PREFACE

The first official statistics covering Charitable, Benevolent and Welfare Institutions in Canada were collected as part of the Decennial Census of 1931. The results of this survey were published in Volume IX of the Report of the Seventh Census of Canada, 1931.

It was later decided to make similar survey of these institutions at five-year intervals. Accordingly, special censuses of Charitable, Benevolent and Welfare institutions were taken in 1936, 1941, 1946 and 1951. Due to wartime economy measures, the 1941 and 1946 reports were published in a single volume. The present volume is therefore the fifth in this series of quinquennial reports.

The report was prepared in the Institutions Section of the Health and Welfare Division.

HERBERT MARSHALL,
Dominion Statistician.

PRÉFACE

La première statistique officielle des institutions d'assistance, de bienfaisance et de bien-être social au Canada est celle du recensement décennal de 1931. Les résultats de cette enquête ont paru dans le Volume IX du Rapport du septième recensement du Canada, 1931.

Il fut plus tard décidé de répéter l'enquête concernant ces institutions tous les cinq ans. C'est ainsi qu'un recensement spécial des institutions d'assistance, de bienfaisance et de bien-être social a été effectué en 1936, 1941, 1946 et 1951. A cause des restrictions économiques du temps de guerre, les rapports de 1941 et de 1946 ont été publiés en un seul volume. Le présent volume est donc le cinquième de cette série de rapport quinquennaux.

Le rapport a été préparé dans la Section des institutions de la Division de la santé et du bien-être social.

Le statisticien du Dominion,
HERBERT MARSHALL.

INTRODUCTION

The report which follows is divided into two parts. Part I presents data on personnel, finances and movement of population in welfare institutions for the calendar year 1950, tabulated from schedules completed by each institution. Part II is the census proper. The data presented in this section were tabulated from individual enumeration cards completed for every person resident in the reporting institutions on June 1, 1951. In this part of the report significant characteristics of residents, such as age, origin, marital status, etc., are presented. In most cases, the data are classified by sex, province and type of institution.

A directory of charitable, benevolent and welfare institutions is appended to this report. The appendix shows certain limited details concerning the institutions which reported to the Bureau in the 1951 census. It may be noted that the coverage of welfare organizations is incomplete. Welfare organizations which do not operate institutions are excluded. As a result, few Children's Aid Societies are covered in this report, since many of these societies do not operate shelters.

In addition there were 96 organizations which are not included in the directory nor in the tables of Part I. However, since these organizations submitted enumeration cards, the information thus obtained is included in Part II. Eighty-six of these organizations were boarding homes and 81 of these were located in British Columbia. There were three in Alberta and two in Saskatchewan. Their resident population totalled 669 persons on June 1, 1951. These boarding homes which are licensed to care for welfare patients cannot be considered as institutions as defined for purposes of this census, and for this reason, are excluded, from the Directory.

The remaining 10 of the total 96 organizations were institutions not primarily intended for welfare cases although a certain proportion of their resident patients were cases of this nature. Seven of these mixed institutions were located in Nova Scotia, two in Quebec and one in New Brunswick.

Although the present report is the fifth of a series which began in 1931, few reliable trends and comparisons can be made because of variations from one census to another in the definitions used and in the types of institutions reporting. In order to establish trends or make comparisons, it is necessary to select certain data which are comparable for each of the five censuses.

The following table shows the number of persons under care in three types of institution which are comparable for each census from 1931 to 1951. Data for other types of institution are excluded.

INTRODUCTION

Le rapport qui suit est divisé en deux parties. La partie I offre des données concernant le personnel, les finances et le mouvement de la population des institutions de bien-être pour l'année civile 1950; les chiffres sont ceux des questionnaires remplis par chacun de ces établissements. La partie II est le recensement proprement dit. Les statistiques de cette section proviennent de fiches individuelles de dénombrement remplies pour chaque personne domiciliée dans les institutions qui ont fait rapport le 1^{er} juin 1951. Cette partie du rapport donne les caractéristiques particulières des résidents, soit: l'âge, l'origine, l'état matrimonial, etc.. Dans la plupart des cas, la statistique est répartie selon le sexe, par province et par genre d'institution.

Un répertoire des institutions d'assistance, de bienfaisance et de bien-être social est annexé au rapport. L'appendice comprend quelques brefs détails concernant les institutions qui ont fait rapport au Bureau lors du recensement de 1951. On notera que tous les organismes de bien-être n'ont pas été recensés. Les organismes de bien-être qui ne dirigent aucune institutions ont été exclus des calculs. Pour cette raison, peu de Sociétés de l'Aide à l'enfance figurent au présent rapport, étant donné que bon nombre de ces sociétés ne maintiennent pas de refuge.

