INTRODUCTION

CANSIM (Canadian Socio-economic Information Management System)* is Statistics Canada's publicly accessible computerized databank and supporting software. The CANSIM SUMMARY REFERENCE INDEX provides a general content outline of the data base and is the primary tool necessary to determine the availability of data and the Databank identification numbers. The CANSIM Main Base contains approximately 300,000 time series which are organized in groups called matrices. A MATRIX contains a group of related time series and is roughly equivalent to a "table" in a publication. The CANSIM Summary Reference Index contains both descriptive subject matter and source publication references to the data base. It references the appropriate matrix numbers which are the key to the detailed content description found in the CANSIM Main Base Series Directory. The Series Directory is a detailed computer produced document of approximately 2,500 pages which contains the matrix and series descriptors and databank identifiers for the entire 300,000 time series. In order to access statistical data from the CANSIM Main Base it is necessary to establish the data base identifiers. Data retrieval can be made using either the CANSIM identifier (Matrix-series number notation) or the Databank identifier.

* CANSIM is the registered Trade Mark for Statistics Canada's machine-readable data base. When publishing any data retrieved from CANSIM, the following must be used as the source:

'These data originate from CANSIM which is the registered Trade Mark for Statistics Canada's machine-readable data base'."

HOW TO USE THE CANSIM SUMMARY REFERENCE INDEX

To determine data availability on CANSIM for a given subject or in a given area of analysis, the first step is to refer to the TABLE OF CONTENTS of the Summary Reference Index and identify the subject category which most closely describes the area of interest. The Table of Contents then refers the user to a page number within the Summary Reference Index on which related data are further referenced. Located on the indicated pages are additional components and subject categories and the related MATRIX number(s) on the CANSIM Main Base. Subsequent reference to the matrix number in the CANSIM Main Base Series Directory will identify the range of data available and the necessary retrieval identifiers.

In addition to the Main Base Series Directory, Databank identifiers (D numbers) are found in selected publications. For example, the Canadian Statistical Review (Catalogue Number 11-003) produced from the CANSIM Main Base contains Databank identifiers as does the Bank of Canada Review. Other Statistics Canada publications also reference the Databank number for user convenience. Appendix C of the Summary Reference Index contains a list of the Catalogue numbers of the Statistics Canada publications represented in whole or in part on CANSIM. Note that the General Reviews sub-section entitled "Canadian Statistical Review and Historical Summary" includes selected data from some 150 publications which may also be represented in other sub-sections of the Summary Reference Index. Users are thus advised to ensure they refer to these general review sections as well as the detailed topic areas when searching for information. The "Guide to Effective Use of the CANSIM Main Base Series Directory" illustrates the components found in the Series Directory (CANSIM identification numbers, Databank identification numbers, matrix title, start date of series, publication and source section code and periodicity).

In summary, reading through the 14 major subject areas listed in the Table of Contents is your first guide to determining availability of data on CANSIM. Due to the sheer size of the database and obvious cross-referencing problems it must be regarded, however, only as a guide. For a more comprehensive assessment of data availability an automated keyword search and selection system (CANSEL) associated with the CANSIM Main Base can be employed either on a fee for service basis from CANSIM or directly by user terminal.

For further information on this and other CANSIM services users are advised to contact a User Services representative in their nearest Statistics Canada Regional Office or CANSIM Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa (Telephone No. (613) 995-0575 or 995-7406).

B. CONSUMER PRICE INDEX - REVISION BASED ON 1974 EXPENDITURES

Commencing with the October 1978 index, Canadian consumer price indexes incorporate the latest in a series of periodic revisions which characterize their development since the early 1900's. This latest revision features, among other things, the incorporation of updated weights based on 1974 urban expenditure patterns, replacing the 1967 urban family expenditure patterns (and within the food component, 1969 spending habits) used in the compilation during the May 1973 to September 1978 period.

