REPORT

ON THE

ROYAL NORTHWEST MOUNTED POLICE.

ROYAL NORTHWEST MOUNTED POLICE HEADQUARTERS,
REGINA, November 1, 1913.

To The Right Honourable
R. L. BORDEN, P.C., K.C., M.P., &c.,
President of the Privy Council,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police for the year ending 30th September, 1913.

STRENGTH AND DISTRIBUTION OF THE FORCE.

On September 30 the strength of the force was: 55 officers, 708 non-commissioned officers and constables, and 572 horses.

Compared with last year there is an increase of 1 officer, 108 non-commissioned officers and constables, and a decrease of 14 horses.

The following shows the distribution in the different provinces and territories:—

	Commissioner.	Assistant Commissioners.	Superintendents.	Inspectors.	Surgeons and Asst. Surgeons.	Veterinary Surgeon.	Staff Sergeants.	Sergeants.	Corporals.	Acting Corporals.	Constables.	Special Constables.	Total.	Horses	Dogs.
Alberta	1	5	11	1	16	24	31	162	39	290	256	13
Saskatchewan	1	5	22	1	17	24	25	1	269	23	390	292	8
New Manitoba		1	1			4	2		9	5	22		54
Northwest Territories						2	3		5	12	12		14
Yukon Territory		1	3		3	5	3		31	3	49	24	11
Total	1	2	12	37	2	1	36	59	64	1	476	72	763	572	100

Compared with last year, the strength in Alberta has been increased by 38; in Saskatchewan by 55, and in the Northwest Territories by 7.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The strength in Saskatchewan is the greatest because the headquarters and depot are at Regina, and therefore all the administration staff and recruits under training are included.

The force is distributed in the different provinces, etc., as follows:—

	Divisional posts.	Detachments.
Alberta.....	5	95
Saskatchewan.....	4	92
Manitoba.....	1	8
Yukon Territory.....	1	11
	11	211

There is an increase of 26 detachments over last year. The substantial increase of strength authorized last year has placed the force in a much better position to meet the reasonable demands made upon it.

Three new detachments were established on the route to the Chesana gold-fields, in Alaska, which passes through Canadian territory.

Two detachments were opened at Fort Simpson and Fort Resolution on the Mackenzie river in the Northwest Territories. Outposts were also established at Fort McMurray, Dunvegan and Lake Saskatoon in the Peace River district, and at Port Nelson on Hudson bay.

The wide distribution over such a vast area creates difficult problems in efficient control and supply.

CRIME.

A classified summary of the cases entered and the convictions secured is attached to this report. This summary does not include summary convictions dealt with in cities, towns and villages which have municipal police, but includes all cases tried in the Supreme and District Courts.

The following table is a recapitulation:—

RECAPITULATION of summary cases entered and convictions made in the provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta, Manitoba and Yukon Territory, from October 1, 1912, to September 30, 1913.

Province of Saskatchewan.....	8,335	7,050	1,117	168
" Alberta.....	6,745	5,626	979	140

Yukon Territory.....	193	155	35	3
Grand total.....	15,443	12,985	2,146	312

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

There is a total of 12,985 convictions, 1,550 more than last year.

Crimes of violence are on the increase. In the appendix will be found a summary of each case in which the motives and causes are set forth as far as known by us.

In the 44 charges of murder, 12 were the direct result of excessive drinking and drunken brawls, 5 for purposes of gain, 3 by insane persons, 3 infanticide, and the remainder were caused by jealousy, lust, or for revenge.

The amendment to the Criminal Code passed last session with regard to firearms ought to greatly strengthen the hands of the police in preventing the carrying of revolvers, and thus remove the ready weapon which, in the hands of a drunken or angry man, precipitates a tragedy.

I have recently brought to the notice of the immigration authorities the fact that newly-arrived immigrants are found in possession of high-power automatic pistols, and suggested that all such weapons should be confiscated at the port of entry.

With a varied population such as we have in Western Canada, a large percentage of which is floating, there is bound to be an excess of crime as compared with old settled countries where conditions are stable and all classes are well known.

Police work is difficult amongst a floating population. Often the victim of violence is not known and his identity only established after long search, and not always then. The police are handicapped in dealing with foreigners who do not speak English, and who often withhold vital information and evidence.

The 2,135 cases of vagrancy illustrate the floating character of the population. Many are tramps beating their way along the railroads, others are railroad navvies drifting from point to point where work is to be found, whilst others have come in with the yearly migration of harvesters.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

In the appended crime statistics, fifty-four cases of murder are recorded. Forty-four new cases were dealt with during the past twelve months, and ten carried over awaiting trial from the year preceding (1912). The latter were finally disposed of by the courts as follows:—

- Five convicted and sentenced to death, but all latterly commuted to life imprisonment.
- Three convicted of manslaughter.
- One jury acquitted.
- One withdrawn.

Of the forty-four new cases recorded, twelve occurred within the jurisdiction of city police forces, and thirty-two were dealt with by us. For the purpose of this summary, cases handled by the city police and the Mounted Police, are shown separately.

As to the disposition of the twelve city police cases:—

- Two are at present awaiting trial (1 Calgary, 1 Edmonton).
- Two convicted of manslaughter (Regina).
- Two withdrawn prior to preliminary hearing (Edmonton).
- Two jury acquitted (1 Calgary, 1 Saskatoon).
- Four not yet brought to justice (1 Calgary, 3 Edmonton).

And, as to the disposition of the thirty-two cases which came to our notice:—

- Twelve are at present awaiting trial.
- Two convicted and sentenced to death.
- One convicted for accessory after the fact.
- One convicted and sentenced to death, but new trial ordered by court en banc.
- Three convicted of manslaughter.
- Three suicided before arrest could be effected.
- One jury acquitted owing to temporary insanity.
- Four jury acquitted.
- One withdrawn prior to coming up before preliminary hearing.
- One in process of extradition from Missouri, U.S.A.
- Three not yet brought to justice.

Awaiting trial from last year:—

1. Rex. vs. Jasbec. (Galician).—Crown withdrew indictment of murder and substituted one of attempted burglary. To this charge he pleaded guilty; and, as he had already spent nearly a year in custody, the judge released him on suspended sentence on his personal bond of $1,000 to be of good behaviour for a term of two years.

The murder charge against Jasbec arose in connection with the case of Rex vs. Eberts, who was indicted and convicted of the murder of Reg. No. 4584 Constable G. E. Willmett of this force, and whom he brutally shot and killed at Frank, Alta., on the night of April 12, 1908. It was thought that Jasbec was an accessory to the fact, inasmuch as he accompanied Eberts on the night in question, and was present when the murder was committed.

2. Rex vs. Jim Ham alias Mike Running Wolf (Indian).—Jury found verdict of manslaughter; sentenced to life imprisonment.

He was charged with having at near Southesk, Alta., wilfully shot and killed Reg. No. 4837 Constable F. W. Davis of this force, whilst in the execution of his duty, attempting to effect the arrest of the former.

The tragedy was directly attributable to liquor. Jim Ham was intoxicated at the time when he fired the fatal shot, and had three bottles of whisky in his possession, supplied him at Bassano, Alta., by a half-breed.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

No defence was offered at the trial, and the argument of the prisoner's counsel was mainly that the Indian was so crazed by liquor that he did not know what he was doing.

3. Rex vs. Bertrand.—Convicted and sentenced to death; latterly commuted to life imprisonment.

A cold-blooded case of uxoricide. He was charged with having murdered his wife at High River, Alta., by wilfully shooting her with a shot gun.

It appears that Mrs. Bertrand owned certain property which her husband endeavoured to get control and possession of, but she steadily refused to let him get title or control. This matter seems to have been a bone of contention between them for some time, leading to violent quarrels, and ultimately to the crime of which Bertrand was convicted.

4. Rex vs. Verri (half-breed).—Convicted and condemned to death, but latterly commuted to life imprisonment.

A Calgary city police case, result of drunken brawl. Verri stood indicted with the murder of another half-breed by name of Alfred Glenn. It appears that the former was intoxicated, quarrelled with his wife, went out of the tent in which he was living and announced that he was ready to fight anyone. The late Alfred Glenn, a neighbour who lived in an adjoining tent, and had nothing whatever to do with the family quarrel, stuck his head out of the flap of the tent to ascertain the cause of the trouble, whereupon Verri smashed him on the head with a beer bottle, and inflicted serious injuries. Glenn was taken into hospital, but succumbed in about ten days' time.

5. Rex vs. Garland.—Jury found verdict of manslaughter; sentenced to 10 years penitentiary.

A Saskatoon city police case. Result of drunken brawl which occurred in a hotel at Saskatoon, Sask., and which finally led to the stabbing of two men by name of Maloney and Hall, at the hands of Garland. Maloney received a serious wound in the abdomen, and died a few days later in hospital.

6. Rex vs. Stokely.—Convicted and condemned to death, but latterly commuted to life imprisonment.

Edwin Stokely stood here charged with having wilfully shot and killed his brother, Frederick Stokely. They resided on adjoining quarter sections near Webber, Alta., and were recent arrivals from the United States.

Bad blood seemed to have existed between them for some time over certain family affairs, and to which, latterly, difficulties over money matters were added.

7. Rex vs. Ewaniuk (Galician).—Convicted and sentenced to death, but latterly commuted to life imprisonment.

He was indicted with having wilfully shot and killed at near Foam lake, Sask., another Galician by name of Hanko Boyitas.

The crime appears to have been actuated out of jealousy over a young Galician girl, for whom the two men were rivals.

8. Rex vs. Aurischuk (Galician).—Jury acquitted. He was tried on a charge of having wilfully murdered at near Goodeve, Sask., one Joseph Czernowski, a Galician priest of the Independent Greek Church.

The frightfully mutilated and dismembered body of the murdered priest was found on the railway track of the Grand Trunk Pacific. An inquest was held, and in accordance with the finding of the coroner's jury, Aurischuk was arrested and charged with the crime. All the evidence available was wholly of a circumstantial nature, however, and the jury empanelled at the trial before the Supreme Court rendered a verdict of 'Not guilty owing to insufficient evidence.'

9. Rex vs. Luzinski (Galician).—Convicted and sentenced to death; latterly commuted to life imprisonment.

The body of an unknown man—afterwards identified as one Paul Malowski, a Galician in the employ of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, was found in a small bluff covered with brush, within the town limits of Melville, Sask. The left side of the deceased's face had evidently been struck by some heavy instrument, and the post mortem revealed that the jaw and cheek bones had been badly fractured.

One of the Crown witnesses at the trial deposed that on Saturday evening, December 30, 1911, the accused persuaded Malowski to go out with him on the pretext of visiting a farmer three miles away. Malowski at first demurred, because he said he had not suitable or sufficient clothes for the journey, and Luzinski thereupon lent him some of his own. The two men left together, and in about an hour afterwards Luzinski came back alone. He explained that they had met the party on the road, whom they went out to visit, and that Malowski drove on with the farmer, while he (Luzinski) turned back. Malowski was never seen alive again. It was known that Malowski was carrying a considerable amount of money on his person.

Robbery was undoubtedly the motive of the crime, because, when the dead body of Malowski was discovered his pockets were rifled, and all his money and valuables missing.

10. Rex vs. Thiel (German-American).—Jury found verdict of manslaughter with a very strong recommendation to mercy; sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment.

He was charged with having wilfully shot and killed at near Grand Coulee, Sask., one Wm. Parkin, a wealthy farmer (his employer); and shot and seriously wounded the latter's foreman, Leo. Prine. Revenge appears to have been the motive, as Thiel had on the day of the tragedy been convicted by the local City Police Magistrate on proceedings taken against him by the late Mr. Parkin, under the Masters and Servants Act, on a charge of breach of contract.

Thiel admitted the crime, but pleaded he acted in self-defence.

New cases entered during the current year:—

11. Rex vs. Brown (Irishman).—Jury acquitted. Outcome of drunken revelry.

Seven men, in addition to the defendant and John Daly (the deceased victim) congregated in the shack of F. Carley, a homesteader near Russthorn, Sask., on the first Sunday in the New Year. They proceeded to have a drunken spree on two jugs of whisky provided by Daly. The latter grew quarrelsome, and applied a vulgar expression to one Frank W. Hughson, who formed a member of the party. Brown, the accused, intervened and endeavoured to pacify Daly, whereupon Daly then promptly turned on Brown, struck him, which led to a desperate fight between them, while the other members of the party seem to have gazed stupidly on, too intoxicated to interfere. While reeling about the little room, one of the combatants overturned a lamp without extinguishing it, but breaking the chimney, and the fight went on in semi-darkness. Daly, who was bleeding profusely, soon weakened and collapsed unconscious on the floor. They then put him to bed, and found next morning that Daly had expired during the night.

A post mortem was held and established that death was due owing to a fracture of skull. Brown was found culpably responsible by the coroner's jury, and an indictment preferred accordingly.

Brown claimed that Daly had been the aggressor throughout the fatal fight, and successfully pleaded self-defence.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

12. Rex vs. Henke.—Jury rendered verdict of manslaughter, with a strong recommendation to mercy; sentenced to two years penitentiary.

Another case where liquor was primarily responsible for a tragedy.

It appears that Henke, in the company of two other men, were drinking in the bar room of a hotel at Morse, Sask. Henke had a dispute with one of his companions, Shanroth by name, and the former left the hotel intending to get his horses from the livery stable, and return to his homestead, some sixteen miles south of Morse. Shanroth and several others followed him to the barn, where a fight ensued, during which Henke was very severely handled. After the fight, he picked up a bottle, threw it at his assailant and struck an onlooker, one A. Mantz, on the head, causing his death.

13. Rex vs. Mudri (Russian).—Awaiting trial. Another instance where a drunken carousal resolved itself into a tragedy.

Some seven foreigners, mostly Russians, and two Italians, gathered, on Sunday, April 27, last, which was the Russian Easter Sunday, in John Moustak's shack at Passburg, Alta., to celebrate the occasion, which of course meant getting drunk. Mudri swore at one man of the party, whereupon Ignace Kalzek requested him to keep quiet and not to profane the Easter Day. Mudri resented, struck Kalzek and a fight ensued, which ended by Mudri striking Kalzek on the head with a glass, badly cutting the latter's face.

An information was laid against Mudri for assault, causing bodily harm, and the charge tried before two Justices of the Peace at Burnis, Alta., when the accused pleaded 'guilty,' and was sentenced to a fine of $20 and costs.

Later on Kalzek grew worse, blood poisoning setting in, and he died on the 12th May, 1913.

An inquest was held, and after hearing the evidence, the coroner's jury returned the following verdict:—

'That the deceased, Ignace Kalzek, died in the Frank hospital on May 12, 1913, of blood poisoning, which developed from a wound on the face, inflicted by a glass in the hand of Wasyl Mudri, during a drunken brawl in a shack at Police Flats, Passburg, Alta., on the afternoon of April 27, 1913.'

A capital charge was then preferred against Mudri, and he was, in due course, committed for trial to the next court of competent jurisdiction.

The case has since been disposed of at the fall sessions of the Criminal Assizes, when the original charge of murder was reduced by the Crown to manslaughter. The accused pleaded self-defence, and the jury brought in a verdict of 'Not guilty.'

14. Rex vs. Dionne (French-Canadian).—Awaiting trial. This is a Calgary city police case, and our connection only commenced after the defendant had been committed to our custody in our guard-room, awaiting his trial before the Supreme Court.

Dionne is indicted with a particularly fiendish murder of a little girl of about five years of age, whom, it is alleged, he lured to his shack, criminally assaulted, and then in order to hide his crime, brutally murdered the child by almost severing the head from her body with a razor.

15. Rex vs. Anderson (American-Swede).—Awaiting trial. Case of Uxoricide. He is charged with wilfully murdering his wife, Anna Axel Anderson at their homestead near Cereal, Alta., by assaulting her with a hammer and pitch fork, fracturing her skull, and causing almost instant death.

After the crime, Anderson attempted to suicide, and all but succeeded. He, however, is now recovered, and will be tried for his life at the fall sittings of the Supreme Court.

Suspicious of infidelity appear to have been the motive.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

16. Rex vs. Sullivan, alias Salvatore Sarravalli (American-Italian).—Not yet arrested. This man is wanted by the city police of Calgary for shooting and killing one of his compatriots, one John Mayo, at Ogden, a suburb of the city of Calgary.

It is claimed that the crime followed a heated dispute which Mayo had with the accused regarding the respective fighting abilities of the Greeks and Turks.

17. Rex vs. McDougall (Half-breed).—Jury acquitted. Calgary city police case. Outcome of drunken brawl between the defendant and another half-breed by name of Joseph Paul. They had been drinking heavily for some time, picked a quarrel, and McDougall knocked Paul down, jumped on him, and ruptured his stomach, with fatal consequences.

18. Rex vs. Collins.—In process of extradition from Missouri, U.S.A.

Collins is charged with the murder of his employer, John Benson, at Clemens, Alta., where they were engaged in settling. Robbery appears to have been the motive.

19. The Robinson Murder and Suicide.—Suicided before arrest could be effected.

Robinson shot and killed his wife and two children at Rumsey, Alta., and then immediately after, suicided.

From the evidence taken at the inquest it would appear that Robinson was a violent-tempered man, who frequently quarrelled and abused his wife. The immediate cause of the crime is not known, but is seemed to have been unpremeditated, as the breakfast table was found laid in the house, in readiness for the next morning.

20. Rex vs. Racz (Hungarian).—Awaiting new trial. Convicted and condemned to death. Case appealed to court en banc and a new trial ordered. He had to answer to the murder of one Chas. Bruggencate, a Boer, who was proving up a homestead near La Colle Falls, Sask.

Bruggencate was found lying dead on the Colletan trail some seven miles from Prince Albert, with his throat cut and skull fractured. Suspicious pointed to two Hungarian (Emeri Kovach and Louis Racz). They were arrested on a charge of vagrancy, pending further inquiries. Later Kovach made a voluntary statement, practically accusing Racz of the crime. Racz then retaliated and put all the blame on Kovach.

From the evidence it appears that Bruggencate visited the shack jointly occupied by Kovach and Racz. The deceased, it is claimed, was drunk, and in a fighting mood, and his entrance was objected to. He would not leave and they ejected him from the cabin by force. Racz claimed that Kovach then procured a stick from the wood pile and battered Bruggencate to death. In order to hide the crime, they decided to haul the body away from the immediate vicinity of their shack with the deceased's sleigh and horses. While on the way, much to their surprise, the body began to move and Kovach thought they had better 'finish him off' and pulled his knife and cut Bruggencate's throat. They then got off the sleigh and turned the horses loose.

21. Rex vs. Kovach (Hungarian).—Convicted and sentenced to death; latterly commuted to life imprisonment.

The details of the crime of which Kovach was convicted are exactly similar to those quoted in Rex vs. Racz, only that Kovach shouldered all the blame on to Racz, and each endeavoured to convict the other.

22. Rex vs. Simon (female) Hungarian.—Awaiting trial. The defendant is a girl 12½ years old and the victim Julian Janik, a child of only a little over nine years. Her body was found battered to death some nine miles east of Wakaw, Sask.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The police investigation connected the Simon girl with the crime, and she made a voluntary confession as follows:—

'On 21st June, 1913, at about 11 a.m., Julian Janik, who was picking roots with me, found a dead chicken on the ground. She picked up the prairie chicken and hit me in the right eye with it. She then picked up some pieces of hard earth and threw them at me. I then took Julian's shovel from her and hit her on the head with it, and was very angry and cannot remember how many times I hit her over the head with the shovel. Julian fell to the ground and I left her there and went on picking roots until 5 p.m., at which time I arrived home. When I left Julian, she was dead. The reason I have not confessed to this before is because I forgot all about it until the present time.'

23. Rex vs. Schmidt (Ruthenian).—Jury acquitted. Saskatoon city police case. Outcome of a drunken brawl at a wedding party held at the Ruthenian hall at Saskatoon. Considerable liquor was consumed, and several quarrels and fights ensued between the guests, resulting in the eviction of the accused and several others. In a spirit of revenge, he then waylaid the wedding party, and the first man to run foul of him happened to be his best friend, one Alex. Polanski, whom it was alleged he struck with a stick, inflicting injuries with fatal results.

24. Rex vs. Mogush (female) Roumanian.—Awaiting trial. Maria Mogush was initially charged on the information of her husband, Radu Mogush, with the attempted murder of her stepson, Akim Mogush, a lad of 12 years of age, by wilfully shooting him in the head with a 22 calibre rifle.

The subjoined statement taken from the boy's sister, Forcina Mogush, gives a very clear account of the attending circumstances. Her statement is as follows.—

'I am nine years old. The morning my brother was shot I was with him in the kitchen. Stepmother started thrashing us both with a stick and chased us outside into the snow without any boots on. She chased us back into the house into the bedroom. Gust. Franks was in the kitchen. My stepmother went into the kitchen and came back into the room and loaded a 22 rifle, knocked me down on the floor and told my brother she was going to shoot him, and then she shot him. I saw her shoot my brother. After she shot my brother she went into the kitchen. My brother was lying on the floor bleeding. After she had shot my brother she pointed the gun at me and told me she would shoot me if I told father. I was afraid to tell father; after mother shot my brother she laid the rifle down on the table.'

Akim Mogush, after an operation for the relief of a compound fracture of the skull caused by the rifle bullet, died in hospital at Camrose, Alta., the 13th April last, and consequently a capital charge has been substituted for the initial attempted murder one.

25. Rex vs. Fonberg (Swede).—Awaiting trial. Oscar Fonberg is awaiting his trial before the next court of competent jurisdiction for the murder of Reg. No. 4968 the late Corporal Maxwell George Bailey, of this force, whom he wilfully shot and killed at Ross Creek, some twenty miles north of Tofield, Alta., whilst in the lawful discharge of his duty, attempting to effect the arrest of the accused on a warrant under the Insanity Act.

Up to the present, and Fonberg has been in custody since the 25th April last, he has shown no indications of being mentally unbalanced.

26. Rex vs. Main (Canadian).—Awaiting trial. He, it is alleged, wilfully shot and killed, at the farmhouse of Clyde Smith, some nine miles south of Coronation, one Robert G. Metcalf. He calmly walked up to Metcalf and deliberately fired at him point blank, killing him instantly. No tangible motive can be assigned.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

27. Rex vs. Lope (Spaniard).—Awaiting trial. Lope shot and killed at Jasper, Alta., a Finlander by name of Fredrickson, the crime resulting out of a dispute over a game of cards.

28. Rex vs. Rudolph (German).—Awaiting trial. The accused is a youth of 17 years of age, and only recently immigrated from Germany in company of one Carl Gneiting, alias Mall, and Fritz Maurer. They came to Edmonton and from there proceeded to Peers, Alta., a German colony north of Edmonton.

On the 28th July last, the three went out rabbit shooting and whilst in the bush, it is alleged Rudolph wilfully shot and killed Carl Gneiting with a Browning automatic revolver, and also shot at and seriously wounded Fritz Maurer.

The coroner's jury found a true bill against Rudolph without retiring to consider their verdict.

Rudolph claims that both the killing of Gneiting and shooting of Maurer were entirely accidental.

The case has just been disposed of before the fall sessions, when the jury found him 'not guilty' on the homicide charge, but 'Guilty' for the unlawful wounding of Maurer, and was sentenced to 25 years penitentiary.

29. Rex vs. King (female).—Jury acquitted. Case of infanticide. The body of a newly-born infant was found in the cesspool of the Wainwright hotel at Wainwright, Alta. From the evidence given at the inquest, strong suspicions of foul play pointed to the accused, a widow employed as a chambermaid at the hotel.

30-31. Rex vs. Vale and Butler.—Withdrawn prior to coming up before preliminary hearing. Edmonton city police case. Alice Butler and James Vale were held some time in connection with the murder of Sidney Butler on 28th February last, who was found shot and killed in the Hudson's Bay reserve at Edmonton, Alta. Not sufficient evidence could be gathered, and the two were released.

32. Rex vs. Roberto (Italian).—Not yet arrested. Edmonton city police case. Roberto is suspected of the murder of one of his compatriots by name Salvator Demase, in an Italian boarding-house at Edmonton. The suspect is still at large.

33. The Hargraves Murder.—No arrest made as yet. This is also an Edmonton city police case. The deceased body was found on the Hudson's Bay Reserve on Sunday, June 29, 1913. He had been shot.

34. The McNulty Murder.—No arrest made as yet. Another city of Edmonton police case. J. A. McNulty's dead body was found in the shack in which he lived on the Hudson's Bay Reserve at Edmonton. He had been shot and killed with a shot-gun.

35. Rex vs. Davis (female).—Awaiting trial. Edmonton city police case. Mrs. Dean Davis shot and killed one, Sydney Pallant, a bartender of the Empress hotel, Lacombe, Alta., who was spending a day in Edmonton visiting at the Davis House.

36. Rex vs. Hunzak (Russian).—Jury found verdict of manslaughter; sentenced to 20 years penitentiary.

Outcome of drunken brawl. Mike Hunzak and another Russian by name of William Walaitis, employed as section hands on the Canadian Pacific railway at Redcliff, together with a dozen other railway employees, gathered on the 22nd September, 1912, in the section house at Redcliff and appeared to have had a general drunk.

The statement taken by our constable from Carl Bishof, one of the eye-witnesses of the tragedy, gives a clear version of what happened. He deposed as follows:—

‘I work on the section C.P.R. On the night of the 22nd instant, there were 14 of us drinking a little and singing songs. There was nobody drunk. Mike Hunzak got his rifle and bringing it to the present shouted, ‘Who wants to die?’ Walaitis came and took the rifle away from him. There were no shells for the rifle. Mike Hunzak went out to the men’s shack and came back with a shot-gun. Walaitis was, in the meantime, coming out of the section house on his way home. Mike came up with the shot-gun and before saying a word, fired at Walaitis, who fell to the ground, Mike threw his gun down and took to his heels, and Frank Bisul and Jery Lopeter and myself chased him. William Bisul and Jack Mazur went and helped Walaitis and took him into the section house.’

Walaitis was taken into hospital at Medicine Hat for treatment, and died there shortly afterwards as a result of the shot-gun wounds.

37. The John Durda Murder.—No arrest made as yet. The deceased formed a member of a Russian wedding party at Stafford village, Alta., and at which some eighty foreigners attended, all being employees of the local coal mines. The following morning his battered body was found lying dead in the street in the village. An inquest was held and the jury returned an open verdict.

38. The Smith-Kelly Murder.—Smith suicided before arrest could be effected.

William Franklin Smith, proprietor of the Black Hills Roadhouse on the Dawson-Whitehorse trail, shot and killed his wife, Hannah Smith, and also a man named Miles Colin Kelly, and then immediately afterwards suicided. Smith had been drinking heavily, and when intoxicated was of a very violent temper. The real cause of the tragedy is, however, not known.

39. Rex vs. Hammond.—Convicted and at present awaiting execution. A revolting case of infanticide of very sordid details.

The accused is a farmer of near Wynyard, Sask., and was indicted with the wilful murder of the illegitimate infant of his wife’s sister, he being the father of the child.

40. Rex vs. Stich (female) Austrian.—Acquitted. This is also a case of infanticide, and the defendant a young Austrian girl of about 16 years of age. The prosecution failed, owing to inability of medical expert to positively swear as to whether the child had been born alive or dead.

41. Rex vs. Gibbons (female).—Jury found verdict of ‘Not guilty,’ owing to temporary insanity.

At the fall assizes of last year, Matilda Gibbons, the wife of a farmer residing at Meadowvale, Sask., was tried for the murder of her five-year-old daughter. She gave Paris green to her two eldest children, but almost immediately afterwards repented, and did all in her power to save their lives by administering antidotes. The eldest recovered, but the other died from the effects of the poison.

42. Rex vs. Szewezuk (Galician).—Awaiting trial. The defendant and his unfortunate victim, a fellow countryman by name of Steve Solingski, seemed to have had some little difference in the past. They met again at Yorkton, Sask., at a wedding party, and at which considerable liquor was consumed. Szewezuk appears to have been more or less intoxicated, and quarreled with Solingski. Later on during the evening, Szewezuk attacked the deceased with a fence post, fracturing the skull, death ensuing the following morning in hospital.

43. Rex vs. Walters.—Awaiting trial. A practical joke enacted at Verigin, terminated here into a tragedy. The deceased, H. E. Whelham, together with a number of others, decided to play a prank upon the accused. He greatly resented, procured a 22 rifle and shot Whelham in the stomach, with fatal results.

44-45. Rex vs. Caldwell (female) and Foy.—Awaiting trial. A very cold-blooded case of infanticide.

Mrs. Jane Caldwell and Austin Foy stand here indicted with the wilful murder of the newly-born illegitimate infant daughter of Mrs. Maude Greenman, a widow, living on a farm some ten miles north of Eyebrow, Sask. Mrs. Caldwell acted as mid-wife, and Foy is the father of Mrs. Greenman, and made his home with his daughter, and, it is alleged, actively assisted in the crime.

It is asserted that in order to hide the disgrace, the child shortly after birth, was placed in an outhouse during bitterly cold winter weather, and allowed to die of exposure.

Mrs. Greenman, the prosecution claims, was a consenting party, and she has been charged with conspiracy to the murder.

46. Rex vs. Donisan (Roumanian).—Jury acquitted. He shot and killed, some 16 miles northwest of Viceroy, his brother-in-law, William Paluik. The defendant pleaded self-defence, and the jury returned a verdict of 'Not guilty.'

47-48. Rex vs. White (female) and Goldspink.—The former was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to ten years penitentiary. The latter, the jury acquitted on a capital charge, but subsequently convicted for an accessory after the fact, and was sentenced to five years penitentiary.

Mrs. Dora White had to answer for the murder of her husband, who was in the dray business at Govan, Sask. From the evidence adduced, it appears that the deceased was a regular drunkard, and frequently quarrelled with his wife and abused her. On the night of the crime in question, he came home intoxicated and started to abuse her as usual, whereupon she belaboured him with a hatchet, and badly fractured his skull. Goldspink, the hired man, was in the house at the time, and assisted to carry the body out to the stable late at night. Next morning, Goldspink gave out that he had found White's body in the stable, and was apparently kicked to death by the horses.

49-50. Rex vs. Buckrigczuk and Gordeczuk (Poles).—Convicted of manslaughter; sentenced each to 15 years penitentiary.

A Regina city police case. A pre-arranged murderous attack on another Pole by name of Szatowski, whom they jointly assaulted in the streets of Regina with heavy lead weights, and battered to death.

Revenge over a beating which the deceased gave to one of their compatriots, some two or three weeks previously, is said to have been the motive.

51-52. Rex vs. Price and Stortle.—The former suicided before arrest could be effected, and the latter was discharged prior to coming up before preliminary hearing.

The body of Ralph Warwick was found in the stable on his farm near Invernairn, Sask., apparently kicked to death by the horses. There were, however, certain suspicious circumstances which, on a thorough investigation, establish beyond doubt that Price had beaten Warwick to death, and placed the body in the stable in order to hide the crime. A warrant for Price's apprehension was issued, but before it could be executed, he suicided in a hotel at Moosejaw.

Stortle was Price's hired man, and it was thought likely that he might have been implicated, but no incriminating evidence could be found, and he was accordingly released from custody.

Mrs. Amy Christine Warwick, the wife of the late Ralph Warwick, had a charge of conspiracy to murder preferred against her, but was found not guilty by the jury.

53. The Allan McKay Murder.—No arrest made as yet. During the early part of July last a dead body, latterly indentified as Allan McKay, was found in the Bow river, near Banff, Alta. The post mortem established that the skull was fractured, and that there was no water in the lungs, showing that the man was dead before he entered the water.

McKay had been working as a labourer at the C.P.R. hotel at Banff, and was last seen on the 6th June. He drank considerably and had given up work at the end of May. These, briefly, are the facts, and as the case is still under investigation, further details would here hardly serve any useful purpose.

54. The D'Anna Bruno Murder.—No arrest made as yet. The deceased is an Italian, and was employed as a section hand on the C.P.R. at Pasqua, Sask., for only about a week prior to his death. His dead body, with a bullet wound in the abdomen, was found on the 11th September last beside the trail between Moosejaw and Pasqua, and his pockets rifled. Bruno only arrived in Canada during the middle of May last and has no relatives in this country.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

A total of forty-two cases are shown under this heading; six carried over as awaiting trial from last year. The latter resulted as follows:—

- One still at present awaiting trial.
- Two convicted as charged.
- One found insane and committed as such to asylum.
- One convicted on reduced charge of assault on peace officer.
- One convicted on charge of pointing a revolver.

As to the thirty-six new cases dealt with during the past twelve months:—

- Thirteen are at present awaiting trial.
- Four convicted as charged.
- Two convicted on reduced charges of assault with intent.
- Three convicted of unlawful wounding.
- Four convicted of common assault.
- One dismissed at preliminary hearing.
- Three withdrawn.
- Five dismissed.
- One suicided before arrest could be effected.

Awaiting trial from last year:—

1. Rex vs. Finer.—Convicted, sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

The accused and one, Robert Younger, met in a restaurant at Swift Current, Sask., and had some words and came to blows. Younger knocked Finer down, bystanders interfered, separated them, and they then left the premises.

Shortly afterwards, Younger was standing on the street talking to another man, when Finer again appeared on the scene. Younger went up to see what he wanted, whereupon Finer stabbed him twice with a knife, inflicting two serious wounds in the neck.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

2. Rex vs. Leshures.—Committed to the Brandon Asylum for the insane, by order of the Attorney General.

Arthur Leshures (son of Geo. A. Leshures) a farmer living some seven miles north of Swift Current, was charged by his father with wounding with intent to murder, by striking him on the head with a large garden hoe.

The crime appears to have resulted out of a general family squabble. From the evidence it appeared that the accused was an epileptic, and not quite responsible for his actions after a violent fit of temper. By order of the Attorney General he was committed to the Brandon Asylum for the insane, for treatment.

3. Rex vs. Banside (Syrian).—Still awaiting trial. One of Banside's compatriots, by name of M. Kazil, charges the defendant with attempted stabbing with intent there and then to murder the said M. Kazil.

Both are farmers residing at a small Syrian settlement near Waldeck, Sask. The charge appears to have been the outcome of a quarrel over certain alleged damages done by Kazil's cattle to a flax crop of a neighbouring settler. Banside was committed for trial on the 20th September, 1912, but the case has not yet been finally disposed of.

4. Rex vs. Warasail.—Convicted on a reduced charge of assault on peace officer; sentenced to two years penitentiary.

Result of drunken brawl. Warasail was employed on the Canadian Northern railway near Blackfalds, Alta., and, with a number of his fellow labourers, came into town and proceeded to have a spree at the local hotel. As a matter of course, they got unruly, and the proprietor of the establishment called in the village constable. He attempted to arrest one of the gang, a man by name of Robertson, but he violently resisted. At this stage Warasail interfered and tried to stab the constable from behind, and was only prevented from doing so by the timely aid of the porter of the hotel, who knocked the accused's hand away.

The agent of the Attorney General reduced the attempted murder charge to one of assault on peace officer. To this charge Warasail pleaded 'guilty' and was sentenced to two years penitentiary.

5. Rex vs. Carroll.—Found not guilty of attempted murder, but guilty of pointing a revolver; sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment, with hard labour, in the Lethbridge guard-room.

The case was handled by the municipal police of Taber, Alta.

From the evidence it appears that Carroll, just prior to the offence with which he stood indicted, was visiting a house of ill-fame at Blairmore, Alta., and told an inmate of the resort that he intended to shoot a man by name of H. F. Annable, of Taber, Alta.

Early next morning, the accused was found with a gun in Mr. Annable's house at Taber, and threatened to shoot him. The gun was eventually, however, taken away from him, and it appears also that he had been drinking heavily for some time, and was evidently not quite responsible for his actions.

Jealousy over an alleged intrigue with a married woman appears to have been the motive.

6. Rex vs. Christian.—Convicted; sentenced to three years penitentiary. A Lethbridge city police case.

The defendant was here charged with having wilfully shot, with intent to murder, one Pat Egan, formerly a detective in the employ of the city police at Lethbridge, Alta.

Revenge seems to have been the motive, as Egan, whilst still a member of the city force, had, on two previous occasions, ordered the defendant out of the city.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

New cases entered during the current year:—

7. Rex vs. Peterson (Swede).—Convicted and sentenced to three years, penitentiary. Peterson was convicted on three indictments:—

(a) Shooting with intent to kill Hannah Pettersen, at Unity, on February 12, 1913.

(b) At Unity, on February 12, 1913, did assault one Annie Christiansan, occasioning bodily harm.

(c) At the same place and date did assault Annie Christiansan with intent to commit the indictable offence of rape.

Peterson, prior to the commission of the crime, had been staying for some five weeks at the home of Andrew Christiansan, a settler living about eleven miles south of Unity.

Hannah Pettersen, whom he attempted to murder, is a Norwegian woman of 55 years of age, and was employed as housekeeper at the Christiansan farm. Peterson followed the poor old woman into a chicken coop and shot her twice in the head with a revolver, simply to have her out of the way, and then intended to ravish his host's 15-year old daughter, Annie Christiansan, whom he actually indecently assaulted, directly after the shooting, but fortunately did not succeed.

8. Rex vs. Thunder Blanket (Indian).—Convicted on a reduced charge of assault with intent to cause bodily harm; sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

Thunder Blanket shot and wounded four young Indians whilst they were on their way home from a feast on Sweetgrass reserve.

The accused claimed that he fired at these men in order to scare them as they had thrown some stones at his shack while passing, but did not intend to hit them.

9. Rex vs. Drant.—Awaiting trial. The defendant is a restaurant-keeper at Cadogan, Alta., and was charged on the information of his wife, Elizabeth Drant, with the attempted murder of the informant.

Mrs. Drant made the following statement:—

'I know the accused, he is my husband. Yesterday, the 21st day of February, he attempted to shoot me with the gun. (Gun produced.) Yes, that is the gun. He had a holster full of shells. (Holster produced.) Yes, that is the same. (Gun marked Exhibit A, belt full of shells marked Exhibit B.) He was slightly intoxicated when he came into the house yesterday about 6 p.m., sat down, had a plate of supper, said "this will be the last supper I'll have." Said I will finish you and myself too. Before he had his supper he went up stairs and got his gun, and belt of shells, the gun and shells were beside him when he had his supper. After he had his supper, he grabbed the gun and shells, and threatened to shoot me. He said, "I am going to shoot you." He was stopped by Walter Carter, who took the gun away from him. He went behind him and took the gun. I went out of the house then and went to R. P. Legate, J.P., and had him arrested. This is not the first time he has threatened to take my life, and once, last October, he shot three times at myself and daughter, while we were out walking.'

10. Rex vs. Harvey.—Convicted and sentenced to seven years' penitentiary.

Harvey seriously wounded, at or near Yarrow, Alta., one John McRae, by shooting him in the head with a shot-gun. On examination at the hospital McRae was found to have been struck by no less than 60 lead pellets.

Revenge, resulting out of an alleged grievance over a hay lease, appears to have been the motive.

11. Rex vs. Salvadore (Italian).—Awaiting trial. The accused had a dispute outside of a hotel at Passburg, Alta., with one of his compatriots, Bill Mustica by name, and threatened to kill him. On reaching home, Salvadore then deliberately fired a number of shots out of a shot-gun into Mustica's shack, but fortunately only one pellet took effect.

The case has since been disposed of at the fall sessions of the Criminal Assizes, when the jury convicted him of common assault, and Salvadore was sentenced to one year's imprisonment. His Lordship, Chief Justice Harvey, in passing sentence commented that the case was too serious to be passed over lightly, and that the verdict returned was not a true one under the circumstances. He would therefore impose the limit that the law allowed.

12. Rex vs. Wilkinson (female).—Dismissed at preliminary hearing. This case occurred at Bowden, Alta., The defendant is an old woman of about 70 years of age, said to be weak-minded and possessed of a most violent temper. She got into a heated altercation with a Chinaman over some chickens which both claimed, and finally ended with her picking up an iron sleigh shoe and hitting the Chinaman over the head with it. He was quite badly hurt and in a precarious condition for some time.

13. Rex vs. Froby.—Dismissed. The complainant, Jessie Froby, charged her husband, R. E. Froby, for that he on the 17th April, 1913, at near Rowley, Alta., did attempt to shoot her with intent to commit murder.

After hearing the evidence of the two principal witnesses the judge dismissed the case, saying that a charge of common assault could not be placed against Froby on the evidence produced.

14-17. Rex vs. Marketo, Matrullo, Carona and Sam City (Italians).—The two former were convicted of assault and sentenced to seven days' imprisonment, while the two latter were discharged. Calgary city police case.

The above named were charged with the shooting and wounding of one of their compatriots, Sposito by name. The murderous assault is said to have been quite unprovoked as far as Sposito is concerned.

18-19. Rex vs Pritchard and Irwin.—The jury found the former guilty of causing actual bodily harm; sentenced to a fine of $200 to be paid forthwith, or in default, one year hard labour in the Prince Albert common jail. The latter was acquitted.

The crime occurred in the Halcrow district, some eighteen miles from Prince Albert, Sask. The attending circumstances are fully detailed in the subjoined statement taken from Herman Bird, the complainant in the case. His version is as follows:—

'I am a farmer living at Halcrow. On the evening of November 30, Middleton Pritchard called at my house at 5 p.m. and told me that Ned Irwin wanted to see me outside to give me a drink. I went out, and Irwin was standing beside a sleigh about eighty yards from my house. Pritchard gave me about a teaspoonful of whisky and then started to talk about a fight I had had with his brother-in-law two years ago. He told me that if I licked his brother-in-law I could not lick him. He then threw off his coat and got hold of me. Irwin then said I am in this too, and also took off his coat. I got away and ran for the house. I had gone about 30 yards when I heard a shot and felt my heel was numb. I kept on running and heard another shot. My wife met me near the house. We both went in. We heard them say afterwards. "We will drive past the house and shoot through the window." I also heard Irwin say. "What did you shoot at him for." I was wearing a leather boot and an overshoe at the time I was shot.'

20. The Frank Hannan Attempted Murder and Suicide.—Suicided before arrest could be effected. Frank Hannan, a farmer of near Brock, Sask., attempted to murder his wife, Winnifred Hannan, with a razor. An idea of how frightfully the poor woman was cut about the face and neck can be gathered from the fact that the doctor found it necessary to put between 50 and 60 stitches in her wounds.

Her deceased husband is said to have been a very quiet and orderly man, and was apparently on the best of terms with his wife. It also appears that he owned some land in Illinois, U.S.A., which was heavily mortgaged. A few days prior to the crime, he was advised that foreclosure proceedings of the mortgage would be taken, and this appears to have preyed heavily on his mind, and is the only tangible motive which can be assigned.

Mrs. Hannan's story of the murderous assault is as follows:—

'I am the wife of Mr. Hannan; my husband got out of bed about 7.30 a.m. on the morning of the 3rd instant, and then he went out into the barn and did his morning's work. I was still in bed when he came back to the house. He went into the closet and I asked him what he was looking for. He said his smoking tobacco. I got up and sat on the bed to dress, and he sat down beside me. He had his hand in his hip pocket. He caught me by the shoulders and threw me on the bed. I saw a razor in his hand and screamed for help. He did not speak a word. He put his knees on my chest, and slashed me with a razor across the face and neck, but I struggled with him and in the struggle fell on the floor. I got the razor out of his grasp, he ran to the window and jumped through it to the ground, about 12 feet. I got up and ran down stairs. I still had the razor in my hand. I did not see him after he jumped through the window. We were married in 1899 and my husband seemed to act quite rationally until he made the attack on me. I can ascribe no motive for his act.'

Hannan immediately afterwards suicided by hanging himself.

21. Rex vs Harpool.—Convicted of unlawful wounding; released on suspended sentence on furnishing surety in two thousand dollars for good behaviour.

The defendant was employed in a railway contractor's camp near Burtonville, Alta; Harpool, it appears, whilst intoxicated, went into his wife's tent and without any provocation whatever, started to beat her, whereupon the men around the camp interfered, and was himself set upon. During the ensuing struggle he drew a razor, and badly slashed a man named Frayne.

22. Rex vs Pozaza (Italian).—Convicted on a reduced charge of unlawful wounding; sentenced to two years penitentiary.

Pozaza stabbed, at near Lac Ste. Anne, Alta., one Felix Plante, a half-breed. The crime resulted out of a dispute over a bottle of whisky.

23. Rex vs. Ess (Negro).—Convicted on a reduced charge of unlawful wounding. Sentenced to two months' imprisonment.

This case arose over a small sum of money owed by Charles Ess to one T. E. Sikes, another coloured man, which resulted in a quarrel in the Commercial hotel at Edson, Alta., and which ended in the stabbing of the complainant.

24. Rex vs. Ring.—Awaiting trial. The accused was freighting some billiard tables from St. Albert to Onway, Alta., for Messrs. Bowser and Matzger, two young Englishmen who own a pool room at Onway. On delivering the tables at Onway, Ring demanded immediate payment of cartage charges. Matzger had not sufficient funds on his person and asked Ring to accompany him to their store when he would settle the account, Ring however appears to have been unreasonable and replied, 'I want it right now' and then walked to his house some 150 yards away.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

He immediately returned armed with a .45 Colts revolver, threatened 'to fix' Matzger and struck him over the head with it causing a fracture of the skull.

Matzger was in a very critical condition for some time, but ultimately recovered.

25-26. Rex vs. Peter and Gust, Franks (Roumanians).—Awaiting trial. These two men are brothers of Mary Mogush, who is at present awaiting trial for the murder of her stepson, Akim Mogush. His father, Rader Mogush was shot and seriously injured in the stomach by some men who had collected outside of his house after dark, and who the complainant claims were Peter and Gust Franks.

27. Rex vs. Calvin.—Awaiting trial. The accused was employed as hired man on the farm of Mr. John Parr, near Castor, Alta. It is alleged he attempted to poison the whole family by putting strychnine in their food.

28. Rex vs. Du Duit (Mexican). Awaiting trial. Result of dispute over the payment of a bill which Du Duit claimed was due him by one Carl Lindfors, a Swede, at Clyde, Alta. They came to blows, and when matters looked serious, Lindfors took to his heels, and Du Duit accelerated his retreat by firing a couple of shots from a revolver after him.

29-31. Rex vs. Vernon, Martin and Johnson.—Withdrawn. During the early hours of the morning of September 20, 1912, Messrs. Fowler & Co.'s store at Wetaskiwin was broken into. The town constable on night duty noticed that the door of the store was open and was about to enter to investigate when he was shot down from within. He reports that three men made up the gang, but the night was so intensely dark that he could give only a very meagre description.

We were called in to assist, and after an exhaustive investigation and search, found that the gang consisted of John McKay alias O'Brien, Victor Vernon alias Lawson, and James Johnson alias Beall.

The first named was in the meantime arrested at Lethbridge on charges of burglary and attempted murder, convicted and sentenced to 20 years penitentiary. The others had in the interim made their way to Edmonton, Alta., and were arrested by the city police at that point on a variety of charges of burglary, robbery, etc. Whilst confined in our guard-room at Fort Saskatchewan, awaiting their trial before the next court of competent jurisdiction, every endeavour was made to connect them with the shooting of Town Constable Allen at Wetaskiwin. Owing to the intense darkness at the time when the shooting occurred, he was, however, unable to positively identify them, and it was therefore not deemed advisable to bring the case to court, particularly as Vernon and Martin were sentenced on the Edmonton charges to four years and one year respectively.

32. Rex vs. Ross.—Convicted; sentenced to one year's imprisonment. An Edmonton city police case.

Ross entered Messrs. Lewis Bros. café and tried to hold up a number of diners at the point of a gun. Failing to get the money he wanted, he began shooting up the place. He then ran out into the street and several men started in pursuit of him, one of whom he shot in the head. He made good his escape but was traced to Seattle, Wash., U.S.A., and brought back from there to stand his trial.

33. Rex vs. O'Brien.—Awaiting trial. This is also an Edmonton city police case. He shot a bartender in the Castle hotel in June last at Edmonton, Alta.

34. Rex vs. McKay.—Convicted; sentenced to 20 years Alberta penitentiary. A Lethbridge city police case. He was caught trying to burglarize a private house at Lethbridge, and used his gun in attempting to escape.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

35. Rex vs. Stemco (Galician).—Awaiting trial. A Medicine Hat city police case. Outcome of a drunken brawl among a number of Galicians, during the course of which the defendant struck one of his countrymen, Andrew Chiswick, three times over the head with a large stone, causing three serious fractures of the skull.

36. Rex vs. Lotella (Italian).—Awaiting trial. The accused attacked, at Hardieville, Alta., one of his compatriots, Tony Lombard, with a razor and slashed his throat. Lotella must have used considerable force because the razor broke, and a piece of the blade had to be removed from the wound by the doctor.

The crime appears to have been actuated out of a motive of jealousy over a woman.

37. Rex vs. Lombard (Italian).—Awaiting trial. Lethbridge city police case. Shortly after Lotella, the defendant in the foregoing case, had been released on bail, he met Lombard, who produced a revolver and threatened to shoot him. By-standers interfered and prevented him from carrying his threat into effect.

38. Rex vs. Scott.—Dismissed. Regina city police case, and aroused a lot of interest at the time as both the defendant, J. D. Scott, and the complainant, H. B. Lewis, were well-known young men. The former was the president of the Northwest Canada Lands Co., and the latter, the manager and business partner. On the 1st of March, 1913, an explosion occurred on their premises while Lewis was in the office, slightly hurting him, and he charged Scott with having wilfully caused the explosion with intent to murder the said Lewis. Scott was duly committed at the preliminary hearing. Lewis, the principal Crown witness, in the meantime, went over to the United States, and was not on hand when the case came up for trial before the Supreme Court. A remand was asked for and the case allowed to stand over until the next Court sittings. Lewis was communicated with and signified that he had no intentions of returning and the case was therefore dropped at the next Criminal Assizes.

39. Rex vs. Atz (German-American).—Awaiting trial. Atz was employed on the C. D. Bennison farm near Wauchope, Sask., and murderously assaulted his employer with a single-tree, beating him into unconsciousness. Immediately afterwards he also brutally attacked his fellow employee on the farm, one Leonard Warne, clubbing him with a .22 rifle, causing a fracture of the jaw and other serious injuries.

It was an entirely unprovoked assault, and no real motive can be assigned. It is said however that Atz is somewhat 'queer' at times.

40. Rex vs. Wrolson (American).—Awaiting trial. The defendant drove into Preeceville, Sask., accompanied by Mrs. Annie Sather, to do some shopping. Whilst in town, he appeared to have employed his time in getting more or less intoxicated. On their return journey he quarrelled with Mrs. Sather, and on reaching home, went into the house, procured a rifle and threatened her. She hurriedly endeavoured to seek shelter behind the house, whereupon he fired a couple of shots out of the rifle at the retreating woman, fortunately without taking effect.

41. Rex vs. Kostinuk (Galician).—Jury found verdict of common assault; sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

Kostinuk, a homesteader near Stenen, Sask., stood here charged with the attempted murder of his mother-in-law. The evidence of his wife, Nettie Kostinuk, given at the preliminary hearing, sets forth a clear account of the circumstances which led up to the shooting.

She deposed as follows:—

'I have been out in this country since last fall. I am forty-three years of age. I have two children alive (three dead) to the accused, two boys, one 6 and the other 3 years. My husband, the accused, came home from Stenen on Monday, February 3. He was not drunk. He had dinner and started talking about a dream that he had had the night before. He said that he dreamt that he caught me in bed with another fellow. He said that it was not only one, but lots of fellows slept with me. Then he told me to put the gun in my mouth and swear if his dream was true or not. "Tell me, you ——, if I am right or not," he said, "or I will shoot you." I hid myself behind my mother, and he hit me on the chin with his fist, and I fell down. Then he went to my daughter, his step-daughter and said, "Tell the truth you ——, or I will kill you." Then he went to my mother and put the gun to her stomach and George Churnsky struck the gun down and the shot went under the bed. The accused then shouted, "Shells, shells, more shells, and I will shoot you." He intended this for me. He got more shells, but George Churnsky took them away from him, and told the accused that it was bad to shoot.'

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

42. Rex vs. Kowal (Galician).—Jury convicted of common assault; sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

Result of family differences. The crime took place near Ebenezer, Sask., where the defendant was proving up a homestead. It appears that his wife, Polly Kowal, whom he accused of infidelity, had been living apart from her husband for some time, making her home with her parents on a farm near Hamton, Sask. He went to his father-in-law's house, and asked for his wife. On her appearance, he threatened to shoot her with a loaded revolver. She attempted to wrest the weapon from him, and during the ensuing struggle, it exploded, striking her brother, George Usik, in the arm, causing a compound fracture.

MANSLAUGHTER.

Twelve cases are recorded under this heading; one carried over from last year, while eleven new cases were dealt with during the past twelve months.

Awaiting trial from last year:—

1. Rex vs. Lawrence (half-breed).—Jury acquitted. Pierre Thoma and the accused, accompanied by a boy of the Beaver Indian tribe, went on a moose hunt.

Lawrence and the boy returned some days later to their camp at Spirit River, Alta., and, on being questioned what had become of Pierre Thoma, stated that they had separated and followed different routes, suggesting that he (Thoma) might have lost his way in the bush. A search party was sent out, who, a few days later, located Thoma's dead body some thirty miles out in the bush west of Spirit river, with a bullet wound in the back and neck, apparently having been shot from behind. On investigation, Lawrence was found responsible, as it was established that he had shot the deceased in mistake for a moose.

2. Rex vs. Duck (Menonite).—Awaiting trial. Elizabeth Duck, wife of the defendant, John Duck, a farmer of near Neville, Sask., complained that her four year old boy Peter was taken ill a fortnight ago with pneumonia; that her husband steadily refused to call medical aid, although strongly urged by her to do so; and that, in consequence of the neglect, the boy died.

She also complained that the fall previous she had lost a child under similar circumstances.

3-4. Rex vs. McKenna and Burnett.—Discharged prior to coming up before preliminary hearing.

The charge arose out of a head-on collision between two freight trains at near Claresholm, Alta., on the Macleod-Calgary branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, a foreman by name of Ulley, losing his life in consequence. It was alleged that the accident was due owing to the misreading of orders by conductor McKenna and Engineer Burnett.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

An inquest was held and the coroner's jury attributed the accident not only to the mis-reading of orders, but also to the fact that the oil head-light of the approaching train was not visible owing to escaping steam.

On this verdict being rendered, the Attorney General's Department decided to take no further action.

5. Rex vs. Clutterbuck.—Dismissed at preliminary hearing. This is another shooting tragedy with the proverbial 'Didn't know it was loaded.' Lawrence Clutterbuck, aged 15, accidentally shot and killed, at Red Deer, Alta., with a revolver, his brother Bernard, two years his junior.

The coroner's jury held that the accident was due owing to the culpable negligence of Lawrence Clutterbuck, and he was charged accordingly, but the case was thrown out by the magistrate at the preliminary hearing.

6. Rex vs. Irvine.—Jury acquitted. Religious mania resulted here into a fatality. The coroner at Calgary reported to the Mounted Police on 12th December last that certain suspicious circumstances surrounded the death of two persons on the farm of one Alfred Henry Irvine, living some 12 miles north of Calgary, Alta.

On inquiry, Mrs. Irvine was found lying dead in bed, fully dressed, apparently as she had died; and, in an adjoining room, the dead body of an infant, badly decomposed.

The inquest established that the child had died some time during October, and that Mrs. Irvine, two weeks prior to her demise, had deprived herself of all food and drink, hoping through fasting and praying the child would be restored to life through her sanctification.

It appears Mrs. Irvine was an adherent of the Apostolic or Pentecostal faith, a new religious sect which believes in divine healing.

The coroner's jury found that Mrs. Henrietta Irvine came to her death as a result of voluntary starvation. Further, that her husband was guilty of negligence in that he permitted his wife to conceal the death of his infant son, and later, permitted his wife to inflict upon herself such privations as would, by law of nature, cause death following starvation.

7. Rex vs. Pelkey.—Jury acquitted. Arthur Pelkey, in a boxing match held at Burns' arena, just outside of the city limits of Calgary, Alta., between the defendant and one Luther McCarthy, rendered the latter unconscious from a blow to the jaw, and died some three hours later on the same evening. Although the coroner's jury did not find Pelkey culpably responsible the police preferred a charge of manslaughter against him, which resulted as above stated.

8. Rex vs. Fisher.—Convicted, sentenced to one month's imprisonment. A party of men from Prince Albert were hunting big game north of that city. Two of the party, Charles and William Porter, started out for a day's hunt by themselves. Another hunter, who later turned out to be Adam Fisher, but not a member of the party, came across William Porter, mistook him for a wild animal and shot him in the upper part of the leg. The injured man was rushed into hospital, but died there shortly afterwards.

9. Rex vs. Carson.—Awaiting trial. A miner by name of Samuel Popovitch, employed in the Lethbridge collieries, was accidentally injured through the premature explosion of a blasting charge in the mine.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

On an inquest being held, the coroner's jury charged carelessness on the part of defendant, the fire boss of the Lethbridge collieries, and an indictment of manslaughter was accordingly preferred against him.

10-12. Rex vs. John Cojocari, Nicolai Cojocari and Mordari Puscar (Roumanians).—Awaiting trial. These men, it is alleged, assaulted one of their compatriots, John Paicu, at a christening, and fatally injured him, death resulting shortly after.

The case has since been brought to trial, when the Crown withdrew the charge owing to lack of evidence.

Drunks, petty thefts and stealing rides on railways, which form a large percentage of convictions, come from the same class.

Convictions under provincial statutes, which are not criminal, account for one-quarter of the convictions.

Our duties in connection with crime are carried out for the Department of the Attorneys General of the provinces.

I desire to acknowledge the support and assistance which we have invariably received from them.

GUARD-ROOMS.

Thirteen guard-rooms are still used as places of detention for prisoners: 5,626 were received during the year, and on 30th September, 1913, 378 were in custody. This is about the average number held by us daily throughout the year.

Our accommodation is entirely inadequate, and has been for many years. I have recently brought these conditions to the notice of the Comptroller.

The only modern guard-room is at Edmonton, erected this year. It was only intended as a place of detention for persons held temporarily. It is suitably arranged for male and female prisoners, has padded cells for lunatics, is steam heated, has modern sanitary arrangements, and has forced ventilation.

The wooden buildings erected many years are without proper facilities for classifying and safe keeping of prisoners, and the danger from fire is very great.

Although so overcrowded, we have never refused to accept a prisoner for this reason, holding that it was our duty to carry on the business of the country as best we could.

The duty of supporting jails is with the provinces, and I trust that the provision may be made by them in the near future.

The tax on our strength for guards and escorts is too great. The prison duties are regarded with aversion by the men.

There were 377 lunatics passed through our hands, and it is hardly necessary to comment on the disagreeable work in handling these unfortunate people. Many come from isolated homesteads, and of necessity have to be held in confinement where there is no adequate accommodation until such times as the necessary papers for commitment to the asylum can be procured.

ALBERTA AND SASKATCHEWAN.

I have elsewhere commented on the criminal statistics. Our duties in these provinces are altogether connected with criminal work.

But in addition to the actual investigation of offences, this force attends upon all sittings of the Supreme Court, and criminal trials in district courts, escorts prisoners to and from courts, and serves subpoena in all criminal cases. For the Autumn Assizes in the Edmonton district, over 300 subpoenas, all over that district, had to be served, some occupying a constable for days.

Added to the above, prisoners convicted in cities are handed over to us for escort to jail, occupying the time of many men.

After all the foregoing urgent calls have been met, there is not much time left for patrolling.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

As illustrating the daily work of a constable, I quote from the weekly diary of a constable on detached duty:—

Copy of Detachment Diary for week ending October 25, 1913.

Sunday, October 19.—Constable Binning, with horse Reg. No. 395, left detachment at 9 a.m. and patrolled to Wasyl Witchko's farm, sec. 22-30-4 investigating re Alex. Garanko and John Zobko wanted at Preeceville for theft of cow. Returned to detachment at 1 p.m. Busy in office in p.m. with weekly returns, etc.

Mileage—Reg. No. 395, 18.

Monday, October 20.—Constable Binning, with horse Reg. No. 395, left detachment at 8 a.m. and patrolled to farm of Tanasko Doros, sec. 20-30-4, and arrested John Zobko, and then to Witchko's farm and arrested Alex. Garanko (C.R. 22-10-13) and returned to detachment at 2.30 p.m. Busy in office remainder of the day with C.R.'s correspondence, etc. Constable Sykes arrived here this p.m. per G.T.P. train from Balcarres and left per C.N.R. train for Kamsack.

Mileage—Reg. No. 395, 24.

Tuesday, October 21.—Constable Binning left Canora per C.N.R. train at 10.30 a.m. and patrolled to Margo and served summons in Wunder vs. Blair, horse stealing. Left Margo at 12.30 a.m. per hired livery and patrolled northwest to sec. 20-34-10 and served summons in same case and returned to Margo at 4.45 p.m. Left Margo per C.N.R. train at 5.10 p.m. for Buchanan, arriving at that place at 6.15 p.m. and stayed over night at the Windsor hotel.

Mileage—Reg. No. 395, nil.

Train, 71 miles.

Livery, 30 miles.

Wednesday October 22.—Constable Binning at Buchanan this a.m. serving summonses in Wunder vs. Blair, horse stealing, and Dann vs. Zebitkoff, infraction of Liquor License Act. Arrested Harry Rabalkin, creating disturbance; also arrested, on a warrant from Canora, Gilbert Broughton, supplying an interdict with liquor. Attended court in p.m. before A. Hermanson, at Buchanan, in case of R.N.W.M.P. vs. Rabalkin creating disturbance. Fined $10 and costs. Left Buchanan at 6.20 p.m. per C.N.R. train, escorting prisoner Broughton to Canora, returning to detachment at 7 p.m. Attended court before J. B. McIntosh, J.P., and D. Stephen, J.P., in cases of Dann vs. Larson, obtaining liquor whilst interdicted (C.R. 23-10-13) and Dann vs. Broughton, supplying an interdicted person with liquor (C.R. 23-10-13).

YUKON TERRITORY.

The conditions in the Yukon are satisfactory. The strength has been maintained at the authorized strength, but the gold strike at Chesana, on the Alaska side, compelled us to establish three outposts on the route to the gold fields. A detachment is to be opened at Rampart House, to protect the Customs and control the Indians in that district.

Supt. Moodie reports that mining has been carried on very energetically by the large companies, and that individually miners are working over a very extended area. He anticipates a further development in individual mining and prospecting which was for some years on the wane.

Two serious crimes occurred, one of dynamiting and the other holding up watchman and robbing sluice boxes. In the former the accused was convicted and sentenced to 20 years' hard labour, and in the latter case, the offenders have not been discovered.

HUDSON BAY DISTRICT.

The service on the Hudson bay has been effectively maintained. The headquarters is at Fort Churchill with Supt. Demers in command, and a surgeon and five constables, and a varying number of natives employed as guides, interpreters and hunters.

We have a very comfortable, well-equipped post, but in view of the fact that Port Nelson has been selected as the terminus of the Hudson Bay railway and that there will be great activity at that place, I am of the opinion that our headquarters should be there. The arrangement with the Manitoba Government for policing the northern portion of that province covers no fixed term, so that before any large expenditure is incurred, a more definite arrangement should be made. If the move is not made, a commissioned officer with magisterial powers, should be stationed at Port Nelson.

Supt. Demers paid the treaty money to the Indians at Churchill and York. Our surgeon also acts for the Indian Department in caring for sick natives.

The outpost which was established at York Factory in July, 1912, was removed to Port Nelson this year, because of the development and large number of men employed on the works.

Cape Fullerton on the northern shores of Hudson bay is our most lonely and isolated outpost. Sergeant Edgenton in his report remarks:—

'Fullerton, during the winter, has been very lonely. Constable Conway, myself and two natives being the only persons here.'

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

During the winter, extended patrols were made, reports of which are attached.

The Hudson's Bay Company have opened a trading post and the Roman Catholics have established a mission on Chesterfield inlet. The trading post draws the Eskimos and it is therefore the point at which information of the interior is most likely to be obtained.

I recommend that the detachment at Fullerton be transferred to Chesterfield inlet.

In order to perform effectively our duties in the Hudson bay, I am of the opinion that we should have a schooner with auxiliary power, especially built for the service and large enough to go to sea in any storm. The west coast of Hudson bay is very dangerous, because of the lack of safe harbours and the shallow, rocky shore.

The population of the Hudson Bay district has hitherto been the white traders, the Indians on the south and the Eskimos on the north, but this year has seen a large influx of labourers at Port Nelson. The construction of the Hudson Bay railway has induced prospectors to explore the country for mineral deposits. Altogether a marked change will take place during the next few years and I anticipate a very great increase of police work.

The Indians are law abiding and give no trouble. The Eskimos have been considered a gentle race. Our relations with them have always been amicable.

There are some tribes in the interior who are reported as settling all quarrels by fight, which must result in the death of one of the combatants.

The following crime report gives the details of a case now being investigated:—

‘ M ’ DIVISION, CHURCHILL,
FULLERTON, 31-5-1913.

Re: Unlawful killing of Eskimo.

Information gathered from the different natives who trade amongst these natives, state that the supposed fight took place north of the Backs river, north and west of Schultz lake. Native ‘ Partridge ’ states that his brother and himself trade with these natives, known as the Kilinomuits, for the Hudson's Bay Company, taking the fur to the post at Fort Churchill. Partridge states that he saw ‘ Ka-ka-me ’ during the winter of 1910-11 who told him about the fight, and said that four were killed. He did not know the cause of the trouble, and said he never saw any of these natives with a rifle of any description, the only weapon that they use is the bow and arrow, and a knife known as the seal knife.

Fighting is common amongst the band of Eskimos, who are not civilized, not coming into contact with any white people whatsoever. They inhabit the country south of Coronation gulf and along the Thelon river, and live entirely on the musk ox, using the hide for clothing.

A good guide could be hired from Schultz lake, named ‘ Kahmuck ’ who is constantly trading amongst them, and knows them well. A good water route runs into the part of the country via Chesterfield inlet. Here the main band hunt. ‘ Ka-ka-me ’ and party have been heard from, and should be in by now. Parties trading in the north are very often away for two seasons, so that there was no idea of anything having happened to this party, by any of the other Eskimos in the country, where ‘ Ka-ka-me ’ is well known.

(Signed) W. G. EDGENTON, Sergeant,
Reg. No. 4103.

The Commissioner:

Forwarded for his information. Native ‘ Partridge ’ has not been in Churchill since 1910. He does his trading at Chesterfield inlet now.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

I will be going to Fullerton as soon as possible after my return from York Factory, and will try to find out more about this matter and also the killing of Radford and Street (reported separately). It will be necessary to send a special patrol, strong enough to make all necessary arrests, which will be numerous, if these reports are correct. These natives will most probably resist arrest, and it is impossible to depend on local help. This patrol would have to stay in this country at least a year, if not two.

I will report further on my return from Fullerton, and will also make arrangements for above party.

(Signed) F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.
Commanding Hudson Bay District.

CHURCHILL, 12-7-13.

The alleged murder of Radford and Street in June last at Bathurst inlet has yet to be investigated.

Mr. Radford was an American explorer who has been in the far north for several years and had passed from the Mackenzie River basin to the Hudson bay and was on his way from Chesterfield inlet to Fort McPherson via the Arctic coast. The following letter from Mr. H. H. Hall, manager of the Hudson's Bay trading post at Chesterfield inlet gives the account as received by him from the natives:—

CHESTERFIELD INLET, 11-6-1913.

G. R. RAY, Esq.,
Officer in Charge,
Nelson River District.

DEAR SIR,—The Eskimo Akulack, who took the Radford party from Shultz lake to Bathurst inlet arrived to-day and reported that both Mr. Radford and Mr. Street were murdered by the Bathurst Inlet Eskimos. Cow-muck, Mr. Ford's trader at Shultz lake was the first to bring down the news, but as I generally take little stock in Indian yarns, I placed very little confidence in it until I saw Akulack myself.

Both Mr. Ford and myself questioned him twice to-day and his version of the story was practically the same as Cow-muck's.

Akulack left Mr. Radford about the 5th of June and spent the summer a little south of the Eskimos, but came in contact with them several times, and also bought a wife from them some time after the murder, whom he bought and paid for with a rifle.

When Akulack parted from Mr. Radford, it appears that everything was in good order, he had his men engaged, and all preparations were completed for his departure, the two men engaged were supposed to guide him to a whaler that was wintering some 60 miles west of Point Burrow, and with whom the Bathurst Eskimos sometimes trade.

Mr. Radford was about to make a start, in fact, the man supposed to go ahead had started when the other backed out and would not go, and Mr. Radford, to enforce obedience, struck him with the handle of a whip, a fight ensued and Mr. Radford was speared in the back by another native. Mr. Street made a run for the sleigh but was murdered before he had time to put up any kind of a fight.

According to the story told to Akulack by one of the natives who was supposed to have witnessed the fight, 'Ne-ve-lie,' and by the father of his new wife, Mr. Radford put up quite a fight before he gave in and had to be speared several times before he fell and as life still lingered as he lay on the ground, he got the finishing touch by getting his throat cut. Akulack, on being asked why the Eskimo refused to accompany Mr. Radford said that the man's wife was suddenly taken ill and Mr. Radford not understanding the Eskimos language must have taken a wrong meaning and tried to enforce obedience. Akulack named the principal murderers as 'Hull-la-lark' and 'Am-me-ker-nie.'

This report, like all others from the Indians might be false, but as Akulack is considered a first-class and reliable Eskimo, and as I tried to impress upon him the consequences resulting from any false statements made by him on such persons as Mr. Radford and Mr. Street, and the determined way in which he excluded his wife's relations from all blame and his unwillingness to go back into that country as a trader, I have no doubt that there is a certain amount of truth in his statements.

While I was inland, I had an Eskimo trading with the same band named 'Ka-kami,' and from what I learned from him, the majority are still in their primitive state and are still using bow and arrow and that all quarrels and disputes are generally settled by the death of one of the combatants.

If this report is true, there is one thing that I can say that Mr. Radford showed poor judgment when he tried to enforce obedience by striking an Eskimo so far from civilization.

Mr. Radford wrote to Mr. Ford from Bathurst inlet, dated June 3rd, and everything seemed to be O.K. then and he also expressed his thanks for the assistance given him. Conditions must have changed very quickly for five days after Akulack's departure they were all murdered.

If Mr. Radford has reported his safe arrival to some of the Mackenzie River posts, then all these statements are false.

I remain,

Yours faithfully,

H. H. HALL.

Mr. Street was accompanying Mr. Radford. No word of these gentlemen has been received at Fort McPherson up to the 26th July, but I am still in hopes that the report is not true and that we may hear of them from Fort McPherson on the return of our patrol next winter.

If no word is received, it will be necessary to organize an expedition to Bathurst inlet, which will take at least a year to accomplish its purpose.

MACKENZIE RIVER DISTRICT.

Detachments are maintained at Fort McPherson and at Herschel island in the Arctic.

These are very isolated points, but the service has a great attraction for members of the force. Inspector Beyts, who has been in command there for two years, was relieved by Inspector Phillips, and all men who had served two years or over were replaced.

The 'rest' huts between Herschel island and Fort McPherson have been kept stocked with provisions, also that on Trail creek on the Dawson to Fort McPherson route.

It is stated that the Hudson's Bay Company intend to operate a steamship from Victoria to Herschel island, and river boats up the Mackenzie river. If so, it will greatly facilitate sending in supplies and will somewhat relieve the loneliness of our stations. Hitherto, our supplies have been shipped by an American whaler or sent down the Mackenzie at a very heavy expense.

Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson, in addition to his duties, attends all the natives, which no doubt saves many lives and alleviates much suffering.

WINTER PATROLS.

In addition to those I have already referred to, extended patrols were made during the winter in the far north, from Le Pas to Fort Churchill and return; Cumberland House to Lac du Brochet and return, Green lake to Isle la Crane and to a point far north; Smith Landing to Fort Resolution and return; I attach copies of reports on these patrols for your information, as they illustrate the strenuous nature of the work in the north. It is a great satisfaction to be able to report that, apart from a few frost bites, there were no casualties.

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY.

The policing of the construction of the road has been done by us at the request of the Government of Manitoba. Constant patrols have been maintained, and I have received letters from the engineers-in-charge and the contractors, highly commending the work of Inspector French and those under his command.

BUILDINGS.

Very substantial improvements have been made during this year.

At Headquarters, Regina, a modern fire-proof brick building of handsome design has been completed, affording accommodation for all offices, stores, artisans and sergeants' mess.

The men's barrack building has been veneered with brick, roofed with asbestos slate. It is now very comfortable with every modern convenience.

The officers' mess was also veneered with brick and an addition erected. The living rooms were decorated.

A new stable of modern design, thoroughly ventilated and drained, has also been built.

A considerable sum was expended in connecting the sewerage system with the main sewer of the city.

To complete the post, the following new buildings are required to replace the old buildings which are beyond repair:—

Guard-room, married non-commissioned officers' quarters, and chapel. The hospital should be veneered with brick.

When these improvements are made, this post will be most commodious, comfortable and attractive in appearance.

At Edmonton, a modern building was completed and occupied early in May. The headquarters of 'G' Division was transferred to Edmonton from Fort Saskatchewan, where they had been since the advent of the force in 1874.

The new quarters are admirable. N.C.O.'s have separate rooms, and constables, cubicles.

Forced ventilation and every accessory for the comfort of the men is provided.

A stable was built, with proper harness room and transport sheds.

An officers' quarters and married N.C.O.'s quarters are under construction.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

When the necessary fences and walks have been constructed, and the grounds placed in order, the Edmonton post will be very satisfactory.

At Prince Albert, water and sewerage systems were installed and improvements made to both officers' and constables' quarters which render them very comfortable.

At Dawson, a new heating system was installed. Sewers were constructed and sanitary conditions much improved.

All posts were kept in repair, and many small improvements made which added to the comfort of all ranks.

A large proportion of the force on detached duty is housed in rented buildings which are very often unsatisfactory and inconvenient. The annual cost of this inadequate accommodation is upwards of $40,000.

If the services of the force are to be continued after 31st March, 1916, when our present agreement with the provinces will terminate, I would strongly recommend that suitable substantial buildings be erected at all sub-district headquarters and at such other points as are likely to be permanently occupied.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

As hitherto, we have given much attention to assisting the Immigration Department. Practically no destitution existed among the new homesteaders, and we were not called upon to distribute any relief. The newly-settled districts are now usually remote from the railways and frequent patrols through them are appreciated by the isolated settler.

Customs.—The department has appointed their own officers at the different points along the boundary where we have hitherto acted for them. This is to our advantage, as it has relieved us of onerous duties.

Indians.—Escorts have been furnished to all treaty payments when required.

There is a slight decrease of convictions under the 'Indian Act.' The Indians are as well behaved as any other class, and, in some respects, set an excellent example.

Two hundred and eighty-four recruits were engaged during the year as compared with two 203 last year; 98 of these were engaged by the Comptroller in England last

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

July and arrived at headquarters in batches during August. They were carefully selected and a fine lot, physically; 45 were old soldiers, a large proportion from the Guards and Cavalry. All promise to be very serviceable members of the force.