De plus, 96 organismes n'ont pas été inscrits au répertoire non plus que dans les tableaux de la partie I. Toutefois, comme ces organismes ont fourni des fiches de dénombrement, les données ainsi obtenues sont comprises dans la partie II. Quarante-six de ces organismes, prennent des pensionnaires et 81 de ceux-ci sont situés en Colombie-Britannique; trois en Alberta et deux en Saskatchewan. Leur population à demeure se chiffrait au total par 669 personnes, le 1^{er} juin 1951. Ceux de ces refuges qui disposent d'un permis pour le soin des indigents ne peuvent être considérés comme des institutions au sens de la définition employée pour les besoins du présent recensement et ils sont, pour cette raison, exclus du répertoire.

Les 10 organismes qui restent sur les 96 qui ont été mentionnés, sont des institutions qui ne sont pas principalement destinées à des cas de bien-être social, bien qu'une certaine proportion de leurs pensionnaires soient des cas de cette nature. De ces institutions mixtes, sept sont situées en Nouvelle-Écosse, deux dans le Québec et une au Nouveau-Brunswick.

Le présent rapport est le cinquième d'une série inaugurée en 1931; pourtant, peu de courbes ou de comparaisons peuvent être établies en toute sécurité, parce que les définitions employées et les établissements qui font rapport varient d'un recensement à l'autre. Il est nécessaire, pour tracer des courbes ou établir des comparaisons, de choisir certaines données comparables à chacun des cinq recensements.

Le tableau ci-dessous donne le nombre de personnes assistées dans trois genres d'institutions dont les chiffres sont comparables à chaque recensement, de 1931 à 1951. Les statistiques des autres genres d'institution ont été éliminées.

CHARITABLE, BENEVOLENT AND WELFARE INSTITUTIONS

The coverage of institutions in each census is shown in the following table. In order to provide comparable figures, the classification of institutions is that used in the earlier reports with adjustments made in the figures for later years. Appropriate footnotes explaining details of adjustments are included.

Le nombre d'institutions enquêtées à chaque recensement se trouve dans le tableau suivant. Afin d'offrir des chiffres comparables, le classement des institutions est identique à celui des rapports antérieurs, avec rectification des chiffres pour les années postérieures. Des renvois appropriés expliquent le détail des rectifications.

PART I

PARTIE I

CHARITABLE, BENEVOLENT AND WELFARE INSTITUTIONS 1950

This part of the report presents statistics on charitable benevolent and welfare institutions for the calendar year 1950. These data were compiled from schedules submitted to the Bureau by 533 welfare institutions.

Of the 533 institutions, 43 were day nurseries and 490 were residential institutions. These 490 had a combined bed capacity of 46,470, an average capacity of 95 beds per institution. However, bed capacities varied from less than ten in several institutions to over 700 in the largest institution.

Homes for adults accounted for 218 or 44.5 percent of the 490 residential institutions and for 37.3 percent of the total bed capacity. Homes for children, numbering 170, comprised 34.7 percent of the institutions and had 38.7 percent of the bed capacity. The 72 homes for adults and children represented 14.7 percent of the institutions and 20.9 percent of the bed capacity.

Operating Body

The operating body of a welfare institution is the government body, organization or person responsible for providing services to the individuals under care, either directly or through an appointed staff.

Of the 533 reporting institutions, 279 or 52.3 percent were operated by religious organizations. By province, the percentage of institutions operated by religious organizations varied from a high of 88 percent in Quebec to a low of 32 percent in Nova Scotia, Ontario and B.C. (The two reporting institutions in the Territories were operated by religious organizations). By type of institution, this percentage varied from 86 percent of Homes for Adults and Children to 23 percent of Day Nurseries.

Boards were the second most frequent type of operating body of Canadian welfare institutions. One hundred and fifty boards were reported. Approximately half (74 of 150) of the institutions operated by boards were located in Ontario. These institutions represented 44 percent of those reporting in that province. Quebec reported the lowest proportion of boards, 10 percent.

Personnel

The tables on personnel do not include day nurseries, which are shown separately in Table 17. A total of 9,573 full time and 1,041 part time personnel was reported from 474 institutions. These numbers represent an average staff of 20 full time and 2 part time per institution.

The full-time staff was distributed as follows: administrative, 11.3 percent; medical, 4.7 percent; social service workers, 3.6 percent; teachers, 7.8 percent; all other staff 72.6 percent.

The ratio of full-time to part-time staff was more than 9:1, for Canada as a whole. Quebec had the highest proportion, 14:1, while New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Nova Scotia had ratios of 9:1. Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan had 7:1 ratios. In British Columbia the proportion was 6:1, and in Ontario and Prince Edward Island, 5:1.

The number of personnel per 100 daily average population under care was 25.1 full-time and 2.7 part-time in 1950.

INSTITUTIONS D'ASSISTANCE, DE BIENFAISANCE ET DE BIEN-ÊTRE SOCIAL. 1950

La présente partie du rapport donne la statistique des institutions d'assistance, de bienfaisance et de bien-être social pour l'année civile 1950. Les données sont celles des questionnaires envoyés au Bureau par 533 institutions de bien-être social.

