Introduction

This Register of the Order of Military Merit is published on the occasion of the 45th anniversary of the foundation of the Order. It follows the publication of the book The Order of Military Merit by Dr. Christopher McCreery, which was produced to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the Order in 2012. The present publication is intended to highlight some changes which occurred in relation to the Order in the last five years but, more importantly, to update the list of officials and the register of members of the Order to include all those appointed and promoted from its foundation to its 45th anniversary on 1 July 2017.

The Order of Military Merit was established by Queen Elizabeth II on 1 July 1972 to provide a means of recognizing conspicuous merit and exceptional service by members of Her Majesty's Canadian Armed Forces (CAF), both Regular and Reserve.

General Dextraze had been invested as an ex-officio Commander and as Principal Commander of the Order by the Governor General at Rideau Hall on 21 January 1973.

Her Majesty The Queen is the Sovereign of the Order, the Governor General is the Chancellor and the Chief of the Defence Staff is the Principal Commander.

There are three levels of membership in the Order of Military Merit: Member, Officer and Commander, the latter being the highest. The number of appointments made annually is the equivalent of 0.1% of the total strength of the CAF in the preceding year. Of that number, 5% will be Commanders, 20% will be Officers and 75% will be Members. In recent years, this has amounted to approximately 105 annual appointments and promotions. A total of 4,747 appointments and promotion have been made since the foundation of the Order.

Commanders of the Order are appointed for outstanding meritorious service while fulfilling duties of great responsibility. This has been interpreted to mean that only flag and general officers are eligible to be appointed as Commanders.

Officers of the Order are appointed for outstanding meritorious service while fulfilling duties of responsibility. This has been interpreted to mean that, generally, only officers in the ranks of lieutenant-commander/major to captain(N)/colonel are eligible to be appointed as Officers.

Members of the Order are appointed for exceptional service or performance of duty. This has been interpreted to mean that, generally, non-commissioned members (NCMs) and commissioned officers up to the rank of lieutenant(N)/captain are eligible to be appointed as Members.

A member of the Order may be promoted to a higher level when further distinguished service at a higher level of responsibility justifies it. In these cases, the promoted member will return the insignia of the lower level and only wear the full-size and miniature insignia as well as the lapel badge related to the highest appointment. Moreover, he or she will only use the post-nominal letters related to the promoted level. However, the promoted member may wear the devices related to the current and past appointments on the undress ribbon of the Order. One hundred and two promotions have been made since the foundation of the Order but only one person has held successively all three levels of the Order, namely General Joseph Gérard Maurice Baril, OC, CMM, MSM, CD, who was also the Principal Commander of the Order while Chief of the Defence Staff.

Nominations coming from the chain of command are considered once a year by the Advisory Council of the Order of Military Merit, which is chaired by the Chief of the Defence Staff and includes as members the Vice-Chief of the Defence Staff, the Commanders of the Royal Canadian Navy, Canadian Army and Royal Canadian Air Force as well as the Deputy Secretary to the Governor General, Chancellery of Honours as representative of the Governor General. The Chair submits the Council's recommendations to the Governor General for final approval on behalf of The Queen.

Only those who are serving members of the CAF (those eligible are members of the Regular Force, Primary Reserve, Cadet Organizations Administration and Training Service (COATS) and Canadian Rangers) on the date of the meeting of the Advisory Council may be considered for admission or promotion in the Order as Members, Officers or Commanders.

Members of the Canadian Royal Family may be appointed as extraordinary Members, Officers or Commanders of the Order. Only one such appointment has been made thus far, that of Admiral His Royal Highness The Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, PC, KG, KT, OM, GBE, AK, ONZ, QSO, GCL, CC, CMM, CD, ADC, who was appointed an extraordinary Commander of the Order in 2013. Moreover, the Governor General, as Chancellor of the Order, is also appointed an extraordinary Commander of the Order. This extraordinary division of membership was added to the Order on 22 April 2013 when a similar change was made to the Order of Canada. Prior to this, there were no provisions to appoint members of the Royal Family to Canadian orders and the Governor General was appointed to each order by virtue of their position as Governor General and Chancellor of each order but the appointment was to the ordinary division of the Order although it did not count against the numerical limits and was therefore supernumerary.

