NOTE:—For all previous censuses the statistics of the population and agriculture of British Columbia were compiled and published only by federal electoral districts and a limited number of ill-defined sub-districts within each district. As a new realignment of federal electoral districts takes place after each decennial census, this method of compiling the census did not afford any comprehensive plan whereby measurements of the movement of population by divisions within the province could be made with any degree of certainty, nor could the economic and social development of the province be ascertained by localities. In order to overcome this handicap the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and the provincial Departments of the Government of British Columbia agreed upon a plan of dividing the province into "statistical publication areas" which would be, so far as practicable, the divisions according to which both the census of population, agriculture and vital statistics as well as the statistics of Provincial Departments would be compiled and published. It was further agreed that so far as possible these new geographical areas were to be maintained permanently and were to constitute the local entities by which the Bureau and Provincial Departments would prepare their reports.

This arrangement permits the Provincial Departments and the Bureau of Statistics to take a long range view of the industrial, social and economic conditions of the people within fixed areas.

The divisions are given by numbers, the sub-divisions by letters with the units which are comprised in each sub-division listed thereunder.

Owing to the limited and indefinite descriptions of local areas, for previous census years it was not easily possible to show the population for the subdivisions set up in 1931 beyond 1921. For description of census divisions by metes and bounds see appendix "A." A statement at the foot of page 106 gives the population of British Columbia according to the 10 new census divisions for 1931 and previous years.

NOTE.—A chaque recensement antérieur les statistiques de la population et de l'agriculture de la Colombie Britannique ont été compilées et publiées seulement par districts électoraux fédéraux et un nombre de sous-districts vaguement définis dans chaque district. Comme une nouvelle délimitation des districts électoraux fédéraux est faite après chaque recensement décennal, cette méthode de compilation ne fournit pas un plan par lequel il soit possible de mesurer le mouvement de la population par divisions dans la province avec un certain degré d'exactitude, ou d'établir le développement économique et social de la province par localités. Afin d'obvier à cet inconvénient, le Bureau Fédéral de la Statistique et les départements provinciaux du gouvernement de la Colombie Britannique ont convenu d'un plan de division de la province en régions de publications statistiques qui seraient en autant que possible les divisions d'après lesquelles seraient compilés et publiés le recensement de la population, les statistiques vitales et les statistiques agricoles, de même que les statistiques des différents départements provinciaux. Il fut de plus convenu que ces nouvelles régions géographiques seraient autant que possible maintenues en permanence et constitueraient les entités locales sur lesquelles le Bureau et les départements provinciaux prépareraient leurs rapports.

Cet arrangement permet aux départements provinciaux et au Bureau Fédéral de la Statistique de prendre une vue d'ensemble des conditions industrielles, sociales et économiques de la population dans des régions fixes.

Les divisions, indiquées par des numéros, les subdivisions par des lettres avec les unités comprises dans chaque division.

Vu les descriptions limitées et vagues des régions locales des recensements antérieurs, il n'est pas facilement possible de montrer pour chaque subdivision telle qu'établie en 1921 les chiffres comparatifs antérieurement à 1921. Pour description du bornage des subdivisions de recensement, voir l'appendice "A."

Un état paraissant au bas de la page 106 montre la population de la Colombie Britannique suivant les 10 nouvelles divisions de recensement en 1931 et les années des recensement antérieurs.

RURAL AND URBAN

RURALE ET URBAINE

RURAL AND URBAN POPULATION

In all census compilations previous to 1931 the population was divided into two main classes, urban and rural, the former to include all incorporated cities, towns and villages irrespective of size, and the latter the remainder.

This method presented considerable difficulties as the basis upon which incorporation is granted is not uniform for any two provinces.

The following gives a brief reference to legal requirements in this connection:

1. Prince Edward Island. There is no general statute governing the erection of towns or villages, each case being dealt with as application is made to the Legislature.

2. Nova Scotia. At the date of the census there were no incorporated villages in the ordinary sense, although under the "Village Supply Act" limited powers are conferred mainly in connection with certain public utilities.

3. New Brunswick. In New Brunswick an area containing not more than 1,500 acres with a population of not less than 300 may be incorporated as a village.

4. Québec. The statute governing the erection of any territory into a village municipality states that the territory "must contain at least 40 inhabited houses within an area of sixty arpents, and the taxable immovable property must have a value according to the valuation roll of at least $50,000." (The Statute does not mention the number of persons required for incorporation.)

5. Ontario. Before an area may be erected into a village it must have a population exceeding 750 on an area not exceeding 500 acres.

6. Manitoba. The Revised Statutes of Manitoba, 1913 provide that "any locality, (size of area not mentioned) containing 500 inhabitants may on petition of seventy-five per cent of such inhabitants form an incorporated village."

7. Saskatchewan. The Revised Statutes of Saskatchewan provide that "no part of the province shall be erected into a village with an area greater than 640 acres if it contains less than 150 persons actually resident."

