Salary and salary scales of full-time teaching staff at Canadian universities

2009/2010 (supplementary)

Preliminary data on the salaries of full-time teaching staff at 68 Canadian universities for the 2009/2010 academic year was released in The Daily on September 28, 2010. Additional information was released in The Daily on March 7, 2011.

Further information is now available on the salaries of full-time teaching staff at additional Canadian universities, along with information on the salary scales for selected institutions for the 2009/2010 academic year. The institutions that are included are all those that have completed the survey by the middle of May 2011.

The information is collected annually under the University and College Academic Staff System.

As more information becomes available, it will be released periodically. Once information for all institutions has been received, a final report will be issued. Also available are special requests from this data set.

Definitions, data sources and methods: survey number 3101.