Members of foreign armed forces may be appointed honorary members of the Order. Only one such appointment has been made to date when General Richard Myers, CMM, MSC, of the United States Air Force was appointed an honorary Commander in 2004.

Myers of the United States Air Force with his insignia of CMM, Washington D.C., 1 February 2005. Myers was the first and remains the only honorary member of the Order; he had already been awarded the Meritorious Service Cross (Military Division) in 2000

The investitures generally take place at Rideau Hall, and occasionally at the Citadelle in Quebec City, two to three times yearly where the Governor General presents the recently appointed or promoted members with the insignia of their membership in the Order.

In addition to being authorized to wear the appropriate insignia and use the post-nominals related to their membership, the members of the Order enjoy heraldic privileges. Any distinguished Canadian may petition the Chief Herald of Canada for a grant of personal armorial bearings under the Royal Prerogative. All members of the Order may surround their shield of arms with the motto circlet of the Order and suspend their insignia therefrom. Moreover, Commanders of the Order are entitled to supporters in their arms.

The arms granted in 2016 to General Jonathan Holbert Vance, CMM, MSC, CD, Chief of the Defence Staff and Principal Commander of the Order of Military Merit. The arms include supporters, to which he is entitled as a Commander of the Order, the motto circlet of the Order surrounds his shield and the insignia of Commander of the Order along with the Meritorious Service Cross (Military Division) with bar, of which he is one of only five recipients, and the Canadian Forces' Decoration with two clasps are displayed beneath the shield

Since 2011, members of the Order of the rank of Captain(N)/Colonel and above are entitled to act as voluntary presiding officers at citizenship ceremonies.

All the aforementioned privileges may be exercised from the moment the person is officially informed of the appointment with the exception of the wearing of the full-size insignia, which will not be received and worn until the formal investiture ceremony.

The members of the Order have been admitted into a select society of merit in recognition of their long and distinguished military service to Crown and Country. As members of such a society, members may resign from it or be expelled if they fail to uphold the principle of honour. This latter process is called a termination and the first such instance in the history of the Order was when the Governor General signed an ordinance on 22 December 2014 terminating the appointment of Lieutenant-Colonel Deborah Lynn Miller as an Officer of the Order. Miller had been appointed in 2007 and subsequently pleaded guilty to six charges during two separate courts martial, the first in 2012 related to the falsification of documents for her physical fitness test, and the second in 2014 related to the unlawful wear of medals and insignia. The Advisory Council of the Order considered the case and the representation submitted by the member and recommended termination to the Governor General. His Excellency's acceptance of this recommendation was published in the Canada Gazette on 6 February 2015 and in a CANFORGEN of the same date. The second termination was for Master Warrant Officer (reduced in rank to Warrant Officer) Richard Fancy, who had been appointed a Member of the Order in 2014. During a court martial held on 27 May 2016, he pleaded guilty to three charges related to the unlawful wear of medals and insignia. His appointment was terminated further to a similar process as was followed in the Miller case, effective the 3 March 2017.

Otherwise, membership in the Order is for life. The insignia is not returnable upon death and may be retained in the family as an heirloom or donated to a recognized museum.

In addition to the launch of the aforementioned book by Dr. Christopher McCreery, a number of other initiatives were taken to mark the 40th anniversary of the foundation of the Order in 2012. A bust of Her Majesty The Queen, as Founding Sovereign of the Order, by Dominion Sculptor Phil White was generously presented to the Order by the Royal Canadian Mint. The sculpture, which was unveiled during the book launch on 7 June 2012, was subsequently installed permanently in the main concourse of National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa. On the same occasion, a new line of promotional items was inaugurated to enhance the visibility of the Order and increase the feeling of fellowship among its members. The items include a limited edition and numbered Spode plate, a tie, scarf, cufflinks and glassware among others. Guthrie Woods Products Ltd. (www.guthriewoods.com/omm) is the official supplier and a portion of the proceeds is donated to military charity. The tradition of presenting Order paperweights to outgoing members of the Council, which had lapsed in the early 1990s, was reintroduced. A new piece of music was also commissioned. Composed by Captain Peter Archibald, CD (Retired), the Fanfare, entitled OFFICIUM ANTE COMMODUM, was first performed during the investiture of 8 June 2012 where eight of the original members appointed in 1972, including the first women appointed to the Order, were invited to mark the anniversary. These projects, as well as the present publication making the 45th anniversary of the Order,