8. Alberta. The Revised Statutes of Alberta, 1922 provide that "an area containing 640 acres and having not less than 25 separate dwellings may be erected into a village." (Number of persons not mentioned.)

9. British Columbia. A locality with less than 1,000 population may be erected into a village. The area which may be included within such village is determined by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. (In this province there are cities having fewer than 200 persons; there are no "towns").

In Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta there are several villages with fewer than 100 persons.

In some instances certain incorporated urban communities whose population as ascertained at the last enumeration is lower than that required for incorporation in a certain class, still remain in that class, while in other cases, particularly in the Prairie Provinces, several villages of small and diminishing population have been dissolved and their population included in the adjacent rural municipality. Further, certain summer resorts are incorporated as villages or towns to permit of the enforcement of regulations regarding sanitary conditions and police protection irrespective of the number of their permanent resident population.

Office Practice. In order to maintain comparability of data with previous censuses the general tables of population for 1931 census divide the population into two main classes—rural and urban, the latter to include the population within the incorporated limits of cities, towns and villages, the former the remainder. For many statistical analyses of population data, however, a more detailed and a more nationally uniform method of demarcation is necessary, if an adequate concept of social and economic status of it is to be obtained, and the cultural effect of habitat on the people of a locality disclosed. It was therefore decided to compile the population of the different kinds of urban localities—cities, towns and villages—in three groups by size totals (1) cities of 30,000 population and over, (2) urban places of from 1,000 to 30,000 population and (3) urban centres, whether cities, towns or villages, having less than 1,000 population. The purpose of giving the three classes of urban separately was to permit the investigator to make such combinations as might be desired to elucidate any phase of the social or economic condition of the people according to different urban segregations. The population of cities 30,000 and over is shown separately for the majority of census compilations.

For certain purposes it is essential that the population in villages having less than 1,000 population be dealt with distinctly from the surrounding rural population, a village usually having more cultural advantages than a rural community as regards schools, churches and postal facilities. At the same time the conditions in villages of this class are vastly different from those of larger urban centres, as regards educational and other facilities.

In the compilations of the census of 1931 the Bureau has endeavoured to show the population of metropolitan areas of all cities which have extensive suburban populations. These suburban areas although not incorporated as city, town or village, are yet for many purposes part of the urban centre of which they are satellites, and their population usually enjoy the cultural advantages of the centre around which they are clustered.

POPULATION RURALE ET POPULATION URBAINE

Dans les compilations de tous les recensements précédant celui de 1931, la population était classée sous deux rubriques principales, savoir "population urbaine" et "population rurale", la première comprenant les cités, villes et villages constitués comme tels quelle que soit leur importance, et la seconde, le reste.

Cette méthode présentait bon nombre de difficultés puisque la constitution municipale est différente dans chaque province.

Voici un bref résumé des dispositions relatives aux différentes provinces:

1. Ile du Prince-Edouard. Il n'existe aucun statut général régissant la constitution de villes et villages, chaque demande étant prise en considération par la Législature.

2. Nouvelle-Ecosse. A la date du recensement, il n'existait aucun village constitué comme tel dans le vrai sens du mot, bien que selon les dispositions du "Village Supply Act", des pouvoirs limités soient conférés, notamment en ce qui concerne certaines utilités publiques.

3. Nouveau-Brunswick. Toute superficie de 1,500 acres ou moins ayant une population d'au moins 300 âmes peut être constituée en village.

4. Québec. En vertu des dispositions du statut régissant la constitution de tout territoire en village, tout territoire "doit contenir au moins 40 habitations habitées en deçà d'une superficie de soixante arpents, et les immeubles imposables doivent avoir une évaluation d'au moins $50,000 d'après le rôle." (Aucune mention n'est faite du nombre d'habitants requis pour fins de constitution).

5. Ontario. Avant qu'un territoire puisse être érigé en village, il faut qu'il ait une population de plus de 750 âmes habitant une superficie ne dépassant pas 500 acres.

6. Manitoba. Selon les dispositions des Statuts refondus du Manitoba, 1913, "toute localité (la superficie n'est pas mentionnée) ayant 500 habitants peut être constituée en village sur une demande faite par les trois quarts de la population."

7. Saskatchewan. D'après les dispositions des Statuts refondus de la Saskatchewan "aucune partie de la province ne peut être érigée en village si elle a une superficie de plus de 640 acres et une population de moins de 150 âmes."

8. Alberta. Statuts refondus de l'Alberta, 1922: "Toute superficie de 640 acres et contenant pas moins de 25 habitations séparées peut être érigée en village." (Aucune mention n'est faite du nombre requis d'habitants).

9. Colombie Britannique. Toute agglomération ayant moins de 1,000 habitants peut être constituée en village. Quant à la superficie, la décision est rendue par le Lieutenant-gouverneur en conseil. (Il existe dans la province des cités de moins de 200 âmes et pas de "villes").

