual accounting basis, and the forecast and planned spending amounts presented in other sections of the Departmental Plan are prepared on an expenditure basis, amounts may differ.

A more detailed Future-Oriented Statement of Operations and associated notes, including a reconciliation of the net cost of operations to the requested authorities, are available on the MPCC's website^{ix}.