help build the traditions and symbolic lexicon of this already venerable institution.

Statistical Analysis

A statistical analysis of all appointments to and promotion in the Order of Military Merit from its establishment on 1 July 1972 to its 45th anniversary on 1 July 2017 has been conducted and the findings are discussed below by topic. Many of these topics were also studied in some depth in Chapter Three of the original publication on the Order of Military Merit in 2012. These findings will not be repeated in detail herein but an update on recent trends is provided.

Number of Appointments and Promotions

The annual number of appointments (including promotions) is dictated by the Constitution of the Order and is limited to 0.1% of the total strength of the CAF in the preceding year. This means that the number of appointments in each year has varied with the size of the CAF over the last 45 years as illustrated in the graph below. Initially, only the strength of the Regular and Primary Reserve Forces were taken into account but since 2005, the COATS and Canadian Rangers have also been included which has resulted in an increase of the number of annual appointments by 13. Within the annual limit, 5% are appointed Commanders, 20% Officers and 75% Members although between 1977 and 2007, the proportions were 6% CMM, 30% OMM and 64% MMM.

Annual Number of Appointments

The total number of appointments made since the creation of the Order is 4,747; 272 Commanders, 1,271 Officers, and 3,204 Members. Not included in these numbers and the following statistics are two of those appointed who subsequently resigned from the Order (Master Warrant Officer I.J. Burridge as a Member in 1974 and Lieutenant-Colonel R.J.R. Guilbault as an Officer in 2002) and two other appointments that were terminated (Lieutenant-Colonel D.L. Miller as an Officer in 2015 and Warrant Officer R. Fancy as a Member in 2017).

Besides the current and past Governors General who became members in the Extraordinary Division of the Order when it was created in 2013, only one extraordinary appointment has been made, that of extraordinary CMM to His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh. Similarly, only one honorary appointment has ever been made, that of honorary CMM to United States Air Force General R. Myers. These last two appointments are discussed in greater detail in the Introduction.

There have been 102 promotions within the Order since 1972, 19 from MMM to OMM, and 83 from OMM to CMM. As mentioned in the Introduction, only one person has held successively all the grades in the Order, General J.G.M. Baril.

With 45 years of history, it is also interesting to see that many service couples, siblings and parent/children appointments have occurred. While there is no specific statistical data on such cases, there are numerous examples of which a few follow.

