CANADA'S TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA, FIJI AND NEW ZEALAND

The statistics in this brochure of Canada's trade with Australia, Fiji and New Zealand were specially compiled for use at the Imperial Conference, 1930. The statistics present the most essential features of that trade in detail as well as in general outline. The outstanding feature of Canada's trade with the Antipodes in the past decade has been its steady increase not only in exports but in imports as well. The trade of these British countries, especially Australia and New Zealand, has expanded so rapidly in volume and offers such undoubted potentialities for the future as to merit careful consideration.

In Table I, herewith, Canada's total imports from and exports to Australia, Fiji and New Zealand are given year by year back to 1912, while side by side are given the corresponding figures for the United States, Canada's keenest competitor in these markets. While Canada still does only a very small fraction of the trade of North America with the Antipodes, relatively speaking her recent progress has been more rapid than that of the United States. In 1930 Canada's total trade with Australia, Fiji and New Zealand amounted to $60,126,193, imports from amounting to $24,170,674 and exports to $35,955,519; while that of the United States totalled $245,832,829, imports from amounting to $54,828,616, and exports to $191,004,168. From 1926 to 1930 Canada's imports from Australia, Fiji and New Zealand increased $15,836,181 (from New Zealand $13,557,484, Australia $1,169,297, and Fiji $1,109,400), while United States imports decreased $20,640,143 (the decrease from Australia totalled $23,171,315, while the increase from Fiji amounted to $1,401,797, and New Zealand $1,129,375); whereas Canada's exports to these British countries increased $3,685,491 (to New Zealand $2,607,942, Australia $916,727, and Fiji $160,822), while United States exports increased $3,052,293 (to Australia $1,585,568, New Zealand $1,098,175, and Fiji $368,550).

Table II presents Canada's total trade with Australia, Fiji and New Zealand, as also principal commodities imported from and exported to these British countries, for the years 1914 (year prior to the war), 1922 (year following post-bellum boom), 1929 and 1930. From 1914 to 1930 Canada's trade with Australia increased from $5,387,108 to $20,534,122; imports during this period increasing from $713,111 to $4,211,351, and domestic exports from $4,673,997 to $16,322,771; the trade with Fiji increased from $359,160 to $4,107,815; imports increasing from $240,719 to $3,676,604, and domestic exports from $118,441 to $431,211; and the trade with New Zealand from $5,126,598 to $35,449,207; imports increasing from $3,192,900 to $16,282,719, and domestic exports from $1,933,698 to $19,166,488.

During the latest year for which statistics are compiled, viz., 1929, Canada's imports from and exports to Australia, Fiji and New Zealand, according to degree of manufacture were:—