The present conditions of recruiting are excellent. Applications are received daily. Only those of apparently superior merit are accepted. I attribute this to improved conditions, to the very substantial increase of pay granted this year and the lack of suitable civil employment.

The force is now up to full strength.

To increase the efficiency of the force, we must reduce the wastage, and thus have a larger proportion of trained and experienced men. There is always bound to be a certain unrest among the class from which our recruits are drawn, which leads to purchase or desertion, but I am in hopes that when the full benefits of the increased pay, together with the added comfort, are realized, the wastage from this source will be greatly minimized.

I regret to have to record three deaths.

Corporal Bailey was killed whilst in the execution of his duty while attempting to make an arrest. He was an excellent man, and his untimely death is greatly deplored.

Sergeant Turvey met his death through his horse falling and throwing him to the ground while at full speed. He, also, was an excellent man and a distinct loss to the force.

Sergeant Sommerfeld was employed on the headquarters staff and death resulted from natural causes.

HORSES.

Eighty-six horses were purchased during the year from thirty-two different persons at an average of $151.48 per horse.

Seventy-eight were cast and sold at an average of $95.75 per horse.

Ten died, 12 were destroyed on account of old age or because of incurable disease or injuries.

It is more difficult every year to secure the class of horse required for our service.

TRAINING.

The training of recruits has been carried on as steadily as possible. It is not yet satisfactory because of the constant pressing demands which compel me to transfer men to duty before they have completed the full course. Unless the training can be completed at headquarters, there is little chance afterwards because of the wide distribution and lack of available time.

I am bound to say, however, that in spite of this, that when they are assembled in any number for ceremonial or other purposes, I am astonished with their soldierly bearing and smartness.

Last year the usual class at headquarters for the training of non-commissioned officers could not be held because of lack of accommodation. It will be resumed this winter.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

TARGET PRACTICE.

Revolver practice was held throughout the force.

His Royal Highness the Governor General, on the occasion of his inspection of the force last October, was graciously pleased to present a handsome sterling Silver Cup for the encouragement of revolver shooting. It is proposed that the winner of the highest score shall be the winner of the cup for the year, and have his name engraved on the cup. The winner for the year is Reg. No. 5119 Constable Collins, L. J., with a score of 385 points out of a possible 420.

Rifle practice has not been carried on owing to the difficulty of securing ranges which would be safe for use.

The re-arming of the force has been delayed, but will be carried out this year.

The six target ranges at Regina were enlarged to 12 targets, and this coming year all recruits will be thoroughly trained in musketry.

RATIONS, CLOTHING, ETC.

The rations supplied have been of excellent quality.

The clothing is good. A new master tailor has been secured and I look for great improvement in the fit of the uniforms.

The forage has been excellent.

GENERAL.

The work of the force through the past year presents no striking features. It has been a year of hard work, with many increasing duties, which, with but few exceptions, have been well performed.

I have received the fullest support from the assistant commissioners, the headquarters staff, officers commanding districts and generally from all ranks.

I venture, on behalf of the force, to express to you, their sincere thanks for having introduced and passed through Parliament an Act for a very substantial increase of pay to all ranks.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. BOWEN PERRY,
Commissioner.

APPENDIX A.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT R. B. DEANE, COMMANDING
'E' DIVISION CALGARY.

CALGARY, October 1, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward the annual report of 'E' Division for the year ended 30th September, 1913.

The following change in the personnel of the officers of this division has taken place during the year, viz.:—

Inspector A. W. Duffus was transferred, in the month of June last, to Saskatoon, in the province of Saskatchewan, and Inspector George Worsley, from Edmonton, took his place here.

Inspector J. A. Macdonald joined the division in December of last year, and has been since stationed at Red Deer, from whence he supervises the detachments between Red Deer and Calgary on the Calgary and Edmonton railway, and all those lying to the eastward north of the Canadian Pacific railway.

The cases entered number 325 more than last year, and those sent for trial to the Supreme Courts are proportionately more numerous.

We are holding two male prisoners awaiting trial for murder, and one female from Edmonton.

Murder of Constable F. W. Davies.—In last year's report the story was told of Constable Davie's murder by Mike-Running-Wolf, an Indian, near Brooks, and of the arrest of the murderer by some Indians.

On the 20th October, 1912, Mike-Running-Wolf was tried before Mr. Justice Simmons, and the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter.

No defence was offered, and the argument of the prisoner's counsel was mainly that the Indian was so crazed by liquor, that he did not know what he was doing.

He was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

The Henri Verri murder.—This was a city of Calgary case, wherein the accused was convicted in October, 1912. The capital sentence was, however, commuted to life imprisonment, and the prisoner was sent to the penitentiary on the 1st of January last.

As the result of a drunken row in camp near the Mission bridge, Alfred Glenn died from a blow on the head from a bottle thrown at him by the convict.

After the occurrence, Henri Verri and his wife took the north-bound train, but were arrested at Red Deer.

Violation and murder of Augustine Frick by Joseph Dionne.—The hearing of this case was, at the instance of the defence, adjourned by Mr. Justice Beck from the June assizes until the October session.

The prisoner was a resident of Riverside, within the city, and lured the victim, a little girl of about 5 years old, into his shack. It is claimed that after assaulting her he almost severed the head from her body with a razor, and threw the body down a trap door into the cellar.

In the meantime, the mother, having missed her child, began to look for her, and, on her approaching Dionne's shack, the owner ran out. The woman noticed that he had blood on his hands, and at once gave the alarm. The prisoner was arrested by Detective Schoeppe of the city police force.

The Anderson murder and attempted suicide.—The following statement was given to Constable E. G. Baker, of Youngstown Detachment, by Peter G. Dahl, a brother-in-law of the accused man, and an eye-witness of the tragedy:—

‘On July 3, at about 8.30 a.m., I was in a wagon in the yard taking out water for the horses, when I saw Axel Anderson and his wife watering some plants in the garden. They then went to the back of the barn and I saw them carrying straw to the pig pen. I was busy at my work and was not paying any particular attention to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, when I heard Mrs. Anderson exclaim in a loud voice, “Axel,” “Axel.” This caused me to look in that direction and I saw Anderson and his wife standing near the pig pen. I saw Anderson strike his wife with a hay fork—he held the fork by the handle with both hands, and struck her several times about the head with the fork. I run over at once and took the fork away from Anderson, who offered no resistance.

‘Mrs. Anderson was lying on the ground bleeding from the face and head. She drew a few long breaths and I think she died immediately. I took Anderson by the arm and led him over to the wagon where we met my wife (Louisa Dahl); we stood there just a moment and Anderson ran into his house. I followed him and when I reached the house Anderson was in the next room standing with his back towards me, and I saw him pass his hand across his throat, after which he turned round, came towards me, and went out through the door into the yard holding his hand to his throat. Blood was running from his throat and dripping to the floor. He went about two rods from the house and lay down on the grass. I followed him, and when he lay down I ran and got a towel and put it round his neck. I then got a horse and went to summons the neighbours for help, shouting as I went. As soon as I made the nearest neighbour hear my shouts, I returned and found that my wife had dressed Anderson’s neck. I then went with John Rude to see Mrs. Anderson and found her in the same position as she had fallen, and was quite dead. I then led Anderson into the house, assisted by Rude and T. G. Satter who had arrived in response to my shouts. John Rude then went for Dr. Fulton who arrived about 10 p.m.

‘Whilst Anderson was striking his wife, I heard him say in Swedish. “You won’t fool me any more now.” When I got close to Anderson, he said to me in Swedish, “She fooled me in Minnesota, and expected to fool me now.”’

An inquest was held and the following verdict returned: ‘Anna Axel Anderson came to her death at the hands of her husband; cause of death, fractured skull.’

The accused was committed for trial at Youngstown, and on the 17th July, arrived at Calgary, where his condition was such that he was sent to the General hospital.

Having cut into his gullet the food and drink given him came through the wound, which had had twelve stitches put into it on the spot by Dr. Naysmith. The patient made such progress that he was able to be discharged from the hospital on the 26th July. He is now in the guard-room here awaiting trial.

Re Samuel Sullivan alias Salvatore Sarravalli.—This was a case of murder within the city limits, at the new C.P.R. shops at Ogden. The accused, an Italian immigrant from Johnstown, Pa., where he had been employed as court interpreter, had an altercation with a fellow countryman on the night of the 3rd November, 1912, and shot him dead. He then promptly disappeared and is still at large. A reward of $300 was offered for his apprehension.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The Robinson Murder and Suicide.—At 9.30 p.m. on Saturday, the 26th July, a 'phone message received from Rumsey at Munson told the story that a man named Robinson had shot and killed his wife and two children, and had then blown his own brains out.

The deceased woman owned quite a little property, and was refined, well-educated woman, and a widow with one eight-year-old boy, when she married Robinson some four years ago. The issue of the Robinson marriage was one little girl of 3 years old.

Robinson seems to have been a violent tempered man, very much his wife's inferior from a social standpoint. He nearly got into serious trouble for beating his wife in the previous year, but she refused to prosecute. Quarrels were not infrequent between husband and wife, but we shall never know what was the cause of the outbreak under discussion. It seemed to be unpremeditated, as the breakfast table was laid in readiness for the next morning.

The crime was committed with a 12-bore repeating Winchester shot-gun, which did its work in a most effective, if horrible, manner, probably two days prior to our being notified, as the bodies were already in a state of decomposition owing to the very hot weather then prevalent.

The coroner did not consider an inquest necessary.

Rex vs. A. H. Irvine—Manslaughter.—We had rather an extraordinary experience last December of a faith of which I then heard for the first time called the Apostolic or Pentecostal faith. Divine healing is one of the articles of this faith, which is not to be confounded with Christian Science.

Dr. Costello, coroner, informed us on the 12th December that some suspicious circumstances in connection with the death of two persons in the family of one Irvine, living some ten miles north of Calgary, required investigation, and Sergeant Major Vickery accompanied the doctor to the house in question.

There were two rooms upstairs: on a bed in one of them lay the dead body of Mrs. Irvine, fully dressed, and on the bed in the other room, wrapped in a sheet, lay the dead body of a child, badly decomposed. Irvine and his sister-in-law and two young children, 3 and 4 years old respectively, were the other occupants of the house, and must have shared these beds between them.

At the inquest, the doctor who examined the body said that death was due to starvation.

The deceased woman's husband said that the child died on the 15th October, and that his wife believed that the Lord had told her to sanctify a fast. It seems that the child was born in the middle of August. The father said: 'The child was dead five or six weeks before my wife received instructions to fast right steady, but she fasted a little before that; dropped a meal or so at a time. . . . I did not report the death as we expected the child to be raised, and spent the time praying. It never struck me that it was against the law to keep a body so long without reporting. . . . I did not think anything about it. . . . I cannot tell how the Lord communicated with my wife.'

The dead woman's sister said that for the last two weeks they went without food or drink and she did not break her fast until after her sister had died. She testified that she had heard Mr. Irvine at times protest against the fasting. She told the coroner's jury that the child was a very strong boy and was sick for only one day before he died. He had diarrhoea. They did not think of getting a doctor as they believed in Divine healing and prayed over him. They did not bury the body as they believed that the Lord was going to raise him.

The jury found that the woman died as a result of voluntary starvation, and that her husband was guilty of negligence in permitting his wife to conceal the death of his son, and in permitting her to inflict upon herself such privations as would, by the law of nature, cause death.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

A charge of manslaughter against the husband was heard before the Hon. Mr. Justice Stuart on the 26th February last and a verdict of not guilty was returned. The evidence had shown that, while the man had tolerated his wife's conduct, he had not encouraged it. From the religious standpoint he considered himself the weaker vessel, and was not in the same class as the two prospective saints, namely, his wife and her sister.

The judge advised the man to get someone to teach him a little common sense and to forget his pronounced religious views.

Suspected murder of Allan McKay near Banff.—On the 6th July last, a dead body was taken out of the Bow river near Banff. The skull was fractured, and there was no water in the lungs or stomach, showing that the man was dead before he entered the water.

According to Dr. Learn, who made the post-mortem examination, the body had been dead for at least four weeks. It was found at the head of a back channel of the river where there was a jam of about one hundred logs, and the men who went to break up this jamb found it in about six feet of water underneath the logs. The pockets of the overalls on the body were turned inside out. The medical witness said the skull was abnormally thick, and that it must have required a very heavy blow to fracture it. The man never breathed after he struck the water.

In the inside pocket of the coat was found a savings bank book No. 17866, of the Bank of Montreal, Calgary. It was this that enabled us to identify the remains as those of Allan McKay, formerly a post office clerk in London, where he worked as a telegraphist. He was apparently discharged through drink, for he was a hard drinker, as was shown by the condition of his liver.

A son of the deceased positively identified the clothes that were found on the body.

On the evening of the 9th June last, four men who were employed on the construction work of the C. P. R. hotel at Banff—two were employed as painters, one as a steamfitter, and one as an elevator man—began to drink and, in the course of the night, committed so many irregularities that they were all discharged on the following morning. One of the painters went to the United States and we were unable to obtain a statement from him; the elevator man, when he left Banff, went first to Moosejaw, and from there disappeared; the steamfitter went to Winnipeg and worked for the Linde Refrigerator Company there. Through the kindness of the Chief Constable of Winnipeg, we obtained a statement from him. We traced the second painter to Calgary and heard his story, which in many particulars did not agree with that told by the steamfitter.

The only fact that seemed to be clear was that the four men were boozing together until they finally parted company in the early morning.

There is no doubt that three of these men went to the cook-house and asked for grub which was denied them by the baker. The baker says he only saw three men, and that the steamfitter was not with them, but the latter in his story says that he went with the others to the cook-house and that they were given food. The steamfitter must have been present all the time for he confirmed the story told by one of the painters who said that, after being refused food by the baker, out of spite they threw several cans of milk and a box of dried apples down the hill. The painter says he had a fight in the course of the night with the steamfitter—but the latter contradicted that assertion, and said that the painter had a fight with the elevator man. The truth is that they were all so drunk that they do not know what they were doing.

The baker told us of the visit of the men to his cook-house and of his refusal to accept a drink or to give them food. He fixed the date as being the 9th June. They first visited him about 10 p.m., stayed a few minutes and went away. After a while they came back again and asked for food, and, on being refused, went away. Soon after midnight they re-appeared and asked for grub which was refused.

The baker said that about 1 a.m. he was working in the bakehouse, the windows being open, and heard three or four screams which seemed to come from where the Spray runs into the Bow river, which would be at the bottom of a steep hill below where the bakehouse was situated.

In somewhat less than five minutes he heard more screams from the same spot, so he armed himself with a pie lifter and went down the footpath leading to the falls for about 100 yards. There he listened and heard voices which he recognized as those of the men who had visited the bakehouse and asked for food. Apparently he did not consider it prudent to go any farther down the hill, but went to the dining-house and locked the door.

After a while he heard the men talking as they climbed the hill and as they passed close by the dining-house he heard one of the painters say that he had left a bottle of whiskey down below and would go back for it. The elevator man said 'Never mind, I've got plenty more,' so they passed on. The baker subsequently had the curiosity to go and look for this whisky and found a bottle of 'Black and White' almost empty, which he left where he found it.

The baker appears to have found nothing suspicious, nothing to account for the screams, and nothing worth mentioning next morning when talking to the chief cook about the men's visit. He does not appear to have spoken to a soul about the screams until we began investigating about a month later.

There was therefore nothing to show how the deceased had come by the fractured skull which caused his death.

The time-keeper at the C.P.R. hotel construction told us that Allan McKay had worked there from 4th March until the 16th April, and again from the 6th until the 28th May when he gave up work, and left unclaimed a balance of $17, which was due to him. The last time he was seen in Banff was on the 6th June, so far as we were able to ascertain.

Alleged attack upon John Wilson.—On the 6th July last, the same day on which Allan McKay's body was found in the Bow river, another tragedy was reported from the same neighbourhood. A man named John Wilson, who owns a ranch about 70 miles distant on the Kootenay plains, had been in camp for about a week, a mile or so to the west of Laggan, and was found lying on his back in his tent, between blankets, with his clothes on, in a very weak condition, with a blood-soaked handkerchief tied round his neck, and two bullet wounds in his left breast. The man who found him immediately notified a Mounted Police constable who happened then to be temporarily stationed at Laggan, and to him the wounded man told the following story: On the evening of the 4th July, he went to Laggan station and, on returning home, he encountered two men about a mile west of the station. They asked him where he was going and, without stopping, he replied, 'What the hell is it to you?' Hearing the men whispering he turned round and two bullets struck him in the left breast. He fell to the ground and remembered nothing more until he awoke and found himself among some jack pines, with a handkerchief over his face. He discovered that his throat was wounded and tied the handkerchief round his neck. The sun was shining brightly, and the heat caused him to faint again. The next time he awoke it was dark and he crawled through the bush to his camp, where he was found soon afterwards by a man who wanted to see him about some horses. He was carried to the station where he was attended to by the hotel physician, and was from thence despatched by the 9 o'clock train to Dr. Brett's hospital at Banff.

It was easy to get together a search party and a thorough search of the bush was made all day. The police, both east and west of the spot, were notified, as were those in Field and Revelstoke. No traces of any sort were discovered, nor was it possible to find the place where Wilson had said that he had lain all Friday night and Saturday. Sundry hoboes were held up and examined, but without result. Sergeant Townsend was sent to Laggan from Trochu, Sergeant Trundle from Calgary and Staff Sergeant Piper from Macleod.

Sergeant Townsend devoted several days to an exhaustive search of the spot where Wilson said he had lain for 30 hours, but was unable to find any indication thereof, nor could he find any trace of a body having crawled over the rocks and dead timber that lay between the tent and the spot where the assault was alleged to have taken place. This journey, if made at night, must have been a very difficult proceeding, if not an impossibility. The hat that Wilson was wearing at the time of the assault was found in his tent.

It was noticed that the knees of his overalls were in no way stained, nor showed any signs of having been crawled upon, nor were his clothes generally in a dusty condition. His money was intact, his horses were complete in number, his camp stores were untouched, and no motive could be found for such an assault as Wilson had alleged. We ascertained that Wilson owned a .22 calibre revolver and, although we could not find it, the holster for this pistol, together with some cartridges, was found by Sergeant Townsend among his effects. A jack knife was taken from Wilson's pocket, the blade of which had blood on it.

The wounded man was received at the Brett hospital by Dr. G. M. Atkins at the foot of the steps leading up to the front door, thinking he might require assistance, but he observed that the patient was able to walk up without any help and that he did not appear to be suffering from shock. The doctor said to us: 'On taking him into the operating room to dress his injuries, etc., he told me that he had been shot with a .22, did not say either rifle or revolver. He took off his shirt and vest himself. On examination I found two bullet wounds, one near the nipple of the left breast and the other about three inches below. There were five cuts across the throat, four merely scratches and one had cut through the skin. These cuts were not at all dangerous, nor would they have caused much shock. There was no blood on his hands, neither were they scratched. There were no fly bites on his face; his drawers showed no sign of urine. I am of opinion that these injuries were self-inflicted. I formed this opinion before I heard anything from the police about this.'

The French aphorism 'cherchez la femme' applies to this episode, but it is hardly necessary to go into that part of the story, and possibly cause distress to others.

Threatening to use an Explosive.—One of the cases awaiting trial at the following assizes is that of a man who threatened to blow up the Brooks hotel with dynamite.

Constable Wight, the Mounted Police constable stationed at Brooks, was awakened about 3 a.m. on the 16th August last by someone going to his window and telling him that a man by the name of Winning was going to blow up the hotel. He went out and found a crowd around the hotel. The town constable informed him that Winning had a stick of dynamite on his person and had threatened to blow the constable up if he made any attempt to arrest him. Constable Wight obtained a warrant for Winning's arrest, charging him with having an explosive in his possession with intent to endanger life, and went in search of his man, whom he found at a camp about two miles out of town, and arrested.

It seems that he had been given a room which he did not approve of and wanted to have it changed.

He began to disturb the inmates of the hotel about one o'clock in the morning, and the night clerk said he soon after left the house and brought back some long sticks which he said were dynamite. One of the proprietors of the hotel was called up and witnessed the threatening of the town constable by the accused.

A fatal drunken brawl between half-breeds.—This occurred on the 29th March last within the city limits. The half-breeds had been drinking for several days and finally a general row ensued in which Joseph Paul was knocked down and jumped on by Baptiste McDougall.

Paul died in consequence of rupture of the stomach, and McDougall was charged with murder.

The case was heard before Mr. Justice Scott on the 23rd May last and, the evidence being very contradictory, the accused was found not guilty.

Unprovoked assault upon one Sposito on the 16th February, 1913.—This happened in the foreign quarter at Riverside within the city limits. It appeared that Sposito was walking peaceably down the street when, after a few words, he received four bullet wounds—one in the forehead, one in the left arm, one in the shoulder and one in the stomach. Four compatriots named James Marketo, Corona, Guy Matrullo and Sam City were committed for trial on a charge of attempted murder, and were tried before Mr. Justice Beck on the 29th May last. The injured man recovered in spite of the severity of his wounds, and on the 7th June, James Marketo and Guy Matrullo were sentenced to seven days' imprisonment with hard labour and the other two were discharged.

The Clutterbuck fatality.—On the morning of the 8th February, Bernard Clutterbuck, aged 13, met with his death at the hands of his brother, Lawrence, at Mr. Clutterbuck's home in North Red Deer.

It appeared that a boy named Charles Alford, aged 14, having appropriated his father's revolver without his knowledge or consent, had spent the night of the 7th February with the Clutterbuck brothers, the eldest of whom also had a revolver. Both pistols were supposed to be unloaded and were kept under the boys' pillows during the night.

In the morning, Lawrence had a revolver in each hand, and when Bernard asked him for one of them he pointed them both at his brother and pulled the triggers. His own weapon proved to be loaded, and his brother fell dead, shot through the aorta.

The coroner's jury found that the boy's death was due to the culpable negligence of his brother Lawrence who, by the instructions of the Attorney General's Department, was charged with manslaughter. This charge was, however, thrown out by the magistrate.

Assault upon Jim Lee, Chinaman, at Bowden.—On the 20th February last at Bowden an old woman named Elizabeth Wilkinson, about 70 years of age, rather weak-minded, and with a violent temper, having an old husband to look after who is said to be approaching the century mark, got into an altercation with a Chinaman about some chickens which both claimed. At all events the Chinaman went into the old woman's yard, and the village constable of Bowden said: 'I hurried towards Mrs. Wilkinson's yard where the row was taking place and, when some distance away, I saw Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson in the yard making some threatening gestures at the Chinaman. The woman hit at the Chinaman with a stick and he grabbed the stick from her, and pushed her over a snow-bank and threw the stick away. The old man then made a hit at the Chinaman who also pushed him over. The woman then got another stick and came at the Chinaman again. He got this stick from her and threw that away too. She then went off a few feet and grabbed what I then thought to be another stick, and struck the Chinaman over the head with this. He fell down and when he was staggering back on to his knees she hit him again and he went down and lay there. She then raised the weapon to hit him again but I had by this time got to the spot and grabbed it out of her hand. I found the weapon was an iron sleigh shoe about 4 feet in length.'

The Chinaman's head was badly hurt and he was in a very critical condition for some time.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

The old woman was arrested and released on bail in charge of her married daughter. The preliminary hearing was held at Bowden by a local Justice of the Peace on the 3rd March, counsel appearing for both sides and a great number of witnesses were examined. Finally the case was dismissed.

The Benson Murder.—We are in process of extraditing from Missouri a young man named W. J. Collins who is charged with the murder of his employer at Clemens, in Alberta, where they were engaged in settling. It seems that John Benson left Braymer, in Missouri, on the 4th April last, in company with William Jasper Collins, whose expenses he was paying.

He was supposed to have about $4,000 with him. He built himself a shack on the land he had selected, and his wife was soon expected to meet him in Winnipeg.

On the morning of the 1st May, Collins reported to the neighbours and to the police detachment at Parvella that while he was watering the horses he heard an explosion, and saw that the shack was in flames. He fetched the nearest neighbours and found Benson's body inside the shack which was burnt to the ground. He attributed the explosion to gasoline.

An inquest was held and a verdict given in accordance with the evidence given by Collins who was the only person who knew the actual facts. Unfortunately, no post-mortem examination of the body was made. Mrs. Benson arrived from Braymer and took the remains thither. Collins went with her.

After his return Collins, who had always been very poor, attracted attention by the amount of money which he began to spend, and the Masonic Lodge of which the deceased had been a member took the matter up, employed a detective and had the body exhumed. A careful autopsy showed that the upper and right side of the skull was crushed as if by blows from a heavy instrument, also that there was a bullet hole through the heart. A warrant was at once obtained and Collins was arrested.

Ninety $20 bills were found in a belt which was in his trunk, and Collins was on the way to Kingston jail when he asked his companions to stop the car and take him back to Braymer, and he would make a confession of what he had done.

He then admitted that he had knocked Benson down and then shot him. After that, he poured oil about the house and set it on fire, having first secured the dead man's money. Three empty cartridge cases, which bear the indent of the hammer, were picked up in the shack, and thus corroborate part of Collin's story.

Cattle-stealing by Leslie Wilson.—This man is a fugitive from justice in the United States, where we have been unable to find him, notwithstanding that I hold authority to extradite him.

A Mr. S. W. Wright, of near Royton, complained to the Trochu detachment that eleven head of cattle had disappeared from his pasture about a week previously, namely, on the night of Sunday the 17th November last.

After prolonged inquiry we found that the accused had stolen these cattle and sold them to a Mr. Weicker, of Didsbury, a buyer for P. Burns and Co.

By him the cattle were shipped to Calgary, where some were slaughtered, and some were turned out to pasture near Airdrie. The owner was notified, came and identified his beasts and took them away with him.

Leslie Wilson left the country on a saddle horse on the 27th November last, leaving a wife and two children at Didsbury. We made a diligent search for him in a certain part of Montana, but were unable to find him. As he will certainly be convicted if we can place him in the dock, it is rather improbable that he will return to Canada, as he has previously 'done time' in our guard-room here.

Killing of beef north of Gleichen.—During the month of March last indefinite complaints were made in various quarters to Corporal Irvine of the Gleichen detachment that cattle were being unlawfully killed near the Rosebud and Red Deer rivers, and he made an exhaustive inquiry into the subject-matter of the complaints in question. He found that there was some foundation in fact for the reports as two hides had been found in a straw stack which had been burnt, but were so much damaged by fire that it was impossible to read the brands.

A range rider also found another hide stuffed into a badger hole but no evidence was procurable to show who put it there. It also transpired that a certain individual was selling more beef than he was supposed to own, and was employing another man as his tool. As he had taken very good care never to let any of his purchasers see the hides of the meat which he had sold them, there was insufficient evidence to take into a criminal court, and all that we could do was to make arrangements for watching for further developments. About this time both parties became very nervous and went out of the business. Since then there have been no complaints.

Cattle-killing at Red Deer.—On the 28th August last our Red Deer detachment was called to Evarts, where a farmer had missed a three-year-old steer that morning and, after searching for the best part of the day, found it slaughtered in the bush about a quarter of a mile beyond his fence.

The hind quarters had been removed and the hide and fore quarters left. There were no tracks of horses or vehicles in the neighbourhood and no clue to the perpetrator, but we are still working on the case.

There is one case of cattle stealing at Berry creek which is awaiting trial, having been sent up by the local justice, but I shall be rather surprised if the private prosecutor is not told that he should have betaken himself to a civil court.

The complaints of cattle stealing during the past year have been few and far between, and I was surprised to read in a Calgary newspaper some statements made by a Mr. Jeffrey Lind, of Sedgewick, who, I found on inquiry, had dropped into the office and made the said statements for publication.

As this district alluded to by Mr. Sedgewick was beyond my jurisdiction I took no notice of the reports in question until instructed to interview the gentleman and obtain particulars. The character of the reports, without reproducing the article, may be appraised by the headlines of the article in question, 'Ranchers desperate—Forming parties to search for robbers—Talk of lynching the thieves.'

Mr. Lind was said to have returned to his home in Sedgewick, and thither travelled Inspector Macdonald from Red Deer to obtain details of the state of affairs which could not be otherwise than disquieting, if true.

I subjoin Inspector Macdonald's report:—

'E' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,

'SIR.—I have the honour to report that I visited the Sedgewick district and endeavoured to locate Mr. Jeffrey Lind, who was responsible for an item appearing in the Calgary News Telegram. Although I inquired amongst the business, livery, cattlemen and farmers, also the Agent for Dominion Lands, I could not find that such a person lived in the district. Constable Jackson, stationed at Hardisty, never heard such a name in his district, nor could he locate him. There has not been a case of cattle missing in this district this summer, nor have the residents suspected that any cattle have been stolen for the past four years. The district has such a good reputation in this respect that half the stock is unbranded. There are stories going round that thirteen beef hides were found near Vermilion, which had evidently been lying there for two years or over, but Constable Jackson reports that he never met any-one who saw the hides. About three weeks ago, Messrs. Mabee and Wells lost some 80 head of newly shipped in cattle, and at the time were inclined to believe they were run off, but they have recovered nearly all; they had strayed from the range.

‘I have the honour to be, sir,
‘Your obedient servant.’

(Sgd.) J. A. MACDONALD, Inspector.

Boxing Contests.—In the course of last year, as he was unable to obtain from the city authorities permission to hold boxing contests in the city of Calgary, Mr. Tommy Burns the heavy-weight ex-champion of the world, constructed an arena a short distance outside the city limits and the following contests have been held therein:—

On the 28th October, 1912, Hyland met Bayley in a fifteen-round bout, which was an exhibition of good clean boxing, the result being a draw.

On the 30th November following, Hyland met Thompson in what was intended to be a fifteen-round contest; no exception could be taken to the boxing but, in the thirteenth round, Thompson had received as much punishment as he was able to stand in the opinion of Sergeant Major Vickery, who stopped the fight. His action in so doing was generally approved of by the public.

On the 25th December, Hyland was, for the second time, defeated by Brown in a fair and square boxing bout.

On the 3rd April a six-round no-decision contest took place between Burns and Pelkey which passed off without any unusual incident.

On the 2nd May last, in a Pelkey-Morris contest, Mr. Burns, the referee, stopped the fight in order to save Morris from being knocked out.

On the 24th May, Victoria Day, Luther McCarty was imported from the United States to try conclusions with Arthur Pelkey in a no-decision bout of ten rounds. The contract called for eight-ounce gloves, which McCarty's supporters considered rather extreme. The referee was Mr. Edward Smith, the sporting editor of the Chicago American. Pelkey had been trained by Mr. T. Burns.

The first round had lasted one minute and forty-five seconds when McCarthy was unconscious, counted out, and, to all intents and purposes, a dead man, for he never spoke again although he did not cease to breathe until some three hours later. The only two noticeable blows that were struck by Pelkey in the minute and a half of actual boxing were a left punch to the jaw and a right jab to the heart, and the general opinion of the spectators was that neither of these was a severe blow. The result, in my opinion at least, shows that the punch to the jaw was a harder blow than it seemed to be. Dr. Mosher, who made the autopsy, testified to the coroner's jury that death was caused by a subluxation of the fourth cervical vertebra which resulted in the formation of a blood clot in the brain. A slight bruise on the right angle of the jaw showed where Pelkey's left punch had gone home.

Dr. Stewart, who was called by a jurymen, disagreed with Dr. Mosher's opinion, and told the jury that in his opinion McCarty's neck was dislocated before he went into the ring, and that he did not believe that Pelkey did it.

The coroner's jury exonerated Pelkey, who was then charged with manslaughter and found not guilty, albeit the jury found that the contest in question was a prize fight.

There had been some controversy as to the legality of these contests—one reverend gentleman called them ‘commercialized sport,’ the man in the street called them ‘a money-making scheme,’ but that did not necessarily make them unlawful. According to the law, as it existed prior to the 24th of May last, it was impossible to be wise until after the event.

Crankshaw, quoting the decision in Rex vs. Orton, says: 'A mere exhibition of skill in sparring has been held not to be illegal; but if parties meet together to fight until one gives in from exhaustion or from injury received, it is a prize fight, and it is illegal whether the combatants fight in gloves or not.'

PRAIRIE FIRES.

There have been twenty-five reports of prairie fires during the year and of these twenty cases have been disposed of by the courts. In the remaining instances it was not possible to find out how the fires originated.

The month of April was the worst month of the year, for no less than twelve fires occurred then in various parts of the country. No great damage was done in any particular instance except in the neighbourhood of Berry creek on the 21st April where an unhappy settler's house caught fire and was burnt to the ground and about thirty sections of prairie grass was burnt off.

There was a very strong wind blowing at the time and the fire could not be controlled until a welcome rain fell in the night and put it out.

STATE OF INDIANS.

The Indians, as usual, have given no trouble, but their inordinate thirst does not seem to diminish, and the facilities for obtaining intoxicants inevitably increase as the years roll by.

CALGARY, October 1, 1913.

The Officer Commanding
R. N. W. M. Police,
Calgary.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of the guard-room and female jail, for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The health of the prisoners confined in the guard-room and female jail during the past year has been very good, with the exception of the ordinary trivial complaints.

Prison rules have been strictly enforced and the conduct of the prisoners has been very good.

One thousand one hundred and fifty-three prisoners were admitted during the past year, being an increase of 52 on the previous year.

Finger prints and photos have been taken of all prisoners committed to the guard-room for indictable offences, and forwarded to the Commissioner of Dominion Police, Ottawa.

New flooring has been put down in the kitchen, office, dining-hall and the old corridor, which has made quite a big improvement. Four new stoves were also installed, one at the end of each corridor, which makes an appreciable difference in the temperature during the winter time. The walls and ceilings in the guard-room and female jail were kalsomined and whitewashed during the summer. The whole of the stovepipes and chimneys have been cleaned in preparation for the winter.

Four prisoners were sent to the General hospital for treatment during the year. Two of these, Alex. Anderson and Joseph Beckett, charged with murder and attempted suicide respectively, with self-inflicted wounds in the throat.

There are at present 17 prisoners awaiting trial in the guard-room, one Joseph Dionne, charged with murder, has been here nearly five months, having been admitted on May 8 from the Calgary city police. John B. Fassett, who is undergoing a sentence of one year for keeping a disorderly house in Edmonton, was transferred here from the provincial jail, Lethbridge, by an Order in Council on March 21, 1913. He is an old man, being seventy-three years of age, and suffers with his heart. He has been confined to his bed for the past four months.

An Indian prisoner, Mike Running Wolf (alias Jim Ham) who was awaiting trial for murder at the end of last year, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to life imprisonment. He was taken to Edmonton penitentiary on the 18th October, 1912.

Prisoner Regarde Bertrand, who was also awaiting trial for murder, was convicted and sentenced to be hanged on the 15th of January, 1913. He was, however, commuted to life imprisonment two days before his execution and taken to Edmonton penitentiary on the 15th inst.

Henry Verri, convicted of murder, was commuted to life imprisonment on December 31, 1912.

The number of lunatics admitted during the year were 56 males and 20 females, there being a slight decrease of males and an increase of females. Owing to the long time some of these patients are kept awaiting the order of the Attorney General, there has not been a day pass without we have had two or three of these people on our hands. Female lunatics, Edith Munro and Ellen Cosvold, received here from the Calgary city police, were taken by the immigration authorities for deportation and sent back to England on April 9, 1913.

Attached are guard-room statistics for the past year.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. RICHARDSON, Corporal,
Provost.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

DEATHS, SUDDEN, ACCIDENTAL, ETC.

Accidental death of A. Dickenson.—The above man was employed at DeShelley quarry at Cochrane. On August 19 while loading the derrick with stone, the derrick collapsed and crushed him, causing such serious injuries that he died three hours later. Dr. Costello, the coroner, was notified and stated that an inquest was unnecessary.

Death of unknown man by drowning.—A body was found in the Kananaskis river near Seebe on August 23. The coroner was notified and an inquest held. Dr. McDonald stated that there were no external marks of foul play, and that in his opinion death was due to drowning. Verdict given of accidental drowning.

Death of unknown man at Canmore.—On August 13, 1913, a man was found dead near the Canmore hotel. An inquest was held and Dr. Shipley stated, after an autopsy, that death was due to ulceration of the bowels, and the verdict was given accordingly. From the papers found on him, his name would appear to be A. E. Walton, of the International Longshoreman's Association. Had also an Army discharge with the name A. E. Walton on it.

John Cronin died on August 14 in an isolation tent of the Brett hospital at Banff. An inquest was held and Dr. G. S. Learn held an autopsy, finding that death was due to acute Bright's disease.

Accidental death of Mr. Whyte.—The above man was boating in a canoe on Chestermere lake near Calgary on July 26, 1913. The canoe upset and he was drowned; his body was recovered a week later. The coroner was notified and decided that an inquest was not necessary.

Dr. Frankhauser was found dead at the rear of his shack on July 14, 1913, with a bullet wound through his heart, the wound being powder burnt. A 32 automatic revolver was lying beside him. He was shown to be of a despondent nature. The coroner was notified and after examination decided an inquest was unnecessary.

Accidental death of Angus McPherson.—The deceased was employed by the Canadian Bridge Company on a bridge at the Rocky Mountain house. On June 9, while working on the bridge, he fell into the river and his body has not yet been recovered.

Man found drowned in Bow River.—On May 27, 1913, the above man was found drowned in the Bow river, just above the dam near Gleichen. The coroner was notified and stated that death was due to drowning. We have not been able to positively identify him. He had a money order receipt, the name on which, as far as could be made out, was Chas. Cuthbertson. A notice to this effect was put into the local papers.

Accidental drowning of John Annetta and Matt Schulze.—These men were drowned at Calgary on the 15th July, 1913, in full view of a number of people who were at a distance quite unable to render any assistance at all. The trouble began by a horse, which was in a city dump cart, in charge of a city employee, backing into the Bow river when it was in flood. The force of the current carried the horse off its feet, and he and the cart went down stream together for about a quarter of a mile. Sergeant Major Vickery watched the whole proceeding from the barrack ground. The man was not in the cart when the horse backed into the river. He saw the outfit start on its swim down stream and crossed by the Langevin bridge to the north side of the river. The horse and cart struck a sand bar, and stood fast, the water being only up to the horse's belly. The man waded out to the cart from St. George's island, and tried to induce the horse to haul the wagon home, but the horse thought differently and declined to budge.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

John Annetta and Mat Schulze, city employees, who happened to be driving a wagon and pair along the north side of the river, saw the predicament that the man was in and drove in to his assistance. They could have crossed by a bridge to St. George's Island and have gone out on a sand bar as the dump cart man had done, but unfortunately they headed straight for him, and in doing so got into deep water and were carried away by the current. There was no possibility of helping them at all, and the men and horses were drowned.

The dump cart man, who was on the sand bar, finding his horse would not move, cut him loose, climbed on to his back and rode ashore along the sand bar.

James McLean was a Government surveyor on the Sarcee reserve. On May 25 he was picked up by a party in an automobile on the reserve very ill. He was driven to the hospital in Calgary but died before he reached there. Dr. Costello, the coroner, was notified and stated that death was due to a weak heart.

On September 19 the body of an unknown man was found east of McBeth siding, on the Canadian Pacific railway track. A train had evidently struck it as it was in a dismembered state. Dr. Anderson, the coroner, was notified and decided that an inquest was necessary. The following verdict was given, that deceased met his death by placing himself in front of a Canadian Pacific railway engine, thereby committing suicide.

John Henry Holden met his death on September 7 while attempting to ride into the Drumheller coal mine in one of the cars. While pushing the car off the tripple the cable must have become unfastened, with the result that the car ran away down the slope and was smashed to pieces at the end of the line. The coroner was notified and an inquest held. The verdict given was that of accidental death.

Joseph Bruzzolio died on September 9, about twenty miles west of the Rocky Mountain house. Dr. George, the coroner, was notified and stated an inquest was unnecessary as the man died a natural death, from pharyngeal abscess.

On September 9 an unknown man was found dead near the Canadian Pacific railway track at Laggan. The coroner, Mr. Thompson, was notified and an inquest held. The following verdict was given, that death was due to acute Bright's disease. It would appear from the papers found on him that his name is Andrew Armstrong, and that he was born in Ireland, but we have been unable to have him identified.

The body of J. Connolly was, on the 15th August last, picked up alongside his team. Dr. Costello, the coroner, advised that an autopsy be held, which revealed the fact that death was due to a ruptured blood vessel of the heart which was in a very diseased state. An inquest was not held.

Fong Que, a Chinaman, committed suicide on August 25 by shooting himself in the mouth with a revolver. The coroner was notified and stated that an inquest was not necessary.

Stephen Ondrus and Pete Ondrus met their death on July 8 through a cave-in, in the place where they were working, at the Bankhead mines. An inquest was held and Dr. Robinson stated that death was due to asphyxiation, and a verdict accordingly was given.

George Davidson, a boy of 13 years of age, while riding a pony near Innisfall, was thrown into a small creek and drowned, evidently through being stunned by the fall. Dr. Allan, the coroner, was notified and after the hearing of the facts of the case stated that an inquest was unnecessary.

On July 12, Robert Martin had been shooting gophers with a 22 rifle on a ranch near Ogden. He became excited and tried to knock one over with the butt of his rifle, the rifle being loaded it went off and the shot entered his stomach, he died on July 17, 1913. The coroner, Dr. Costello, was notified and decided an inquest was unnecessary.

Jack Crow Child, an Indian, on July 1 was seen riding a horse at Bassano. On July 5 this horse was seen drowned in the Bow river near the Bar U ranch. On July 8 the Indian's body was recovered from the Bow river near Bassano. Dr. C. C. Harris, the coroner, was notified and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

John Davidson was working on the excavation for concrete structures for a railway bridge near Bassano. On June 13, while working in the excavation, the earth above slipped and buried him beneath. When his body was dug out he was dead. The coroner, Dr. C. C. Harris, was notified and said that an inquest was unnecessary.

Morris Malhoit was employed as a law student, in Short, Ross, Shaw and Selwood's office at Calgary. On June 14 he, in company with two others, tried to make a trip down the Bow river in a canoe from Morley to Calgary. At the Ghost river the canoe upset and the above man was drowned, the other two managed to get ashore. The body has not been recovered.

Matthew E. McCann met his death near Strathmore on September 9 while driving a four-horse team which ran away, throwing him out and causing such injuries that he died in the Holy Cross hospital at Calgary on the following day. The coroner was notified and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Fred. Baird met his death from injuries received by being thrown out of a wagon. On August 27 he was driving a team from Twelve Mile coulee to Calgary, when the team took fright and ran away. Dr. Costello, the coroner, attended the injured man at the General hospital. He died ten days later, and the coroner decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Brice Pope was working on a well drilling outfit near Threehills. On September 6 he was looking after the machinery when his clothes became entangled in the machinery, into which he was drawn and was killed instantly. The coroner was notified and decided to hold no inquest.

Ezra R. Balin was found dead outside his shack door near Youngstown on July 28. The coroner was notified and decided that an inquest was unnecessary as the man had died from heart failure.

Black Face Chief, killed on the Canadian Pacific Railway track near Cluny.—Black Face Chief and his squaw, Winter Child, were driving to Cluny on January 19, 1913, for provisions. When they were returning to their camp, in crossing the Canadian Pacific railway, a train struck them, they were thrown out of the jumper in which they were driving and it was smashed to pieces. Black Face Chief's neck was broken and his squaw escaped with a shaking up. Owing to the steam around the engine at this time of the year, the engine driver and the conductor of the train did not know that they had struck anything. Dr. Girvin, the coroner, was notified and said that an inquest was unnecessary.

Dan Hermatiuk was confined in the hospital at Canmore and was in a semi-delirious state on January 10, 1913, when he got out of bed and walked on to the verandah and fell to the ground, causing a fracture of the skull, resulting in death. An inquest was held and a verdict was that deceased met his death while in a semi-delirious state by falling over the verandah. The jury censured Dr. Brett, the owner of the hospital, as they were of the opinion that there was not sufficient help employed at the hospital.

T. Goodall was found dead in room 28 of the Gleichen hotel on December 24, 1912. Dr. Akenhead examined the body and stated that death was due to heart failure. Dr. Girvin, the coroner, was notified, and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

An unknown man was found lying two miles east of Exshaw, near the C.P.R. track, on February 11, 1913, frozen dead. The coroner was notified and an inquest was held. The verdict given was that deceased met his death through exposure and lack of nourishment. Every effort was made to identify the man, but without success.

George A. Leakey was drowned in a deep hole formed by the irrigation canal near Gleichen on April 20, 1913. An inquest was held and it was found that deceased came to his death by drowning. It is our opinion, said the jury, that the horse he was riding slipped into a deep water hole, formed by the irrigation canal, and advised that such holes be protected.

Herbert Rothwell, alias Herbert Allison, on February 24, 1913, was employed at Bankhead by the C.P.R. as switchman. He was thrown from the foot board at the rear of the engine and killed. An inquest was held and the verdict given that deceased was killed by being thrown from the switch engine at Bankhead, by a piece of timber which fell from a pile alongside the track, and advised that the Bankhead mine be made to remove the pile farther back.

J. W. McLeod was employed as engineer by Messrs. McDougal and Martin at their lumber camp on Lobstick creek. On March 20, 1913, when endeavouring to replace a belt, while the engine was in motion, he was caught up and drawn around the pulley. He died an hour after. Dr. George, the coroner, was notified and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

John R. Ansell was employed by the Southern Alberta Land Co., south of Gleichen. On May 4 while crossing the Bow river above the dam in a boat, he lost control of it, and was swept over the dam; his body was recovered the next day. The coroner was notified and stated that an inquest was unnecessary.

Kenneth Martin was employed as a labourer at Bassano by A. M. Crane. While attempting to ford the Bow river near Gleichen on May 18, 1913, on horse back, he got into deep water and was washed off his horse and drowned. The body was recovered the next day and the coroner was notified, but no inquest was held.

William Murphy was employed by the Grant Smith Co. at Brooks. On May 25, while coupling up an engine to a flat car he was crushed between them. The coroner was notified and decided to hold no inquest.

Albert Smith was employed at the Hawkin's farm near Gleichen, and was poisoned on June 28, 1913, by eating toad-stools in mistake for mushrooms. Dr. Rose, the coroner, was notified and, after investigation, stated that an inquest was unnecessary.

Frank Krupinski and Joe Handcuk were employed shovelling rock in a tunnel of the Bankhead mines on June 26, 1913. They must have come in contact with some unexploded explosive, which partly blew their heads off. The coroner was notified, and an inquest was held, and found 'that the deceased came to their deaths through coming in contact with a small quantity of unexploded powder while shovelling rock that had been blown out the previous day.'

John Stefanck came to his death in a mine at Canmore on June 18, 1913, through a fall of rock falling on him. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was given.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

John B. Morris died suddenly on October 1, 1912, while driving a team near Gleichen. Dr. Rose, the coroner, was notified and stated that death was due to indigestion, and that an inquest was unnecessary.

Alfred Hallam, the four-year-old son of J. R. Hallam on whose ranch the Parvella detachment is stationed, on October 1, 1912, had evidently been playing near the Blood Indian creek close to the house, and had fallen into a deep pool. Dr. Anderson, the coroner, was notified and stated that an inquest was unnecessary.

Guy Ogan accidentally shot himself in the store at Soudre on November 2, 1912. A 22 calibre revolver dropped from his pocket, struck the floor and went off, shooting him through the breast. Sergeant Trundle was present in the store at the time. Dr. Stevens, the coroner, was notified and stated an inquest was unnecessary.

Death of Earl Hammond.—This is one of the many cases in which a man walking along the railway track, either becoming dazzled by the headlight, or is too drunk to get out of the way, is run over. I am informed that the above man had been acting rather queerly, was despondent of obtaining work. Dr. Girvin, the coroner, was notified and decided that an inquest was unnecessary. This occurred on the Canadian Pacific railway track near Langdon on November 10, 1912.

Charles Mizzi was employed as a switchman by the Canadian Northern railway near Munson on June 19, 1913. He was travelling on a gravel train when he jumped the track and killed him. An inquest was held and the following verdict given: that deceased met an accidental death—and censured the railway company for allowing trains to be operated on this part of the system without competent engineers.

Joseph Boydys, on December 26, 1912, was a driver of a compressed air motor which was pushing fourteen empty cars into the mine at Bankhead. One of the cars jumped the track and knocked down the heavy timber supporting the roof. This timber fell and crushed the deceased. The inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was brought in.

Otekas Kiesrak was, on December 9, 1912, employed by the Southern Alberta Land Company at the Big Cut near Gleichen, where the dirt is being removed by a steam shovel and hauled away in trucks by small locomotives to the foot of an incline. The deceased's work consisted of attaching the cable to the locomotive at the foot of the incline, and detaching it at the summit. It was while detaching it at the summit that he stumbled in front of the locomotive and was crushed to death. Dr. Girvin the coroner, was notified and said an inquest was unnecessary.

William Ross was employed in the machine shops at the Bankhead mines. Directly in line with the machine shops is the incline leading to the tipple. On January 15, 1913, two cars broke their couplings, ran down the incline, and crashed into the machine shop where the deceased was working. He was so badly injured that he died the next day. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was given. The jury censured the mining company for not having a safety detaching switch.

Jacob Hytty was killed a mile west of Canmore on February 12, 1913, through a slight load of logs overturning on top of him. Dr. Rosenkrans, of Canmore, made an autopsy, and stated that death was due to a fractured vertebra. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death given.

Edward Thompson was found dead on the trail, from High river to Linchams lumber camp, on the morning of the 18th November, 1912. Dr. Buswell, the coroner, was notified and examined the body, and stated that death was due to heart failure, and that an inquest was unnecessary.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Gustave Person died on November 25, 1912, while driving a team from Gleichen to Queenstown. Dr. Rose, the coroner, was notified, but owing to special instructions he had received from the Deputy Attorney General, re unnecessary expense, he did not go. Corporal Irvine investigated this case and found that deceased suffered from indigestion, which affected his heart.

Frank Durand was skating on Pine lake near Innisfail on December 18, 1912. The ice gave way and he was drowned. Dr. Warke, the coroner, was notified but no inquest was held.

Samuel Maki was driving from Red Deer to the Rocky Mountain house on November 27, 1912, with two other men, when the team became frightened and ran away, and the three of them were thrown out. Samuel Maki died from a broken neck, the others were only shaken up. Dr. George, the coroner, was notified and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

John Herman, a boy of eleven years of age, was dragged by a horse he was riding at Trochu on December 19, 1912; his foot had become caught in the stirrup; he died from his injuries. Dr. J. A. Milner, the coroner, was notified and said that an inquest was unnecessary.

Andrew Mortimer came to his death on November 8, 1912, near Carbon, by the overturning of a wagon he was driving, the wagon box came down on his neck, breaking it. Dr. H. Whitmore, the coroner, was notified and said that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mike Kangas, while digging coal in the mine at Canmore on the 9th December, 1912, was knocked down the chute by a fall of rock, and killed. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was given.

Jerry Sullivan was killed in a rear-end collision at Wessex while travelling from Calgary northward on November 19, 1912, in the caboose of a freight train which was delayed at Wessex siding owing to a hot box. Another freight train following ran into it. An inquest was held and the following verdict was given: That Jerry Sullivan came to his death through injuries received in a collision, which was the result of improper precautions on the part of the C.P.R. We recommend the same protection to the rear of a freight train standing on a siding, as is given to a train on the main line.

DETACHMENTS.

Six new detachments have been opened* during the year at Crossfield, Olds, Munson, Drumheller, Youngstown and Bankhead. There is one mounted constable at each place. This brings up the number of detachments in 'E' Division to 24, with a total strength of one inspector, 31 non-commissioned officers and men, and 42 horses, as shown below.

The detachment at Banff, since the completion of the new building, has been increased by two men and one horse, making a total of four men and three horses, which is none too many for the work they have to do. A great number of hoboos are always on the tramp through the National Park.

A number of the people who have residences at Banff occupy them during the summer and leave them vacant during the winter months, with the result that complaints are perpetually being made of empty houses having been broken into.

It would require a small army of patrolmen to guarantee immunity against this sort of depredation in the case of many of the isolated and abandoned cottages hidden away in the depths of the woods.

DRILL AND TRAINING, MUSKETRY, ARMS, ETC.

The annual revolver practice has been carried out as usual, and a couple of recruits have been taught squad and arm drill.

HEALTH.

The health of the division has been excellent.

HORSES.

On the 1st October last year there were 50 horses in the division and since then 17 remounts have been received.

Per contra, we have lost 5: 3 were cast and sold, one faithful old servant, which was bought in 1885, was put out of his misery by chloroform, and one died of typhoid influenza; leaving us, at the present time, with 62 horses all told.

TRANSPORT.

We require for future use one platform spring wagon: one half spring wagon; and two buckboards.

HARNESS.

One set of heavy wheel and one set of Concord medium harness are required to make up deficiencies.

We are short of double cinche saddles, and require six to complete our equipment.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

BARRACKS, ETC.

We are kept quite busy at times preventing some of the old buildings in use in the barracks here from falling down. The old inspector's quarters have furnished us with firewood for the past year.

At Banff, a new detachment building has been constructed at the cost of $16,268.69.

It consists of a solid brick structure on a cement concrete foundation. The basement is laid off as a kitchen, pantry, dining-room, bedroom, boiler and fuel rooms.

On the ground floor there is a commodious office, three bed rooms and bath for the men, besides four cells and toilet accommodation for prisoners.

There is also a solid brick stable on concrete foundation with a concrete floor. It contains three single and two box stalls, harness and saddle room, with a capacious attic for forage purposes and the necessary tackle for hoisting the same.

The detachment at Banff is thus very comfortably housed.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant.

APPENDIX B.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT J. O. WILSON, COMMANDING
'K' DIVISION, LETHBRIDGE.

LETHBRIDGE, Sept. 30, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward herewith my annual report for the year ending September 30, 1913.

GENERAL STATE OF DISTRICT.

The year which has now closed may be recorded as one of prosperity for this district, as a whole. Much progress has been made, and while in some sections development has not been so great as in others, there has been a steady advance throughout.

Lethbridge has had a comparatively quiet year, as little money has been expended in local improvements, but this is not to be wondered at after the large expenditure of the past two or three years, although the stringency in the money market is the reason given. I am satisfied that the temporary check given this particular section will have a good effect.

The mines in the vicinity of Lethbridge have been working full time since May, and give employment to a very large number of men, and no doubt, as the country becomes more thickly settled, the output will be increased in proportion.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company is now instituting an active campaign to settle all its lands in the Lethbridge district, and parties are now arriving from all parts of the world to look over this land.

Medicine Hat has made rapid progress during the year, and is now said to have a population of 16,000, having doubled in one year. The gas has attracted many industries to the Gas Town. Large municipal improvements have been made.

The growth of Redcliff has also been phenomenal, and it is now a thriving town of about 3,000 population.

Taber has made good progress and improvement can be seen in all the smaller towns of the district.

A new town has been started at Delane, near Medicine Hat, by the Canada Cement Company, and will give employment to a large number of men when the works are completed.

The crops throughout the district may be said to be 'spotted,' and I do not think the yield can be classed as more than fair. This year has clearly demonstrated the fact that none but farmers can expect a good return for the seed sown.

There has been considerable progress made in educating the settlers to see that mixed farming is the only way that they can assure themselves a good living, no matter what the climatic conditions may be.

This section now raises a very large number of hogs, and as the market price has been very high, and the demand good, much money has been made by those who have gone into this particular branch.

The year has been an ideal one for both horses and cattle, and the loss last year on the range almost nil. The grass this year has been well cured, so a good winter may be expected. It is not the loss of cattle which now bothers the district, but the great waste of feed, the majority of settlers having little or no stock, but this will soon change. There is now little open range, and those who have for years ranged their stock on unfenced land, find the stock business not quite so profitable.

Sheep have done remarkably well; the wool crop in this district is increasing each year.

The Lethbridge-Weyburn branch of the Canadian Pacific railway is now within thirty miles of Manyberries, and the wheat in this section, I understand, is to be moved by the railway, which will greatly benefit the settlers to the east.

I am pleased to report that steps have been taken by the Provincial Government to more strictly enforce the Noxious Weeds Ordinance, especially in the immediate vicinity of Lethbridge, where there has been a most energetic inspector. I consider the weed pest even worse than drought, and unless an active campaign is kept up against the settlers, and absentee land owners, who are the worst offenders, land in this district will deteriorate rather than increase in value.

CRIME.

The number of cases entered for this year is 1,060, an increase of 81 cases over last year, with a percentage of 90 per cent convictions. The increase has been general, but I am pleased to report but few serious crimes during the year, and the small increase of crime, considering the large increase of population, speaks well for the class of settlers entering this section of the country. There has been a marked decrease in cases under the Indian Act; this I attribute to the order issued by the department prohibiting the Indians from attending fairs in large bodies. There has been a large increase in cases under the Noxious Weeds Ordinance.

The following is a short summary of the more important cases handled during the year:—

Mike Hunzak, murder.—On September 29, 1912, word was received from the Stair section house, near Medicine Hat, that a man had been shot during a drunken row. Sergeant Harper was sent out to investigate and found that a section hand named William Walaitis had been shot with a shot-gun. He was still living and was removed to the Medicine Hat General hospital, where he subsequently died on October 9. Hunzak appeared before Judge Stewart on November 14, at Medicine Hat, and was found guilty of manslaughter and was sentenced to twenty years in the Edmonton penitentiary. The judge, in passing sentence, stated that he considered the jury had shown leniency to the accused in returning a verdict of manslaughter.

It was shown during the evidence that a keg of beer had been illegally purchased from the Redcliff hotel on a Sunday. The proprietor was fined $50 and costs under the Liquor License Ordinance.

W. Lindstrom, J. Mann and C. Blake, theft of wheat.—On October 10, word was received from a Mr. Lewis, Barnwell, that he had had a quantity of wheat stolen from his granary near Barnwell, and that suspicion pointed to the above three men. Staff-Sergeant Ashe was detailed to work on this case, and the three men were arrested and committed for trial. Blake was released on bail, the other two men remanded to the guard-room. Lindstrom and Mann elected for a speedy trial and were tried before Judge Winter at the District Court, on February 7, were found guilty and sentenced to two years in the Edmonton penitentiary and 12 months in the Provincial jail, respectively.

Blake elected for trial before the Supreme Court and jury. The case was called on April 23, but failed to appear. Judge Simmons ordered that the bail be estreated, which was done.

E. R. Laliberté, horse stealing.—Staff-Sergeant Ashe, while on duty in the country south of Magrath, heard of a bunch of horses being driven from the boundary towards Lethbridge. On his return to Lethbridge a search was made for these horses; they were found to be stolen horses from the South Peigan reserve, Montana.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Two men, named Jim Lowry and Harry Chisholm, had driven these horses from Montana. Chisholm was arrested on charge of bringing stolen property into Canada. I then got into communication with the United States officials, when extradition proceedings were taken and Chisholm ordered to Calgary to appear before Judge Simmons. Lowry, I understand, has not yet been arrested. The horses are still in our possession, pending the order of extradition.

Upon investigating this case it was discovered that Chisholm rode a horse branded SB which he had hired from Laliberté. This horse was found to be owned by a man named William Scott, of Lethbridge. Sergeants Ashe and MacBrayne worked for some time on this case tracing this horse in possession of Laliberté. He was tried before Judge Jackson, on August 22, and sentenced to three years in the Edmonton penitentiary.

Laliberté has long been suspected of being one of the worst horse rustlers in the Lethbridge district.

William Robb, theft of team of mules and buggy.—On February 22, a telephone message was received from F. F. Hammer, Wilson Siding, that a team of mules and buggy and harness had been stolen from his barn during the night. Sergeant Ashe was detailed on this case and traced the outfit into Lethbridge by one of the mules being shod with 'neverslips' and one shoe off, where all trace was lost.

A day or two afterwards a report was received from Sergeant Coleridge, Grassy lake, that an outfit answering the description had been seen nine miles southeast of Grassy lake. Coleridge was instructed to follow and arrest, while Sergeant Ashe was sent into Montana by train to try and head the outfit off. Coleridge traced the outfit across the line to Gold Butte, Montana, where he was joined by Sergeant Ashe. They succeeded in locating the mules which had been traded to a farmer at Solid, Montana. The thief turned out to be a man named William Robb; he was subsequently arrested at Dutton, Montana. He was taken to Conrad where he waived extradition. The mules were afterwards returned to the owner. Robb was tried before Judge Winter on April 5, and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was sentenced to three years in the Edmonton penitentiary. Previous convictions were proven against him on charges of horse stealing in the Calgary district.

Both Staff-Sergeant Ashe and Sergeant Coleridge were awarded $50 each from the fine fund for good work done on this case.

Swallow and Greep, horse stealing.—During the past year a number of settlers living to the north of Lethbridge had reported to the police that they had lost their horses, which had been bred in that vicinity. Sergeant Ashe, while working in the homestead country south of Magrath, discovered a number of these horses in possession of two young fellows named Swallow and Greep, which he took possession of and brought into Lethbridge. The horses were identified as belonging to the following settlers, living near Lethbridge: F. Rutke, A. E. Dupen, Anna Gergely, J. Lazaruk, C. Daniels, E. Mallett, Walter Rose. Informations were laid by these persons against Swallow and Greep and they were committed for trial on seven charges of horse stealing.

During the investigation Ashe discovered a large quantity of contractors' harness in the cellar of the house of the accused. Subsequent inquiry disclosed that this had been stolen out of a storehouse at Hardieville, the property of John Timothy, railroad contractor. They were tried on seven charges of horse stealing and the theft of $400 worth of harness, cooking utensils, etc., found guilty on all charges, and Swallow sentenced to one year on each charge, and Greep, 6 months, the sentences to run concurrently. An immense amount of work and riding was done in order to secure convictions in these cases.

Dave Wilson and V. Horn, cattle stealing.—On the 16th July a butcher named Mitchell, of Medicine Hat, reported to the officer commanding Medicine Hat detachment, that he had in his possession nine head of cattle with worked brands on them, which had been offered for sale to him by one Dave Wilson and a man whom he claimed not to know, on the 13th instant. The cattle were taken possession of and the brands examined, two of them were found to correspond with that of Hyssop Bros., of Lethbridge. Hyssop went to Medicine Hat and identified the brands as his. A description of Wilson was circulated throughout Montana and a description afterwards obtained from Mitchell of Wilson's unknown partner. He was described as having a lump on his face, and was finally located and arrested, and was found to be a settler living near Manyberries, named V. Horn. He was committed for trial on August 18, by Inspector Shoebottom. The case came before Judge Jackson at Lethbridge on September 25, when the Crown offered no evidence. We were unable to proceed owing to the absence of Mitchell, the only witness who saw Horn with the cattle. By authority of the Attorney General's Department the cattle were sold for slaughter and the hides preserved, so that, should we be successful in locating Wilson, we will have the necessary evidence to produce. In gathering evidence in this case it was brought most forcibly home to me the little assistance that can be expected from cattle men in this district prosecuting cases of this nature.

Mike Slenco, attempted murder.—This is a Medicine Hat city police case. The accused is charged with attempting to murder one Andrew Chiswick. The crime was committed during a drunken brawl among a number of Galicians living in the eastern part of Medicine Hat. Chiswick was struck over the head with a large stone three times, causing three bad fractures of the skull, the doctor stating that had the victim not received immediate surgical treatment he would undoubtedly have died. Slenco is now in the Lethbridge guard-room awaiting trial on this charge.

Murder of John Dorda.—No arrest yet made in this case. On the morning of November 5, 1912, a telephone message was received at the barracks that a man was found dead lying at the crossing of Main street and Church street, Stafford village. Sergeant Major Humby and a doctor were immediately sent out, and it was found that the man had been murdered, he having been killed by a heavy instrument, and from appearance of the body it had apparently been carried to where it was found.

An inquest was held, and although some 60 or more witnesses were examined, an open verdict was returned.

The evidence showed that the deceased had attended a wedding on the previous night together with a large number of his fellow countrymen, and although it was shown that he left the wedding at about 11 p.m., we have not been able to trace his movements until the time his body was found at 6 a.m. the following morning. Every possible clue has been taken up and an immense amount of work done on the case, but so far without success. When one considers the fact that over 80 witnesses have been examined at the time of the inquest, and since, that they are all foreigners, and speak seven or eight different languages, it will be seen the difficulty of making an investigation into a crime of this nature.

While we have not been able to discover any motive for the crime, we have not abandoned this case.

Tom Lotella, attempted murder.—On the night of May 28, 1913, a telephone message was received at the Barracks that a man had had his throat cut at No. 6 shaft. Staff Sergeant Ashe was detailed to investigate. On reaching No. 6 he found a man named Tony Lombard in the House of one Tom Hackman; he had his throat cut and had been treated by a doctor. The doctor had taken a piece of a razor out of his throat. Lombard accused a man named Lotella of cutting his throat, Lotella was arrested the same night and committed for trial on charge of attempted murder. He was subsequently released on bail and shortly afterwards he met Lombard at No. 3 when the latter produced a gun and threatened to shoot him.

Lotella is now awaiting trial on this charge.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Tony Lombard, attempted murder.—This is a Lethbridge city police case. After Lotella was admitted to bail on the foregoing case, he met Tony Lombard, who produced a gun and threatened to shoot him; he was prevented from carrying out his purpose by by-standers and the city police notified, who arrested Lombard.

There appears to have been bad blood between Lotella and Lombard, who are both Italians, over a woman.

Lombard is still awaiting trial in the Lethbridge guard-room.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

The general health of the prisoners has been good.

Prison discipline has been strictly enforced and the conduct of the prisoners good.

A sufficient quantity of good prison clothing has been supplied. During the past twelve months, fourteen lunatics were admitted to the guard-room, ten were sent to Ponoka, three were handed over to friends and one female was sent to Calgary guard-room.

During the past twelve months twenty-seven undesirable immigrants were deported to U.S.A., one of these, Ernest Krause, returned and was given one month's hard labour in the guard-room, and at the expiration of his sentence was again deported. One man was deported to each of the following countries: England, Austria, Scotland, Sweden. Two others held for deportation were released by order of the Commissioner of Immigration; all those deported served terms of imprisonment previous to being deported. The guard-room has been overcrowded during the past twelve months, particularly in having to keep so many lunatics and prisoners who are committed on very serious charges in separate cells. During the past twelve months the following improvements have been made in the guard-room, viz., a new floor has been laid in the kitchen and a new cook stove has been supplied to replace the old one which had been burned out.

During the past twelve months six prisoners have been removed to the Galt hospital for treatment, one prisoner, Thomas Stewart, who was brought into the guard-room on January 27, 1913, suspected of being insane, was found by the doctor to be suffering from delirium tremens; he was taken to the Galt hospital on January 31, 1913, and died at the hospital on February 6, 1913.

During the past twelve months no complaints have been made regarding the rations supplied to the prisoners.

Tony Lombard, brought into the guard-room on June 6, 1913, on a charge of attempted murder, was committed for trial by D. H. Elton, P.M., June 18, 1913, and is still awaiting trial.

W. Stratton, brought in August 1, 1913, from Taber, charged with rape and committed for trial by S. J. Layton, J.P., on July 30, 1913, and is still awaiting trial.

M. Slemco was brought into the guard-room from Medicine Hat on August 6, 1913, charged with attempted murder, and committed for trial by O. W. Kealy, P.M., on August 5, 1913, and is still awaiting trial.

M. Mazaruyk brought in from Medicine Hat on August 6, 1913, charged with assault occasioning bodily harm, committed for trial on August 5, 1913, by O. W. Kealy, P.M., and is still awaiting trial.

During the past twelve months, 121 finger prints have been taken, with photographs of prisoners admitted to the guard-room for indictable offences, and forwarded to the Commissioner of Dominion Police at Ottawa.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

TOM. R. BREWER, Constable,
Acting Prevost.

Total number of cases before the Supreme Court and District Court for the year ending September 30, 1913, 64; convictions, 41; fines, 3; imprisonment, 18; penitentiary, 14; suspended sentence, 8; reformatory, 1; nolle prosequi, 2; defaulted (bail estreated), 1; dismissed, 16.

Of the 14 cases shown as not tried in last year's report, all have been disposed of as follows: Convictions, 9; acquitted, 4; and a plea of nolle prosequi entered in the other one.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

Although the cases reported this year are a great deal in excess of last year, being an increase of 17, I am pleased to report that they were all small fires, and very little damage was done.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Justice.—We have supplied orderlies for the sittings of Supreme and District Courts at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Taber. Coroners have been attended at all inquests. Escorts supplied to all prisoners sentenced to Edmonton penitentiary. All prisoners sentenced to the provincial jail have been met at the railway station and taken out by police transport, the distance from the station being about four miles.

Two hundred and seventy-seven prisoners have been handled during the year. We have reported all prisoners to the Immigration Inspector which, in our opinion, should be deported; 31 prisoners were deported from the Lethbridge guard-room during the year.

Customs.—The non-commissioned officers and constables stationed on the boundary are preventive officers and have given general assistance to this department. The non-commissioned officers at Wild Horse and Pendant d'Oreille are acting sub-collectors; the latter has now been taken over by the department and a sub-collector appointed with headquarters at Pinhorn, about eight miles south of Pendant d'Oreille on the line.

Public Health.—All cases of infectious and contagious diseases have been reported to the provincial health officer and quarantine enforced.

Indians.—I have again to report a marked decrease in the number of charges against Indians. As reported under heading of crime this is chiefly due to the wise order in prohibiting the parading of these people at fairs for public amusement.

I spent several days in Medicine Hat, with Mr. Graham of the Indian Department, and we were successful in the removal of non-treaty Cree Indians to reserves in Saskatchewan: they were escorted there by our constable. These Indians have been a constant source of annoyance for years at Medicine Hat.

HORSES.

The horses in the division are almost all in good condition and fit for hard work. The following were cast and sold: Reg. Nos. 2669, 2785, 2979, 275, 315 and 318.

Transferred: Reg. No. 233 to Depot division, Reg. No. 2575 to 'A' division.

The following were destroyed: Pack pony 10, old age and blind; Reg. No. 2524, incurable lameness; Reg. No. 656, pneumonia. Fourteen remounts were received during the year and all have turned out well, the division gain for the year being two.

I had hoped to have had my strength in horses increased during the year, but I realize how hard it is to get suitable horses for our service. It is poor economy to have a division under-horsed.

The mileage for the year is as follows:—

1912.	Miles.
October	11,236
November	18,896
December	11,582
1913.
January	11,638
February	11,525
March	13,459
April	13,770
May	17,097
June	13,741
July	16,085
August	15,029
September	12,540
Total	166,598

With an average of 45 horses, this gives mileage per horse of 3,702.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

TRANSPORT AND HARNESS.

Our transport and harness is in good serviceable condition. We have received during the year, one set of medium double, and one set of single harness, one lumber wagon and one platform spring. We have now sufficient for requirements.

CLOTHING AND KIT.

The supply has been kept up and the quality good.

BARRACKS AND DETACHMENT BUILDINGS.

Verandahs have been placed on the officers' quarters, which greatly adds to the appearance of the barracks.

New floors have been put in the canteen building, and the offices have been renovated, and a small hot-air furnace installed.

The detachment at Coutts has been put in a state of repair and is now comfortable.

A bathroom has been put in the Medicine Hat detachment, and a new fence erected.

Last year I recommended replacing the old shacks at Writing-on-Stone and Pendant d'Oreille. I estimated the cost at about $2,000 each. It is almost impossible to keep these old log buildings free from vermin.

The barracks at Lethbridge will require painting, new floors in stable and new wagon shed. The old one is beyond repair. I should estimate the repairs for barracks at $2,500; this would include sufficient to have water pipes laid to water the lawns and trees. At present we have to attach hose to the house taps.

CANTEEN.

The canteen is on a good financial basis, and grants to the amount of $462.75 have been given to the division during the year.

READING AND RECREATION ROOM.

A monthly subscription of 25 cents per man is paid into this fund. We have a good supply of books and comfortable rooms.

DRILL AND TRAINING.

I have again to report that I have been unable to have but little drill during the year. The annual revolver practice was carried out in July. Six members of the division qualified for crossed revolvers.

FORAGE.

The hay and oats supplied have been of good quality.

HEALTH.

The health of the division has, on the whole, been good. Hon. Surgeon Mewburn has performed a number of operations on members of other divisions.

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

This was most satisfactory until September, when a N. C. O. and two constables, who were sent to Macleod with prisoners, disgraced themselves, and were dismissed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

There have been 37 violent or accidental deaths during the year, all of which have been investigated by us, and lists of property taken charge of and turned over to the public administrators for the province. We have received 76 inquiries for missing persons, all of which have been circulated throughout the district.

The general increase of pay has been much appreciated. I trust, sir, that you will see your way clear to further recommend the amounts allowed to the widows of officers be increased. I understand the banks, under their Pension Act, allow the widows of officials half the pension of deceased husband.

I have again most respectfully to call your attention to the overcrowded condition of our guard-room. We have no accommodation for prisoners who are sick, and at times we are unable to get them in the General hospitals.

I understand that the provincial jail is fitted up with beds, in fact, all modern conveniences, while prisoners sent to the guard-room have to sleep on floors, there being no room for beds, and it would appear to me that as we receive the prisoners for short sentences that the accommodation should be equal to that of prisoners committed for more serious offences.

Fourteen insane persons have been confined in the guard-room during the year. I earnestly hope that the department will soon make other provision for the holding of these unfortunates. An order has now been issued by the department that we accept prisoners sentenced up to five months' imprisonment, which will, no doubt, further overcrowd us. I would recommend that if we are to still keep prisoners in the guard-room that some adequate provision be made for them by the erection of a second guard-room, with separate ward for prisoners awaiting trial.

Medicine Hat sub-district has had a lot of work during the year. I find that nine prisoners were arrested at this point on telegrams and descriptions sent from other places.

I have again to ask that the strength of the division be increased; with new settlements opening up it is almost impossible to give the country the attention it requires.

Supt. West, who has served in this division over five years was promoted to the rank of superintendent on April 1, and left here for Maple Creek in June. I found him a most efficient officer.

I have received the hearty support of all ranks during the year and would especially bring to your notice Reg. No. 4268, Sergeant Major Humby, F. and Reg. No. 4317, Sergeant Wade, W. J.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. O. WILSON, Supt.,
Commanding 'K' Division.

APPENDIX C.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT J. A. MCGIBBON, COMMAND-ING 'C' DIVISION, BATTLEFORD.

BATTLEFORD, 30th September, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. Mounted Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my annual report for the year ended September 30, 1913.

GENERAL STATE OF DISTRICT.

Land under cultivation in this district is increasing year by year, and the growth and development have advanced in a marked degree during the past twelve months. The increase of population has been great, old towns and settlements have increased in population and new towns have sprung into being mainly on account of the construction of new lines in all directions. Settlement of the vacant lands in the better-known localities has continued, but a large number of settlers apparently prefer to look for homes in the still comparatively unsettled portions north of the North Saskatchewan, which points should be visited more frequently than we are able to do at the present time.