Sur 533 institutions, 43 sont des garderies et 490 des établissements hospitaliers. La capacité globale en lits de ces 490 établissements est de 46,470 ou une moyenne de 95 lits par institution. Cependant, la capacité en lits varie de moins de dix dans plusieurs établissements à plus de 700 dans l'établissement le plus considérable.

Les refuges pour adultes se chiffrent par 218 ou 44.5 p. 100 des 490 établissements hospitaliers et déclarent 37.3 p. 100 de la capacité globale en lits. Les 170 refuges pour enfants forment 34.7 p. 100 des institutions et comprennent 38.7 p. 100 de la capacité en lits. Les 72 refuges pour adultes et enfants représentent 14.7 p. 100 des institutions et 20.9 p. 100 de la capacité en lits.

Corps Administratif

Le corps administratif d'une institution d'assistance est le gouvernement, la société ou le particulier responsable de l'assistance à donner aux personnes commises à sa charge, soit directement, soit par l'intermédiaire d'un personnel désigné.

Sur 533 institutions faisant rapport 279 ou 52.3 p. 100 sont administrées par des institutions religieuses. Le pourcentage, par province, d'établissements administrés par des institutions religieuses varie d'un sommet de 88 p. 100 dans le Québec à la petite proportion de 32 p. 100 en Nouvelle-Écosse, en Ontario et en Colombie-Britannique. (Les deux établissements des territoires qui ont envoyé des rapports sont administrés par des institutions religieuses.) Ce pourcentage varie, par genre d'établissement, de 86 p. 100 pour les refuges d'adultes et enfants à 23 p. 100 pour les garderies.

Les conseils administratifs occupent le deuxième rang parmi les organismes de gestion des institutions canadiennes de bien-être et cent cinquante de ces conseils font rapport. Environ la moitié (74 sur 150) des établissements dirigés par des conseils administratifs sont situés en Ontario, ils représentent 44 p. 100 des établissements de la province qui ont fait rapport. Le Québec déclare la plus faible proportion de conseils administratifs ou 10 p. 100.

Personnel

Les tableaux ayant trait au personnel ne comprennent pas les garderies qui sont déclarées séparément au tableau 17. Le personnel inscrit se compose de 9,573 employés à temps continu et 1,041 à temps discontinu dans 474 institutions. Ces chiffres donnent une moyenne de 20 employés à temps continu et 2 à temps discontinu par institution.

Le personnel complet a été ainsi réparti: administration, 11.3 p. 100; médical, 4.7 p. 100; assistants sociaux, 3.6 p. 100; institutrices, 7.8 p. 100; autre personnel, 72.6 p. 100.

La proportion d'employés à temps continu par rapport aux employés à temps discontinu dépasse 9 pour 1 pour le Canada entier. Le Québec déclare la plus forte proportion ou 14 pour 1; le Nouveau-Brunswick, Terre-Neuve et la Nouvelle-Écosse 9 pour 1; et l'Alberta, le Manitoba et la Saskatchewan 7 pour 1. En Colombie-Britannique, la proportion est de 6 pour 1 et en Ontario et dans l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard, de 5 pour 1.

Le nombre d'employés pour une moyenne de 100 personnes assistées par jour se chiffre par 25.1 à temps continu et 2.7 à temps discontinu en 1950.

Movement of Population

At the beginning of 1950 there were 39,414 persons resident in welfare institutions. Of these 21,265 or 54.0 percent were male and 18,149 or 46.0 percent were female.

During the year, 38,836 persons were admitted to these institutions. There were 150 males admitted for every 100 females. The sex specific admission rates per 100,000 general population, excluding Yukon and N.W.T., were 335.6 for males and 230.3 for females.

There were obvious differences between adults and children in the sex proportion of admissions during 1950. The number of male admissions for every 100 female admissions was 180 for adults but only 122 for children.

There were 2,928 deaths in welfare institutions during 1950. As is to be expected, adult deaths greatly outnumbered deaths of children. Adults accounted for 89.6 percent of the deaths.

There was little significant difference in the death rates per 1,000 under care between the two sexes. For males, the rate was 36.3 for every 1,000 males under care during the year. For females the rate was 38.9, seven percent higher. However, the adult death rate was eight times the child death rate. For adults the rate was 65.7 and for children 7.9. In the same year the crude death rate for the general population was 8.9 per 1,000.

During the year 1950, there were 35,641 discharges, a rate of 91.8 discharges per 100 admissions. The rate per 1,000 under care during the year was 455.5. Males had a higher discharge rate than females. Of every 1,000 males under care during 1950, 489 were discharged during the year. The rate for females was only 410. In addition, children had a higher discharge rate than adults, though the difference was not great. The discharge rates per 1,000 under care were 463 for children, 449 for adults.

