One—third of the total, 6,469,100, were children under working age (i.e., under 15 years of age), just under three—fifths (58.7%), 11,299,500, were in the working ages 15—64, and 7.6%, 1,468,400, were in the retirement ages 65 and over. (Page 2)

Vital Statistics: Births in Canada in 1963 numbered 465,767 versus 469,693 in the preceding year, marriages totalled 131,111 versus 129,381, divorces aggregated 7,681 versus 6,768, and deaths amounted to 147,367 versus 143,699.

(Pages 2-3)

Labour: Canada's labour force in September amounted to 6,972,000, up by 157,000 from September 1963, while employment at 6,754,000 was up by 189,000, and unemployment at 218,000 was down by 32,000. (Page 4)

Travel: Vehicular entries into Canada from the United States were greater in July and the January-July period versus a year earlier by 6.9% and 7.2%, respectively. Travellers' vehicle permits issued in September and the January-September period were more numerous than a year ago by 16.3% and 7.1%, respectively. (Pages 4-5)

Transportation: Railway revenue freight was loaded on 5.1% more cars in the seven days ended October 7 as compared to a year earlier and on 10.5% more in the January 1-October 7 period. (Page 7)

Household Facilities: Households in Canada numbered an estimated 4,757,000 in May 1964, of which 96.0% had radios, 95.0% had electric refrigerators, 91.0% had T.V. sets, 88.1% had telephones and 74.0% had automobiles.

(Pages 7-8)

Manufacturing: Steel ingots produced in the week ended October 17 amounted to 171,623 tons, up slightly (0.1%) from the preceding week ... More washing machines, automatic clothes dryers, refrigerators and home and farm freezers were shipped by producers in August and the January-August period this year versus last. (Page 9)

Food & Agriculture: Larger quantities of creamery butter, process cheese, ice cream mix and skim milk powder, but smaller amounts of margarine, cheddar cheese and evaporated whole milk were produced in September this year as compared to last. (Page 14)

1. Canada's Population
By Sex & Age Group

age) in Canada on June 1 this year numbered 6,469,100, according to the age estimates of the population for that date released by DBS. This was one-third of the estimated 19,237,000 total population of Canada. Just under three-fifths (58.7%) or 11,299,500 were in the working ages 15-64, and 76.% or 1,468,400 were in the retirement ages, 65 and over.

While the total population increased 5.5% since the June 1, 1961 Census, the population under 15 increased only 4.5%, the working age population by 6.0% and the retirement ages by 5.6%. Some of the five-year age groups showed greater differences. The 0-4 group increased by only 1.2%. The 5-9 and 10-14 by 4.9% and 8.0%, respectively. The age group 15-19 showed an 18.2% increase, or 260,000. The young adult age group 20-24 increased by 127,000, or 10.8% - this increase is being reflected in an increase in marriages to 131,111 in 1963 from 128,475 in 1961. The low birth rates of the thirties are now affecting the age groups 25-29 and 30-34. Both these groups decreased by 2.9% since the 1961 Census. The age group 35-39 remained the same and the older age groups increased by 2% or 3%.

Among the provinces, Newfoundland had the highest proportion of children under working ages at 41% with the smallest proportion (53%) of population in the working ages and (6%) in the retirement ages. British Columbia had the lowest proportion under 15 years of age at 31%, however, its proportion in the working ages at 59%, came just below Quebec and Ontario with 60% of their population in the working ages. Prince Edward Island had the highest proportion of persons over 65 years of age with just over 10% and British Columbia was second with just under 10%.

VITAL STATISTICS

2. Births, Marriages, Divorces & Deaths, 1963 Fewer births were recorded in Canada during 1963 than in the previous year, while the number of marriages and deaths increased, according to the annual DBS report "Vital Statistics" (Preliminary).

A total of 465,767 infants were born in 1963 - one birth every 68 seconds -- as against 469,693 births in 1962. The national birth rate (per 1,000 population) dropped from 25.3 in 1962 to 24.6 in 1963, the lowest birth rate recorded since 1945. The annual number of births has declined steadily during the past 4 years from the all time high of 479,275 registered in 1959. Almost all infants born in 1963 were delivered in hospital. Before World War II less than 4 out of every 10 infants were born in hospital, as compared with 2 out of 3 at the end of the War, and 8 out of 10, ten years ago.

The number of marriages solemnized during 1963 increased for the second consecutive year to 131,111 from 129,381 in 1962. Despite the increase in marriages, the national marriage rate (per 1,000 population) dropped slightly from 7.0 in 1961 and 1962 to 6.9 in 1963, the lowest marriage rate since 1934. The marriage rate has declined steadily from the record high of 10.9 established in 1946.

While 131,111 marriages were performed there were 7,681 divorces granted during the year 1963 as compared with 6,768 divorces in 1962.