Crops in the district have been more bountiful this year than they have been in many years, the absence of hail and frost to any appreciable degree helping considerably towards this end, together with excellent weather. In some parts of the district it is found it pays much better to raise grain and use it as feed, than to sell it as grain, while, in other parts where the transportation facilities are convenient it pays to ship, but on the whole there is no doubt but mixed farming pays best in the long run.

Battleford.—It would be difficult to find a more beautiful situation than that on which the town of Battleford stands. It is served by a branch line of the Canadian Northern railway from Battleford Junction, and a branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway from Biggar, and the Battleford-Cut Knife branch is nearing completion. In addition to the two branch lines already operating, the Grand Trunk Pacific railway has purchased the right of way for a direct line from Saskatoon through Battleford to Edmonton. Three other railway charters have been obtained by various companies, each of which tends to enhance the future position of Battleford as an important railway centre.

The Laurentian Milk Co. of Saskatchewan, Ltd., capitalized at $400,000 has established provincial headquarters at Battleford, and is now in full working order, capable of handling 20,000 pounds of milk per day with a possible output of 2,500 pounds of butter per day. New public school costing $100,000 is nearing completion. Battleford is also the judicial centre, land titles centre, and head office of Dominion Lands. The new hospital for the insane is nearing completion and will be open for the reception of patients on the 15th of November next, is situated on the north bank of the Saskatchewan river, directly facing the old town of Battleford. The site of this institution comprises 2,000 acres. The building is of the most modern fire-proof construction, and is composed of three wings, the east wing for female patients, the west for male patients, while the administration block is located in the centre. The institution at present will accommodate 500 patients, and it has been planned according to the latest approved ideas of treatment for the insane. The institution is complete in every particular, having its own water service, the supply being obtained from pure-water springs situated 2,000 feet from the building. The power house is completely equipped with steam boilers for heat and power, the heating of all buildings being conducted through underground tunnels. All power required is generated at the power house, and distributed from there to where required. Storage water reservoir having capacity of 500,000 gallons is located adjacent to the power house. Upon completion, this will be as complete and up-to-date as any institution of its kind in America. A spur from the city of North Battleford makes it possible for coal and other material to be delivered at the buildings in car loads.

The A. Macdonald Co. has completed a large new brick warehouse here, and it is reported that other important manufacturing concerns will shortly locate. The new Government Telegraph Office building, costing $7,000, is nearing completion, and will soon be ready for occupation. Population of Battleford, 2,500.

North Battleford became a city last June. Population, in 1910, 1,800; in 1912, 5,750. Where the city of North Battleford is building the first store was opened in a tent on the prairie in 1905. Is situated on the north bank of the North Saskatchewan river. Operates and owns its own public utilities, such as electric light, power and water. A new public building, including post office and custom-house is under construction, to cost, including land, approximately $90,000, and the following is a list of some of the most important other buildings erected during the year:—

Connaught school.....	$140,000
Collegiate institute.....	110,000
International Harvester Co.....	120,000
Hospital.....	80 000
Armoury to be built this year.....	25 000
Subway under C.N.R. track.....	60 000
Auditorium hotel.....	85,000

The city of North Battleford is on the main line of the Canadian Northern railway, and a divisional point; three branch lines emanate from here to the south, the northwest and northeast. Included in the wholesale houses in the city are the A. MacDonald Co., Desjardins Co., Massey-Harris Co., John Deere Plow Co., E. L. Drewry, J. I. Case Co., Imperial Oil Co. and other houses are, I believe, negotiating for sites.

Wilkie, with a population of 1,500 has been growing steadily, and many improvements have taken place during the year. A new $75,000 public school has been erected, and was opened last month. A new Presbyterian church has also been put up, new Canadian Pacific railway freight sheds and Union Bank building and several business places. The town has a publicity commissioner. Electric light has been installed, water pipes laid and an excellent well sunk near power house at east end of town, which will supply the town at an early date, and Wilkie, on the whole, has an air of prosperity about it.

Lloydminster, population on Saskatchewan side 800, on Alberta side 400, is forging ahead. New town hall built during the year at a cost of $12,000, and the new $45,000 post office is nearing completion.

The other towns and villages in my district have all advanced during the year in population and otherwise.

SUMMARY OF CRIME.

Details of cases of importance.

G. Klorenluck, J. Neuls Okayzkowski, cattle stealing.—This case mentioned in last year's report, but not prosecuted by order of the Attorney General of Saskatchewan.

John Gunderson, indecent assault.—This case mentioned in last year's report. Was committed for trial by Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., on the 12th September, and was sentenced to two months hard labor in the R. N. W. M. Police guard-room at Battleford by Judge Jas. F. MacLean on the 5th December, 1912.

Robert Mitchell, receiving stolen property.—Case mentioned last year's report, but was withdrawn by the Attorney General, as it was a civil case. The facts of the case being that one, A. D. Smith, was serving a term in the Alberta penitentiary for horse stealing, and while there his wife sold some stock to Robert Mitchell, so that she and her children could live. Smith, on being released, charged his wife with the theft of the stock and Mitchell with receiving same.

Jessie Kinnerley, forgery.—On the 22nd October, 1912, above party was arrested at Edmonton on a charge of forgery and theft at North Battleford. She appeared before Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., and was committed for trial on the 24th October, and the same day appeared before District Court Judge Jas. F. MacLean and sentenced to two years' suspended sentence. She was given a lenient sentence on account of her being in an interesting condition, and also, as the Associated Charities in Edmonton had sent down agents to guarantee that they would look after her.

Gladys Peake, false pretences.—This girl was arrested at North Battleford and the same day, 3rd October, appeared before Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., and charge dismissed. The facts of this case are that one, R. Speers, of Battleford, paid the sum of $80 to a friend who got this girl to come out from England, the girl having to work out the amount. After working for Mr. Speers for some time he got her to sign an agreement to work for him for three years, the girl to get $100 for the first year, less $80 advanced for railway fare, which left her with the sum of $20 for one year's work. She worked for a short time at Speers and then left him and went to work in North Battleford where she was arrested. Miss Mitchell, deaconess of the Church of England at North Battleford, came over to the trial and looked after the girl's interests, and the girl promised she would pay back so much a month until $80 was refunded.

Arthur Gedcke, burglary.—Appeared before His Honor Mr. Justice Brown and jury on the 9th October, charged with breaking into the store of D. J. Farringer at Kindersley on the 25th May, 1912, and stealing goods to the value of $40, and was also charged with breaking into C. N. Ry. freight car at the same place and stealing goods to the value of $20. He was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the Prince Albert jail. He was assisted in the thefts by Omer Gedcke and Lester Plum, both of whom were sentenced to five years in the Prince Albert penitentiary for various thefts. Their cases were shown in last year's report.

Sydney Aggett, theft.—On the 8th September, T. S. Bernsted, proprietor of the Kindersley hotel, complained that he had reason to believe that money was being taken in the bar room, but not being rung up on the cash register. On the 9th September a $5 was marked and paid over to the bartender, S. Aggett; at 10 o'clock the cash register was examined but the bill was not found, neither was any $5 sale recorded on the tape. Aggett was arrested that night and on being searched the marked bill was found in his pocket, filled with other money. He was committed for trial on the 10th September by M. S. Murchison, Esq., J.P., and appeared before Mr. Justice Brown on the 9th October at Saskatoon, and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment in the Prince Albert jail.

Frank Thomas and Charles Thomas, burglary, theft, etc.—On the 14th October, above parties were arrested by the chief of police at North Battleford and were committed for trial on the 14th October by A. Brehaut, Esq., J.P., and appeared before District Court Judge Jas. F. MacLean on the 1st November and were sentenced to three years in the Prince Albert penitentiary. These men appear to have gone into wholesale stealing, and it did not make very much difference to them what they took, as long as they were able to get some little article each time they went out. They broke into the A. Macdonald Wholesale House at North Battleford, and stole tea, tobacco and canned goods, stole motor robe from A. Langlois' motor, small axe and some cartridges from the Methodist parson, and dozens of articles that were of no use to them. Many of the articles recovered have not been claimed by the parties they were stolen from. Mrs. Thomas, wife of one of the prisoners was afterwards sent to Brandon as insane.

Augustus Schwenk, arson.—Was committed for trial and released on bail on the 9th August at North Battleford by A. Brehaut, police magistrate. He appeared before the Honourable Chief Justice Haultain and jury in November, and was found guilty and sentenced to three months' hard labour in the R. N. W. M. Police guard-room at Battleford. The facts of the case are that Schwenk and one, Bellack, who have homesteads in the Metting Lake district made a written agreement whereby Bellack was to have all the hay and crop on Schwenk's place for work done. Some time afterwards Schwenk went to Bellack's place and wanted some money as he Schwenk claimed he was not getting enough out of the agreement, and Bellack refused to pay him. Schwenk then, in the presence of a witness, stated he would burn hay stack; after driving away a short piece from Bellack's he drove back to the hay stack and set same on fire.

J. King, alias Roy, horse stealing.—Was arrested at St. Hypolite on the 8th June and committed for trial by J. A. McGibbon, Esq., J.P., on the 22nd June. He appeared before the Honourable Chief Justice Haultain in October and was sentenced to four months in the Prince Albert jail. The facts of this case are that a neighbour of Roy's turned his horse out at night, and in the morning could not find the animal; they came to town and reported the matter to the police, and the horse was found in North Battleford, King, alias Roy having sold the horse. After selling the horse, King then left the district and went west, but was arrested as soon as he returned here.

K. K. Halton, false pretences.—Was arrested at Lloydminster and sent to Vegreville on the 20th November, where he was wanted on a charge of false pretences. This is a 'G' Division case.

R. Wilkie, cattle stealing.—Was arrested at Metoa on the 18th November and committed for trial by F. Tobey, Esq., J. P., on the 29th November. He appeared before District Court Judge Jas. F. Maclean on the 29th November and was sentenced to three months' hard labour in the R. N. W. M. Police guard-room, Battleford. The facts of this case are that one, Chester Kellog, lost a cow and complained to the police; on the case being investigated it was found that Wilkie had killed the animal and disposed of the carcass.

Elsworth McKee, false pretences.—This man was arrested on a charge of false pretences at Maidstone on an information laid by Mr. Hamilton, of Lloydminster, committed for trial by Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., and on the 17th December, appeared before District Court Judge Jas. F. Maclean and was remanded until the 6th June, 1913, and released on bail. On the 6th of June he failed to appear and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. In September, 1913, Constable Ryder discovered that this man was at Brooks, Alta., and the officer commanding Calgary was notified and McKee arrested, and constable sent from here to bring him back. Appeared before District Court Judge Jas. F. MacLean on the 26th September, and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment in the R. N. W. M. Police guard-room, Battleford, and a fine of $100; in default of fine to an additional term of three months' hard labour. Fine has not yet been paid.

Charles Wall, theft from person.—On the 3rd December, one, F. Searrow, laid an information before J. A. McGibbon, Esq., J. P., charging Wall with having gone through him for all his money in a boarding house kept by Mrs. Barr at Battleford. Wall was arrested and on being searched a sum of money was found on him, and Wall, on cross examination, was unable to account for all the money he had, and in fact it was proved that he did not earn the amount found in his possession. He appeared on the 13th December before District Court Judge Jas. F. MacLean, and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary at Prince Albert.

Henry Squires Hill, forgery.—Was arrested at Battleford and committed for trial on 14th December by A. Brehaut, Esq., magistrate at North Battleford. He appeared before District Court Judge Jas. F. MacLean on the 15th December and was sentenced to three years hard labour in the Prince Albert penitentiary. When Hill was arrested I sent over Staff Sergeant Jackson to see the prisoner as he answered the description of another man wanted for highway robbery, but he recognized him as Hill, and as a man who had already done imprisonment for forgery. When Hill was arrested he had a bunch of cheques all ready for use, and attempted to throw them away, but was noticed doing so and the cheques were collected.

Jas. Munroe, forgery.—Arrested at North Battleford and committed for trial; appeared before District Court Judge Jas. F. MacLean on 27th December and was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in Prince Albert jail. The forgery committed by this boy was a grain cheque. Light sentence was given on account of the lad's age.

David Thibault, highway robbery.—J. Pritchard reported that on the 30th November he had been robbed by David Thibault, and laid an information before Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., and warrant was issued. Every detachment was notified, and in January Staff Sergeant Jackson discovered that he was in Maple Creek, the officer commanding was asked to have him arrested, and he was brought back here and committed for trial by Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., on the 16th January, and on the 15th January was found guilty by District Court Judge Jas. F. MacLean and sentenced to one year and eleven months in the Prince Albert jail. This lad, although only twenty, has a bad reputation, having served a term of imprisonment in Alberta penitentiary for robbery with violence, and previous to that a term in the Industrial School at Portage for theft.

Lars Peterson, attempted murder, attempted rape.—Lars Peterson was working for one Andrew Christianson, near Unity, and on the morning of the 12th February he went to the stable where Miss Anne Peterson was and asked her for a pair of pinchers; she turned her back to him, and almost immediately he fired at her with a revolver, the bullet entering the back of her neck just below the base of the skull; she turned around towards him and he fired again, the bullet entering her nose between the eyes. After shooting her he entered the house and hit Annie Christianson over the head with a flat iron and attempted to have carnal knowledge with her, but did not succeed. In the meantime Miss Anne Peterson made her way towards a neighbour where Mr. Christianson was and told him what had happened. A doctor was sent for, but no doctor was in Unity at the time, and on the arrival of the doctor, after examining the woman he decided to send her to the hospital at Saskatoon, as he was unable to locate the bullets and as it was doubtful if either bullet had entered the brain. She was sent to Saskatoon and after being there for some time was released and sent home. The woman will carry the marks on her face for life where the bullet entered, and also as it is badly discoloured with powder. Information was laid before J. M. Jensen, Esq., J.P., and warrant issued. Immediately after the event Lars Peterson started on foot heading south and was careful never to take a main trail. A party was sent out from Unity to try and trace him and party also sent from Wilkie. Every homestead was visited by this party and trace was got of Peterson seventeen miles from Marengo. He was arrested by Staff Sergeant Jackson at Marengo on the 21st February, and on the 5th March was committed for trial by J. H. Generoux, Esq., and J. M. Jensen, Esq., Justices of the Peace at Unity, and sent to the Prince Albert jail. On the 28th May he was tried by the Honourable Mr. Justice Newlands, and jury, and was sentenced to three years in the Prince Albert penitentiary.

Thunder Blanket, treaty Indian, attempted murder.—Was arrested on the 30th April and committed for trial by Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., and was tried before District Court Judge Jas. F. Maclean, in July, and sentenced to four months in the

R. N. W. M. Police guard-room at Battleford. The facts of this case are that in April some of the Indians on the Sweet Grass reserve were having a feast and had invited Louis Kosikio, Sam Findlay, Jimmy Cheekeses, and young Poundmaker of Poundmaker reserve; as they were returning to their reserve it would appear they hung around Thunder Blanket's tepee and annoyed him and his squaw. Thunder Blanket got his shot-gun and fired at them, some of the shot entering the breast of one just above the heart, and the others receiving it in the arms and back. They went to Dr. Owens at Cutknife who took the shots out of them.

W. C. Dixon, alias E. G. Vivian, false pretences.—On the 5th June, above named party was committed for trial by T. W. Ball, Esq., at Kerrobert, on above charge and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment in the R. N. W. M. Police guard-room in June by District Court Judge Jas. F. Maclean. This man's business was to go to various towns and represent that he was working for a company who supplied periodicals at reduced rates; he would take orders for papers and give receipts, but the parties never got the papers, etc. This scheme he carried on all over both provinces, some fourteen charges being entered against him. After serving his sentences here he was sent to the Prince Albert district, as they had several cases against him.

Wm. Abrams, false pretences.—Was committed for trial in July at Kerrobert by F. W. Ball, Esq., J.P. Abrams was travelling around the district and obtaining money by means of false cheques, he at the time representing himself as being a consulting engineer for the G. T. P. He always presented himself to the bank managers and obtained the money, representing that he had money at other places. But cheques were always returned.

E. Pilon, alias L. P. A. Pilon, misappropriation.—Mr. Joseph Poitras, of Delmas, gave above named party to the amount of $161 to cash for him at North Battleford, but Pilon did not return and on investigation it was found that Pilon had taken the train east on the 6th November. Pilon was a ticket-of-leave man, and as soon as it was known that he had gone east the Commissioner of Dominion Police was notified. Later I was notified that he had been arrested in Montreal and had been sentenced, and had to complete his unexpired portion of ticket-of-leave, which expires in 1914. Information was laid before Jas. Ritchie, Esq., J.P., by Mr. Joseph Poitras and warrant was issued and held here.

ACCIDENTAL AND SUDDEN DEATHS.

During the year 56 cases of accidental and sudden deaths were investigated by the members of this division. This necessarily entailed considerable work as, in many cases, a coroner's inquest was held.

List of deceased's effects were forwarded to the Standard Trust Company of Saskatoon where death occurred in Saskatchewan, and to the National Trust Company at Edmonton, where death occurred in Alberta. Where the relatives were known they were also notified.

SUICIDES.

Eleven cases of suicide were investigated during the year.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Interior.—The usual assistance was given to this department during the year in issuing fuel and relief to destitutes, especially in the southern part of the district.

Indian.—Indian Agent was provided with an escort during the payment of treaty in the north.

Justice.—Orderlies have been supplied for all Supreme Court sittings and for the trial of criminal cases at the District Court. Prisoners have been escorted to the Prince Albert jail, and lunatics have been escorted to Brandon asylum.

Agriculture (Provincial).—Investigating and hunting up owners who have not enrolled their stallions in compliance with the statute. Investigating and reporting upon cases of destitution. We have also done valuable work in maintaining quarantine at various points during outbreaks of smallpox, &c.

Neglected and Dependent Children.—A large number of cases were investigated on behalf of this department, and the directions of the superintendent in regard thereto, carried out by us.

DRILL AND TRAINING.

Men were drilled weekly with all arms, and on detachments when inspected. The annual revolver practice was carried out in July, four men qualifying for the 'crossed revolvers.'

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

Two men deserted during the year but surrendered themselves at Regina where they were dealt with, outside of that, there were no serious breaches of discipline.

HEALTH.

I regret to have to record the lamentable fatality which occurred to Reg. No. 4661, Sergeant T. H. Turvey, who was killed at Macklin on the 30th June last by his horse falling on him. The body was brought to Battleford for interment and the large number who attended the military funeral testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Reg. No. 5021, Constable Ionson, F.M., suffering from tuberculosis, was sent to Regina for treatment. Otherwise the health of the division was good.

HORSES.

During the year the horses were inspected twice by yourself. Veterinary Surgeon Burnett and Inspector Sweetapple also inspected the horses during the year. The Comptroller inspected the horses with you on your last visit. Six horses were received from Regina in September. Three were cast and sold.

The mileage for the year was 132.175 miles.

STATE OF INDIANS.

Forty-two cases were tried under the Indian Act, thirty-six convictions being obtained.

PROMOTIONS IN THE DIVISION.

Reg. No. 3300, Sergeant Major Phillips, J.W., to Inspector.

" 3069, Corporal Burke, W.H., to Sergeant.

" 739, Corporal O'Keefe, L., to Sergeant.

" 4774, Constable Drysdale, to Corporal.

TRANSPORT, HARNESS AND SADDLERY.

We received two sets medium harness, two sets heavy and one single set, and eighteen new D. C. saddles during the year. Seventeen of the old saddles were condemned and sold. We require a new single buckboard or buggy.

CANTEEN.

There is no canteen here. We do not need one.

READING AND RECREATION ROOM.

There is an excellent library in the post, and a comfortable reading room with a full-sized English billiard table. The illustrated papers sent from Ottawa are much appreciated by the men.

STORES.

Supplies and stores are of good quality.

BUILDINGS.

You have authorized the much needed repairs to the stable at a cost of $875, and the work is in progress, the building of lean-to to stable for a transport shed has also been authorized.

The guard-room has but six cells and is not up-to-date in any respect, is too small, and there are three in a cell more often than otherwise. No facilities for washing or bathing, and no female accommodation. A wash room about 12 by 14 is required, with a farmer's boiler to serve the double purpose of bathing prisoners and washing clothes. This would cost about $125.

A new tank house with tank and accommodation for fire engine, &c., and a new coal shed is needed. The old coal shed is situated in an awkward place, the building is falling to pieces and is an eyesore to the place; the latter remarks would apply to the old transport shed. The barrack enclosure itself covers a large area, and altogether too large for our requirements, and takes much labour to keep the place in order. Many of the buildings are inconveniently scattered about, and have become unsightly from age.

New quarters for the officers are badly needed, the present ones are unwholesome and unhealthy, and it is a laborious task to keep them heated to afford any degree of comfort in the winter. They should be steam heated.

WATER SUPPLY.

The waterworks system has been installed in town, and I would recommend that the barracks be connected therewith. I make this recommendation for many reasons, chiefly from a sanitary point of view, and for better fire protection.

GENERAL.

I reiterate the recommendation I made last year that two automobiles be furnished this division. The new asylum will shortly be opened for business and will necessitate considerable travel from the stations at both towns transporting patients. The distance alone from barracks to North Battleford station and return is 8 miles, and teams are constantly on the road meeting trains.

The detachments north, east and west of here have been inspected regularly from this post by an officer, and the officer in charge of the Wilkie sub-district inspects those in the southern district.

The division was inspected during the year twice by yourself, and once by the comptroller.

Inspector Genereux was transferred to 'K' Division from the 1st June. Inspector Howard was transferred to this Division on the 1st June and placed in charge of the Wilkie sub-district. Inspector Phillips transferred to 'N' Division from the 1st May.

In concluding my report I take this opportunity to acknowledge the loyal support I have received from the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of this division.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. A. McGIBBON, Supt.,
Commanding 'C' Division.

APPENDIX D.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT W. H. ROUTLEDGE, COMMANDING PRINCE ALBERT.

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK., October 1, 1913.

The Commissioner,
 Royal Northwest Mounted Police,
 Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to furnish the annual report of the district and division under my command, for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The Prince Albert District is divided into four sub-districts, as follows:—

Prince Albert.—Inspected from District headquarters.

Saskatoon.—Inspector Duffus, in command.

Le Pas.—Inspector French, in command.

Melfort.—Staff Sergeant Loggin, in charge.

Twenty-three detachments are located in the district, as against sixteen last year, distributed as follows:—

Prince Albert Sub-District.—Duck lake, Shellbrook, Blaine lake, Big river, Green lake.

Saskatoon Sub-District.—Saskatoon, Hanley, Rosetown, Vonda, Humboldt, Asquith, Wadena, Wakaw, Allan.

The Pas Sub-District.—The Pas, Cumberland House, *Setting lake, *Limestone lake, *Thicket Portage.

Melfort Sub-District.—Melfort, Kinistino, Tisdale, Hudson Bay Junction.

GENERAL STATE OF THE DISTRICT.

I am pleased to be able to report that the Prince Albert District, throughout which my division operates, has progressed in a satisfactory manner during the police year just closed.

From all sections, with but few exceptions, the harvesting reports have been very encouraging and a bountiful crop is confidently looked for. The grain sample and yield is generally of the finest. The season has been remarkable for the absence of serious early frosts and the weather, up to date of writing, has been all that could be desired for harvesting purposes.

From all I can learn, in spite of the financial shortage, which it is hoped is now on the decline, legitimate business throughout the district, in practically every line, has been satisfactory, which would go to show that we have not been affected in any serious sense.

The money shortage has had the good effect of checking real estate hysteria, and it is to be hoped has banished the realty shark.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Mixed farming seems to be generally on the increase throughout the district, and the increase in milch cows, sheep and swine during the year has been very considerable. The Prince Albert District is well adapted in every way for mixed farming, the feed and water facilities for cattle being of the best. During the season, 1,763 homestead entries were made in the Prince Albert land district. The settlers appear to be of a good class, the greater percentage of whom are from Great Britain and the United States.

Some four hundred new settlers have located in the Humboldt district, the majority being Germans of a well-to-do class. The population of the town of Humboldt is now about eighteen hundred, and shows considerable increase over the previous year. A large capacity flour-mill, a sash and door factory, and other industries have been established during the year. Humboldt has been created a Supreme Court and Land Titles district.

In the Rosetown district, some six hundred settlers have located, the greater number being farmers from the United States, most of whom are possessed of means, and should make desirable settlers. A severe hail-storm was experienced northwest from Rosetown, the area affected covering some 70 square miles, destroying a large percentage of the crops in that space. The new Canadian Pacific railway branch going west from McRorie has opened up the southern part of the Rosetown district. Four new villages have sprung up on this line with an average population of one hundred and fifty each.

The new Canadian Northern railway branch from Shellbrook to Denholm will be completed this fall. The country through which this line passes is a fine wheat belt. Besides facilitating the farmers in getting their produce to market, this new branch will connect the cities of Prince Albert and Battleford by a direct route.

The Hanley district is the most prosperous section, one farmer having no less than three thousand acres in wheat, while two others have each two thousand acres.

During the season a large number of settlers, chiefly from Great Britain and the United States have homesteaded in the Shellbrook district, which is now becoming fairly well settled. The older settlers in that locality are improving their holdings. Parks'ide and Leak have become thriving towns, and a new elevator and flour-mill has been erected at Shellbrook.

Building operations in the town of Melfort have been brisk during the season. A new $50,000 public school has been completed and open for use. A fine Government post office, custom house and armoury have also been completed, together with a number of fine private residences.

The installation of a water and sewer system at Melfort has made considerable headway, some five miles of sewer and water pipes having been laid throughout the town. A new electric power house has been completed, poles laid and wires strung, for the electric lights which will soon be in operation.

The Melfort-Humboldt, Canadian Northern railway line is now being ballasted. This line is not yet completed to Humboldt, but goes as far as Lake Lenore, thirty-five miles southwest of Melfort. Elevators have been erected at Pleasant Valley, and Pathlow, points along this branch. Also lumber yards and stores.

The Melfort district is a very prosperous one, and is becoming generally known as a fine, mixed-farming country. A number of new settlers have located this year, being chiefly from the United States and Great Britain, all first-class settlers with means and experience in farming.

During 1914, Melfort will celebrate the anniversary of the first farming operations conducted in Saskatchewan, which took place at Fort la Corne, in the Carrot River valley, one hundred years ago, under the auspices of the Chevalier de la Corne, after whom the old fort was named.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Farmers in the Rosthern and Duck Lake districts are going in more for mixed farming with the result that a good many cattle and hogs have been shipped, realizing good prices.

During the latter part of July a severe hail-storm struck portions of the districts of Rosthern, Fish Creek and Waldheim, which caused considerable damage to crops.

The estimated population of the city of Prince Albert at the present time is believed to be thirteen thousand five hundred, a decided increase over last year's figures.

Owing to the depression which has ruled in the financial world, and affected the western country, the city has confined its civic works to the completion of last year's contracts, and very little new work has been undertaken. Private enterprise has, however, been responsible for a considerable number of improvements, amongst them being three new imposing bank buildings, and the enlargement of the fourth, going to show that the banking houses, of which there are ten, have considerable faith in the future of Prince Albert and its tributary area.

The fall of last year and the spring of this, saw the erection of the large works of the Great West, Iron, Wood and Chemical Co. on the north side of the Saskatchewan river, opposite the city, which, I understand, are the largest works of the kind west of Montreal.

Good progress has been made with the municipal power scheme at La Colle falls, and although a temporary halt has been called, it is expected that active construction will be again undertaken in the spring.

During the present year forty-five carloads of wheat have been shipped from the Prince Albert depot.

The season's cut of the Prince Albert Lumber Co.'s Mill will reach forty-eight million feet of lumber and twelve million pieces of lath. The mill began operations on April 12, 1913, which was the earliest date the company has ever been able to begin sawing, and the mill has been run on a day and night shift during the season.

The following is a summary of the business done by the Russell Baker Packing Co., Prince Albert, during the season:—

Cattle killed.	2,300
Pigs killed.	5,000
Sheep killed.	250
Ham, etc., cured. pounds	100,000
Dry salt bacon cured. “	35,000

In the city of Saskatoon the municipal street railway service started operations on the 1st January, 1913 and, at the present time, there are thirteen miles of track in use.

A number of fine buildings have been erected in the city during the year, among them being J. F. Cairns' new departmental store, the Royal Bank building, the Canada building, and others.

The contract for a new bridge across the south branch of the Saskatchewan river at Saskatoon, has been awarded and the work will be shortly proceeded with.

I understand it has been decided to erect a very large and up-to-date Dominion Government grain elevator at this point, the building of which will commence very shortly.

The Pas, Manitoba, 89 miles northeast of the Hudson Bay Junction on the C. N. R., east of Prince Albert, is the starting point of the new Government railway to Port Nelson on Hudson bay and is likewise the headquarters of the R.N.W. M.P. sub-district under Inspector French, having police control in connection with the railway construction.

The population of The Pas is about 1,500, an increase over last year of about 33 per cent. The Indian population of The Pas consists of about five hundred souls.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

The construction of the Hudson Bay railway has been going steadily on since May, 1912. At the present time, men are employed between Mileage 67 and 185, building the dump and clearing the right of way. Steel has been laid on the line to Mileage 66 from The Pas and, provided ties can be obtained, another thirty miles will be laid before freeze-up.

The Dominion Government have erected a wireless telegraph station one mile north of The Pas to connect with Port Nelson on the Hudson bay. Two towers have been built to a height of 250 feet, and cables strung. The power plant is under construction and will be completed by the end of December.

Work has been commenced on the Industrial School on Fisher island near The Pas at a cost of $80,000, which includes hospital, workshops and boarding apartments.

A number of new buildings have been erected in the town during the past year, including cottages, stores, warehouses, office buildings, etc.

Emeri Kovach and Louis Racz, murder of Charles Bruggencate.—On the morning of 12th February, 1913, it was reported at this barracks that the dead body of an unknown man had been found lying on the Colleston trail, about 7 miles east of the city of Prince Albert. Inspector Douglas with Corporal Chaney, accompanied by the coroner, Dr. H. A. L. Reid, at once proceeded to the scene to investigate. Later on during the day, the body was identified as that of Charles Bruggencate, a Boer, who had a homestead near La Colle Falls and a temporary residence in East Prince Albert.

Upon examination of the body, six wounds were discovered, four on the skull and two on the neck. The most prominent were a large wound on the crown of the head, and a long jagged gash in the throat. The other wounds were of a minor character. The subsequent medical examination confirmed the suspicion that the unfortunate man had come to his death through foul play.

At this stage of the investigation, suspicion fell on two Hungarian labourers, named Emeri Kovach and Louis Racz, who were immediately held by Inspector Douglas as suspects. Suspicion first fell on Louis Racz as evidence was forthcoming that the man Emeri Kovach had informed another that Racz had threatened to kill Bruggencate.

In the course of his examination of the cabin and vicinity, occupied jointly by the two men, Kovach and Racz, blood-stains were discovered by Inspector Douglas and the investigating party. Later, a statement was made by the man Kovach, which practically accused Racz of the crime. Several clues were found in the vicinity of where the murdered man was discovered and Kovach's statement connected Racz with them. It was evident from the demeanor of both these men that they had more than a passing knowledge of what had happened to Charles Bruggencate on the night of the tragedy, February 11, 1913. Charges of vagrancy were preferred against them, pending further police investigation. On February 15, Kovach and Racz appeared before R. Y. Douglas, J.P., to be further remanded on the vagrancy charge. At this time, the man Racz requested to be allowed to make a statement. He was given the usual statutory warning and his statement then taken down in writing. The following is a short outline of what he said: In the evening of February 11, Charlie Bruggencate came to Kovach's cabin. He knocked at the door and Kovach told him to go home. Bruggencate then pushed the door open and fell into Kovach's cabin. Kovach jumped out of bed and started punching Bruggencate with his fist. Racz came out of his cabin and went and pulled Bruggencate out of Kovach's cabin by the collar of his coat. Kovach then came out, got a stick from the woodpile, and belaboured Bruggencate over the head with it. Racz then went into his own cabin leaving Kovach at his work. A few minutes later Kovach came to Racz' cabin, and told him he had smashed Bruggencate's head in and asked what he should do with the body. Racz told him he wanted nothing to do with it, so Kovach said he would wait until the body froze, when he would cut it in half and take it down to the river. Racz, however, did not want to play the part of an onlooker to such a cold-blooded act and accordingly offered assistance in the placing of the unfortunate man on the sleigh, which he had driven to the cabin. This was done and Kovach drove away. When he returned some two hours later Kovach described to Racz that he had driven into the country. On the way Bruggencate began to move, much to the surprise of Kovach, who thought him dead. Kovach then thought he ought to 'finish him off,' so he pulled out his pocket-knife and cut Bruggencate's throat, after which he got off the sleigh and turned the horse loose.

In the meantime, the matter of bloodstains was being investigated by Inspector Douglas, Sergeant Major Wilcox and Sergeant Prime. Bloodstains were found on the clothing of Kovach, outside the cabin and elsewhere and, upon analysis, proved to be human. On the 21st February, the coroner's inquest was held and the verdict returned was to the effect that Chas. Bruggencate's death was caused by foul means. Evidence pointing to Kovach as being the perpetrator of the crime, information was laid against him for murder and on the 26th February he was committed for trial by R. Y. Douglas, J.P. Racz being so material a witness, was committed to jail as he was unable to furnish bonds of security for his appearance at the trial.

On April 14th, while awaiting his trial, which was only two weeks away, Kovach laid information against Racz charging him with the murder, and on the 15th of the same month, the latter was committed for trial by Inspector Douglas, J.P. The story told by Kovach was identical with that told by Racz, with the exception of substituting the other's name.

At this stage the true facts of the case were hidden in a cloud of falsehoods and complications, which had to be unravelled, necessitating considerable skilful judgment and persevering labour. On April 24th, Kovach appeared for trial before Chief Justice Haultain and jury to stand his trial for murder. Evidence was given as to the bloodstains and their location, the story of Racz and other important details.

In summing up the Chief Justice dwelt strongly on the seriousness of the crime and was good enough to commend the 'fine work done by the police,' to use his own words.

After seven hours' deliberation, the jury found Kovach guilty, as an accessory before the fact to the murder of Bruggencate. The Chief Justice then explained that the verdict would be recorded as one of guilty of murder, and accused was sentenced to be hanged at Prince Albert on July 18, 1913.

During the whole of his trial Kovach was perfectly composed and calmly received his sentence.

On the 5th May, the other man, Louis Racz, appeared for trial before the Chief Justice and a jury, on a similar charge to that of Kovach.

The evidence was much the same as that given at the trial of Kovach, and after two and a half hours deliberation, the jury returned a verdict of 'Guilty' and Racz was sentenced to be hanged on the 25th July, 1913. Unlike his accomplice, Kovach, Racz received his sentence with manifestations of much fear. During July the local sheriff received notification to the effect that the death sentence passed upon Emeri Kovach had been commuted to life imprisonment.

The case of Louis Racz having been appealed to the court, en banc a new trial was ordered.

Throughout the police investigation this murder case proved to be most complicated and difficult to unravel, the victim and the persons directly connected with it being foreigners of a low type, making it a hard matter to obtain evidence.

Inspector Douglas and the non-commissioned officers associated with the case are deserving of the greatest credit for the energetic and painstaking manner in which they approached and performed a difficult duty.

John Shepherd, incest.—This case occurred at Buckland near Prince Albert, and is of a most distressing character.

On the 19th March accused appeared for trial before His Honour the late Judge Forbes, and was found guilty. The just sentence meted out to the accused was penal servitude in the Saskatchewan penitentiary for four years, and twenty lashes, ten to be given within the first month of incarceration and ten during the last month.

John Bird, shooting with intent.—On the 27th June, 1913, it was reported to Constable Wilson, in charge of the Shellbrook detachment, that an Indian of the Sandy Lake reserve, had shot twice at a homesteader with a rifle, on the previous evening.

Constable Wilson proceeded forthwith to investigate, and the following appear to be the facts of the case:—

On the 26th June, the accused came to the shack of a homesteader named Herman Witpen, and after some conversation requested Witpen to loan him his rifle. This Witpen declined to do, but offered to sell it for $20. Later on, Witpen, went outside to the well, and when he returned saw the accused going away from the shack, carrying Witpen's rifle with him. Witpen promptly requested Bird to return his rifle, and fearing less accused should return to the shack for the purpose of taking a shot-gun which was also there, he went indoors. Just as he was entering, he heard a report of a gun and saw splinters fly over his head, quickly followed by another. At this, Witpen retreated hastily into the house and barricaded the doors, and hid himself under the table until he considered it safe to proceed to a neighbour's place.

The accused, Bird, was committed for trial, and on the 22nd of July, 1913, he appeared before His Honour the late Judge Forbes, at Prince Albert, and was sentenced to three months' hard labour in the Prince Albert common jail.

Middleton Pritchard, attempted murder.—On November 30, 1912, a complaint was received at the Prince Albert R.N.W.M.P. barracks to the effect that the above-named had shot at and hit one, Herman Bird, wounding him in the leg.

The matter was investigated by Sergeant Prime, of this division, who proceeded to Halcro, Sask., late that night. At Halcro he located the accused and placed him under arrest, and returned with him to Prince Albert.

On December 9, 1912, accused was committed for trial before R. Y. Douglas, J.P., on the above charge and from the evidence submitted, the following are the facts of the case:—

On the 30th November, accused, with another young man named Ned Irwin, drove up to the house of Herman Bird, and went indoors. They invited Bird outside to have a drink, which he did. Arriving outside Bird saw they only had a mere drop of whiskey in a bottle. Pritchard at once began to quarrel with Bird who got away from them and ran back to his house. While en route Pritchard seized a rifle and fired at the retreating man twice, striking him in the heel. Evidence was also produced to show that accused had threatened to 'lick' Bird the same night as the affray took place.

On April 30 accused appeared before Chief Justice Haultain and a jury and pleaded not guilty to the charge. The evidence adduced by the Crown, however, proved that the shooting had taken place, with apparent intent, and accused was found guilty and fined $200, or in default of payment one year hard labour in the Prince Albert common jail.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Adam Fisher, manslaughter.—On December 3, 1912, a party of men from Prince Albert were hunting big game north of that city. Two of this party, Charles Pirter and William Porter, started out for a days hunt by themselves. When about 11 a.m., on coming into a clearing where a slough was frozen over, the figure of a man appeared some two or three hundred yards away who raised a rifle and fired, striking William Porter in the upper part of the leg. Several other shots were fired by the man who then retreated.

Upon receipt of this information, Sergeant Prime was detailed to investigate and he left on the 5th December for White Fox creek, where the shooting occurred, some 45 miles north of Prince Albert.

The result of his investigation was that suspicion was fastened on a man named Adam Fisher, who had been hunting in the vicinity. This man was met by another hunter, just about the time of the shooting, running hard, and coming from the direction of the slough where the man was shot. Fisher was out of breath from running at the time, and collapsed to the ground. Much arduous work was performed by Sergeant Prime, as all trails and tracks had to be followed, rifles and bullets obtained, examined and compared, and many days were occupied in bringing this case to a satisfactory conclusion. The track where Fisher was met, when running hard, was followed and showed that it led to the place where the man stood who fired the shot. It was then concluded that this man must have done the shooting, and the important thing was to locate him, he having in the meantime departed from the vicinity. Sergeant Prime then returned to Prince Albert. The bullet fired struck William Porter in the leg and splintered the bone. Death was not instantaneous, but on the 8th December the unfortunate man expired, and the man Fisher, who had previously been wanted on the suspicion of having wounded Porter, was now wanted on the more serious charge of manslaughter.

On the same day that Porter's death occurred, Sergeant Prime left with the object of locating Fisher, who undoubtedly was concealing himself. After a long search, accused was run to earth about 15 miles west of Prince Albert. Considerable judgment had to be exercised in the matter of apprehending Fisher as he endeavoured to evade arrest, going so far as to run from Sergeant Prime, when the latter tried to overtake him.

An inquest was opened at Prince Albert on December 9, and the verdict returned stated that deceased, William Porter, came to his death by a bullet fired by Adam Fisher.

On January 6, Fisher was committed for trial by R. Y. Douglas, J.P., on the charge of manslaughter.

He was tried on this charge before Chief Justice Haultain at the spring session of the Supreme Court, and found guilty, being sentenced to one month's imprisonment with hard labour in the common jail at Prince Albert.

Kathleen Simon, murder.—This case comes from Wakaw, and has most peculiar circumstances surrounding it, in that the prisoner, who has confessed to the whole affair, is a child aged only 12½ years. The victim is also a young girl, 9½ years of age. The facts of the case are as follows:—

On June 21, 1913, Julian Janik, the murdered child, went picking roots with her young murderess. The girl Janik found a dead chicken on the ground, and picking it up, she threw it at the accused, and struck here in the eye with it. She then picked up some pieces of hard earth and also threw them at the accused. This aggravated the accused to such an extent that she picked up a spade which had been used by them for unearthing the roots, and struck Julian several times over the head with it. The callous and indifferent manner in which the accused treated this most serious of crimes is astonishing, as, according to the evidence, she went on picking roots for another five or six hours, and then returned home, after which, as she stated herself, 'forgot all about it,' until questioned by Sergeant Thomas. The body was found on the 22nd June, 1913. The accused is a powerfully built girl for her age, and looks three or four years older than she really is. Both girls are of Hungarian nationality.

Some idea of the strength of the accused may be gained by the following description of the body when found: Was lying on its back, with right hand raised. On the hand, three or four deep cuts to the bone, bones between the wrist and knuckle fractured. Right side of face completely smashed to pieces; nose smashed; eyes nearly knocked out; right forehead fractured; two cuts on right back of head; skull partially fractured; two cuts on left side of face from nose to forehead. By the side of the spade used were two or three teeth, and the lethal instrument itself bore a large clot of blood.

On 26th June, 1913, the accused appeared for preliminary hearing at Wakaw, and was committed for trial on the charge, which trial she is still awaiting.

Carl Larson, incest.—On April 3rd, 1913, Constable Basnett in charge of the Rosetown detachment received a telegram requesting him to go to Stranraer, Sask., to investigate the matter.

On August 13 word was received that Mrs. Larson was likely to die at any time, and an ante mortem statement was taken from her, which corroborated the statement made by her daughter.

At the time of writing the case has not been concluded.

Isidore Herman, indecent assault.—This case was shown as awaiting trial on last year's annual report.

After considering the matter the Attorney-General's Department arrived at the decision that, owing to the peculiar circumstances surrounding the case, it would be better to drop the prosecution, and accordingly on 7th October, 1912, the young man was sent by train to Big river and thence to his home at Portage La Loche. It would be a most expensive undertaking, to bring the witnesses all the way from Portage la Loche, which is some 450 miles north of Prince Albert.

Jeff Garland, murder.—This case was shown as outstanding on last year's report.

On the 3rd October, 1912, accused appeared before Mr. Justice Brown and jury at Saskatoon, and was found guilty of the charge of manslaughter and sentenced to ten years penal servitude in the Saskatchewan penitentiary.

Joseph A. Verrault, burglary, etc.—On April 7, 1913, a long distance phone message was received at Prince Albert from the postmaster at Rosthern, that the post office at that point had been broken into on the night of April 5, and a book containing 54 blank money orders stolen, and that one of the money orders had been filled in and cashed.

Sergeant Prime was detailed to investigate this case, which he did, proceeding to Rosthern by the first train and tracing the matter up. He first made an examination of the post office building, and also of the ground in the vicinity of the post office. Tracks were seen leading up to the rear of the post office, and much tramping around had been done. Some of the tracks were very distinct in the clay, which was damp. The accused was already under arrest on suspicion, he being a stranger in town, and his boots were obtained, and an impression taken from them. This was measured and compared with the tracks in the clay, and proved to be identical. Evidence was also produced to show that the accused had cashed a Rosthern P.O. money order and had attempted to cash another.

Upon this evidence accused was convicted on the charges of burglary, theft and forgery at the spring session of the Supreme Court at Prince Albert, before Chief Justice Haultain and jury, and sentenced to one year's hard labour in the local common jail.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

George McNaughton, forgery.—In November, 1912, George McNaughton was employed by Lyons Bros., merchants at Blaine lake, as clerk. His services not being satisfactory, he was discharged at the beginning of December of the same year. In January, 1913, a complaint was received from the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Blaine lake to the effect that in December, 1912, two cheques had been cashed at their Prince Albert branch. When these cheques were received at Blaine lake at which branch they were drawn, they were discovered to be forgeries. Both cheques were made out for $40.60 each, and the name of Lyons Bros. forged upon each of them.

Sergeant Prime was detailed to investigate this case with the result that a strong chain of circumstantial evidence which connected the accused with these forgeries was secured.

In the meantime McNaughton had disappeared, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. In June, 1913, he was located and arrested by the R.N.W.M.P., at Battleford.

On July 3, 1913, accused appeared before the late Judge Forbes for his trial and was found guilty of the charge of forgery, and sentenced to three years in the Saskatchewan penitentiary.

PATROLS.

In addition to the ordinary patrol work of the various detachments, the following long distance patrols have been carried out by members of the division during the past year.

Inspector French and Sergeant Munday, with dogs from The Pas to Fort Churchill on the Hudson Bay, carrying mails and attending to other matters. The patrol travelled via Cedar lake, Grand Rapids, Norway House, Cross lake and Split lake, a distance there and back of about 1,400 miles. This patrol was a long mid-winter journey and the efficient manner in which the duty was performed reflects credit on Inspector French and Sergeant Munday.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

A patrol was made by Reg. No. 4465, Corporal Belcher, B., from Cumberland House to Lac du Brochet, via Pelican Narrows, Beaver lake, Deer lake, visiting the Indian settlements en route, covering a distance of about 800 miles.

The line of the Hudson Bay railway construction has been patrolled all summer from The Pas to Mileage 60 on an average of once a week. From mileage 60 to mileage 185, the camps have been patrolled on an average of once a month. This system has proved very effective, as there is no case on record where liquor has got into any of the construction camps north of The Pas.

The following letters, from the Vice-President and General Manager of the Hudson Bay Construction Co., the Assistant Chief Engineer of the railway and the Contractor for the construction, as to the manner in which the police duty has been performed, speak for themselves:—

‘THE HUDSON BAY CONSTRUCTION CO.

‘THE PAS, MAN., Sept. 15, 1913.

‘Insp. FRENCH,

‘R.N.W.M.P.,

‘The Pas, Man.

‘DEAR SIR,—Replying to the inquiry of your Commanding Officer at Prince Albert, regarding the services of the R.N.W.M.P., as applied to our work, viz., the construction of the Hudson Bay railway, starting from here, I have much pleasure in saying that the same has been most satisfactory, the conduct of the force stationed here and along our works being a credit to the honoured institution they are members of.

‘Yours truly,

(Signed) ‘N. K. BOYD,

‘Vice-Pres. and Asst. Genl. Mgr.’

‘DEPARTMENT OF RAILWAYS AND CANALS,

‘HUDSON BAY RAILWAY,

‘ENGINEERING DEPT.,

‘LE PAS, Sept. 15, 1913.

‘Insp. FRENCH,

‘R.N.W.M.P.,

‘Le Pas, Man.

‘DEAR SIR,—In referring to the work that has been carried on by your department, in connection with the construction work of the Hudson Bay railway, I have pleasure in stating that the work has been carried on with less trouble from the men, and less illicit whisky peddling, than that of any other railroad construction that I have been connected with in the last twenty years.

‘In my opinion, the general good conduct of the men, and the prevention of trouble usually caused by illicit peddlers has been obtained by the systematic campaign that you waged on the opening of this construction.

‘In my personal dealings with yourself, Sergeant Munday and staff, I found all courteous, always willing to co-operate and to take prompt action in any emergency.

‘The Engineering Department will all join with me in wishing you the same success in the future that you have attained in the past, and I am sure the Chief Engineer and the contractors will endorse the work you have done.

‘Yours truly,

(Sgd.) ‘J. P. GARROW,

‘Asst. Chief Engineer.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

'THE PAS, MAN., Sept. 4, 1913.

'Insp. FRENCH,

'R.N.W.M.P.,

'The Pas., Man.

'DEAR SIR,—I wish to take this opportunity of writing you a letter complimenting you and the members of the force under your command, on the very efficient manner in which you and they have policed the line of construction of the Hudson Bay railway of which I am the chief sub-contractor. I have had a few of these contracts in the past few years and I am free to state that I have never had a gang of men on any contract where there has been less friction and less whisky on the work than on this job, and I realize that it is to you and your force that we owe the present state of affairs. I trust that we will be together on the Nelson end of the steel, and the present good relations may continue to the end of the work between the contractors and the men in their employ, and the members of the R.N.W.M.P.

'Yours very truly,

'McMILLAN BROS.,

'Per M. McMILLAN.

Corporal Currie accompanied the Indian Treaty party under the Hon. J. F. Betts, leaving Big river on the 16th June last. The party visited La Plonge, Isle à la Crosse, Buffalo lake, Portage la Loche, Lac La Ronge, Stanley, Lac du Brochet, Pelican Narrows, Pakatawagan, Cumberland House, arriving at The Pas on the 19th September. The total distance travelled by this party has been estimated at 3,500 miles, principally by canoe.

The horse mileage for the eleven months ending the 31st August last is as follows:—

PRAIRIE AND FOREST FIRES.

Only three convictions were made during the year under the above statute throughout the district, and very little damage resulted.

The frequent rains and the evident care displayed by settlers generally accounts for the small number of prairie and bush fires.

The following article taken from the editorial column of the Saskatoon Daily Star of Friday the 3rd October, 1913, on the subject of the prevention of prairie fires. I consider worthy of quoting in this report:—

'Prevent Prairie Fires.

'At this season of the year it is timely that a word of warning should be raised with reference to prairie fires. More than ever should precautions be taken to guard against any outbreak. Smouldering fires left from the burning of straw should be carefully watched. Where any burning is done it should be seen that there is a clear zone to allow of perfect safety, and to prevent a wandering spark from finding material for ignition.

'That every attempt to safeguard against anything in the way of an outbreak of prairie fire is imperative, is demonstrated by the ease with which fires can spread at the present time.'

'With granaries stocked, the prevalence of a prairie fire at this season would spell disaster to many a farmer who has gathered in the fruits of his labour. Every individual farmer should sense the responsibility placed on him to see that a margin of safety is allowed, and no loophole given for the starting of a conflagration. He will be considering not only himself, but the neighbouring community.'

'If every vigilance is required, now is the time when it should have full play. Carelessness will be a crime.'

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Much assistance has been rendered to the Indian Department in connection with the liquor traffic with Indians, and 53 convictions under the Indian Act were obtained during the year. Frequent patrols were made to the reserves.

Assistance was rendered the Provincial Health Bureau in connection with the outbreak of small-pox at Big River, Rosetown, Langdon and other points during the past winter. For this service the detachment at Big River was temporarily increased for a period.

Assistance was given the Superintendent of Dependent and Neglected Children when called for.

Necessary assistance was rendered the Post Office, Agriculture and other departments, both Federal and Provincial.

Orderlies have been furnished at the sittings of the Supreme and District Courts. Magistrates and coroners have been provided with the usual police assistance.

The duty of escorting prisoners to and from the various courts, to the jails and penitentiaries has been heavy during the year.

The matter of attending to the property and effects of deceased persons requires care and attention, and each case is duly reported to the official administrators. Those cases have to do with persons who meet accidental deaths through drowning, etc., suicides and such like. Much correspondence and time is occupied in tracing the friends or relatives of the deceased persons. During the season, 71 cases of accidental and sudden deaths received attention throughout the district by members of the R.N.W.M.P.

TELEPHONES AND TELEPHONE SERVICE.

A telephone service from Leask to Mistawasis Indian Agency has just been completed.

A government telephone system is being laid along the C. P. R., Moosejaw-Macklin line, the wires at the present time being about 17 miles west of Rosetown, and it is expected the line will be completed this fall.

The long distance telephone line between Prince Albert, Melfort and Tisdale is now in operation and gives very good satisfaction.

The rural telephone service is becoming more generally used and has proved to be of great assistance in police work.

BARRACKS AND BUILDINGS.

The new additions authorized for the officers' quarters are about completed.

The laying of the sewer and water mains is progressing as rapidly as possible.

The alterations authorized for the constables' barrack room, mess room, kitchen and recreation room are nearing completion.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

HORSES AND FORAGE.

The horses of the district on the 30th September, 1913, consisted of 25 saddle and 10 transport horses, a total of 35, distributed as follows:—

At headquarters..	13
Detachments..	22
Total..	35

The losses and gains during the year were as follows:—

Losses—
Cast and sold (No. 369)..	1
Destroyed (No. 186)..	1
Gains—
Transferred from Depot..	3

Owing to the constant and long patrol work carried out by the detachments, it is frequently necessary to change horses, those brought in to district headquarters are turned out on pasture for rest and recuperation generally.

During the past summer, an electric grooming apparatus, manufactured by the Chicago Flexible Shaft Co., was installed in the stable at this post, and I cannot speak too highly of its work. When one observes the results and the number of horses which one man can thoroughly groom with this machine, in an hour, the old cavalry hand method of a man to a horse besides the officers and N. C. officers to supervise the work, seems waste of time, and causes one to conclude that, with the use of this modern and up-to-date contrivance, 'stable-duty' would become less of a drag, the horses would be better groomed, and those men necessary to carry out the old and time worn method could be used for other duties, and instructional purposes (grooming horses, hand and otherwise included).

I might add that the electric clipper attached to the groomer works perfectly.

The horses in the post were inspected by yourself and the veterinary surgeon, during the summer.

The forage supplied has been of good quality. The hay was baled, which made it very convenient for storage purposes.

The contracts for the hay necessary for the coming year have been awarded as follows:—

Prince Albert, Messrs. Speers & Co.
Saskatoon, " "

The shoeing of horses throughout the district has been uniformly satisfactory.

RATIONS.

All provisions were purchased under contract entered into July 1, from Messrs. Cameron and Heap, of Prince Albert, except flour and bacon, which were supplied by the Hudson's Bay Co., all of which were of a good quality, and delivery satisfactory.

Bread was purchased locally from T. W. Parks, as there were no replies to our advertisement calling for tenders.

Beef was supplied by W. McKay, under contract, and was of good quality and delivery satisfactory.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

LIGHT AND FUEL.

The overhauling and removing of our electric light system last fall has proved very satisfactory, both from the points of economy and safety.

The change from wood to coal has also been very satisfactory, from every point of view, less risk of fire, labour saving, with a great deal more comfort to all.

CLOTHING AND KIT.

Requisitions on headquarters for supplies as needed have been promptly filled by the supply officer, and all articles under this head have proved to be of good quality and serviceable.

REVOLVER PRACTICE.

The annual revolver practice for this division was carried out during the months of July and August, with, I think, better results than last year's as is shown by the splendid score of 384 made by Reg. No. 4716, Sergeant Thomas, C.W., and 350 by Sergeant Gray, W. J.

I am of the opinion that it has made far better shooting, having the annual practice earlier in the year than formerly.

READING AND RECREATION ROOM.

As soon as the alterations at present being carried out are completed, the non-commissioned officers and constables will have a comfortable reading and recreation room.

The billiard table will shortly be removed to the new room, and will receive a general overhauling.

The reading room receives a good supply of illustrated and other papers from the department.

HEALTH.

I am glad to be able to report that the health of the members of the division has been generally good.

This, I think, is satisfactory, when the long winter patrols with dogs, such as that made from The Pas to Fort Churchill on the Hudson Bay, the patrol in the north land from Cumberland House, the long patrols undertaken by Reg. No. 4374, Sergeant Handcock and Reg. No. 4389, Corporal Currie, also in the remote north, and the patrol work in connection with the Hudson Bay railway construction, are considered.

INSPECTION.

The post was inspected by yourself on the 9th July, 1913, and by the Comptroller and yourself on the 26th September, 1913.

The horses were inspected by the veterinary surgeon on the 16th July last.

Daily inspections of the post have been made either by myself or the orderly officer, and weekly inspections of the arms, equipment, harness, transport, etc., have been made by myself.

FIRE PROTECTION.

I am glad to be able to say that the city water and sewer system has been extended to the barracks, which will enable us to have two fire hydrants for fire protection.

This renders fire apparatus we now have, useless, and I am preparing lists of appliances, which will enable us to handle a small fire, or hold it in check, till the city brigade reached us.

The lists of appliances will be submitted to you shortly.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the division during the past year has, on the whole, been very good.

I have only had one serious case, for which the constable concerned was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment with hard labour.

GENERAL.

On the 11th June last, the saw-mill and plant of the Big River Lumber Co., at Big River, was completely destroyed by fire, and as a result three men were badly injured, one of whom, Duncan Abbott, died on the night of the 12th June.

On the 27th August last, the planing mill of the same company at Big River, was struck by lightning, and was totally destroyed by fire. The destruction of this mill plant has thrown a large number of men out of employment.

In the Wintering Lake section of the Pas sub-district, some 75 mining claims have been staked. The mineral is copper and assays from $5 to $26 per ton. A considerable amount has been expended in that area on development work.

During the past summer some thirty or forty prospectors have gone north from The Pas.

A marble slab has been placed in the town hall at Rosthern by the citizens of that town in memory of the late Sergeant G. S. Pook, R.N.W.M.P. The inscription on the memorial tablet is as follows: 'To the memory of Sergeant George Samuel Pook, born 1861, died 1911; for 25 years a member of R.N.W.M.P., and for three years a Queen's Life-Guardsman. A brave soldier—a true man. Erected by public subscription.'

With great regret I have to record the death of His Honour F. F. Forbes, District Court Judge for Prince Albert, which occurred on the 10th August last. His Honour was a well-known and much respected old timer of the west and his early demise was deeply regretted by his numerous friends.

During the year, I am glad to say that I have received the loyal support of the officers, N. C. officers and constables of the division, in carrying out the various duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. H. ROUTLEDGE, Supt.,
Commanding 'F' Division.

APPENDIX E.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT T. A. WROUGHTON, COMMANDING 'G' DIVISION, EDMONTON.

EDMONTON, September 30, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina, Sask.

Since the last annual report several changes have occurred in the personnel of the year ending 30th September, 1913.

Since the last annual report several changes have occurred in the personal of the officers of this division.

Superintendent Cuthbert, being promoted to the rank of assistant commissioner, relinquished the command of the division early in June and was succeeded by Superintendent Wroughton, transferred from 'N' Division.

Inspector McDonell being promoted to the rank of superintendent, was transferred from this division and took over the command of 'N' Division from Superintendent Wroughton.

Inspector Worsley was transferred to 'E' Division.

GENERAL STATE OF THE DISTRICT.

Development and progress has still been maintained. Owing, however, to the financial stringency, which has been felt throughout the Dominion, the phenomenal progress which has hitherto marked this favored spot has, in common with other localities, been more or less affected, but it is generally conceded that we have suffered less than other sections of this province. Buildings, streets, and local improvements of all sorts have been steadily pushed forward, and the magnificent high level bridge across the Saskatchewan at Edmonton is a credit to any country.

The beautiful new Parliament building in which the local legislature is now sitting is said to be one of the finest in Canada.

Railway construction has been going on steadily on the main and branch lines of all the principal railways. There are at present four railways being built into the Peace River valley and the country north and west of Edmonton.

The Canadian Pacific railway has built an exceedingly handsome station in the city, which will eventually be one of the beauty spots of Edmonton.

Settlers still continue to arrive in large numbers, and the whole district is being rapidly settled.

Owing to the amount of building going on in Edmonton, and the railway construction throughout the district, the demand for labourers has been continuous.

From reports that continue to come in, it appears that the crops throughout the district are of an excellence never before experienced. The harvest of 1913 will long be remembered as having broken all records.

The climate, although a good deal of rain fell during the summer, has been exceptionally enjoyable, there being very little extreme weather of any sort.

There has been very little destitution or want reported, and it is rarely that any applications are made for relief.

CRIME.

As the following statistics show, there is an increase in the number of cases entered over those of last year. When taken, however, in conjunction with the great increase of population this is not surprising.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Among the more important cases during the year are the following:—

Mary Mogush, murder.—Early in February a boy named Akim Mogush was taken to Camrose hospital with a bullet wound in the head. The wound was supposed to be self-inflicted and accidental. On the boy's return from hospital, however, his father, Radu Mogush, after having questioned his children, decided to lay an information against his wife Mary for the attempted murder of young Akim. She was arrested and committed for trial to Calgary guard-room on the 19th of February. The woman, who is a step-mother to Radu Mogush's children, appears to be possessed of a fiendish temper.

On the morning that the shooting took place she had turned them out of the house, although they were wearing no boots and it was bitterly cold. When the boy, who was twelve years old, returned she deliberately shot him through the head, claiming afterwards that the boy had wounded himself accidentally. Akim Mogush, after an operation for the relief of compound fracture of the skull, caused by the rifle bullet, died in hospital on the 13th April, 1913.

Oscar Fonberg, murder.—On the 22nd of April, 1913, constable Tetley, stationed at Tofield, telephoned to Edmonton that he held warrants for the arrest of two supposed lunatics at Ross Creek; that on the 21st he had visited their farm, had been fired on from the dug-out in which they lived and had been unable to effect the arrest. In the evening of the same day Corporal Bailey, with Constable Stad and Whitley, were ordered to Tofield to render assistance. To fully understand what followed, it may be here stated that although later it transpired that Oscar Fonberg was alone in the dug-out, the impression was current that there were two men heavily armed and that there were underground passages leading from one building to another. In all there were six buildings of varying nature. The evidence of Constable Tetley, the senior constable, given at the inquest held on May 1 to inquire into the death of Corporal Bailey, is appended.

Constable Tetley, being sworn, stated: 'On Wednesday, April 23, I left Tofield with Corporal Bailey and Constables Whitley and Stad to arrest two supposed lunatics in the Ross Creek district. We had dinner at the Malcolm farm and afterwards drove to Swan Fonberg's homestead where he and his brother, the alleged lunatics, were supposed to be. Not being able to cross the creek with the teams, we left them and walked up to the shack. We could see no one around, so Corporal Bailey knocked at the door. There was no answer, so he knocked again. A voice answered, "what do you want, go away, this is all mine." Bailey said, "come out, I want to speak to you." I could then hear him apparently bolting up the inside door. Stad then took a fence post and broke open the outside door, but we could not get at the inside one, and as they would not come out we decided to smoke them out. So I watched the door, and Bailey, Whitley and Stad got on the roof and took off about two lengths of stove pipe and put straw down the rest and set it alight and put a box over to keep the smoke in. This was not satisfactory as the box caught fire. Bailey then took a stick and broke the window and put straw in front of it and set it alight. The smoke was blown into the shack. Almost immediately a shot was fired from inside the shack, and then six more in quick succession. After an interval I saw about five or six cats come out of the door, so I concluded that they were coming out and called out, "Look out, they are coming out." Then I saw the muzzle of a gun and a man's head around the corner of the door. I recognized the man as Oscar Fonberg. As soon as he saw me he raised his gun and fired at me and I fired back twice with my revolver. Being out in the open, I went back behind a log building at the northeast corner of the shack. I could hear firing going on, but not being able to see anything, I went to the northwest corner of this little building and as I looked around I saw Bailey fall. I called out, "Bailey is shot." Whitley said,

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

"So am I." Whitley, Stad and I then went back behind the unfinished new house and Stad took off his serge and hat and tried to crawl up to Bailey's body to see if he was still alive, but he was driven back by Fonberg's rifle fire, who had appeared between the shack and the blacksmith shop. We then decided to go back to the farm to try and get rifles and to send to Tofield for help. Stad stayed behind to watch the place, while Whitley and I went back to the farm. Whitley took the teams and went back to Tofield and I got a rifle and went back to Fonberg's shack. When I got there I found Stad at the door of the shack and Fonberg gone. We improvised a stretcher and carried Bailey's body out. Then Stad took a saddle horse and went to report from Chipman and I got a team and sent Bailey's body back to Tofield. I only saw one of the Fonberg's there. That was Oscar.

On receipt of the news from Tofield, Inspector Sweetapple from Fort Saskatchewan and Inspector Raven from Edmonton, with all available men, were despatched that night and the following morning to Chipman and Tofield respectively, between which two points Ross creek lies.

Fonberg, in the meantime, had taken to the bush, but returning to his farm at about 3.50 a.m. on the 25th, was shot and wounded by Constable Wilson. As soon as the light permitted, his trail was taken up and at first easily followed by the blood he left on the frozen ground. As the sun rose, however, he removed his boots and evidently bound up his wound, and the pursuit became more difficult. At about 9.30 a.m. Constable McPhail, who was driving to Ross Creek from Chipman, met a Russian driving the wounded man to the latter place for medical assistance. He followed him and placed him under arrest.

Before J. Paul, J.P., at Fort Saskatchewan, on the 15th of May, 1913, Oscar Fonberg was charged with the murder of Maxwell George Bailey, corporal in the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, and was committed for trial. His case comes up at the next sittings of the Supreme Court in Edmonton in October, and up to the present, since being in custody, the man has given no indications whatever of insanity.

Whatever may be said as to their tactics, the courage and coolness displayed by Constables Tetley, Stad and Whitley after the lamentable death of Corporal Bailey, is worthy of record.

Alfred E. Main, murder.—About 5.30 p.m. on the 9th of June, 1913, Hubert Smith, a farmer in the Coronation district, had just returned to his house after his day's work in the fields, when a neighbour, Alfred E. Main by name, drove up. He was carrying a shot-gun and a 22 bore rifle. Smith asked him what the trouble was and Main replied, 'Nothing, you are not the man I am looking for.' R. G. Metcalfe, who had been ploughing about 30 rods from the house, then arrived and asked Main to come to his house for supper. Smith went to unhitch Main's team and just commenced to do so when he heard a shot and, on looking round, saw Main dragging Metcalfe's body to the west side of the granary.

The whole countryside was aroused. A cordon of armed men, drawn from the district, was formed around Main's shack, to which place he had retired, and Inspector Heffernan at Stettler was at once notified by telephone. As soon as possible after the receipt of the message, Staff Sergeant MacBrayne was despatched in a motor car to the scene. On reaching Sounding creek, the locality in which the murder had been perpetrated, he found the house surrounded by armed civilians intent on preventing Main's escape. Staff Sergeant MacBrayne approached, and although Main was heavily armed and threatened to kill, the sergeant fearlessly explained that he was a Mounted Policeman and told Main he must give himself up and that resistance would be useless. After a little hesitation the latter surrendered, leaving the building, and was placed under arrest.

At Coronation on the 11th June, A. Main was charged before A. E. Bury, J.P., with the wilful murder of R. G. Metcalfe and was committed for trial. The case will be tried at the next sitting of the Supreme Court in Red Deer on the 28th October, 1913.

Jose Lope, murder.—On the evening of the 11th July, Jose Lope, a Spaniard, shot and killed John Fredericksen after a dispute that arose over a game of cards at Jasper Park. Corporal Calow, who was on village duty at the time, was quickly on the spot and arrested the Spaniard, at the same time securing the revolver. Preliminary hearing was held at Jasper Park before Ralph James, J.P., and Lope was committed for trial. This case will also be heard in October.

Otto Rudolph, murder.—From information obtained on July 31, I ordered a warrant to be sworn out against one Otto Rudolph for unlawful wounding. He was arrested on the streets of Edmonton by Detective Constable Warrior the same day and made a statement that led me to suppose that a murder had been committed in the heavy timber country around Peers Siding, a small German settlement on the Grand Trunk Pacific line west of this city. Constable Warrior, assisted by Constable Brennfleck, an interpreter, proceeded to the siding, and after a protracted search, which lasted about ten days, in most difficult country, they succeeded in locating the body of a German youth named Carl Gneiting, and for the murder of whom Otto Rudolph is now held for trial.

Briefly, the story of the tragedy is as follows:—

Early in July three German youths left their country for Canada and arrived in Edmonton towards the end of the month. Otto Rudolph appears not to have been so well off financially as his companions, Carl Gneiting and Fritz Maurier. From Edmonton they went to Peers Siding and there, amongst relatives and compatriots, received a welcome and temporary home until they should decide to what work to turn their hands. On the 28th of July the three went out rabbit shooting, and it was while wandering through the tall timbers that, his imagination in all probability fired by trashy tales of the wild west, young Rudolph decided to kill and rob his companions. His first victim was Carl Gneiting, whom he shot through the head, killing him instantly. He had but little money on his person and this killing was simply a precautionary measure to enable him to get at Fritz Maurer, who was supposed to be carrying about three hundred dollars. Maurer was some distance away and suspected nothing, although he noticed that Rudolph seemed a little excited. Presently, however, he felt himself suddenly shot through the neck, and being now thoroughly frightened took to his heels and was fortunate enough to find his way home before falling from exhaustion. Otto Rudolph made his way to the railroad, boarded a train and arrived back in Edmonton, where he was later arrested. His trial will take place in October.

Attempted murder of Town Constable Allen.—On the 20th September, 1912, a store at Wetaskiwin, belonging to Fowler & Co., was broken into at about 2.45 a.m. The town constable on night duty noticed that the door was open and was about to enter in order to make investigations when he was shot down from within. He managed to reach the nearest hotel and gave the alarm, but owing to the intense darkness of the night the description he gave of his assailants was very meagre. He was certain, however, that there were three men in the gang.

Later in the day Corporal Aitkin, stationed at Camrose, reported by the long distance telephone that a brakeman on the C. P. R. freight which left Wetaskiwin about 3 a.m. had seen three men jump from one of the cars just prior to entering the town, but that at the time that this was reported to him they were not in that vicinity. In the meantime a G. T. P. train had left Camrose and arrived in Edmonton, and the conductor was immediately interviewed. He stated that a similar number had boarded his train at Camrose, and volunteered to make a tour of the hotel with Detective Constable Moore to identify them. The three were arrested at the Royal George hotel. The C. P. R. brakeman was next brought to Edmonton to confront them, but was positive that they were not the same as those he had previously seen. They were accordingly released.

Within a few days they were re-arrested by the Edmonton city police on a variety of charges of burglary, robbery, &c., and it now transpired that there were four in the gang. The most dangerous of this quartette managed to elude the police and make his way to Lethbridge, where he was arrested on yet another charge of attempted murder, and subsequently received a sentence of twenty-one years in the penitentiary.

During the period that the remaining three were held in Fort Saskatchewan awaiting trial, every effort was made to connect them with the Wetaskiwin shooting. We had evidence to prove that they were in Wetaskiwin and Camrose on the date in question and that they were loitering and drinking and apparently had no occupation. Constable Allen, however, owing to the time that the shooting occurred, was unable positively to identify them, and as two of the number, namely Vernon and Martin, were sentenced on the Edmonton charges to four years and one year respectively, the case was not brought into court.

Clyde Harpoole, attempted murder.—On the 12th of February, 1913, a letter was brought by hand to Edmonton, the contents of which were as follows:—

‘BURTONVILLE, February 10, 1913.

‘The R. N. W. M. P.,
‘Edmonton.

‘Please send an officer up here as there is a man attempting murder. We will try and keep him until he comes.

(Sgd.) ‘JOHN MCNEISH, LINDELL’S CAMP.

On receipt of above, Detective Corporal Bailey was at once sent to investigate, and ascertained that one Clyde Harpoole, during a drunken brawl, had badly slashed a man named Frayne. The whole camp appears to have been under the influence of liquor, and Harpoole having administered a sound beating to his wife, was himself set upon by several men, their avowed intention being to hang him to the nearest tree. It was during the ensuing struggle that he drew a razor, inflicting wounds on Frayne that kept him in the doctor’s care for several weeks.

On Corporal Bailey’s arrival he found that the man had effected his escape, and though we traced him to Battleford we were not able to apprehend him before he reached the United States. He returned to Edmonton in March and was immediately arrested. At the sittings of the Supreme Court in May, Harpoole was found guilty of unlawful wounding and was released on suspended sentence, having found surety in two thousand dollars for good behaviour.

Giuseppe Pozaza, attempted murder.—On the morning of the 4th March, 1913, a telephone message was received from Lac Ste. Anne to the effect that an Italian had stabbed a half-breed named Felix Plante, that the constable stationed there was away on duty, and assistance was needed. The constable detailed for this investigation arrived at Lac Ste. Anne about 3 a.m. the following morning, and Pozaza was arrested, charged as above. The facts were as follows:—

Felix Plante, with two other breeds, on the night of the 3rd were driving some Russians across the lake to a C. N. R. camp, when they passed three Italians who were walking. Some trouble arose over a bottle of whisky; Pozaza joined in and having stabbed Plante with a large jack knife hastily beat a retreat. At the Supreme Court, held in May, the charge being reduced to unlawful wounding, he was sentenced to two years in the Alberta penitentiary.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Charles Ess, attempted murder.—This case arose over a small sum of money owed by Charles Ess (coloured) to one T. S. Sikes, another coloured man, which resulted in a quarrel in the Commercial hotel at Edson on the 1st of May. Having stabbed Sikes with a pen knife, Ess decamped, and in spite of a thorough search instituted by the town police, assisted by ourselves, he successfully kept out of the way until arrested by Corporal Calow on a Grand Trunk Pacific train. Before Inspector Raven, Commissioner of Police, with the charge reduced to unlawful wounding, he was sentenced to two months' imprisonment with hard labour.

Peter D. Ring, attempted murder.—The above, who runs a livery barn at Onoway, a small village about 55 miles northwest of Edmonton, had on the 28th June freighted some pool tables from St. Albert for two men, Bowser and Matzgar, who were starting a pool room. On delivering his freight he demanded immediate payment, and, having been asked by Matzgar to wait a few minutes, walked away to his house, a distance of 150 yards, but returned at once. He then produced an old-fashioned .45 Colts revolver, proclaimed his intention of fixing Matzgar, and struck him a heavy blow over the head with it, rendering him unconscious. The injured man's condition was for several days extremely critical. The people in Onoway, for some reason, refrained from summoning the police for several hours and it was not until the following day that a telephone message was received in Edmonton to the effect that the assault had taken place, that the man was seriously injured, and that he was not expected to live.

I immediately ordered Detective Corporal Moore to hire an automobile and proceed to the spot, and as soon as I was able to get through on the long distance telephone to Sergeant MacGillicuddy at Stony Plain and Constable Carrick at Lac Ste. Anne, I instructed both of them to leave for Onoway. The three, from the east, west and south, arrived in the village almost simultaneously and the arrest of Ring was easily effected. He appeared not to have realized the seriousness of his crime, and made no attempt to escape.

The preliminary hearing was held before Inspector Raven at Edmonton on the 10th of July and Ring was committed for trial.

Peter and Gust Franks, attempted murder.—Two days after the committal of Mary Mogush on the 19th of February for the shooting of her stepson, the father, Radu Mogush, was shot and seriously injured in the stomach by some men who had collected outside his house after dark. Evidence, owing to the obscurity of the night, was hard to obtain, but eventually the above two, who are brothers of Mary Mogush, were arrested and committed for trial. The case will be heard at the Supreme Court in Wetaskiwin in October.

William Colvin, attempted murder.—A crime with no apparent motive. Being a hired man to a Mr. Parr in the Castor district, Colvin attempted to poison the whole family by putting strychnine in the food. On the 20th of July the family had breakfast as usual and then all left the farm on various errands, leaving the hired man in charge. Returning earlier than they expected to, Mr. and Mrs. Parr discovered poison in the salt, etc., when preparing dinner. They notified the constable stationed at Castor, with the result that Colvin is now awaiting trial at the Supreme Court in Red Deer in October next.