At the end of 1950 there were 39,681 persons under care in the reporting institutions. During the year, slight changes occurred in the sex and age distribution. The changes tended to a more equal distribution. At the beginning of 1950, the ratio of males to females was 117:100; at the end of the year it was 114:100. At the beginning of 1950, the ratio of children to adults was 109:100; one year later it was 104:100.

The persons under care during 1950 had a collective stay of almost 14 million days. With 78,250 persons under care, the average stay in days was 178. The average for females at 194 days was nine percent higher than the male average.

The children remained 19 days longer, on the average, than did adults. But since there was a difference of only one day between the average stay of male and female children, the difference between adults and children is accounted for by the shorter stay (145 days) of adult males. Adult females remained longer than children of either sex.

The average stay was over 200 days in the four Atlantic provinces and under 200 in the six remaining provinces. Ontario had the lowest average stay, 136 days. Worthy of note is the fact that while females had a higher average stay than males for Canada as a whole, males had a greater average stay in six of the provinces. The explanation for this is that in Ontario and Quebec, which accounted for 76.3 percent of the collective days' stay for Canada, the average stay for females was much greater than that for males.

Table 15 presents statistics on the disposition of children discharged during 1950. Over half, 9,751, were returned to their parents, relatives or guardians. The per-

Mouvement de la population

Au début de 1950, 39,414 personnes résidaient dans des établissements hospitaliers; 21,265 ou 54.0 p. 100 étaient des hommes et 18,149 ou 46.0 p. 100 des femmes.

Au cours de l'année, 38,836 personnes ont été admises dans ces institutions. La proportion est de 150 hommes pour chaque 100 femmes. Le taux des admissions selon le sexe pour 100,000 de la population en général, à l'exclusion du Yukon et des Territoires du Nord-Ouest, est de 335.6 chez les hommes et 230.3 chez les femmes.

Des différences évidentes ont été observées entre la proportion selon le sexe d'adultes et d'enfants admis en 1950. Le chiffre est de 180 hommes pour 100 femmes et de 122 garçons seulement pour 100 filles.

Il y a eu 2,928 décès dans les établissements hospitaliers en 1950. Comme on doit le prévoir, les décès d'adultes sont beaucoup plus nombreux que les décès d'enfants ou 89.6 p. 100 de tous les décès.

Il y a peu de différence entre les deux sexes quant au taux des décès pour 1,000 personnes assistées. La proportion est de 36.3 pour chaque millier d'hommes assistés durant l'année, elle est de 38.9 ou de 7 p. 100 plus élevée chez les femmes. Le taux des décès d'adultes représente néanmoins huit fois celui des enfants. La proportion pour les adultes se chiffre par 65.7 contre 7.9 pour les enfants. Le taux brut des décès parmi la population en général, pour la même année, est de 8.9 pour 1,000.

Durant l'année 1950, 35,641 personnes ont été renvoyées, ce qui équivaut à 91,8 renvois pour 100 admissions ou une proportion de 455.5 par millier de personnes assistées durant l'année. Les renvois sont plus nombreux dans le cas des hommes que dans celui des femmes. Pour 1,000 hommes assistés en 1950, 489 ont été renvoyés durant l'année; la proportion n'est que de 410 pour les femmes. De plus, la proportion d'enfants renvoyés est plus considérable que la proportion d'adultes, bien que la différence soit peu marquée. Les taux de renvois pour 1,000 personnes assistées sont de 463 chez les enfants et 449 chez les adultes.

A la fin de 1950, les établissements hospitaliers déclarent 39,681 personnes assistées. Au cours de l'année, la répartition selon le sexe et l'âge a légèrement varié. Les changements tendent à uniformiser la répartition. Au début de l'année 1950, la proportion d'hommes par rapport au nombre de femmes était de 117:100; à la fin de l'année, elle était de 114:100. Au début de 1950, la proportion d'enfants par rapport aux adultes était de 109:100 et, un an plus tard, de 104:100.

Le séjour collectif des personnes assistées en 1950 est de près de 14 millions de jours. Le séjour moyen en jours des 78,250 personnes assistées se chiffre par 178. Le séjour moyen de 194 jours pour les femmes est de 9 p. 100 plus élevé que celui des hommes.

Le séjour des enfants est en moyenne de 19 jours plus prolongé que celui des adultes. Mais, comme la différence du séjour moyen n'est que d'un jour entre les garçons et les filles, la différence entre les adultes et les enfants s'explique par le séjour plus bref de 145 jours pour les hommes. Les femmes demeurent dans les institutions plus longtemps que les enfants de l'un ou l'autre sexe.