Sergeant S.R. Bajema, MMM, CD was appointed in 1999 while his wife, Warrant Officer B.J. Bajema, MMM, CD, was appointed in 2011. Lieutenant-Colonel D.S.C. Mackay, OMM, CD joined the Order in 2001 while his wife, Lieutenant-Colonel (then Major) F.L. Chilton-Mackay, OMM, MSM, CD was appointed in 2006. Brigadier-General H. Jaeger OMM, MSM, CD was appointed in 2005 as a Colonel and was joined in the ranks of the Order in 2009 by her husband, Brigadier-General C.C. Thurrott, OMM, MSM, CD, also then a Colonel. Master Warrant Officer M. Davis, MMM, CD was made a Member in 2014 while Chief Warrant Officer M.A. Davis, MMM, CD joined his wife in the Order in 2016. Rear-Admiral G.R. Maddison, CMM, MSC, CD, who was promoted from OMM to CMM in 1997, was joined in the Order by his younger brother Rear-Admiral P.A. Maddison, CMM, MSM, CD, who was also promoted from OMM to CMM in 2010. Another pair of naval officer brothers are Rear-Admiral N.S. Greenwood, CMM, CD, who was promoted from OMM to CMM in 2010, and Captain(N) R. Greenwood, OMM, CD who was appointed in 2005. Chief of the Defence Staff and Principal Commander of the Order, General J.H. Vance, CMM, MSC, CD, was made a CMM as a Lieutenant-General but had been preceded in that honour by his father, Lieutenant-General J.E. Vance, CMM, CD, in 1983. Col J.A.R. Gardam, OC, OMM, MSM, CD was appointed in 1980 while his son, Rear-Admiral D.C. Gardam, CMM, CD, followed in his footsteps, being first made an OMM in 2006 and promoted to CMM in 2013. Other father and son combinations include Chief Warrant Officer M.A. Macaulay, MMM, CD, who was appointed a Member in 1973 with his son, Colonel D.A. Macaulay, OMM, CD, being appointed an Officer in 2015, and Master Warrant Officer T.A.A. Daigle, MMM, CD, who was made a Member in 1992 while his son, Warrant Officer S.A. Daigle, MMM, CD, was similarly honoured in 2015. In 2015, two couples were admitted to the Order, this was the first occasion spouses were appointed and invested simultaneously: Captain(N) M.B. Mulkins, OMM, CD and Captain(N) J.B. Zwick, OMM, CD, both were subsequently promoted to the rank of Commodore, and Warrant Officer T.L.S. Graham, MMM, CD and Master Warrant Officer D.J.-P.L. Pignatel, MMM, CD, later promoted to Master Warrant Officer and Chief Warrant Officer respectively. These few examples illustrate how military service and excellence run in many Canadian families.

Uniform and Branch Representation

Each year, the annual allocation is divided proportionally between the five nominating commands based on their demographic weight: Vice-Chief of the Defence Staff (which serves as the umbrella nominating command for all smaller commands and groups), Royal Canadian Navy, Canadian Army, Royal Canadian Air Force and Military Personnel Command. Although the uniform representation is not exact as two of those commands include personnel from all three environments, this ensures the appointments are in approximate proportion to the environments but more importantly, that they are equitably distributed within the CAF population.

For example, for the 2016 nomination cycle, there was a total limit of 105 appointments with 5 CMMs, 21 OMMs and 79 MMMs. The CMMs are managed by a different process by the Council but the OMMs and MMMs were allocated to the five nominating commands based on their respective strength as follows:

Command	OMM	MMM	TOTAL
VCDS	7	14	21
RCN	2	9	11
CA	5	36	41
RCAF	3	11	14
MILPERSCOM	4	9	13
TOTAL	21	79	100

It is each command's responsibility to ensure their own submissions represent the various branches, formations, units and geographical regions that make up their organization.

Appointments by Branch

Note that some of the branches have changed names or been amalgamated over the years.

Component Representation

The vast majority of appointments to the Order have been to members of the Regular Force and it has been a constant challenge to have an appropriate representation of the Primary Reserve and other Reserve components in the membership of the Order.

In the early years of the Order, while the Primary Reserve made up approximately 20% of the CAF, it received only 10.5% of the appointments in 1972, 7.5% in 1973 and a mere 3.8% in 1974. By 1980, the Primary Reserve constituted 21.4% of the CAF and received 8.8% of the appointments. The 2007 review of the Order found that the Primary Reserve then constituted 31.2% of the total CAF strength but that it was still seriously underrepresented in the ranks of the Order with 13.3% of the appointments that year. In 2007, the Council established a 20% target for Primary Reserve appointments, which had a positive effect almost immediately with representation going up slightly to 13.5% in 2009 and reaching an all-time high of 24.3% in 2010. The trend did not last however and in recent years, the proportion has been around 15% on average.

Major Douglas Michael Thorlakson, MMM, CD, receive his insignia of Member of the Order of Military Merit from the Governor General, Rideau Hall, 10 November 2016

Primary Reserve Representation over Time

Similarly, while the COATS and Canadian Rangers have been taken into account in establishing the CAF total strength for the purpose of the Order's allocation since 2005, these groups did not routinely receive appointments until the Council decided in 2006 to reserve one MMM appointment per year for each group. Until then, only four COATS and one Ranger had been appointed to the Order. While it took a couple of years for candidates to be submitted, these positions are now filled every year and some commands have even recommended additional COATS and Rangers out of their own allocations in some years.

