How to Cite Statistics Canada Products

A new updated and expanded edition of this useful online tool is available today. Now authors, editors, researchers, academics, students, librarians and data librarians can easily develop bibliographic references for virtually all of Statistics Canada's products and services, as well as for sources that are not from Statistics Canada.

In the absence of international standards, citing statistics and data has been a neglected grey area in academic publishing. This new edition of How to Cite Statistics Canada Products fills the gap by covering an even broader range of Statistics Canada and other statistical products and services.

The new edition of How to Cite Statistics Canada Products (12-591-X, free) is now available from the Publications module on our website.

For more information, contact Elizabeth Irving (613-951-1188; elizabeth.irving@statcan.gc.ca), Communications and Library Services Division.

College graduates

2004/2005

Data for students receiving qualifications from colleges are now available for academic years 1999/2000 to 2004/2005.

During the academic year 2004/2005, 161,300 students graduated from Canadian colleges (excluding students in trades or basic education). These institutions include colleges of applied arts and technology, technical institutes, Collège d'enseignement général et professionnel (CEGEPs) and similar institutions.

Note: Data for several colleges are not available as part of this release. Levels of graduates presented are not meant to represent a complete enumeration of graduates from colleges during the academic year. The count excludes students enrolled in programs related to pre-employment, apprenticeship, basic training or skills upgrading, language training, job readiness or orientation programs.

Available on CANSIM: table 477-0016.

Definitions, data sources and methods: survey number 5017.

Data tables are also available from the Summary tables module of our website.

College enrolment

As of October 31, 2005

Data on college enrollees for academic years 2000/2001 to 2005/2006 is now available.

Enrolment at Canadian colleges (excluding students in trades and basic education) totaled 613,500 as of October 31, 2005. These institutions include colleges of applied arts and technology, technical institutes, Collège d'enseignement général et professionnel (CEGEPs) and similar institutions.

Note: Data for several colleges are not available as part of this release. Levels of enrolment presented are not meant to represent a complete enumeration of students at colleges during the academic year. The count excludes students enrolled in programs related to pre-employment, apprenticeship, basic training or skills upgrading, language training, job readiness or orientation programs. Of the "in-scope" students, the count represents the number of students who were doing courses on Oct 31, 2005, and thus presents a snapshot of enrolment on that day.

Available on CANSIM: table 477-0015.

Definitions, data sources and methods: survey number 5017.

Data tables are also available from the Summary tables module of our website.