Le séjour moyen a été de plus de 200 jours dans les quatre provinces de l'Atlantique et de moins de 200 jours dans les six autres provinces. L'Ontario déclare le séjour moyen de plus courte durée, soit 136 jours. Fait intéressant à noter, si le séjour moyen est plus long chez les femmes que chez les hommes pour le Canada entier, il est de plus longue durée chez les hommes dans six provinces. Cela s'explique du fait qu'en Ontario et dans le Québec, qui déclarent 76.3 p. 100 du séjour collectif en jours pour le Canada, le séjour moyen est beaucoup plus prolongé chez les femmes que chez les hommes.

Le tableau 15 offre des statistiques sur les endroits où les enfants renvoyés en 1950 ont été placés. Plus de la moitié ou 9,751 d'entre eux ont été rendus à leurs parents, ou confiés centage by sex was 53.1 for boys and 57.5 for girls. The second most frequent type of disposition was discharged to a foster home. Approximately 21 percent of both boys and girls were discharged to foster homes.

There were 689 children automatically discharged, that is, discharged upon attaining the age of 21 years or upon attaining the age at which the institution was no longer responsible for their care. Only one child in 26 was in this category.

Day Nurseries

Forty-three day nurseries were reported in this census. Of these 76.7 percent were located in Ontario. Four other provinces, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Manitoba and British Columbia also reported day nurseries. The personnel of these institutions at the census date was 406, of whom 355 were full time and 51 were part time. Of the 406, paid employees numbered 355 or 89.4 percent while the remaining 43 or 10.6 percent were voluntary.

A total of 2,206 children under care was reported from the day nurseries, of which 59.1 percent were males and 40.9 percent were females. (In Part II of this report, a total of 1,670 children under care on the same date is reported. The difference is due to the fact that several of the day nurseries reported the number of children under care on schedules, but did not complete individual enumeration cards for each child.)

During the year 1950, a total of 5,532 children received 387,892 days of care in day nurseries, an average of 70 days per child. The average stay, by province, varies from 121 days in Quebec to 24 days in Manitoba.

à leur parenté ou à des tuteurs. Le pourcentage selon le sexe est de 53.1 chez les garçons et 57.5 chez les filles. Vient ensuite, comme endroit le plus fréquent où ces enfants sont placés, le foyer d'adoption. Environ 21 p. 100 des garçons et des filles ont été placés dans ces foyers.

On compte 689 enfants renvoyés automatiquement, c'est-à-dire lorsqu'ils atteignent l'âge de 21 ans ou l'âge auquel l'institution cesse d'en être responsable. Un seul enfant pour 26 entre dans cette catégorie.

Garderies

Le recensement énumère quarante-trois garderies dont 76.7 p. 100 en Ontario. Quatre autres provinces, la Nouvelle-Ecosse, le Québec, le Manitoba et la Colombie-Britannique déclarent également des garderies. Le personnel de ces établissements se composait, à la date du recensement, de 406 personnes ou 355 employés à temps continu et 51 à temps discontinu. Des 406 employés, 355 ou 89.4 p. 100 sont rémunérés et les autres 43 ou 10.6 p. 100 font du service bénévole.

Un nombre global de 2,206 enfants assistés a été déclaré par les garderies; 59.1 p. 100 sont des garçons et 40.9 p. 100 des filles. (Dans la Partie II du rapport, un total de 1,670 enfants assistés à la même date est déclaré. La différence provient de ce que plusieurs des garderies ont déclaré le nombre d'enfants assistés en réponse aux questionnaires, mais n'ont pas rempli les fiches individuelles de dénombrement pour chacun des enfants.)

Durant l'année 1950, un total de 5,532 enfants ont reçu 387,892 jours de soins dans les garderies, soit une moyenne de 70 jours par enfant. Le séjour moyen, par province, varie de 121 jours dans le Québec à 24 jours au Manitoba.

PART II

PARTIE II

CENSUS OF JUNE 1, 1951

In Part II of this report, certain important characteristics of the population of Canadian welfare institutions are shown. These statistics were tabulated from individual enumeration cards completed for each person resident in the reporting institutions on June 1, 1951.

Sex

A total of 40,273 residents was enumerated. Of these, 21,139 or 52.5 percent were males and 19,134 or 47.5 percent were females. The sex specific rates per 100,000 of the general population (as established by the Ninth Census of Canada, June 1, 1951) were 298 males for and 276 for females.

The following table shows the sex specific rates for each province. It is interesting to note that in the Maritime provinces and the Territories, female rates are higher. Also noteworthy are the high rates in Quebec and Prince Edward Island. High provincial rates are probably explained more satisfactorily by the availability of facilities than by any other factor.

RECENSEMENT DU 1^{er} JUIN 1951

Dans la Partie II du rapport, certaines caractéristiques importantes de la population qui demeure dans les institutions canadiennes d'assistance ont été données. Les statistiques qui en résultent ont été tirées de fiches de dénombrement individuelles, remplies pour chaque personne résidant dans les institutions qui ont fait rapport le 1^{er} juin 1951.