Thus far, 523 members of the Primary Reserve have been appointed to the Order, 11.1% of all appointments, while 15 COATS (0.3%) and 14 Canadian Rangers (0.3%) have been similarly honoured.

Appointments by Component

Rank Representation

As it was explained in the original 2012 publication on the Order, rank representation has been and continues to be a challenge for the Order. When the Order was created, a conscious and significant effort was made to ensure it would be representative of the entire CAF, including its various ranks. Indeed in the first few lists, every rank was represented in significant numbers. The 1972 list had two ordinary seamen/private, five leading seamen/corporals, seven master seamen/master corporals, 16 petty officers 2nd class/sergeants, one sub-lieutenant/lieutenant and 12 lieutenants(N)/captains. The guidelines linking level of appointment with ranks were also seen as guidelines and not rigid rules, the Constitution of the Order using level or responsibility as the criteria and not rank. For example, ten lieutenants(N)/captains were appointed OMMs directly in 1972. More would be so admitted and especially promoted over the next few years.

Within a few years however, the appointments started to concentrate with more senior ranks, both for the officers and NCMs, a trend which continued thereafter. The proportions between the levels of the Order changed in 1977 from 5% CMM, 20% OMM and 75% MMM to 6% CMM, 30% OMM and 64% MMM. Although it was done in the hope that more captains and senior NCMs could be admitted as OMM or promoted to OMM from MMM, it had the effect to concentrate more appointments in more senior officers' ranks. Even this does not explain the change in the make-up of the MMM level over the years and the increasing concentration of appointments with chief petty officers 1st class/chief warrant officers, which was noticed with concern as early as the 1980s. By the time of the 2007 review, approximately 15% of serving captains(N)/colonels were members of the Order while 59.3% of all flag and general officers had been similarly honoured. Chief petty officers 1st class/chief warrant officers, who represented 0.8% of the CAF in 2005, received 34.6% of the appointments that year and 54.5% of the MMMs in that list. Conversely, officers below the ranks of lieutenant-commander/major and NCMs below the rank of petty officer 1st class/warrant officer, representing 80.3% of the CAF population, only made up 9.6% of the list.

Looking at the overall membership of the Order, we find that the rank of chief petty officer 1st class/chief warrant officer is the most represented, making up 24.2% of the membership, followed by that of Chief petty officer 2nd class/master warrant officer at 18% and then, far behind, lieutenant-commander/major and commander/lieutenant-colonel at 7.8% and 9.7% respectively. Officers represent 41% of the membership while NCMs make up 59%.

Efforts have been made in recent years to achieve a better representation, including the restoration of the 1972 proportions between the levels, but these have been met with only limited success. More work remains to be made in this field if the Order is to remain meaningful to the entire CAF population and be seen as attainable by all. There are worthy candidates at all rank levels who distinguish themselves among their peers by their dedication, innovation and leadership and the Council hopes to see more varied nominations in terms of rank.

Years of Service

In Canada, orders mostly recognize long-term merit and consequently, it is usually people with more experience or years of service who are appointed. This being said, 'long-term' has never been formally defined and several years or a decade may be seen as long-term when compared with more time-specific actions, which earn other forms of recognition. In the early years of the Order, the average number of years of service of the appointees was much lower than it later became. The inaugural year saw 12 appointees (12.8%) who had yet to receive their Canadian Forces' Decoration and therefore had less than 12 years of military service. A few years later, there were only a few on each list and they later became a rarity. This is explained by several factors. The increasing concentration of the appointments in senior ranks mentioned above also meant the appointments went to people with longer careers. The lack of alternative form of recognition for short-term merit or specific actions meant that the Order was sometimes used to recognize such actions in its early years, such as the appointments related to the Iran Hostage Crisis in 1979/1980. The creation of the Chief of the Defence Staff Commendation in 1974, Meritorious Service Cross in 1984 and Meritorious Service Medal in 1991 provided a range of tools for shorter-term recognition ensuring that the Order could then only be used for long-term merit. These two factors do not, on their own, explain the extent of the increase in the years of service of the appointees, which has several downsides.

