Construction Price Statistics Service Bulletin (62-006, $3 a year), Vol. 1, Nos. 5, 6 and 8:

Indexes of selected pay supplements have been determined for 12 important construction trades in 14 major Canadian cities. These have been published, along with related basic union wage rate indexes, for the years 1961 to 1971 in Volume 1, Numbers 5 and 6 of the Construction Price Statistics Service Bulletin. Coverage includes 60 pages of descriptive text and discussion of index movement, analytical tables and charts.

Indexes of basic wage rates are up-dated through the first two quarters of 1972 in Volume 1, Number 8.

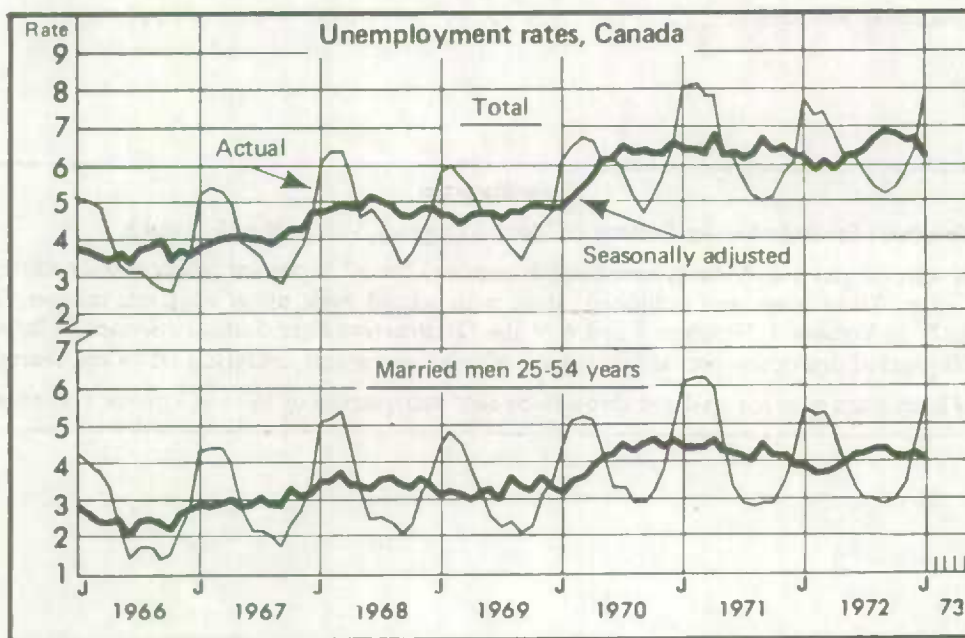

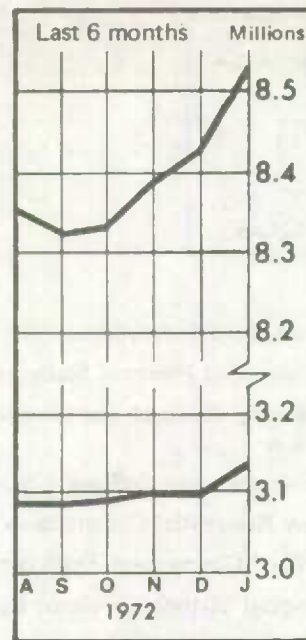

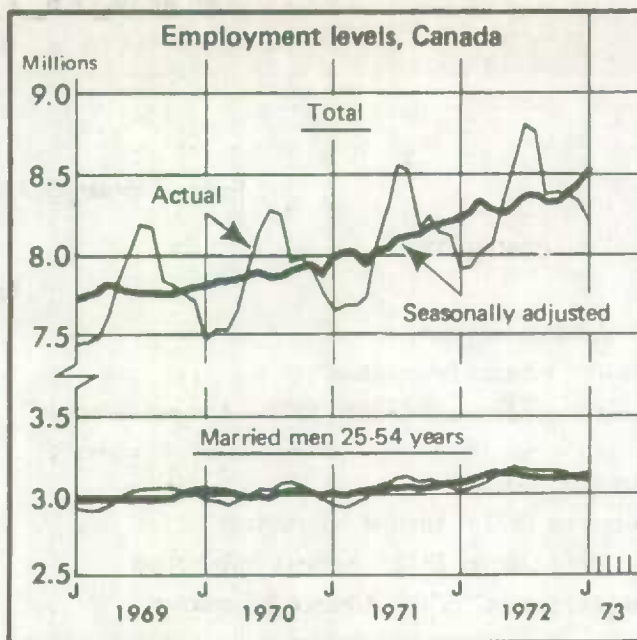

The Labour Force, January 1973 - Advance Information.

The labour force increased to 8.88 million in January 1973, from 8.58 million a year earlier and 8.34 million in January 1971. Employment increased to 8.19 million from 7.92 million and 7.67 million; unemployment to 688,000 from 665,000 and 668,000. The January unemployment rate was 7.7 per 100 in the labour force) in both 1973 and 1972, down from 8.0 in 1971.

Seasonally adjusted, unemployment was lower in January (566,000) than it had been since June ($55,000). The adjusted unemployment rate was 6.2 in January versus 6.7 in December, 6.9 in September and 6.3 in June. (It should be noted that, as is customary in January, the seasonal adjustment factor has been revised - including all above figures - to incorporate last year's seasonal pattern).

Further information will be published in The Labour Force, January 1973 (71-001, 30¢/$3).

Corporation Financial Statistics, 1970 - Advance Information.

There were nearly 220,000 active corporations reporting under the Income Tax Act for 1970, compared with nearly 207,000 in 1969. Total income increased 7% to $141.3 billion, but total reported expenses rose considerably faster resulting in a 5% decline in net profits to $8.45 billion (before taxes and non-recurring items). Despite a marked increase in losses reported for 1970, the aggregate amount of income taxes (provision for taxes) declined by only 2% to $3.4 billion, resulting in a sharp decline in net profits after taxes. Profits of corporations in the mining industry rose 22% and those in transportation, communications and utilities advanced 15%, but substantial declines were registered in manufacturing (20%) and in construction (21%).

In general, the size of corporations was directly correlated to profit performance. Profits of com-