Sexe

Un total de 40,273 pensionnaires ont été recensés. De ce nombre, 21,139 ou 52.5 p. 100 étaient du sexe masculin et 19,134 ou 47.5 p. 100 du sexe féminin. Les taux spécifiques selon le sexe pour 100,000 de la population en général (déterminée par le neuvième recensement du Canada du 1^{er} juin 1951) sont de 298 chez les hommes et 276 chez les femmes.

Le tableau qui suit donne les taux spécifiques selon le sexe pour chaque province. Il est intéressant de noter que, dans les provinces Maritimes et les territoires, les taux chez les femmes sont plus élevés. On observera aussi que les taux sont élevés dans le Québec et l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard. Les taux provinciaux sont élevés, plutôt à cause de facilités plus grandes que pour tout autre facteur.

Another factor which partly explains the high rate in Quebec in relation to other provinces is that Children's Aid Societies not operating shelters are outside the scope of this census. In Quebec, there are few Children's Aid Societies; the care of children is given by institutions rather than by agencies. As a result, the majority of children in Quebec who are receiving welfare care is included in this census. In other provinces many such children are not included because they were in foster homes rather than institutions.

Age

Because most welfare patients are either under 20 or over 60 years of age, an average age of all patients would not be significant. Any average based on both groups would not lie in either group.

If the age distribution is divided into two, viz., adults and children, average ages for each group can be computed and are significant.

Un autre facteur qui explique en partie le taux élevé du Québec au regard de celui des autres provinces est que les Sociétés de l'Aide à l'enfance qui ne maintiennent pas de refuges échappent aux cadres de ce recensement. Les Sociétés de l'Aide à l'enfance sont peu nombreuses dans le Québec; le soin des enfants est assuré par les établissements hospitaliers plutôt que par des agences. Il en résulte que la majorité des enfants du Québec qui bénéficient des secours de bien-être figurent au présent recensement. Dans d'autres provinces, beaucoup de ces enfants ne sont pas inclus parce qu'ils demeurent dans des foyers adoptifs plutôt que dans les institutions.

Âge

Étant donné que la plupart des personnes assistées sont ou âgées de moins de 20 ans ou âgées de plus de 60 ans, l'âge moyen de toutes les personnes assistées ne serait pas significatif. Toute moyenne reposant sur les deux groupes ne se retrouverait dans aucun des deux.

Lorsque la répartition selon l'âge se partage entre les adultes et les enfants, les âges moyens de chaque groupe peuvent être calculés et ils ont une signification.

CHARITABLE, BENEVOLENT AND WELFARE INSTITUTIONS

There were 21,676 children enumerated in this census. They accounted for 53.8 percent of the persons enumerated. The age was stated for all but 42 of these children. The average age was 8.1 years for males, 9.6 years for females and 8.8 years for all children. These averages are relatively meaningful, with one exception. By single years of age, frequencies increase steadily from age 2 years to age 10 years, and then decrease steadily to age 20. The exception lies in the two single years: one year, and under one year. The single age under one year, with a frequency of 1,983 was the largest single year frequency. The second largest frequency was recorded for 10 years of age, 1,744.

Adults (defined as persons 21 years of age and over) accounted for 46.2 percent of the persons enumerated. As expected, the older age groups had the highest frequencies. The average age was 70.9 years. The average for adult males, 71.4 years, was exactly one year higher than that for females. The following table shows the number of adults in each age group and the age specific rates per 100,000 general population.

In absolute numbers, the age group 75-79 years had the largest frequency, representing 18.8 percent of all adults under care of known age. The second largest age group was 80-84, with a frequency of 3,018, or 16.4 percent of the total. Although the smallest frequency was in the age group 95 years and over, this age group had the highest rate per 100,000 general population.

Noteworthy in this table is the continuous upward trend in rates as age increases. The rates show that welfare cases accounted for more than one percent of all Canadian residents in each age group over 75 years, and almost one percent of the age group 70-74 years. In fact more than five percent of all persons 90 years of age and over on June 1, 1951 were residents of welfare Institutions.

Lors du recensement, 21,676 enfants ont été dénombrés, soit 53.8 p. 100 des personnes dénombrées. L'âge des enfants a été déclaré sauf dans 42 des cas. L'âge moyen était de 8.1 ans chez les garçons et 9.6 ans chez les filles et 8.8 ans chez tous les enfants. Ces moyennes sont assez significatives, sauf une exception. La fréquence augmente régulièrement à chaque année d'âge, de 2 à 10 ans, et diminue ensuite graduellement jusqu'à 20 ans. L'exception est celle des deux âges de un an et de moins d'un an. L'âge de moins d'un an, dont la fréquence est 1,983, offre la fréquence la plus marquée pour toute année d'âge. La deuxième fréquence la plus considérable est enregistrée à l'âge de 10 ans; elle est de 1,744.