C. L. Dudit, attempted murder.—A dispute near Clyde on the 28th of July between an excitable Mexican and an irate Swede resulted in a resort to arms. When matters began to look serious, Linofers, the Swede, took to his heels and Dudit accelerated his retreat by firing a couple of shots from a heavy revolver after him. Dudit was arrested and committed for trial.

John Bull, neglect to provide medical aid for his wife.—As the result of a debauch, in company with her husband, Nancy Bull (Indian) fell into the fire and was badly burned. John Bull appears to have been afraid to notify anyone in case a charge under the Indian Act might be preferred against him. The woman died and the Indian was committed for trial on the above charge.

Fred. Hopfe, rape.—This was a case that cost the province a large sum of money before finally brought to a conclusion. Hopfe, a fairly well-to-do farmer in the Hughenden district, was arrested on the 27th of July, 1912, for the above offence on two or three girls. The Justice of the Peace took on himself to allow the man out on bail, with the inevitable result that he disappeared. We located him in Los Angeles in January last. He was brought back to Canada and on the 11th of March, 1913, sentenced to seven years in the Alberta penitentiary.

C. S. Butcher, cattle stealing.—In January last Robert Oschner, of Bittern lake, reported the loss of about 40 head of cattle. We took the matter up and eventually established the fact that C. S. Butcher had had them shipped to and sold in various parts of the country. On March 18 he was sentenced to seven years in the Alberta penitentiary.

Alex. Ballantyne, horse stealing.—On the 29th of January, 1913, the above named stole a team of horses from one Charles Papin, an Indian belonging to the Stony Plain reserve. Having been located and arrested, he was sentenced to seven years in the Alberta penitentiary.

Edmonton City Police Cases.

Alice Butler and James Vale, murder.—The above named were held for some time in connection with the murder of Sidney Butler on February 28, 1913, by shooting, on the Hudson Bay reserve, Edmonton. The police were unable to procure enough evidence, and the two were released.

Bruno Roberto, murder.—This man was suspected of the murder of one Salvator Demase in an Italian boarding-house, Edmonton, on January 7, 1913. He is, however, still at large.

Victor Ross, attempted murder.—This man entered Lewis' café, Edmonton, on a night in December, 1912, and fired a couple of shots from a revolver. When making his escape, he was followed. Ross shot and wounded his pursuer and then disappeared. He was traced to Seattle and brought back in February, tried on the 19th June and sentenced to one year's imprisonment with hard labour.

James O'Brien, attempted murder.—This man shot a bartender in the Castle hotel on June 4, 1913. He was arrested by the city police, and has been committed for trial.

Mrs. Davis, murder.—The above woman has been arrested and committed for trial on a charge of shooting one S. Pallints, a few days ago.

Murder of Hargreaves.—This man's body was found on the Hudson Bay reserve on Sunday, June 29, 1913. He had been shot. No clue to the murderer has been discovered.

Re Murder of J. A. McNulty.—This man was also murdered on the Hudson Bay reserve. His body was found on September 2, 1913, in the shack in which he lived. The murderer has not yet been apprehended.

Prairie Fires.—No fires of a serious nature have been reported to us and are almost unknown, due no doubt to increased settlement.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Department of Justice.—Orderlies have been supplied by us in all criminal sittings of the several District Courts and in all coroners' cases outside of the city limits.

Escorts are provided almost daily for prisoners to and from courts, jails, asylums, and in cases before Justices of the Peace.

All criminal subpoenas and summonses are served by us.

Estates of deceased persons dying intestate, or through violent means, are located, inventoried and handed over to the respective public administrators of the three judicial districts. This entails a great deal of work and correspondence, as many estates pass through our hands in the course of a year.

Department of Provincial Health.—We assist this department in maintaining quarantine in cases of infectious and contagious diseases, and also in connection with the relief of destitute persons.

Department of Dependent and Delinquent Children.—Whenever required, we assist this department in its dealings with juveniles under the provisions of the Provincial Act.

License Department.—Whenever reports are received by us disclosing any contravention of the Liquor License Ordinance, full particulars are communicated to the Chief License Inspector. We assist this department whenever necessary in the prosecution of cases under the ordinance.

Indians.—The usual escorts and duties in connection with the treaty payments have been performed.

As usual, we have given special attention to infractions of the provisions of the Indian Act, with the result that eighty cases have been entered and seventy-two convictions obtained. Nearly all of these cases may be attributed to liquor. The increase of population and consequent distribution of liquor renders it easier for the Indians to obtain it than formerly.

Apart from drunkenness, which is by no means general, the Indians of the different reserves give little trouble, and are law abiding.

PRISONERS.

Below is given the report of the provost in charge of the guard-room and jail, with a summary of the prisoners in our custody during the last twelve months.

That there is much overcrowding can be readily seen by a glance at the given statistics, when it is remembered that the guard-room contains but thirty-two cells.

The completion of the provincial jail at Lethbridge has not done much to lessen the number of our prisoners, and now, owing to extensive repairs at this institution only prisoners sentenced to serve over five months are sent away. In consequence, we have more than we can properly handle, either with regard to their safety, comfort or health.

Prisoners awaiting trial on the most serious crimes are committed to our charge, and have to be kept with vagrants, lunatics and others.

The Honorable the Minister of Justice remarked on the fact that nearly every small cell contained two prisoners. This, under present conditions, cannot be avoided.

We have been in the hope that the Provincial Government, which recently acquired the police property, would build a suitable jail and relieve us of this duty, but at present there seems to be no immediate prospect of it.

Tony Briggs, aged 43, a Belgian, painter by trade, died in prison about 10 a.m. on the morning of the 21st July, while serving one month's imprisonment for theft. Deceased, who suffered from abscesses, was visited on several occasions by the prison doctor during the course of his brief illness.

One man had three convictions recorded against him during the twelve months and fourteen men had each two convictions, while ten men had at some time previously undergone terms of imprisonment in the fort.

The conduct of the prisoners has been good, and the prison rules strictly enforced.

The health of the prisoners has been good.

Your obedient servant,

W. BLYTH, Sergeant,
Provost.

DETACHMENTS.

The number of detachments is numerous, considering the strength of the division, but yet are not sufficient to satisfactorily police this large district, and more detachments will shortly have to be added. Our great difficulty is getting men who are thoroughly conversant with the work. As it is, many young men have to be sent on detachment who have not the experience and training. These inexperienced men, although meaning well, are often led, through their ignorance, into serious blunders that not only bring ridicule on themselves but injure the prestige of the force.

HEALTH.

The division has been comparatively free from serious illness. One man was sent to Depot under treatment for nephritis.

HORSES.

We have received no remounts during the year, but some horses have been cast. Some of these cast horses have been sold, but there are several still on hand awaiting a favourable opportunity to sell them. One horse dropped dead in harness while on patrol and another horse had to be destroyed owing to injuries received to the near hind leg.

The mileage of 'G' Division horses for the last twelve months is 129,827.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

TRANSPORT, HARNESS AND SADDLERY.

Our equipment is in serviceable condition, but some saddles are required, both for detachment and division use.

BUILDINGS.

The beautiful new barrack building in Edmonton is now fully occupied and is most comfortable. Each man has a cubicle to himself, and each sergeant a bright airy room. Baths, lavatories, closets and modern conveniences are suitably situated throughout the building.

The whole is heated by steam and ventilated by an electric fan.

In addition to this we have a good brick stable, cement floors and running water, also an excellent wagon shed.

At the present time quarters are being built for the superintendent commanding the division and three suitable houses in one block for married non-commissioned officers.

When completed these buildings will give the barracks an imposing appearance and we hope to make it one of the most attractive sights in a particularly attractive town.

The small canteen, in which a very limited stock is kept, is paying its way and is a help to the men.

READING AND RECREATION ROOM.

These are comfortably furnished and have a piano and billiard table. Magazines and periodicals are also supplied.

STORES.

Supplies and stores are of good quality.

GENERAL.

During the year we had the misfortune to lose one of our comrades in the person of the late Corporal M. G. Bailey. An account of the murder of this non-commissioned officer whilst in the execution of his duty is given elsewhere, and at the time that it occurred it evoked the profoundest sympathy and respect, not only amongst our own ranks, but also amongst the press and public of this district.

It is to be hoped that the time is not far distant when the provincial authorities will take over the guard-room at Fort Saskatchewan. The inadequate number of men that we have, for the proper policing of this very large district, is in a large degree accentuated by the necessity of keeping eight or ten men constantly employed at the fort looking after the prisoners. To supplement this number, some six or seven special constables have been sworn in during the year. The fact that these men have had no military training is a source of constant anxiety to the men in authority and a very strict supervision has in consequence to be kept up.

The work undertaken by this division during the past twelve months has been of a very exacting nature and I wish to put on record my appreciation of the hearty co-operation of all ranks concerned.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

T. A. WROUGHTON,
Supt., Commanding 'G' Division.

APPENDIX F.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT A. E. C. McDONELL, COMMANDING 'N' DIVISION, ATHABASKA LANDING.

ATHABASKA LANDING, October 1, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward herewith the annual report of 'N' Division for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The following changes have taken place in the personnel of the officers since the last annual report:—

Superintendent T. A. Wroughton, transferred to the command of 'G' Division from 1st June, 1913.

Superintendent A. E. C. McDonell, transferred from 'G' Division to command of 'N' Division from 1st June, 1913.

Sergeant Major J. W. Phillips, of 'C' Division, promoted inspector and transferred to 'N' Division.

Inspector W. J. Beyts, transferred from 'N' Division to Depot Division.

Inspector A. D. Irwin, resigned.

GENERAL STATE OF DISTRICT.

The general state of the district, from a business point of view, is one of great development and progress. The stream of settlement into the country round about Athabaska and to the upper Peace river and Grande Prairie has continued to a large extent. The homestead entries at Athabaska from the 1st October, 1912, to September 30, 1913, number 444, mostly all taken by a good class of settlers, with money and energy. The town of Athabaska itself was visited by a fire which destroyed the two large hotels and a number of business blocks, including all the R. N. W. M. Police buildings. The fire was first discovered in the back part of the Grand Union hotel at about 2 a.m. of the 4th August, 1913, and in a very short time the whole block was one mass of flame. We were fortunate in saving what we did, and not having any loss of life. Notwithstanding the set-back the fire has caused, the town is being rapidly rebuilt and increasing in size. We now have a daily mail service, and I understand it is the intention of the Canadian Northern Railway Company to run a daily express instead of the daily mixed train, which will be much appreciated by all the travelling public.

Mirror Landing is increasing in population and will be an important point this winter as this will be the end of steel on the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia railway, when, if not all, the most of the freight for the north and west will be brought there instead of Athabaska as formerly.

The population of Sawridge has increased by 200 within the year.

Grouard has changed from a half-breed hamlet to a white town. The condition of settlers is good. There has been only one case of destitution in the Grande Prairie sub-district.

The principal crops are oats, barley and potatoes. This has been a bountiful year. On the farm of O. D. Hill, High Prairie, the average yield of oats was 100 bushels per acre, again there is reported some 50 bushels of good wheat per acre near Dunvegan on new breaking. Cabbages have been grown on the Peace which weighed 48 pounds; carrots, beet and other garden truck which equalled anything in the province.

In the Grande Prairie settlement, speaking generally, the year has been one of continual progress. There have been 850 homesteads taken up during the year, 35 scrips and 171 timber permits filed on.

At Grouard 860 homesteads taken up, 15 scrip half-breed, 2 military and 7 S. A. V. The greatest number of settlers came from the States and are a very good class of settlers. Progressive settlements have grown up around Grande Prairie city, lake Saskatoon, Bear lake, Hays creek, Beaver Lodge, Red Willow, Happy Valley, Twin lakes, Pine creek, Kleskun lake, Buffalo lake, Spirit river, Dunvegan, Peace River crossing, Gold Springs, Burnt river and Vermilion. In all the above-mentioned places large acreage is under cultivation. Stock of all kind winter well, as there is an abundance of good feed, and many horses and cattle are now raised and marketed, farmers realizing that mixed farming pays best. Vermilion has a surplus of beef and horses without a market for same and, as a consequence, beef is cheaper at Vermilion than it is in the town of Athabaska. The Hudson's Bay Company have closed down their flour mill at Vermilion. At Grande Prairie city a branch of the Union Bank of Canada, a three story hotel and numerous private buildings are in course of erection. A social club, called the Wapiti Club, has been formed, owning its own club house, tennis courts, &c. A Liberal hall has been erected which is used for public meetings, &c. They have started building a new General hospital and a newspaper called the Grande Prairie Herald is published weekly. At lake Saskatoon the Hudson's Bay Co., Revillon Bros., and the Peace River Trading Co. have stores; there is also a branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and several new buildings are in course of erection. At Buffalo lakes the Buffalo Lumber Co. erected a saw-mill in the spring of the year; up to date this mill has turned out six hundred and seventy thousand feet of finished lumber and five hundred and seventy thousand shingles. The Grande Prairie Lumber Co., the Argonaut Lumber Co. and the Adair Lumber Co. have started during the year, all of which are turning out lumber. F. S. Lawrence & Co. are erecting a flour mill at lake Saskatoon. During the past year the Church of England in Canada have erected churches at the following places: Red Willow, Beaver Lodge, Cut Bank, Pine creek and Spirit river. A new Baptist church has been erected at Hermit lake and a Roman Catholic one at lake Saskatoon.

A large saw-mill was installed near Sawridge by Travers and Lawrence, making a total of seven saw-mills in the Grouard district. A sash and door factory is being established in Grouard by Blair and Morin, and will supply a long-felt want. A fish-curing establishment has been started on Dog island, Lesser Slave lake, three miles from Sawridge and has had a successful season, the owners, Cornwall and Nickles, intend enlarging the concern during the winter. This should prove a great industry, as Lesser Slave lake abounds with trout and white-fish of a high quality. But even these agricultural and other assets are not, in my opinion, the best the country possesses, its greatest asset, I think, will prove the mineral deposits. The chief and in fact the only complaint to be heard by everyone is about the condition of the trails. This season has been an exceptionally wet one. With the large increase in travel the sixteen mile portage from Mirror Landing to Salteaux Landing and from Grouard to Peace River Crossing, a distance of 90 miles, these roads were almost impassable. We have had unusually high water, all the hay meadows around Lesser Slave lake were under water. High water, coupled with the wet weather, made travel very difficult. Transportation is the sore need of this great north country, and the question can be solved by the Government undertaking the responsibility of operating its own steamers. The Hudson's Bay Co. have two steamers on a regular run from Athabaska to Grouard, making two regular trips a week.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

The Northern Transportation Co. have had four steamers on the same run. This company has carried all the freight for the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway Co. Both these lines of steamers have had a very busy season. The Hudson's Bay Co. steamer Athabaska has been pulled out of the water here for the winter, but the Northern Transportation Co. are still running. The E. D. and B. C. Ry. Co. grading is in progress all the way from Mirror Landing to Round lake, fifty miles northwest from Grouard. The railway company have secured land at Round lake, where they will most probably have their machine shops and divisional point. The railway company will have their junction at this point, one line running to Peace River Crossing, the other through Grand Prairie into British Columbia and on to the coast. Round lake is situated in township 77, range 19, west 5th meridian.

Concerning the northern part of this district, I have to report that at Pelican rapids a company has been boring for oil, but with what success I am unable to say, as they are very reticent as to the results of their operations. Natural gas has been found in unlimited quantities there. At near Fort McMurray there are vast deposits of asphalt. Mr. T. C. Ellis, of the Department of Mines, passed through here en route to Ottawa in September with a quantity of both asphalt and oil sands to be tested in Ottawa. If the proposed railway is built to McMurray these natural commodities would furnish a valuable asset to that part of the country.

CRIME.

Pierre Lawrence, manslaughter.—This case, reported in the last annual report, in which a half-breed, named Pierre Lawrence, was accused of killing his companion, Pierre Thoma, about thirty miles from Spirit river in July, 1912, came up for hearing in February, 1913, before the Supreme Court. The evidence against the accused was purely circumstantial and was not strong enough to secure a conviction.

Ransome Beagles, carrying concealed weapons.—Ransome Beagles, an American, was arrested at Athabaska by R. N. W. M. Police, assisted by the town police, on August 31 on a charge of having an offensive weapon on his person. Accused appeared before A. E. C. McDonell, Esq., P.M., on September 2 and pleaded 'guilty' to the charge. The circumstances were as follows: On the evening of the 31st August accused went into the town police station in an intoxicated condition and created a disturbance. A tussle ensued between himself and the police, when a loaded automatic revolver dropped out of his pocket. He picked this up again and getting out of the station went home.

Constable Terndrup, of the R. N. W. M. Police, was asked for assistance and went to accused's house, in company with the town police, and arrested accused. He was sentenced to three month's imprisonment with hard labour at Fort Saskatchewan, and the revolver confiscated. As this man has none too good a reputation. His Worship further recommend him to be deported.

Attempted suicide.—There were two cases of attempted suicide dealt with during the year. One, the case of Philip McDermott, which was held over from September 14, 1912, and reported last year, was disposed of by Judge Noel at the sittings of the District Court held at Athabaska on January 22, 1913, accused being sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Lethbridge jail.

The other was a most determined attempt at self-destruction by William John George, at Athabaska, on July 14, 1913.

It was reported by telephone to the police that a man was acting very queerly on the Edmonton trail just south of town. A constable was sent to investigate, and found blood on the ground where accused had cut his wrist. He found George a short distance further on in the bush covered in blood, and as the constable approached him he drew a revolver and shot himself in the head. The shot knocked him down, but before the constable could dismount and get to him he was on his feet again and put up a considerable resistance before he was disarmed. When brought to barracks it was found that accused had shot himself three times in the head with a .30 calibre revolver, besides having lacerated his wrist badly with a knife.

Accused was tried before George Mills, Esq., J.P., on July 15 while an inmate of the Sacred Heart hospital at Athabaska, and was committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction.

Lorne Hayes, house breaking.—This case was continued from last year. Lorne Hayes, an Englishman, was arrested on September 10, 1912, at Iroquis creek, near Grouard, on a charge of house breaking. Was committed for trial on September 12, 1912, by M. O. C. McDermott, Esq., J. P., at Grouard. On June 22, 1913, accused was tried before His Honour Judge Noel at the sittings of the District Court held at Athabaska.

The circumstances were briefly these: On September 9, 1912, a French half-breed named Louis Hanlin complained to the Mounted Police at Grouard that his shack at Snipe lake, which is about a day and a half's journey from Grouard, had been broken into and some articles of clothing and jewellery stolen. Suspicion pointed to some member of a timber cruising outfit working in that district having done this and a search warrant to search the effects of this outfit was obtained and part of the goods found in possession of the accused, who was at once arrested. At his preliminary hearing accused made a statement to the effect that he had entered the house in question through a hole he had found.

His Honour found the accused 'guilty' of theft and sentenced him to three months' imprisonment with hard labour at Fort Saskatchewan.

Gordon Marsters, shop breaking.—Accused was arrested on April 16, 1913, by Chief Davis and Corporal Pearson on two charges of shop breaking. He appeared before T. A. Wroughton, Esq., J.P., on April 18 and was committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. On April 19, 1913, accused appeared before His Honour Judge Noel at the sittings of the District Court. Accused pleaded 'guilty' to both charges and was sentenced to serve two years with hard labour in Edmonton penitentiary for each offence, the sentences to run concurrently.

William Jones, indecent assault.—Accused was arrested at Kinnoull on November 4, 1912, and was sent up for trial by T. A. Wroughton, Esq., J.P., on November 5, 1912. On June 22, 1913, accused was tried by His Honour Judge Noel at the sittings of the District Court and pleaded 'not guilty' to the charge. The evidence of the complainant and five witnesses was taken for the prosecution and that of accused and one witness for the defence. His Honour found accused 'guilty' and sentenced him to three months' imprisonment with hard labour at Lethbridge.

PRAIRIE AND FOREST FIRES.

We have had very few prairie and forest fires this season. The Government have a staff of fire guardians and a fire patrol boat working on the Athabaska river. These men are constantly patrolling and on the look out.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Customs.—The officer in command of the Mackenzie River sub-district acts as Collector of Customs at Herschell island. The amount of Customs collected during the year was $449.32 forwarded by Inspector Beyts to the Collector of Customs at Dawson, Y.T.

Indian Department.—Whenever required we have assisted this department and provided escorts for treaty payments.

Justice.—Our work in connection with the administration of justice under the Attorney General's Department of the province is large and increasing and embraces all the departments.

Post Office.—A number of complaints have been made as to the manner in which the mail is handled in the north. The Hudson's Bay Company have the contract for the north. We have no duties assigned to us in this connection.

GUARD-ROOMS AND COMMON JAILS.

The division does not possess a regular guard-room, but most of the detachments have been supplied with one or two cells in which prisoners are held. These are only, however, kept for temporary use, except at Lesser Slave lake where prisoners have to be kept to await trial or serve a short term of imprisonment. The following table gives the particulars regarding prisoners held in the district during the year:—

DRILL AND TRAINING.

Owing to the scattered nature of the detachments consisting of only one or two men, it has been impossible to carry out any kind of drill. Instruction and training, however, have been carried out as far as circumstances would permit.

MUSKERY AND ARMS.

At present there is no rifle range available, and consequently no rifle practice was indulged in. The annual revolver practice was completed as far as possible. The best score in classification practice being made by Regt. No. 5119, Constable Collins, L.J., with a score of 385.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

PATROLS.

Reports of all patrols have been forwarded to you as received, but the following reference may be of interest:—

In March, a patrol was made by Reg. No. 4579, Corporal Blary from Sturgeon lake to Ash lake and Buek lake to investigate a report that traders had been supplying Indians with liquor. No corroboration of the report could be found, however; distance travelled, 260 miles.

Supt. Wroughton made a tour of inspection, in March and April to lake Saskatoon, Grand Prairie, Sturgeon lake, Lesser Slave lake and Sawridge.

Reg. No. 3970, Sergeant Mellor, A.H.L., made a patrol in March with dogs from Chipewyan to Fond du Lac. Mileage, 380 miles. In April Reg. No. 5467, Constable Terndrup, T.W.B., made a patrol from Lac la Biche to the Wolf Lake country, where no policeman had been for eight years. Mileage, 150.

A party consisting of Inspector J. W. Phillips (Herschell island), Reg. No. 4279, Sergeant Clay, S.G. (Fort Macpherson), Reg. No. 4919, Corporal Joy, A.H. (Fort Simpson), Reg. No. 5499, Corporal Fraser, H.L. (Smith Landing), Reg. No. 4699, Corporal Cuthbertson, C. (Fort Resolution), Reg. No. 5536, Constable Churchill, D. (Fort Simpson), Reg. No. 4296, Constable Doak, W.A. (Fort Macpherson), Reg. No. 5542, Constable Garfit, R.B. (Chipewyan), Reg. No. 5548, Constable Lamont, A. (Herschell island), Reg. No. 5458, Constable Long, F.M. (Herschell island), Reg. No. 5197, Constable O'Neil, C.A. (Fort Resolution), left here on May 24, 1913, by Hudson's Bay transport for northern detachments, as indicated after their names. A telegram has been received from Inspector Phillips that the party arrived at their various destinations safely.

Inspector Beyts and party from Herschell island and Macpherson arrived here during August. This party brought with them the earthly possessions of Hubert Darrell, explorer and prospector, who since being seen in the late fall of 1910 at Liverpool bay in the Arctic ocean has never been heard of, and who is now given up for dead. In accordance with your instructions the articles were forwarded to his brother, at Birtle, Manitoba, for which his receipt is on file here.

It might not be mal à propos for me to quote the following which appeared in the Toronto Star:—

'The world takes a lively interest in Polar expeditions, but Canada supports a Northern Police patrol of which very little is heard, and the journeyings of some of these men is quite as daring as anything connected with searches for the North or South Pole. They contend with the same conditions, are inexpensively equipped, and, as a rule, succeed in all that they undertake. A sheet or two of foolscap, giving to the department at Ottawa an official report of their travels and observations, is the only record that survives. And very few ever read these records, although they sometimes thrill those who do read them.'

A patrol was made last October by Reg. No. 4279 Sergeant Clay, S.G., from Grande Prairie to Sturgeon lake and the Smoky river. Game was reported plentiful and moose were in larger numbers than for the last ten years. Forest fires were burning at the Simonette river and north of Sturgeon lake, but the Dominion Forest Fire Ranger reported that nothing could be done and he required no assistance.

Inspector Field made a patrol last December from Smith Landing to Point Brulé on the Athabaska river. The trip was the first made with horses, and occupied twenty-six days. Distance travelled, 340 miles.

A patrol was made by Reg. No. 3730 Corporal Pearson, F.S., and Reg. No. 5394 Constable Reddyhoff, P., from Athabaska to Lac la Biche district during December.

Reg. No. 3970 Sergeant Mellor, A.H.L., made a patrol in January from Chipewyan to McMurray with dogs.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

In February, Reg. No. 4279, Sergeant Clay, S.G., made a patrol from lake Saskatoon to Edson. He reported the trail very much improved, but the road houses were as a rule poor, and there was a scarcity of water between the Smoky river and Sturgeon lake.

Reg. No. 4766 Corporal LaNauze, C.D., made a patrol in January and February with dogs to Forts Simpson and Resolution. Total mileage, 1,660 miles. He returned to Smith Landing on March 8, 1913.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS, ETC.

A party of real estate men of Edmonton, consisting of J. N. Gimby, R. D. Campbell and E. MacQueen, with a guide named Jacques Papin, left here on April 26 in a canoe, with the intention of going to Fort McMurray. Early in May a canoe was found with its bow stove in. Inquiries were made and eventually it was found that the canoe belonged to the parties named. A description of the outfit was sent down the river and search made for the bodies. The father of J. N. Gimby offered a reward of $500 for the recovery of the bodies of Gimby and Campbell. All the bodies were eventually recovered, that of Gimby by Sergeant Clay, in company with John MacDonald, fire ranger, and that of Campbell by John McClelland, also a fire ranger. McQueen's body was found by a Mr. Johnston, a friend who went down the river especially to search for the bodies. The body of Jacques Papin was found by a man named H. Walsh. All the bodies were buried where found and crosses put up to mark the grave.

Disappearance of William Smith.—This man was on a hunting trip near Dunvegan and got lost. Staff Sergeant Anderson made an exhaustive search and investigation into the case, but no trace could be found. Eventually a body was found near Vermilion which, by the clothing, &c., was identified as that of Smith. The body will be exhumed and an inquest held with a view to finding out the exact cause of death and to establish the identity of the body.

Mrs. Kornshock, lost at Spirit river.—On July '18 Mrs. Kornshock was lost in the bush at Spirit river whilst hunting horses. Constable Stephens was ordered from lake Saskatoon to assist in the search for her. About 150 men were searching for several days and Staff Sergeant Anderson took charge of the operations on July 26. No trace of the woman could be found, however.

Ole Martin Forberg, accidentally shot.—The above named, who was only sixteen years of age, accidentally shot himself whilst out chicken shooting at Grande Prairie on August 20. He had wounded a chicken and was going to club it with the butt of the 22 rifle when the rifle hit the ground and went off, the charge entering the boy's heart, killing him instantly.

James Doherty, accidentally drowned.—On July 10 a report was received here that a man named James Doherty was lost from the SS. Call, belonging to the N. T. Co., and was supposed to have fallen overboard and was drowned. His body was recovered on August 24 and brought to Athabaska where an inquest was held. The verdict was accidental death.

Joseph Cusson, accidental death.—On Sunday, August 31, Joseph Cusson, with his father and brother, were driving home in a hay rack to Pine creek from Athabaska. Joseph was driving, his father and brother being behind in the rack. He saw a hawk and told his brother to shoot it with a 22 rifle which was in the wagon. His brother took the rifle up and in some unaccountable way the rifle went off and shot Joseph in the back. He was taken to hospital at Athabaska and an operation performed but, despite all efforts, he died from the effects. An inquest was held; verdict, accidental death.

David Burnette, accidentally drowned.—This man was accidentally drowned at Sawridge on August 30. He had built a raft and was going to float down the river, the Little Slave, to Salteaux Landing. The raft was struck by the ferry cable and he was knocked overboard and drowned. The body was recovered on September 11 and buried at Sawridge. An inquest was not considered necessary.

WOLF BOUNTY.

Dominion wolf bounty is paid at Fort Vermilion, Smith Landing and Chipewyan by the police. The following amounts were paid during the year:—

Fort Vermilion, 20 wolves at $20 per head.. . . .	$400 00
Smith Landing, 17 wolves at $20 per head.. . . .	340 00
Chipewyan, 5 wolves at $20 per head.. . . .	100 00

WOOD BUFFALO.

Regarding the number of wood buffalo ranging in the Great Slave district it is difficult to get accurate information. They are well protected and should increase in numbers.

FUR CATCH.

The fur catch during the past season has been considerably in excess of that of last year. On one shipment of the Hudson's Bay Co.'s steamer Athabaska arriving here on the 25th August, twenty-five tons of pelts brought up by scows were valued at over one million dollars. There has been quite a business done by the capture of wild foxes during the past summer, and if allowed to continue is bound to seriously deplete the stock of foxes. I know of one shipment where thirty foxes were shipped to Edmonton. Altogether over 200 live foxes have been shipped from here this year. I am pleased to see by the papers that a Bill to amend the Game Act to prohibit the capture of live foxes is to be put through this session of the legislature.

INDIANS AND ESQUIMOS.

Reports from the north with regard to Esquimos are satisfactory. The Indians throughout this district have never been in better circumstances. Fur-bearing animals were plentiful and good prices were received on all kinds of fur. Moose and all kinds of game have been plentiful. Although there has been considerable sickness amongst some of the bands, no epidemic of any kind occurred during the year. For a number of years there has been a noticeable increase in the number of Crees, more especially at Wabiska and Sturgeon lake. The Slave Indians have also shown an increase, but the Beaver Indians are decreasing rapidly.

DISTRIBUTION AND STRENGTH.

Owing to the rapid increase in development of the country it was found necessary to establish more detachments in the northern parts of this district. During the year the following detachments were opened by your instructions: Fort McMurray, Fort Resolution, Fort Simpson, Mirror Landing. Sturgeon Lake and Grande Prairie City were temporarily closed during the summer, but I am pleased to say that I have sufficient men now to maintain them, and all detachments are now up to authorized strength.

BARRACKS AND DETACHMENTS.

At Athabaska, the headquarters of the division, all our buildings were burnt on the 4th August, 1913. We are now renting buildings; these are more comfortable for the men than the old detachment buildings. It has not been considered advisable to rebuild, but I would recommend that a suitable house be built for the officer commanding here. If found necessary to change headquarters the house could be disposed of at a profit. A new building for officer's quarters was completed at Smith Landing. At Lesser Slave lake some small improvements were made to officer's and N.C.O.'s quarters. The old building used as men's barrack building, which also contains the cells, is infested with vermin. I have received steel cages which will take the place of the old wooden cells. At Peace River crossing I would recommend that a suitable building for main barracks for six men, with cell accommodation for ten prisoners, be built. The present building is only suitable for N.C.O.'s quarters. At Fort Resolution new quarters are being erected for the detachment; at present we are renting a building from the Roman Catholic Mission. At Fort Simpson we are renting a building from the Hudson Bay Co. If the above-mentioned recommendations are carried out we will be in a position to carry on the work until it is decided where the permanent headquarters are to be built.

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

One constable was dismissed, otherwise the conduct of the division has been satisfactory.

HORSES.

The strength of the division in horses is 24. Horse Reg. No. 33 died at Lesser Slave lake from debility and old age. Two horses, Reg. Nos. 25 and 65, will be recommended for casting next spring, being unfit for further police work. The rest of the horses, from all reports, are in good serviceable condition.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

TRANSPORT.

Our requirements under this heading are somewhat heavy, but necessary. Our canoes at many of the detachments are old, and require to be replaced. Five canoes will be required, one heavy wagon, one two-seated light wagon, two buckboards and one motor boat for Peace River Crossing. Without a motor boat on the Peace river we are badly handicapped.

GENERAL.

In closing my report I wish to say the officers and N.C.O.'s in charge of sub-districts and all N.C.O.'s and constables in charge of detachments have given me every reason to be satisfied with their work. Assistant Commissioner Wood visited the district in July and inspected the headquarters of the division, Sawridge and Lesser Slave Lake detachments. Supt. Starnes visited the district in August and September and inspected headquarters, Sawridge, Lesser Slave Lake and Peace River Crossing detachments. I was pleased to have both these officers visit the district.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

A. E. C. McDONELL, Supt.,
Commanding 'N' Division.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

APPENDIX G.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT C. H. WEST, COMMANDING
'A' DIVISION, MAPLE CREEK.

MAPLE CREEK, October 1, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R.N.W.M. Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward herewith the annual report of 'A' Division for the year ended September 30, 1913.

I was appointed to the command of 'A' Division from June 1 last, arriving at the headquarters, Maple creek, for duty on June 14.

Fourteen detachments are at present located in the district, two having been established during the past year.

GENERAL STATE OF THE DISTRICT.

Owing to the weather conditions which prevailed during the season the crops generally may be said to be good in certain sections of the district, but only fair in the greater part of it.

The increase of settlers has been very large, and at every point in the district an increase of population is reported.

Swift Current, which was known years ago as the little town on the C.P.R. from which the stage started north to Battleford, is now the largest town of the district and has a population of 5,000. It is now the headquarters of what is known as the Swift Current sub-district. Railroad construction from here to the northwest and southeast is making rapid progress, and new towns are continually springing up as the steel is laid. We have two detachments on the line of railroad northwest of Swift Current, viz., Cabri and Sceptre, and on the line south, Neville and Vanguard.

The Neville district, so to speak, consists of Neville, Blumenhof, Pambrum and Notre Dame, with a population of about 750. The population is of mixed nationality and consists of Menonites to the north, French to the south and west, and a fair proportion of English-speaking people to the east. The building industry has been busy in this district this summer. At Neville, the Quebec Bank is just completing a $15,000 building. Two new restaurants, a large school and several houses, stables, etc., have been erected. The only hotel in this district is at Neville, and has improved under new management. The Quebec Bank at this point has done a large business and has had to increase its staff considerably to keep up with the work. Farming and ranching are the principal industries, the ranching being mostly along the banks of the White Mud. The farming industry has prospered, and all farmers report good crops.

About 80 per cent of the land is under cultivation in the Neville district, 70 per cent in the Notre Dame and about 10 per cent further south, which is a rougher class of country. Speaking of this district generally, one cannot help noticing the general air of prosperity which exists. Farmers who, a short time ago, had nothing but a small shack and stable have now expensive houses and good barns, and in many places well fenced homesteads.

We have two detachments on the main line east of Swift Current, viz., Herbert and Chaplin. Rush Lake and Morse are two towns laying to the east and west of

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Herbert and are frequently patrolled by members of the Herbert detachment. These three towns, viz., Herbert, Rush Lake and Morse have a population of about 2,500, consisting of Germans, a few Americans and Canadians. During the last two years this population has doubled. There is a flour mill at Herbert and the three towns have five hotels and four banks between them. The approximate acreage under cultivation is about 50,000, consisting of wheat, oats and flax, and the crop this year has been fair. The increase of acreage over last year is about 25 per cent. The influx of settlers to this part of the district has been small, owing to the fact that most of the land of any value has already been filed on.

Chaplin, which is our furthest east detachment, has a population of about 200, who are mostly Canadians, and here we have an hotel, two feed stables, three general stores, two butcher's shops, pool room and barber shop, three implement dealers, two restaurants, three elevators, two coal dealers and a weekly newspaper.

About 75 per cent of the land in the surrounding district is under cultivation, and the crop has been very fair this year. The increase of acreage has been about 20 per cent. The settlers consist of English, Canadians, Americans and a few Germans, and the majority are taking up mixed farming. There was quite an epidemic of smallpox to the north of Chaplin a short time ago, but owing to the blessing of compulsory vaccination, this was nipped in the bud and there are now only a few cases.

Cabri is on the new line running northwest from Swift Current to Bassano and has a population of 500, and the adjoining towns on this railroad are Success, Pen-nant, Battum, Shackleton, Abbey and Lancer, with a population of from 100 to 200 each. Most of them have an hotel and bank. The acreage under cultivation in this district is approximately half a million acres. The average yield of wheat this year was about 20 bushels and graded mostly No. 2 Northern, the oats yielded about 40 bushels and graded mostly No. 2 Canadian Western. The yield of flax was poor but the quality good, grading mostly No. 1 Northwest.

The new C.P.R. line from Swift Current to Bassano, which last fall reached to Cabri, has this summer been extended seventy miles, as far as Westerham, with stations at Shackleton, Abbey, Lancer, Portreeve, Lemsford, Sceptre, Prelate and Prussia.

The C.N.R. have constructed a line from Delisle on the Saskatoon-Alsask line to Conquest and on to Elrose, a new town north of White Bear lake, which is about 30 miles north of Cabri. This summer the line only reached Elrose, which town has sprung up since the advent of the line, but it has not been made public yet as to which direction the line will extend next spring, but, as the C.N.R. already runs through the country north of the south Saskatchewan, it is probable that the branch will run south, cross the South Saskatchewan north of Cabri and will circle near Cabri into Swift Current.

The town of Vanguard, which lays southeast of Swift Current, is the centre of a prosperous district and has a population of 800. There is a good hotel here, also two hardware stores, two butcher shops, four restaurants, five lumber yards, moving picture theatre, and drug store, also a Roman Catholic and Presbyterian church. The acreage under cultivation in this district is large and has increased 35 per cent since last year. The crop this year has been fair. There is a daily train service between Swift Current and Vanguard, the latter point being the end of the steel. The Lethbridge-Weyburn line passing east and west and 14 miles south of Vanguard is progressing rapidly, the steel being laid 2 miles west of Kincaid, a small town 28 miles southeast of Vanguard. Many small towns, 6 to 8 miles apart, are growing up along the construction line ahead of the steel.

There has been a steady influx of settlers to the Vanguard district this year, 60 per cent of whom are Americans belonging to the industrious order, and there is a steadily increasing stock industry. There is only one ranch in the vicinity, viz., the old Turkey Track, where they have at the present time horses only, under the management of Mr. A. Simpson, of Moosejaw. The other ranches are some distance from here, mostly along the White Mud river and near the boundary line

The following is a list of deaths, sudden, accidental and suicidal investigated by members of this division during the past year:—

Natural causes.....	29
Accidental.....	23
By suicide.....	3

W. J. Brown, murder.—On the night of 5th January, 1913, John Daly was beaten to death at what was locally called a liquor party, held at the house of F. Carley, near Rossthorn, in the Kelvindhurst District. The jury at the inquest held on 8th to 11th January, found that Daly had come to his death from a blow delivered by W. J. Brown. Brown was committed for trial by Superintendent F. J. Horrigan on 10th February. He was tried by Judge Lamont in Maple Creek on 18th March.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Evidence for the prosecution showed that Daly was killed as a result of a fight with Brown. Brown pleaded self-defence and made a statement detailing the fight in which he alleged Daly was aggressor throughout. The jury brought in a verdict of 'not guilty.'

H. Henke, murder.—On the night of the 17th February, 1913, the accused, with F. Becker and G. Shanroth, were drinking in the Elkhorn hotel, Morse. A dispute arose between Henke and Shanroth. Henke, with the intention of going home, accompanied by Becker, proceeded to a livery barn for his horses and was followed there by Shanroth and three others, with the intention of 'having it out' with Henke. In the stable a fight ensued, in which Henke received a rough handling. After the fight he threw a bottle at his assailants which struck A. Mantz, an onlooker, on the head causing his death. Preliminary was held on 20th February, by J. McCurdy, J.P., and C. Lang, J.P., and accused was committed for trial. He was tried at Moosejaw on the 2nd April by Judge Brown and sentenced to two years in Prince Albert penitentiary.

G. Lockie, shooting with intent.—On the afternoon of 25th June, 1913, the accused, a homesteader, living near Rush lake approached J. J. Harrigan and R. C. Playfair in the post office at that place and mumbling a few words drew a revolver out of his pocket and fired two shots at Harrigan, which struck him in the hand and chest. He pointed the revolver again, but Mr. Playfair seized him and, assisted by others, got the revolver away from him. He was at once arrested by the town constable. The preliminary was held by A. A. Williams, Esq., J.P., the same day, and he was committed to the Maple Creek guard-room to await his trial. He appeared before Judge Lamont at Swift Current on the 30th September and pleaded 'not guilty' at the same time applying for bail. To allow prisoner to secure bail the case was adjourned till the next day, when, on being unable to satisfy the requirements of bail, Lockie was remanded by His Honour to the guard-room, Maple Creek, till 15th November next.

J. J. Brown, indecent assault.—On the 11th November, 1912, information was laid before J. Guidreau, J.P., by Mrs. E. Freland, of Notre Dame, that J. J. Brown, a negro, had indecently assaulted her daughter Yvonne, aged 12 years. The girl's evidence showed that on the night of 31st October, the accused had approached her bed and placed his hand on her, but that the assault proceeded no further. Brown admitted the offence and was committed for trial to the Regina guard-room. On 21st December he came up for trial before Judge Hannon, pleaded 'guilty' and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the Regina jail.

J. Lawrence, cattle stealing.—From information received, Sergeant Sneddon obtained a search warrant, and on 20th February, 1913, made search near a coal mine worked by Lawrence, some 20 miles south of Maple Creek. Sneddon found, hidden in the snow, 8 pieces of beef, about a carcass and a half in all, and one head. Two hides were found hidden in a creek a short distance away. From statements taken it was evident that Lawrence, a short time previously, cached the beef and hides. The accused left his place on the 20th February on a saddle horse, a short time after Sergeant Snedden had been there. On the 26th March, Lawrence was arrested in Seattle, Wash., by city police there. Staff Sergeant Hobley was sent to Seattle on the 27th March, and Lawrence waiving extradition, Hobley left with him on 2nd April for Maple Creek, where he arrived on the 4th. In Seattle, Lawrence had assumed the name of F. Debaux. The preliminary on charge of theft of one steer, took place before Superintendent F. J. Horrigan on 26th April. Evidence for the prosecution showed that Lawrence hid the beef and hides as before mentioned, that the police found them where he had hidden them, that one of the hides carried a brand belonging to Gordon Ironsides and Fares and that Lawrence was arrested in Seattle where he was living under an assumed name. He was committed for trial. Lawrence was subsequently released on bail and his case has not yet come up for trial.

A. J. Rankel, cattle stealing.—The charge against the accused was theft of two cows, the property of 3-3 Ranching Co., near Rush lake. The preliminary was held on 22nd February, 1913, before J. Vigurs and E. Webe, J.P.'s, and the accused committed for trial.

He was tried by Judge Brown at Moosejaw on 17th March and sentenced to three years in Prince Albert penitentiary. Rankel was convicted on the evidence of two brothers, W. and J. R. Allen, who worked for him when the offence was committed. The latter testified to the butchering at night of the two cows, and to Rankel's hiding the hides in a straw stack.

J. McGuire, shop breaking.—On 16th July last the accused was discharged from Maple Creek guard-room after serving a sentence of one month for vagrancy. On the 30th July, G. Curry, a merchant at Gull Lake, reported that his store had been broken into, money and goods being stolen. McGuire was suspected and arrested. In a stable where McGuire had slept the previous night a quantity of goods were found which were identified by Mr. Curry as being his. On the 31st July the accused was committed for trial by E. E. Spackman, J.P. On 30th September, McGuire was tried before Judge Lamont at Swift Current, found guilty and sentenced to nine months' imprisonment in the Regina jail.

C. Linsen, cattle shooting and escaping from lawful custody.—Between 26th October and 1st November, 1912, complaints were received from three different residents of Notre Dame, that a mare, a cow and a pig had been shot. C. Linsen was suspected because (1st) he threatened to kill the animals, (2) the animals had been straying on his land, (3) the animals were shot with a 22 calibre rifle, (4) he was the only man in the vicinity who owned a rifle of that calibre. Information was laid on 8th November, and Linsen was arrested the same day. The preliminary took place the same day before A. Bonneville, Esq., J.P., and J. Gendreau, Esq., J.P. Evidence showed that the animals have been straying around Linsen's place for a long time and the mare was seen coming from the direction of Linsen's farm shortly before it died. The bullet found in the cow was produced, also the rifle. At this point Linsen collapsed and admitted killing all the animals. He was committed for trial to the guard-room, Maple Creek. While at Swift Current en route to Maple Creek, Mr. Guize, the owner of the mare and cow which was killed, asked that the prisoner be held for two days in Swift Current as he, Guize, had some important business for Mr. Smythe, lawyer, to transact for him with the accused. Mr. Guize's request was granted, with the result that Mr. Smythe obtained bail for the accused before two justices of the peace. Linsen returned to Notre Dame. A few days later Constable Banfield, hearing that Linsen was about to leave the country, arrested him on the 19th at his own place on another charge of cattle killing. Linsen, driving his own team in a buggy, escorted by Constable Banfield, mounted, when on the way to the police detachment, suddenly slashed Banfield's horse about the head with a whip causing the constable's horse to rear, thereby getting a start. Banfield fired three shots at Linsen, none of which took effect and Linsen eventually escaped. On the 2nd December Linsen surrendered himself and was arrested on a charge of escaping lawful custody. The preliminary was held at Notre Dame on the 5th December, and prisoner committed for trial and escorted to Maple Creek guard-room. He was subsequently released on cash bail of $500.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

On 17th July, 1913, Linsen appeared before Judge Farrell at Swift Current on charges of shooting a horse, a cow and a pig, and escaping lawful custody. He was fined $150 in all, to be paid before 15th November, or in default 12 and 4 months' imprisonment, the 4 months sentence to run concurrently with the other.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

There were fifty cases of prairie fires and contraventions of the Prairie Fire Act reported during the past twelve months. All these cases were investigated and the guilty parties prosecuted in forty-one instances, which resulted in thirty-nine convictions. In a few instances the cause of origin could not be discovered.

These figures do not compare very favourably with last year, when only six cases were entered, but this is due to a great extent to the lack of rain in the early part of the year and to the influx of settlers, a large percentage of these fires having been started by the foreign element. Burning off stubble without taking the required precautions is the cause of a large number of these fires.

With a view to impressing upon the new settlers, a number of whom were responsible for the prairie fires which occurred in this district, the necessity of exercising more care and strictly complying with the provisions of the Prairie Fire Act, special patrols were sent out in the early part of the year with instructions to investigate all infractions of this Act and to prosecute the guilty parties whenever ascertained, and this may also account to a great extent for the increase in the number of cases entered this year.

One prisoner charged with murder came up for trial at the Supreme Court held at Maple Creek and was acquitted.

One prisoner charged with manslaughter is still in the guard-room awaiting trial.

One prisoner charged with cattle stealing was sent to Prince Albert penitentiary for three years.

Two prisoners charged with theft from Canadian Pacific railway were each sent to Regina guard-room for eighteen months.

The health of the prisoners has been good with the exception of one taken to the Isolation hospital suffering from diphtheria.

The prison rules and regulations have been strictly enforced, twenty prisoners having been dealt with by the officer commanding for breaches of discipline.

During the past few months there has been an increase of prisoners (particularly those waiting trial). Owing to the guard-room being so small it was found necessary to confine a number of prisoners in another building.

The guard-room has been painted recently which has greatly improved it.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

H. G. BALSDON, Corpl.,
Provost.

Orderlies have been supplied at the criminal sittings of the court here and at Swift Current, and as assistants at inquests. Escorts have been provided for prisoners to and from the courts and jails, and for the insane to the asylum.

We serve all criminal summonses and subpoenas, and the estates of those who meet with a sudden or accidental death are inventoried and a list sent to the public administrator.

We assist the Liquor License Department by reporting any infractions of the Act to them which are brought to our notice, and we are sometimes called upon to assist the department in carrying out the protection of delinquent and destitute children.

The N.C.O. at Willow creek is acting Sub-collector of Customs.

All cases of contagious diseases brought to our notice have been reported to the Department of Agriculture.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

This has been exceptionally good during the past year. There was an outbreak of smallpox, a few weeks ago, north of Chaplin. Compulsory vaccination was enforced and now the epidemic is practically at an end.

INDIANS.

There are a few families of non-treaty Cree Indians camped a little east of Maple Creek, these people are law abiding and good workers and up to now I have had practically no trouble with them.

HARNESS.

The harness of this division is in good serviceable condition, several new sets having been received during the year.

SADDLERY.

The saddlery is in good condition. Several new saddles have been received during the year. Six more are required to replace those condemned.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

TRANSPORT.

The transport is in serviceable condition. Repairs, excepting ironwork, have been done by prison labour. All transport has been painted and numbered during the year.

HORSES.

The horses in this division are in good working condition, eight remounts were purchased during the year, broken here, and are now being used for patrol purposes on detachment, and in the post, all horses having been trained for firing purposes. Several of the horses here have been condemned, but are still in use at the post owing to them not having been replaced. Two horses, viz., Reg. No. 524 and 2151 have died during the year, No. 524 having broken away with a saddle on was found dead in the slough, No. 2151 having died of old age.

Ten horses were cast and sold during the year, realizing an average of $87.

All horses that require rest have been brought into the post and turned into the pasture to recuperate. Veterinary attendance has been rendered by men in the post with good results.

There are 49 horses in this division, 28 of which are on detachment and 21 in the post, 10 being saddle horses and 11 being for team purposes, such as hauling water, rations, coal, prisoners to and from the Canadian Pacific Railway depot and guard-room, manure, hay and general work.

The saddle horses are in good condition considering the long and quick patrols they are frequently called upon to make, there being no other means of transportation in the southern and northern parts of this district.

I would recommend that horses, Reg. No. 523 and 589 be cast and sold, both being unfit and dangerous for saddle work, No. 523 through stumbling and falling twisted the ankle of one man and sprained the wrist of another. This animal is a mare and I believe is about six months in foal.

No. 589 is in the habit of falling, and has an enlarged knee, but up to the present has injured no one, but is no use for patrol purposes.

Owing to the loss of records for 1912 I am unable to furnish mileage for the months in that year. The mileage for the months in 1913 is as follows:—

January.....	20,931
February.....	18,192
March.....	15,060
April.....	15,851
May.....	19,797
June.....	21,438
July.....	23,045
August.....	22,741
September.....	21,762

CLOTHING AND KIT.

Sufficient, with few exceptions, and of good quality.

BUILDINGS.

Since my arrival here on June 14, the roofs of both the stables have been painted and No. 1 stable re-floored throughout. The coal shed and transport shed have been reshingled and painted, and the inside of the guard-room painted. A number of general repairs have been made for the up-keep of the different quarters. The hay shed adjoining the stable has been practically rebuilt and painted, and presents a smart appearance.

DRILL AND TRAINING.

The annual revolver practice was carried out with fairly good results.

GENERAL REMARKS.

During the preceding twelve months no less than fifty-five sudden and accidental deaths have occurred in this district and all these cases have been investigated by members of this division. A number of these deaths have been the unhappy result of the very bad electric storms which we have experienced and which have caused a considerable amount of destruction to life and property in this part of the country. The investigation of these cases adds a great deal to the work required to be done by our detachments. In all such cases where the deceased person has left any estate the same has been taken charge of and handed over to the public administrator, and wherever it has been possible to ascertain the address of the deceased's relations they have been notified and arrangements made with regard to the interment of the deceased's remains.

In this connection I would say that considerable difficulty has at times been experienced with regard to the attendance of coroners at such cases, although the recent appointment of Inspector Currier in this capacity has somewhat facilitated matters in this direction.

As will be seen from the provost's report there has been a considerable increase in the number of prisoners received in the guard-room during the past year, and I anticipate a steady increase in these numbers so long as the present conditions exist, owing to the increase in crime in this district due to the influx of settlers to this part of the country.

With regard to this I would respectfully draw your attention to the poor accommodation our guard-room affords for the numbers we are called upon to provide free board and lodging for. The congestion of the guard-room is no doubt due to the large number of prisoners committed for trial, whom we have to house for several months before their cases are disposed of at the Supreme or District Courts, and if this state of affairs continues to exist I greatly fear the accommodation in our guard-room will be altogether inadequate.

We were recently threatened with an outbreak of diphtheria amongst the prisoners and one of these had to be removed to the Isolation hospital. Every precaution was immediately taken to battle with this disease and I am glad to say that no further cases developed.

The lack of all modern convenience in the way of water, sewers and light, is not at all conducive to the health of the inmates of the guard-room and those whose duty it is to look after them. The barracks are still lighted throughout by means of coal oil lamps, and water has to be hauled daily from a distance for drinking purposes, although we are so near to the town of Maple Creek, where waterworks and a proper system of electric lighting is installed. However, the guard-room has recently been painted throughout and everything is done to keep this part of the barracks as clean and healthy as possible, but the present conditions leave much to be desired.

It is impossible to properly police the large territory covered by this district with the small number of men at my disposal, and as the district becomes more thickly populated this difficulty will merit some recognition.

The absence of telephonic communication with our detachments is very detrimental to a successful consummation of the work we have to contemplate, as we have to depend solely on the telegraph to get in touch with our outposts in cases of emergency.

I would respectfully recommend the purchase of at least one motor car for use in this division. The addition of such transport, which in the twentieth century has become a very necessary part of the up-to-date equipment of every police force, would fill a long-felt want in this division and would be of great benefit to the public service. With our district infested by horse and cattle thieves, the introduction of such a facility would be economic from several view points: First, in the all important saving of time in responding to complaints of an urgent nature, and in all cases of emergency; second, in its application for the apprehension of criminals; third, in the reduction of expenses, etc., etc.

The wonderful and manifold achievements of the last few years in all lines of endeavour have so changed social conditions as to make it incumbent upon Governments to introduce new and modern methods for the detection of obstructing factors which interfere, and for the protection of humanity and property involved in this progressive course.

In conclusion, I may say that all ranks have carried out satisfactorily the multifarious duties they are called upon to perform.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. H. WEST, Supt.
Commanding 'A' Division.

APPENDIX H.

ANNUAL REPORT OF INSPECTOR R. S. KNIGHT, COMMANDING DEPOT DIVISION.

REGINA, October 14, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report of 'Depot' Division for the year ending 30th September, 1913.

DRILLS AND TRAINING.

During the year, 278 recruits underwent training at the 'Depot.' All rides were under the supervision of Inspector Dann, and foot drills were in charge of Sergeant Griffin. The Sergeant Major has also taken squads whenever possible.

Lectures to recruits were held regularly; on police duties by Inspector Newson: veterinary by Veterinary Surgeon Burnett.

The Annual revolver course for 1913 was fired during July, August and September.

A detachment of one officer and eight N. C. O's and men were furnished as a portion of an escort to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught to Poplar point to Senator Kirchoffer's shooting box.

A number of remounts have been purchased during the year; these will be shown in the Veterinary Surgeon's report.

HARNESS AND SADDLERY.

Such new harness as has been required has been purchased and supplied through the supply store, and the division is well equipped with both saddles and harness.

Such repairs as have been necessary have been carried out by the post saddler. Inspections have been made of these stores at frequent intervals.

BARRACKS AND BUILDINGS.

The new office building has now been completed and was moved into during September; it will be a marked improvement on the old quarters. The north portion of same being set apart for the Sergeants' mess, with bedrooms, billiard room, &c., complete. The basement is occupied by the supply store, Q. M. store and tailor's shop, while the remainder of the building is used entirely for offices.

'B' block has been brick veneered and is used exclusively for the men's barrack rooms, mess room, recreation room, and a billiard room is at present in the process of being fitted up. A fine new stable has been erected on the site of the old No. 2, and the stables have been renumbered, commencing at the south end with 1, 2 and 3, old No. 5 stable is still in use but in a very poor state of repair and should be replaced by a modern building this coming year.

A broad concrete sidewalk has been laid down in front of the new building and continued in front of 'B' block, extending right up to the wall. It gives a fine clean parade ground for wet and muddy weather; concrete has also been laid in front of the officers' mess.

The officers' mess has been greatly improved, having been brick veneered, the old verandah and conservatory having been torn down and a large twelve-foot verandah built on the south and west sides.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

A commodious, well-appointed billiard room has been added at the north end and the interior of the downstairs portion renovated completely; folding doors have been added between the ante room and dining room.

The hay bottom in the riding school has been replaced by sand and sawdust.

TRANSPORT.

Three single buckboards were purchased from the McLaughlin Carriage Company, and are in use in the division. The transport has been overhauled and kept in repair by post artisans, and has also been repainted during the summer.

HORSES.

The general health of the horses in this division has been good during the past year. Three horses have died during the year.

The shoeing has been done by the Farrier Sergeant and has been satisfactorily accomplished.

The following statistics give the gains and losses for the year from October 1, 1912, to September 30, 1913:—

Horses purchased.....	46
Transferred from 'K' to 'Depot' division.....	1
Total.....	47
Horses cast and sold.....	12
Died.....	3
Destroyed.....	1
Transferred from 'Depot' to 'A' division.....	16
" " 'B' ".....	12
" " 'C' ".....	10
" " 'E' ".....	9
" " 'N' ".....	7
Total.....	70

SUMMARY.—Gains, 47; losses, 70; Net Loss, 23.

RATIONS.

Provisions have been supplied by contract and have been generally satisfactory.

CLOTHING AND KIT.

The recent employment of a qualified master tailor from the old country will be of great value for the proper fitting of all uniforms.

I would again recommend that in place of one pair of long boots being issued each year of a man's service, that two pairs be issued the first year, none the second and one pair the third year of service.

HEALTH.

Under this heading I would say that the health of the post has been good during the past year, and that matters will be more fully dealt with in the report of the medical officer. The following were invalidated at the 'Depot' during the past year:—

- Reg. No. 5509, Constable L'Ecuier, J. B.
- " 5544, Constable Lasby, A. N.
- " 5534, Constable Vincent, F.

MUSKETRY.

A new rifle range is now completed out at the old Indian Industrial School, now used for a guard-room. The work of constructing this range was in the hands of Inspector Spalding, who, with only prison help, has completed a fine modern range. It consists of 600, 500 and 200 yard firing points, and is situated along the Wascana creek in the place selected by yourself; it has a butt of twelve targets on modern frames.

The revolver practice was carried out, and mention made of same under heading of Drills and Training. The scoring was above the average, some good shots being discovered among the recruits. A quantity of ammunition has been purchased by members of the Force and used in practice.

INSPECTIONS.

Daily inspections have been made throughout the year of this post by the orderly officers, and weekly inspections by either the commissioner or the assistant commissioner.

On the 12th of October, 1912, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, accompanied by Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught and Her Royal Highness the Princess Patricia, and suite, visited Regina. Escorts were furnished by the division under my command and the barracks were visited by His Royal Highness on the 14th October, when he inspected the division and horses on parade, very kindly donating a silver cup to the force on this occasion. Afterwards an inspection was made of all the buildings.

FIRE PROTECTION.

Parade for fire brigade is held once a week under an officer. Fire pails are kept filled in all barrack rooms. Stempel fire extinguishers are scattered throughout the barracks. The fire hydrants have been inspected by the city authorities, and raised to the right height above the ground.

CANTEEN.

The canteen is at present situated in the old Sergeants' mess building, but arrangements are being made to move it into permanent quarters in the barrack Building 'B' block. Grants to the amount of $873.39 have been made during the past year chiefly for the equipment and maintenance of the men's sports.

There were two cases where prisoners were released on parole:—

J. Pickford, who was sentenced on the 22nd November, 1912, for theft, by W. F. Dunn, J.P., of Moosejaw. He was released on parole on the 12th of April, 1913, after serving 4 months and 21 days.

Charles Heaman who was sentenced on the 11th of January, 1913, to six months hard labour, at Filmore, by P. Dubey, J.P., and J. R. Standen, J.P. He was released on parole on the 23rd May, 1913, having served 4 months and 12 days.

There was one death of a prisoner undergoing sentence, viz:—

O. Cook, who died from the effects of acute alcoholism on March 6, 1913, having served only one day of his time.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

REGINA GUARD-ROOM, No. 2,
October 1, 1913.The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. Police,
'Depot' Division.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of Guard-room No. 2, Depot Division for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The accommodation for 58 prisoners has, many times, during the past year, been exceeded. Several months the daily average was over 70 and 80, while on one occasion, the number reached within one of the hundred mark. Comparing the average increase with that of last year, I feel safe in stating that provision for at least 150 prisoners will have to be provided for during the coming winter.

GUARD-ROOM.

The building is in good sanitary condition. During February and March the whole interior, ceilings, walls and woodwork were thoroughly washed down, ceilings and walls re-kalsomined and woodwork painted. Later the floors and bath rooms, lavatories and kitchen scullery were prepared and covered with 2 inches of cement, with an 8-inch base replacing the skirting board. All this work was done by prison labour. Satisfactory means for escape in case of fire has been provided for both escorts and prisoners the outlets from building opening into jail yard.

On December 23 the acetyline gas machine exploded and was completely destroyed by the fire that followed, fortunately confined to the gas house, which was in a corner outside of basement, and resulted in no damage to the main building. Although strong objections were made, the Provincial Public Works Department replaced the acetyline plant with another system of gas lighting known as the F. P. gas machine. It requires considerable attention and has not given satisfaction. However, having a supply of oil lamps and lanterns we manage to get along.

SEWERAGE.

On June the 13th, owing to complaints made by farmers west of the guard-room re the offensive condition of the creek, due to the city sewerage being emptied into it without proper treatment, and in order that none would be added by this place the Commissioner instructed me to stop the use of closets and urinals, until a proper disposal plant could be provided.

The Provincial Public Works Department promised to attend to the matter, and although reminded on various occasions, no steps to build the same have been taken.

In the meantime, prisoners are using a box closet in jail yard, while the provost and escorts use a similar arrangement apart from the building.

WORK DONE BY PRISONERS.

In addition to that done on the interior of the guard-room the basement walls were thoroughly cleaned down and whitewashed. The digging of 1,200 feet of trench 8 feet deep, laying water pipes to O.C.'s quarters and stable. Building two cement manholes in connection with the sewerage. Removing machine and pipes of old acetyline lighting plant and giving assistance to install new system. Fitting up stable, and care, during the winter, of from 18 to 23 head of police horses. Hauling 125 loads of straw from nearby farmers, also about 50 loads to barracks. Cutting and storing 60 loads of hay, of which about 15 were sent to barracks. Cutting noxious weeds and grass about the premises.

RIFLE RANGE.

Last year's report dealt with, in some detail, the building of a rifle range on this property, work on which was completed in November. This spring the firing points were sodded, and for some weeks watered regularly, which resulted in a good growth of grass. Telephone poles erected and wired. On May the 28th the Commissioner instructed me to proceed with the necessary work of adding six additional target frames. The excavation of target trenches, and building of stop butt, was the heaviest work, although the unloading of four cars of gravel, hauling and breaking twenty loads of stone, mixing gravel and stone with 400 sacks of cement and placing concrete in forms made 'hard labour' a real thing for the prisoners. Firing points were extended, and will be sodded next spring.

Poles were set for windage flags, also had line of poles starting from rear of butts to a mile and a half west running from 400 yards to half a mile apart. Poles with red flags being a distance of 250 to 300 yards apart in line, mark out danger zone or line of fire in rear of targets.

All details were complete by August the 4th and permission having been granted by the Commissioner to the Provincial Rifle Association to use range, they held their annual meet on August 5th, 6th and 7th, at which they furnished their own targets and markers. Upwards of 100 riflemen from various points of the province attended this meet, and all matches were run off on schedule time. The ease with which targets and signaling discs were handled was favourably commented on by the members of the Association and Militia Officers present who expressed themselves fortunate in securing the use of the range.

GARDEN.

Five acres of ground were manured and brought under cultivation. From seed sown in boxes and hotbeds, good hardy plants were raised and transplanted as follows: 1,500 cabbages, 450 red cabbages, 1,100 cauliflowers, 1,000 celery, 500 early lettuce, 250 tomatoes; also cucumber, marrow, squash, and citron, all of which produced satisfactory results.

Sown in the open, onions, lettuce, radish, spinach, peas, beans, corn, and turnips also gave splendid results.

Beets and carrots (about an acre of each) did not do so well, while an acre of potatoes produced probably about twice the amount of seed sown. However, the ground in which the last three named vegetables were sown produced also an enormous quantity of weeds, wild oats and grass, that came up before the seed, delaying cultivation.

From the time that lettuce, radish and onions became suitable for use, vegetables of some kind have been supplied to the division mess, hospital and other places at barracks. The supply of onions, beets, carrots, turnips and cabbage should last well on towards spring, bins and places to store same in basement of jail being arranged for.

A conservative estimate of the season's crop, if purchased at retail prices in the city, would be at least $1,200. The expenditure for seed, including that of flowers, was in the neighbourhood of $50.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

FIRE PROTECTION.

Water tanks in the attic are kept full. Pails of water placed in convenient places in several parts of the building. One full barrel, with pail, close to furnaces in basement. Several pails of sand in readiness in case of gasoline or oil fires. Also six Babcocks have been supplied by the Provincial Public Works Department which are kept in convenient places in the building.

RECREATION.

Additional means of pastime have been supplied, by way of chess and checker games, boxing gloves and football. The tennis court was in good order during the summer months but very little patronized. The desire for football also soon gave way, both games being somewhat strenuous after a few weeks' daily escort. Reading matter and the pool table were most appreciated. However, with the winter coming on, a gramophone and records has been asked for, which I believe is going to be supplied in due course and will, I am sure, be most welcome.

PRISONERS' RATIONS.

The quality has been good, and few complaints have been made, the chief one being the want of salt, which I believe is barely sufficient, especially in cooking large quantities of oatmeal and meat, particularly if the meat is very fat.

PROVOST AND ESCORTS' MESS.

On several occasions complaints were made regarding the cooking, which is done by prisoners. Some that we have had were not over clean in handling food, while there were times a competent man was not to be had.

CONDUCT OF PRISONERS.

No serious trouble has been made by any prisoners and, on the whole, the discipline has been good.

THE STAFF.

The strength consists of one provost sergeant, nine constables, and one special constable, the latter being employed as engineer and stoker.

Efficient service has been rendered by Reg. No. 5208 Sergeant Walshaw, W., who continues to perform his duties as provost in a very satisfactory manner.

Reg. No. 5355 Constable Jones, R., as assistant provost for the past year has also rendered good service.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

J. W. SPALDING, Inspector.
Commanding Guard-room No. 2.

There were two cases in which prisoners were released on ticket-of-leave:—

S. Kilby, who was sentenced to 12 months hard labour on the 30th April, 1912, for theft. He was released on the 23rd October, 1912, having served 5 months and 23 days of his sentence.

C. Thompson, who was sentenced to 6 months hard labour on the 20th November, 1912, for vagrancy. He was released on the 15th April, 1913, having served 4 months and 26 days of his sentence.

There were two cases of prisoners escaping, and one attempted escape:—

D. McKinnon, who was sentenced to 6 months hard labour on 21st November, 1912, for drunk and disorderly. He escaped on the 11th March and was recaptured on the 14th.

F. W. App, who was sentenced to 12 months hard labour for theft and false pretences.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

F. Wright, who was sentenced to 60 days hard labour on the 24th September, 1913, for vagrancy, attempted to escape from his escort on the 29th September, but was recaptured within a few minutes. Arrangements have been made for his trial.

There was one death, E. B. Brown alias E. Benjamin, committed for trial for horse stealing, on the 7th November, 1912. He contracted scarlet fever on or about the 5th January, 1913, and died on the 9th. An inquest was held, when a verdict was returned, that E. Brown came to his death from natural causes and died from the effects of scarlet fever and pneumonia.

Commanding No. 2 Guard-room.

REGINA, October 9, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. Police,
'Depot' Division, Regina.

SIR,—I beg to submit herewith the annual report of 'Depot' Division Canteen for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The canteen is at present situated in the old sergeants' mess building, but arrangements are being made to move it into permanent quarters in the barrack building ('B' block).

The books have been audited up to June 30 of this year, and the canteen found to be in a good financial condition.

Grants to the amount of $873.39 have been made during the past year, chiefly for the equipment and maintenance of the mens' sports.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

P. R. FORDE, Sergeant,
Secretary.

REGINA, October 9, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'Depot' Division,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following annual report of the 'Depot' Division Library for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The library was reorganized after the fire of March 21, 1912, and was opened on October 14, 1912.

There are two good book cases containing 1,260 volumes, but owing to lack of space there are still some 350 volumes which have not yet been put in circulation.

Four Morris chairs, curtains for the windows, and the electric lighting were installed and paid for from a grant from the fine fund.

Owing to the fire which destroyed the barracks at Athabaska, two cases of books were shipped to that post to assist them in reorganizing their library.

Every effort has been made to make this library as comfortable as possible, and is greatly appreciated by the members of this post.

APPENDIX J.

ANNUAL REPORT OF INSPECTOR G. L. JENNINGS, COMMANDING
REGINA DISTRICT.

REGINA, October 15, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of Regina District for the year ending September 30, 1913.

On that date the district was composed of the following sub-districts and detachments:—

Sub-Districts.	Detachments.	Officers.	Staff Sergeants.	Sergeants.	Corporals.	Constables.	Special Constables.	Horses.	Dogs.
Wood Mountain	4	1	3	6	2
Yorkton	7	1	3	9	13

Strassburg	4	1	4	3
Arcola	3	1	3	3
Moosejaw	7	1	9	1	9
Estevan	9	1	2	8	9
Norway House	2	1	3	2	34

Detachments reporting direct to district office.

Town Station, Regina	1	1	2	1
Pilot Butte	1	1	1
Craik	1	1	1
Holdfast	1	1	1
Total on command	46	3	2	3	11	53	5	70	34
District office	2	1	3
District office detective staff	1
Total for Regina District	46	5	3	4	11	56	5	70	34

Total for Regina district being 46 detachments, 79 officers, N.C.O's and constables, 5 special constables, 70 horses and 34 dogs. This is an increase of two detachments, 1 officer and 12 constables over last year's establishment.

The Regina district, not including Norway House sub-district, extends west from the Manitoba boundary to range 7, west of the 3rd meridian, and north from the United States boundary to and including township 35; approximately, 240 miles east and west by 210 miles north and south, or an area of 50,000 square miles. This includes the most thickly settled portion of the province of Saskatchewan. The very rapid advance in railroad construction in the last two years has had a marvellous result; hamlets sprung up about eight miles apart on every new line of railroad; some of these soon became villages and from these villages a large number of towns have been incorporated during the past year.

The demand for new detachments is therefore very great, but it is not possible to establish at every place from which a request is received. Several changes were made during the year in order either to give better service in that particular district or to transfer the detachment to another point at which it was more urgently required. The strength of the district and the number of detachments remain practically unchanged.

The crop conditions were excellent this year and the yield has been the heaviest known in the west. An increase of from 5 to 20 per cent in acreage sown is reported, the largest being in that district south of Moosejaw to the United States boundary and west of the Moosejaw-Outlook branch of the C. P. R. The following average yields are reported:—

	Wheat.	Oats.	Barley.
Moosomin District	24	45	35
Moosejaw.....	20 25	50	35
Craik.....	29	50	30
Arcola.....	27	40	35
Estevan.....	20	35	30
Ogema.....	25	40	Poor.
North Portal.....	17	Poor quality and very little other grain.

Indian Head district had an excellent crop. Of fifty-four samples of wheat sent to Winnipeg, 75 per cent graded No. 1 Northern and four samples as No. 1 Hard.

Flax was not grown in as large quantities as in former years.

Owing to the excellent weather conditions, grain shipments commenced about three weeks earlier than previously. Unfortunately, the farmers are not getting a good price for their grain. Mixed farming has developed a little this year, but not to the extent it should. There is a tremendous market for all farm products, but the farmer is slow in realizing that he should not depend entirely on grain.

Telephone long distance lines have been extended very considerably under control of the Provincial Government, and local rural lines are now almost everywhere. These are of very great convenience to everyone, and have long been wanted.

The growth of the cities and towns has not been as marked as in 1912, owing possibly to scarcity of money for buildings which were not absolutely necessary. Some places show a decrease in fiscal returns, but no places have gone back any and there appears always to have been sufficient money for legitimate business. The town of Weyburn was, in September last, elevated to the rank and dignity of a city. It is the centre of a most excellent farming district and is now well served by railroads.

Perhaps the most important railway line now under construction is the C. P. R. line from Weyburn to Lethbridge. This is being rapidly pushed forward and is now being operated from Weyburn to Assiniboia, a distance of 111 miles. When completed, this will be a short line to Winnipeg and will greatly relieve the main line. Other important lines are: The Grand Trunk Pacific, Regina-United States boundary extension, just completed. This connects with the Great Northern railroad and will be a short line from Regina to St. Paul and Chicago and will give the Grand Trunk a through connection to Eastern Canada via Chicago. The Grand Trunk Pacific have also extended their main line from Regina to Moosejaw, but have not yet entered that city.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The following table gives a comparative statement of crimes in the Regina district from 1905 to the year ending September 30, 1913.

	1905.	1906.	1907.	1908.	(11 mos.) 1909.	1910.	1911.	1912.	1913.

Waiting trial.....	12	20	24	26	16	14	15	73	62

This is an increase of 737 cases entered over 1912.

I would draw your attention to the increase of nearly 12 per cent in the number of cases handled. Many of these are of a serious nature. In 1912 we had six cases of murder entered, and in 1913 we had 16 cases entered. These cases require a great deal of time and persistent work.

Horse stealing increased from 26 cases in 1912 to 30 in 1913.

False pretenses, from 76 to 87.

Carrying concealed weapons, from 21 to 33. This custom seems to be more prevalent, and I assign the cause to the very large floating population in the country. This is also the reason for the increase in the vagrancy cases from 469 to 916, almost double the number. The country is becoming flooded with these gentry, most of whom will not work. The ordinary jail sentence is too good for them.

Stealing rides on railways increased from 125 to 188. Tramps can be found now on almost any freight train.

Cases of supplying liquor to Indians and Indians intoxicated have decreased by 50 per cent, which is very gratifying.

Cases under the Provincial Liquor License Act have increased from 203 to 252.

The following is a short synopsis of the most important cases handled in the Regina district during the year and also giving the conclusion of those held over from last year:—

Rex vs. John C. Thiel, murder.—This case is continued from last year's report, and came up for trial before the Honourable Chief Justice Haultain and jury in the latter end of January, 1913. After a prolonged and rather sensational trial the jury disagreed. A second trial was held at the end of that sitting, which resulted in a verdict of 'guilty of manslaughter, with a strong recommendation for mercy.' His Lordship sentenced the prisoner to 18 months' imprisonment with hard labour in the Regina jail.