To maintain the continuity of the series, the revised indexes were linked to the previously published indexes for September 1978. Thus the published indexes up to and including September 1978 remain the official measures of consumer price changes while subsequent price movements are measured by the revised indexes.

In the case of city indexes, certain series were revised historically to correct for methodological differences which previously existed in the construction of these series at the Canada and city levels. This has resulted in changes to the levels of certain city indexes dating back to January 1971.

Furthermore, certain series, at the Canada and city levels, were reconstructed historically to reflect more closely the Standard Commodity Classification system and the Family Expenditure categories of Statistics Canada.

The time reference base continues to be 1971=100.

Details on the latest weighting pattern and other background information on the revised Consumer Price Index are contained in the publication, The Consumer Price Index, Revision based on 1974 Expenditures, Concepts and Procedures, catalogue 62-546, occasional, price $1.40, available from Publications Distribution Section, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0T6.

V. MANUFACTURING AND PRIMARY INDUSTRIES(1)

- A. General Review of the Manufacturing Industries of Canada, (31-203), Annual 1961-1971 (1960 SIC) Terminated, Canada only.

The concepts and definitions used are available upon request from Regional Statistics Section Manufacturing & Primary Industries Division.

Manufacturing industry data available in CANSIM have been compiled as defined for the 1969 Census of Manufactures. Certain head offices which in the earlier years have classified at the industry group level have over time been included with those head offices classified to individual industries; beginning with 1970 all head offices are classified to individual industries.

Series starting with a "5" have been terminated and are combined for all years with the corresponding industries in the series which begin with a "3". S.I.C. 107 is combined with S.I.C. 105. S.I.C.'s 1011, 1012 and 1013 are combined into S.I.C. 101. S.I.C.'s 1391 and 1392 are combined into S.I.C. 139. S.I.C. 3993 is combined with S.I.C. 3999.

The S.I.C. codes have been built into the series number in all cases.

A. Industrial Corporations, Financial Statistics, (61-003), Quarterly

The quarterly financial statistics for Industrial Corporations from 1970 to first quarter 1978 inclusive which are in matrices 2781 to 2839 were terminated as of August 1978. This termination of matrices was caused by a major revision in the quarterly survey sample. You can have more information about this revision in the third quarter 1978 publication, Industrial Corporation - financial statistics catalogue 61-003.

As of third quarter 1978 you will be able to get the revised data created from that revision, in a new block of matrices (6781 to 6845).

Data for 1962 to 1970 which were in matrices 2333 to 2780, have been deleted from the CANSIM data base, but have been retained on tape by the Industrial Corporations Section, Business Finance Division.

Part I - Corporations

Major Financial Characteristics (sales, assets, equity, profits, and taxable income), and enterprise and corporation counts, for leading enterprises and totals, by control, by industry for each of the years from 1975, based on Table 1 and 6 in the published catalogue.

An enterprise is defined as a set of corporations under common control. Further information on the concepts and definitions used are available in the published catalogue, or may be obtained upon request from the Corporations Section, CALURA Sub-division, Business Finance Division. Detailed information on the corporations in specific enterprises may be found in Inter-corporate Ownership (catalogue 61-517 occasional).

1. The first set of matrices shows aggregate concentration (the leading 25, 100 and 500 enterprises) and the impact of foreign-controlled, Canadian private, and Canadian government enterprises. Leading enterprises were determined by aggregating sales of subsidiary corporations in non-financial industries. The impact of these leading enterprises within each of the nine industry divisions is also shown.

A. National Wealth and Capital Stock

1. 1970 SIC

The series given here represent annual estimates of the stocks and flows of fixed non-residential capital in Canada beginning with the year 1926.

The perpetual inventory method which underlies the present estimates starts with annual investment expenditures and estimates of the service lives of the assets. The capital stock estimates for a given year are obtained by accumulating past investment expenditures and adjusting them for the value of investment that has been used up (gross stocks) or adjusting them for the gradual wear and tear and the obsolescence they undergo during the time they are used (net stocks). A comprehensive description of the perpetual inventory method is given in Fixed Capital Flows and Stocks - Manufacturing - Canada 1926-1960: Methodology (13-522), Occasional.