With a constantly greater number of older persons in the population and the resultant increase in deaths from diseases associated with such persons -- such as cardiovascular diseases and cancer -- the total number of deaths has been rising annually. Deaths in 1963 totalled 147,367 as against 143,699, in 1962. However, the death rate (per 1,000 population) increased only slightly from the 7.7 of 1961 and 1962 to 7.8 in 1963 -- still one of the lowest death rates in the world.

Of the 147,367 deaths recorded in 1963, 72,459 (71,166 in 1962) or almost half were due to diseases of the heart and circulatory system; cancer accounted for 25,077 (24,519 in 1962) or 17% of all deaths; accidents took 10,255 lives (up from 10,084 in 1962) or about 7% of all deaths. These have been the three leading causes of death since 1951 and there was very little change in their relative importance from 1962 to 1963. The numbers of fatalities from major types of accidents were as follows (1962 figures in brackets): motor vehicle 4,451 (4,325), falls 1,564 (1,594), drownings 1,130 (1,087), fire 584 (658), poisonings 384 (396) and all other accident fatalities 2,142 (2,024).

Of the 147,367 deaths recorded in 1963, 12,270 were infant deaths under one year of age, equivalent to a rate of 26.3 for every 1,000 infants born alive. The infant mortality rate has been declining steadily and the 1963 rate is the lowest on record.

The table following summarizes the birth, marriage, divorce, and death statistics for Canada and provinces in 1963.

UTILITIES

3. Gas Utilities Field gathering systems and processing plants delivered 63,349,944,000 cubic feet of natural gas to gas utilities in July, with transport systems accounting for 51,122,494,000 cubic feet and distribution systems for 12,227,450,000 cubic feet; natural gas received from storage amounted to 117,570,000 cubic feet in the month. Total supply of gas utilities aggregated 64,325,569,000 cubic feet in July (up by 9.7% from a year earlier); of total supply, some 26,235,587,000 cubic feet were sold to ultimate customers in Canada (up by 9.4%) and 28,321,484,000 cubic feet were exported (up by 5.4%).

4. The Canadian Labour Force: Total employment decreased by 203,000 to 6,Employment & Unemployment 754,000 between August and September. The decline was above average for the month, as a record intake of students into summer employment was followed by a sharp decrease in employment with the reopening of schools in September. Unemployment dropped by 29,000 during the month to 218,000.

Between August and September, the decrease in employment of persons 14-24 years of age amounted to 272,000. This decline was partly offset by a gain of 69,000 among persons 25 years of age and over; most of the increase was among women.

Employment was up 189,000 compared with a year earlier, and unemployment was down 32,000. The labour force at 6,972,000 was 157,000, or 2.3%, higher than in September 1963.

Employment. The employment decline between August and September was mainly in the non-farm sector. Much of the decline during the month occurred in the service-producing industries which had provided many of the summer jobs for students. Farm employment decreased seasonally, accounting for about one-fifth of the over-all reduction.

Total employment remained well ahead of a year earlier. The September estimate of 6,754,000 represented an increase of 189,000, or 2.9%, over September 1963. In non-agricultural industries, the increase was 221,000, or 3.8%. The largest advance was in manufacturing, employment being up over the year by approximately 100,000. Other industries which showed large increases were service and trade.

Employment was higher than a year ago in all regions. The gains were relatively largest in British Columbia and Ontario, the increases being 4.7% and 3.2%, respectively.

Unemployment Unemployment decreased by 29,000 to 218,000 between August and September. The decline - mainly among teenagers - was largely associated with the reopening of schools. Compared with a year earlier, unemployment was down 32,000. The decline was almost entirely among men.

Of the 218,000 unemployed in September, some 153,000, or 70% of the total, had been unemployed for three months or less. An estimated 27,000 had been seeking work from four to six months and 38,000 for seven months or more.

Unemployment in September represented 3.1% of the labour force, the lowest rate for the month since 1956. Seasonally adjusted, the unemployment rate was 4.5%.

TRAVEL

5. Travel Between Canada And The United States In And The United States United States July increased 6.9% to 3,003,700 from 2,810,100 in July last year, comprising 5.2% more of foreign registry at 1,780,300 versus 1,692,000 and 9.4% more of Canadian registry at 1,223,400 versus 1,118,100.

Number of vehicles crossing into Canada in the January-July period advanced 7.2% to 11,731,900 from 10,941,600 in the corresponding period last year. PRICES

*7. Price Indexes Of Highway
Construction In Canada way construction in Canada rose to 83.4 in 1963/64 and was 9.9% higher than the 1962/63
index of 75.9. All three major components of highway construction increased, led by the grading index which advanced 13.5% to 80.0 from 70.5. The granular base course index rose 9.2% to 83.9 from 76.8 while the surface courses index increased 2.7% to 92.4 from 90.0.

