Rapport anticipé n° AP-4
N° de catalogue 92-518POPULATIONRural and Urban Distribution

Final population counts of the 1961 Census are presented in this report distributed according to rural and urban. The rural is further classified by farm and non-farm residence, and the urban by size of locality. These distributions are shown in the following tables for provinces and for counties and census divisions.

More detailed classifications will be issued at later dates as part of the regular volume series of final reports of the 1961 Census. These reports will show the rural and urban population classified by sex, age groups, etc. The purpose of this advance report is to make available summary totals at the earliest possible date.

The definition of rural and urban is substantially the same as that used in the 1956 Census, although minor differences result from the exclusion of non-urbanized localities within metropolitan areas and the inclusion of urbanized fringes adjoining smaller cities. Briefly, the 1961 Census definition specifies that all cities, towns, and villages of 1,000 and over, whether incorporated or unincorporated, be classed as urban, as well as the urbanized fringes of all such centres if the agglomeration was 10,000 or over.

The classification "rural farm" comprises all persons living in dwellings situated on farms in rural localities. A farm for 1961 is defined as a holding of one or more acres with sales of agricultural products of $50 or more. This differs from 1956 when a farm was defined as a holding of: (1) three acres or more in size or (2) from one to three acres with agricultural production in 1955 valued at $250 or more.

Le présent rapport donne le chiffre définitif quant à la répartition rurale et urbaine de la population d'après le recensement de 1961. La population rurale se subdivise en outre en population agricole et population non agricole, et la population urbaine est répartie selon l'importance de la localité. Ces répartitions sont données dans les tableaux qui suivent pour les provinces et pour les comtés et les divisions de recensement.

Des classements plus détaillés paraîtront plus tard dans la série régulière de volumes contenant les résultats définitifs du recensement de 1961. Ces rapports donneront la répartition rurale et urbaine de la population selon le sexe, les groupes d'âge, etc. Le présent rapport anticipé a pour but de faire connaître le plus tôt possible les totaux sommaires.

Les termes "rural" et "urbain" ont gardé sensiblement la même définition qu'au recensement de 1956, sauf de légères différences provenant de l'exclusion des localités non urbanisées des zones métropolitaines et de l'inclusion des banlieues urbanisées adjacentes aux petites villes. Somme toute, la définition du recensement de 1961 classe comme urbains les cités, villes et villages de 1,000 habitants et plus, qu'ils soient constitués ou non, ainsi que les banlieues urbanisées de ces centres lorsque l'agglomération compte 10,000 habitants ou plus.

La catégorie "rurale agricole" comprend les personnes habitant une ferme dans une localité rurale. La ferme, en 1961, est une exploitation agricole d'une acre ou plus et dont les recettes provenant de la vente de produits agricoles atteignent $50 ou plus pour l'année. En 1956, la ferme était une exploitation agricole 1) de trois acres ou plus ou 2) d'une à trois acres et dont la production en 1955 avait donné $250 ou plus.