Rex vs. C. Zimmerman alias Chris. Ziegenbien, false pretenses.—In April 1912, the accused obtained, by false pretenses, the sum of $300 from Merchants Bank of Canada, Regina. Information was laid by the manager of that bank and inquiry being made regarding Zimmerman, it was found that he was undergoing a ten-months' sentence in Lethbridge jail for a similar offence committed in Alberta. His sentence expired on the 28th March, 1913, Sergeant Bennet being detailed to bring prisoner back from Lethbridge. It transpired, however, that the accused had been released on parole by the deputy warden on the 21st February, 1913, although the jail had been notified to hold him for us. Later on he was located near Stettler, Alberta, duly arrested and brought to trial at Regina. He appeared before the Honourable Mr. Justice Brown on the 31st May, 1913, pleaded 'guilty,' and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour in the Saskatchewan penitentiary at Prince Albert.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Rev. vs. Amy Christine Warwick, conspiracy to murder.—Ralph Warwick, accused's husband, was murdered by one Stanley J. Price on the 18th November, 1912. Stanley J. Price committed suicide at Moosejaw on the night of 8th December, 1912. It would appear that the accused and her husband went into Bethune on the 18th November, 1913, and returned about 9.50 p.m. After stabling the horses Warwick went to the house for supper and then returned to the stable about 10.25 p.m. About 11 p.m. accused went out to see what kept her husband so long. On arriving at the stable she found him lying under the team in the stall; she thereupon hitched up another horse and went to get assistance from her neighbours.

The inquest duly held resulted in the following verdict:—

‘Ralph Warwick came to his death by being tramped on by horses causing injuries to the heart and spleen, but are not satisfied that said Ralph Warwick was not injured before being tramped on by horses.’

A close examination at inquest did not result in any other wounds being discovered, which might have caused death. We, however, were not satisfied with the verdict of the coroner's jury, and the matter of his death was more fully investigated with the result that, after several days' close work, sufficient material had been gathered for a warrant to be sworn out against Stanley J. Price for murder, together with his hired man, William Shortle.

Inspector Newson left on the 10th December, 1912, to execute warrants, and ascertained en route to Price's farm, some forty miles northwest of Regina, that he (Price) had committed suicide in Moosejaw, over a day previous.

Shortle was arrested, but eventually released, as there was no evidence to connect him with the crime.

During the course of the investigation leading up to the afore-mentioned facts it was learnt that Mrs. Warwick, nee Elizabeth Caroline Swain, alias Amy C. Johnson, had been keeping house, a one-roomed shack, for Stanley J. Price.

Mrs. Warwick was arrested at Trodden's farm where she was staying and taken to Moosejaw to give evidence at the inquest of Stanley J. Price, being thence brought to Regina where she was committed for trial on the conspiracy charge. After a very prolonged trial before the Honourable Mr. Chief Justice Haultain and jury the accused was found ‘not guilty,’ and accordingly released.

Rev vs. William F. Kerr, forgery and theft.—In this instance the accused stole three grain cheques and forged the signature of a Mr. Duncan, the man in charge of the elevator at Pilot Butte, the cheques were drawn for $46.08, $39.60, and $39.68.

During the investigation and the time that elapsed in locating the accused, it was found that he had been committing several offences of a similar nature. The accused was arrested in the beginning of December, 1912, at Mortlach, and appeared before Police Magistrate Dunn, at Moosejaw, where he pleaded ‘guilty’ to seven counts of forgery committed in that district, he having previously consented to be tried there, with the result that he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment on each count, to run concurrently. Accused was then brought to Regina where, on the 13th December, 1912, he appeared before Police Magistrate Wm. Trant, consented to be tried and pleaded ‘guilty’ to four charges of forgery, three of uttering, and one, of false pretenses. He was sentenced as under:—

First forgery, 7 years.

Second forgery, 5 years to follow first sentence.

Third forgery, 5 years, to run concurrent with 1st and 2nd sentences.

Fourth forgery, 2 years.

Three charges of uttering, to 1 year in each instance.

One charge false pretenses to 18 months.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The sentences for uttering and false pretences to run concurrent with those for forgery. The above sentences not to commence until the accused has completed the sentence already imposed upon him by the Police Magistrate at Moosejaw.

Yorkton Sub-District Cases.

Rex vs. John Aurischuck, murder.—Continuing from last year this case came up for trial on the 3rd December, 1912, before the Honourable Chief Justice Haultain and jury at Yorkton. A verdict of 'not guilty' was returned, and accused was accordingly discharged.

Rex vs. Wasyl Ewaniuk, murder.—This case is continued from last year's report. Accused was, on the 1st October, 1912, at Saskatoon, before the Honourable Mr. Justice Brown and jury found 'guilty' of murder, with a recommendation for mercy. His Lordship thereupon sentenced accused to be hanged at Prince Albert on the 28th January, 1913. This sentence was afterwards commuted to life imprisonment.

Rex vs. Anton Luzinsky, murder.—This case is continued from last year's report. Accused came up for trial before the Honourable Chief Justice Haultain and jury at Yorkton on the 6th December, 1912, which trial resulted in a verdict of 'guilty' being returned. Prisoner was accordingly sentenced to be hanged in Moosomin jail on the 10th February, 1913. This sentence was afterwards commuted to life imprisonment and prisoner transferred from Moosomin jail to the Saskatchewan penitentiary at Prince Albert, by Sergeant Joyce, on the 16th March, 1913.

Rex vs. Gunder Wrolson, attempted murder.—Information was laid in this case by Albert Wrolson, the son of the accused, to the effect that Gunder Wrolson had attempted to murder one, Mrs. Annie Stather. It would appear that the accused and Mrs. Stather returned home from Preeceville on the evening of the 6th May, 1913, and on arriving at the farm the accused went into the house and got a rifle. Mrs. Stather had got out of the buggy and accused endeavoured to get an aim at her with the rifle. She, however, ran towards the house, when the accused fired two shots at her, stating at the time 'I will get you.' Wrolson claims he was drunk at the time, but from subsequent inquiries it would seem he had only been drinking and was not very drunk. At the time of the shooting our constable stationed at Preeceville was away attending Supreme Court at Yorkton. The Justice of the Peace therefore swore in a special constable, had accused arrested, preliminary hearing held, and accused committed for trial. He was taken to Canora and handed over to our custody at that point, and brought through to Yorkton. It is reported that Gunder Wrolson has been convicted of murder in the state of Minnesota, U.S.A., some ten years ago; this matter is at present under investigation. Accused is now awaiting trial.

Rex vs. A. Wapash and T. Strongquill, carnal knowledge of female under 14 years.—In this case the parties concerned were all Indians belonging to the Pelly Agency at Kamsack, Sask. It would appear that the two accused, and the wife of Wapash, went to the house of Andrew Quee-wee-zance, about the 18th November, 1912, and found only his young daughter, Justine Quee-wee-zance, and her invalid younger brother at home, the older members of the family being away hunting. The party remained over night and during the night the offence took place, Mrs. A. Wapash being cognizant of all proceedings. The two accused came up for trial on the 15th March at Yorkton. T. Strongquill pleaded 'not guilty'; A. Wapash pleaded 'guilty.'

In summing up in regard to Strongquill the judge took an extremely lenient view, owing to the accused's youth and ill-health, and sentenced him to 10 days imprisonment in the R. N. W. M. P. guard-room at Yorkton. A. Wapash, whose wife had been present, was sentenced to 9 months hard labour in Yorkton guard-room.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Rex vs. Justine Wapash (Mrs.), accessory to the fact.—This case was the outcome of the last preceding one, viz., Rex vs. A. Wapash and T. Strongquill. The accused was duly committed and appeared for trial at Yorkton on the 27th March, 1913, a plea of 'guilty' was entered and accused sentenced to two months' imprisonment with hard labour in the Prince Albert jail.

Rex vs. Dan Kowal, attempted murder.—In this case the accused, who lives near Ebenezer, had been to Melville on 1st April, 1913, and on his return went to his father-in-law's house near Hamton, where his wife was staying. He sent for his wife and pointed a loaded revolver at her saying, 'I am going to shoot you.' Mrs. Kowal struck the weapon aside and it exploded, the bullet entering the arm of her brother George.

Dan Kowal was arrested by Sergeant Turner on the 2nd April, and the following day the accused was committed for trial. He came up before the Honourable Mr. Justice Lamont and jury at Yorkton on the 9th May, 1913. The defence was to the effect that the accused only pointed the gun at her to scare her into coming back to live with him, and they endeavoured to prove that she had seized the gun, which was the cause of its going off. In summing up, the judge pointed out to the jury that they could bring in any of the following verdicts:—

1. Attempted murder,
2. Wounding with intent to do grivous bodily harm.
3. Common assault, with the result that the accused was found guilty of common assault and sentenced to four months' imprisonment with hard labour in Yorkton guard-room.

Nofray Kostinuk, attempted murder.—The accused, who lives near Stenen, returned home on the 3rd February, 1913, after having been into the village that day. He appeared excited and told his wife that he had had a dream that she was an immoral woman. He wanted his wife to swear on the muzzle of a loaded shot gun that she was not immoral, as he said if she was the gun would go off, but if she was a good woman it would not go off. The accused's mother-in-law was at the time sitting on the bed and kept nagging at him and accused turned round and pointed the gun at her head. A neighbour, one George Cherniawzki, who was in the room, knocked the gun downward and it exploded, the charge striking the floor some two feet from the feet of Kostinuk's mother-in-law. It could not be shown whether the accused actually pulled the trigger or not.

The defence was that his wife was immoral and he was only trying to frighten her, the gun being discharged accidentally in the direction of his mother-in-law. This case was tried at Yorkton on the 9th and 10th of May, 1913, before the Honourable Mr. Justice Lamont and jury, and in summing up His Lordship instructed the jury they could return any of the following verdicts:—

1. Attempted murder.
2. Wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm.
3. Common assault.

After being out for one hour they returned a verdict of 'guilty of common assault' and the accused was thereupon sentenced to four months' imprisonment with hard labour at Yorkton guard-room.

Rex vs. Jesse Hammond, murder.—This case is, I think, without exception, one of the most cold-blooded and revolting crimes I have met with. The accused, being a married man, had his sister-in-law living with him. He, so he stated, lost his affections for his wife and transferred them to his sister-in-law, with the result that immoral relations were entered into between them, i.e., the accused and his wife's sister. On the 22nd August, 1911, a child was born to the accused's sister-in-law, Hammond being the father. The child was born alive, but accused took the infant outside and laid it on a straw pile, where it died. Again, on the 6th November, 1912, another child was born to the accused's sister-in-law, he again being the father. This infant was likewise disposed of, but how, it was never actually found out.

The accused after arrest and having been carefully warned made a detailed confession of all that had happened. He was in due course committed for trial, which took place at Saskatoon on 29th May, 1913, before the Honourable Mr. Justice Newlands and jury, who returned a verdict of 'guilty,' and accordingly the accused was sentenced to be hanged on the 14th day of August, 1913.

However, the Honourable the Minister of Justice ordered a new trial on this case, which took place at Saskatoon on the 29th September, 1913, before the Honourable Mr. Justice Newlands and jury, who returned a verdict of 'guilty,' with a strong recommendation to mercy.

The accused was accordingly sentenced to be hanged on the 17th December, 1913, at Prince Albert jail.

Rex vs. Theodore Forschner and William Ballard, horse stealing.—The above-named parties appeared in Indian Head on 5th May, 1913, with six head of horses, which they were endeavouring to sell very cheap. Sergeant Birtwistle looked them up and recognized Ballard as a cow-puncher from around Sheho, and he knew that Forschner was suspected of picking up strays around Theodore district. These men were telling different stories as to where they came from, &c. Sergeant Birtwistle laid information against them under sec. 293 C. C. and accused were arrested and remanded. Investigations followed in the Yorkton sub-district which resulted in the identification of some of the horses, and later the accused were committed for trial. Forschner is out on $8,000 bail and Ballard awaiting trial in custody. Sergeant Birtwistle's action in the initial stages of these cases is worthy of note.

Rex vs. Freida Stich, murder.—The accused, a young Austrian girl of about 16 years, on the 11th May, 1913, attended a dance near Melville, and during the time she was there, she was sick and later went out with her mother, and on her return appeared, if anything, worse. The following morning the body of a newly-born infant was discovered in a slough near the house where the dance took place; also a lady's back hair comb which was identified as the one the accused wore on the night of the dance.

An inquest duly held resulted in a verdict of 'death from culpable homicide,' and that suspicion rested upon Freida Stich and her mother. From inquiries instituted by us, Doctor Livingstone, practising in Melville is alleged to have stated that the accused had very recently given birth to a child, he having examined her on behalf of her parents. The accused was accordingly arrested, and on the preliminary hearing coming on the case was dismissed owing to the fact that the medical evidence was so unsatisfactory as to leave a great doubt whether the girl had actually given birth to a child. On further investigation a fresh charge was laid and the accused was committed for trial, which took place at Melville, before the Honourable Mr. Justice Lamont and jury. Doctor Livingstone, when called, stated he could not swear whether the child was born alive or dead. As his was the only medical evidence available the Crown were unable to go on, as unless it was proved that the child was born alive the case must consequently fall through. Under these circumstances the judge took the case away from the jury, and discharged the accused.

Rex vs. Matilda Gibbons, murder.—On the night of the 30th September, 1912, the above named killed her five-year-old girl by giving it Paris green, and tried the same dose on another daughter, aged 10. Later, regretting her action, she tried to restore her children to life, but in the case of the five-year-old girl, Maggie, was unsuccessful. The accused was duly arrested and committed for trial on the charge of murder, and came up before the Honourable Chief Justice Haultain and jury, which trial resulted in a verdict of 'not guilty,' owing to temporary insanity. The accused was thereupon remanded to Prince Albert jail, to be kept there in strict custody, until the pleasure of the Lieutenant Governor be known.

Rex vs. Mike Szewezuk, murder.—On the night of the 2nd September, 1913, there was a Galician wedding at Yorkton, the usual drinking took place and, as a result one Steve Solingski, was struck over the head with a fence post, by the accused, which blow resulted in death.

On receiving notification at 10.30 a.m. the following morning, a thorough investigation followed, and all men available were sent out to endeavour to round up the accused. On the 7th September, 1913, Constable Smith, who is stationed at Shebo, while returning off patrol, had his suspicions aroused by the actions of two parties he saw in the bush. On investigating he eventually headed them off, and held both up, arrested them, and took them to his detachment, when he found that one was the accused and the other was an eye-witness to the tragedy.

The accused was in due course committed and is at present awaiting trial. Constable Smith's action in this case is praiseworthy.

Rex vs. James Z. Walters, murder.—The apparent cause of this murder was a fit of passion on the part of the accused. The deceased Whelham, and others, had arranged to play a practical joke on Walters, which joke resulted in Whelham striking Walters several blows with his fist on the face. Walters then borrowed a .22 rifle and got a lantern and started to hunt for Whelham, expressing to two parties that he was going to shoot Whelham. The accused was seen by the village constable, to whom he stated he was going to shoot Whelham, and on being requested to hand over his gun, refused to do so.

Mrs. Whelham saw Walters, who told her his intentions, and she tried to get him to give up the gun, but without success. Shortly afterwards Whelham came on the scene and going over to where his wife and Walters were standing, was told by Walters to 'stand back or I'll shoot;' he, Walters, then fired at Whelham and the bullet penetrated his chest, but deceased was able to grapple with Walters, who, however, struck him several blows with the gun. Doctor Soley considered an operation necessary and he went with deceased by train to Winnipeg, but Whelham died on arrival at the Union depot there. The result of the postmortem showed that the deceased died from the result of septic poisoning, following bullet wound. In due course the accused was committed for trial and is at present in custody in Moosomin jail.

This shooting took place on the 29th July, 1913, at Veregin, Sask.

Moosomin Sub-district Cases.

Rex vs. Gaudry, theft from H. M. mails.—This case is continued from last year, with the result that the accused was sentenced to five years' imprisonment with hard labour on the above charge. Another charge of horse stealing had meanwhile matured against him, and on this latter he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour in the Saskatchewan penitentiary, to run concurrent with the aforementioned sentence of five years.

Rex vs. William Anderson, horse stealing.—This man has been under suspicion of horse stealing since the summer of 1911, and he was one of the gang of rustlers that had been operating for some time in the Wood Mountain sub-district, which gang had at last broken up. The charge in this instance was the theft of four horses from a man named Olson, which accused stole and disposed of. The evidence was conclusive, but took a great deal of time and care in getting together, the main witness only being located at the last minute. The accused was committed for trial and appeared before the Honourable Chief Justice Haultain and jury, at the June sittings of the Supreme Court at Moosejaw. After the jury were out ten minutes, they returned a verdict of 'guilty,' and His Lordship sentenced prisoner to five years in the Saskatchewan penitentiary at Prince Albert. The conviction in this case is due almost entirely to the persistent efforts of Staff Sergeant King.

Rex vs. Russell McLean Hurst, seduction.—Information was laid by John Dellas, father of the girl seduced, who had died at child-birth.

After considerable trouble the accused was located and arrested at Collingwood, Ontario, and brought back for trial, and duly committed. On the case coming up before the Honourable Mr. Justice Newlands and jury at Saskatoon on 2nd June, 1913, the Agent for the Attorney General preferred no charge, owing to the respective ages of the girl and the accused, the former being 16 years and 16 days and the latter only 18 years when the offence took place. The accused was accordingly discharged.

Rex vs. Jane Caldwell and Austin Foy, murder; Rex vs. Maud Greenman, conspiracy to murder.—These two cases are so wrapped up in each other that they are reported on together, the first two named defendants being charged with the murder of the illegitimate child of Mrs. Maude Greenman, while the latter is charged with conspiracy to murder the said child.

The first clue in this case came from some notes handed to Constable Waite of Craik detachment by a Doctor Palmer, who stated he had received the information from a Mrs. Caldwell. The matter was carefully investigated with the following results:—

That a female child (illegitimate) was born to Mrs. Maude Greenman (widow) on the 25th March, 1913. The parents of Maude Greenman, Mr. and Mrs. Foy, were living at the farm near Eyebrow, and they stated that the child must be got rid of owing to the disgrace it would bring on the family. They accordingly tried to influence the nurse, Mrs. Caldwell, to dispose of the child, and were successful in so far that on the following morning, Mrs. Greenman asked Mrs. Caldwell to take the baby out into a shack where the meat was kept. She did this, accompanied by Austin Foy, grandfather of the child, who assisted her by opening the doors. The infant was laid on the floor of the shack, which was unfurnished and had no heating apparatus whatever. The weather on the 25th and 26th March was about 19 degrees below zero, very cold, and snow was on the ground.

During the morning, Austin Foy and Mrs. Caldwell went out at intervals to see the child, and about noon it died. Later that day Mrs. Caldwell assisted Austin Foy to bury the body in the hen-house. The main evidence in this case is the complete confession made by the nurse, Mrs. Caldwell, both at the coroner's inquest and preliminary hearing. All precautions were taken to have Mrs. Caldwell properly warned, and the nature of the warning and her rights to protection from the court while giving evidence were fully explained to her. But she still insisted in making her confession. The accused parties were all committed for trial and are at present in custody awaiting trial. A more cold-blooded case of infanticide could hardly be imagined.

Rex vs. J. A. Mowatt, horse stealing.—This case is continued from last year; accused was brought up in the District Court at Moosejaw in the latter part of November, 1912, when he was released on suspended sentence, having pleaded 'guilty' to the charge.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Rex vs. D. P. Ferguson, theft of estrays.—In this instance the accused was charged with stealing five stray horses. Considerable work was put in on the matter, as it was found very difficult to get in touch with the owners. Staff Sergeant King, by his persistent efforts, eventually had the case in good shape for trial, which took place at Moosejaw, and was concluded on the 6th May, 1913, at the District Court, when the accused was found 'guilty' and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour in the Saskatchewan penitentiary at Prince Albert. Ferguson was an elderly man and an old-time resident in the country south of Moosejaw.

Estevan Sub-District Cases.

Rex vs. John Donison, murder.—On the 29th November, 1912, the accused shot and killed one William Paliuk, about 16 miles Northwest of Viceroy. Corporal Reames arrested the accused early the following morning.

It would appear that Donison and Paliuk were not on very friendly terms, living close to each other. On the day of the shooting the accused was about to drive the deceased's horses to pound, when Paliuk came up, and some words ensued. During the argument accused thought the deceased reached for his hip, as if to draw a gun, and in order to prevent being shot himself, deliberately fired a charge from a shot-gun he had in his hands, killing Paliuk outright, the full charge, wads and all entered the left breast a little above the heart. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against Donison and in due course he was committed for trial. He appeared before the Honourable Mr. Justice Brown and jury at Moosejaw on the 12th March, 1913, and after a three-days trial, during which numerous witnesses were examined, a verdict of 'not guilty' was returned, the jury being out three hours.

His Lordship spoke a few words of warning when discharging the prisoner, and expressed a hope that the jury's decision would not create the impression that it was right to take life under such circumstances.

Rex vs. H. M. Middaugh, misappropriation of funds.—This was reported last year, but not concluded. The accused was, on the 4th October, 1912, sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour at Prince Albert penitentiary, in the District Court at Regina.

Rex vs. William J. Hutchins, bigamy.—The accused was married first in Minneapolis, Minn., U.S.A., on the 19th February, 1911, and subsequently, his first wife being alive and not divorced, married Anna L. Seyfert at Estevan, Sask., on the 11th December, 1912.

Information was laid by Staff Sergeant Lett, and the accused arrested at Gull Lake, Sask., by Corporal Goodrich. He was in due course committed and elected for speedy trial, pleading 'not guilty,' evidence was on hand and accused convicted and sentenced to one year's imprisonment with hard labour, in Regina jail. His first wife came up from the States to give evidence.

Arcola Sub-District Cases.

Rex vs. Robert Evans, horse stealing.—Robert Evans, on the 4th January, 1913, hired a horse and saddle from livery barn at Redvers, Sask. He then sold horse for $60 to a farmer living some 18 miles Southeast of Redvers. Accused was traced into Manitoba by Staff Sergeant Lea, and arrested at Napinka, by Constable McSherry, who escorted prisoner back to Arcola for trial, when he pleaded 'guilty.' The judge, in view of the fact that the accused was only 16 years old, suspended sentence, on his father entering into a bond of $1,000 for four years for his son's good behaviour.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Rex vs. Lloyd Atz, attempted murder of C. D. Bennison and Leonard Warne near Manor, Sask.—On the 15th July, 1913, about 9 p.m., the above named murderously assaulted his employer Mr. Bennison, and another hired man, Warne, using a single tree on the former and a 22 rifle on the latter; in both cases the injuries were serious. Bennison having eight cuts on the head to the bone, any of the blows causing same might have resulted in a fractured skull. Warne, the hired man, was cut about the head, jaw broken, and lost a large quantity of blood. Staff Sergeant Lea took up the search for Atz, and, together with Constables Richards and White, covered all country south to North Dakota, U.S.A., the country in that vicinity being bluffly and easy to hide in. On the 19th word came to the effect that a man had been seen some four miles from the scene of the assault, and this party eventually turned out to be Atz; he was taken in charge by two farmers until the police arrived. Atz was duly committed for trial and during the time he was held at Arcola attempted to make an escape, which Constable Richards frustrated. The accused is still in custody awaiting trial.

Strassburg Sub-district Cases.

Rex vs. Dora White and John Goldspink, murder.—On the 3rd June, 1913, information was received that George White, husband of Dora White, had been found dead in his stable at Govan that morning.

Corporal Mulhall went from Strassburg to investigate and an inquest was held the coroner's jury returning a verdict, 'that George White came to his death as a result of wounds caused by some person or persons unknown.' Staff Sergeant Dubuque was detailed on this case, and as suspicion pointed to the two accused, (Goldspink being the hired man,) instructions were issued for their arrest. As a result of our investigations it was shown that Dora White was frequently quarrelling with her husband, who was a regular drunkard; and on the night in question it would appear that the deceased came home drunk, After a row with his wife she beat him up with a hatchet, and badly fractured his skull. Goldspink was at the house at the time, and helped to carry the deceased's body out to the stable late at night. The following morning he, Goldspink, pretended to find White's body in the stable and raised an alarm, spreading the news that White had been kicked to death by his horses. This assertion was, however, thoroughly disproved, and numerous blood-stained articles, including some of Mrs. White's clothing, were found cached away in various parts of the house; also indications were noticeable where attempts had been made to obliterate blood-stains on the floor and walls of the room, in which the murder must have been committed.

The accused were both committed for trial on the capital charge, which took place at Saskatoon on the 30th September, 1913, before the Honourable Mr. Justice Newlands and jury. A verdict of 'guilty of manslaughter' was returned in the case of Dora White, whereas, in Goldspink's case a verdict of 'not guilty' was returned. Mrs. Dora White was thereupon sentenced by His Lordship to ten years' imprisonment at Prince Albert, but owing to there not being accommodation for female prisoners at that point she was afterwards transferred to Edmonton penitentiary. John Goldspink was discharged.

The method employed by the two accused in their endeavour to cover up their tracks was similar to that employed in the Warwick case; probably they got their inspirations from the reports published in the papers, as the details of the Warwick case were very fully published.

Rex vs. John Goldspink, accessory after the fact.—On the accused being discharged on the charge of murdering George White, of Govan, he was re-arrested on the above charge. The evidence was of a similar character to that submitted in the Dora White murder case, which resulted in the accused being found 'guilty' by the jury and was sentenced by the Honourable Mr. Justice Newlands to five years' imprisonment in Prince Albert penitentiary.

Rex vs. William F. Scherely, false pretenses.—This case originated in the vicinity of Southey, Sask. The accused, who owed a bill of $272.75 to one Geo. B. Miller, a general merchant of Southey, offered him a team of horses in settlement on the 10th April, 1913, which offer was accepted, on the accused stating that the team was his own property, that he had had them all the previous winter, and they were clear. Miller gave him $80 in cash, $47 in value in goods, and wrote off the account on the ledger previously referred to, making a total of $399.75.

Scherely then left, and on the 18th April one Aron Fairbush, liveryman of Mar-kinch, a town in the vicinity of Southey, identified the team and had same seized under a warrant.

He, Fairbush, having on the 9th April sold this team to one Peter Sunda, who gave him a chattel mortgage for $497 in payment. This Peter Sunda answered the description of Scherely, and was later identified as being one and the same person. Warrant was issued and Scheley traced to Fort Benton, Montana, U.S.A., at which point he was arrested by the sheriff, arrangements were made through the officer commanding 'K' Division, to have the accused brought back to Canada, he having signified his willingness to return and waived his rights to extradition proceedings. Corporal Kempston went to Lethbridge and took over charge of the prisoner and escorted him back to Regina, he eventually, on the 18th June, 1913, appeared before two Justices of the peace at Southey, and the formalities of Part 16 of the Criminal Code having been complied with, accused elected to be tried summarily and pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years' imprisonment with hard labour, in Prince Albert penitentiary.

Rex vs. Chris Schan, forgery and false pretenses.—The charges against the accused were preferred by the Bank of Toronto, at Elstow, Sask., the Bank of Quebec at Young, Sask., the Bank of Commerce at Watrous, Sask., from which institutions he had successfully obtained considerable sums of money by false pretences and forgery.

The accused fled the country and was located and arrested at Devil's Lake, North Dakota, U.S.A., and brought back by Staff Sergeant Lett, having waived his rights to extradition. In due course he was committed for trial. The trial is set for the next sittings of the Supreme Court at Saskatoon.

Moosomin Sub-District Case.

Rex vs. Joseph Pritchard, performing illegal operations.—The accused, who lived at Wapella, has been kept under observation for some years past, it was suspected he was carrying on this nefarious practice, with the result that Sergeant Joyce, in charge of Moosomin sub-district, was able to get a clear case on the accused, the details of the evidence being very thorough and conclusive. Information was accordingly laid charging Pritchard with the above crime, and warrant to apprehend issued, which Sergeant Joyce executed on the 12th June at Wapella. Under a search warrant, certain instruments were found that had been used by accused. Preliminary hearing was duly held and accused committed for trial on this and another charge of similar nature which had materialized during the police investigations. He is now awaiting trial in Moosomin jail; bail was refused.

Sergeant Joyce did very good work in these cases.

Craik Sub-District Cases.

Rex vs. Peter Hoffman, horse stealing.—During the night of 11th March, 1913, a team, sleigh and set of harness were stolen from Alec. Steuck, of Davidson, Sask.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Constable Waite was detailed on this case and picked up trace east of Strongfield, and after tracing outfit through towns on the Outlook branch of C.P.R., they appeared to be circling towards Saskatoon.

The officer commanding at Prince Albert and also Saskatoon were notified by wire to be on the look out. The team, with sleighs and harness intact, were located in a livery barn at Prince Albert, and accused was arrested. He was duly committed and elected for a speedy trial, which took place at Moosejaw on the 26th May, 1913. A plea of 'guilty' was entered, and he was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment with hard labour. Mr. Steuch recovered his horses at Prince Albert, Constable Waite being commended by the commissioner for his energy shown in this case.

Rex vs. Toni Kislinger, rape.—Information was laid before Police Magistrate Trant, of Regina, by Mrs. Katherine Luzny, of Findlater, Sask. The case came up for trial at Moosejaw before the Honourable Mr. Justice Brown and jury. A verdict of 'guilty' was returned, and in passing sentence of 30 months and 10 lashes the judge stated that the case was of a most brutal and revolting nature, without any mitigating circumstances.

Rex vs. Kate Detta, bigamy.—The accused was married to Richard Detta on the 9th June, 1907, at Sintaluta, under maiden name of Katie Labelle, she having been previously married to one William Jordan on the 12th October, 1904, at Beausejour, Manitoba, her first husband, Jordon, being still alive and not divorced. After considerable trouble in getting the main witnesses together, the case came up for trial on the 11th June, 1913, before the Honourable Mr. Chief Justice Haultain and jury, a verdict of 'guilty' was returned with a recommendation for mercy.

The accused was released on suspended sentence, as it was learnt that she had entered into an agreement to go into a certain institute for reform in Manitoba.

George Strand, Chester Strand, Theodore Anderson, charged with rape in the United States of America.—The above named were charged by the Juvenile Officer of the State of North Dakota, U.S.A., with the above offence on one Inga Olson, a female under 16 years. They were located near Craik, and arrested and brought to Regina, where they signified their willingness to return voluntarily to the United States, and signed a waiver to that effect. They were duly escorted to the boundary line at North Portal and handed over to Sheriff McLean. The result of this case was that the States Attorney changed the charge from rape in the first degree to rape in the second degree, to which latter charge all pleaded 'guilty' and were sentenced as under:—

Chester Strand, 14 months States penitentiary; George Strand and Theodore Anderson, not being of age, were sent to the State Reform School until they became of age, a little over a year.

Rex vs. E. B. Brown and Charles Parker, horse stealing.—The above-named parties stole a horse from livery barn at Davidson. Constable Waite investigated and traced outfit across country to a little north of Elbow. The next trace obtained was where they crossed the Saskatchewan river at Billings Ferry, and took the trail for Swift Current, at which place Brown was arrested by Corporal Cutting. Parker was later arrested on a train between Moosejaw and Regina by Constable Durant.

Both the accused were, in due course, committed for trial. E. B. Brown died from scarlet fever while awaiting trial. C. Parker was tried at the District Court, Moosejaw, and sentenced to four years' imprisonment with hard labour in the Prince Albert penitentiary.

Indian Head Sub-district Case.

Rex vs. John McMillan, horse stealing.—The accused was found to be in possession of three horses belonging to Fred. Pachall, of Kennedy, Saskatchewan. He was duly arrested, the manner in which he came into possession of these horses was through the pound, claiming the horses as his own. He also smeared dark grease on the white markings of the horses so that same could not be easily recognized at a distance. McMillan was in due course committed, and is at the present time awaiting trial which should come on at Moosomin the early part of October, 1913.

Rex vs. Herbert Wain, burglary.—This was a city of Moosejaw case, and the accused was sentenced by the Police Magistrate of that city to two years in the Prince Albert penitentiary for the offence.

Rex vs. George Smith, burglary.—This was a city of Moosejaw case, and the accused was sentenced by the Police Magistrate of that city to two years imprisonment with hard labour in Prince Albert penitentiary.

Rex vs. Samuel Tadman, receiving stolen property.—The accused was arrested by the Chicago police on a telegram sent by the Moosejaw city police, the charge being receiving stolen property knowing same to be stolen, the property in question having been stolen from the Moosejaw city stores. After considerable delay, owing to the Canadian Pacific Railway taking action in a similar case against the accused, authority was granted by the Department of the Attorney General for the Province of Saskatchewan to bring accused back from Chicago. He having consented to waive extradition proceedings, Staff Sergeant King was sent to Chicago and brought the prisoner through to Moosejaw, two separate charges being preferred one by the Moosejaw city and the other by the C. P. Railway.

At the preliminary hearing, the case brought by the C. P. R. was dismissed, while on that of the city of Moosejaw the accused was committed for trial, being admitted to bail in the sum of $2,500.

This case has yet to be tried.

Rex vs. J. C. McGregor, burglary.—The accused was tried in the District Court on the 5th March, 1913, having elected for a speedy trial. He was found guilty and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Saskatchewan penitentiary at Prince Albert. The case was one in which the accused entered the house of a resident of the city of Regina and held up his wife at the point of a revolver, and bound her to a chair; then rifling the house. The great shock to the lady was such as to seriously injure her health.

McGregor was located in Moosejaw and brought back to Regina. He proved to be an old convict.

Rex vs. William F. McDonald, alias 'The Flounder,' theft.—This case occurred on a Canadian Pacific Railway train, in which the accused stole the sum of $80 from a passenger, at Regina.

The C. P. R. Police handled the matter and the accused was arrested at Calgary, and brought to Regina. The witnesses for the prosecution came up from Ontario to give evidence. The case was tried by Police Magistrate Trant on the 26th May, 1913, and accused found 'guilty.' He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour at Prince Albert penitentiary.

John Bukojczuk, Fred. Gordeczuk, murder of Frank Szatowski.—This murder occurred in the east end of the city of Regina, on the evening of the 7th November, 1912. The deceased was beaten over the head with some piping, which resulted in death.

Circulars were issued and eventually Gordeczuk was located and arrested in Calgary, and Bukojczuk at Edmonton. They were in due course committed for trial. The case was tried before the Honourable Mr. Justice Brown and jury, at the May sittings of the Supreme Court of Saskatchewan, with the result that in each instance the jury brought in a verdict of 'guilty of manslaughter' with a recommendation 'that the accused receive the severest penalty.'

They were each sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment with hard labour in the Saskatchewan penitentiary at Prince Albert on the 31st May, 1913.

The motive for this crime was jealousy and revenge.

Regina city police case.

FOREST AND PRAIRIE FIRES.

There was a slight increase in the number of fires reported over last year. This is attributable in part to the many new branches of railway construction, the burning of the right of way in some instances being done in a careless manner; also to sparks from the engines. Settlers, as a rule, have taken fair precaution against prairie fires. All cases brought to our notice have been investigated and the parties responsible have been prosecuted.

The most serious case was near Viceroy on section 2-8-26 west of the 2nd Meridian. The area covered was not large, but the buildings of Mr. A. Lidberg were consumed. In getting the stock out of the stable Mr. Lidberg's daughter, unfortunately, was burned to death, and Mr. Lidberg and his son were badly burned and lost four horses, three cows, two calves, two pigs, chickens, two wagons, one buggy and a quantity of hay. The fire came from a neighbour's manure pile which was set on fire three weeks previously. Lidberg had no proper fire guard around his place.

Two serious fires occurred on the Colonsay branch of the C.P.R. One was caused by an engine and burned a stable, oat stack and 100 tons of hay, and covered two miles. The other was started by a hired man and burnt 1,000 bushels of wheat and buildings valued at $1,000; this fire covered an area of six miles.

Most of the fires were of minor importance, owing to so much land now being broken. Our detachments give all possible assistance in fighting these fires and call out the local population for aid.

There have been no bush fires reported, due, no doubt, to the very rainy season in the Norway House district, where only there are timber forests.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Particular attention is at times given to necessary assistance to departments of the Federal and Provincial Governments, especially when asked to do so by them.

Federal Government.

Department of the Interior—Immigration.—Assistance has been given to settlers, as required, by our patrols, in many instances directing new comers to their locations and acquainting them with the condition of their new surroundings. The Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, is also advised of all persons brought to our notice as being subjects for deportation.

Department of the Interior—Indians.—Escorts have been provided for all officers of the department when paying treaty moneys to the Indians. These escorts, in addition to acting as guides in some instances, preserved order and, in particular, prevented liquor trading with the Indians. They also reported at length on the numbers and conditions of the different tribes. The list of tribes and their numbers, as given in my report of last year, remains practically unchanged. The Indians of northern Manitoba are included in the report of the Norway House sub-district. The Indians are exceedingly well behaved and have given no trouble. Offences against the Indian Act have been very few and were mostly due to illicit liquor traffic.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Customs.—All cases of smuggling and illegal selling of stock and effects brought into this country from the United States as 'settlers' effects' have been reported to the department and action taken in accordance with their instructions. Such cases have been few this year.

The collection of Customs at Wood Mountain, which for many years past was in the hands of the officer commanding R.N.W.M.P. at that point, was, about the middle of November, 1912, transferred from the police to Mr. W. S. Metcalf, who was appointed sub-collector for that district under the supervision of the port of Moosejaw. This is the last place in the Regina district at which this force acted as officers for the Customs Department.

Agriculture.—Our detachments report all instances of contagious diseases in animals, of which they become aware and these reports are forwarded to the nearest veterinary inspector for his action therein.

Justice.—All Supreme and District Courts have been provided with orderlies during the complete sittings of the courts. Also, required assistance has been given to coroners and local justices. Prisoners have been escorted to and from the courts and to the various jails and the penitentiaries at Prince Albert and Edmonton. Lunatics have been taken to the Brandon asylum. Escorts have also brought back to Saskatchewan, for trial, prisoners arrested in Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario and the United States. The number of such prisoners is rapidly increasing. Accused persons, wanted on warrants in other provinces and the United States, have been located, arrested and held for the arrival of the proper authorities. The Commissioner of Dominion Police, Ottawa, has been advised of ticket-of-leave men reporting at our detachments.

Post Office Department.—Every effort has been made to render all possible assistance to this department of the Government. Burglaries and thefts from post offices and mail bags have become more frequent. In several instances our efforts have been successful. The principal case handled in this connection was that of theft of registered parcel containing $347.20 from the post office at Expanse, Sask., by one John Larsen. On the 21st April last the postmistress at Expanse delivered this registered package to a man calling himself John Larsen and representing himself as the party the package was intended for. Later it was discovered that the money had been delivered to the wrong person and the postmistress notified the post office inspector at Moosejaw, who in turn informed Staff Sergeant King, of R.N.W.M.P. detachment at that point. Corporal Tomlinson of Gravelbourg detachment was sent immediately to investigate and learned that Larsen had left that district and his whereabouts could not be learned. Corporal Tomlinson in looking through the hotel register at Gravelbourg obtained copies of the signature of one John Larsen, which signature corresponded identically with that in the post office registration book at Expanse. It was arranged that the post office inspector should forward copies of Larsen's signature to all the post offices with a request to keep a sharp lookout for Larsen. Descriptions of this man were forwarded from this office to all detachments of the police. As a result of this arrangement, information was received from the postmaster of Qu'Appelle, Sask., stating that he had received a letter from one John Larsen, which signature corresponded with that in the hotel register aforementioned and with that in the registration book of the Expanse post office. This letter requested that mail addressed to John Larsen be forwarded to Port Arthur, Ont. The chief constable at Port Arthur was communicated with, and, at my request, a man called John Larsen was arrested. He admitted having written to the postmaster at Qu'Appelle to forward his mail. An escort was sent to Port Arthur with warrant to bring Larsen back to Saskatchewan for trial on the above charge. Unfortunately, this prisoner escaped from his escort at Winnipeg while changing trains and, although every effort has since been put forth to effect the recapture of Larsen, we have so far been unsuccessful.

In August last a book of 100 money orders was stolen from the post office at Oak Lake, Manitoba. These were each filled in for amounts of about $95, and the respective advices sent to different post offices in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, mostly to towns on the main line of the C.P.R.. A few days afterwards a man would present a money order at a post office to which an advice had been sent and get payment for it. We were notified by the department of the post offices holding these advices and an effort to catch the perpetrator at Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan, was almost successful. It would appear that there were two men in this scheme, one operating in Manitoba and the other in this province. One was captured at Minnedosa, Man., and the other no doubt hearing this at Qu'Appelle, and knowing that the police were endeavouring to catch him, got out of the country. Since then no further attempts have been made to cash any of these money orders.

Provincial Statutes.

Public health.—The commissioner of this department has been sent reports of all cases of destitution and infectious diseases. Quarantine regulations have been enforced when the department has requested us to do so.

Neglected and dependent children.—The work in connection with this department is rapidly increasing, and a large number of cases have been reported to the Superintendent of the department which deals with children under the age of sixteen. Boys are usually sent to the Industrial School at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, and the girls are either put in foster homes or given positions with respectable families.

Liquor license branch.—Owing to the large number of new licenses issued throughout the district, the cases under this statute show a large increase. Informations are, in all cases, laid by officials of this department and assistance given by us. Reports of breaches of the Liquor License Act, received from detachments in which there is no license inspector, are sent direct to the department for their action. Owing to an effective campaign and heavy fines, 'blind pigs' appear not to be so numerous as formerly.

Live stock branch.—During the year we have been successful in tracing stock which had strayed, and had them returned to their owners. The statute relating to the enrolment of stallions has been strictly enforced.

Investigations re Deaths.—The following number of deaths in this district have been the subject of police investigation, always with a coroner except when one cannot be procured:—

Sudden and accidental deaths.. . . .	104
Suicides.. . . .	22
Suicides, attempted.. . . .	6
Total.. . . .	132

This is over twice the number for last year and entails an enormous amount of work from the detachments. The Attorney General's Department is sent a copy of the report in each case and, where necessary, the public administrators have been furnished with a report and an inventory of the estate of the deceased. Of the above number, two (father and son) were killed by a small cyclone and four were killed by lightning.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Lunatics.—The total number of lunatics taken to the asylum at Brandon, by order of the Attorney General, was 88. It is expected that before long the Saskatchewan Provincial asylum at North Battleford will be opened for the receiving of lunatics from this province.

YORKTON SUB-DISTRICT.

The officer commanding this sub-district reports a most prosperous year, particularly in regard to crops. In some places 100 per cent increase in land under cultivation is shown. The population is very mixed and consists largely of foreigners who have given us considerable trouble, and among whom most of the cases of murder occurred.

The Doukhobours, who previously have given us considerable trouble, have mostly all left that district for British Columbia and we have had but two small complaints in regard to them during the past year. These two instances were the result of some 30 Doukhobours, the balance of the old fanatics, attempting their old practice of making nude parades. They were immediately arrested and sentenced to terms of six months each and distributed among the jails at Regina, Prince Albert and Moosomin.

I attach a report of the prisoners confined in the Yorkton guard-room for the past year. This guard-room has been reported upon so often as being absolutely inadequate, unsanitary and dangerous in regard to an outbreak of fire that I consider that further comment is unnecessary.

Following is the report of the Yorkton guard-room:—

YORKTON GUARD-ROOM, September 30, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,

GENERAL REMARKS.

The health of the prisoners confined in the guard-room during the past year has been good. Discipline well maintained. George Holunga, a prisoner undergoing one month's imprisonment for vagrancy, escaped from custody here on the 25th June last and so far has not been recaptured.

This guard-room is inadequate for the purpose, both from the point of view of security and that of convenience; cell doors are locked individually; there is no jail yard; neither are there any lavatory conveniences.

As we have held six persons charged with murder and two with attempted murder during the last year, owing to these crimes having been committed in this district, you can readily understand the tax on the men stationed here.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

J. W. KEMPSTON, Corporal.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

The following is the report of Sergeant Nicholls, in charge of Norway House sub-district.

NORWAY HOUSE, MANITOBA,
September 22, 1913.

To the District Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward the following annual report of this sub-district for the year ending September 30, 1913.

GENERAL STATE OF THE DISTRICT.

This is, as you are aware, not a farming country and the only cultivation is that of a few gardens, principally by white people. The Indian, as a rule, is not a tiller of the soil.

A small amount of building is going on at present; the contractors are putting in a concrete foundation for a new hospital and the excavation is made for a new boarding school in connection with the Methodist mission. Work on both these buildings will be in full swing in the spring.

In my last report I mentioned that Roman Catholics were going to build extensively here; for some reason the grant has been transferred to Cross lake, where they will commence building operations in the spring. The removal of the Roman Catholic mission from here will be a great loss and the Indians and white people alike will greatly miss the four sisters connected with this mission who are untiring in their efforts in cases of sickness, irrespective of religion.

The immigration into this district is nil and the population, a moving one, depends on the number of surveys in the country for its numbers.

With the exception of the employees of the Hudson's Bay Company, missionaries, Government officials and a few traders, the population is all Indians and Half-breeds.

RAILWAY AND TELEPHONE CONSTRUCTION.

The only railway construction going on is that of the Hudson Bay Railway which will pass about to the west and north of Norway House; the progress of this construction will be reported upon by the division following it. I have no positive knowledge on the matter.

Telephone lines we have none, and none are projected.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

Being a bush country we are not bothered in this respect and we have had no bush fires this season compared with last; this may be accounted for by the heavy continual rains we have had all summer and the efficient system of the Forestry Department of incessant patrols along the routes to the coast and outlying settlements.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

We have had no calls in this respect, but on application of the Indian Agent a constable accompanied the treaty party this past summer, and visited every reserve in the district.

INDIANS.

There are seven reserves in this sub-district and, as a whole, the natives are in good circumstances; last season was an exceedingly good one as regards the fur catch and this past summer they have been demanding and getting exorbitant wages from surveyors compelled to hire them as canoe men and guides, and guarantee them cash as they will take no orders on a trader. About two years more and I think their good times will be over as most of the railway supplies will be going in from the coast. They will find it very hard to come back to their former scale of wages.

From a health point of view, tuberculosis seems to be their trouble, and a lot of this may be put down to inter-marriage which is causing great deterioration among them.

The following statement shows the increase and decrease on the different reserves since last year:—

	1912.	1913.	Increase.	Decrease.
Norway House	738	746	8
Cross Lake	512	533	21
Split Lake	326	349	14
Nelson House	430	420		10
Oxford House	300	332	32
God's Lake	301	299		2
Island Lake	491	489		2

On the whole they are law-abiding and give little trouble. I have no convictions to record against the Indian Act.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

The district is perfectly healthy, no disease of any kind having been brought to my notice for the year.

CRIME.

The district is practically free from crime. Two cases of assault have been reported and the offenders brought before the Indian Agent and punished.

One case under the provincial statutes has occurred at Norway House, viz., that of John Peter, an Indian, for 'deserting employment.' This man was hired by the Hudson Bay Railway transport officer to go north and work on one of their survey parties. His fare was paid from West Selkirk and he was to start work on arrival at Norway House. After holding a canoe up for four days the rest of the party were sent north. An information was laid before M. G. Hamilton, P.M., under chap. 96, sec. 9 of the statutes of Manitoba. A summons was issued and served and the defendant was fined $20 and costs or 30 days. Fine and costs were paid.

There are no serious cases on hand or awaiting trial.

REPAIRS TO BUILDINGS.

This detachment is the property of the Hudson's Bay Co. and needs painting and new porches very badly. We have been promised the porches for this winter and the painting in the spring.

A new guard-room is in course of erection and is also promised to be completed this fall, with the exception of the painting. A new dock started last April is still in an unfinished condition and has not been touched since open water. The meat and ice-house is complete with the exception of the hanging of the doors.

Split Lake detachment is the police property and is in fair condition. If muddled this fall, it will be warm and comfortable. I would respectfully suggest that lime be sent to Split lake next summer and the house painted. This would greatly improve the appearance of the building, especially inside, as the mud is always falling down.

DOGS.

The dogs of this detachment are in good shape and are a first-class lot; those of Split lake, when last seen by Constable Withers, were also doing well. I have also some good pups which will be fit to go in harness about Christmas. This is the first year that we have had our own summer camp for dogs. They have been well looked after, besides being cheaper.

Taken on the whole, this summer has been the worst as regards the weather that I have seen in this part of the north, the general order being electrical storms, rain and incessant gales of wind. We have had very few pleasant days the whole of the summer.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

TOM NICHOLLS, Sergeant,
In command of Norway House Sub-district.

I have your instructions to open a detachment at Nelson House and Constable Rose will leave Norway House by first dog train to establish at that point.

BUILDINGS.

The majority of Regina District Detachment buildings are rented, and the cost has increased 25 per cent during the year, there being a constant demand for higher rentals. Most of the buildings are very satisfactory. Those owned by us are suitable and have been kept in repair at small cost. The buildings at Wood Mountain are old and should be condemned. A change of location from there is now advisable to a point on the new railroad line passing a few miles to the north.

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

There were several cases of breaches of discipline among members of the Regina District detachments, most of which, I am glad to say, were of a minor nature.

DESERTIONS.

Four desertions occurred from Regina District detachments during the year.

HEALTH.

The health of all members on detachment has been, with a few exceptions, excellent. Any serious cases were brought into hospital at headquarters. There were no deaths during the past year in the district.

HORSES.

Yorkton and Wood Mountain sub-districts were supplied with remounts and the old horses brought into the post. As a whole, the district is well horsed, but next year a fair number, which have done excellent service and are now old, will require to be replaced.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

TRANSPORT, HARNESS AND SADDLERY.

These have been supplied during the year as required and, with the exception of a few saddles which are worn out and will be replaced, all detachments are well provided for.

DOGS.

Only in Norway House sub-district in northern Manitoba do we now use dogs in this district. There we have been breeding our own dogs, and Sergeant Nicholls, who takes great pride in his dogs, has made a success of his breeding. They are the best dogs in the country, and cost less than buying. We have at present 34 dogs in that district. These are used during the winter for our regular patrols and special trips to Fort Churchill.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The district as a whole is fairly well patrolled from our present detachments, but it is very necessary that many detachments be increased in strength. Most of them where we have now only one, should have two men. The transport requisitions for the district have averaged over 300 per month, which means that travelling by train in connection with police work, and the transport of prisoners and lunatics, take up a large part of the time of a constable on detachment, with the result that the proper patrolling of the outlying portions of his district has to be curtailed.

Excellent work has been performed by all ranks during the past year. Particular credit is due to the non-commissioned officers. I was pleased to see the promotion of one of our staff sergeants to commissioned rank.

During the year detective or plain clothes work was taken up as a department and the results have been most successful. The work of Staff Sergeant Dubuque, who is connected with the district office, in this capacity, has been of an exceptionally high order. He is a persistent and thorough investigator.

In my report of last year I mentioned the necessity of having an automobile for use in connection with work from this office. During the past year there were many occasions upon which an automobile would have greatly facilitated efficient police work. I have several times found that I could not hire one and, when possible, the cost is excessive. With the increased train service and the very large number of automobiles in the country, I am now of the opinion that each of our important sub-district headquarters should have a light touring car.

The work of the district office having now become so voluminous, I am of the opinion that, in order to promote greater efficiency, either the district should be divided and another division constituted therein, or a separate criminal branch be instituted.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

G. L. JENNINGS, Inspector,
Commanding Regina District.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

APPENDIX K.

ANNUAL REPORT OF INSPECTOR R. E. TUCKER, COMMANDING 'D' DIVISION MACLEOD.

MACLEOD, October 1, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of 'D' Division for the year ending 30th September, 1913.

GENERAL STATE OF THE DISTRICT.

The past year does not show much change throughout the entire district; last year's crop was not very successful, farmers and business men were not inclined, indeed they had not the money to project many new enterprises. In some localities settlers have had a hard time to hold their own, as last year was the third bad crop they had in succession, but the 1913 crop will probably be the biggest and best that has been reaped for the last few years, and will go a long way towards putting settlers on their feet and giving a much needed fillip to business in the small towns in the district. Taking the district as a whole, acreage remains about the same, in spite of the fact that some localities report a very considerable increase. This is accounted for by the fact that many farmers are summer fallowing 50 per cent of their land, as they have found out that this is the only way to make grain growing pay. Wheat is expected to grade high this year, some people placing the average as high as No. 2. Oats will do well both as to yield and grade, but reliable estimates are hard to obtain. Weather has been ideal this summer, with an unprecedented lack of early frosts, and threshing everywhere was well under way by the middle of September. Hail did considerable damage in certain localities, but this was mostly in the hills, and will not affect the average yield to any extent. I am glad to be able to note that 'wheat mining' is at last beginning to show a decrease, and that farmers in general are realizing the importance of mixed farming, and in particular are discovering the profits to be made out of that homely but useful animal, the hog.

The mining industry has been brisk during the year, and although the mines at Lille, Frank, and Lundbreck, have been shut down, the other mines have fully recovered from the strike in 1911, and have increased their output of coal.

Business in general, and the building trades, have of necessity suffered from the prevailing financial stringency, but the general tone at the time of writing is distinctly better and more hopeful.

CLARESHOLM SUB-DISTRICT.

This sub-district is now served by two lines of railway, the old C. and E. line from Macleod to Calgary, and the new branch from Lethbridge to Aldersyde, where the two lines meet. Our detachments are all situated on these two branches, and the present strength of the force is two corporals and four constables. During my absence from Claresholm, while in temporary command at Macleod, the two N.C.O.s have exercised a general supervision over the whole sub-district.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Granum, the first incorporated town north of Macleod, has a population of about 300, and is reported to have had a fairly good year. One new elevator has been erected, and the town, in common with other communities on this line of railway is supplied with natural gas, which is piped from Bow island, near Medicine Hat.

Claresholm, about fourteen miles north of Granum, and the headquarters of the sub-district, has suffered from the general financial stringency. It has a population of about 750, which is a decrease of roughly 50 persons from last year. The Provincial Government's Experimental Farm has had a very successful season; 286 acres are under crop, and the wheat, oats and barley grown here have done well, both as to yield and grade. Six acres were put in to mixed vegetables, and these have done remarkably well. The stock on this farm is of high quality, the dairy animals being Ayrshires and Shorthorns, while the horses are Clydes. At the end of this month, the first school of agriculture in Canada will be opened in connection with this farm, with an enrolment of 75 pupils. This venture on the part of the Provincial Government is regarded with great interest, and many applications to join the classes have been received from other provinces. The Claresholm Creamery is doing very good business, and shipping most of its product to Calgary.

Stavelly reports a quiet year with but little alteration either in the town or district. The Bar U, west of Stavelly, branded 900 calves this year, not a very good crop, considering the number of cattle on the ranch.

Nanton, the most northerly town in the Macleod district on the C. and E. line, is the logical centre of a large farming and ranching community, but owing to the non-existence of suitable facilities for shipping, stock has hitherto been compelled to watch a great proportion of its rightful trade going to Cayley where there are stockyards. This defect has been remedied, and better business conditions may be looked for. This difference is eloquently explained by a comparison of the shipments of cattle alone for the past year: Nanton shipping only 100 head, while the Cayley yards handled 7,830.

Carmanagay, on the Lethbridge-Aldersyde line, is an incorporated town, with a population of about 450. It is a prosperous little place with a very efficient water system, and a good electric light plant. There are six elevators here with a total capacity of 190,000 bushels. In this district spring wheat is grown in preference to the fall variety, and this year is an exceptionally good crop, the majority of the wheat grading No. 2, with a large quantity of No. 1. The average yield per acre will be about 30 bushels. Oats are not very good, and barley is only fair.

Vulcan is the most progressive village on this line of railway, and now has a population of about 325. The Bank of Commerce has opened a branch this year, and the Bank of Hamilton has built a new block to cope with their business. There are four elevators with a capacity of 155,000 bushels. Two small coal mines are located east of Vulcan, with a total output for the year of 6,100 tons. The crops of wheat and oats are reported as especially good both as to yield and grade. The C.P.R. have opened nineteen ready-made farms between Champion and Ensign, and have also put into operation an experimental farm one mile south of Vulcan.

Barons, with a population of 210, has increased slightly since last year. There are five elevators with a capacity of 200,000 bushels; the Union Bank have erected a new building, and a new post office has been opened for business. Crops are reported as very good, though cut worms have done damage in some parts. Wheat is grading No. 1 or 2, with a heavy yield.

Champion, a slightly larger village than Barons has three elevators, and business men report a good year. Crops are reported as very good indeed.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Kirkcaldy and Ensign are both small places, but the one elevator at each point does a heavy shipping business.

Turning to the strictly grain-producing part of the sub-district, and treating it as a whole, all my detachments report a great improvement on last year, with better grade and better production per acre. Wheat is expected to average 25 to 30 bushels per acre, with an average grade of No. 2. Oats will average about 60 bushels per acre, but I have not been able to secure any definite estimate of probable grade. This fortunate circumstance is due to the lack of early frosts, and the ideal weather, which enabled harvesting to be started two or three weeks earlier than usual. Threshing was well under way by the middle of September.

The shipments of the 1912 crop from points in the Claresholm sub-district were as follows:—

	Wheat.	Oats.	Barley.	Flax.
Claresholm	617,837	160,008	17,056
Granum	385,860
Woodhouse	298,400	11,800
Stavely	440,000	220,000
Parkland	218,000
Nanton	268,030	536,050	10,000
Cayley	126,500	285,000	11,900
Carmangay	925,946	21,156	5,278	5,129
Vulcan	584,551	350,546	5,625	16,930
Barons	500,370	82,300	3,000	8,000
Champion	664,880	109,270
Noble	173,478	54,034		54,552
Kirkcaldy	137,000	28,000
Ensign	132,404	54,715
Total	5,473,196	1,752,879	52,859	84,611

PINCHER CREEK SUB-DISTRICT.

This sub-district is, in contradistinction to the rest of the Macleod command, more essentially a mining community, and with that fact, there is the axiomatic consequence of a heavier percentage of crime than the rest of the district put together. The urban population alone is estimated by Inspector Junget at slightly over 10,000, with the foreign element largely predominating. This heterogeneous mixture of races is policed by one inspector, two corporals, and seven constables, a proportion of one per thousand. Crops this year have been fair, although a great diversity in yield is noticeable in the various parts of the district; still it is estimated that the average yield of wheat will be about 25 bushels, and oats from 40 to 50 bushels per acre.

The total shipments of grain and hay from this district during the year are as follows:—

Wheat, about 250,000 bushels.

Oats, about 35,000 bushels.

Hay, about 16,000 tons.

In regard to stock, not much shipping has been done, though cattle are reported as better than for years past. Good beef steers fetch $85 to $90 each.

Pincher Creek.—The town itself has felt the financial strain of the year severely: it suffers from the fact that it is two and a half miles from a line of railway, a fact which always militates adversely against any community. Rumours of railway construction have, as usual, been floating around, but nothing short of a line in actual unoccupied territory, which contain within their borders, the finest farming land in Alberta, naturally has seriously hampered the district tributary to the old town of Macleod in achieving its full destiny, nor will Macleod ever fully realize the dreams of her inhabitants, until, probably in the very distant future, these lands are thrown open for settlement. In spite of these drawbacks, the farming possibilities of this district are widely and favourably known. The only town in the sub-district is Macleod, which, like all other towns and cities in the west, has not progressed so rapidly this year as in previous years. Considerable building has been going on; civic improvements have been steadily increasing, and the town can boast of having one of the most modern and up to date filtration plants in the Dominion of Canada, and the only one in the province of Alberta. This plant cost the town $60,000, and has a capacity of six million gallons per diem. The municipality are also erecting a sewerage disposal plant at a cost of $50,000. The streets, always naturally well drained, are being put in splendid shape, and the town has a neat, clean, and healthy appearance. Conditions among the farmers on the whole are very good; crops have turned out well, but the prices are not good. Mixed farming has taken a great hold, and a surprising number of pure-bred stock of all kinds have been brought in during the past year.

Shipments from the elevators in the Macleod district were as follows:—

	Wheat.	Oats.	Barley.	Flax.
Macleod.....	600,000	50,000	10,000	20,000
Pearce.....	100,000	20,000	5,000
Brocket.....	85,000	50,000	10,000
Total.....	785,000	120,000	25,000	20,000

CRIME.

In this connection I beg to invite your attention to the decrease of crime in this district as a whole. The total number of cases entered last year were 1,287, and this year the total is 1,216, a decrease of 71.

Taking the serious cases of offences against the person, last year we had three murder charges as against one for this year. Last year we had no cases of attempted murder, but this year we have two cases. Taking the whole of offences against the person, last year we had a total of 271 cases, and this year there are 263. Of the lesser offences under this heading, last year there were 151 cases of common assault as against 135 this year.

Under the heading of offences against the property, we have a decrease of 15 cases; last year 182 were entered and this year 167. Of theft generally there is a decrease of 12 cases. Of the more serious offences of this nature I regret to report an increase. Last year we had 5 cases of horse stealing as against 9 for this year, and we have also this year 11 cases of cattle stealing. Of house breaking and burglary last year we had 5 cases entered and this year there are 5 cases. There is a decrease this year of 6 cases of forgery, and a decrease of 8 cases of false pretences. There is an increase of 3 cases of receiving stolen property. Mischief and wilful damage this year show an increase of 8 cases. Offences against public order show an increase of 2. The recent amendments to the Criminal Code relating to the sale and the carrying of firearms will no doubt have a good effect and in future we shall probably have fewer cases where firearms are involved.

Under the head of religion and morals there is a decrease of 117 cases of vagrancy and 56 cases of common drunks. The offence of causing disturbances, swearing, &c.,

shows an increase of 24. There is also a slight increase of cases over last year under the heading of this part.

I think the enormous decrease of common drunks and vagrants is due to the exceptionally fine weather and the bountiful crops. Our chief offenders in these cases are, as a rule, the outsiders who are imported as harvesters, and I regret to report, in many cases, are a bad lot. Up to the present time these people have been working steadily, and have not had time to loaf around the small towns, spending their money on liquor, with the inevitable result of arrest for drunkenness, or having spent everything, being arrested as vagrants.

Under the Indian Act there is a decrease of 31 cases on the whole. Of supplying liquor to Indians a decrease of 11 cases. Of Indians intoxicated an increase of one case. Of intoxicated on reserve a decrease of 26 cases. Of trespassing on reserves, liquor in possession on reserve, and gambling on reserve, there has been a slight increase on last year.

Under the Fisheries Act there has been a decrease of 11 cases. Offences against the Mining Act show an increase of 3 cases. The Opium Act shows an increase of 8 cases.

Taking the statutes of Alberta as a whole, we have had an increase of 112 cases entered. The Masters and Servants Act shows an increase of 48 cases; the Game Act an increase of 17 cases; Prairie Fires Act a decrease of 9 cases; Liquor License Act an increase of 1; Insanity Act, 1; Estray Animals Act, 3; Public Health, an increase of 12; Noxious Weeds an increase of 10. Offences of other natures against the Provincial Acts are about the same as last year.

The foregoing will serve to show you the comparison of the crime between last year and this, and I feel sure it will be gratifying to you to note the decrease under so many headings. In dealing with matters of this nature, one must remember that the great majority of our settlers are from other countries, and are in many cases unfamiliar with our laws and language. I have no doubt that this alone causes more or less crime. Again, one cannot lose sight of the fact that there are a great many cases of a wilful and premeditated nature which cannot be too severely dealt with by the courts, if law and order is to be maintained.

I also regret to state that sometimes the existence of the force is apparently forgotten by members of the public who have suffered loss or damage through the criminal actions of others. I have in my mind two cases which occurred a month or two ago, when no complaint was made until these offences had been reported in the public press, and even then the police had to go and ask the victims what truth there was in it, some three weeks after the offences had been committed. Unless the force has the active sympathy and co-operation of the public at large, our efforts for the prevention and repression of crime are greatly impeded.

I submit statistics of cases entered during the past year, and summaries of the more important offences dealt with during the same period.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS AND SUICIDES.

The following are the statistics of accidental deaths and suicides occurring in the Macleod district, and shown by sub-districts:—

District.	Accidental Deaths.	Suicides.
Claresholm.....	9	3
Pincher Creek.....	12	1

The majority of these accidental deaths were the natural consequences of exposure in dangerous work in mines and on the railway, but I have to draw particular attention to the deaths by asphyxiation of four men in the reducing plant of the Natural Gas Co. near Nanton on the 11th March last, and quote from a letter received by Supt. Primrose from the coroner, Dr. H. G. Nyblett, M.D.:—

‘It was reported to Constable Moorhead that some men were suffocating in the high pressure station and he immediately rode over.

‘There was a disconnected 4-inch pipe with a pressure of 125 pounds to the inch in the building, and Constable Moorhead could see one of the bodies moving, so he thought there was life. He placed his hat over his mouth and went in; on getting near the bodies, the jet of gas struck him and blew him to the other side of the building; there he groped for the door, but was too nearly unconscious to find it. Another man who had come up, saw him and was able to reach in and pull Moorhead out. When he recovered consciousness he found a bar and pried off some of the corrugated iron nearer the bodies.

'He then crawled in through the hole with the other man holding his legs and pulled out one of the bodies, he then went in again and got another; he was so weak and exhausted by this time, that he had not the strength to pull the third out, but crawled in and tied a rope to it, and after it was pulled out, did the same with the fourth.

'Unless one was actually there it would be very difficult to realize just how plucky this act was. The pressure of the escaping gas was so great that the caps of the men were held up against the roof of the building, and the poisoning by this gas in large quantities is instantaneous.'

Constable Moorhead was promoted to the rank of corporal for 'conspicuous bravery' received a grant from the fine fund and, on the 23rd May, was presented with the bronze medal of the Royal Canadian Humane Association, by His Honour Judge McNeill at a full dress parade of the division.

Fritz Eberts, murder.—This case is one of those unfinished at the end of last year. The accused had been sentenced to be hanged at Macleod on the 1st June, 1912, for the murder of Constable G. E. Willmetts in April of 1908. He was reprieved until the 15th July, 1912, and again reprieved until November 4, pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada. The appeal was heard at Ottawa in October, 1912, and dismissed. On October 29, 1912, a telegram was received at Macleod from the Minister of Justice, commuting the death sentence to one of imprisonment for life.

Mathias Jasbec, murder.—The charge against this man, interwoven with that for which Fritz Eberts was convicted, was not heard until the 12th October, 1912, when the accused appeared before His Lordship Chief Justice Harvey at Macleod. The Crown withdrew the charge of murder and preferred a charge of attempted burglary at the C.P.R. freight sheds at Frank on the night of April 11, 1908. Accused pleaded 'guilty,' and sentence reserved. On the 17th October, 1912, accused appeared for sentence, and the Chief Justice stated that as Jasbec had rendered material assistance to the Crown in the case of Rex vs. Eberts, and had already been in custody for nearly a year, he would release him on suspended sentence on his personal bond of $1,000 to be of good behaviour for the term of two years.

Thomas Marsh, perjury.—This was a case from last year in which accused, whilst giving evidence in the preliminary hearing of Rex vs. Ross, was alleged to have committed perjury on four different occasions. The accused appeared from remand before the Supreme Court at Macleod in October, 1912, was found guilty on two charges and not guilty on the balance. A sentence of six months' imprisonment was imposed by Chief Justice Harvey.

Harold Vroom, theft of wheat.—This was a case shown last year as awaiting trial, and was disposed of at the Supreme Court Assizes in October last before the Chief Justice and a jury. Accused was found 'guilty,' and released on suspended sentence.

Jack Eddy, receiving stolen property.—This is another case awaiting final disposal at the close of last year. Accused appeared before the Supreme Court at Macleod and was found 'not guilty.'

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Morley Shennett and D. J. Cyr, theft, three charges.—Another case held over last year to the Supreme Court Assizes in October. The accused had jointly stolen and disposed of produce owned by the Southern Alberta Hay Growers Co.; Cyr was found 'guilty' and released on suspended sentence, while Shennett pleaded 'guilty' to both the charges against him and received the same punishment.

T. E. Egan, forgery and uttering, false pretences.—This case was also awaiting trial at the end of last year. The accused appeared before His Lordship Chief Justice Harvey and a jury on the 10th and 11th October, 1912. The jury disagreed on the first charge, that of forgery; returned a verdict of guilty on the charge of uttering the document which accused had been charged with forging, and His Lordship heard the false pretences charge without a jury, found accused guilty, and released him on suspended sentence.

J. Civitarese, attempted rape.—This was shown on last year's report as awaiting trial. At the Supreme Court sessions in October last the Crown entered a nolle prosequi and the accused was discharged.

H. Bouthillier and C. H. Bruneau, cattle stealing.—On October 23, 1912, James Russell, rancher near Lundbreck reported to the police that he had missed eight head of cattle from his ranch between the 8th and 22nd of that month. Investigations were at once commenced and sufficient information was obtained to warrant the arrest of Bruneau, and on the 27th, Bouthillier was arrested after being in hiding for some days. Bruneau, on being arraigned, made a complete confession and implicated Bouthillier. From the evidence given at the preliminary hearing, Bruneau was in the employ of Bouthillier, who was in the butcher business and, at certain times at night, both would go out and steal cattle, and later on, butcher them and dispose of the meat in the locality.

On the 29th November, 1912, both accused appeared in the District Court at Macleod, before His Honour Judge J. L. Crawford, and pleaded 'guilty,' and on December 7, Bouthillier was sentenced to three years in the Alberta penitentiary, and Bruneau to one year in the Lethbridge provincial jail.

J. S. MacDonald, theft of post letter bags, two charges.—On November 20, 1912, the Assistant Post Office Inspector, reported that on November 1, 1912, a registered package containing eighteen registered letters to the value of $900, and in transit through the Macleod post office to Calgary, was missing. Also that on November 8, 1912, a registered bag containing post office supplies, stamps, etc., consigned to Burdette post office, through the Macleod post office, had also disappeared. Investigations were started, and on the 29th November, 1912, enough information had been secured to warrant obtaining a search warrant for the accused's room. Accused was a friend of the assistant postmaster, and had been in the habit of going to the post office with him of a night. On November 30, 1912, the search warrant was executed and $99 worth of stamps was found concealed in a shirt in accused's trunk. Information was further secured that accused had been spending money quite freely. Accused was at once arrested. The preliminary hearing occupied four days, and the accused was committed for trial on both charges. His trial commenced on the 9th January, 1913, and lasted three days, before His Honour Judge J. L. Crawford, accused pleading 'not guilty.' Twenty-three witnesses were called by the Crown, the defence offering no evidence. His Honour found accused 'guilty' on both charges and strongly commented on the loose way in which the post office at Macleod was operated. It further transpired that the accused had served four years for a similar offence in Dorchester penitentiary. The accused was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Alberta penitentiary.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Harry Mularski, unlawfully wounding.—This was a case from Bellevue, and occurred on February 17 last, when one Pete Teresko was stabbed. From the evidence produced, accused was a boarder in the same shack as Teresko. Teresko, one evening, on returning to the shack, was going in at the door, when accused refused to make way for him. Teresko then pushed Mularski, who fell down. After getting up, he went to his room, and returning, stabbed Teresko in five different places with a knife.

Accused appeared in the District Court at Macleod on the 13th March, before His Honour Judge Crawford, pleading 'not guilty.' Six witnesses were heard for the Crown, and His Honour found accused 'guilty,' and passed the following remarks: 'I should so like to punish men who use knives and firearms, that whether drunk or sober they will think twice before using a gun or knife; the Pass is the only place in my district where guns or knives are used.' His Honour imposed a sentence of 18 months hard labour in the Lethbridge provincial jail.

Harold Hanson and Allan Hamilton, cattle stealing.—On the 28th January, 1913, information was received that cattle stealing was going on in the vicinity of the Porcupine hills. On investigation it was learned that on the 16th of that month, Hanson, who was accompanied by Hamilton, had sold one steer, the property of John Nelson, of Beaver Creek, to I. F. Pickett, who resides on the Middle Fork, and who carries on a butcher business. On Hanson being arrested, he implicated Hamilton, who was also arrested.

On the 11th February, 1913, Hanson appeared in the District Court before His Honour Judge Crawford, pleaded 'guilty' and was remanded for sentence. On the 3rd March, Hamilton was brought up for trial and pleaded 'not guilty.' After hearing the evidence His Honour reserved decision, and on the 4th March found Hamilton 'guilty' and sentenced him to one year in the Lethbridge jail. Hanson was, on the same date, sentenced to two years in the Alberta penitentiary.

George Hamilton, cattle stealing and horse stealing, two charges.—Whilst investigating the previous case, it was learnt that on December 13, 1912, I. F. Pickett had purchased three head of cattle from George Hamilton; and these were subsequently found to be the property of Maunsell Brothers, of Macleod. Accused was arrested and committed for trial. It so happened (unfortunately for accused) that when arrested on this charge, he was riding a horse, the property of J. C. Allison, of Blairmore, and an information was laid against him for the theft of this animal. On the 4th March, he appeared before His Honour Judge Crawford, pleaded 'guilty' to both charges, and was sentenced to three years in the Alberta penitentiary.

B. Ozust, Oryll Ozust, J. Mickers, unlawfully wounding, assault and resisting and obstructing peace officers.—About 1 a.m. of January 20, 1913, a foreigner named Mike Deputat ran into the Bellevue hotel, and told a number of men who were sitting there 'that the man over at the shack was killing his sister (Duputat's) and that he thought she was dead.' A number of the men went over to Blazy Ozust's shack, amongst them Thomas Wright, who asked to see the woman. Blazy Ozust picked up a chair and threw it at Wright, and then went into the shack, and came out with a shot-gun in his hands and told the men to look out. Then the boy J. Mickers came out with a .22 rifle in his hand. Ozust said to the boy 'shoot 'em,' and as the men were running away, Wright was shot in the thigh. Meantime, the woman in the case, Julia Ozust, had complained to the police of being assaulted by her husband. Constable Bashford at once went up town and met the party bringing back Wright. The constable went to the hospital with Wright, and having obtained a statement of what had occurred, and finding that Wright had been hit with a .22 bullet, went back to the shack, accompanied by some of the men, and meeting Ozust at the door of the shack, called him out, telling him to come to the barracks. Ozust had a shot-gun in his hands, and putting it up against Constable Bashford said, 'get out of here. I'll shoot you.' Constable Bashford then reported the condition of affairs to Corporal Wilson (who was sick in bed and off duty), who told him to get the man who shot Wright, as it was not known how badly Wright was injured. Bashford again returned to the shack with his supporters, and on arrival there Cyril Ozust came out with a .22 rifle, and said he would blow the whole lot up if they did not go away. Constable Bashford then called on Ozust three times to throw his hands up, he refused and made a dive for the shack, and was hit in the calf of the leg by a snapshot from Constable Bashford's revolver. The shack was then rushed, and Blazy Ozust arrested. Constable Bashford then tried to persuade him to come quietly, and I think the ensuing scene is best described by a quotation from the crime report: 'Constable Bashford tried to persuade Blazy Ozust to come out, but he would not come, he hung on to the bed. Mrs. Ozust (who had returned) started throwing flower pots at Bashford, she hit one of the others with a looking glass, and knocked the glass out of the lantern. After a struggle they got him outside; she fired pots and pans at them all the time, and followed them to the barracks shouting at them.' Later it was learned that the boy Mickers had fired at Wright on the orders of Blazy Ozust. All the Ozusts were drunk. Cyryll Ozust was conveyed to the hospital and Mickers was arrested. Blazy Ozust was summarily tried on a charge of assaulting his wife, and sentenced to two months in the Macleod guard-room. On the 7th February Joe Mickers was tried before His Honour Judge Crawford on the charge of unlawfully wounding Thomas Wright, and pleaded 'not guilty.' The Crown did not press the charge as the accused was only thirteen years of age, but His Honour ordered the boy to be turned over to the Childrens' Aid Society for a term of four years. Blazy Ozust had appeared before His Honour two days before on charge of resisting a peace officer, and wounding Thomas Wright, and had pleaded 'not guilty.' On the 7th he was found 'guilty' and sentenced to two years in the Alberta penitentiary on each charge, concurrently.