Les adultes (par définition les personnes de 21 ans et plus) comptent 46.2 p. 100 des personnes dénombrées. Comme on l'avait prévu, les groupes d'âge plus avancé manifestent les plus hautes fréquences. L'âge moyen est de 70.9; celui de 71.4 ans chez les hommes est exactement d'une année plus élevé que chez les femmes. Le tableau qui suit donne le nombre d'adultes de chaque groupe d'âge et les taux spécifiques selon l'âge pour 100,000 de la population en général.

En chiffres absolus, le groupe d'âge 75-79 ans présente la plus grande fréquence, soit 18.8 p. 100 de tous les adultes assistés dont l'âge est connu. Le deuxième groupe d'âge le plus considérable, ayant une fréquence de 3,018 ou 16.4 p. 100 du total, est celui de 80-84 ans. Bien que la plus faible fréquence soit celle du groupe d'âge de 95 ans et plus, ce groupe d'âge révèle le taux le plus élevé pour 100,000 de la population en général.

Il importe de noter dans ce tableau la courbe ascendante des taux, qui accompagne l'avance de l'âge. Les taux indiquent que les cas d'assistance sociale comprennent plus d'un pour cent de tous les résidents canadiens de chaque groupe d'âge au-dessus de 75 ans et près d'un pour cent du groupe d'âge de 70-74 ans. En réalité, plus de cinq pour cent de toutes les personnes âgées de 90 ans et plus le 1^{er} juin 1951, demeuraient dans des établissements hospitaliers.

Marital Status

Of the 21,676 children under care on the census date, 21,669 or 99.97 percent were single. Of the remaining 7 children, 5 were married and 2 were of unknown marital status.

Of the 18,597 adults, 8,559 or 46.0 percent were single, 1,963 or 10.6 percent were married, 7,578 or 40.7 percent were widowed and 137 or 0.7 percent were divorced. Marital status was not reported for 360 adults. The large number of widows and widowers among welfare residents is explained by the fact that 81.9 percent of the adults under care were 60 years of age or more.

État Matrimonial

Des 21,676 enfants assistés à la date du recensement, 21,669 ou 99.97 p. 100 étaient célibataires. Des 7 autres enfants, 5 étaient mariés et 2 n'avaient pas d'état matrimonial connu.

Parmi les 18,597 adultes, 8,559 ou 46.0 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 1,963 ou 10.6 p. 100, mariés, 7,578 ou 40.7 p. 100 en veuvage et 137 ou 0.7 p. 100, divorcés. L'état matrimonial n'était pas déclaré dans le cas de 360 des adultes. Le grand nombre de veufs et de veuves parmi les personnes qui demeurent dans des établissements hospitaliers s'explique du fait que 81.9 p. 100 des adultes assistés sont âgés de 60 ans et plus.

Religion

The religion of welfare patients is shown in Table 23. Especially noteworthy is the high proportion of Roman Catholics, who represented 70.5 percent of the persons under care whose religion was stated. In the general population, Roman Catholics accounted for only 43.3 percent of Canadian residents. This situation is largely explained by the large number of persons under care in Quebec, most of whom (96.2 percent) were Roman Catholics.

Other religions which accounted for a substantial number of the persons under care of stated religion were: United Church, 9.0 percent; Church of England in Canada, 8.5 percent; Presbyterian, 3.4 percent.

Length of Stay

Children under care in day nurseries are excluded from the tabulations on length of stay. Of the 38,603 persons under care in welfare institutions on the census date, over half, 53.4 percent, had been there less than two years. This percentage for adults alone was only 40.8, while for children, 65.0 percent had been in residence less than two years at June 1, 1951. Again, while 17.4 percent of the adults had been in the institution for ten years or more, less than one percent of the children (0.9 percent) had been there for ten years.

There were slight differences in the length of stay between males and females, both adults and children. Females had been in residence slightly longer than males in most cases. For example, 15.3 percent of the adult males and 19.4 percent of the adult females were in residence for 10 years or more. Again, 57.1 percent of the adult males and 61.1 percent of the adult females had been in residence for two years or more. In fact, of the 39 adults who had been in residence for more than 50 years, 34 were females.

Responsibility for Payment

Of the 18,597 adults under care on June 1, 1951, full payment was made from personal funds by only 2,174 or 11.8 percent. But full payment was received through the pensions of an additional 6,713 persons. Thus, nearly half (48.2 percent) of the adults under care in welfare institutions were, in effect, paying for the care they received.

Of the 21,676 children under care, full payment was received from only 214, nearly one percent. Full payment was received through tax funds for 8,445 children, 39.3 percent of those under care. An additional 4,184 children were partly maintained through tax funds. Thus 12,629 children, 58.8 percent of the total, were maintained in whole or in part by funds supplied by the federal, provincial and municipal governments.

Reason for Admission

Among adults, the three major reasons for admission were old age, disability and illness. These three accounted for 16,786 or 91.0 percent of the admissions of those resident on the census date. Old age alone was given as the reason for admission for more than half, 50.8 percent, of the residents.

