SEASONALLY-ADJUSTED INDEX NUMBERS OF EMPLOYMENT (1961=100), CANADA INDUSTRIAL COMPOSITE AND MAJOR INDUSTRIAL DIVISIONS

EMPLOYMENT AND AVERAGE WEEKLY WAGES AND SALARIES

AUGUST 1966

EMPLOYMENT

The seasonally-adjusted employment index (1961=100) fell 0.1 p.c. from 120.5 last month to 120.4. In manufacturing, the adjusted index fell 0.1 p.c. from July as an increase in non-durables was more than offset by a decline in durables. All other industry divisions recorded declines, except mining and service. The footnotes to the tables below indicate some of the main factors underlying the larger variations from last month.

AVERAGE WEEKLY WAGES AND SALARIES

Average weekly wages and salaries at the industrial composite level fell $2.11 from $96.67 in July to $94.56 in August. The decrease was largely attributable to the industrial dispute in railways, which began in the later part of the reference week and resulted in a $16.51 decline in transportation, communication and other utilities. All other industry divisions recorded increases except service and trade, where there were slight declines.

AVERAGE WEEKLY WAGES AND SALARIES, URBAN AREAS INDUSTRIAL COMPOSITE

NOTES

Each month the Employment Section collects from its reporting units data on the number of paid employees and their payrolls, on the number of wage-earners for whom a record of hours is kept and their hours and earnings, and on the number of female employees. The wage-earner data are published in a monthly report "Man-Hours and Hourly Earnings", Catalogue No. 72-003. The data relate to a reference period, conceptually the last seven days of the month. In a monthly tabulation the data are grouped into industrial and geographic units.

The Reporting Unit

The reporting unit is the establishment, that is, the smallest industrial unit which is a separate operating entity capable of reporting all elements of basic industrial statistics including information on inputs and outputs needed to calculate "value added" or "gross mark-up" or "gross profit" as well as the related data on employment and payrolls. For purposes of urban area statistics, the Employment Section may request separate reports from parts of an establishment located in different urban centres.

Monthly reports are requested from establishments in the following industry divisions: forestry; mining, including milling; manufacturing; construction; transportation, communication and other utilities; trade; finance, insurance and real estate; and parts of service.

The survey covers larger firms only, that is, firms having 20 or more employees in any month of the year. Thus all the establishments of a multiple establishment firm are included if the firm had 20 or more employees in total in any month of the year even though any particular establishment may have only a few employees. This size criteria results in approximately the same coverage as did the "usually employing 15 or more" criteria that was formerly used.

Coverage

The limitation of surveys to larger firms results in a large and relatively even coverage of total employment in the surveyed industry divisions in most provinces and urban areas. The industrial representation, though large, is more uneven; the proportion of employees covered depends on the organization of particular industries into larger or smaller establishments.

The table at the end of the notes shows annual employment in the survey as a percentage of the estimated total employment, the latter being estimated by adding together data from the employment and payrolls survey and data from a sample survey of smaller firms. A report on the total employment estimates is published monthly by the Employment Section, "Estimates of Employees by Province and Industry", Catalogue No. 72-008.

It is important to note that the statistics in the "Employment and Average Weekly Wages and Salaries" report itself do not represent estimates of total numbers of paid workers in specified areas or industries, but show only the distribution of men and women on the staffs of the co-operating employers in the reference period.

Definitions

Reference Period

The figures refer to the last seven days in the specified months. In practice, few establishments keep payroll records covering precisely this period and establishments are therefore permitted to report for their last pay period or pay periods in each month.

When the reported pay period is longer than one week, the payroll data are reduced to one week's proportion of the totals. The numerators of the fractions used in calculating these weekly equivalents are 5, 6 or 7 depending on the number of working days per week in which the establishment operated in the pay period. The denominators of the fractions are the number of working days in the different pay periods. For employees paid at annual or monthly rates, whose earnings are not affected by the number of working days in the month, fixed proportions are used to reduce the earnings to a weekly basis, without regard to the length of the calendar month. When a holiday, layoff or industrial dispute occurs in an establishment that reports a pay period that is different from the last week of the month, an adjustment is made to the data if the holiday, layoff or dispute affects the two periods differently.

The use of the last pay period in the month reduces double counting of individuals who work for more than one establishment in a period of several weeks. The Quebec forestry industry is an exception in that the turnover of wood workers paid on a monthly basis is high. Consequently this group reports on a special questionnaire which has an additional question on the average number of employees in the last week of the month.