Indexes for five of the seven provinces included in the combined index rose while two decreased. The index for the federal government highway construction, also included in the combined index, declined.

The highway construction price indexes measure the percentage change through time in prices paid by provincial and federal governments in contracts awarded for new construction and reconstruction of highways. The price reference base for the index is the fiscal year 1956/57 and the index expresses prices in each fiscal year ending March 31 as a percentage of prices paid in 1956/57.

Further tables of indexes and weights will be published in the September 1964 issue of Prices and Price Indexes.

9. Salt Total dry salt and salt content of brine shipped and used by Canada's salt producers declined 3.6% in August to 347,032 tons from 359,989 in August last year, but rose 1.8% in the January-August period to 2,346,732 tons from 2,304,655 in the first eight months of 1963. Producers' stocks at the end of August were 9.9% smaller than a year ago at 93,501 tons versus 103,769.

Railway Carloadings
Railway revenue freight loaded on lines in Canada was placed on 85,488 cars in the first seven days of October, up by 5.1% from a year earlier, bringing the total in the January 1-October 7 period to 3,020,936 cars, an increase of 10.5% from a year ago. Receipts from both Canadian and United States rail connections numbered 23,075 cars in the seven days and 939,375 cars in the year-to-date, reflecting a decrease of 6.8% in the week and an increase of 6.2% in the cumulative period.

Principal commodities contributing to the increased loadings in the seven days ended October 7 included: wheat, 7,347 cars (5,907 a year earlier); iron ore, 11,685 (9,128); pulpwood, 2,521 (2,137); manufactured iron and steel products, 1,353 (970); and miscellaneous carload commodities, 10,024 (9,278). Commodities loaded on fewer cars included: grain, other than wheat, 2,504 cars (3,834); grain products, 1,827 (2,337); and other agricultural products, 1,343 (2,051).

11. Oil Pipeline Transport Canada's oil pipelines received a net total of 36,963,282 barrels of crude oil, liquefied petroleum gases, and petroleum products in July, up 8.5% from last year's July total of 34,061,639 barrels. Principal receipts in the month were: 24,352,548 barrels of domestic crude oil and equivalent (up 10.9% from a year earlier); 7,552,881 barrels of imported crude (up 3.0%); and 4,592,129 barrels of liquified petroleum gases and products from bulk plants and refineries (down 1.0%).

Net receipts in the January-July period rose 6.6% to 265,844,910 barrels from 249,487,077 in the corresponding period of 1963. Principal receipts in the seven-month period were: 172,357,774 barrels of Canadian crude oil and equivalent (up by 9.4% from a year ago); 54,386,738 barrels of imported crude (down by 0.9%); and 36,171,262 barrels of liquefied petroleum gases and products from bulk plants and refineries (up by 0.8%).

HOUSEHOLD FACILITIES

*12. Household Facilities
And Equipment In 1964 and other modern conveniences continued to increase in 1964, according to an advance release of data that will be contained in the 1964 issue of the DBS report "Household Facilities and Equipment".

Electricity was used for cooking purposes in two-thirds (66.6%) of Canada's households in 1964, up from 64.0% in 1963. Some 95% of households had electric refrigerators versus 94.2% in the preceding year and 20.4% had home freezers versus 17.7%.

Television receiving sets were in 91.0% of total households as compared to 89.8% in 1963 and phonographs and record players in 56.1% versus 53.9%, while radios were in 96.0% versus 96.3%. Almost two-thirds (66.0%) of all households had electric washing machines (excluding automatic) versus 68.6%, while 20.7% had automatic washing machines versus 18.3%. A small proportion (2.2%) had automatic dishwashers in 1964, practically unchanged from a year earlier.

Nearly three-quarters (74.0%) of all households had automobiles in 1964 as compared to 72.4% in the preceding year, comprising 62.0% versus 62.2% with one automobile and 12.0% versus 10.3% with two or more. Proportion with telephones climbed to 88.1% from 87.3%.

*28. Industry & Production Notes

The following advance releases give figures which have recently become available from the annual compilations of the Industry Division and which will appear at a later date in regular publications. Users should be aware that coverage of the statistics was extended to total activity (manufacturing plus non-manufacturing activity) of manufacturing establishments. In previous publications the data covered manufacturing activity only. In addition, for a number of industries, adjustments have been made to the 1961 data on manufacturing activity which were published in the 1961 industry reports. These were required to bring the statistics in line with reporting procedures followed in the 1962 Census. Consequently the 1961 statistics on manufacturing activity listed below are not entirely comparable with those published in the 1961 reports. A complete account of recent changes will be contained in the 1962 industry reports when these become available.