Dans les provinces de Manitoba, Saskatchewan et Alberta il existe quelques villages ayant moins de 100 habitants.

Il existe des cas où certaines agglomérations urbaines constituées dont la population lors du dernier dénombrement n'est pas suffisante, demeurent constituées comme villages; il arrive également, surtout dans les Provinces des Prairies, que des villages, dont la population diminue et qui n'ont qu'un petit nombre d'habitants, dissocient; dans ces cas, leur population tombe sous la juridiction des municipalités rurales adjacentes. En plus, il y a certains endroits de villégiature qui sont constitués en ville et villages dans le but de leur permettre de se prévaloir de certains règlements relatifs à l'hygiène et au service policier, sans égard au nombre de la population permanente qui n'est énumérée qu'au recensement.

Méthodes administratives. Afin de maintenir la comparabilité des données des différents recensements, les tableaux d'ensemble de la population relatifs au recensement de 1931 divisent la population en deux catégories principales, soit "population rurale" et "population urbaine", la dernière comprenant la population habitant en deçà des limites des cités, villes et villages, et la première, le reste. Pour bon nombre d'analyses statistiques, toutefois, il est nécessaire d'employer des méthodes plus détaillées et uniformes si on veut se faire une conception plus exacte des conditions sociales et économiques et déterminer l'effet culturel que peut avoir l'habitat sur la population d'une localité. On décida donc de classer la population des différentes catégories d'agglomérations urbaines,—cités, villes et villages,—sous trois rubriques (1) cités de 30,000 âmes et plus, (2) agglomérations urbaines de 1,000 à 30,000 habitants, et (3) agglomérations urbaines,—cités, villes et villages,—de moins de 1,000 âmes. Le but de cette séparation est de permettre à l'investigateur d'effectuer toute combinaison qui pourrait faire ressortir toute phase des conditions sociales et économiques de la population habitant les différentes agglomérations urbaines. La population des cités de 30,000 habitants et plus figure séparément dans la plupart des compilations effectuées conformément aux recensements.

Pour certaines fins, il est essentiel que la population de villages ayant moins de 1,000 habitants soit traitée séparément de la population rurale des environs, un village étant généralement doté de plus d'avantages culturels qu'une agglomération rurale, en ce qui concerne les écoles, les églises et la poste. Il ne faut pas oublier non plus que les conditions dans les villages de cette catégorie diffèrent beaucoup de celles qui existent dans les grands centres urbains en ce qui concerne l'éducation et autres avantages.

Dans les compilations du recensement de 1931, le Bureau a tâché de donner la population des secteurs métropolitains de toutes les cités qui ont une forte population suburbaine. Ces secteurs suburbains, bien qu'ils ne soient pas constitués en cités, villes et villages, font partie, pour bon nombre de fins, du centre urbain dont ils sont les satellites, leurs populations jouissant d'ordinaire des avantages culturels du centre autour duquel elles sont groupées.

(2) La population de River Arm et Rigolet sur Hamilton Inlet a été déduite de la province de Québec, parce que ces territoires ont été cédés à Terre-Neuve par décision du Comité judiciaire du Conseil Privé le 1er mars 1927.

(3) The urban population of 970,791 shown in Volume I, Census 1911, is reduced to 966,842 by the transfer of the population of Maniwaki, Martinville, Moisie, St.-Bruno, St.-Martin and St.-Vincent-de-Paul, from urban to rural and by adjustments in area of the villages of Ste.-Anne and Ste.-Geneviève, and Boundaries Extension Act, 1912. (4) La population urbaine de 970,791 donnée dans le premier volume du recensement de 1911, est réduite à 966,842 par le transfert de la population de Maniwaki, de Martinville, de Moisie, de St.-Bruno, de St.-Martin et de St.-Vincent-de-Paul, de la colonne urbaine à la colonne rurale, ainsi que par les rajustements de superficie des villages de Ste.-Anne et de Ste.-Geneviève, et aussi par l'Acte de l'Extension des Frontières de 1912.

(5) As changed by Boundaries Extension Act, 1912. (6) Tel que changé par l'Acte de l'Extension des Frontières de 1912.

(4) As corrected in Census Report, Prairie Provinces, 1916. (4) Tel que corrigé dans le rapport du recensement des Provinces des Prairies, 1916.

(4) Volume I, Census of 1911 places the urban population of Alberta for that year at 141,937. Included in this figure was the population (5,250) of twelve places which were not then incorporated. The corrections resulting from this and from other small adjustments, consequent upon more definite knowledge as to incorporated areas, place the urban population for 1911 at 137,662. (5) Le premier volume du recensement de 1911 établit la population rurale de l'Alberta à 141,937. Ce chiffre comprend la population (5,250) de douze places qui n'étaient pas alors incorporées. Les corrections occasionnées par ceci et par d'autres rajustements, basés sur une connaissance plus définie des superficies incorporées, permettent de fixer la population urbaine de 1911 à 137,662.
