GEOGRAPHICAL CODE FOR MANUFACTURING STATISTICS

Introduction

This is a companion volume to the "Standard Industrial Classification Manual", which is the official guide to those interested in industry classification. This volume is intended to serve as the official guide in coding industries geographically, and is based on the county and census divisions adopted in publishing the results obtained through the Decennial Census of Canada.

To provide a means of presenting statistical data for permanent areas within a province, countries and census divisions are used in compiling census results. Since electoral districts are subject to change after each population census, areas with fixed boundaries are used as a basis for compilation of the census to permit comparisons of data with other census years for areas smaller than a province.

In the eastern provinces of P.E.I., N.S., N.B., Que., and Ont., counties are used for this purpose. The four western provinces and Newfoundland, where there are no fixed political divisions corresponding to counties, have been divided for statistical purposes into census divisions. These census divisions have been so laid out that as population increases, they may be subdivided without destroying the means of comparison with the data of previous and of succeeding censuses.

Through a uniform system of geographical codes, it is possible to present geographical statistics from other sources that are comparable to the area information on population, etc. made available by the Decennial Census.

The basic area, the province, is further broken down into counties or census divisions to which is assigned a code number which prefaced the codes for urban and rural areas within its boundaries. To differentiate incorporated areas according to size, the following stratification has been incorporated in the coding system as far as is possible:

| | |
|---------|--|
| 01 - 09 | indicates cities |
| 01 - 29 | " towns |
| 30 - 69 | " villages |
| 70 - 99 | " rural areas, including unincorporated villages. |

The geographic code for manufacturing statistics when used in conjunction with the industrial code indicates both the type of location of an establishment. The code for Dominion Manufacturing Company Limited at Cornwall, Ontario, for example, would be 3651 - 5 - 4601 - 029. The interpretation of this code is as follows:

| | |
|------|--|
| 3651 | indicated that this establishment is classified in the Glass Industry |
| 5 | shows that it is located in Ontario |
| 46 | " " " " " " Stormont County |
| 01 | " " " " " " Cornwall |
| 029 | is the file number of the establishment in the above-named industry |

The composition of the metropolitan areas of cities which have well-defined satellite communities in close economic relationship to them is given in Part IV.

An appendix is available in which the geographical code is presented for Townships, Parishes and other rural sections.

Introduction - (Concl'd.)

Maps are appended indicating the location of counties of census divisions in each province.

As the size of communities is continually changing through annexations or the incorporation of new localities, periodic revisions of the geographic code are necessary. The loose-leaf system of binding used for the present manual facilitates the incorporations of such revisions by allowing the insertion of additional pages as required.

Inquiries regarding the composition and application of this coding system should be directed to the Central Assembly Section (local 6-6380), Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa.

PART IV

"GREATER" CITIES AND SATELLITE COMMUNITIES WITH GEOGRAPHICAL CODE

For Census purposes, the "greater" cities, (or metropolitan areas), indicate those cities having well-defined satellite communities which are outside the boundaries of the cities proper, but are in close economic or geographical relationship to them. Not all of the larger cities of Canada are of this character. Those in the above category, however, include St. John's, Halifax, Saint John, Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, Toronto, Windsor, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria.