On the 14th March, Cyryll Ozust appeared at the District Court before His Honour Judge Crawford, and pleaded 'not guilty.' His Honour after hearing the evidence, stated that he was of the opinion that the accused had already been punished enough, he could not, however, find him 'guilty' nor could he find him 'not guilty,' and would order that he be discharged forthwith.

Charles Lefley, incest.—This was a case from Coleman, and was of a sordid character. The accused was charged with having sexual intercourse with his daughter, Cicely Lefley. Accused appeared in the District Court at Macleod on the 31st March, 1913, and pleaded "not guilty." After hearing the evidence, His Honour found accused 'guilty' and stated that it was the worst case that had ever come before him. He imposed a sentence of seven years in the Alberta penitentiary, with ten lashes to be administered on entrance, subject to the prison surgeon's directions.

Edwin Harvey, attempted murder.—On March 26, 1913, a telephone message was received at Pincher Creek from Yarrow, stating that John McRae had been shot by Edwin Harvey. The message was received at 7.45 p.m., and Constable Hancock left immediately, and owing to the appalling condition of the trails, and a fierce storm that was raging at the time, took until 3 a.m. the following morning to cover 20 miles. He arrested Harvey at about 6 a.m. that morning. McRae was taken to the Pincher Creek hospital, where he made a rapid recovery and was discharged on the 3rd April. At the preliminary hearing McRae swore that on the 26th March, 1913, he met accused on the road, and accused said he had a grievance against him over the renting of some hay land. Accused had a shot-gun in his hand and ordered McRae to stop. After a few minutes of conversation accused told McRae to make good use of his time and began to curse him. Accused then raised the shot-gun and pointed it at McRae, and as he did so, McRae jumped from his wagon and fell on the ground. Accused fired and the pellets struck McRae on the side of the head. McRae got up and started to run, and when about 100 yards off, accused fired again. On examination at the hospital McRae was found to have been struck by no less than 65 pellets. McRae's hired man, who was driving a team behind McRae saw the whole thing. On the 17th May, accused appeared before His Lordship Mr. Justice C. A. Stuart, and elected to be tried by His Lordship alone, pleading 'not guilty.' His Lordship found accused 'guilty,' remarking that the evidence clearly showed intention to kill. He passed a sentence of seven years in the Alberta penitentiary.

Auguste Pacaud, horse stealing.—On the 25th June, 1913, T. Mackintosh of the Alberta Livery, Macleod, complained that two days previous the above man had hired a saddle horse, saddle and bridle from him, saying that he only wanted it for one hour, and up to that time had not returned. Mackintosh also stated that he had learned that accused had attempted to trade the animal at a place about 18 miles south of Macleod on the night of the 23rd. Information was laid and a warrant issued. Accused was traced after a lot of hard riding, to Babb, Montana, where he was working for a half-breed family. Accused came across the boundary line to Canada, and was arrested, the stolen property being turned over at the same time. On the 21st July, accused appeared at the District Court at Macleod before His Honour Judge McNeill and pleaded 'not guilty.' After hearing all the evidence His Honour stated that there was no doubt in his mind of the guilt of accused, and he imposed a sentence of five years in the Alberta penitentiary.

Wasyl Mudri, murder.—This is a case from Passburg. Accused is charged that on or about the 27th day of April, 1913, he did murder one, Ignace Kalzek. On the 20th May, 1913, accused appeared for preliminary hearing before T. S. Belcher, J.P., and was committed for trial. This case will be disposed of at the next sittings of the Supreme Court in October, 1913.

Pete Salvadore, attempted murder.—This is a case from Police Flats, near Burmis. Accused is charged that on June 15, 1913, he did attempt to murder one, Bill Musteca. On the 18th June, 1913, accused appeared before P. W. Pennefather, J.P., for preliminary hearing and was committed for trial. This case will also be disposed of in October.

Fish Eater, Peigan Indian, horse stealing.—This is a case from the Peigan reserve in which accused is charged that on June 7, 1913, he did steal five head of horses, the property of W. J. Adams, of Macleod. On July 29, 1913, accused was committed for trial, and comes up for trial in October.

Foster B. Moore, horse stealing.—This case is interwoven with the Fish Eater case, and accused is charged with stealing the same five head of horses. Accused is remanded for trial at the Supreme Court in October next.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

Cases under this ordinance show a decrease from thirteen in last year to nine in this; it may be expected that, with the increasing territory under cultivation, this cause of trouble will soon be a thing of the past.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

We have supplied orderlies for the sittings of the Supreme and District Courts, and also at all police courts. Whenever necessary, the coroner has been attended on.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Escorts have been provided for all prisoners, whether at hard labour, or on transfer to other points. We have communicated with the immigration officials in all cases requiring deportation. Ticket-of-leave convicts have been looked after, and their monthly reports forwarded to the Chief Commissioner of Dominion Police at Ottawa. During the past twelve months, the Customs Department have relieved us of the duties formerly undertaken by the detachment at Twin Lakes, and now have a collector of their own at that point.

In Supt. Primrose's last report he commented upon the congestion in the guard-room, consequent upon the overfilling of the provincial jail at Lethbridge. The report of the provost shows that there has been a slight decrease in numbers, but the guard-room building has outlived its usefulness, is now totally inadequate for the purpose for which it is used, and it is cruelty to confine a man there. I attach a detailed report from the provost, showing the number and class of prisoners confined in the guard-room since October 1, 1912.

The Officer Commanding
'D' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Macleod.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of 'D' Division guard-room for the year ending September 30, 1913.

Thirty-two prisoners were confined in the cells at the beginning of this year, twenty-eight being sentenced to terms of imprisonment, and four awaiting trial.

During the year, 330 prisoners were admitted, making a total of 362 prisoners confined during the year.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Owing to the over-crowded state of accommodation in the provincial jail at Lethbridge, seventy prisoners were transferred from that institution to this guard-room, as follows:—

9	prisoners,	November 28, 1912.
15	"	December 28, 1912.
16	"	February 13, 1913.
20	"	August 2, 1913.
10	"	September 10, 1913.

The health of the prisoners confined in the guard-room has been very good, with the exception of the ordinary trivial complaints.

A sufficient quantity of prison clothing of good quality has been supplied. Prison discipline has been strictly enforced, and the conduct of the prisoners, taken as a whole, has been satisfactory. There were a few prisoners transferred from the provincial jail who were rather troublesome, being what I may call old jail birds; the punishment allowed by the rules and regulations for common jails in Canada, has practically no effect on such prisoners; the only punishment this kind fear is corporal punishment.

New hardwood flooring has been laid in the corridors, dining and bath-rooms, and the flooring in several cells have been relaid.

The guard-room is entirely inadequate for the number of prisoners confined here. I have had as many as 56 prisoners here with only 23 cells at my disposal. An addition to the guard-room would be desirable.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. LINBLAD, Corporal,
Provost.

INDIAN DEPARTMENT AND STATE OF INDIANS.

The past year on both reserves has been quiet, and the Indians have had a reasonably successful harvest. Our scouts at Stand Off have been changing off as usual, more frequently than I care for, but it is useless to try and hold them if they wish to go. In most instances their reason is that they wish to look after their land.

Liquor again has been the most fruitful source of trouble, and I have to report the death of an Indian and his wife from drinking Florida water, which was supplied them in Cardston. The case was pushed, and the party charged with the sale was convicted summarily. The case was appealed, and in spite of the weight of Indian evidence, the conviction was quashed. The Bloods were and still are incensed over this case, and I think that this was largely the reason why they refused to dispose of a small part of their reserve to the municipality of Cardston for the purposes of a race-course during the summer.

A great deal of interest has been caused this summer by reason of the suggestion, and subsequent application to the Federal Government for the cancellation of the grazing leases on the Indian reserves, which have hitherto been held by large stock firms, and for permission to be granted to small ranchers to run their stock there instead. As this question is still sub-judice, it would not be proper for me to comment further thereon.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S VISIT.

His Royal Highness the Governor General visited Macleod on the 9th October, 1912, during his tour of the Dominion, the escort being found by this division. It had originally been arranged for the 23rd Alberta Rangers to perform this duty, but at noon on the 7th October I was notified by the Mayor of Macleod that this arrangement had fallen through. I at once wired you for instructions, and at 3.30 p.m. of the 8th received orders to furnish the escorts. The weather on that day was vile, a sleety snow falling, with a bitter wind, but in spite of these inconveniences all the men required from detachments came through to Macleod, and the escort was ready for duty at the hour appointed.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

His Royal Highness and his party stayed at Macleod for the greater part of the day, and before dismissing the escort at the conclusion of their duties, His Royal Highness graciously complimented Inspector Pennefather on the smart appearance of his escort. His Royal Highness in conversation with myself, displayed great interest in the force, making minute inquiries regarding everything concerning the division.

DISTRIBUTION OF STRENGTH.

The strength of the district is exactly what it was a year ago, and I can only refer to Superintendent Primrose's report of last year: the criminal work is increasing and our strength stationary.

I consider it of importance that an officer be stationed in the Cardston sub-district, as the handling of it from Macleod is not satisfactory. The great difficulty heretofore, in this regard, has been to find suitable quarters at Cardston for an officer. The only way to overcome this would be to build ourselves.

I think that the headquarters of the Pincher Creek sub-district should be moved into the Pass, where the bulk of the work is. The officer in command is now stationed at Pincher Creek, and this means that he is away from his home most of the time. To station him in the Pass, close to his work, would add to the efficiency of the command and to his own comfort.

DRILL TRAINING AND MUSKETRY.

This spring the whole division received a short course of physical exercises, mounted and dismounted drills. Lectures on law and police duties were also given. We still lack a rifle range, which is a great pity. Last August the annual revolver practice was carried out; the results were not quite so good as last year, eight men qualifying for the 'crossed revolvers' as against eleven men last year.

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

I regret to have to refer to a disgraceful fracas which recently occurred at the C.P.R. depot here, in which two constables of this division were guilty of fighting with two civilians. These two men were fined, sentenced to long terms of imprisonment, and recommended to be dismissed from the force. In commenting on this I am glad to say that in my thirty years' service, I have never had to deal with a similar case.

HEALTH.

The health of the division during the past year has, on the whole, been good. I regret to have to report the death of Reg. No. 2776 Constable A. M. Fyfe, who died on the 4th October, 1913, after a long illness, the immediate cause of death being certified as paralysis. I regret the loss of this man very much; he was a very fine type and had the respect and affection of all ranks.

Reg. No. 5333 Constable-Russell, R., suffered what might have easily been a fatal accident, on the 1st September last, when his own pony, which he was riding bareback, reared up and came straight over on top of him. I am glad to say that he has made a good recovery, and will soon be fit for duty.

Since the connecting of the barracks with the municipal sewerage system, the sanitary condition has been much improved.

HORSES.

Our strength in horses remains the same as last year. Eight horses have been taken on the strength during the past twelve months, seven have been cast and sold at an average figure of $77. and one died of blood poisoning. One colt born in 1912, died from pneumonia in February last; this animal had not been taken on the strength at the time it died. Five horses should be cast. The total mileage for the year by both saddle and team horses reaches the figure of 187,636 miles; striking an average of 66 horses on the strength, this gives us an average per horse of 2,843 miles.

TRANSPORT AND HARNESS.

Our transport and harness are in good shape, any repairs which were required being attended to at once.

CANTEEN.

Our canteen at Macleod does but a small business, there is never much cash in hand, but still it owns all its stock. The piano which was put in some years ago is quite popular amongst those who play at all.

READING ROOM.

The stock of books in the library has been added to from time to time from the current literature placed on the market. The illustrated and daily papers have been regularly received.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

STORES.

Occasionally during the year, there have been shortage of kit in the Q. M. store, but these have now been replenished. While on this subject I would like to invite your consideration to the subject of issuing a more suitable garment than the field jacket. While this jacket is quite suitable for stable and fatigue work, it gets shabby very quickly, the colour fades, and the men have to be constantly purchasing them on re-payment. I would suggest that the issue of a khaki serge jacket, for drill parade and patrol, keeping the present field jacket for fatigue work, would meet the requirements of the case.

The general and other stores supplied, have been of good quality.

BUILDINGS.

The whole of our buildings, including the roofs, will require to be repainted during the coming year, and I would urge the replacing of the present wooden side-walks by some more lasting construction. At present the lumber bill to keep them in repair averages $20 per month.

GENERAL.

Before concluding this report I desire to bring to your notice the able assistance rendered to me whilst in temporary command by the officers, N.C.O.'s and constables of the division, stationed at Macleod. Reg. No. 1974 Sergeant Major Armer, W., Reg. No. 3198 Staff Sergeant Allan, J., Reg. No. 4016 Sergeant Blake, G. E., and Reg. No. 3197 Corporal Lindblad, E. L., have all performed their respective duties most conscientiously, and are worthy of special mention.

Reg. No. 2349, Staff Sergeant Piper, J. S., as Detective Sergeant, as usual has performed his duties most satisfactorily, and I cannot speak too highly of this N.C.O.

The N.C.O.'s and constables stationed on detachment have performed their many duties in a capable manner. Serious cases frequently occur when there is no time for men to report to their sub-district officers for instructions, and I am pleased to record that our N.C.O.'s and men on detachment have been equal to the occasion.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

R. E. TUCKER, Inspector.
For officer commanding 'D' Division, off duty.

APPENDIX L.

SURGEON G. P. BELL, Regina.

REGINA, October 24, 1913.

The Commissioner
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following medical report for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The number of cases treated was 928 which, compared with last year, shows an increase of 286. The average number constantly sick was 18.26 which was more, by 5.57, than last year. The average sick time to each man was 9.65 days, which is more than in 1912, by 2.20 days. The average duration of each case of sickness 7.18 days, was lower than in the previous year by .03 days.

The deaths numbered 3, a reduction of two on the previous year, the causes being from pernicious anæmia, 1; from fracture of base of skull, 1; and gun-shot wound, 1 (homicidal).

General diseases.—Eruptive fevers were represented by 14 cases of measles, 1 of scarlet fever, and 2 of German measles. There were 135 cases of Influenza. Dysentery accounted for 5 cases. Of Malarial fevers there were 3 cases of ague, and Septic diseases furnished 3 cases of septicæmia. Tubercular disease of the lung gave 2 admissions. There were 10 cases of Gonorrhea. Rheumatism furnished 33 cases, and there were 3 cases of Debility. Other general diseases accounted for 2 cases of simple anæmia, and 1 of pernicious anæmia, the latter proving fatal.

Local diseases.—For diseases of the nervous system there were 48 admissions which included one each of locomotor ataxia, insomnia, and mania, 26 of headache, 15 of neuralgia, 2 of nervousness, and 2 of hemiplegia. Diseases of the eye and eyelids were the cause of 10 admissions, chiefly of conjunctivitis. Diseases of other organs of special sense numbered 8, six of which were aural, and two nasal. Diseases of the circulatory system: There were 3 cases, all of varix. Diseases of the respiratory system: There were 77 cases, consisting largely of coughs and colds; there were 2 cases of pneumonia, and 15 of bronchitis. Diseases of the digestive system: There were 232 cases; among these were 73 affections of the mouth and throat, 16 of colic, 7 of appendicitis, 1 of hernia, 81 of diarrhœa, 2 of jaundice, 1 of diabetes, and 6 of hæmorrhoids. Diseases of the lymphatic system furnished 5 cases; all were due to inflammation or suppuration of lymphatic glands. Diseases of the urinary system gave 2 cases, one of cystitis, and one of nephritis. Diseases of the generative system were 12 in number, consisting of 5 cases of orchitis, 5 of varicocele, 1 of phymosis, and 1 of urethral stricture. Diseases of the organs of locomotion: There were 12 cases, namely, myalgia 3, synovitis 5, bursitis 1, ingrowing toe nail 1, internal derangement of knee joint 1, and periostitis 1. Diseases of the connective tissue gave 13 cases, all of abscess. Diseases of the skin accounted for 43 cases, the principal causes being: boils 33 cases, eczema 3, and one each of impetigo and ulcer.

Injuries.—There were 247 cases of injuries, mostly due to wounds, sprains, contusions, and abrasions. There were 3 dislocations, one each of shoulder, knee, and toe, and 4 fractures, 2 of the clavicle, 1 of a finger, and 1 of the base of the skull, the latter proving fatal.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Poisons.—Two cases of ptomaine poisoning are reported.

Invalided.—There were 3 men invalided during the year, the causes being for varicocele 1, for nervousness 1, and for old injury to knee 1.

Surgical operations.—The more serious of these included 2 operations for appendicitis, 1 for hernia, 1 for internal derangement of knee joint, 1 for removal of cyst, 1 for varicocele, and 1 for varicose veins. All recovered.

Recruiting.—Two hundred and eighty-four applicants were accepted, 78 men were re-engaged, and 16 re-engaged after leaving.

Sanitary conditions.—The sanitary conditions of the several posts has been satisfactory except for the overcrowded state of the guard-room with civilian prisoners. No case of enteric fever has been reported during the year, but a slight outbreak of measles occurred at Regina, resulting in eleven cases. There was also one case of scarlet fever which was contracted from a civilian prisoner who was found to be suffering from the disease.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

G. PEARSON BELL,

Surgeon.

APPENDIX M.

VETERINARY SURGEON J. F. BURNETT, REGINA.

REGINA, October 20, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R.N.W.M. Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my report for the year ended September 30, 1913.

During the year I inspected the horses of 'A' Division, Maple Creek; 'C' Division, Battleford; 'D' Division, Macleod; 'E' Division, Calgary; 'F' Division, Prince Albert; and 'K' Division, Lethbridge; at each point I found the general health and condition of the horses satisfactory, the stables clean and comfortable, and the forage supplied of good quality. At the above-mentioned places there is little fault to be found with the shoeing, while at some of the outlying detachments it is anything but satisfactory, and a great deal of the trouble we have with the horses' feet is due to poor work of the blacksmiths.

Accommodation for twenty horses was secured by the erection of a fully modern stable at this post during the past summer, which does away with the necessity of keeping that number through the winter months in the old stable known as No. 5. The new stable has all the necessary conveniences, and is well lighted and ventilated.

Twelve horses were shipped from here to the Yukon last August, and were reported to have arrived at their destination in good order. Special care was exercised in the selection of these horses, and those sent were known to be sound, strong, and rugged, and well fitted to perform the work which will be required of them.

Eighty-five remounts were taken over during the year, all of them being of that stamp best suited for our work.

Special mention might be made of those purchased from Mr. D. J. Wiley, of Maple Creek, all were particularly nice turned horses with plenty of bone, and good feet. Of the lot shown by Mr. Wiley only two or three were rejected, these being horses that had been accidentally injured.

The breeding of these horses is also worth mentioning, they being out of range mares, and by a stallion out of a thoroughbred mare by a standard bred horse. This line of breeding in this instance has produced what I would consider a very high-class army remount, the thoroughbred blood toning down the action of the trotter, while the latter gives the size and intelligence, and I might say without any loss in stamina or the ability to stand hard work.

The following are the names of those from whom horses were purchased.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

APPENDIX N.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS, MACKENZIE RIVER SUB-DISTRICT.

FORT MACPHERSON, February 1, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your information the following report of the Mackenzie River Sub-District:—

Customs.—$214.24 has been collected by me at Herschell island, and I am forwarding same to the Collector of Customs at Dawson. S.S. Belvedere, $34.83; gasoline schooner Elvira, $129.24.

Crime.—There has been none in this district.

Buildings.—The quarters at Herschell island are fairly comfortable, except on very windy days when we burn a lot of extra fuel, as the wind goes right through the outside walls. The walls of the building need papering and reshingling on the outside, and this will be done next summer if we receive the material that was left by Captain C. Stein at Teller, U.S.A. The roof of this building was painted this summer. The storehouse is in good condition, and the whole of the building was painted this summer.

The quarters at Fort Macpherson are a bit more comfortable this winter than last, but it is still a very cold place to live in. The following repairs were done to the quarters by the members of the detachment, with the material supplied by the Hudson's Bay Co.: The partition between the kitchen and the N.C.O.'s room was taken down, and three rooms made out of it, viz., kitchen, N.C.O.'s room and office, and a room for Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson. The mess room was ceiled with lumber, and the walls were lined with paper and calico.

Sergeant Somers got out some logs this summer, and with the help of the members of the detachment built a storehouse, to store our fish in, as the one we had rented was not suitable.

Dogs.—There are five dogs at Fort Macpherson detachment, and they are in good condition, with the exception of old Fox who is very old and nearly blind, and will have to be condemned in the spring.

At Herschell Island detachment there were eight dogs at the start of the winter, and I purchased one more, 'Coffee,' but he was killed by our own dogs during the night on our way here, and I purchased another to replace him, 'Ginger.' Since our arrival here we lost another, 'Cockney,' from spinal meningitis. There are now eight belonging to Herschell Island detachment, and I intend purchasing two more, to complete two teams of five dogs each.

Fish and game.—The fishing at Herschell island was fairly good last year. We caught 3,600 with the gill nets, but could not catch any with the seine net.

On the 4th September I sent Corporal Trickey, Constable Johnson, Interpreter Chikehigalook, and a hired native with the whale boat to put up fish with the seine net. They returned on the 11th September, and reported that they tried along the coast to Kay point, but were unable to catch any fish with the seine net, as the fish were not running thick, and that the net was too heavy for four men to handle. The seine net of ours is far too heavy for our use, although I had four feet cut off the bottom of it this year. Last year we borrowed a light seine net, but were unable to do so this year.

I am requisitioning for a light seine net, also for a seal net.

The natives at the island caught more fish this summer than last, but still have not enough to last them through the winter.

About 350 seal were caught by the natives during the fall, and they still get a few whenever there is any open water around. No deer or sheep have been killed by them this winter.

During the summer the members of Fort Macpherson detachment caught sufficient fish for their dogs, and on the 18th September, Sergeant Somers, Constable Parsons, and Interpreter Johnnie left with the whale boat and canoe to put up fish at Arctic Red river, and returned on the 15th October by dog sled. They managed to put up 3,000 fish, which they cached at the mouth of the Peel, as the river was frozen over. This fish has now nearly all been hauled to the detachment.

The fishing on the Peel by the Indians was very poor owing to low water in the river. It was also poor on the Arctic Red river.

The natives along the Mackenzie also report that their catch of fish was not as good as last year.

The natives and Indians have killed about 70 sheep, but not much of the meat has been brought into the fort. Ptarmigan and rabbits are very plentiful this year.

Fuel.—The coal for Herschell island detachment was left by Captain C. Stein at Teller, U.S.A., but I was able to purchase two tons of coal from the gasoline schooner Elvira, and with what we had on hand will see us through the winter.

The members of the detachment hauled 20 cords of drift wood with the whale boat, and one trip with a small schooner belonging to a native. This wood had been previously gathered and piled by natives hired by us.

There is enough fuel at Fort Macpherson to last them through the winter.

Health.—The health of the men in this district has been excellent.

Mining.—A little prospecting is being done on the Bell river by a party of prospectors from Rampart House.

Natives, Eskimos.—As usual the natives from the Mackenzie river visited Herschell island during the month of August, and in September returned to their winter trapping grounds.

Mr. W. H. Fry, of the Church of England Mission, visited them during the summer, and baptized quite a number of them. He left in the middle of August per sloop Messenger for Coronation gulf, to visit the tribe of Eskimos that live around there and the Copper Mine river.

Over 200 natives were at Fort Macpherson to meet Bishop Stringer, who arrived on the Steamer Mackenzie River, and they left for down the river a few days after the departure of the steamer. Bishop Stringer and the Rev. C. E. Whittaker left for Dawson via Rampart House.

The general health of the natives has been good, and at both detachments they have been supplied with medicine whenever they needed it. Four children were born during the year, and three adults died.

Indians.—Quite a number of the Peel River Indians visited the fort in July, and they left for their hunting grounds shortly after the departure of the steamer.

Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson has attended all the sick people here, and I attach his report.

The fur catch so far has been fairly good. Mink are very plentiful this year.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Stores.—All the stores per the Mackenzie River route were received in good condition, with the exception of the following: 200 pounds flour, 100 pounds rice, and 30 pounds beans, which were badly damaged in transit, and were condemned. I am sending in requisitions for the stores required for this year.

Whalers.—The steam whaler Belvedere (Capt. S. F. Cottle) which wintered at Herschell island last winter, was not able to leave for the whaling grounds until the 15th July, owing to the season being late, and the ice not leaving the bay. She returned on the 6th September, and reported having caught eight whales this summer, making a total catch of 17 for two summers' work. They left again on the 9th September for San Francisco.

The gasoline schooner Elvira (Capt. C. T. Pederson) arrived on the evening of the 2nd August from San Francisco, and left early next morning for the east. She brought supplies from San Francisco for Mr. W. H. Fry. She returned on the evening of the 6th September, and reported having caught five whales. The captain did some trading with the natives and I collected $129.24 duty from him. She left on the 8th for the west.

Capt. C. Stein with gasoline schooner Anna Olga arrived on the 19th August from Seattle; she brought a few supplies for us, but left the bulk of them at Teller, U.S.A.

Mr. S. McIntyre accompanied by Mr. E. Ary with yacht Argo arrived from Flaxman island on the 27th August en route to Banks Land on a prospecting trip, but owing to contrary winds and their boat leaking they were forced to winter at Shingle point.

The two schooners Teddy Bear (Capt. J. Bernard) and Rosie H. (Capt. F. Wolkie) are wintering at Baillie island; they are reported to have caught no whales this season.

The schooner North Star (Capt. M. Anderson) is supposed to be wintering near Baillie island.

Transport.—The canoes at both detachments are in good condition. The whale boat at Herschell island leaks very badly, although I had it repaired this spring. The ships carpenter informed me that her bottom is rotten, and that he could not do any more to it. This boat is over 20 years old, and I do not think she is safe for our use, and I would recommend that a new boat be purchased outside, and sent in this summer. I think it is poor policy buying old boats here, as one cannot tell how old they are.

I would recommend that this detachment be supplied with auxillary power boat of about 5 tons register, and not to draw more than four feet loaded, as then we could haul our own supplies, and patrol to Baillie island. The Fort Macpherson boat needs overhauling in the spring, as she was driven on to a shingle beach during a gale, and a split made near her keel. I attach Sergeant Somers report re this matter. The toboggans at both detachments are in good condition. I would request that two Yukon pattern dog sleds be purchased in Victoria for Herschell Island detachment, and sent in by the Hudson's Bay Co's. steamer, which leaves there this year for Herschell island, as none can be purchased here.

Patrols.—There was the regular patrol from Fort Macpherson to Herschell island in the summer, and a report has been sent in.

Corporal Trickey, H. N., Constable Johnson, W. A., Interpreter Chikchigalook, and hired native, made a patrol in September with whale boat to Kay point, and return. Report attached.

Corporal Trickey, H. N., Constable Bates, G. C., with two dog teams, left on the 25th November on patrol to the No. 3 Police shelter cabin on the western branch of the Mackenzie river to cache dog feed, and returned on the 2nd December. Report attached.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Constable Parsons and Chapman, with whale boat, left on patrol to the mouth of the Mackenzie river to cache dog feed at Nos. 3 and 4 shelter cabins and returned on the 14th September.

Sergeant Somers, Constable Parsons and Interpreter Johnnie, with canoe, left on the 1st August for Trail creek, to finish shelter cabin, and returned on the 11th August. Report attached.

Constables Johnson, Chapman and Interpreter Johnnie, with two dog teams, left Fort Macpherson on the 2nd January on patrol to Trail creek, to cache dog feed, and returned on the 29th January.

I arrived here on the 17th January with the patrol from Herschell island, for which I attach a report.

General.—Both the Hudson's Bay Co. and the Northern Trading Co. have established trading posts about 90 miles below Fort Macpherson, on a small river off the Middle Peel river.

The Hudson's Bay Co. have also established a post at Kittigazooit, at the eastern mouth of the Mackenzie river.

It is reported that the Hudson's Bay Co. are sending in a 300-ton steamer to Herschell island this year, and make their depot there, and from there run a small steamer to connect with the steamer Mackenzie River.

The summer has been a very dry one in the Mackenzie district, and very low water prevailed in the river and creeks. The fall was mild, but November, December, and January have been very cold. The lowest temperature recorded was 57 below zero on January 22 and 23rd.

No further information has been received about Hubert Darrell, who has been missing since December, 1910.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector.

Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-District.

MACKENZIE RIVER SUB-DISTRICT.

FORT MACPHERSON, July 1, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your information the following report of the Mackenzie River Sub-District.

Customs.—I collected the sum of $280.05 duty at Herschell island, made up as follows: Capt. C. Steen, gasoline schooner Anna Olga, $274.83; W. D. Young, $5.25; and am forwarding same to the Collector of Customs at Dawson.

Crime.—Nil.

Fish and Game.—No fish have been caught at Herschell island during the winter. Seal have been very plentiful since the end of March, and about 600 were killed by the natives around the island. During April the natives killed fifty-two deer, but only brought a few sled loads of the meat to the island. White fox were very plentiful on the island and the coast this past winter, and about 475 were caught in the vicinity of the island. Natives killed four polar bear at the island this winter. Considerable fur was caught by the natives in the delta, lynx and mink were the main catch. The Indians have also caught considerable fur, and this year the majority of them are out of the company's debt. The Indians killed about 200 moose, and a number of sheep and caribou during the winter, but very little of the meat reached the fort.

Arms and Accoutrements.—The arms and accoutrements at both detachments are in good condition, with the exception of one Winchester carbine, and one Colts revolver, which are out of order, and I am returning them to headquarters.

Buildings—Herschell Island detachment buildings are in fair condition. The Fort Macpherson detachment buildings are in poor condition, and I do not think they will last much longer, as the sills are rotten. I would recommend that new quarters be built here, as the Hudson's Bay Co. will not do anything more to this old building.

Dogs.—At present there are nine dogs at Herschell island, and three at Fort Macpherson. We will require one more dog at Herschell island, and two more at Fort Macpherson. I condemned two dogs at Fort Macpherson, as they would be no good for next winter's work. Two of the Herschell Island dogs were killed in dog fights during the winter, and one died of dog sickness. The natives at the island lost over fifty dogs from this sickness, and the ones on the coast and in the delta also lost quite a number of dogs from the same sickness. Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson calls this sickness spinal meningitis.

Transport.—Two sled toboggans are required for Herschell island, and they will be purchased here and forwarded on. The ones at Fort Macpherson are in good condition. The canoes at both detachments are in good condition. The whale boat at Herschell is very old and in poor condition and hardly safe for our use. I have already reported on it, and recommended that a new boat be sent in this summer. What is needed at the island is an auxillary power boat of about ten tons register, and not to draw more than four feet loaded. We could then haul our own supplies, and patrol to Baillie islands and the coast. The Fort Macpherson whale boat was repaired this spring, and is now in good condition.

Provisions.—Provisions at both detachments are in good condition. I have requisitioned for provisions for both detachments for the coming year, and expect them by first boat. I sent the following provisions from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson during the winter: 600 pounds flour, 200 pounds sugar, and 100 pounds rice, as they were short of these articles. The members of Herschell Island detachment hauled them as far as the No. 3 Police cabin, and from there Constable Parsons, Interpreter Johnnie and hired Indian Enoch took them on to Fort Macpherson.

Fuel.—There is no coal on hand at Herschell island, but we are expecting fifteen tons from Teller, U.S.A., for the coming winter. There is sufficient wood to last until we can haul with the whale boat. At Fort Macpherson they cut forty cords wood during the winter, but whilst rafting it down the river in the spring, the raft broke, and they lost twenty cords of it. Some more will be cut later on to replace this amount.

Health.—The members of both detachments are in good health. I attach Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson's report on same.

I would draw attention to the increasing number of cases of mentally deranged. There is an Eskimo woman named Inonyani at Baillie island, who was here last winter for treatment (report sent in by last mail) and who, I hear, is no better. At Herschell island there is an Eskimo named Kengaktak who is also deranged, but is not bad enough for us to take charge of. Since leaving there I hear that another is a bit off.

On the 12th June, Mr. J. Sundblad brought up John Erland, mate of the gasoline schooner Anna Olga, who Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson found was suffering from acute mania, but he was not detained here, as Mr. Sundblad would not lay an information before seeing Captain C. Steen. These men had wintered in the delta. I did not meet this party on my way up to Fort Macpherson, but I think Captain Steen will take him to Nome, and hand him over to the American authorities, as he is an American citizen. We have no provisions for their care, and can only forward them by summer boat if they are violent.

Eskimos.—About fifteen families lived at the island during the winter. They all wintered well, as they had some grub left from last summer, and caught quite a considerable number of foxes and seal. They are able to purchase flour from Captain Steen at Shingle point. No deaths occurred amongst them since my last report: there have been two boys born. The natives in the delta also wintered well; also the ones along the east coast and at Baillie islands.

Indians.—Very few Indians wintered at the fort during the winter. As usual they were pretty hard pressed for food in the spring, but they managed to come through all right. The main party of Peel River Indians arrived here at the end of May from their winter hunting grounds. They reported having killed quite a number of moose, caribou and sheep. At present they are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the steamer.

Whalers.—No boat wintered at the island this last winter. Captain C. Steen, with the gasoline schooner Anna Olga wintered at Shingle point, and traded with the natives. He had a very small supply of flour, etc., and I believe he got rid of it all. His crew of three men wintered in the delta, and also traded. The gasoline schooner North Star, Captain M. Anderson, wintered at Atkinson point, and is reported to have done well trading with the natives.

I have not heard how the schooner Rosie II, Captain F. Wolki wintering at Baillie island, and the gasoline schooner Teddy Bear, Capt. Bernard wintering at Coronation gulf, have done, but they are both reported to be going out this summer to San Francisco.

Mining.—No mining is being done in this district. W. Mason and W. Annett, of the McRae party, are doing a little prospecting in the vicinity of the Kay Point River, but have found nothing so far.

Patrols.—The Dawson patrol consisting of Sergeant Dempster, Corporal Schutz, Constable Phillips, Special Constable Turner, and Indian John Martin, arrived here on the 8th February, and returned on the 26th February. Both the men and dogs were in good condition on arrival, with the exception of a few dogs that were very foot sore. Two of these dogs were shot on arrival, as their feet were too far gone, one was left here, and I gave Sergeant Dempster one of the Herschell Island detachment dogs in the place of him, as no more dogs could be purchased here. Both men and dogs were in good shape on leaving here.

I attach the following reports: Two reports of patrol from Herschell island to No. 3 Police cabin. Report of patrol from Fort Macpherson to Herschell island, also report from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson.

General.—Deacon W. H. Fry, of the Church of England Mission, left Kittigazooit last August in the sloop Messenger, accompanied by four native families in four whale boats, bound for Coronation gulf to visit the blonde tribe of Eskimo, only got as far as Cape Parry, and the party wintered there. The native and his wife who were on Mr. Fry's boat returned to Kittigazooit, and it is reported that they were all well. The natives caught quite a number of foxes, and that seemed to be the main meat supply, as deer and fish were scarce where they were. All the natives of the party are to return this summer, but Mr. Fry will go on if he gets a fresh supply of provisions sent him.

The traders at Red river, Fort Macpherson, and in the delta did very well this past year, and are at present out of everything, except a little tea, tobacco, and calico.

It is reported that the Hudson's Bay Co. are going to establish two more trading posts on the coast this year, also that three outside boats will be in the trade during the summer. The winter has been a cold one, but the spring has been mild.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector,
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-district.

APPENDIX O.

INSPECTOR F. H. FRENCH, PATROL LE PAS TO CHURCHILL, HUDSON BAY.

THE PAS SUB-DISTRICT, March 16, 1913.

To the Officer Commanding,
‘F’ Division,
Prince Albert.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my report of the Pas-Churchill patrol.

On January 6, 1913, the following party left the Pas: Inspector French, Reg. No. 4092 Sergeant Munday, W., Dr. Doyle, Guide and Trail Breaker Andrew Latten, Robt. Giloery and two ‘F’ Division dog trains and one hired train.

We proceeded down the Saskatchewan river, and the second day out the guide went sick, so I paid him off and sent him back. We then continued our journey, calling at Cedar lake and Grand Rapids at which place we rested one day and continued our journey, crossing the north end of lake Winnipeg via Limestone bay and Mossy point at which place we made a portage into Playgreen lake and arrived at Norway House on the evening of January 13. We remained at Norway House for two days. On January 14 I sent the two Indians and their dog team back. On the 16th we continued our journey to Split lake, taking one ‘Depot’ Division dog train and Special Constable Merdew and Indian Guide William Stowers. On the 17th we arrived at Cross lake and met Constable Withers and Special Constable McLeod, with the Churchill mail. As Dr. Doyle was unable to travel any further I sent the Churchill mail into Norway House with the Hudson’s Bays Co. mail pack, and had Constable Withers make up a carriage for Dr. Doyle, and Special Constable McLeod took part of our load and we all started for Split lake on the 18th and arrived at Split lake on January 23, at which place we rested for three days.

On my arrival at Split lake I met Constable Harris with two Indians and one Eskimo and two ‘M’ Division dog trains of six dogs each, who had brought the mail down from Churchill and who was waiting to take the mail back with him. On January 25. Special Constable Merdeaux and Indian guide and dog team returned to Norway House. On January 27 the following party started from Split lake for Churchill: Inspector French, Sergeant Munday, Dr. Doyle and two ‘F’ Division dog teams, Constable Withers and one ‘Depot’ Division dog team, Constable Harris and two ‘M’ Division dog teams and three natives from Churchill and our Guide and Trail Breaker, Alex. Spence. We struck north to the Little Churchill and arrived at Staggs Indian camp on January 28. At this point the snow became very deep and travelling was slow. On making inquiries from the Indians, I was informed that the snow got deeper as one went north. On receipt of this information, I hired an Indian and dog team and loaded him up with 200 fish, besides the fish that we carried on our own loads. The Indian was to come as far as the Paddle portage, from which place he was to return to his camp. I paid him $3 per day and he supplied his own rations and dog feed. We arrived at the Paddle portage on January 31, took all the fish from the Indian and paid him off and sent him back.

The snow was very deep on the Little Churchill river and the trail made by Constable Harris coming down could not be found. The three Indians were kept ahead of the dogs on snowshoes and, as a result, we were able to make fair time.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

On February 2 we arrived at the Police log house on the edge of the Barren Lands, and on the 3rd we were unable to cross on account of a blizzard. On the 4th February we started and made half way across the Barren Land and on the 5th arrived at the Police patrol house at the mouth of the Deer river. On the 6th February we patrolled down the Churchill river, having to face a very bad blizzard, and arrived at the barracks and handed over the Churchill mail and Indian treaty money to Supt. Demers.

To make this patrol we covered 800 miles, and it took 26 days actual travelling. The dogs were all very lame with sore feet when we arrived at Churchill. The dogs were rested at Churchill from February 6 to February 19.

On February 20 the following party left Fort Churchill carrying the Churchill mail: Inspector French and No. 1 dog team, Sergeant Munday and No. 2 dog team, Constable Withers and No. 1 'Depot' Division dog team and Guide and Trail Breaker Alex. Spence.

Constable Jones and Native Pete and 2 'M' Division dog teams came with us as far as the Police log house on the south side of the Barren Lands.

On the 21st we crossed the Barren Lands in one day and five dogs out of our three teams dropped in harness and were unable to use their hind legs and had to be taken out of harness and left behind to follow. I think this was caused by feeding them on blubber or dried seal meat and it in some way affected their kidneys.

On the 22nd we rested the dogs, and on the 23rd started over the Paddle portage to the Big Churchill at which place we arrived on the 24th and made Harvey's Indian camp on the 25th and arrived at Split lake on February 28. The trip from Churchill was made to Split lake in eight actual travelling days. We rested our dogs for two days and, on March 3, the following party left Split Lake: Inspector French and Sergeant Munday and two 'F' Division dog teams and Special Constable McLeod and No. 2 'Depot' Division dog team. We patrolled west to Natawanan and loaded up with 150 dog fish and hired an Indian guide and started for Thicket portage and arrived on the night of the 5th and camped with three prospectors by names Bancroft, Wright and Vickers. They have claims on Wintering lake and report that they are running from three to ten dollars to the ton in gold and silver. On the 6th we called on a white trapper by name of Jock Still and then struck south to the Hudson Bay Railway survey line and followed it west and had to break trail all day. We continued our patrol west and called at the construction camp and supply camp along the line on the 8th. At 2 p.m. Special Constable McLeod and dog team were sent back and the Indian guide paid off and returned with Special Constable McLeod. Sergeant Munday and myself continued our journey west, calling at supply camp along the line and arrived at the Pas on March 12, when I was met by Inspector R. Y. Douglas.

The trip was generally a good one, but the weather was very cold and all members of the patrol were more or less frost bitten on the face.

On the first day across the Barren Lands we lost one dog out of No. 2 team which was left for dead on the trail. The conduct of the men on the patrol was very good.

Reg. No. 4092, Sergeant Munday, W., is an excellent man on a trip and had it not been for this N.C.O.'s previous northern experience the trip would have been much harder.

Distance to Churchill via Grand Rapids and Norway House, 800 miles. Distance from Churchill to the Pas via Split lake, 600 miles. Number of days travelling from Churchill to the Pas, 17 days.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. H. FRENCH, Inspector.
In command Churchill Patrol.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

THE PAS, MANITOBA, April 4, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. P. 'F' Division,
Prince Albert.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of March 22, 1913, I beg to have the honour to herewith submit a general report of my observations of the country through which we travelled while on the Churchill patrol.

Indians.—At Cedar lake and Grand Rapids there are Indian reserves, the former supporting 300 persons and the latter 200; they are all in good circumstances and report a good fur catch.

At Norway House there are 600 souls, but most of these were away at the time of my visit; however, on making inquiries it was ascertained, that they were all in a prosperous condition and free from disease.

At Cross lake there are 400 Indians, the majority of whom were away at their traps when I passed through. The Hudson's Bay Company manager informed me that the season up-to-date had been an exceptionally good one for fur, and that the Indians in the district were all making good catches. 300 natives reside at Split lake, who report a good fur catch.

All the Indians throughout the country that the patrol covered, seemed to be well provided for. I stayed at several Indian camps on the trip in question, and the occupants all boasted large fur catches. They were very kind to us, and always made room for us in their houses.

Fur and game.—The fur catch this season, up-to-date, throughout the north country has been an exceptionally good one. Between Norway House and Churchill I saw over 100 black and silver foxes, which had been sold to the Hudson's Bay Company. There was also a very large catch of otter, mink, martin and cross and red foxes.

The game seemed to be very plentiful, fresh tracks of moose and deer being seen every day by the patrol until we reached a point 90 miles north of Split lake. After that, we struck fresh cariboo trails. On the Churchill river, and through the Barren Lands, the cariboo are very plentiful. The Indians north of Split lake practically live on nothing else but cariboo meat, during the winter season.

Mining and prospecting.—Messrs. Bancroft and Wright have staked eight claims on Sandy lake, which assayed $7 to the ton in nickle, and 50 cents to the ton in copper. These claims are on the pyrrhotite dyke. At Thicket portage, six claims have been staked, which assayed $3 to the ton in gold and silver. At Wintering lake Messrs. Bancroft and Wright and Vickers, have staked seven claims, which assayed $10 to the ton in gold and copper. On Ironstone lake, Wright and Vickers have staked six claims, which assayed $9 to the ton in copper, gold and silver. At Cariboo lake, Wright and Vickers, have staked three claims, which averaged $5 to the ton in gold and silver. All the assays on the above claims have been taken from surface samples and it is anticipated that something better will be struck in this vicinity. The first year's assessment work has been completed on all the aforesated claims.

Hudson Bay railway construction.—The dump is completed for practically 60 miles, and about 100 men are still working on the old contract in rock cuts; this will be completed by the end of the present month. From Limestone lake east there is about 60 miles of right of way cleared. About 80 men were still working at this class of work when we passed through. The contractors, McMillan Bros., have had about 120 teams hauling freight between here and Thicket portage this winter. Every 10 miles, a large warehouse, store and cook-shack has been erected for the convenience of the men working on the construction; these camps are situated at mileage 60, 70, 80, 90, 100, 110, 120, 130, 140, 150, 160, 170 and 180. There has also been a tote road cut to Whiskey Jack portage, over which large quantities of supplies are brought in for the railroad line; these supplies had been brought to Whiskey Jack portage by boat last fall via lake Winnipeg. In conversation with McMillan Bros. they informed me that, if they could procure the labour, they would have between 2,000 and 2,500 workmen along the line from mileage 60 to Thicket portage.

The bridge at The Pas is all but completed, and the trestle bridge over the Cormorant Lake narrows is under construction.

In conversation with Messrs. Boyd and McArthur they told me that they would commence laying the steel as soon as the snow was off the dump, and by this fall they calculate on having 130 miles of track down. The number of men at present employed on the Hudson Bay railway is about 250 persons.

Magisterial Work.—There were no magisterial duties attended to on this patrol, as no complaints were made to any member of the party.

Police Duties.—The only police duties performed on this trip, other than carrying the mail and treaty money, was to locate one, George Street, a white trapper of Wintering Lake district, who was reported missing since last November. No trace of this man could be obtained. Full reports dealing with the case have already been forwarded in.

District.—The district through which we travelled was practically all muskeg, marsh, spruce swamps and lake, with an occasional high elevation of land of gravel or rock composition, with a vegetable growth of small spruce on same. Throughout the patrol I did not see any belts of merchantable timber or arable land. The country is a wilderness, only fit for trapping and fishing with, perhaps, a little mining.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant.

Commanding The Pas Sub-district.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS, PATROL FROM HERSCHELL ISLAND TO FORT
MACPHERSON, JANUARY 13.Mackenzie River Sub-district.

FORT MACPHERSON, January 20, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR.—I have the honour to make the following report of the winter patrol from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson.

On the 8th instant, accompanied by Reg. No. 4347, Constable Johnson, W. A., and Interpreter Chikchigalook, I left Herschell island at 9 a.m. with two dog teams for Fort Macpherson. We arrived at Stokes point at 2 p.m., had dinner and left at 4 p.m., arriving at No. 1 shelter cabin on Kay point at 8 p.m. Ice very rough in places. Weather cold, southwest wind.

On the 9th instant we left the cabin at 9 a.m., nooned two hours at King point, and arrived at Shingle point at 8.30 p.m. Stayed the night with Captain C. Stein. Ice very rough. All the dogs feet cut by rough ice, and very sore. Weather very cold, southwest wind.

On the 10th we left Shingle point at 10.30 a.m., and arrived at Akpaiyooachuk at noon. Stayed the day at McIntyre's to rest dogs, as their feet were very sore. Weather very cold, strong southwest wind.

On the 11th we left at 9 a.m., nooned one and one-half hours, and arrived at No. 3 cabin at 6 p.m. Trail good. Weather very cold, southwest wind.

On the 12th we left No. 3 cabin at 8.30 a.m., nooned hour on the Big river, and pitched our tent at 6 p.m. on a small river. Trail good. Weather cold. This morning found dog 'coffee' dead; he had been killed by our own dogs during the night. Passed three native families on small river, en route to Herschell island.

On the 13th we broke camp at 8.30 a.m., nooned half an hour on the portage, and arrived at Miners cabin on Aklavik river at 6 p.m. Visited Police cabin No. 4 en route, and took eighty fish for dog feed. Travelling good. Weather very cold, slight wind.

On the 14th we left the miners cabin at 8.45 a.m., and arrived at the Hudson's Bay Co.'s post on a small river off the Middle Peel at 1 p.m., and camped for the night as it was too stormy to travel any further. Weather cold. Purchased dog 'Ginger' from J. Greenland for $30.

On the 15th we left at 6 a.m., nooned an hour, and made a Husky cabin on the Middle river at 6 p.m. Trail very heavy. Weather cold.

On the 16th we left the cabin at 8 a.m., made Coniyak's camp at 1 p.m., stopped two hours for lunch, and made an Indian cabin at the mouth of the Peel at 7 p.m. Trail heavy. Dogs tired and sore footed. Weather cold.

On the 17th left camp at 8 a.m., nooned two hours at the mouth of the Husky river, and arrived at Fort Macpherson detachment at 4.45 p.m. Weather very cold, strong head wind.

General.—At all the native camps on the river they had lots of fish on hand, also a fair supply of other food. They have caught a large number of mink this winter, but lynx and other fur seem to be scarce. Rabbits are very plentiful along the river.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

I found all the Police shelter cabins in good condition, also the supplies, with the exception of the dried fish at No. 4 cabin, which the mink and squirrels had got at and eaten quite a number. All the bundles had been left hanging from the rafters, but the squirrels had cut the yarn, and the fish were scattered on the floor. If it had not been for Mr. Storkenson calling in and noticing how things were, we would not have had much of the fish left. He placed traps in and outside the cabin, and caught 3 mink and 15 squirrels.

Travelling on the coast this year was very hard on both men and dogs, as the ice is very rough, and there is hardly any snow over it, but it was fairly good on the river.

The weather during the trip was cold.

The distance travelled is about 260 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant.

APPENDIX Q.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS, REPORT ON SHELTER CABINS, HERSCHELL ISLAND TO MACPIERSON.

FORT MACPIERSON, February 11, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R. N. W. M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—In reply to the Commissioner's memorandum of the 28th November last re Shelter Cabins.

I have the honour to inform you that all the cabins are at present in good condition, and each one has a stove set up in it, and well stocked with firewood.

The following supplies of provisions and dog feed are in each cabin:—

No. 5 Cabin, Trail creek.—2½ pounds baking powder, 65 pounds bacon, 75 pounds flour, 15 pounds sugar, 3 pounds salt, 3 pounds tea, 3 pounds syrup, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 1 pound bovril, 300 dry fish.

No. 4 Cabin, Mackenzie river.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuit, 10 pounds sugar, 5 pounds syrup, 2 pounds tea, 1 dozen matches, 3 pounds candles, 100 dry fish.

No. 3 Cabin, Mouth Mackenzie, W. B.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuit, 10 pounds sugar, 3 pounds tea, 10 pounds beans, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 100 dry fish.

No. 2 Cabin, Shingle point.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuits, 10 pounds sugar, 3 pounds tea, 10 pounds beans, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 7 days dog feed (muktuk).

No. 1 Cabin, Kay point.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuits, 10 pounds sugar, 3 pounds tea, 10 pounds beans, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 7 days dog feed (muktuk).

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

APPENDIX R.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS' PATROL FROM FORT MACPHERSON TO HERSCHELL ISLAND.

HERSCHELL ISLAND, March 10, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R. N. W. M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to make the following report of the patrol from Fort Macpherson to Herschell island.

On the morning of the 27th February, accompanied by Constable Johnson and Interpreter Chikichialook, I left Fort Macpherson, with two dog teams, for Herschell island. We nooned two hours at the mouth of the Husky river, and arrived at the mouth of the Peel river at 4.45 p.m., where we camped for the night. Trail good. Cold and foggy, southeast wind.

On the 28th we left at 7.30 a.m., nooned one hour and arrived at Pikaloo's cabin on the Middle river at 6 p.m. Trail good. Cold and clear, southeast wind.

On the 1st March we left at 8.30 a.m., nooned 1½ hours on the portage, and arrived at the Hudson's Bay Co.'s post on a small river off the Middle Peel at 1 p.m. Trail badly drifted. Cold and stormy, northwest wind.

On the 2nd instant we left at 9 a.m., stopped three hours at Mr. J. Sundblad's camp at the mouth of a small river off the Big river, and arrived at the Miners cabin at 4.30 p.m. Trail drifted. Cold, northeast wind.

On the third instant we left at 7.30 a.m., nooned two hours on the Portage, and pitched our tent at 6 p.m. on a small river off the Big river. Trail fair. Cold and fine.

On the 4th inst. we broke camp at 8 a.m., stopped two hours for dinner, and arrived at No. 3 shelter cabin at 3.30 p.m. Trail good, southeast wind.

On the 5th inst., we left the cabin at 8 a.m., nooned two hours and arrived at Akpaiyooachuk at 3.20 p.m., where we stayed the night with Captain McIntyre. Fine a.m., snowing p.m.

On the 6th inst. we left at 9.15 a.m., and arrived at Shingle point at 10.15 a.m. Stayed the day there to rest dogs. Cold, southwest wind.

On the 7th we left at 8 a.m., stopped two hours at Sabine point for lunch, and arrived at No. 1 shelter cabin at Kay point at 4 p.m. Ice rough. Head wind all day.

On the 8th inst. we left at 7 a.m., stopped two hours at Stokes point, and arrived at Herschell island at 4 p.m. Ice very rough. Cold, southeast wind.

The natives that we visited have lots of provisions to see them through the winter, but were out of fish, and they reported that rabbits were getting scarce. They have caught quite a lot of mink this season, but not as many lynx as last year.

The weather on the trip was cold, but we had a fine trip down. The distance travelled is about 260 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant.

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector,
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-District.

APPENDIX S.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS' PATROL FROM HERSCHELL ISLAND TO FORT
MACPHERSON, JUNE 13.

FORT MACPHERSON, June 24, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to make the following report of the patrol from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson.

At 8 p.m. of the 20th May, Corporal Trickey, H. N., Constable Bates, G. C., Interpreter Chikchigalook, hired native Mike, and myself, with two dog teams, left Herschell island and made Stokes point at 11.30 p.m., stopped an hour to eat, and arrived at Kay point at 5 a.m. of the 21st. Trail fair, 34 miles.

On the 21st left camp at 7 p.m., stopped an hour at King point and arrived at Shingle point at 2.45 a.m. of the 22nd. Trail fair, 32 miles.

On the 22nd left Shingle point at 5.30 p.m., and arrived at Apayoozik at 6.30 p.m. Pitched tent and got camp ready. Interpreter Chikchigalook and native Mike with dog teams made the return trip to Shingle point for the rest of the provisions.

At 6 p.m. of the 23rd, Interpreter Chikchigalook and hired native Mike returned to Herschell island with two dog teams. Corporal Trickey, Constable Bates and myself remaining at Apayoozik to await the arrival of the Fort Macpherson whale boat.

It was much colder this spring than last, and the snow was just starting to go off the island when we left, and we could have stayed there another ten days, but I did not care taking any chances on the ice at that time of the year.

On the 16th June, Constable Chapman and Interpreter Lazarus arrived at the Sand Spit with the whale boat from Fort Macpherson, but they left the whale boat about half a mile from our camp, owing to the ice not being away.

On the night of the 17th instant a good breeze sprang up, and started to take the ice away from the shore, so we broke up camp, and left at 1 a.m. of the 18th. We arrived at Rozy's camp, a mile below White Fish station, at 4.30 a.m.; stopped to eat and left again at 5.30 a.m. Arrived at No. 3 Police cabin at 10 a.m.; had dinner, loaded up baggage, and left at 12.30 p.m. Travelled till 6.15 p.m., and camped for the night on the Big river. Warm. Fair wind.

On the 19th, left at 9.15 a.m., stopped at 12.50 p.m. for dinner, left again at 2 p.m., and travelled till 7.50 p.m. Stopped an hour for supper, and left again at 9 p.m., and travelled till 5 a.m. of the 20th, when we camped for a sleep at the mouth of the Aklavik river. Warm. Mosquitoes very bad.

At 7 p.m. of the 20th a fair wind sprang up so we started again, stopped an hour for dinner, and left at midnight. Camped at 4 a.m. of the 21st about 20 miles up the Aklavik, as the wind dropped. Warm. Slight showers.

On the 21st we left at noon, stopped an hour for dinner at 5 p.m., and left again at 6 p.m., and camped at midnight on the Mackenzie river. Very light wind. Warm. Mosquitoes very bad.

On the 22nd we left at 11.40 a.m., arrived at the mouth of Peel river at 6.30 p.m., had dinner, and left at 7.45 p.m. Stopped at 1 a.m. for supper, and left again at 2 a.m., and arrived at Fort Macpherson detachment at 8 a.m. of the 23rd instant.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Remarks.—We met quite a number of Eskimo families on the coast, where they had just arrived from the delta to hunt white whale. They have lots of provisions on hand, and are catching lots of fish.

Ducks and geese were not very plentiful on the coast this year, but we managed to get sufficient to keep us going.

The weather on the coast was cool, but we found it very warm on the river.

The distance travelled by whale boat is about 190 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector,
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-district.

APPENDIX T.

CORPORAL H. TRICKEY PATROL HERSCHELL ISLAND TO SHELTER
CABIN WITH DOG FEED, ETC.

HERSCHELL ISLAND DETACHMENT,

December 5, 1912.

The Officer Commanding,
Mackenzie River Sub-District,
'N' Division,
Herschell Island.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that, according to your instructions, I left Herschell island on Monday, November 25, accompanied by Constables Bates, G.C., and Interpreter Chikchigalook, with two dog teams, with loads of dog feed for the Police shelter cabins on road to Fort Macpherson, having seven days' feed for two teams for each cabin; also hinges and hasps for fixing up doors, &c.

The first night out we made Stokes point, and reached Kay Point cabin the following noon, where we fixed up the door and left some of the dog feed. From Kay point to Shingle point it took us two days, where we lightened up again by leaving some dog feed.

We made No. 3 cabin in one day. The return journey we made Herschell island in three days, being light, having been away eight days. The mileage being about 190 miles.

I found all the cabins in good condition, and left the camp stoves in each one as per your instructions, also dry wood cut up inside ready for use.

All the dogs returned in good condition.

The weather during the trip was fine, but cold.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

H. N. TRICKEY, Corporal,
In charge of detachment.

APPENDIX U.

CORPORAL C. D. LANAUZE, PATROL FROM SMITH LANDING TO FORT SIMPSON, MACKENZIE RIVER AND RETURN TO FORT RESOLUTION.

GREAT SLAVE LAKE,

February 28, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Smith Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that, acting under instructions received from you, I left Smith Landing detachment on January 17, with detachment dog train, on patrol to Fort Simpson, Mackenzie river. After crossing the 16-mile portage to Fort Smith I stayed there over night with A. J. Bell, Esq., Indian Agent. Leaving Fort Smith on the 18th, Fort Resolution was reached on January 21, after a cold, uneventful journey down the Great Slave river on a good trail. I accompanied two Hudson Bay Company's dog trains returning to Fort Resolution.

The cold was intense, the thermometer ranging between 50 and 55 below zero all the time.

At Fort Resolution I made an investigation re the sudden death of R. McCleughan of the Northwest Fur Co., and forwarded report to you regarding same.

Here I engaged a Chipewyan Indian named 'Duffield' as forerunner for my trip to Fort Simpson at $2 per day and rations, and leaving Fort Resolution on the 27th, Hay river was reached at 2 p.m. on the 29th; a 25-below-zero wind on the big lake made travelling unpleasant.

Leaving Hay river on the 31st, Fort Providence was reached on February 2.

Here my runner unfortunately got laid up with a bad attack of La Grippe and the nuns of the Roman Catholic Mission there very kindly attended to him. I was delayed five days, and started for Fort Simpson on February 8.

I engaged a Slavey Indian 'Minoza' and dog train to come with me for two days and help haul my dog fish. I was glad I did this as we met with deep snow and no road. I had enough feed for my dogs and was able to cache two nights fish for our return, although we ran short of grub ourselves for the last day.

Fort Simpson was reached at 6 p.m. of February 13, after six days hard trail.

Two Indians passed us in the early morning on the long portage between the Mackenzie and Liard rivers and brought the news of our coming to the fort. Mr. Camsell of the Hudson Bay Company, came to meet me up the Liard river with two dog trains and drove me into the Fort.

The Rev. Gerald Card, Indian Agent at Fort Simpson, has made great progress there, having built a fine Agency building, men's houses, &c., and his experimental farm last summer was a success, wheat ripening there well.

The Government mail overtook me at Fort Providence and I carried the letters to Fort Simpson which gave the people a chance to answer their mail there.

While at Fort Simpson I made full inquiries regarding the opening up of a Police Detachment there according to your instructions, and am forwarding separate report to you.

I left Fort Simpson on February 17 and made a good trip back arriving at Fort Resolution on February 27 at 9 a.m.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The weather was very variable during the trip, cold, warm, snowy and windy, and not many clear days. On Trout island, between Providence and Hay river, on our return, we got snowed up one night in a howling blizzard and were out on Great Slave lake in a storm between Hay river and Fort Resolution for six hours, but managed to make shore. Glare ice is very deceptive in a storm, as it looms up ahead it just looks like land.

I drove my own dogs right through; dog shoes were used all the trip, dried every spell and dogs feet doctored. Snow shoes were worn all the time.

Total mileage up to date, 830 miles.

Amongst the Resolution and Mackenzie River Indians there is no destitution, moose are plentiful, and recently many cariboo have been killed near Resolution.

Reports from Fort Rae state that the Indians there are having a hard time, as no cariboo have passed that way; fish are also scarce as these Indians depend on the cariboo and do not make a fall fishing.

The chief of the Providence Indians came to me and wanted me to tell the Government of their need for treaty. They cannot understand why the Resolution and Hay River Indians get treaty and they not.

It has been a good fur year so far, foxes and mink being very plentiful and good prices are paid in the north now.

On February 21 the mail arrived here from Fort Smith. I am in receipt of your instructions of February 12, 1913, to wait here until the arrival of Coroner Bell who is to hold an inquest on the body of R. McCleneghan. The packet leaves for Fort Smith on the 29th inst., and I am forwarding reports by same.

I expect to return to Smith Landing about the 8th March.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. D. LANAUZE, Corporal,
Regt. No. 4766.

CORPORAL C. D. LANAUZE PATROL FROM FORT RESOLUTION TO
SMITH LANDING.

SMITH LANDING, April 11, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Smith Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that, acting under instructions received from you by mail at Fort Resolution on February 28, 1913, I stayed at Fort Resolution until March 5 to attend an inquest on the body of R. J. McCleneghan, and have already forwarded report of same to you while you were at Chipewyan.

I also forwarded to you my patrol report from Smith Landing to Fort Simpson and return to Fort Resolution.

I left Fort Resolution on March 5 to go back to Smith Landing with three days dog feed and rations.

I travelled with Coroner Bell, Dr. McDonald, Alex. Loutit and coroner's extra train.

Coroner Bell is also Indian Agent at Fort Smith. he is an old traveller and was the life of the party.

Mr. Bell crossed from McPherson to Dawson in '99 in winter with no guide and four dogs.

We made a pleasant trip to Fort Smith, arriving there on March 8 where I was hospitably entertained by Mr. Bell.

The recent heavy snow had filled in the trail and we could only find it in places, but, as there were five trains there was no difficulty in breaking fresh trail.

I arrived at Smith Landing on March 9.

Altogether I have been away fifty-two days on patrol and have covered a distance of one thousand and twenty miles.

I cannot speak too highly of my dogs; they stood the trip well, never lazy and in good shape when they got back. I would like to see how far I could go with this train.

As Special Constable Daniels had hurt his leg I could not take him on this patrol but I found it better to drive my own train, as you can travel lighter.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

APPENDIX W.

SERGEANT H. R. HANDCOCK'S PATROL FROM GREEN LAKE TO CLEAR LAKE AND RETURN.

GREEN LAKE, March 31, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
Prince Albert.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of patrol from this detachment through northern part of district, leaving detachment on January 7 and returning March 28, travelling some 1,563 miles, 180 of which were by rail, escorting prisoner Rott Hill from Big river to Prince Albert, wanted for theft by city police in Prince Albert.

Taking the patrol all through, it was a hard one, as in January and February the weather was very cold, stormy, trails were bad for days at a time, it was a case of snow shoes and treading trails, which, to say the least, gets monotonous.

Outside of a very unpleasant half an hour on Buffalo lake, which was spent in water, unluckily going through the ice; luckily the man I had with me was behind. Outside of getting the sole of one foot frost bitten a little, was none the worse: in fact, the worst part was in getting up to the bush in clothes like a board, creaking like a Red River cart; however, a large fire enabled one to change.

Patrol to Sandy and Cree lakes was a new part of the country and first time a Police patrol has been made there.

The trail from Clear lake passes through a useless stretch of country, small lakes and short portages being the order of the day. Getting towards Sandy lake the country becomes hilly and rocky and one's sleigh stands a good chance of getting broken all the time, as it is on its side or upside down for almost a day. I was lucky in not getting mine more damaged. I however had got a good strong one. My man broke his, and getting another at Cree lake also broke it on the return.

From Sandy lake north one is amongst vast herds of Barren Land cariboo, shooting enough each day for our own use. I made a hunt on our return from Cree lake for meat to carry us back and in no time, I killed sixteen, not a quarter of a mile from our camp. The Indians on Cree lake are the worst I have encountered yet, and indeed one's stomach has to be strong to partake of a satisfactory meal with them; dirt and filth reign supreme and the vermin cause the women folk untold annoyance, judging by the scratching that is done.

They live in tents all the time, four or five families living together. average number of children seemed about four. The Indians were sick all over, a kind of grippe. They are very kind and do all they can for one, and give a stranger all the tit-bits in the eating line. It is fortunate that one is generally hungry when amongst them or I am sure little would be eaten. I saw nothing in the food line outside of meat and tea, in fact was living on that myself giving away all my flour and sugar.

These Indians all have fine dogs, meat fed and huskies. I was fortunate in getting a good dog in exchange for the dog I purchased on the start of patrol, as he was entirely played out and foot sore. I was tired of yelling at him.

I had some long and interesting talks with the Indians. There was a fever went through all the district last fall; the Roman Catholic priests said it was scarlet fever. A lot of deaths occurred through catching cold after getting convalescent.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

There was an average of five deaths in every settlement, mostly children. Outside of the Indians at Cree lake there is no sickness in the district.

I think it is just grippe, these Indians have; just bad colds and headaches. One night in a tepee with sick Indians is a thing to be forgotten as soon as possible.

There are very few white trappers in the district this winter. There are three Frenchmen on west side of Cree lake. Indians said they had lots of provisions and were making a large hunt. I did not visit them. There are two trappers on Birch lake, one day west of Sandy, making a good hunt, and well provisioned, from reports. Two trappers on Island lake, whom I visited and found well provisioned and also making a good hunt.

My dogs stood the trip well, with the exception of the new one I bought, who was played out; being a young dog, the trip was too much. However, the dog I traded is a splendid dog, two years old.

Patrol of 1912, away 45 days; mileage, 1,048; cost, $289.00.

" 1913, " 81 " " 1,563 " $303.75.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

H. R. HANDCOCK, Sergeant.

To the Officer Commanding,
Prince Albert.

GREEN LAKE, March 31, 1913.

SIR,—I have the honour to report on the following places and settlements visited during the patrol from this detachment in the northern part of my district.

Sledge Lake.—Located 30 miles northeast of here, four families of half-breeds living on lake, which is some 10 miles long and 7 wide; the freight road from Big river to Isle la Crosse passes here. Good fur country, also for game.

Doré Lake.—Large lake, covering some five townships. Commercial fishing is carried on to quite a large extent, some nine carloads of fish having been shipped from here this past winter.

Four families of breeds live around the lake.

La Plonge.—A very pretty and clear-water lake; also good timber, which is logged by the Roman Catholic Mission, who have a saw-mill on La Plonge river. This lake was fished commercially for the first time this winter and a good catch was made of whitefish and trout. There is a beautiful Roman Catholic Mission and school which I reported on last winter.

Isle la Crosse.—Headwaters of the Hudson's Bay Company and Revillon Frères and I. C. Fish Company, Messrs. Reid, Coleman and McDonald being the respective managers. These companies all have outposts running during the winter months, from 25 to 200 miles away. Some 200 tons of freight is handled here during the winter, coming in from Big river, some 140 miles south. Commercial fishing is carried on here. Store, a very large building, the lumber being hauled last winter from Big river. The I. C. Fish Co. and Revillons are putting up new stores this summer. The permanent staff, staying at Isle la Crosse, of the trading companies consists of nine white men.

The Roman Catholic Mission is in charge of Père Rossignol, with Père Rapet and one brother, I understand a hospital is being built this summer for the benefit of the Indians, and three nuns being brought in to look after same.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

A good catch of fur is being made in this district, especially amongst the fox tribe; one coal black fox was got by the Hudson's Bay Co. for the sum of $300. High prices are being paid this winter, as keen rivalry exists between the I. C. Fish Co. and the Hudson's Bay Co. and Roman Catholic Mission. Hudson's Bay Co. and Roman Catholic Mission are at daggers drawn, the former company going as far as to close the doors of their outposts on the priests; consequently, the Indians are, in places, indignant at same, and I was approached on several occasions by the Indians, but of course informed them it was purely a personal matter between the Hudson's Bay Co.'s manager and the priests.

A gasoline 18 horse-power launch is to be used on the lake this coming summer, by the I. C. Fish Company for transport purposes, as summer freighting by York boats in restocking the outposts. The Hudson's Bay Company have a steamer, rather an ancient craft, in regular use in summer. Isle la Crosse is situated some 120 miles north of Green lake.

Portage la Lock.—Large lake, but poorly stocked with fish, and bad water. Hudson's Bay Co. and Revillons having large posts, also Mr. Gordon trades here from Fort McMurray, Messrs. McLean and Pickering and Fontaine, being the respective managers. This is the chief post, is really a main post from Isle la Crosse; several outposts are run from this point by three traders.

Roman Catholic Mission is in charge of Priest Penard, who has a very fine house built, but seemingly far too large for the place. Another priest came last summer to help Penard, who does not enjoy the best of health; there are also two brothers. This is a splendid section for fur, especially beaver, marten and otter and foxes in their season; a good catch is reported.

Several complaints were registered, which are reported on elsewhere.

Buffalo River.—Some 60 miles north of Isle la Crosse, situated at the mouth of Buffalo river. There are two outposts here from Isle la Crosse who gather the fur from some 20 families of Chipewyan Indians who are paid treaty during summer. There is splendid hay lands in vicinity, also good land for farming. There are tracts of tar land in vicinity, and coal on the Buffalo river; what the commercial value is would be hard to tell owing to the location.

Island Lake.—A very large lake, some 30 miles southeast of Portage la Lock, well stocked with splendid whitefish. Several families have moved here from Portage la Lock. This is practically the same water as Clear lake, connected by narrows. There are nine families of Chipewyans living on the north end of lake.

Whitefish Lake.—Situated some 35 miles southeast of la Lock. Some ten families live here, and are about the most useless band in vicinity, making very poor hunts. Splendid big game district.

Clear Lake.—Situated some 75 miles northeast of Isle la Crosse, being same water as Isle la Crosse. There are two outposts from Isle la Crosse, being a good fur district. There are some fifteen families of Chipewyan Indians who go and take treaty at Isle la Crosse in summer.

Sandy Lakes.—Situated some 160 miles north of the Isle la Crosse. An outpost is kept here by Hudson Bay Co. and is best fur post in district. All trading is done by trapping to Cree lake, as no Indians live here. It is in the Barren Land caribou country, sparsely wooded, and devoid of whitefish.

Cree Lake.—Situated some 185 miles north of Isle la Crosse, the lake is some 80 miles long. One can never see the opposite shore; full of islands, large and small; abounds in whitefish and trout. Indians say there are 13 rivers connecting this lake. There are forty families of Chipewayans winter here, mostly from Fonder Lac side; a few take their treaty at Isle la Crosse, some going into the Barren Lands to summer. These Indians live on straight meat and tea, and one can only say they are beyond description in their habits. All good hunters.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Place to fish.—Situated 45 miles east of Isle la Crosse, and is the first settlement on the Churchill river of Chipewayans who take treaty in summer at Isle la Crosse.

I. C. Fish Co. have an outpost here amongst some ten families. Large catches of beaver, marten and otter are made; also splendid whitefish are caught here.

The above are the principal points in my patrol and in northern section of the district.

GREEN LAKE, March 31, 1913.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following complaints and action taken by me on my northern patrol last winter. I am not putting them in as a Crime Report as they are more or less of a petty nature and would entail a large expense and could be settled satisfactorily off-hand.

Sledge Lake.—Batiste Merasti complained to me that some white trappers had broken into a house he had on Lizard lake and were living there, and also were using poison.

I patrolled to said place and looked up two trappers, Frank Woods and Slim Georgson. I explained matters to them, stating that they did not know the ways in this part and were willing to pay for use of shack, giving Merasti $5 for use. They had some poison baits out; I ordered them to pick same up and discontinue use of same.

Isle la Crosse.—Report of Mr. Reids re burglaries at Isle la Crosse. Complete report under Crime Report.

Buffalo River.—Chipewayan Indian 'Beet' complained that Abraham Maurice, of Isle la Crosse, had taken a dog belonging to him last fall and would not give same back. I saw Maurice at Isle la Crosse and he states he would settle for same with 'Beet' before my return again.

Portage la Lock.—Michal Le Meg, complained of Alex. Pascal shooting one of his team dogs last summer. Pascal claimed Le Meg's dogs were starving and all the time stealing from his rabbit snares; he had shot at the dog, but there was no shot in the charge. He carried a muzzle loader, the wadding is, however, strong enough to kill a dog; he had not meant to kill the dog, only to scare it. I found Le Meg had left his dogs two weeks to rustle for themselves, he was as much to blame. I gave them both a lecture in general. Pascal said he would shoot no more dogs.

Island Lake.—Chipewayans sent word to Portage le Lock that they would like to see me when I arrived on my patrol there, I found they were complaining of two white men who were trapping on the lake, were using roads that Chipewayans had cut and putting out their traps on same. I saw the trappers, two brothers, Hendricks, and they told me they had taken all their traps off the said trails, having heard the Indians were complaining of same.

Whitefish Lake.—Indian Jacko complained that another Indian had borrowed a rifle and would not return same, claiming Jacko got a dog from him which had died on his hands. I ordered Indian Isal to give back the rifle, which was done. I had a long talk in the evening and gave them a good roasting as they are a poor bunch of Indians.

Clear Lake.—Antoine Mokerly's wife complained that Indian Alex. Tobas, in her husband's absence, had tried to seduce her in her house, and another time had stopped her in another Indian's house. I heard both sides of the story. Tobas denied trying to assault her, but admitted giving her a slap, as she was always talking wicked at him. As Alex. Tobas was mixed up in a fish deal on my last winter's patrol, I told him there must be some fire where there is lots of smoke and this was the second time I had had a complaint about him, and the next time it would come to a proper trial, and this was the last chance for him.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

H. R. HANDCOCK. Sergeant.

APPENDIX X.

SERGEANT H. R. HANDCOCK, PATROL FROM GREEN LAKE TO BIG LAKE.

GREEN LAKE, June 11, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
Prince Albert.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report made in eastern section of Green Lake district.