Employees

The survey covers all wage-earners and salaried employees of reporting establishments who are paid for rendering current services or are on paid absence during the reference period except for casual employees working less than the equivalent of one full day in the pay period. Regular part-time employees are included. The employee concept excludes proprietors, directors and firm members including those who are actively engaged in the operation of the firm, pensioners, home-workers and persons providing services to an establishment on the basis of a contract for services.

Employees not receiving pay for any time during the reference period are excluded. For example, workers on strike during the reported pay period, or laid off as a consequence of a strike, are not included in the data unless they work part of the week or draw pay from their employers (e.g., unless they take paid vacations during the dispute). The exclusion of persons affected by industrial dispute is one of the main sources of irregular fluctuation in the series.

Payrolls

The payrolls of reported employees are covered. These are gross payments before deductions are made for taxes, unemployment insurance, etc. Included are salaries, straight-time wages, over-time wages, cost-of-living allowances, commissions, payments to persons absent because of holidays, vacations, sickness, etc., and regularly paid incentive, production and shift bonuses.

The payroll concept does not include supplementary labour costs, operational costs or payments not related to the reference period. Thus the data do not include such items as employer's contributions to unemployment insurance, medical plans, workmen's compensation, other welfare plans, the value of room and board, compensation in kind, travelling expenses, retirement gratuities, or bonuses paid at irregular or infrequent intervals. The treatment of vacation stamps is an exception. Although payment of vacation stamps does not relate to the reference period, these payments are included in the payroll data and the employees are considered to be absent without pay during the period they are on vacation.

Organization of Data

The Tabulation

Data tabulated for publication each month show the numbers of women, the number of employees of both sexes and weekly payrolls for the current and preceding month. The statistics first published for each month are preliminary; re-tabulation of the data in the succeeding month permits incorporation of corrections, retroactive pay for one month and data received too late for inclusion in the first tabulation. Data tabulated but not published are available on request provided the secrecy requirements of the Statistics Act are met.

The data are classified by industrial and geographic units and various averages, aggregates and index numbers are calculated.

Industrial Classification

All reporting establishments are assigned to an industrial class on the basis of their principal activity. If an establishment is engaged in a number of different industrial activities, its principal activity is determined by the net value added by these activities, or, where this is not possible, by the gross revenue obtained from the different activities. When an establishment has very mixed activities, it is not necessarily shifted from industry to industry each time its principal activity changes.

A description of the various industries and groups of industries may be found in the "Standard Industrial Classification Manual," DBS Catalogue No. 12-501. The "SIC code" columns in the main tables refer to this manual. The tables contain a few groups not found in the S.I.C. These includes:

Industrial composite - The sum of the industries tabulated

Durable goods manufacturing - The sum of wood products, furniture and fixtures, primary metal industries, metal fabricating industries, machinery (except electrical), transportation equipment, electrical products, and non-metallic mineral products

Non-durable goods manufacturing - The sum of the remaining manufacturing industries

Building - The sum of general contractors and special trade contractors

Engineering - The sum of highways, bridges and streets and other construction

As well, the tables subdivide the synthetic textile industry into filament yarn and staple fibres, and spun yarn and fabrics.

Geographic Classification

Reporting establishments are assigned to a province and, where applicable, to an urban area. Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are added together in some tables to give a figure for the Atlantic Region. Similarly Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are added together to give a figure for the Prairie Region. Establishments in the Yukon and Northwest Territories are excluded from provincial totals but are included in the Canada totals. For urban areas the Census of Population's "Metropolitan Area" definitions were used for the seventeen urban areas where they apply. The definitions used for other urban areas were based on a labour market concept; they usually include a main centre and surrounding territory. A list outlining the territory included in each of the tabulated urban areas is available from the Employment Section on request.

An establishment not located in a tabulated urban area or an establishment that has no fixed location such as certain transportation and construction establishments, is included in the provincial totals but is not assigned to an urban centre.

Index Numbers

Index numbers are calculated by dividing the current month's employment by one-twelfth of the total base period employment. The current employment consists of all employment reported by establishments that meet our size criteria in the current period. Base year employment consists of the employment of establishments that had 20 or more persons in any month of 1961.

Seasonally-adjusted index numbers remove from the employment indexes these regularly recurring fluctuations known as "seasonal variations". The adjusted index numbers thus approximate the trend, cycle, and irregular components of the time series. A variant of the Census Method II is used to calculate the seasonally-adjusted index numbers.

Other Calculations

The average weekly wages and salaries figures are obtained by dividing weekly payrolls by the number of paid employees, including part-time employees and casuals working more than the equivalent of one day a week. Annual statistics are calculated from the aggregate of the monthly data, not from monthly averages. The industrial composite figure for a given geographic unit is the aggregate of all data tabulated for that area.
