Consumption of Scrap Iron and Steel

Sorap is one of the important primary materials of the iron and steel industry. In the manufacture of steol and iron castings it replaoes pig iron for ton while in rolling and stamping mills substantial tonnages are re-rolled and re-shaped into a varioty of cormeroial produots. More than 1.8 million tons of sorap iron and steel were used in canadian industry in 1940, this tremendous tonnage assumin, spocial significanoe in wartimo from the standpoint of conservation as well as from the fact that it would require about 3 mil?ion tons of iron ore, most of whioh must be imported, to supply this amount of new rictal.

Scrap is anything of iron and stcel that is the waste or by-product of manufcoturing or that has been discerded on acoount of failure, obsolesoence or othor factors that he.ve rendorod it unfit for furthor use in its present form. It is rails that heve been discarded, automobiles that havo been scrapped, fraight cars and locomotives that have been witidrawn from service, machines that have outlived their usbfulness, turings from machinory oporations, wasto from stampings, and so on.