The series are given by major industries according to the 1970 S.I.C., both in constant (1971) and current dollar valuation covering the following detailed types of components:

1. Building Construction
2. Engineering Construction
3. Machinery and Equipment
4. Capital Items Charged to Operating Expenses
5. Total Components

The component series are presented for the following categories of data:

	Current Dollar Valuation	Constant Dollar 1971 Valuation
1. Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF)	Yes	Yes
2. Net Fixed Capital Formation (NFCF)	"	"
3. Capital Consumption Allowances (CCA)	"	"

6. End Year Gross Stock (EYGS)	"	"

Note:

The mnemonics appearing at the end of the series title of some 650 series in the Capital Stocks data block, serve to identify the component series of the CANDIDE model which is an undertaking of the Economic Council of Canada.

B. Capacity Utilization Rates In Canadian Manufacturing

The capacity utilization rates are given by major group according to the 1970 Standard Industrial Classification, by quarter from 1961.

The definition of capacity in this procedure is the maximum output obtainable under normal technological and market conditions.

The methodology used to produce these indexes is based on a comparison of the actual output of an industry during a certain time period with the estimated capacity output during that period.

The estimated capacity output is based on a capacity capital-output ratio derived from the industry's gross stock of fixed capital, measured in 1971 dollars. These capital stock estimates are produced by the National Wealth and Capital Stock Section of The Construction Division of Statistics Canada.

For concepts and detailed methodology please refer to Utilization Rates in Canadian Manufacturing, (31-003), Quarterly.

These indexes are available for the following list of industry levels:

1. Food and Beverages
2. Tobacco
3. Rubber and Plastics Products Industries

XII. POPULATION(1)

A. Population Projections for Canada and the Provinces, 1976-2001, (91-520), Occasional

These are Statistics Canada second generation of population projections for Canada and the provinces. They supersede the previous ones which were released in 1974. They are generated by the Statistics Canada Population Projection Model (SCPM) using different hypotheses regarding future trends in fertility, mortality, immigration, emigration and inter-provincial migration. Four series are presented here, from Projections 1 to Projections 4; the base population is the 1976 Census population by age and sex. More information about the general methodology and assumptions is given in Population Projections for Canada and the Provinces, 1976-2001, (91-520), Occasional. Data by individual ages as well as components of growth are also contained in the Publication 91-520 as well as extensions of these projections at Canada level up to 2026.

XII. POPULATION - Continued

B. 1. POPULATION, CENSUS DIVISIONS & SUBDIVISIONS (historical)*

The series comprises two tables. The first gives the population of the provinces and the territories back to 1901 Census as well as decennial increases. The second gives, for each Census taken since 1921, the population of the provinces, counties, census divisions, cities, towns, villages, municipalities and census subdivisions.

For a comprehensive description of boundary definitions pertinent to the census geographic areas tabulated refer to the source publications 1971 Census Catalogue 92-702 and 1976 Census Catalogues 92-802, 92-803, 92-804, 92-805.

Revised Annual Estimates of Population by Sex and Age for Canada and the Provinces, 1971-1976, (91-518), Occasional

Estimates of Population by Sex and Age for Canada and the Provinces, (91-202), Annual

For each year other than census years, Statistics Canada publishes, in Catalogue 91-202, postcensal estimates of the population by age and sex as of June 1, which are calculated by the component method on the basis of the results of the preceding census. After each census, the postcensal estimates are revised to produce intercensal estimates (formerly called "revised estimates") which are consistent with the results of the censuses immediately preceding and following the period under consideration. For the period from 1951 to 1976 inclusive, data for the years ending in "1" or "6" (e.g., 1951, 1956) are census counts and data for other years are intercensal estimates. The data for 1977 and 1978 are final postcensal estimates whereas those for 1979 are preliminary postcensal estimates.
