INTRODUCTION

This report presents final figures on family composition from the 1961 Census of Canada, relating to children in families by specified age groups, to families by type, and to families by age and marital status of head.

Figures are shown for the following areas:

- (i) Provinces, rural farm, rural non-farm, and urban (Tables 54, 59, 63, 68).
- (ii) Counties and census divisions (Tables 55, 64).
- (iii) Incorporated cities, towns, villages, and other municipal subdivisions of 10,000 and over (Tables 56, 60, 65, 69).
- (iv) Census metropolitan areas (Tables 57, 61, 66, 70).
- (v) Other major urban areas (Tables 58, 62, 67, 71).

Tables 54 to 58 show the number of children in families distributed by age, while Tables 59 to 62 show the distribution of families by ages of children. In Tables 63 to 67, families are classified as to whether or not they maintain their own households (i.e., whether or not the head of family is also head of a household) and by age of head. Tables 68 to 71 classify families according to marital status and sex of head.

A family, as defined in the Census, consists of a husband and wife (with or without children who have never married) or a parent, with one or more children never married, living together in the same dwelling. Adopted children and step-children have the same status as own children. A family may consist, also, of a man or woman living with a guardianship child or ward under 21 years of age. The phrase "never married" for children in families is significant. Once a son or daughter marries, he or she ceases to be considered a member of his or her parents' family, for Census purposes. A married daughter and son-in-law, for example, form a separate family. On the other hand, while unmarried sons and daughters of 24 years of age and under are classified in the Census as "children in families", all sons and daughters who have never married and are living at home, regardless of age, are considered to be members of the family.

The main differences between the Census use of the terms "family" and "household" should be noted. The latter term refers to all persons living together in a dwelling, regardless of blood or marriage relationship. It may consist of one person living alone, of a group of non-family persons living together, or of one or more families with or without additional non-family persons. As already mentioned, the term "family" implies at least two persons living together in a husband-wife or parent-child relationship. Thus, a daughter and son-in-law, while forming a separate family, will be part of the parents' household if living with them in the same dwelling, and will be classed as a related family whose head is not maintaining his own household.

Le présent rapport donne les résultats définitifs du recensement du Canada de 1961 sur la composition de la famille; il donne la répartition des familles suivant le nombre d'enfants et leur âge, suivant le genre de famille et suivant l'âge et l'état matrimonial du chef.

La statistique porte sur les régions suivantes:

- i) Provinces, régions rurales agricoles et non agricoles, et régions urbaines (tableaux 54, 59, 63, 68).
- ii) Comtés et divisions de recensement (tableaux 55, 64).
- iii) Cités, villes et villages constitués, et autres subdivisions municipales de 10,000 habitants et plus (tableaux 56, 60, 65, 69).
- iv) Zones métropolitaines de recensement (tableaux 57, 61, 66, 70).
- v) Autres grandes agglomérations urbaines (tableaux 58, 62, 67, 71).

Les tableaux 54 à 58 donnent le nombre d'enfants dans les familles suivant l'âge et les tableaux 59 à 62 donnent la répartition des familles suivant l'âge des enfants. Dans les tableaux 63 à 67, les familles sont classées suivant qu'elles forment ou non leur propre ménage (i.e., si le chef de famille est ou n'est pas aussi le chef du ménage) et suivant l'âge du chef. Les tableaux 68 à 71 classent les familles suivant l'état matrimonial et le sexe du chef.

La famille, aux termes du recensement, se compose d'un époux et de son épouse (avec ou sans enfants non encore mariés) ou de l'un des deux avec un ou plusieurs enfants non encore mariés et demeurant ensemble dans un même logement. Les enfants adoptifs et les beaux-fils et belles-filles sont considérés comme les propres enfants. La famille peut aussi se composer d'un homme ou d'une femme demeurant avec un enfant en tutelle ou pupille âgé de moins de 21 ans. L'expression "non encore marié" employée pour qualifier les enfants des familles n'est pas superflue. Dès qu'un fils ou une fille se marie, il ou elle cesse d'être considéré comme un membre de la famille de ses parents pour les fins du recensement. La fille mariée et le gendre, par exemple, forment une famille distincte. D'autre part, même si les fils et filles non mariés âgés de 24 ans et moins sont classés par le recensement comme "enfants dans les familles", tous les fils et filles non encore mariés et demeurant au foyer sont considérés, quel que soit leur âge, comme membres de la famille.

Il convient de rappeler les principales distinctions que le recensement établit entre "famille" et "ménage". Ce dernier terme vise toutes les personnes vivant ensemble dans un logement quelles qu'en soient la consanguinité ou l'affinité. Le ménage peut donc se réduire à une personne vivant seule ou être un groupe de personnes sans famille qui demeurent ensemble, ou encore une ou plusieurs familles avec ou sans autres personnes non familiales. Comme on l'a signalé plus haut, la "famille" suppose au moins deux personnes vivant ensemble à titre d'époux et d'épouse ou de l'un des deux et d'enfant. En conséquence, la fille et le gendre, tout en constituant une famille distincte, font partie du ménage des parents s'ils demeurent avec eux dans le même logement et seront classés comme famille apparentée dont le chef ne forme pas son propre ménage.