Leaving Green lake on April 19 on foot, having got my canoe taken across portage some 25 miles by wagon, as two teams were going out owing to state of road, which can be used only while the frost is in the ground; as it was, it took $2\frac{1}{2}$ days to make the 25 miles, but it saves some four days to follow the water route into this section. We were mired at least every six miles, the road being in a fearful state. I only wonder how these dilapidated half-breed outfits negotiate these roads. I arrived at Sledge lake, p.m. of the 21st inst., spending the following days getting my rations and things fixed up in general, making a start on the 23rd, having hired Baptiste Muosti to accompany me at \$2.50 per day, finding his own rations. Camping on Lizard river in p.m., some 30 miles, arriving at Lizard lake early in p.m., visiting three white trappers. They did not seem to be killing very much, and were a tough-looking bunch. Left in a.m. and made portage of 7 miles, which was strenuous work and a bad portage, being some three miles of muskeg. Travelled along east shore of lake some 10 miles and camped following day, and could not move as we had blown ashore. The wind changed in p.m. and were able to start in a.m., 27th. Stopped at some Indian camps who were busy hunting muskrats, the latter being scarce this year. Met two men hunting young foxes; in fact, the whole district is fox crazy. Encountered lots of ice on shore, and slow time being made. Camped at mouth of Dog river in p.m. and arrived at Dog lake in a.m. of the 28th, and again found ourselves shut in by the ice, having to stay two days before wind blew the ice off shore; arriving at the narrows of Dog lake in p.m. of May 1, after lots of ice breaking, and only found four families of Indians, the balance being away hunting. They informed me two white trappers had wintered not far from them but had gone out before the snow went off. Indians staying here are an indigent band; in fact, are wanderers, never staying in one place long.

I left on the 3rd inst., intending to return by way of Doré lake, but owing to the large bodies of ice in the lake. I decided to return the same way. I did not move on the 4th, as it rained all day. I travelled the same route home and arrived at Sledge lake on May 9.

I camped at Sledge lake from May 10 until May 13 awaiting for one, Brownfield, who was expected in from Big river side. I thought he would probably have some liquor. I went through his outfit, but only got two bottles of brandy which I did not confiscate as he was going through to Isle la Cross, and needed liquor for medicinal purposes.

I left Sledge lake on May 14 for Doré lake, camping on Sledge river in p.m. and arriving at Doré lake early in a.m. of the 15th. Visited two white trappers who had eleven young foxes, cross ones, and were going in by way Beaver river to Big river.

I visited several breed families and outfits of white men trapping. I warned them to stop hunting rats after the 15th.

I left for Sledge lake on the 17th, arriving in p.m. of the 19th, preparing outfit for going into Big river by way of Stoney lake. Spent the following day, 21st, in getting wagon to south end of lake, taking wagon to pieces and putting in a skiff for six miles, walking horses along shore and swimming across Long bay, some three-quarters of a mile. Leaving on the 22nd, taking all day on the portage, some 20 miles, the road being far from good.

I did not leave camp on the 23rd, as it rained all day, and clearing up in afternoon of 24th, I camped at Sumner fishing camp on Stoney lake, reported on later. Arrived in Big river on the 27th, staying one day. Leaving for Green lake in a.m. of the 29th, arriving at Green lake late in p.m. of the 30th, leaving again on following morning for Sledge lake on foot, returning again the following day, June 1. Getting my outfit together for Big river, leaving for said place in a.m. of the 2nd, travelling the longer route by way of Beaver river, being 80 miles, or 30 miles difference and portage of 15 miles.

I arrived in Big river late in p.m. of the 4th June, leaving for Prince Albert June 7, arriving same day.

APPENDIX Y.

SERGEANT H. R. HANDCOCK, PATROLS IN ISLE LA CROSS DISTRICT.

GREEN LAKE, October 7, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
Prince Albert.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of my patrols in Isle la Cross district during the months of August and September.

I left Green lake August 12, with canoe and man, for Isle la Cross. I arrived Isle la Cross, August 16, finding all English River Indians camped celebrating some holy day. Monday, 18th, Apis Indian Chief complained of one of his Indians re assault. I hired a man and, after investigation, said Indian was arrested and sentenced to four months hard labour in Prince Albert jail.

I left Isle la Cross with hired canoe man and prisoner, arriving at Big river in p.m. of August 26th, and at Prince Albert on the 28th. I left Big river on 4th September, intending to go direct to Isle la Cross, but meeting canoes on Crooked river, who reported drowning of Francis Roy in the Beaver river. I went to Green lake by Duck Lake portage to investigate same, arriving Green lake in p.m. of September 6th. Spending 7th, 8th and 9th on investigation, and getting canoes out looking for body of Roy. I left again for Isle la Cross on the 10th, arriving late in p.m. of the 13th instant, leaving again at daybreak on the I. C. Fish Co.'s gasoline launch for the English river in order to see Dick Johnson's outfit re giving liquor to Treaty Indian Breco re Frances Roy.

I returned to Isle la Cross on p.m. of September 15th to hear that one, Gerome Gardner, had been drowned, not having been seen since p.m. of 13th instant, and canoe had been found upset in vicinity of settlement. September 16th and 17th was spent investigating and getting search parties out from three to seven canoes were out daily. I saw no chance of the body being grappled, as such primitive grapples were used.

I left for Buffalo river on September 18th, as Indians wanted to see me there. I, however, found on my arrival it was nothing more nor less than advice as to their winter hunting trading, and this was none of my business. I explained to them they must not send for me unless there was something serious in work that I was interested in.

I arrived back at Isle la Cross in p.m. of September 21st. The body of Gerome Gardner had not yet been found. I decided to remain at Isle la Cross until the body was recovered, eventually coming to the surface on September 26, same being buried September 27. I left for Green lake in p.m. of Sunday 28, and arrived at detachment in a.m. of October 5.

Investigation was also held on a burglary of the I. C. Fish Co.'s store during my patrol in the Isle la Cross district.

Total mileage of patrol, 1,035 miles. Cost of patrol, including my board and rations, hire of canoe man, prisoners and contingencies, total expenses, $138.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

H. R. HANDCOCK, Sergeant.

CORPORAL G. D. CURRIE, PATROL WITH INDIAN TREATY PARTY, NORTHERN SASKATCHEWAN.

PRINCE ALBERT, September 9, 1913.

Officer Commanding.

'F' Division, Prince Albert.

SIR,—I have the honour to report as follows: On 16th June, acting under instructions of Officer Commanding 'F' Division, I proceeded from Big River detachment as escort to the Indian Treaty party (1913), composed as follows: J. F. Betts (paying agent), W. Logan (agent's clerk), F. Giles (doctor), W. Chisholm (transport agent), Angus McLeod (interpreter), A. Anderson (cook), W. Gunn (camp assistant), 12 Indian canoe men with six (19-foot) Chestnut canoes. Leaving Big river in the a.m. of 16th June, the party's first stop was made at La Plonge on 19th inst., where Mr. Betts inspected the Indian School (R.C.) and Mission. Isle a la Crosse (Crees and Chipewyan Indians) was reached on 21st June and the first treaty payment was made there. On 26th June the Hudson's Bay Co.'s steam launch Churchill transported our party and six canoes (placed on a scow) as far as Buffalo lake (one day and a half journey), where we again took canoe up the La Loche river and paid treaty at Portage la Loche on 1st July. Returning to Buffalo lake, the Churchill took us from there back to Isle a la Crosse. Leaving there on 7th July by canoe we proceeded via the Churchill river to Lac la Ronge, arriving there 19th July. The Church of England School (Indian) and Mission were inspected and treaty was paid on 22nd July. Leaving on 24th July our party reached Stanley on 26th July. Treaty being paid 28th July, we left on 29th, travelling again via Churchill river and Frog portage to Lac du Brochet (Chippewayans) arriving 9th August. Treaty paid on 11th August, we left on 14th August for Pellican narrows (Crees), arriving there 25th August. Treaty paid 26th August, we left on 29th August for Pukkatagan (Crees) arriving 5th September. On 6th September treaty was paid, and this being the last payment we proceeded on our homeward journey via Cumberland House (where I met Corporal Belcher in charge of detachment) and the Saskatchewan river, arriving at Le Pas on 19th September, and finally reported at Prince Albert in the a.m. of 20th September. I herewith beg to give a few details regarding the trip.

Weather.—Heavy rain and frequent head winds made hard paddling, and every one did their best to assist the Indian canoe men. The temperature was decidedly cool, with only a few really hot days in July and August.

Indians.—Their behaviour prior and after treaty payments was in every case excellent at all places we visited. I am glad to report that I found no evidence of intoxicants amongst the Indians, or few white settlers. The Indians seemed to welcome the Government issue of flour and bacon also other necessities although they seem to thrive well on the fish and game which is plentiful in all districts visited. Dr. Giles states the mortality fortunately does not seem to be on the increase and those persons taking treaty seem to be well provided with children (infants). No serious cases of sickness were found. Two of the Indian canoe men taking sick, two others were obtained. In many ways the trip was very hard for those who had to work as portages (often long and bad ones) were far too frequent as in the majority of cases the canoes, as well as supplies, had to be transported overland owing to the danger of running the rapids, especially those of the Churchill river, where the falls were 17 feet, and more, often. Our party found whitefish, doré (called pickerel), lake trout and sturgeon a pleasant change at meals. Geese and ducks were found in plenty, especially along the Saskatchewan.

Travellers (met en route).—On 19th July at Lac la Ronge, Messrs. Gordon and Henderson from the U.S.A. on a pleasure trip joined our party and travelled with us as far as Frog portage (where afterwards I learnt they secured four bear). On 16th September we met Messrs. Stewart and Morphy, both of Prince Albert, outward bound, prospecting for minerals, on their way to Beaver lake. Fox buyers without number were around the Isle a la Crosse district, and on 16th June, when leaving Big river we passed three canoes loaded with 100 cross and silver foxes, the property of Mr. Alex Macdonald who, at that time, had also over 50 live foxes at Isle a la Crosse.

Complaints.—During the journey I had no cases of crime to attend to, although Messrs. Hastings and Irving (working for Révillon Frères Co.) at Lac la Ronge told me they considered a policeman ought to be stationed there permanently, as the Indians had bad habits of borrowing articles and not returning them right away. Also Mr. Thos. Clark, fishery guardian, seems to have some trouble due to the Indians disobeying the Fisheries Act by fishing without permit, and he states the Indians cause him annoyance whenever possible. I, through an interpreter, advised the Indians that they must not interfere with Mr. Clark in carrying out his work as a Government official, also I advised Complainant to speak with the treaty agent, Mr. Betts, on the matter. I would respectfully state that numbers of the better educated persons stated to me that they thought it was a good plan to have a police escort along with the treaty party as it kept the Indians in order and also traders were not so much in evidence as at other treaty payments.

The total distance covered by the treaty party to which I was attached has been estimated at three thousand and five hundred miles, chiefly travelled over by canoe.

The health and spirits of all the party were good, and Mr. Betts did his best for all concerned.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

APPENDIX AA.

SERGEANT A. H. L. MELLOR'S PATROL FROM FORT CHIPEWYAN TO FOND DU LAC.

CHIPEWYAN DETACHMENT, April 1, 1913.

The Officer Commanding

R. N. W. M. Police,

Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that I left Chipewyan detachment on the 19th March, on patrol to Fond du Lac, taking with me Special Constable Wylie and one train of dogs.

I had a considerable load on starting, as I took enough fish for the entire trip, caching part for the return journey.

Fond du Lac is situated at the narrows of Lake Athabaska, about fifty miles from extreme eastern end.

The winter route from Chipewyan follows the south shore of the lake the whole way; the summer route, on the contrary, is along the north shore. The south shore is one continuous line of rolling sand hills of no great height, fairly luxuriantly timbered with small jackpine. The shore line is composed of deep bays, in constant succession, with long, jutting points.

Numerous rivers and creeks empty their waters into the lake from the south side; none, however, being of any size.

I reached my destination on the evening of the 22nd March, after an uneventful journey, having made fish caches in three different places for the return trip.

Travel on the lake was fairly good, although there were many crevasses and stretches of rough ice.

As already stated, the settlement of Fond du Lac (if it is worthy of such a name) is situated at the narrows of the lake, which at this point is only about a mile, or less, across.

On the north shore the Hudson's Bay Company have a trading post in charge of Mr. W. D. Lyall; the inevitable Roman Catholic Mission is also on the north side, Father Riou being the priest in charge. Half a dozen small shacks are scattered around the establishments of these two concerns, being for the most part occupied by their dependents and employees. It is a dreary, bleak-looking situation, absolutely without any shelter, and it is hard to understand why such a site was chosen.

On the opposite shore, Mr. Colin Fraser, of Chipewyan, has a trading post, in charge of Germain Mercredi, a native of Fond du Lac, and with the exception of two or three houses, this comprises the whole of Fond du Lac.

Fond du Lac is considered the best meat post in the north, as the cariboo are in the habit of coming there in great numbers. The Indians of this band are consequently well off. This winter, however, the cariboo are rather scarce, the Indians say, and apparently believe, that this is caused by a prospector by the name of Riche, hitting a cariboo with a stick last winter. The Indian legend runs that if these animals are killed or hit with anything not made of metal, they will desert the country for seven years. I told them that my opinion was that the animals had not arrived this winter, on account of so much of the country having been burnt by the rank carelessness of the Indians themselves.

There is another curious example of Indian legendary lore to be found at Fond du Lac. On the north shore of Lake Athabaska, there is a large dome-shaped rock, known all over as the beaver lodge; directly across the lake from the Beaver lodge is a considerable patch of red rock, which the Indians frequently use to make paint with. The legend says, that in the early days of the earth, the beavers were the ruling race, and that men were their slaves. Finally the slaves grew more intelligent, and revolted against the beaver domination, and one day attacked the king of the beavers, and forced him to fly from the identical beaver lodge on lake Athabaska, which was then his home, and to dive under the water, badly wounded, until he reached the opposite shore, where he died; in dying he lost so much blood, that it stained all the rocks there a permanent red, which remains to this day; moreover, from some of this blood, the present race of Chipewyan Indians were brought into existence. To this day, before killing a beaver, they first apologize to the animal for the necessity of so doing, which I have no doubt considerably soothes the animal's feelings.

These two legends are perhaps rather out of place in a Police patrol report, but I have included them thinking they may prove of some interest.

Fond du Lac is probably the best post in the north for wolverines; these pestilential animals are, I am glad to say, killed in large numbers here; I had the mortification of finding two of my caches robbed by them on my return trip.

Marten and beaver are also quite plentiful at this post, but mink, while numerous, are very small and pale.

This winter a large number of white foxes have been traded also. The Fond du Lac Indians hunt a long distance off, and many of them frequently encounter the Eskimos in the Barren lands, and trade wolverine skins (which the Huskies prize highly) for other fur. In former years there was bitter enmity between the two races, but now peace reigns supreme.

Few of the Indians were in to the post this Easter, on account of the same coming so early this year, in fact, right in the middle of their marten hunting season; many of their women, however, came in. Those whom I saw had no complaints to make, nor did I hear of any misdemeanours amongst them. In fact the Indians, as a whole, in this part of the country, are very law abiding and peaceable.

I left on the 25th March, on my return trip to Chipewyan, at which place I arrived on the 29th, after a somewhat arduous journey on account of a heavy snowfall; dog feed was also somewhat short, on account of the depredations of wolverines in the caches.

The weather during the whole trip was very cold for this time of year. Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, of Easter, were respectively 38, 42, 40 and 37 below zero.

The dogs were in excellent condition, total mileage, 380 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. H. L. MELLOR, Sergeant,
In charge of Detachment.

APPENDIX BB.

CORPORAL B. BELCHER, PATROL, BEAVER LAKE TO LAC DU BROCHET.

CUMBERLAND HOUSE DETACHMENT,

March 17, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
Le Pas Sub-district.

SIR,—I have the honour to make the following report re my patrol, Beaver Lake, Pelican Narrows and Lac du Brochet.

On February 8th I hired a guide at the rate of $2 per day, and rations, and left Cumberland House the same morning and arrived at Beaver lake on the evening of the 8th instant, and visited all the Indians, the total number being about 20, and left on the morning of the 9th, and arrived at Pelican Narrows on the afternoon of the 11th inst. and camped at the Hudson's Bay post till the afternoon of the 13th instant, and during my stay at Pelican narrows I visited all the Indians. I also visited the Roman Catholic priest who stated the Indians had been very good during the year and were in good hunting grounds and making a good living. At Pelican narrows there are about 25 families living, most of them being Treaty Indians. I arrived at the south end of Reindeer lake on February 17th, it taking me four and a half days from Pelican narrows, which is a distance of about 110 miles. During that four and a half days travelling I was breaking trail through rocky portages, and was very hard on dogs, having to carry dog feed from Pelican narrows. I stayed at the south end of Reindeer lake on February 18 and gave the dogs a day's rest. I visited all the half-breeds and Indians of the district as they were all at the south end of Reindeer lake this day, getting out logs to build a Roman Catholic church. None of them had any complaints. I then left the south end of Reindeer lake on February 19 for Lac du Brochet, which is about 160 up the north corner of Reindeer lake. While crossing I struck very poor trails and used snowshoes most all the way and did not meet anybody or see any Indian camps till I reached Lac du Brochet on the afternoon of February 23. I camped at the Hudson's Bay Company's post and my guide went and camped with some half-breeds who were his relatives. I stayed at Lac du Brochet till March the 5th, and during my stay at Brochet I visited all the people. The Roman Catholic priest said the Indians were good-living people around Brochet and there was no cause for any complaints, and he thought it was a good thing for the police to make a trip up there once a year as it kept the Indians in good order. I left Brochet on March 5, on my return trip, and gave the dogs a day's rest at the south end of Reindeer lake on March 9, and arrived back at Cumberland House on March 15. While crossing Reindeer lake, and returning, I saw large bands of reindeer. The total distance from Cumberland to Lac du Brochet and return is 700 miles, which took me 23½ days travelling, at the average of 30 miles per day. The dogs arrived back in Cumberland in good condition, but thin. During the trip I received no complaints.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

B. BELCHER, Corporal.

PART III
YUKON TERRITORY

APPENDIX A.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT J. D. MOODIE, COMMANDING DAWSON.

DAWSON, Y.T., September 30, 1913.

The Commissioner,
Royal Northwest Mounted Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of 'B' Division, for the year ended 30th September, 1913, as follows:—

GENERAL STATE OF THE TERRITORY.

The large mining companies are operating to full capacity; the Canadian-Klondike Mining Co. completed two new dredges—the largest in the country; they are working on the Klondike river; the capacity of each is 12,000 cubic feet per twenty-four hours.

A large number of men have been employed by the Treadgold Company clearing ground in the vicinity of Granville and Quartz creek for dredging.

Business has been good throughout the Yukon during the past year. Crops and garden produce, however, have not been so good as in the previous year, owing to the dry weather during the early part of the summer, and the almost continued rains later which prevented the crops from ripening.

The successful raising of hay, oats, barley, and all kinds of garden truck is only a matter of time and the proper cultivation of the soil. With deep cultivation to loosen the soil and allow the ground to dry out sufficiently, there is nothing to prevent abundance of such products being grown to supply the home market.

There has been a rate war between the White Pass Co. and the Northern Commercial Co. (under the title of the Side Streams Navigation Co.) operating between Whitehorse and Dawson, and Dawson and Fairbanks. A large number of tourists have taken advantage of the cut rates.

A large party, under the auspices of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, arrived here on the 3rd July, leaving for Fairbanks on the night of the 4th. They were shown as much as possible of the surrounding country and mining operations.

On the 9th of August the Honourable J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Hazen, arrived in Dawson. Senator Thorne was also of the party. The Minister inspected the barracks in the afternoon, and expressed himself as pleased with the general appearance of the post. The following day the party made a tour of the creeks in motor cars and witnessed a 'clean-up' on one of the placer claims on Bonanza creek; this yielded about $15,000. The party left on return to Skagway at 11.30 p.m. on the 10th.

On the 10th September a large party of geologists, comprising representatives from most of the civilized countries of the world arrived here under the direction of Mr. Brock, head of the Geological Survey of Canada. They left about midnight of the 12th, after having inspected the creeks and places of interest within a radius of fifty miles of Dawson. Motor cars and teams were placed at their disposal by the Territorial Government.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The visits of these different parties will, without doubt, be of great advantage to the Yukon Territory, by making known the vast wealth of the country only awaiting development.

CRIME.

For a summary of cases under this head, I refer you to list of cases, entered and dealt with, as follows:—

The following is a short synopsis of the more important cases handled during the year:—

On the 22nd September, 1912, Mr. C. A. Thomas, resident manager of the Yukon Gold Co., reported that he suspected Joseph Dowling and William Smith, employees of the Company, of stealing gold dust. Reg. No. 4750, Corporal Hill. C. H., was detailed to the case, and after watching the men for some time, saw Smith pick something up off the bedrock, and arrested both men. On the 4th October they were committed for trial; on the 9th October, Dowling was acquitted and Smith sentenced to two (2) years' imprisonment with hard labour.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

In July, 1912, information was laid against Pietre Allen, charging him with theft of gold dust. Allen had a lay on some ground on Glacier creek and had taken out quite a dump. He commenced sluicing and left Glacier with a poke of dust, ostensibly for Dawson, but in reality crossing the boundry into Alaska. He was arrested at Fort Gibson, Alaska, and taken to Fairbanks for trial for extradition. Extradition was granted and Allen arrived here on the 11th February, the United States authorities handing him over to a man detailed from here, at Skagway. Allen was remanded from time to time until July 7th when he appeared before judge and jury, was found guilty and sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labour.

On the 12th November last the Central hotel, Ottawa hotel, and Knudson's cigar store were raided for gambling. There was no game in operation in the latter place, but we found games going on in both hotels, the proprietors of which were warned for court as well as some thirty-one players and lookers-on. The following day each proprietor was fined $100 and costs, twenty players were each fined $20 and costs, and eleven players or lookers-on dismissed. Every effort is made to keep professional gamblers out of the country. When one arrives he is immediately warned to keep moving, and we see that he leaves the country.

On the 4th December information was laid against Joseph Gosser for theft of a tent. Accused appeared for trial on the 12th, was found guilty and fined $25 and costs or six months imprisonment with hard labour. The fine was paid.

On the 14th December the premises of James Oglow, a fruit and candy dealer, were raided for gambling. Seven men were found playing stud poker, the game being dealt by Oglow himself. Accused appeared before Judge Macanlay same date and was fined $100 and costs or three months' imprisonment with hard labour, and also sentenced to one month imprisonment. The fine was paid. Two of the players were fined $100 and costs each, five players and two lookers-on were each fined $20 and costs.

On the 28th February a double murder and suicide took place at the Black Hills roadhouse when the proprietor, William Franklin Smith shot and killed his wife, Hannah Smith, and Miles Colin Kelly, the White Pass stableman at that point. Just what caused this deed will never be known. Smith had been drinking heavily, and when intoxicated was like a madman. He and his wife had been quarrelling, and it is supposed that Kelly in some manner interfered. Kelly was shot in the stables, his body being found in the feed room. Mrs. Smith's body was found on her bed, while Smith's body was lying next to that of his wife. The usual inquest was held.

On the 26th March, Ewen Cameron laid information against John McRae for theft of provisions. Accused was before Judge Macanlay on the 27th, found guilty, and sentenced to two months' imprisonment with hard labour.

On the night of the 22nd February one of the dredges of the Yukon Gold Co., near the mouth of Bonanza, was blown up by dynamite. Reg. No. 2628, Sergeant Mapley, H. G., was detailed to this case. About thirty hours later, Mr. C. A. Thomas, the resident manager, received a threatening letter, as did also Mr. Charles Boyle, resident manager of the Canadian-Klondyke Mining Co. These letters were written on a typewriter of peculiar make and type, afterwards found to be a 'Bennet,' a cheap machine. We then learned that Jacob Neilson had brought one of these machines into the country. Neilson went to Mr. Thomas and offered his services in the capacity of detective, and after some consultation with me, Mr. Thomas engaged him. Neilson was carefully watched and on the 20th March was arrested, charged with dynamiting the dredge. After several adjournments the trial was set for the 16th July, lasting until the 25th July, when the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation for mercy. Mr. Justice Macanlay then sentenced Neilson to twenty (20) years' imprisonment with hard labour. During August Neilson commenced to act strangely, and was placed under observation. On the 3rd September, Acting Assistant Surgeon J. O. Lachapelle reported to me that Neilson was insane.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

I wired you same date to that effect, and on the 10th September received a wire from you that warrant for transfer of Neilson to the Kingston penitentiary had been mailed to the Officer Commanding at Whitehorse. On the 12th September, Neilson left here in the custody of Reg. Nos. 3045, 5242, Staff Sergeant Joy, G. B., and Constable Godfrey, E. K. M.

On the 18th June, Gabriel Bozovitch was arrested charged with assault with intent to do bodily harm. On the 21st was found guilty by Mr. Justice Macaulay and sentenced to nine months' imprisonment with hard labour.

On the 24th June one Jules Bernard was committed for trial for arson. Bridges, power line poles, etc., had been burned on Dominion creek. Accused was tried by Mr. Justice Macaulay and a jury on the 7th July, and, although the evidence all pointed to the guilt of accused, and the judge charged strongly against him, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty and he was discharged.

On the 21st July, Michael Dugan was sentenced at Carcross by Inspector A. E. Acland to 15 days' imprisonment with hard labour for the theft of a tent.

On the 31st July, William Drewit was sentenced at Whitehorse by Police Magistrate Geo. Taylor to two months' imprisonment with hard labour for theft from a dwelling.

On the 13th July, Mr. C. A. Thomas, resident manager of the Yukon Gold Co., reported that William Gordon Cunningham, a ticket-of-leave prisoner, employed on their Hunker dredge, had been caught stealing gold dust. Accused appeared before Judge Macaulay on the 14th, and remanded from time to time until the 28th, when he pleaded 'not guilty,' but after a small amount of evidence had been given the plea was changed to 'guilty,' and he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour. On the 21st August, Cunningham, who had been made a prisoner at large on account of his previous good conduct, escaped from custody. He had always shown himself a good man and could be trusted. He was employed in the laundry, and dropped into the slough running through the barracks and got away. He was sentenced two years ago to two years hard labour for forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses, and was released on parole on the 3rd January last. Full descriptions have been sent out through Yukon, Alaska, Washington and California, and I have no doubt that he will eventually be re-captured.

At 6 a.m. on the 29th September, Mr. C. A. Thomas, resident manager of the Yukon Gold Co., called up the Officer Commanding by telephone and reported that at about 1.15 a.m. two masked men had held up with revolvers the two men working on the hydraulic works belonging to the company on Lovett gulch. After a preliminary investigation by Supt. J. D. Moodie and Sergeant H. G. Maplev, the following information was obtained: The custom is for one man to go to the bunk-house at midnight, prepare supper and have his own, then he relieves his comrade who, in turn, gets his meal. On this night one of the men prepared and got his supper and started to relieve his companion between 12.30 and 12.45. A short distance from the bunk-house he was held up by two masked men, bound, gagged and laid in a ditch near the trail. His companion waited until 1.10 to be relieved, and then thinking something must be wrong started for the bunk-house. When he got to the transformer house, which was quite near the nozzles, he also was held up. The hold-up men ordered him to turn off the water, and he explained that this would cause the pipes to burst. He was then told to turn the nozzles away so that the water would not run through the sluice boxes. After doing this he was told to walk to the transformer house. On arriving there he was tied up and gagged and some sacks thrown over his head. Both men were inspected by the hold-up men four times, at intervals of, as nearly as they could judge, about half an hour. The bonds of the first man were examined and made more secure three times. They were told to remain quiet. At length the man who had been bound in the transformer house, not having heard anything for some time, managed to get on his feet and hop with bound ankles, etc., towards the bunk-house when he was released. The man first found had got the gag out of his mouth, and, his cries being heard, he was also released. The rubber boots of one man were taken off his feet, and were found by the police in the cut where the sluice boxes are.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

It was found that a quantity of gravel containing the gold and amalgam which, it is estimated, would fill about four gunny sacks, had been taken. Of course the value of this cannot be stated at this time, but it will run up in the thousands of dollars. The tracks of the robbers were found and traced down the hill and across the tailings to where a buggy had been waiting. Every effort is being made to locate the perpetrators of the crime. Reports will be forwarded from time to time as the case progresses.

INQUIRY DEPARTMENT.

Almost daily letters inquiring for missing relatives and friends are received. Every effort is made to obtain the information asked for, and in many cases successfully.

People in the East appear to think that Alaska and the Yukon are one and the same. Many of the inquiries are for friends and relations who are 'supposed' to have gone to Alaska.

INDIGENTS.

Any assistance given is done by the Territorial Government.

ARMS AND AMMUNITION.

Lee-Enfield rifles and Colts revolvers are the arms of this Division. They are all in good condition. Arms are inspected weekly in the post, and those detailed to N. C. Officers and Constables on detachment are inspected at irregular intervals, during detachment inspection.

Two 7-pr. muzzle-loading guns, one steel and one brass, are on charge, as well as two Maxim guns.

The annual revolver practice was held, and returns forwarded. We again had a large number of mis-fires amongst the old revolver ammunition, which accounts to a great extent for the poor scores made. There are still some 500 rounds of this in store.

ACCIDENTS, DEATHS, SUICIDES, ETC.

The following is a list of casualties occurring in the Yukon during the year:—

October, 1912.—On the 2nd, Albert E. McKay was accidentally shot and killed at Gordon's Landing, Mayo district. He and his partner landed after dark at this place, intending to remain for the night, and while going up the bank of the McQuesten river was mistaken by a man named W. H. McWhorter for a wolf, and shot. McWhorter had seen several wolves around the cabin earlier in the evening, and when McKay was nearing the cabin McWhorter's dogs commenced barking and growling to such an extent that he naturally thought the wolves had returned and were in the scrub bushes, and as soon as he saw the bushes move and heard noise he shot, hitting McKay. McWhorter naturally felt this accident very much, more particularly as he and McKay were one-time partners, and very friendly. McKay was immediately placed in a small boat and taken to Mayo, but he died very shortly after arrival.

On the 6th, Mr. James J. Greene, who had been away up the MacMillan river on a hunting expedition, reported the finding of the body of a man named Edward E. Collins in a cabin on the North Fork, some 450 miles from Dawson. The man had evidently been dead for some months, as the last entry in his diary was on February 18, 1912. It was intended to investigate this matter during the past summer, sending a patrol into the MacMillan country, but owing to the fact that all the small steamers were employed on the run to the new diggings, no boat, with the exception of a small gasoline launch belonging to the White Pass Co., from Whitehorse, went up the Pelly river, consequently the body has not yet been buried. This will be done first opportunity.

On the 8th, Charles Schmidt shot himself with a revolver, in his cabin on Lower Dominion. Schmidt was an old man, much addicted to liquor, and had spent all his summer earnings. He had been unable to secure permanent employment or to obtain a grub stake, so grew despondent and suicided. An inquest was held, the jury returning a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane.

On the 29th, the telegraph operator at Kirkman reported that the body of a man had been found on the beach at Carlisle creek. As it was impossible to get up the river at that season of the year, I requested the operator to secure the body from any danger from ice, but fortunately the steamer Pauline, with a load of machinery passed, and Mr. J. W. Boyle, manager of the Canadian-Klondike Mining Co., who had already obtained all possible information concerning this matter, and who considered it advisable to move the body, had it taken on board the barge and brought to Dawson. He arrived early in November, and handed me complete information about the case. Mr. Boyle was kind enough to take written statements from all concerned.

November, 1912.—On the 25th, Georgie McDiarmid, the four-year-old son of Peter McDiarmid, died from shock following severe burns sustained in a fire in Phillips store, 2nd avenue, on the previous night. The little fellow had been in bed, and the mother went to the post office to mail some letters and was gone only a few minutes, when the fire broke out. When it was discovered, the whole of the interior, upstairs, was in flames, and the little fellow appeared at the window. He was rescued by Corporal Hill and two civilians, Hill going through a window and down the fire escape. An inquiry was held by Inspector Telford who, from the evidence adduced, did not consider an inquest necessary, as the direct cause of death, through the fire, had been accidental.

December, 1912.—On the 16th, it was reported by Mr. Fred. Best, a hunter and trapper, in the White River district, that the body of a man, supposed to be W. S. Milan, had been found in the district. It was intended sending a patrol up the White river to investigate this matter, but in the meantime the strike had been made in Shushana, and Dr. D. D. Cairnes, of the Dominion Geological Survey, as well as several prospectors, gave us written reports on this subject, and, as there were no signs of foul play, I did not consider it necessary to go to the great expense of sending a patrol up the White for this purpose. The body was buried by prospectors, and a headboard placed to the grave, with the names of those performing the burial written thereon. It was thought from the few evidences left that Milan became ill and died. The body of his partner, name unknown, was found a short distance away, and it is thought he also died from same cause, probably scurvy.

On the 8th, while Pat Connors was sitting on the roadside near 65 below on Bonanza, resting, he was shot by someone in the right side. The shooting was at once investigated and it was found that he had been shot with a .22 medium bullet. There had been several persons out shooting grouse and ptarmigan during the day, and it is hard to say just who shot him. Andrew Weidman had been shooting at this particular time, but whether he had fired the shot which struck Connors we did not know. Eventually Connors sued Weidman in the civil court for his hospital expenses, doctor's account and damages, the court allowing him expenses.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

On the 17th, a man named William Williams accidentally fell down a shaft on 60 below on Bonanza and was almost instantly killed. Deceased had been assisting in installing a self-dumper, and had put some planks over the mouth of the shaft, but slipped in such a manner as to shove the planks aside, and fell through. The depth of the shaft was 80 feet. Inspector E. Telford held an inquiry, deciding an inquest unnecessary.

January, 1913.—On the 28th another regrettable holocaust occurred at the White Pass roadhouse on Black Hills, when William F. Smith shot and killed his wife, Hannah Smith, and C. M. Kelly, the White Pass stableman at that post, and then committing suicide by shooting himself. Smith was at one time a special constable at Dawson, and Kelly was an ex-corporal. This case is reported under 'crime.'

March, 1913.—On the 7th, Julian Trefois was found dead in his cabin on No. 3 below on Bonanza creek. Deceased had been ailing for some time. After investigating, Inspector E. Telford decided Trefois had died from heart disease, and that an inquest was unnecessary.

On the 16th, Fred Maier committed suicide in his cabin on Victoria gulch by shooting himself. An inquest was held, the jury returning a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane.

On the 27th, the body of William Murray was found on the trail two miles from the mouth of Coal creek. The body was placed in a cabin and the police notified. Death had resulted from heart disease. Investigation was made by the detachment at Forty-mile.

April, 1913.—On the 14th, George Richards attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself. He was taken to the hospital and made a good recovery. Later he was charged with this offense in the police court, but was dismissed.

May, 1913.—On the 4th, Edward Methot was electrocuted at the Ogilvie substation of the Granville Power Co. Inspector E. Telford held an inquest, the jury returning a verdict of accidental death due to carelessness on the part of deceased.

On the 14th, J. J. McPhee was found dead in his cabin on Eldorado creek. Inspector Telford made an investigation, and decided death to be due to natural causes, and an inquest unnecessary.

On the 20th, an old man named Jas. Murphy was found very ill and destitute in a cabin a few miles from Dawson. He was brought to town and placed in St. Mary's hospital, where he died the next day.

June, 1913.—On the 17th the badly decomposed body of a man was found at Forty-mile. It had been in the water for a considerable time and was past recognition. After taking a full description the body was buried.

July, 1913.—On the 5th, Albert Garand was drowned while bathing with some companions near Mayo. They were all more or less under the influence of liquor. Deceased was apparently overcome by the coldness of the water and, owing to the state he was in, sank. The body was recovered later and buried.

On the 12th a small Indian boy was accidentally shot and killed by another Indian boy who was too young to realize what he was doing. They had been playing together with a loaded rifle. The accident occurred some 20 miles up the Little Salmon river.

August, 1913.—It is with deep regret that I have to report the death by drowning in the White river of Reg. No. 3617. Constable Fitzgerald, M. J. Fitzgerald was on his way to the new detachment at Donjek on the steamer Vidette, in charge of a horse. When about six miles up the White river he went to assist the crew use a sweep to swing the barge around. The sweep caught in some 'sweepers,' knocking him off the barge into the water. Boats were at once lowered and he was picked up, floating face downwards. Every possible effort was made to resuscitate him but to no avail. The accident occurred on the 27th. Constable Fitzgerald was buried with military honours on the 31st.

On the 1st, a man named Ed. Nox walked into the guard-room, about 9.30 p.m., with his throat cut almost from ear to ear. He had gone to the Klondike Flats, as he says, to walk off a drunk, had cut his throat with a razor and then walked to barracks. He was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he recovered. A charge was placed against him in the police court, but he was dismissed with a caution.

On the 15th, an old man named Joseph Voulaveski, 60 years of age, was found in a tent five miles out on the Glacier trail, very ill. He had gone out there to pick berries. One of our patrols brought him to town and placed him in hospital.

On the 20th, the body of a man, or at least the skeleton, was found on a sand bar at Swede creek. From papers found I believe it to be the body of Captain J. Rehm, drowned off a raft on the 18th June, 1910. The body was buried at Swede creek.

On the 29th, J. J. Eliason fell down a shaft 40 feet deep on trail gulch and was badly injured. He was brought to the Good Samaritan hospital, but died shortly after. This case was investigated by Inspector Telford, who decided that death was caused by accident, and that an inquest was unnecessary.

In all cases of deaths resulting from accident or suicide the estates of deceased are invariably turned over to the Public Administrator.

Early in September, a young lady named Miss Grahn, who was being brought from Fairbanks by friends who were escorting her to Seattle, on account of her being slightly out of her mind, jumped off the steamer Alaska and was supposed to have been drowned. Some 50 hours later she was found on a sand bar by the crew of the steamer Schwatka, near the mouth of Charlie creek, ten miles below Eagle City, Alaska, and brought to Dawson and handed over to friends, who took her outside. She had jumped overboard clad only in a thin kimona. Her feet and hands were somewhat frozen, but otherwise she did not appear to have suffered to any great extent.

INDIANS.

Drunkenness amongst the Indians is a source of continual trouble, more especially around Dawson. When arrested they have been let off with light fines for which they care but little.

Early this month a haul of five was got at one time; these were given 30 days' imprisonment with hard labour each, which I hope will have a salutary effect. Imprisonment is the only thing which has any effect. There are certain men who will sell liquor to Indians, knowing the ruling of the court that evidence of Indians unsupported by that of a white man will not be accepted against a white man.

Rations to indigent Indians are now issued direct by the Indian Department, except in outlying districts where the Police still attend to any cases requiring relief. This saves a lot of clerical work for both departments.

The Indian question is a difficult one to handle here as there are no reserves and no law preventing them—men and women—from going where they please. The women are all more or less diseased, and their morals are lax, to say the least. They are kept out of town as much as possible, but it is only by 'bluff.'

There has been no epidemic disease amongst them during the year.

BUILDINGS, REPAIRS, RENEWALS.

Repairs throughout barracks were made from time to time as required. A new floor was laid in the main guard-room. The two Quartermaster stores, 110 feet by 30 feet and 80 feet by 30 feet, were moved from the front of the barrack square and placed alongside of the old laundry on the south side of square. Two squares were laid out on the space between the wood yard and stables, and fenced with three strand wire and top rail. The fence in front of barracks erected last fall was continued to meet that at the back of the office building. A square, corresponding with that in front of offices, was laid out and fenced with wire netting and top rail in front of barrack building. All these, as well as the ground on which the quarter-master stores had stood, were seeded down with grass and clover, with a mother crop of oats. From this two tons of oat hay have been taken on the books for forage. The market value of this is $85 per ton.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Trees were planted along all the fences. The roads were straightened out and gravelled; sidewalk relaid where required; the old lunatic asylum building, which has not been used for about five years and which was utterly unfit to confine anyone in, was pulled down, and the lumber used to build a coal shed, repair sidewalks and stable floors, etc. A good verandah was built on the barrack room building by prison labour. This adds greatly to the appearance of the post and will be a comfort to the men in summer.

A part of the old log building formerly used as Division store and office has been fitted up to use as an asylum for any insane person who is too noisy to confine in the guard-room. A ward has been fitted up in the jail for any sick prisoner who can be attended to there and whose case is not sufficiently bad to necessitate having to be sent to a hospital.

Coal-burning furnaces have been installed in all quarters under contract, at a cost of $2,247. It is estimated that the annual saving on fuel account by the substitution of coal for wood will amount to between $4,000 and $5,000.

The instalment of a sewerage system throughout barracks, with flush closets in the various quarters not previously provided with same, was authorized and a contract let for the sum of $1,883, the Police doing all excavating by prison labour. An arrangement was made with the Department of Public Works whereby our department is to be paid the sum of $600 in consideration of a sewer from the Administration building being connected with the barrack system, thus reducing the cost to the Police to $1,283. To this is to be added about $100 for lumber for box culverts, etc. There has been considerable delay in obtaining the necessary fittings, but the work will be completed early in October. Lavatories in the sergeants quarters and barrack rooms were installed last fall.

The bridge across the slough, inside barrack grounds, was re-floored last fall with half logs (sawed through the centre lengthwise). This makes a good flooring, covered with gravel.

Water pipes for winter service, hot-water tank in kitchen, and bath were installed in Inspector E. Telford's quarters; part was done by contract and part by prison labour.

Water was laid on in stables and guard-room, giving a year-round supply.

Part of the buildings are shingled. These will require extensive repairs next year, as they leak badly. I would strongly recommend that they be covered with steel shingles. These would not require to be painted for two years, being painted when they leave the factory; also there is no danger of a roof catching fire from cinders or sparks.

All buildings throughout the barracks, with the exception of the barrack room and canteen building, are merely balloon frames lined with cotton, and papered the ceilings being the same; such buildings are regular fire traps. I would strongly recommend that the cotton and paper be pulled out and 'beaver board' lining substituted. If this is not done, all the quarters and offices will be required to be repapered next year.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The entire barracks here and at Whitehorse are in much need of repainting as far as the frame buildings are concerned; the log buildings require to be colour-washed only.

Estimates for these repairs, painting, etc., are attached hereto.

CANTEEN.

The canteen is in good condition; the stock on hand is small but sufficient for all requirements.

CLOTHING AND KIT.

Quality of supplies received has been good. When requisitions are filled there will be sufficient for present requirements.

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

The conduct and discipline has, as a whole, been satisfactory. One constable deserted while on escort duty with a lunatic to New Westminster; he was no loss to the force. One N.C. Officer was reduced ten places for over-staying his furlough.

One constable was dismissed, having been convicted for assault in the police court. One constable was dismissed by your order for a second offence of intoxication.

DETACHMENTS.

The number of detachments has been increased owing to the gold strike at Chesana, on the United States side of the line.

Most of the travel to the new diggings is through Canadian territory, via the White river, and also from Whitehorse via Kluahne trail.

Our detachments are situated as follows:—

Pelly Crossing.—Open winter months only, one N. C. officer or constable and single horse.

Mayo.—Open all the year, one constable and single horse.

Forty Mile.—Open all the year, one N.C. officer.

Carcross.—Open all the year, one constable.

Scroggie.—Open all the year, one constable and single horse.

Granville.—Open summer months only, one constable, one horse.

Donjek.—(White River) new detachment, one N.C. officer, one constable and single horse.

Boundary.—(White River) new detachment, one N.C. officer and two constables.

Snag.—(White River) new detachment, one constable.

Kluahne.—New detachment, one constable, single horse.

Town Station, Dawson.—Open all year, one N.C. officer, two constables.

Town Station, Whitehorse.—Open all year, one N.C. officer.

Whitehorse.—One inspector, one sergeant, four constables, one special and five horses.

It will be necessary to place a detachment on the Coffey Creek trail from the Yukon river to the Donjek this winter, and also a constable at the mouth of the

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

White river. Everything will depend on the amount of travel to and from the head of White river.

DRILL AND TRAINING.

Owing to the few men here, drill was impossible.

DISTRIBUTION OF STRENGTH.

DOGS.

There are only three dogs in the Division now. They are at Whitehorse, and instructions have been given to sell them at $40 each. There is hardly a place where horses cannot do better work than dogs. The cost of keeping a team of four dogs is from $300 to $400 per year—in some places more than this. During the year six dogs were sold, three at $20 each, and three at $50 each.

FORAGE.

Local contractors supplied the forage, which was of excellent quality; the price is about twenty per cent less than last year.

FIRE AND FIRE PROTECTION.

Standards, practically miniature hydrants, are being placed in all quarters throughout barracks, with rubber hose attached, so that a stream of water can be turned on at a moment's notice in case of fire. There are fire extinguishers and fire buckets, but the former are very unsatisfactory, frequently failing to work at practice tests last winter. Outside of the above we depend entirely on the city fire department.

During the spring and early summer there were numerous forest fires. The heavy rains in July, and after, put them out without much damage being done.

FUEL AND LIGHT.

Coal will be used here in place of wood, and it is estimated that the fuel account will be cut in two. The quality of the coal obtained from the Tantalus coal mines is excellent.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The electric light here and at Whitehorse has been satisfactory. The Dawson Electric Light and Power Co. has been taken over by the Granville Power Co., although still operating under the old name. The new management practically reduced the rates one half.

HARNESS AND SADDLERY.

One new set of light double harness was received during the year. All our harness is old, and requires repairing frequently. It is not safe. A set of light harness is required at Whitehorse.

GAME.

Game is very plentiful this year, with the exception of grouse. An immense herd of cariboo crossed the Glacier trail between the Twenty-four and Forty-one roadhouses during the past month (September). Moose are plentiful in the Forty-mile and White River districts; ducks, geese and ptarmigan are very numerous.

A very large number of live foxes have been exported during the year, sold to various persons starting breeding farms.

This although giving large sums to Indians and trappers, at the present time, will have an injurious effect on the fur trade in the future. Indians depend largely on the catch of fur for their living, and every litter of foxes captured and taken out of the country means so many less to breed next year.

Game birds are protected in all the provinces, and cannot be shipped out, and the preservation of fur-bearing animals is of even greater importance.

The law permitting the exporting of such only enables a few men or companies to make large profits at the expense of the natives who, if trapping fails, will eventually have to be fed by the Government.

HEALTH.

Acting Assistant Surgeon J. O. Lachapelle deals fully with this in his report attached hereto. The health of all ranks has been excellent. There have been no epidemics in the Territory.

HORSES.

There are twenty-nine horses at present on charge; of these five have been sold but are not yet struck off the strength, making our actual total twenty-four.

A draft of six team and six saddle horses arrived from Regina in August. These are turning out well.

Seven horses and nine ponies in all were sold. The new strike at Chesana sent values up, and good prices were obtained. Two teams sold here realized, respectively, $560 and $465, a single horse $250 and a pony $125. At Whitehorse two horses brought $200 each, and nine ponies at $100 each. Such prices could not be obtained in ordinary times.

INSPECTIONS.

Detachments have been inspected by an officer as frequently as possible during the year. The post at Dawson is inspected weekly by the commanding officer, and daily by the orderly officer.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

LOSS AND GAIN.

The strength of the Division on the 30th September, 1912, was:—

Superintendent.. . . .	1
Inspectors.. . . .	3
Staff sergeants.. . . .	3
Sergeants.. . . .	6
Corporals.. . . .	3
Constables.. . . .	18
Special constables.. . . .	3
Total.. . . .	37

The present strength is:

Superintendent.. . . .	1
Inspectors.. . . .	2
Staff sergeants.. . . .	3
Sergeants.. . . .	5
Corporals.. . . .	2
Constables.. . . .	27
Special constables.. . . .	3
Total.. . . .	43

A total gain of 6. Against this gain four new detachments have been placed, employing one sergeant and one corporal and five constables, total seven, so that even counting the two drafts of sixteen men, the actual number of men available for patrols and other duties is one less than we had last year. One constable takes his discharge next April. Our strength should be at least fifty N. C. officers and constables, independent of specials. More detachments should be placed throughout the territory. At present anything might happen at some of the camps, and unless a civilian came in to report it would be unknown to the Police. Detachments could be placed advantageously at Selkirk, Champagnes Landing, Livingstone creek and Miller creek, which would patrol these districts.

PATROLS.

A patrol was made during the winter of 1912-13 to Fort Macpherson by Reg. No. 3193, Sergeant Dempster, W. J. D., (in charge); Reg. No. 4709, Corporal Schutz, F. W.; Reg. No. 5316, Constable Phillips, C. W.; Special Constable Turner, F.; and Indian Guide John Martin, with four dog teams. The snow was unusually deep, but the trip was made without trouble. Caches of feed had been placed along the trail. A copy of Sergeant Dempster's report is attached hereto.

Frequent patrols were made from Dawson and Whitehorse, and the country thoroughly patrolled by the various detachments. The patrols from Dawson during the summer camped out.

MINING.

Operations throughout the Yukon have been very successful during the past season, the output being considerably in excess of last year.

The keystone drills have been kept busy testing ground; the two large dredges of the Canadian-Klondyke Mining Co. were completed during last winter and commenced work this spring.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The quartz mining in Mayo district is rapidly developing, and the outlook is most promising for future work. The Scroggie district is also turning out well.

Most encouraging prospects have been obtained from the White river, and the district is rich in free milling quartz, bearing gold, silver and copper. Coal of good quality has also been found there.

The Five Fingers Coal Co. have made extensive improvements and additions to their plant at Tantalus. All coal is now well washed and screened, and is of first-class quality. It is bituminous. Next year the output will have to be largely increased to meet the growing demands. New fields are being discovered, and old prospects developed. The development of the mining industry depends now on obtaining reasonably cheap transportation.

The Lone Star mine is now on a paying basis, and the outlook for the future is bright.

During the past year the Yukon Gold Co. dismantled one of their dredges and shipped it to the Iditarod. This company has seven of these gold-dredging machines in operation in Yukon; the Canadian-Klondike Co. have four, and there are two in the Forty-mile district, a total of thirteen for the territory.

There are seventeen hydraulic plants in operation, two more than reported last year, these having been installed in the Miller district.

The machine shops of the Yukon Gold Co. and the Canadian-Klondike Co. employ about sixty men each during the season; these are all skilled mechanics. The average number of men employed by the first-mentioned company is seven hundred, while the latter company employ on an average one hundred and fifty.

A very valuable quartz ledge was discovered and opened on Dublin gulch, in the McQuesten mining district. One claim in this gulch sold for $50,000. Difficulties of transportation is holding this very promising locality back.

I regret to report that the Sixty-mile district, which saw such a large stampede last year, has not turned out as well as prospects promised, although there is quite a community of prospectors in the district yet who have not lost their faith in the ultimate success of the district.

Placer mining in the Mayo and Duncan districts is being carried on very successfully, but in a very quiet manner. While phenomenal pay dirt is not the rule, still, the operators are getting much better than wages.

A fairly large number of men will again winter on Scroggie creek, and I have no doubt that several large dumps will be got out. The impression still prevails that individual mining in this country is a thing of the past, that all the ground is either in possession of large companies or is at least bonded to them; such is not the case, there are vast tracts of mineral ground in Yukon open for prospecting and location, but the great difficulty experienced here is that the average man will not take an outfit and go prospecting, but will wait for others to do this and then join in the resulting stampede and take chances on obtaining good ground. There are scores of men working individual claims on the following creeks: Quartz, Scroggie, Black Hills, Thistle, Henderson, Mariposa, Britannia, Gold Run, Bonanza, Clear, Highet, Stewart, Nansen, Haggart, Duncan, Excelsior, Forty-mile, Glacier, Miller, Trail, etc., while I am glad to say there are many men out in the hills prospecting.

With regard to the new strike in the Chesana country, on the American side of the boundary, I am not in a position to give much detail. Large numbers of men are going in via Dawson, Fairbanks, Kluahne, Cordova and Valdez. The new diggings are shallow and the creeks narrow. The whole country has been staked, and I believe a considerable amount of blanketing has been done. Reports received here would indicate that numbers of claims have been jumped, but of course this has nothing to do with us. As far as the Canadian side is concerned, all the stampederes who have returned are of one opinion that the prospects and general lay of the country gives better indications for mining than on the American side, and scores of men are now waiting at the mouth of White, Coffey and Donjek for the freeze-up so they can get their outfits up and thoroughly prospect this new country.

A creek on the Canadian side in the White River district is showing good prospects. It has been named 'Goodfellow,' and already about 150 claims have been staked. Gold has been found on three or four claims beside 'Discovery.' Some 'pups' have also been staked. Although the Chesana strike is on the American side, it will be the means of taking a large number of prospectors into the country, and the White River country will be thoroughly prospected.

RAILWAYS.

The Klondike Mines railway has been hauling night and day, all fund supplies for the Yukon Gold Co., and Canadian-Klondike Mining Co.

The White Pass Co. is daily hauling heavy trains of ore from the Pueblo mines to Skagway.

SUPPLIES.

Quality of the supplies received from Ottawa and Regina, as well as locally, is excellent.

TRANSPORT.

Transport, both here and at Whitehorse, was thoroughly overhauled and most of it painted during the fall and winter, the work being performed by prison labour. Any not painted last winter will be done this year.

Two or three light jumpers will be required for detachment work this winter; they can be procured locally.

The gasoline launch was in commission during the summer, and did good service. She is now laid up for the winter at Hootalinqua, where she was taken under her own power, instead of as formerly on a White Pass Co. barge. This affected a very considerable saving.

The launch Gladys was sold this summer. The gasoline launch would answer well on the lakes and be of service there. She draws too much water for the side streams off the Yukon river, and has not sufficient power. I would strongly recommend that she be placed at Carcross and another light-draft powerful boat be supplied for this service. Such a boat should not draw more than eighteen inches at the most. A gasoline scow having her propeller shaft hinged on a universal joint was built at Whitehorse this summer, and has been found to answer perfectly on the White river, which is swift and shallow. She carries between five and six tons of freight.

It has been clearly proved that automobiles can travel the trails to the creeks in this district. With the improvements on the overland trail to Whitehorse an auto will be able to make good time. If one was supplied to this post two teams of horses could be done away with. The keep of two teams amounts to about $1,600 per annum, so that without counting the first cost of horses, shoeing, cost of harness, wagons, etc., and keeping same in repair, the cost of a first-class motor car would soon be paid for. Gasoline can be laid down via St. Michael, by water, at 46½ cents per gallon. There would be an immense saving of time and consequently a decrease in expenses, as what, with horses, takes at least three days could be done in one day easily. The saving in the board at roadhouses would almost pay for the cost of the gasoline used on each trip. The Yukon Gold Co. use two large cars, and the Canadian-Klondike Mining Co. two touring cars, and this summer the latter company imported a number of trucks to carry their supplies to dredges, etc., and are giving up horses to a great extent. There is no doubt that the saving would be considerable, to say nothing of the much more efficient service obtained.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Damages Caused by Dawson Fires.

During the year there were forty fires, damage from which approximated $82,012.

Attached are reports from Inspector A. E. Acland, in command of the Whitehorse sub-district; Acting Assistant Surgeon J. O. Lachapelle; Reg. No. 3193, Sergeant Dempster, W. J. D., in charge of Macpherson patrol.

In conclusion, I have pleasure in bringing to your notice the hearty co-operation of all ranks in carrying on the work of the Division. Inspector E. Telford has performed the duties of coroner, as well as his other duties, and has given me the greatest assistance at all times.

I have already previously brought to your notice the good work done by Reg. No. 328, Sergeant Major Evans, O. W., in the removal of the quartermaster stores from river front, and generally in the extensive alterations and usual duties in the post. I am pleased to say that his work has been appreciated, and that he was confirmed in the rank of sergeant major from the 1st April, 1913.

I would also bring to your notice again the excellent work done by Reg. No. 2628, Sergeant Mapley, H. G., in the case of the dynamiting of the Yukon Gold Co. dredge No. 4 last February, which resulted in the arrest and conviction of Jacob Neilson.

Under 'Repairs and Renewals,' I omitted to report that the flooring downstairs in the offices and canteen building requires renewing. They are in very bad shape.

Under 'Transport' I mention that gasoline could be purchased outside and brought here via St. Michael for 46½ cents per gallon. This would mean a great saving, considering the amount of gasoline used each year, as our contract price is 80 cents per gallon.

I have the honour to be, sir,

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

CONDUCT OF PRISONERS.

The conduct of the prisoners has been very good. There have been six cases of breaches of discipline, which were dealt with by the officer commanding, as warden of the penitentiary and jail; of these breaches, two were committed by Stott, J. E., and one by Sheehan, O., both of whom were discharged, time expired. Penitentiary Prisoner Cunningham, W.G., made his escape last month; this prisoner was previously serving a sentence of two years and was a prisoner at large when he was released on ticket-of-leave last winter. His character had been exceptionally good, and upon his return here he was again made a prisoner at large and on the morning of the 21st August, when sent to light the fire in the laundry he made his escape. Penitentiary Prisoner Nielson was serving a sentence of 20 years and, becoming insane, was transferred to the Penitentiary at Kingston, Ont. Common Jail Prisoner Walker Maria, Indian woman, was sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment on the 6th January, 1913, and was released on the 9th of the same month on account of bad health; she was suffering from advanced tuberculosis. There has been a marked increase in the number of cases of intoxication among the Indians. Six of the prisoners at present confined are Indians serving one month for this offence.

The general health of the prisoners has been good.

PRISON FOOD.

The quality of the food supplied the jail is first class, and the quantity is sufficient. There is no kitchen attachment to the jail, and the meals are cooked by the cook of the Division mess. This has proved quite satisfactory.

PRISON LABOUR.

A considerable amount of work has been done during the past year in connection with the many improvements around the barracks. Among other work done was the shifting of the warehouse and other buildings and stores. A ditch has been dug from the Administration building to the water front for the pipe which will carry the sewerage from the Administration building, residence of the officer commanding, residence of Inspector Telford and the guard-room.

Much time and labour has also been spent in carting gravel from the water front to the roads in the barrack square, which are now in excellent condition.

PRISON CLOTHING.

The clothing issued the prisoners is supplied by the Quartermaster Store and is of good quality; their garb consists of a coat and trousers of black and white check, about one and a quarter inches square, which is very conspicuous.

JAIL BUILDING.

All the buildings are in good repair; the laundry attached to the prison was erected entirely by prison labour; a new flooring has also been placed in the jail. A great improvement has been made in the heating arrangements, the old furnaces having been removed and replaced by McClary's furnaces, which burn coal instead of wood, which was formerly in use here. So far these furnaces have given satisfaction.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

LUNATICS.

There have been three insane male patients confined here, all of them having been transferred to the asylum at New Westminster. One, Brown, J., was an epileptic who had developed a mania for destroying churches. Wilson, A. S., was an exceedingly violent case and appeared to be suffering from acute mania. Bourke, J. B., was suffering from dementia, which was probably due to the excessive use of alcohol in the past. Penitentiary Prisoner Neilson became insane after his conviction, he was morose and taciturn, his mind wandered and he appeared indifferent to his surroundings. He was escorted this month to the penitentiary at Kingston, Ont.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant.

Acting Provost.

Dawson, Y.T., September 19, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
 'B' Division R. N. W. M. Police,
 Dawson, Y.T.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward herewith, the annual medical report of 'B' Division, Dawson, Y.T., for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The number of cases treated (not including the jail) was twenty-three. The general health of the Division was excellent, no cases of serious illness or accidents occurring.

I regret to have to report one death, that of Regimental No. 3617, Constable Fitzgerald, M. J., who was drowned accidentally in the White river on the 27th of August.

The number of cases treated in the guard-room was twenty-four; of these nine were penitentiary prisoners, eleven common jail, and four insane. There were no cases of contagious, infectious or serious diseases. Three insane were committed and sent to the asylum at New Westminster; and one was discharged.

Convict No 8 'Neilson' went insane and was transferred to the penitentiary at Kingston.

The barracks are in good sanitary condition. The installation of flush closets and a drainage system will be of material advantage from a health point of view. The various quarters are comfortable, the recent installation of coal burning furnaces being a decided improvement to the old wood furnaces.

A classified list of cases treated is attached.

I have the honour to be, sir,
 Your obedient servant,

J. O. LACHAPELLE,
Act. Assistant Surgeon.

APPENDIX B.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR A. E. ACLAND, COMMANDING WHITEHORSE SUB-DISTRICT.

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., October 1, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'B' Division, R. N. W. M. Police,
Dawson, Y.T.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following as the annual report of the Whitehorse Sub-district of 'B' Division, for the year ending September 30, 1913:—

GENERAL STATE OF THE DISTRICT.

Business of all kinds has shown an increase during the year, on account of greater activity in mining, both in quartz and placer; this has attracted a number of miners and prospectors from the outside and other mining districts in the country.

ASSISTANCE TO OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Members of this detachment, assisted by a female searcher, have performed the duties of searching passengers and baggage at Whitehorse en route to the outside, for gold dust, in connection with the Yukon Mining Act.

Sick and destitute Indians have been looked after and furnished with necessary supplies, and a constable at Kluahne will assist the Customs by inspecting and checking goods in bond, en route to the new placer strike in the Chisana district in Alaska.

All information and assistance possible has been given to the Immigration Inspector at the White Pass Summit, in regard to undesirables, etc., endeavouring to enter the country by that route.

ARMS.

The annual revolver practice was carried out in August. The ammunition used this year was of good quality; there were no miss-fires. The rifle practice was not held, lack of time to practice, owing to shortage of men, was the reason.

CRIME.

There was a decrease in cases entered this year, and but few of the cases entered were of a serious nature. A number of complaints of thefts from Carmacks and the Nansen Creek district by persons unknown, has, I think, been now cleared up by a conviction for theft of gold dust and money from a store at Carmacks. The general state of the district in this respect is good, but the outlying camps should be patrolled more often than can be done with the present strength.

DESTITUTES.

There have been no applications for relief here this year, except for Indians, but on account of the stampede to the Chesana, and the fact that many have gone in without sufficient supplies, I am of the opinion relief may be asked of our detachment at Kluahne.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

HEALTH.

The health of the detachment has been good, there have been no cases of a serious nature. One case of scarlet fever occurred in Whitehorse during the summer; this case was isolated, and recovered.

HORSES.

There are seven horses on charge here, five being in post, and one on detachment at Kluahne, and one pack horse, strayed. During the year eight pack ponies, and two horses were sold, bringing good prices; two were transferred to Dawson, and three were received from Regina, and one struck off; this sub-district is now well horsed, with the class of horse required here.

TRANSPORT.

All wheeled and sleigh transport is in good repair, being overhauled by our own men from time to time, and necessary minor repairs made. A new 'double ender' sleigh will have to be purchased for the Kluahne detachment.

The launch Gladys was sold during the year.

STORES.

The stores have been thoroughly gone through the past year, and a number of articles not required here have been shipped to Dawson and Regina.

The provisions, forage, fuel and light purchased under contract have been satisfactory.

PATROLS.

Patrols to the outlying districts have been made when possible but, owing to the shortage of men, the outlying camps have not been patrolled as often as desirable, and a large part of the district, Teslin, has not been patrolled at all.

DETACHMENTS.

The detachment at Carcross was withdrawn last winter and one established at Champagnes Landing, for the winter, and when travel was resumed this spring, the Carcross detachment was opened and Champagnes closed. A detachment was opened at Kluahne lake in September, 1913, on account of travel to Chesana via that route; only one man could be spared for this detachment.

MINING.

Mining generally is on a better plane than last year, over forty thousand tons of copper ore have been shipped during the past year from the Pueblo mine, and the developments made during that time have proved the existence of large ore bodies in the mine. At the Engineer mine, near Carcross, large bodies of gold-bearing quartz, of a high grade, have been opened up, a two-stamp mill is installed at the mine, and as high as 163 ounces of free gold was stamped out in 24 hours' run; this, of course, was from picked samples. Other properties in that district have been further developed this year.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

The placer stampede from the coast to the Teslin country last spring did not locate any strike there.

The present stampede to the Chesana, Alaska, appears to have a good foundation, and a large number of people will undoubtedly use the Canadian routes this winter in freighting supplies to that district.

New interest is being taken in some of the old placer camps, and they are being gone over again, and being prospected for dredging ground.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. E. ACLAND, Inspector,
Commanding Whitehorse Sub-District.

APPENDIX C.

SERGEANT W. J. D. DEMPSTER'S PATROL FROM DAWSON TO FORT MACPHERSON AND RETURN.

DAWSON, Y.T., March 22, 1913.

Officer Commanding
'B' Division, R.N.W.M.P.,
Dawson, Y.T.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report re Patrol from Dawson to Fort Macpherson and return, season of 1913.

Our transport consisted of four dog teams of five dogs each, and four toboggans.

Reg. No. 2628, Corporal Mapley, H. G., with team, accompanied us to the mouth of the Twelve-mile river, a distance of eighteen miles from Dawson, where we loaded up our toboggans.

We lost one day here, as one of the horses played out and Corporal Mapley was obliged to leave his load, going back for it on the following day.

We carried some 50 pounds of mail for Macpherson and Herschel island.

We followed the same route generally as in former years, and arrived at Macpherson shortly after noon of the 8th of February, having been thirty-eight days on the trail.

We remained at Macpherson seventeen days.

On our return trip we left Macpherson on the 26th February, with 30 pounds of mail, and arrived in Dawson shortly after noon of the 17th of March, having been twenty days on the home trip.

INDIANS.

On our outward trip we met one family on the Blackstone river at Willow Grove, and four families at Poplar Grove on Xmas creek. They were all well supplied with cariboo meat. Most of the Indians that roam the Hart and Blackstone rivers were at this time camped westward of the Blackstone river a little further down than we go and I did not see them, but heard that they were killing sufficient cariboo to keep them well supplied.

We met one family a few miles up Trail river, heading this way. They did not have much grub. They told us that a big bunch of Peel Indians were camped at the mouth of the river, but on our arrival there they had left and gone up the Peel river. They had been camped there all fall and had killed four moose some time previously, but were then short of grub.

Three families were living in their cabins in the vicinity of the fort and were existing chiefly on rabbits.

On our homeward trip we passed one family on Trail river. These had left the fort about a week before us; they had very little grub and I gave them as much bacon and flour as I could spare from our supplies. They followed us to the Peel (south end of the Big portage) where another family were camped (a young Indian with his wife, mother and blind father). These had killed two moose the day before we came up to them.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

At the mouth of Hungry creek, Martin found a letter from some Indian telling him that three of them were working for Joe Taylor the trader, whose tent was near the mouth of the creek. We found the tent a short way up the creek and camped in it. Taylor and his party were up the creek and as they did not return that night we did not see them.

On Waugh creek, Martin received a letter telling him that five or six families had moved from the Blackstone and were then camped up the Hart river about 15 miles above where we strike it, and that they had killed 14 moose.

We met Neil MacDonald, half-breed (son of the archdeacon), at the head of Michelle creek. He had four dogs and was apparently doing nothing more than catching rabbits to feed himself and dogs. He had left Dawson early in February.

TRAILS.

We had a fairly good trail to the head of the Twelve-mile river; from there to Xmas creek it was drifted. After leaving the Indian camp at this point we had no more trail until we were near the end of our journey, near the mouth of Trail river. On the Yukon side of the divide the snow was deep, but on the other side, along the Blackstone river, Michelle creek, Hart river and Waugh creek the snow was not very deep but was getting noticeably deeper as we approached the Wind river and along these rivers and the Big Portage it was unusually deep, and there was also more or less of a crust on it which made it harder work breaking trail.

This year, leaving Mountain creek we followed a different route for three or four miles. To cross the mountain range paralleling the creek, we left the creek a short distance lower down than the usual point. Some Indians had told us of this pass some years ago and I thought I would try it. I found that it is not nearly so steep or so high as the pass we have hitherto used, but am doubtful if anything is gained by it as on the lower part of it there was so much fallen timber and thick willows to cut through.

The weather being fairly clear and mild we went across the Cariboo-born Mountain, striking Trail river about 13 miles from the mouth instead of keeping up the Cariboo river and around the mountain for the head of Trail river, and saved thereby nearly two days' travel.

WEATHER.

For the first three weeks the weather was cold, bitterly so at times, and for days there was a thick fog in the valleys and a cloud of steam around the dogs. On the 23rd of January the weather got cloudy and warmer and for the remainder of the trip we had nice weather. On the home trip we had nice weather throughout, the last week being a little cold. There has not been so much wind as usual through the country we travelled, as all the way along the trees were heavily laden with snow and even when we came home there was still a lot of snow on the trees. Snow fell on eight days on the outward trip and six days on the home trip. About one foot had fallen between our going and coming. I was informed that the average temperature at Macpherson for the month of January was -40° .

DOGS.

All told we had twenty dogs, sixteen of which were hired and four were Police dogs. There were more and worse cases of sore feet among the dogs this year than usual. Some of them got their feet badly frozen and I was compelled to purchase a blanket from Martin to make dog moccasins. Two of the hired dogs had their feet so badly frozen that they would have been unfit for further work this season and I destroyed them. Another one not quite so bad but unfit for the return, I traded with Inspector Beyts. I purchased two to replace those destroyed at Macpherson.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Another dog got sick on the home trip; he would not eat, but we kept him with us until, finally, though running loose, he lay down and refused to move, and I had it destroyed. One dog we carried on the sled the last day to the Twelve-mile and left it at the roadhouse. It could not keep up.

GAME.

With the exception of a few cariboo tracks on the Blackstone, we saw no game, or even tracks, until reaching the lower part of the Little Wind river, and along here cariboo tracks were abundant. Martin followed some fresh tracks and shot five cariboo, a most welcome addition to our supplies, giving us nearly five days' feed for the dogs and fresh meat for ourselves. Along the Big Wind and Mountain creek, moose appeared to be numerous.

Ptarmigan were plentiful all along the route, but most of the time were rather wild.

Rabbits too were very plentiful.

PROVISIONS.

Our provisions were of the best quality, and ample. Our dog feed consisted of dried king salmon and dried cariboo. The dried meat was purchased from the Indians on Xmas creek and Michelle.

GENERAL.

All members of the patrol performed their work in a very satisfactory manner.

The outward trip this winter was much harder than usual on account of the cold weather and deep snow. The toboggans pulled very hard and most of the time we had to push behind or pull with the dogs to help them along. Even on the Twelve-mile and on the Glaciers, where there was very little snow in places, and where we generally expect to make time, it was the same. It was more like pulling over sand than snow.

I neither saw nor heard anything of Knorr, the Bonnetplume quartz man.

The Macpherson detachment has built a good cabin near the mouth of Trail river. I took one day's feed for the dogs, from the cache on the outward trip.

Regarding our supplies at Hart river, John Martin has built a good cache there and put our supplies into it; it is now as secure as it is possible to make it against any animals, excepting squirrels and mice. Of course, Martin uses this cache for his own supplies as well, ours occupying one corner of it. He keeps the door locked and the key is left in the cabin.

There were about 300 pounds of fish left, and of this I took 60 pounds on the home trip. The other supplies were intact.

Last fall, Martin built a cabin at Poplar grove on the Xmas creek. This cabin will be very convenient for us as there is such a poor camping place there, and very little dry wood, and we are generally forced to camp there on account of the distance to next timber.

The Edmonton packet arrived about the 20th of February. I met Joe Taylor at the mouth of the Twelve-mile and cautioned him with respect to the killing of cariboo and caching it for dog-feed.

At the Yukon Gold Co.'s plant on the Twelve-mile we were accommodated both going and coming by Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, whose kindness on this and former occasions we very much appreciated.

The part that works the extractor of the shot-gun broke off the first day we used it. We had fired four or five shots and were opening the gun to extract the shells when it broke off.

The following is a copy of my diary:—

Thursday, January 2, 1913.—Left Dawson at 10 a.m. on patrol to Fort Macpherson. The following are members of the party: Sergeant Dempster, W. J. D., Corporal Schutz, F. W., Constable Philips, C. W., Special Constable Turner and John Martin (Indian), with four teams of five dogs each. Corporal Mapley, with team of horses, accompanied us to the mouth of the Twelve-mile river, hauling the greater part of our supplies. The horses played out at the 16th mile and Corporal Mapley was obliged to leave his load. Arrived with the dog teams at 6.30 p.m. Corporal Mapley and Constable Philips not having arrived at 8.30 p.m., I and Special Turner went out to look for them. Met Corporal Mapley near the roadhouse and Philips, with the horses, about one mile up river. They had lost the trail. Returned at 9.30 p.m. Heavy trail with strong head wind all day.

Distance travelled, 18 miles.

Friday, January 3.—40° a.m., -45° p.m.; clear and calm. Went to the Sixteen-mile to get in the load left last night by Corporal Mapley. The snow had drifted and packed into the trail coming off the portage and we had to shovel it out for the distance of about fifty yards. Returned to the Twelve-mile and loaded up the toboggans. Considered it too late to make a start this afternoon. Saw Joe Taylor the trader and cautioned him re the killing of cariboo and making caches.

Saturday, January 4.—49° a.m., -28 p.m.; clear and calm. Left the Twelve-mile roadhouse at 8.30 a.m. The trail was drifted full for four miles. Nooned one hour; made the Ten-mile cabin at 2.40 p.m., and camped. All the dogs were very tired. Lanced dog 'Ginger's' leg.

Distance travelled, 10 miles.

Sunday, January 5.—40° a.m., -28 p.m.; clear and calm. Left camp at 8.40 a.m., and made the twenty-mile cabin at 2.20 p.m.; had a pretty fair trail.

Distance travelled, 10 miles.

Monday, January 6.—25°; clear and calm. Left camp at 8.30 a.m.; made the power-house early in the afternoon and stayed there. Received a letter from the O.C.B. by phone instructing me to hire extra Indians if necessary to break trail.

Distance travelled, 10 miles.

Tuesday, January 7.—15° a.m., -22 p.m.; clear and calm. Left the power-house at 9.30 a.m. Struck water on the Little Glacier and had to go through it; changed footwear; camped at 3.15 p.m. about 3 miles below the Big Glacier. Fair trail.

Distance travelled, about 14 miles.

Wednesday, January 8.—36° a.m., -22 p.m.; clear and calm. Broke camp and started at 8 a.m. There was no water on the Big glacier. Camped in last timber at head of the twelve-mile at 2.40 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 16 miles.

Thursday, January 9.—32° a.m., -28 p.m.; cold and clear. Broke camp and started at 8 a.m. That little arrangement which works the extractor of the shot-gun broke to-day. Had a good trail. Made Michelle's cabin at 2.30 p.m. and camped.

Distance travelled, about 16 miles.

Friday, January 10.—32° a.m., -40 p.m.; clear and cold. Left camp at 8 a.m. The trail to-day was drifted and heavy all day. It kept getting colder and was -48 at noon. There was a thick fog hanging in the valley all day. Made Willow Grove at 2.30 p.m. and camped there. There are five Indians camped here, going down the Blackstone later on. Had killed eight cariboo.

Distance travelled, about 15 miles.

Saturday, January 11.—32°; snowing p.m. Left camp at 8.10 a.m. It was heavy pulling over the hills to Xmas creek, which we made early in the afternoon and camped in Martin's cabin. It is too far to next timber to make this afternoon. I purchased some fresh meat, dried meat and one pair of snowshoes. There are four Indian families camped here. Martin built a cabin here last fall.

Distance travelled, about 10 miles.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Sunday, January 12.—15° a.m., and cloudy, -34 p.m.; cleared up. Broke camp and started at 8.30 a.m. There is no trail from here. The going has been heavy all day. Made Michelle summit at 11.30 a.m. and camped about six miles down Michelle at 3 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 10 miles.