With the children, there was only one major reason for admission, viz. neglect and dependency. This cause was reported for 17,431 or 81.2 percent of the 21,469 children whose reason for admission was given. The second most frequent reason, behaviour problem, accounted for only 4.0 percent of the admissions.

Wardship

Children were reported as wards only where wardship or guardianship had been established by law. Of the 21,676 children, 4,533 were reported to be wards. This number represents only 21.3 percent of the children whose wardship was stated. Furthermore, of the 4,533 wards, only 2,646 were permanent wards, while 1,887 were temporary wards. Thus, of the children whose wardship status was reported, only one of every eight, 12.4 percent, was a permanent ward.

Religion

La religion des personnes assistées est donnée dans le tableau 23. Une proportion particulièrement remarquable est celle des catholiques qui forment 70.5 p. 100 des personnes assistées dont la religion est déclarée. Dans la population en général, les catholiques romains ne représentent que 43.3 p. 100 des résidents canadiens. Cela s'explique surtout par le nombre considérable de personnes assistées dans le Québec; la plupart d'entre elles (96.2 p. 100) sont catholiques.

Les autres religions qui comptent un nombre important de personnes assistées dont la religion est connue sont: l'Église unie, 9.0 p. 100; l'Église d'Angleterre au Canada, 8.5 p. 100; l'Église presbytérienne, 3.4 p. 100.

Durée du séjour

Les enfants des garderies ne sont pas compris dans les tableaux concernant la durée du séjour. Des 38,603 personnes assistées dans les établissements hospitaliers à la date du recensement, plus de la moitié ou 53.4 p. 100 n'y étaient que depuis moins de deux ans. Ce pourcentage, chez les adultes seulement, n'était que de 40.8 tandis que, chez les enfants, il était de 65.0 p. 100 au 1^{er} juin 1951. De plus, 17.4 p. 100 des adultes demeuraient à l'institution depuis dix ans ou plus; moins d'un pour cent des enfants (0.9 p. 100) y demeuraient depuis dix ans.

On observe de légères différences entre la durée du séjour des hommes et des femmes, tant chez les adultes que chez les enfants. Les femmes sont demeurées à l'établissement un peu plus longtemps que les hommes dans la plupart des cas. Par exemple, 15.3 p. 100 des hommes et 19.4 p. 100 des femmes y demeuraient depuis 10 ans ou plus; en outre, 57.1 p. 100 des hommes et 61.1 p. 100 des femmes y demeuraient depuis deux ans ou plus. En réalité, sur 39 adultes ayant demeuré dans les institutions plus de 50 ans, 34 étaient des femmes.

Source de paiement

Des 18,597 adultes assistés le 1^{er} juin 1951, 2,174 ou 11.8 p. 100 seulement payaient leurs soins en entier avec leurs ressources personnelles. De plus, 6,713 autres personnes pouvaient défrayer leurs soins en entier au moyen de leurs pensions, de sorte que près de la moitié (48.2 p. 100) des adultes assistés dans les établissements hospitaliers payaient les soins qu'ils recevaient.

Sur les 21,676 enfants entretenus, 214 seulement, ou près de un pour un cent, payaient leurs soins en entier; les soins de 8,445 ou 39.3 p. 100 étaient payés en entier au moyen d'impôts et ceux de 4,184, en partie de la même manière. Ainsi, 12,629 enfants ou 58.8 p. 100 du total étaient entretenus en entier ou en partie au moyen de fonds fournis par les gouvernements fédéral, provinciaux et municipaux.

Cause d'admission

Les trois principales causes d'admission chez les adultes sont: la vieillesse, l'invalidité et la maladie. Elles englobent 16,786 ou 91.0 p. 100 des personnes admises parmi les résidents enregistrés à la date du recensement. La vieillesse elle-même est déclarée comme cause d'admission de plus de la moitié ou 50.8 p. 100 des résidents.

Une seule grande cause d'admission se présente chez les enfants: l'abandon et le fait d'être à la charge de quelqu'un. C'est le cas de 17,431 ou 81.2 p. 100 des enfants dont la cause de l'admission soit donnée. Vient ensuite, comme cause la plus fréquente, l'inconduite, qui ne répond que de 4.0 des enfants admis.

Tutelle

Les enfants ne sont déclarés pupilles que lorsque la tutelle est confirmée par la loi. Des 21,676 enfants, 4,533 sont inscrits comme pupilles. Ce nombre représente 21.3 p. 100 seulement des enfants dont la tutelle a été déclarée. De plus, sur 4,533 pupilles, 2,646 seulement le sont en tutelle permanente et 1,887 en tutelle provisoire. Ainsi, des enfants dont la tutelle est déclarée, un seulement pour huit ou 12.4 p. 100 est en tutelle permanente.