While admission to an order is intended to recognize a person's own merit, the state also thereby identifies the values cherished and promoted by the state and its citizens and creates a role-model, which embodies these values with the view that others will strive to emulate this example in the hope, either conscious or subconscious, to be similarly recognized themselves. If the appointments are made just before the members retire from the CAF, the visibility of the role-model and potential motivator for others is lost. Moreover, when people are admitted at the very end of their career, they rarely have the opportunity to serve longer in positions of higher responsibility and be eligible for promotion within the Order. Promotions from MMM to OMM were much more frequent in the early years of the Order, especially for persons in the ranks of chief petty officers 1st class/chief warrant officers and lieutenant(N)/captain. With the increase in years of service of the candidates, these types of promotions are now very rare.

Further to the 2007 review, at which point the average years of service of the appointees was 28.8 years, the Council established a window for the ideal average number of years of service of all candidates, to be between 18 and 23 years of service. The aim is to recognize personnel at the peak of their career rather than the end, retaining them as role models and giving them increased chances of progression in the Order. While the average has marginally diminished since – it was 26.3 years for the 2016 list - the target has yet to be reached.

Gender Representation

As the CAF have striven to increase female representation in its ranks, the Order has also experienced considerable difficulties in reaching a level of female representation comparable to the demographic reality of the CAF. This was especially true in the first decades of the Order when females tended to have shorter careers than their male counterparts, and consequently had less opportunity to reach higher ranks and levels of responsibility. They were also concentrated in a few specific trades. For example, by 1979, females made up approximately 6.2% of the CAF and 1.9% of the appointments in the Order that year. This situation has changed dramatically over the life of the Order. Females now have longer careers, attain higher ranks and positions of responsibility and are present in every trade of the CAF. These factors, combined with the efforts expanded to ensure better representation in the Order, have generated much better results in recent years. The female representation has steadily increased to a point where females are nearly represented in the Order to the same level they are represented in the CAF as a whole. In 2016, females made up 17% of the CAF and received 15.2% of the appointments to the Order in that year.

So far, 279 women have been admitted or promoted in the Order representing 5.9% of the total membership. This number is devided between eight Commanders (2.9%), 78 Officers (6.1%) and 193 Members (6.0%), including the promotions.

Appointments by Gender

Aside from the three female Governors General, only five women have been appointed CMM, the first being Commodore L.F. Orthlieb in 1991. The eight female CMMs thus far are:

- The Right Honourable J.M. SAUVÉ, PC, CC, CMM, CD (1984)
- Commodore L.F. ORTHLIEB, CMM, CD (Retired) (1991, OMM in 1986)
- Major-General W.A. CLAY, CMM, CD (Retired) (1995)
- The Right Honourable A.L. CLARKSON, PC, CC, CMM, COM, CD (1999)
- Major-General M.J.L. MATHIEU, CMM, CD (Retired) (2004, OMM in 1999)
- The Right Honourable M. JEAN, PC, CC, CMM, COM, CD (2005)
- Rear-Admiral J.J. BENNETT, CMM, CD (2012, OMM in 2004)
- Lieutenant-General C.T. WHITECROSS, CMM, MSM, CD (2015, OMM in 2003)

Linguistic Representation

While Francophone representation was an issue in the first few years of the Order, the linguistic representation in the Order is one that has more recently been close to that of the Canadian population and CAF demography. So far, 969 members whose First Official Language is French have been appointed, representing 20% of the membership in the Order.

Honours Combinations

All members of the Order of Military have had distinguished careers and it is not infrequent for them to have received, either prior or subsequent to their appointment to the Order, other honours sometimes creating interesting and rare honours combinations. Besides His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh and the Governors General, who stand in a category of their own in terms of honours received, other members of the Order also hold the following honours (the lists reflect the latest known rank and post-nominal letters):

Cross of Valour and Meritorious Service Cross

Chief Warrant Officer B.K. PIERCE,

The following members of the Order were also appointed to British orders, namely the Order of the Companions of Honour and the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (Military Division). These appointments were made on the recommendation of the United Kingdom and approved by the Government of Canada on a case by case basis after 1 July 1972 as Commonwealth honours. They are therefore not considered as Canadian honours as was the case with British honours granted before that date:

Many more members of the Order had earned British honours before 1 July 1972 when those honours were considered Canadian because they were granted by the Sovereign as King or Queen of Canada, on the advice of His or Her Majesty's Canadian Government, before Canada had created its own honours system:

In addition to earning other honours from the Crown, many have also received other Commonwealth and foreign honours. Moreover, some members of the Order went on to attain high offices. There is no official record of such appointments but a few examples follow. Some members were appointed to The Queen's Privy Council for Canada such as Brigadier-General The Honourable G.J. O'Connor, PC, OMM, CD (Retired), who served as Minister of National Defence in 2006/2007, Lieutenant-Colonel The Honourable H.S. Sajjan, PC, OMM, MSM, CD, MP (Retired) who was appointed Minister of National Defence in 2015 and Lieutenant-General The Honourable A.B. Leslie, PC, CMM, MSC, MSM, CD, MP (Retired), who was sworn into the Privy Council in 2016 as Chief Government Whip. Some members of the Order were appointed as Lieutenant-Governor of a province such as Colonel The Honourable D.S. Ethell, OC, OMM, AOE, MSC, CD (Retired) who served as Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta from 2010 to 2015 and Brigadier-General The Honourable J.J. Grant, CMM, ONS, CD (Retired) who served as Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia from 2012 to 2017. Lieutenant-General The Honourable R.A.J.L.R. Dallaire, OC, CMM, GOQ, MSC, CD (Retired) was a Senator from 2005 to 2014.

the Order of Military Merit*

The insignia of the Order of Military Merit and their manufacture were detailed in the 2012 publication but it is worth noting that since then, the Royal Canadian Mint has started to provide all insignia of the Order to the Chancellery of Honours in accordance with a Memorandum of Understanding between the Crown Corporation and Government House. While the design of the insignia remains unaltered, the change of manufacturer has brought about minor changes in the details. Vitreous enamel has been replaced by a special type of resin and the original shade of blue has been restored to the cross.

Difference in the shades of blue enamel between original Spink (L) a commercial Canadian-made insignia (C) and a Royal Canadian Mint-made insignia (R)

Some of the details, especially in the Crown, are sharper and finer as there is no requirement to buff the enamel as used to be the case. The reverse of the insignia, which had become very bulbous in the past and was proving difficult to mount with other medals, is now completely flat with no disc. The reverse is simply matte metal with the registration number engraved in the center and the Mint's mark on the lower arm of the cross.

The first Mint-made OMM and MMM insignia were presented at the 20 June 2014 investiture to Captain(N) J.R. Auchterlonie, OMM, CD and Chief Petty Officer 1st Class J.L.P. Auger, MMM, CD respectively.

The new Mint-made CMM insignia now incorporates real precious stones in the band of the Crown to match those in the Companion's insignia of the Order of Canada. The proportions of the Crown had to be slightly adjusted in order to accommodate the sapphire, two emeralds and two rubies just above the ermine. The first such insignia were presented to Rear-Admiral J.E.T.P. Ellis, CMM, CD and Lieutenant-General J.H. Vance, CMM, MSC, CD at the 26 February 2015 investiture.

General Information

ADDENDUM

The following is a correction made to the text of the original The Order of Military Merit published in 2012.

The statement at page 49 that Brigadier Jacques Dextraze's appointment as a CBE for gallantry was the only such appointment was incorrect. It has since been found that at least one another person was so recognized for gallantry, namely Brigadier Frank Kitson, as published in the London Gazette on 15 February 1972.