Monday, January 13.—38° a.m., -48 noon, -50 p.m.; clear and cold. Thick steam in the valley. Left camp at 7.55 a.m. The going to-day was rough and heavy. It was getting colder all day. The snow seems gritty. and toboggans seem to pull very heavy. Travelling very slow. The dogs were very tired when we camped at 4 p.m., about 2 miles below Richards cabin. Corporal Schultz froze his toe slightly. Purchased 339 pounds of dried meat from Martin.

Distance travelled, about 16 miles.

Tuesday, January 14.—50° a.m., -48 p.m.; very cold, thick mist. Left camp at 8.30 a.m. Going heavy and slow; lost a little time in several places getting around water. Got part way up the Hart Mountain portage and camped at 2.30 p.m. The dogs were too tired to attempt making the summit. Martin and myself went on and broke trail to the brow of the hill on the other side, returning to camp at 5 p.m. The toboggans pull so heavy that in places where there is only an inch of snow we have to pull with the dogs all the time.

Distance travelled, about 10 miles.

Wednesday, January 15.—51° a.m., -52 p.m.; clear, very cold. Left camp at 8.15 a.m. We had a hard pull over the Hart Mountain portage. Made the cabin at Hart river at 2.45 p.m. and camped. The dogs were very tired. Am hoping to make better time from here, but if the weather does not moderate we will not do so.

Distance travelled, 7 miles.

Thursday, January 16.—55° a.m. Thermometer out of business p.m.; clear and very cold; misty. Started at 8.10 a.m. Had fair going part of the day, but lost a good deal of time avoiding water. Saw lots of wolf tracks along this (Waugh) Creek. Camped at 3.25 p.m. at foot of the first glacier.

Distance travelled, about 14 miles.

Friday, January 17.—Not quite so cold, very misty. Left camp at 8.10 a.m. Had fairly good going part of the day over the glaciers. The sleds still pulled heavy and we were moving slowly. The going was heavy across the portages and between glaciers; camped at 2.45 p.m. at the foot of the upper glacier on Waugh creek. It is too late to make the next timber on the divide.

Distance travelled, about 12 miles.

Saturday, January 18.—Weather about the same, very cold and misty. Left camp at 7.55 a.m. The going has been very heavy all day. There has not been a day since leaving the twelve mile that we have not had to pull with the dogs most of the time. The snow is not so very deep but it is old and gritty. The dogs are getting weary and sore. If this cold weather would let up we would make better time. There is no sign of game along here and every time hitherto we have seen either game or lots of tracks. It was a very cold morning with a little wind. Camped at 4 p.m. on the glacier at the head of Forrest creek.

Distance travelled, about 9 miles.

Sunday, January 19.—Very cold, strong cutting wind in the afternoon. Left camp at 7.50 a.m. Going still heavy all morning. Got down into the Little Wind river about 1 p.m. and had good going for a while. Turner's sled broke through the ice on the glacier; Turner went with it; the water was about a foot deep; changed footwear. There was a strong wind blowing. and it was bitterly cold. We had to go back some distance to get around the weak ice and lost some time. Camped on the Little Wind portage at 3.30 p.m. Martin and myself went on and broke trail to the next glacier.

Distance travelled, about 13 miles.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Monday, January 20.—Cold, with south wind a.m.; got a little warmer p.m. Left camp at 8.10 a.m. It was very foggy on the first glacier and it was flooding a good deal, but we managed to get around the water. Made the best day's run since the start. Camped at 4 p.m. on the right limit.

Distance travelled, about 24 miles.

Tuesday, January 21.—Very cold with a keen wind. Thick mist on the river. Started at 7.50 a.m. Had travelled about an hour when we came across some fresh cariboo tracks. Martin followed them up, the rest of us going on with the teams. Very heavy going to-day; the snow is getting deeper. Saw a lot more cariboo and some moose tracks. Camped at 3 p.m. about 1 mile from the Big Wind. Schutz and I went on and broke trail for some distance. Martin returned to camp shortly after 7 p.m., having killed five cariboo.

Distance travelled, about 13 miles.

Wednesday, January 22.—Very cold and misty. Left camp at 7.30 a.m. with four dog teams to haul in cariboo meat, leaving Phillips in camp. Returned to camp at 5.45 p.m. It has been bitterly cold all day. The cariboo were killed about fourteen miles from camp. Distance travelled, about 28 miles.

Thursday, January 23.—Cold in a.m.; clouded up, and got warmer in p.m. Lay over to-day to rest the dogs and do general repairs, etc. Martin and myself broke trail 5 miles down the Big Wind river in the afternoon.

Distance travelled (nil).

Friday, January 24.—Warmer to-day and cloudy with a light snowfall. Left camp at 7.45 a.m. Nooned at south end of the Portage. We find the snow to be much deeper along the Wind rivers; the sleds pulled much easier to-day. Camped at 4.45 p.m., about 3 miles south of Deception.

Distance travelled, about 17 miles.

Saturday, January 25.—Cloudy and foggy, moderate; light snowfall. Left camp at 8.10 a.m. Had fair going for a while and then got into deep snow which continued for the rest of the day. Camped on the right limit at 3.45 p.m. I purchased a blanket from Martin to make dog moccasins. The trees are heavily laden with snow, indicating that there has not been so much wind as usual.

Distance travelled, about 14 miles.

Sunday, January 26.—Moderate, with cold wind; light snowfall a.m., and night foggy. Left camp at 8 a.m. Deep snow and heavy going all day; camped at 3.35 p.m., about 3 miles from mouth of Big Wind. Some of the dogs are getting very sore-footed, but are working better than during the cold weather. We are making better time than through that part of the country where there was not much snow.

Distance travelled, about 16 miles.

Monday, January 27.—Moderate, snowing nearly all day; cold head wind. Left camp at 8.10 a.m.; made the Peel river at 10 a.m. The snow is very deep; it has been about the heaviest day's trail-breaking so far. Camped at 4 p.m. It has been a dirty, disagreeable day.

Distance travelled, about 15 miles.

Tuesday, January 28.—Fine day, foggy in a.m., but cleared up in the afternoon. Started at 8.15 a.m.; made Mountain creek portage at 10 a.m. Snow very deep and going slow. Crossed fresh moose tracks. Corporal Schutz was bitten by one of his dogs in the arm and is not able to use it. Dogs are very tired to-night. The old toboggan left by the late Inspector Fitzgerald and party is still in the cabin. Camped at 4.30 p.m. about a mile above the cabin.

Distance travelled, about 10 miles.

Wednesday, January 29.—Clear, colder. Left camp at 8.10 a.m. Very heavy trail and deep snow all day. The Glacier was flooding badly and we had to climb over the hillside to get around, losing considerable time thereby. The dogs are very sore-footed and are pretty nearly all in every night.

Distance travelled, about 9 miles.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Thursday, January 30.—Cloudy a.m.; cleared up p.m.; moderate. Started at 8.10 a.m. Made the foot of the hill at 10.35 a.m. Martin and I broke trail to the top of the hill while the others got lunch. We went a different route to the usual, going up a small draw a little lower down the creek. It is not so steep this way but we had to do a lot of cutting and clearing. The divide is not so high; were two hours breaking trail to the top and return. Started up with the teams at 1 p.m., and made the top at 2.45 and camped. Martin and I went on and broke trail for two miles. The snow is very deep and we had a hard pull up the hill.

Distance travelled, about 5 miles.

Friday, January 31.—Warm, Chinook wind. Left camp at 8.05 a.m. It is very heavy breaking trail now the snow is so deep. It has been a warm day, and for the first time since we started the sleds have run easily, the dogs being on the trail-breakers' heels all day. Camped at 3 p.m. on the sidehill of Cardinal creek. Martin and I went on and broke trail for two miles, returning to camp at 5.30.

Distance travelled, about 8 miles.

Saturday, February 1.—Very warm a.m.; snowing and windy p.m. Started at 8 a.m. Going continues about the same. Made the Cariboo-born river at 3 p.m. Camped at 3.35 p.m. Martin and I broke trail up to the timber line, as we intend going over the mountain to-morrow if the weather turns out favourable.

Distance travelled, about 9 miles.

Sunday, February 2.—Very warm, cloudy; snowing in p.m. Left camp at 6.55 a.m. Reached the top of the mountain at 8.20 a.m. Our direction across the mountain was a few points west of north. The going was not so very good. There was not much snow, but it was crusted and would not carry the dogs. We got down to a little scattered scrubby spruce at noon and from here on the going was very bad. Camped at 3.50 p.m. Martin and Schutz went on to break trail.

Distance travelled, about 15 miles.

Monday, February 3.—Warm, misty a.m.; cleared up p.m. Left camp at 7.55 a.m.; snow deep and going slow. Travelled in a northerly direction. Timber thick and scrubby most of the way. Camped at 3 p.m. Martin went on to break trail.

Distance travelled, about 8 miles.

Tuesday, February 4.—Mild and clear. Left camp at 7.45 a.m. Made Trail river at 10.35. The snow on Trail river is as deep as the rest of the way, but it is a little better going, as it is clear. Camped at 3.30 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 9 miles.

Wednesday, February 5.—Clear and mild. Started at 8 a.m. At 10 a.m. we came across Indian Esau's camp. Esau reported a bunch of Indians at the mouth of the river. Made the cabin at 10.30 and took twenty-five fish from the cache as we have not sufficient dog feed to carry us through. Made the mouth of Trail river at 11.30 and found that the Indians had gone on up the Peel river. Esau reported that they had killed four moose around there and had been camped there since fall. Camped at 3.45 p.m., about 13 miles below Trail river.

Distance travelled, about 23 miles.

Thursday, February 6.—Clear and fine. Left camp at 7.45 a.m. Passed Colin's cabin at 9.20. The trail did not go across the seven mile portage. Camped at 3.30 p.m., near the north end of the portage. The trail was good to our noon camp, but not so good in the afternoon.

Distance travelled, about 24 miles.

Friday, February 7.—Mild, snowing. Left camp at 7.45 a.m. The trail to-day was filled in and hard to follow at times. Made Vitchiquah's cabin at 3 p.m., and camped. There was no wood here, so we took a team back some distance behind the cabin and hauled in enough for to-night and enough to do us when we come back here.

Distance travelled, about 19 miles.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Saturday, February 8.—North wind, misty, moderate. Left Vitchiquah's cabin at 7 a.m. The trail was drifted and hard to follow. Arrived at Macpherson shortly after noon.

Distance travelled, about 20 miles.

February 9 to 25 at Macpherson.

Wednesday, February 26.—Cold, southeast wind. Left Macpherson at 9.15 a.m. on the return trip to Dawson. Made Vitchiquah's cabin at 3.25 p.m. and camped. Good trail.

Distance travelled, about 20 miles.

Thursday, February 27.—Cold a.m., and foggy; milder p.m., and cloudy. Left the cabin at 7.30 a.m. Had good going all day. Camped at 4 p.m., about two miles below south end of the seven mile portage.

Distance travelled, about 30 miles.

Friday, February 28.—Moderate, cloudy. Left camp at 7.40 a.m. The trail was not so good as that of yesterday. I lost my watch this afternoon. Reached the R. N. W. M. P. cabin at 3.25 p.m. and camped. Packed up 204 fish which we are taking with us, by arrangement.

Distance travelled, about 25 miles.

Saturday, March 1.—Snowing all morning, cleared up p.m. Left the cabin at 7.40 a.m. The trail up Trail river was rather heavy. Reached the foot of the Big hill at 10.45. Took us an hour and a half to get up. Camped at 4.10 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 17 miles.

Sunday, March 2.—Clear and mild. Left camp at 7.05 a.m. Crossed the Cariboo-born mountain and made the Cariboo-born river at 3 p.m. Camped at 3.15 p.m. An Indian, with his wife and three children, followed us to-day. They had left Macpherson some week or so before us. They had not much grub; I gave them a little flour and bacon, as much as I could spare from our supplies.

Distance travelled, about 20 miles.

Monday, March 3.—Light snowfall a.m., cloudy p.m.; mild. Left camp at 7.40 a.m. The trail to-day was heavy and drifted full in places. Made Mountain creek at 3.15 p.m., and camped at 5 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 21 miles.

Tuesday, March 4.—Cold and clear.—Started at 7.45 a.m. Fairly good going down Mountain creek. Made Esau's camp on the Peel at 2 p.m. He was out hauling in two moose he had shot yesterday and we camped here to wait for him and get some meat. Purchased 60 pounds.

Distance travelled, about 18 miles.

Wednesday, March 5.—Snowing all morning; cleared up in the afternoon. Left camp at 7.15 a.m. The trail now is filled up all the way. Up the Peel and lower end of the Big wind we could not see it. Camped at 4.45 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 17 miles.

Thursday, March 6.—Clear and warm. Left camp at 7.35 a.m. The trail is filled in level all the way. Found Indian signs leading up into Hungry creek, also a letter for Martin, with the information that Joe Taylor's tent was a short way up the creek. We went up, found the tent and camped in it at 5 p.m. Taylor and his party were up the creek, so we did not see them.

Distance travelled, about 22 miles.

Friday, March 7.—Clear a.m., cloudy p.m.; warm. Left camp at 7.35 a.m. Heavy trail all day; about a foot of snow has fallen since we passed this way. Camped at 4.45 p.m. on the Little Wind.

Distance travelled, about 20 miles.

Saturday, March 8.—Clear with north wind a.m., snowing p.m.; warm. Started at 7.45 a.m. had heavy trail until about 3.30 p.m. Camped at 4.45 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 22 miles.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Sunday, March 9.—Cloudy, with light snow a.m., clear and warm p.m. Started at 7.25 a.m. Had fairly good going for a while, and some heavy trail. Camped at 4.40 p.m. on Forrest creek.

Distance travelled, about 27 miles.

Monday, March 10.—Warm, snowing nearly all day. Left camp at 7.20 a.m. Had a drifted trail all day. We could not see it at all. Camped at 5.05 p.m. at lower end of the canyon portage on Waugh creek.

Distance travelled, about 17 miles.

Tuesday, March 11.—Cloudy and warm. Left camp at 7.05 a.m. Had heavy trail all day. The glaciers were flooding, but during the morning we were able to get around most of the water. The last five miles of the creek was flooded so badly that we had to go through the water; and also for a mile on Hart river. We reached Martin's cabin at 4.25 p.m. and camped. I took 60 pounds of fish from the cache, as I have not sufficient to carry me to Dawson. There are seven bundles of fish left, and the remainder of the cache is all right.

Distance travelled, about 24 miles.

Wednesday, March 12.—Clear and warm, cloudy p.m. Left Hart river at 7.50 a.m. The trail was heavy across the Hart Mountain portage. Made Michelle creek at 11.10 a.m. It was a little better going up Michelle. Camped at Coal Cliff at 4.30 p.m. I shot one dog on the Hart Mountain portage. The dog was sick and was not hitched up. It kept lying down every few yards, and finally would not get up.

Distance travelled, about 20 miles.

Thursday, March 13.—Cloudy and warm a.m. Cleared up and got colder in p.m. Left camp at 7.45 a.m. Met Neil McDonald near the head of Michelle creek; he was going down the creek to hunt rabbits to feed his dogs, of which he had four. Had a heavy trail all day. Made Martin's cabin at Poplar Grove at 5.05 p.m., and camped.

Distance travelled, about 18 miles.

Friday, March 14.—Clear and cold. Started at 7.45 a.m. Made the Blackstone at 10.15. Had a fairly good trail over the hills and up the Blackstone. Made Michelle's cabin at 3.50 p.m., and camped.

Distance travelled, about 25 miles.

Saturday, March 15.—Clear and cold; cold wind. Started at 7.30 a.m. Trail up the Blackstone was drifted full. Made the twelve-mile at 10.15. Had a fairly good trail down the twelve-mile. Camped at 5.30 p.m. in Leves' cabin.

Distance travelled, about 38 miles.

Sunday, March 16.—Clear and moderate. Left camp at 7.15 a.m.; had a good trail; lunched at the powerhouse, and made the roadhouse at the mouth of the Twelve-mile at 7 p.m.

Distance travelled, about 38 miles.

Monday, March 17.—Clear, moderate. Left the roadhouse at 7.50 a.m. and arrived in Dawson shortly after noon. Had a good trail.

Distance travelled, 18 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

In charge of Patrol.

PART IV
HUDSON BAY

APPENDIX A.

REPORT OF SUPT. F. J. A. DEMERS, COMMANDING CHURCHILL, FROM JULY 20, 1912, TO AUGUST 16, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R.N.W.M. Police,
Regina.

CHURCHILL, MANITOBA, September 16, 1912.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report, from the date on which I assumed command of 'M' Division—20th July, 1912—to 16th September, 1912.

I am uncertain when a mail will leave Churchill, but am expecting the Government steamer Minto to call here before she leaves the bay, the mail will in that case be forwarded by her, but should she fail to call, the mail must await the opening of winter travel. On July 22 the Beothic arrived having on board our winter's supply of coal, and also the supplies which were intended for the Fullerton detachment last year. After discharging her cargo she left for York Factory on the 24th July.

Supt. Starnes had previously arranged for berths for Mrs. Starnes and himself, and also Sergeant Borden, A.F., on the Beothic, the captain stating that he would return to Churchill in about ten days, take the party on board, and proceed at once for Montreal. Up to the present the Beothic has not returned to Churchill. The Government steamer Arctic arrived here on August 5 and left on the 8th for York Factory.

On the morning of the 24th August, the Government steamer Stanley arrived at Churchill, having on board the Hon. Mr. Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Messrs. Broder and Foster, M.P's. I placed our launch at their disposal. Mr. Cochrane, accompanied by Reg. No. 4103 Sergeant Edgenton, W. G., and Reg. No. 4687 Corporal Jones, J. G., pilot, visited the Hudson's Bay Company's post, returning to barracks by the eastern shore of the river, which enabled him to obtain a good idea of the harbour at Churchill.

Captain Dalton of the Stanley was good enough to find berths for Superintendent and Mrs. Starnes, Acting Assistant Surgeon Marcellus (on leave), and Reg. No. 4324 Sergeant Borden, A. F., on transfer.

The Stanley, with the above party on board, left for North Sydney during the afternoon of the 24th August.

The Hudson's Bay Co.'s steamer Nascopie arrived here on the following day, 25th August. This boat carried our supplies, and she was unloaded without delay, our stores found to be in excellent order, a report of which is forwarded under separate cover. Mr. Hall, commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Company was on board, and when our launch was not being used for unloading cargo, I placed it at his disposal.

The Nascopie left on August 29 for Chesterfield inlet, Captain Smith being kind enough to take the members of the Fullerton detachment as far as Chesterfield, and also the Fullerton natives, six in all, with their families.

Fullerton is only some 80 miles north of Chesterfield.

DETACHMENTS.

A new detachment has been opened at York Factory, Reg. No. 3829 Sergeant Walker, R. H., in charge. I have had no report from him since I left there for

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Churchill on July 13. I was able to send him some supplies by the Nascopie, and when winter travel is possible purpose sending him six dogs.

Fullerton.—As reported above, the members of this detachment, Reg. No. 4103 Sergeant Edgenton, W. G., and Reg. No. 4217 Constable Conway, P. R., left on the Nascopie on August 29 for Chesterfield; from there they will hire the Hudson's Bay Company's coast boat to take them on to Fullerton. They took supplies to last them for twelve months. The following Eskimos accompanied them: 'Tuparlock,' 'Puck,' 'Albert,' 'John,' 'Billy Brass,' and 'Billy be Damned.'

I hope to make connection with Sergeant Edgenton at Ranken inlet next February, sending him mail and obtaining reports and returns.

HEALTH.

The health of all the members of the Division is good.

DISCIPLINE.

The conduct of the N. C. O.'s and men has been excellent.

NATIVES.

Supt. Starnes paid treaty to the remainder of the Chipewyan Indians on 29th July, report of which he took with him on the Stanley.

The Indians left Churchill for their winter camp, in the neighbourhood of North river, on August 29.

ESKIMOS.

The Eskimos, who are far more industrious than the Indians, have been able to obtain whale and fish in large quantities, appear to be in a good condition. They leave in the course of the next day or two for their winter hunting grounds, near Egg island. The Hudson's Bay Company are transporting the whole band in one of their coast boats.

No natives, either Indian or Eskimo, will be in the vicinity of Churchill during the next few months.

DOGS.

Two dogs have died during this period. One pup reared by the police has been taken on the strength and, as previously reported, I have purchased five dogs from the Eskimos. This gives us thirty-five dogs at Churchill; with the exception of six old dogs they are all in first-class condition.

BUILDINGS.

Owing to the non-arrival of the lumber by the Nascopie, I am unable to complete the new log building, or to floor the quartermaster store.

I am having the roof of the native quarters shingled, also the new log store and any other building which require them.

FUEL.

I have been able to collect a few cords of driftwood along the shore, this, with the coal received, will be ample for our present requirements. Later on I propose hauling wood from the eastern side of the river, as last year.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

PATROLS.

Reg. No. 4708 Constable Rose, P., accompanied by employed natives 'Joe', 'Willybuck,' and 'Charlie,' in one whale boat, and rations for ten days, left on September 5 for Cape Churchill to hunt deer; they returned yesterday with two deer and several geese.

LAUNCHES.

Launch 'A' during the busy time—unloading cargo—worked exceedingly well, and when placed at the disposal of the Hon. Mr. Cochrane gave much satisfaction, the new engineer, Reg. No. 5309 Constable Joyce, J. B., appears to understand the engine.

WEATHER.

We have been favoured with very pleasant weather during the summer months, the temperature exceeding 85° in the shade on several days in succession. Very few gales have been experienced, and up to the present no frosts have occurred. On the other hand, mosquitos and flies have been very troublesome.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.

Commanding 'M' Division.

CHURCHILL, Manitoba, October 17, 1912.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report covering the period September 17, 1912, to October 17, 1912.

On September 17, Mr. E. C. Oberholtzer, a journalist from Davenport, Iowa, U.S.A., arrived at Churchill; he came via Le Pas, Reindeer lake, Cochrane river, and the Thlewliaza river, to Hudson bay. He had only one Indian with him, and travelled the whole distance in a canoe. At the mouth of the Seal river he met two Eskimos and hired them to bring him to Churchill. He remained here for three days, then proceeded in his canoe along the coast to York Factory. I entrusted my official mail to him, and asked him to hand it over to Sergeant R. H. Walker, should there be a steamer there, and to send out by her; but if not, to take it through to Norway House, as he intended proceeding up the Hayes river to Norway House. I hope this mail has reached you safely.

No shipping has arrived at Churchill, since the ss. Nascopie left on August 30, until yesterday the 16th inst., when the ss. Beothic arrived here for the second time this season, with a few supplies for us, and also some stores belonging to the Department of Railways and Canals, which were unable to be landed at Port Nelson; Mr. Hazen, the engineer-in-charge there, sent them on to Churchill and asked me to store them for him.

I am sending my official mail out by the Beothic.

H.M.C.S. Minto did not call at Churchill, although she was in the vicinity. I am rather surprised at this, as I imagined that Captain Anderson would wish to see the new beacon that the Police erected for his department.

Captain Anderson stated that the men would be paid by the department for this work. I am therefore sending to the comptroller a list of the hours spent by the different men in the construction of the beacon.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

DETACHMENTS.

I have not received any reports from either of the detachments at Fullerton or York Factory.

HEALTH.

The health of all members of the Division continues good.

DISCIPLINE.

The conduct of the members of the Division is excellent.

NATIVES.

Indians and Eskimos are all away at their different winter hunting grounds.

DOGS.

No casualties have occurred amongst the dogs, all are in good condition; one of my bitches had a litter of six pups, five of which are dogs, on 16th September; they are all living, and look well.

BUILDINGS.

No lumber was received by the Beothic, consequently I am unable to complete several buildings.

PATROLS.

Reg. No. 5381, Constable Harris, J. H., accompanied by employed natives 'Joe,' 'Peter,' and 'Charlie,' left on 27th September in one whale-boat with ten days rations, for the vicinity of Cape Churchill to hunt deer. This party returned on October 10, with 10 deer and several ducks and ptarmigan. Whilst on this patrol, they came across two Eskimo camps, and found that they were getting plenty of deer. On October 11 I left with Reg. No. 4687, Corporal Jones, J. G., Reg. No. 5309, Constable Joyce, J. B., Reg. No. 5381, Constable Harris, J. H., and employed natives 'Peter' and 'Willybuck,' in launch 'B,' towing one whale-boat and one flat-boat, for patrol house No. 1 on the Deer river, our first house on the Split lake trail. It was my intention to stock the house with emergency rations, and also to have some logs cut and rafted down the river to barracks for a new dog kennel to be erected next year. I found that the current in the river was too strong against us, and had to return to barracks.

I attempted the same patrol the next day, and arrived within eight miles of the house, but here the river was so shallow, owing to the dryness of the season, I could not proceed any further, so returned to barracks, arriving there on October 13.

This patrol will be made as soon as possible by the dog team, when I will have the house stocked with emergency supplies.

WEATHER.

The weather during the past few weeks has been pleasant, with moderate temperatures, and very few gales. We have experienced a little frost; the lake from which we obtain our drinking water was frozen over solid enough to admit skating on the 10th October, but lately it has been milder.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.,
Commanding 'H' Division.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

CHURCHILL, MAN., December 18, 1912.

The Commissioner,
R.N.W. Mounted Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report, covering the period between 18th October, 1912, and 17th December, 1912. The ss. Beothic, which arrived at Churchill on October 16, after discharging her cargo, left for Montreal on October 20. I have forwarded, under separate cover, a report referring to a quantity of stores landed by the Beothic at Churchill, for the Department of Railways and Canals, which the steamer was unable to unload at Port Nelson, and which I have been asked to store temporarily.

There was a quantity of ice in the river when the Beothic left, but navigation would have been perfectly safe a month later; the channel of the river was almost free of ice as late as November 16.

Immediately after the departure of the Beothic I had all the boats and launches hauled up into winter quarters. I did not have much difficulty in raising launch 'A,' which was swamped and sunk during the gale on October 19. The engine was thoroughly overhauled, and is no worse for its temporary immersion; it was well cleaned and oiled before storing for the winter.

DISCIPLINE.

The conduct of all the N.C. officers and constables stationed at Churchill is excellent.

HEALTH.

The health of all members of the Division at Churchill, continues very satisfactory; this is very gratifying during the temporary absence of the medical officer on leave.

LAUNCHES AND BOATS.

I have included in my requisitions for 1913-14, one whale boat which is required for police use. I intend placing the engine which runs launch 'B' into this boat, and have asked for certain fittings for completing this work. It will be very much better to have a boat fitted up in this way both for the summer patrol to York Factory, and also for stocking the houses on the winter trail to Fullerton.

BUILDINGS.

I have had a ceiling placed in the native quarters, which has very much improved that building; it is now fairly warm in the bitterest weather.

I have requisitioned for the same quantity of lumber that was asked for last year, but which was not received. Several buildings require either repairs or completion.

FUEL.

As soon as crossing the river could be safely accomplished with dog teams, I had a camp erected on the east side of the river, as last year. Wood was hauled to barracks whenever I had spare men and dog teams.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

FRESH MEAT SUPPLY.

Parties have been sent out hunting for the greater portion of October and November, and as a result I have secured a fair supply of deer-meat: in all probability sufficient to last until the end of next February.

DOGS.

I have purchased three good dogs from our employed native 'Charlie' at a very reasonable price. I considered this advisable, as I should have had to feed them, and work them during the whole time this native is in the police employ.

I had no casualties amongst the dogs since my last report. I sent a team of six good dogs to Sergeant Walker at York Factory for the use of that detachment. This leaves me with five teams of dogs for duty at Churchill. In addition I have twelve pups, which all promise well. It will be much more satisfactory if we can raise our own dogs, instead of having to purchase them.

NATIVES.

A few Chipewyan Indians came in to trade at the Hudson's Bay Co. on November 19. They are doing fairly well and getting sufficient deer, both for food and clothing purposes. There has been very little sickness amongst them, and no deaths. The band is camped about five days' journey west of Churchill.

A few Eskimos also came in to trade at the Hudson's Bay Co. They report deer very scarce, and are living principally on bear-meat. They killed a moose in the neighbourhood of Cape Churchill, rather a rare occurrence so far north.

There seems every likelihood of the fur yield being above the average, white foxes in the immediate neighbourhood being numerous.

PATROLS.

Reg. No. 4687 Corporal Jones, J. G., with employed native 'Charlie' and guide 'Sandy Oman' left on December 9 for York Factory, taking two dog teams, one of which they will leave at York for the use of that detachment. I have instructed Sergeant Walker at York to make a patrol to Churchill towards the end of the winter.

I intend sending Reg. No. 5381 Constable Harris, J. H., to Split lake. I arranged with the chief of the Indian band for a guide and dog driver, who were to report here in time to leave on December 20. I took an opportunity of stocking No. 1 shelter house on the Split Lake trail with emergency supplies, sending them out with a hunting party. Two of the employed Eskimos, with a dog team, will accompany the Split Lake patrol, as far as the 2nd shelter house on the south side of the plains, and stock that house.

I will send a second patrol to Split lake, which will leave here about March 10; this will connect with the second mail you purpose despatching to Churchill. This of course depends upon your arrangements being the same, as explained in your orders to me in your letter of 20th June, 1912.

DETACHMENTS.

I have had no reports from either Fullerton or York Factory.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

WEATHER.

The weather up to November 26 was exceptionally mild, and as a result the river, which was crossed on November 20 last year, was not safe to do so until December 6 this year. It has frozen over smooth this year, which enables me to have a straight trail to the bush camp, and thus cut off a considerable distance.

The weather has been very much colder since the end of November with strong northwesterly winds, and frequent blizzards. It is very mild again now, however.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.,
Commanding 'M' Division.

CHURCHILL, MAN., February 17, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R. N. W. Mounted Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report covering the period 18th December, 1912, to 17th February, 1913.

Owing to the illness of the Indian who I had arranged to act as guide to the patrol to Split lake, the patrol was delayed until I was able to obtain another guide, and ultimately left on December 28.

On January 3, two Eskimos, 'Bye-and-Bye' and 'Tuppick,' arrived at Churchill from Chesterfield inlet, bringing mail, reports and returns from the police detachment at Fullerton. The Hudson's Bay Co. and the police sent this patrol through, each employing one of the natives. They were twenty days making the trip to Churchill. I kept them here until the mail patrol returned from Split lake February 7 and on the 11th February, the two natives returned to Chesterfield inlet, taking all the mail for that point and Fullerton. This will do away with the necessity of my sending a patrol to Ranken inlet, to connect there with a patrol from Fullerton.

DISCIPLINE.

The conduct of all members of the Division is excellent.

HEALTH.

With the exception of colds and slight touches of frost bite, all continue to enjoy good health.

FUEL.

Since my last report, I have had fifty loads of wood hauled from the bush camp on the east side of the river, and as I shall have more dog teams available for the rest of the winter, I will be able to haul sufficient for my summer requirements. The coal supply will see me through the winter.

DOGS.

I have found it necessary to destroy two dogs at Churchill, on account of old age. The others are all in good condition, and the pups are all doing well.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Sergeant Edgenton, in charge at Fullerton, found on his arrival there in September last, that seven dogs had died from various causes, during the absence of the police from that detachment. I forward copy of his report re this, under separate cover.

NATIVES.

The male members of the Indian band came in to trade at the Hudson's Bay Co. about Christmas time, they are doing fairly well and getting more fur than in the last year or two. They are all away at their winter hunting grounds, and will not return to Churchill until late in the spring.

The Eskimos are not doing so well, owing to their complete failure to get deer; as a result they are in a poor way both for good clothing and meat. Two families are quite destitute and I have them employed at the bush camp, and supply them with destitute rations.

FUR.

The fur yield this year is well above previous years; wolves have, however, appeared in the immediate neighbourhood, and are doing much damage amongst the traps of the Hudson's Bay Co. employees. It is estimated that they have destroyed $1,000 worth of fur since Christmas.

PATROLS.

Reg. No. 4657 Corporal Jones, J. G., who left for York Factory, and whose report I forward by this mail, returned to Churchill on January 5. He was accompanied to Churchill by a party of prospectors, Messrs. Whiteford, Wills and Roy, who were transported by the Hudson's Bay Co. Mr. Wills, who has been in the north before, has located copper in the neighbourhood of Ranken inlet and this party intend going to Ranken by first open water, to examine it. They will consequently remain in Churchill until next June.

Reg. No. 5381 Constable Harris, J. H., accompanied by Eskimo 'Willybuck' Indians 'French John' and 'Oatmeal Boy' left for Split lake on December 28. Reg. No. 4708 Constable Rose, P., and Native 'Joe' accompanied them to the patrol house south of the plains, assisting them with dog feed, and taking emergency rations to that house. Constable Harris and party returned to Churchill on February 6, accompanied by Inspector French and Sergeant W. Munday ('F' Division), Constable Withers and Indian Spence from Split lake, and Acting Assistant Surgeon Doyle, P. E. Inspector French and party will remain here for fourteen days to rest their dogs, and leave Churchill for the return on February 20. I am sending one dog team to the house south of the plains, with them, to assist with carrying dog feed.

Reg. No. 4708, Constable Rose, P., and Natives 'Joe' and 'Charlie' are away at present on a ten days' hunting trip.

DETACHMENTS.

Fullerton.—As reported previously I received reports and returns from Fullerton on January 3, and forward copy of detachment diary for your information. Both the members of this detachment are well. The natives who used to live at Fullerton have all moved to Chesterfield inlet, where the Hudson's Bay Co. have established a trading post; as a result, excepting the two employed Eskimos and their families, there is no one nearer than Chesterfield, and the detachment is very isolated.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Captain Comer of the schooner A. T. Gifford, who has made Fullerton his headquarters for some time past, left in September last for his home at New Bedford, U.S.A.

A schooner The Alert, Captain John Murray, of Scotland, put into Fullerton for water last September and then sailed for Repulse bay, and intends wintering at Ottawa islands, with his brother who has a small steamer The Active.

Sergeant Edgenton will make inquiries about these boats when he patrols to Wager bay, and report later.

Sergeant Edgenton found the Police detachment in good order, and the supplies in a fairly satisfactory condition. But no dog feed had been procured. He discharged Native 'Pook' for this neglect; this native was in charge during the absence of the police. Sergeant Edgenton has had great difficulty in obtaining dog feed, but I allowed for this contingency and supplied him with sufficient corn meal for twelve months.

I purpose hiring the Hudson's Bay Co.'s coast boat as soon as the ice leaves the river, and make a patrol to Fullerton.

York Factory.—I forward copy of detachment diary for your information, in the absence of a general report.

The surveyors at Port Nelson have erected log buildings and are very comfortable. Patrols are made frequently from York to Neilson by Reg. No. 3829, Sergeant Walker, R. H.; he received no complaints and has no crime to report.

Sergeant Walker will patrol to Churchill in March.

WEATHER.

The weather up to the end of the old year was mild and pleasant, but early in the new year it turned very much colder, the temperature averaging 30 below zero, with long and frequent blizzards. It still continues exceedingly cold.

Christmas passed very quietly; there were no guests, but the men were all invited to the Company's for the evening, a dance being held later.

As Inspector French is leaving, with all my mail, so late in February I shall not have occasion to send another patrol to Split lake. I have instructed the constable in charge there to bring or send through any mail for Churchill that may collect at Split lake.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.,
Commanding 'M' Division.

CHURCHILL, MANITOBA, July 17, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R.N.W. Mounted Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to report as follows for the period since my last report, dated 17th February, 1913.

On February 20, Inspector French and party, after a stay of fourteen days at Churchill, left on their return to Le Pas, taking all my official mail. I sent Reg. No. 4687 Corporal Jones, J. G., and native 'Peter,' with two dogs teams, to accompany

Inspector French to No. 2 patrol house, south of the plains, and about 80 miles from Churchill, to assist him in hauling dog feed.

On March 8, Reg. No. 3829 Sergeant Walker, R. H., arrived from York Factory, accompanied by Special Constable Ouscan and the Rev. R. Faries, Church of England minister at York. Owing to sickness, Sergeant Walker was compelled to ride in a carriage, the extra dog team being hired to haul dog feed and camp equipment.

Mr. Faries and Special Constable Ouscan returned to York on March 14, leaving the police team of dogs which the York detachment used at Churchill.

On the same date, Messrs. Pritchard and Hope, Manitoba Government officials, arrived at Churchill via York. They were accompanied by Messrs. Alston and Hall, Hudson's Bay Company officials, the former of whom takes charge of the post at Churchill, and the latter at Chesterfield inlet. Messrs. Pritchard and Hope called on me the next day, when arrangements were made to board them at the barracks, the library being placed at their disposal for quarters. Mr. Hope returned to York on April 7; I sent employed native 'Charlie' to drive him in his carriage; 'Charlie' returned to Churchill on April 23. Accounts in triplicate are forwarded monthly for all expenses incurred. Mr. Pritchard remains at the barracks indefinitely.

On March 18, Reg. No. 3829 Sergeant Walker, R. H., and Reg. No. 4708 Constable Rose, P., left for Regina, the former for medical attendance and the latter on transfer. Corporal Jones was in charge of the patrol as far as Split lake; accompanying this patrol were Mr. Roy—one of the prospectors who arrived at Churchill in January—and Mr. Ewen, a Hudson's Bay Company employee, who had a company's dog team and driver.

Of the three prospectors who came here in January, Mr. Whiteford is still at Churchill, and intends to return to Montreal by the first steamer which calls here. The copper concern which the party were looking into, collapsed, owing to a dispute between Messrs. Whiteford and Wills, the latter of whom claimed to have found copper near Rankin inlet. As a result of the collapse, Mr. Whiteford laid an information before me against Wills, which is reported on fully later. Mr. Roy, seeing through the supposed copper find, took the first opportunity of returning to Montreal. On July 11 a whale-boat arrived from Chesterfield inlet with a crew consisting of one Hudson's Bay Company employee and four Eskimos. Sergeant Edgerton was able to send down all his reports to the end of May; these I am forwarding by this mail.

The river broke up on June 23, several days later than the average, and after this the wind was so persistently in the north or northeast that the ice was packed into the harbour and on the shore until the second week in July. Owing to the extreme lateness of the season and the consequent delay in leaving for Fullerton I consider it advisable to postpone my patrol to that place until after ship time, so that every available man will be here at this, our busiest time.

I arranged with Mr. Faries to pay treaty to the York Indians at York early in August; this will, of course, depend on the steamers, for I cannot leave Churchill until the steamer which brings in our supplies has called. I have had no intimation yet how I am to expect these stores. My last official mail received is dated as far back as February.

CRIME.

SUMMARY of cases entered and dealt with in the Hudson Bay district for 12 months ending June 30, 1913.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

On April 8, on the information of R. A. P. Whiteford, of Montreal, I issued a warrant for the arrest of Andrew C. Wills charged with false pretenses. He was arrested on the 9th and brought before me on the 10th, and pleaded 'not guilty'; but after hearing evidence for the prosecution, the accused declining to give any evidence, I sentenced Wills to six months' imprisonment with hard labour, a sentence he is at present undergoing in the police guard-room here.

On June 28, an Indian, 'Crazy Thomas' by name, was arrested, charged with common assault on Indian woman, 'Lucy'. He was brought before me on June 30, pleaded 'guilty' and was sentenced to two months' imprisonment with hard labour or $20 fine and costs $5. He was discharged on payment of fine and costs. This case will have a very salutary effect on all natives in this locality, as they were not quite aware of the powers of the Police. The two days that 'Crazy Thomas' spent in custody had a very marked effect on him.

INDIANS AND ESKIMOS.

The Indians arrived from their winter camp towards the middle of May; they had a poor season trapping fur, but got sufficient deer and fish to live on during the winter. There was, however, much destitution amongst them, in the late spring, owing to the complete failure of the goose and duck season. Relief was applied for constantly, and in every deserving case, assistance was given. Since the ice left the river, they have been able to get sufficient fish for all requirements.

I paid treaty to the Churchill band on June 16, when all with the exception of three families attended; many arrears from 1912 were paid. I will forward my report re this after I have paid the York Factory band.

I also held the triennial election of chief and councillors; no change was, however made in the representation.

Two families of Eskimos arrived at Churchill, early in March, in a very destitute condition, their dogs having died on the trip in. I gave them work at the bush camp, where they cut sufficient wood to last for several months. Five more families of Eskimos who were camped at Broad river on the trail to York, moved to Churchill on April 18; this was rather too early for the spring seal hunt. I therefore employed three of the men for three weeks giving them rations and a skin (30 cents) per diem wages. Three of my employed natives were away at this time on patrols and as there is much work to be done in the spring, clearing away snow drifts and cleaning up, there was ample work to keep them busy. The remainder of the Eskimos arrived at Churchill on July 13, in a Hudson's Bay Company coast-boat; they wintered near Cape Eskimo; they had a hard time for food, but were very successful trapping. I regret to report eight deaths in this band during the winter, viz. five men and three women. There is much tubercular disease amongst the Eskimos, and a hard winter, like the past has been, plays havoc with them.

So soon as the seal hunt commences towards the end of May, the anxiety re the food question vanishes, and the Eskimo very soon forgets all his previous troubles. This year, although so few Eskimos were here to hunt, I have been able to obtain sufficient seal or white whale to meet all my requirements for dog feed for the next twelve months. Both Indians and Eskimos will remain at Churchill until after the ships have come.

DOGS.

The pups which I mentioned in my last report have all done well with one exception. I am therefore able to take on the strength eight excellent dogs, which I think is a record for the Division. I have, in addition, three more litters of pups, fourteen in all, and though only a few weeks old, I hope to rear them all. I have thus been able to destroy some of the old veterans; four up to the present have been shot, and there are three more to meet a similar fate.

Mr. Pritchard, of the Manitoba Government, has his own dogs (8) so that in getting my dog feed I had to take this into consideration, for it is doubtful when Mr. Pritchard will leave, and until he does so, I feed his dogs. His dogs are a very poor type, being inland dogs, far too small and soft for the north.

BUILDINGS.

All the buildings were painted last year, and as the barracks have a smart appearance, there is no necessity to paint this year. I had the old dog kennel pulled down, as this was a most pestilential place, the smell from it getting everywhere and filtering into the Quartermaster store and affecting things badly. I intend to build another this summer, but a much smaller building and well away from all store-houses.

LAUNCHES AND BOATS.

I have had one of the whale-boats fitted up with auxilliary power, taking the 5-horse-power engine out of launch 'B' and placing it in her. Some very satisfactory work was done by the carpenter, Reg. No. 4687, Corporal Jones, J. G., and the engineer, Reg. No. 5309, Constable Joyce, J. The boat has been painted black, with a yellow band, and looks very well in the water. I went up to the Hudson's Bay Co.'s post on July 12 for a trial trip in her, when the boat and engine were in every way satisfactory. I shall use this boat when I go to York next month.

Launch 'A' has been thoroughly overhauled and painted; the engine in this boat is working well, but it has not been used yet. All the towing work will be done by launch 'A,' as last year.

DISCIPLINE.

With the exception of one case of disobedience, which is reported under separate cover, the conduct of all N.C. officers and men has been excellent.

HEALTH.

The health of all N.C. officers and men has been good. The employed natives had a slight epidemic of colds and, after being off duty for a few days, quickly recovered.

The wife of one of the employed natives gave Acting Surgical Assistant Doyle much anxiety and, at his request, I had the woman placed in a tent, the doctor fearing consumption. She is now much better and appears to be making a complete recovery.

DETACHMENTS.

Mail was received from Fullerton on July 11. All reports from this detachment are forwarded to you by this mail.

I have applications from both Reg. No. 4103, Sergeant Edgenton, W. G., and Reg. No. 4217, Constable Conway, P. R., for re-engagement, the former for a further term of three years and the latter for one year. Dr. Doyle will be accompanying me to Fullerton, and, after medical examination, the applications will be forwarded to you.

The detachment at York is closed for the time being.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

PATROLS.

On February 20, Reg. No. 4687, Corporal Jones, J. G., and native 'Peter,' with two trains of dogs, accompanied Inspector French and party to No. 2 patrol house south of the Barren Lands. They took rations for ten days, and after assisting Inspector French's patrol with their loads were instructed to hunt deer on their return trip; they returned on March 1 without seeing signs of deer.

On March 8, Reg. No. 3829, Sergeant Walker, R. H., arrived from York, reporting sick. Acting Assistant Surgeon Doyle's report and reports concerning the closing of the York detachment were forwarded to you by the patrol which left for Regina on March 18.

On March 18, Corporal Jones, accompanied by Natives 'Joe' and 'Willybuck,' with three dog trains, left for Split lake; they were accompanied by Sergeant Walker and Reg. No. 4708 Constable Rose, P., both en route for Regina. The former had to be taken out in a carriage on account of sickness. This party did not take out much mail as Inspector French had taken all out only three weeks before. Corporal Jones and the natives returned to Churchill on April 20, with official and private mail. Report of this patrol is forwarded by this mail.

Hunting parties have been kept out from time to time, but in every case returned and reported 'no deer.'

At the commencement of the seal hunting season, I sent three of the employed natives out weekly from Tuesday to the following Saturday. In all they killed nearly sixty seal.

I am at present keeping them out, whaling in the river, and so far this month have killed eleven white whale.

GAME.

There was a complete absence of any sign of deer since Christmas; this appears to have been general along the whole of the west coast of the bay. The natives thus suffered severely both for clothing and food. Owing to the extremely cold spring the goose and duck hunting season was a complete failure.

The fur yield has been very much above the average, white foxes, martin, mink and bear have been brought into the Hudson Bay Company post in large quantities.

Seal were killed extensively; the Eskimo depends very much upon seal in the making of their kyaks, boots, for food, fuel, they also dry the meat for use in winter.

WEATHER.

March, and up to the middle of April, was exceptionally mild; in fact so mild that sleighing had to be discontinued; the weather, however, changed around the 20th April and for several weeks the wind blew persistently from the northeast, the temperature being about 10° above zero and hardly varying at all. This continued until well into June; as a result the river, which we once thought was going to beat all previous records for an early break up, nearly went to the opposite extreme and eventually broke up on June 23. Since then cold winds from the northeast have been experienced until a few days ago, then the wind veered to the south, taking the ice out of sight, but inducing the mosquito to appear, thus causing endless annoyance to man and dog, so that perhaps the northeast wind has its advantages.

I took stock of all quartermaster and division stores on the 1st May, and also held a condemning board; reports of both are forwarded by this mail.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.
Commanding 'M' Division.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

CHURCHILL, MAN., Sept. 19, 1913.

The Commissioner
R. N. W. Mounted Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to report as follows for the period since my last report, dated 17th July, 1913.

The ss. Nascopie arrived here on August 16, with supplies for the police; her cargo was discharged with as little delay as possible, and she left for Moose Factory on August 29. This steamer is expected back from Moose shortly, and I purpose sending my mail out by her.

I have forwarded a special report on the condition of the stores received, with the returned schedule; also a report upon the difficulties the Hudson's Bay Company are experiencing in supplying their various posts in this district, owing to the breakdown of their arrangements.

DETACHMENTS.

I have had no further reports from the detachment at Fullerton. I have sent you a special report upon the difficulty I am having in sending supplies to Fullerton this year. The detachment at York Factory has been moved to Port Nelson, distance about 15 miles by land and 30 miles by water from York. Reg. No. 3829 Sergeant Walker, R. H., is in charge, and has Reg. No. 5547 Constable Hyatt stationed there with him. There is no accommodation at present at Nelson, the members of the detachment living under canvas; I have sent a portable house for temporary use, and have given instructions to build quarters at once.

Four steamers had arrived at Nelson up to the 21st August, the ss. Bonaventure, ss. Belaventure, ss. Alcazar, and the Survey ship Arcadian. Less than 100 mechanics and labourers have been landed, but more are expected. A narrow gauge railway is being laid, and drainage works are going on.

Mr. MacLaughlin succeeds Mr. Hazen as chief of the works.

INDIANS AND ESKIMOS.

I left Churchill on August 2, accompanied by Acting Assistant Surgeon Doyle, Corporal Jones and Constable Joyce, and three of the employed natives, for York Factory. in the whale boat fitted up with auxiliary power, and towing one whale boat.

We arrived at York on August 4 and I paid treaty to the York band of Indians on the 6th inst.; 258 Indians were paid, and several arrears from 1911 and 1912 were also paid.

I am forwarding my report of the work in connection with the Indian Department under separate cover by this mail.

On my way back from York I called at Nelson on the 9th inst.; Sergeant Walker, Constables Rogers and Hyatt arrived there the same day from Regina via Norway House and Split lake. I left Sergeant Walker and Constable Hyatt at Nelson, Constable Rogers accompanied me to Churchill, where I arrived on the 11th inst.

Several Eskimos arrived here in July to trade at the Hudson's Bay Company's post; they did not bring their wives and families, so only remained at Churchill for a few days, and hurried back to their camp near Cape Eskimo.

Very few Indians or Eskimos remain at Churchill, those that are here are employed by the company in freighting or helping with cargo.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

HEALTH.

The health of all members of the Division is good.

DISCIPLINE.

One serious case in which a constable was implicated occurred and is reported on separately. One minor case of breach of discipline was also dealt with by me.

BUILDINGS.

A new dog kennel is now in course of erection, this is situated in a position well away from all other buildings and stores. The windows in the native quarters have been altered so that a free current of air can circulate through the building as required.

DOGS.

No casualties have occurred since my last report. The pups mentioned in that report all promise well except one which has died. A team of six dogs will be sent to the detachment at Nelson at the first opportunity.

FUEL.

I have reported separately on the matter of coal, and the arrangements I have made with the Hudson's Bay Company, in connection with a consignment of coal for Chesterfield Inlet, which they are unable to deliver.

The coal ordered for police use has not arrived up to the present, and some anxiety is being felt.

I sent three Eskimos a few miles up the Churchill river, with instructions to cut wood and raft it down the river to barracks.

GAME.

Owing to the non-arrival of the steamer with police coal, I am unable to send my natives away hunting; this is a pity, for September and October are the best months for obtaining deer, the only fresh meat we are able to procure; the prospect of facing the winter without any is very unpleasant.

CRIME.

On September 2, an information was laid before me, against J. H. Harris for supplying intoxicants to Indians. Harris was arrested on the same date, and was brought before me for trial on the 3rd inst.; after hearing evidence for the prosecution, the accused brought two witnesses for his defence; their evidence was most damaging and proved his guilt. I sentenced Harris to six months' imprisonment at hard labour in the police guard-room here.

GENERAL.

The months of July and August were fine so far as the weather was concerned, but September has proved to be far and away the stormiest month of the year. Incessant gales have occurred, accompanied by heavy rain. The official diary shows out of eighteen days so far this month, gale on ten days, half gale on one day, strong wind on five days. The navigation of the river is accompanied by some danger, and much damage is being done to boats.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Mr. Leden, a Norwegian explorer, arrived at Churchill on the Nascopie; he hoped to go on to Chesterfield or farther north this fall, for the purpose of searching for some trace of his lost countryman, Andree, reports having got into circulation that the Eskimos on Melville peninsula are using part of the equipment of that ill-fated expedition. Mr. Leden is at present staying at Churchill, and it is extremely doubtful whether he will be able to go north this fall.

I was accompanied back to Churchill from Nelson by Mr. Hope, an official of the Manitoba Government; he had been taking observations at Nelson; both Mr. Hope and his colleague, Mr. Pritchard, are boarding with the police, accounts for which are forwarded monthly. These gentlemen expect to be recalled to Winnipeg shortly, and will probably return with the police patrol to Split lake next December.

Owing to the influx of labourers, mechanics, etc., to Nelson, due to the settlement of the railroad terminus and harbour question, it is extremely likely that criminal cases will occur, I would therefore recommend that an Inspector be stationed at Nelson and that he be appointed a Police Magistrate.

It is quite impossible to depend on the magistrate residing at York, who is frequently away for months at a time on business. The communication between Nelson and York is extremely bad for eight months out of the twelve, on account of the swampy condition of the country which separates the two places.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.
Commanding 'M' Division.

CHURCHILL, MAN., August 16, 1913.

The Commissioner.

R. N. W. Mounted Police,
Regina, Sask.

SIR,—I have the honour to report as follows regarding the payments of treaty to the Indians at Churchill and York Factory.

CHURCHILL.

The Churchill band of Chipewyan Indians made their winter headquarters some distance inland on the North river, northwest of Churchill. They were able to obtain plenty of deer in the earlier part of the winter for food and clothing; later on, when deer were scarce, they obtained fish and ptarmigan, and so obtained sufficient food during the winter months; their catch of fur was, however, very small.

Several of the most helpless families moved to Churchill towards the middle of May; there was much destitution amongst them, their hunt for wild geese and ducks being almost a complete failure. Relief was constantly applied for, which, in every deserving case, was supplied. The remainder of the band, headed by the chief and councillors, arrived at Churchill early in June.

I paid treaty to this band on June 16, when all with the exception of 3 families attended; I paid 44 arrears from 1912. The triennial election of chief and councillors was also held, but no change was made in the selection.

The total number of Indians paid was 179, made up as follows:—

Men.. . . .	37
Women.. . . .	53
Boys.. . . .	45
Girls.. . . .	44

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

There were three deaths during the year:—Women, 1; boys, 2.

There were eight births to report:—Boys, 4; girls, 4.

One criminal case was dealt with by me. 'Crazy Thomas,' who was deposed from his office of councillor in 1912, was, on the 28th June, 1913, arrested on a charge of common assault on an Indian woman 'Lucy.' He was brought before me on 30th June, pleaded 'guilty' and was sentenced to two months' imprisonment with hard labour, or a fine of $20 and $5 costs. He was discharged on payment of the fine and costs. 'Crazy Thomas' has the worst character in the band, but this punishment will have a good moral effect upon him, and all the natives in the district.

All the Churchill Indians are leaving this week for their winter hunting grounds; they are going several days inland this year, to the neighbourhood of Etawney lake, where they are able to get more deer and fish than nearer the coast.

YORK FACTORY.

I left for York Factory on August 2, in a police launch, and towing one whale-boat, Dr. Doyle accompanying me to attend any cases of sickness amongst the Indians.

We arrived at York on the 4th inst., and on the 6th I made the payments to the Indians, when 258 in all were paid.

Men.. . . .	55
Women.. . . .	60
Boys.. . . .	73
Girls.. . . .	70

There are 5 deaths to report: one man, three women and one boy.

Sixteen births occurred: eight boys and eight girls.

In addition to the payments for 1913, I paid eleven arrears from 1911 and 84 from 1912.

One woman who has removed from Trout lake was paid, she being married to Band No. 88.

Several Indians, employed by the Hudson's Bay Co. were temporarily absent; I paid the wives in cases where they were married, and in cases of widowers or unmarried men, I paid the money to the Rev. R. Faries, who will hand the money to the rightful owners on their return to York.

Both at Churchill and at York, the Indians are well satisfied with what the Government is doing for them.

I held the triennial election of the chief and councillors at York, but no change was made in the choice.

I enclose herewith the book of payments.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

I enclose also a list showing disposition of articles received from the Indian Department, for the year 1912-13. As will be seen from this list a quantity of provisions were supplied to destitute Eskimos. Two families of Eskimos arrived from the neighbourhood of Egg island early in February in a very destitute condition. Their dogs had all died and they were forced to haul all their property on sleds by hand. I supplied them with provisions and gave them work, but as soon as the seal hunting commenced, they were able to take care of themselves. Any case of destitution amongst the Eskimos means that the season for game is particularly bad, for they are splendid hunters, hard workers, and will not seek assistance unless compelled to do so.

Two families of non-treaty Indians have moved from Trout lake to York Factory, Harry Atson, his wife, boy and two girls; also Andrew Crow, his wife, three boys and one girl. They wish to be paid treaty at York factory in future, no objection being raised to this by the York band.

I forward accounts in triplicate against the Indian Department in favour of the Hudson's Bay Co.

Owing to the non-arrival of axes, I had to purchase six for distribution. The second account is for board to members of the R.N.W.M. Police at York when I paid treaty this month.

I enclose Bank of Montreal cheque for $28, the sum to be refunded to the Department.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Supt.,
Commanding 'M' Division.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

APPENDIX B.

REPORT SERGEANT W. G. EDGERTON, FULLERTON DETACHMENT.

FULLERTON, May 31, 1913.

The Officer Commanding
'M' Division.

SIR.—I have the honour to make the following report of Fullerton detachment for the nine months ending 31st May, 1913.

Accompanied by Reg. No. 4217, Constable Conway, P. R., I left Churchill on August 31, 1912, on board the ss. Nascopie for Chesterfield inlet, with supplies for one year.

We reached Chesterfield on September 3 and started to discharge cargo. A coast boat was hired from the Hudson's Bay Co. to take us on to Fullerton with our supplies.

We left Chesterfield at 6 a.m. on September 6 with a crew of five Eskimos, taking ten days' provisions; reaching Fullerton on the 12th September, we at once discharged cargo, and I sent the coast boat back to Chesterfield the following morning.

I found the barracks clean and in good order. Stock was taken of everything and quite a number of differences were found, a list of which was forwarded in December last.

The natives were sent out the day after landing to hunt deer, for dog feed, there being none at the detachment.

Constable Conway and myself started to make ready for the winter putting a storm porch on the main entrance to the barracks, and storm windows on all windows.

A quantity of ice was cut in the lake, for use during the winter. The coal supply is on the outer side of the harbour and has to be hauled as required during the winter, with dogs. This will be done by boat in the summer and thus save the extra work for the dogs in winter.

I made one trip before the freeze up by whale-boat to hunt for seal for dog feed, but was unsuccessful.

As soon as it was possible, the natives were sent out hunting with dogs, but deer have been very scarce this winter all over the district. The corn meal which was taken from Churchill was the only feed on which I could depend for the dogs.

The weather, on the whole has been good; occasional storms have been experienced, but nothing of any consequence.

The harbour began to freeze up on October 13, and by the 15th we were able to cross.

Patrols have been made in all directions during the winter, and nearly every native camp has been visited in the vicinity of Ranken inlet, Marble island, Chesterfield, Wager bay, and Repulse bay; two patrols went inland about 200 miles towards Baker lake, but did not get in touch with any natives, and had to return owing to scarcity of deer for dog feed.

A patrol leaves tomorrow for Chesterfield to connect with the Hudson's Bay Company's packet, which leaves for Churchill in June.

BUILDINGS.

The native quarters roof has been re-shingled, also the house belonging to the Marine and Fisheries Department, which was in a bad state; this building has been turned into a dwelling house for employed native Sullivan, the old house being un-sanitary. Both the employed natives are very comfortably housed now. A storm porch was built on the main entrance to the barracks to replace the one formerly in use in winter, and taken down in summer. I have commenced to paint the outside of the barracks white, the frames being painted ordnance blue. I will have all the occupied houses painted the same, they all need it badly. The main barrack room requires new flooring, and I request that permission be granted for this to be done.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

CUSTOMS.

I visited the whaling schooner Albert which is wintering at Repulse bay, and took stock of all articles for duty, which I am forwarding under separate report.

NATIVES.

We have in our employ two natives, 'Ooug-joug' and 'Sullivan'; both are good workers and good men on a trip; they are also very handy around barracks, repairing, etc.

All the natives visited during the winter seem to be well provided for, having plenty of food and good clothing; seal and walrus are plentiful along the floe, and ptarmigan, inland.

Captain Murray, at Repulse bay, practically keeps the whole band in that district, hiring the men to work in his boats in the whaling season, feeding them and their families during the winter. He supplies them with all the necessary articles for hunting. These were the cleanest party visited during our patrols. The 'Keniptumuits' are all around Chesterfield and Baker lake; a large number have been round the Hudson's Bay Company's post all winter, trapping foxes, wolves, etc., and have been very successful, the company having traded something like 3,000 foxes, besides other fur, during the winter.

The Baker lake party have had a hard winter, some of them died through starvation, i.e., one woman and two children.

Deer have been very scarce, and they had to live entirely on fish caught through the ice.

GAME.

Walrus and seal are fairly plentiful along the floe, rabbits and ptarmigan on the islands and mainland; deer were very scarce all over the district. The musk ox district is farther inland towards the Backs river; all the natives are well acquainted with the regulation regarding them, and also about slaughtering them indiscriminately.

FUR.

Fur of all sorts was plentiful; the natives inform me that the past winter has been the best ever known. Wolves, bears and foxes have been trapped or shot in large numbers; also a few musk ox. The natives get a fair value for any fur they trade.

DISCIPLINE AND HEALTH.

Reg. No. 4217 Constable Conway, P.R., has performed all duties assigned to him well and cheerfully. I have had to leave him alone during my patrols, and always found everything in good order on returning. He is a good man for duty in the north, having had to make the patrol to Baker lake direct from Fullerton, which I consider was the hardest made this year, in very cold weather and the shortest days; both natives are good, capable men and good for our duties in the north.

With the exception of a few miner ailments amongst our natives which were easily cured, there has been no sickness.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

DOGS.

On taking over the detachment the actual number of dogs available for duty consisted of eleven, and three small pups, seven dogs having died during the season 1910-11. During the winter three dogs died, and one was destroyed, having been caught in a wolf trap when on the Baker lake patrol. I have purchased one to replace him. The dogs have stood the work fairly well; they had very little rest, for when not on patrol they were hauling coal from the other side of the harbour. The three pups are in good condition and will be worked a little this spring; they should make good dogs for next winter.

WHALERS.

The American schooner A. T. Gifford, hailing from New Bedford, called in on her way home late in September, 1912. Captain Comer informed me that he had not had a very successful time; he kindly took out all mail for us.

The schooner Albert, hailing from Peterhead, Scotland (155 tons), John Murray, captain, wintered at Repulse bay, and up to the present had not got any whale, Captain Murray informed me that prospects are poor, owing to the ice being so rough, and not breaking up until late in the season. He intends to sail for home the first chance he gets during the coming summer.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Fullerton, during the winter, has been very lonely, Constable Conway, myself, and the two natives, being only persons here; most of the time one police and one native only, the other two being away on patrol.

The remainder of the spring will be employed in hunting dog feed. We have to rely solely on our own hunt, as no other natives are here, but expect to secure enough.

As per your instructions, everything is in readiness for stock-taking, the condemned articles placed on one side, so that there will be no delay.

I would recommend that a good interpreter be kept at the detachment, as any information is hard to get from the native direct.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. G. EDGENTON, Sergeant,
Reg. No. 4103.

APPENDIX C.

PATROL REPORTS SERGEANT W. G. EDGENTON, FULLERTON TO CHESTERFIELD INLET AND BAKER LAKE.

FULLERTON, December 14, 1912.

The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. Police,
M' Division, Churchill.

SIR,—I have the honour to report re mail patrol from Fullerton to Chesterfield inlet.

I left Fullerton with employed native 'Ooug-joug' and eleven dogs on the 1st December, taking fourteen days' rations.

We made our first igloo on the north side of Daly bay, about 16 miles from Fullerton. We left the following morning at 7.30 o'clock and proceeded along the edge of the floe until opposite Depot island, where we made igloo on the ice.

We continued the next morning at 7.30 o'clock, the wind being strong from the northwest. We ran into very rough ice, and could scarcely make a mile an hour, and as by this time we could not see 100 yards ahead, we made igloo at 3.30 p.m.

We left next morning at 8 a.m., the ice was still very rough, and the wind as strong as on the previous day; we travelled about 12 miles and made snow-house on the ice, not being able to see any land.

We left the next morning at 8.30, the wind still blowing a blizzard from the northwest. We kept travelling along the edge of the floe, through very rough ice, until 11 a.m. The native then advised me to strike west, and try to pick up some land, as he was afraid to camp on the ice, for fear of it breaking off during the night. He thought we must be somewhere near the inlet, owing to the young ice. We reached a small island at 2 p.m., but could not tell where we were, owing to the snow blowing so hard; we made our igloo here and fed the last of our dog feed.

We left camp the next morning at 7.30 a.m., the wind having moderated slightly; we travelled south, making for a point of land about 4 miles ahead, the native told me it must be the point of Chesterfield inlet, on the north side, and by pushing on we should reach the Hudson's Bay Co's post that night. We continued on at about 5 miles an hour until we came to open water; we then had to go 2 miles west to get around this, ultimately reaching the Hudson's Bay Company's post at Chesterfield at 4 p.m., men and dogs in good shape. We remained at the post for three days, making arrangements for the mail to be taken on to Churchill with the Hudson's Bay Company packet, which leaves on the 11th December.

There are a number of Eskimos camped around the post, and all seem to be doing well hunting walrus, and trapping. A large number of Eskimos are hunting inland around Baker lake, where the Hudson's Bay Company have a trader, but he has not been heard from yet.

I intend to visit Baker lake next month, and will report further. There are also a great number of natives camped around Baker foreland, Ranken inlet, and Marble island, who are all doing well. I paid a visit to the Roman Catholic Mission, and found them very comfortable; they have built a two-storied house, and are well supplied with fuel and provisions. They hold services regularly, which appear to be well attended by the natives. We left Chesterfield on our return, on the 10th December, taking four nights' dog feed; weather fine and clear. We reached the igloo we made on our last night coming south and camped here. We left the next morning at 7.30, weather cold but calm. We travelled from point to point along the coast, finding the going good; we camped on the mainland about 10 miles south of Depot island. We continued on the next morning at 7 a.m. in cold and calm weather, and stopped for the night at the first igloo we made after leaving Fullerton.

We left the next morning at 8 a.m., weather fine and clear, and reached Fullerton detachment at 1 p.m., men and dogs in good shape. We saw a small band of deer in the vicinity of Depot island. Fox and bear tracks are numerous; there are no natives at Fullerton this year. A few families are at Repulse bay, the remainder are all south, owing to the Hudson's Bay Co.'s post at Chesterfield inlet; this has now become the central place for all.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

W. G. EDGENTON, Sergeant,
Reg. No. 4103.

FULLERTON, N.W.T., January 29, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,

R.N.W.M. Police,

'M' Division, Churchill.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward the following report of a patrol made by me from Fullerton towards Baker lake direct, for the purpose of getting in touch with the natives who reside in that district.

In compliance with orders received from the non-commissioned officer in charge of Fullerton detachment, I left Fullerton accompanied by employed native 'Ooug-joug' and eleven dogs, taking 21 days' rations and two nights' dog feed. We left at 8 a.m., January 15, but were unable to get into contact with any natives on our route, owing, as 'Ooug-joug' says, to their having to go further inland owing to the scarcity of deer and the necessity of procuring fish at the Big lakes. We did not see any deer until we reached the large lake about 25 miles west of the Commery river, or about 140 miles from Fullerton. Our dogs had not been fed for three nights and owing to the continued scarcity of deer I decided to return, as it was not advisable to go further inland.

The weather was bad for hunting, the snow was deep and not packed; the country was very rough on leaving the coast.

On January 23 we shot two deer, and fed one to the dogs that night, as by this time they were in poor condition.

We were absent, in all, for fourteen days, and covered about 280 miles.

ROUTE TAKEN.

On leaving Fullerton, we travelled southwest through several small islands. Then along the sea ice to Daly bay and Winchester inlet, to the Commery river; we followed this river along the south shore for a day, then left the river and travelled due west across country, passing several small lakes, until we reached a very large lake, name unknown. Here we hunted for two days, and had to turn back on account of shortness of dog feed. We returned by our old tracks and reached Fullerton on the afternoon of the 28th inst., myself and native well, but dogs in very poor condition.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

DIARY.

January 15.—Weather fine, temperature 40 below zero. Left Fullerton at 8 a.m., travelled southwest through several small islands, and camped for the night at Daly bay.

January 16.—Weather fine, temperature 43 below. I sent Native 'Ooug-joug' back to Fullerton for seal oil and a native lamp, my Primus oil stove not working well. The native returned to Daly bay at 4 p.m.

January 17.—Weather overcast, temperature 49 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., crossed Daly bay and made camp at Cross point.

January 18.—Weather clear, temperature 50 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., travelled across very rough ice, through Winchester inlet, to the mouth of the Commery river, and camped.

January 19.—Weather cloudy, temperature 53 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., travelled up the Commery river until noon, then left it at the south side, and proceeded over very rough country, and camped at Small lake at 4 p.m. Plenty of deer tracks, but saw none. Dogs in poor condition.

January 20.—Blizzard from northeast, temperature 25 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., travelled due west, and then camped at Big lake.

January 21.—Blizzard from northeast, temperature 28 below. Native and self hunting deer for dog feed, met with no success.

January 22.—Weather overcast, temperature 40 below. Hunting, killed two deer, and fed one of them to the dogs.

January 23.—Weather overcast, temperature 43 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., on return to Fullerton, camped at 4 p.m.

January 24.—Weather fine, temperature 53 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., camped on the Commery river at 4 p.m.

January 25.—Weather clear, temperature 48 below. Left camp at 8 a.m. and camped at Winchester inlet at 4 p.m.

January 26.—Weather clear, temperature 50 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., camped at Cross point at 4 p.m.

January 27.—Weather clear, temperature 43 below. Left camp at 8 a.m., crossed Daly bay and camped at 4 p.m.

January 28.—Weather fine, temperature 29 below. Left camp at Daly bay at 8 a.m., and arrived at the detachment, Fullerton, at 3.30 p.m.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

P. R. CONWAY, Constable,
Reg. No. 4217.

FULLERTON, N.W.T., March 22, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
R.N.W.M. Police,
'M' Division, Churchill.

SIR,—I have the honour to make the following report of a patrol made by me, during the month of March, 1913, in the vicinity of Baker lake via Chesterfield inlet, for the purpose of getting into touch with Eskimos in that district.

On March 7 accompanied by employed native 'Ooug-joug,' I left Fullerton with eleven dogs, and 31 field rations. The weather was good. We travelled every day with the exception of one day at Chesterfield, where I had to obtain a guide and also dog feed for ten nights. The distance, according to the maps, is about 200 miles, namely, 90 miles from Fullerton to the Hudson's Bay Company post at Chesterfield, which is on the south shore of the inlet. From here it is 110 miles to the narrows at Baker lake. I should say the patrol covered in all about 460 miles, having to make detours owing to rough ice along the coast, and rough country inland.

A patrol had already tried to get into contact with these natives, leaving Fullerton and travelling direct, but it had to return after an absence of fourteen days, being unable to procure dog feed, deer being so scarce this winter.

The Hudson's Bay Company at Chesterfield have two natives trading for them, one on Baker lake and the other at the head of Schultz lake, but neither of them have been heard from. In other years they bring in their furs during January or February, so there is a fear that they are hard pressed for food. The natives camped along the shores of Chesterfield inlet have had to come to the coast to hunt seal and walrus for a living; they report having seen none of the party from Baker lake.

I was unable to get into touch with them on my patrol, my guide informing me that they would be continually on the move, and that owing to there being no deer, it was not safe to proceed further. The dogs were very tired, having had very rough and hard country to contend with.

We passed several empty igloos on the north shore of Chesterfield inlet, and saw plenty of tracks, but did not see a single native. I therefore turned towards Chesterfield inlet, making a detour a little south after reaching the Quoich river, which is on the north shore of the inlet, near the entrance to Baker lake. My guide was taken sick on the return trip and had to ride on the sled for the last two days into the Hudson's Bay Company post.

ROUTE TRAVELLED.

On leaving Fullerton we travelled southwest through the islands, then struck more south to Depot island, keeping along the main floe to Chesterfield, then west along the south shore of the inlet, crossing same about 40 miles from the mouth, then keeping along the north shore towards Baker lake to the Quoich river. We returned by the southern shore of the inlet to the Hudson's Bay Company post, then north along the main floe to Fullerton.

REMARKS.

Should there be deer in the country, a quick trip could be made, the patrol being able to rely on killing deer for both men and dogs.

The natives around the post are having good success hunting seal, walrus and ptarmigan. I am told by the natives that there is, as a rule, an abundance of deer in these parts, but owing to such large parties of natives camping around in the summer and fall they are being driven away.

The dogs stood the trip fairly well, one dog, Reg. No. 220, was caught in a wolf trap, evidently set by natives between Ranken and Chesterfield inlets; its foot was badly frozen, and it has since had to be destroyed.

DIARY.

March 7.—Weather fine. Left Fullerton at 6 a.m.; travelled southwest to Depot island, and camped for the night.

March 8.—Weather fine. Travelled south along the main floe and reached the Hudson's Bay Company's post at Chesterfield at 5 p.m.

March 9.—Weather overcast. Resting at Hudson's Bay Company's post. Hired native 'Tuppick' to act as guide to Baker lake, and purchased dog feed.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

March 10.—Weather fine. Left Chesterfield with natives 'Ooug-joug' and 'Tuppick' and eight nights' dog feed (unable to procure more). Travelled west all day and camped on the south shore of inlet.

March 11.—Heavy ground drift. Left camp at 6.30 a.m., travelling west by north, crossing the inlet, then continued west along the north shore, camping at 4.30 p.m.

March 12.—Weather cloudy. Left camp at 6 a.m., travelled along the land, passed empty igloos during the day, camped for the night at 5 p.m.

March 13.—Weather fine. Left camp at 6 a.m., travelling west by south; the inlet takes a turn at this point; camped for the night at 4 p.m.

March 14.—Weather fine. Left camp at 6 a.m., travelled west until we reached the Quoich river at its mouth, where we camped.

March 15.—Weather cloudy. Left camp at 6 a.m., travelled south and east, crossing to the south shore of the inlet; camped at 4.30 p.m.

March 16.—Weather misty. Left camp at 6.30 a.m., travelled east towards the coast, and camped for the night at 5 p.m.

March 17.—Weather fine. Travelled east, country very rough, camped at 5 p.m.

March 18.—Weather cloudy. Left camp at 6.30 a.m., travelled east towards the mouth of the inlet; travelled slowly on account of the guide being sick.

March 19.—Weather fine. Left camp at 6 a.m. Tuppick still sick and had to ride; travelled east, reached Hudson's Bay Company's post at 5.30 p.m.

March 20.—Weather fine. Resting at the Hudson's Bay Company's post. Paid off 'Tuppick' and purchased dog feed.

March 21.—Weather cloudy. Left Hudson's Bay Company's post at 7 a.m., crossed inlet at mouth, continued along the main floe, making camp at Depot island at 5 p.m.

March 22.—Weather fine. Left camp at 6 a.m., travelled along the main floe to MacArthur's beacon, then through the islands to the detachment, arriving home at 5 p.m., finding all well.

APPENDIX D.

SERGEANT W. G. EDGENTON'S PATROL FROM FULLERTON TO REPULSE BAY.

FULLERTON, May 16, 1913.

The Officer Commanding
'M' Division, Churchill.

SIR,—I have the honour to make the following report of a patrol made from this detachment to Repulse bay via Wager inlet, and return, for the purpose of inspecting patrol house No. 3, the wrecked schooner Jeanie, and then on to Repulse bay to collect Customs from Captain Murray and the schooner Albert. On April 23, 1913, accompanied by native 'Sullivan' I left Fullerton with ten dogs and twenty-one days' rations.

The weather, on the whole, was fine. The distance, according to the map, is about 200 miles, but owing to the Wager river never freezing over, the patrol was not able to travel along the coast all the way, having to take to the land about 25 miles south of the mouth of Wager bay, crossing about ten miles west of the patrol house, and making the ice at Walrus island, on the north side of Wager bay.

I inspected the house and schooner, which I am reporting on separately, and then proceeded to Repulse bay, where we were welcomed by Captain Murray and his crew, being made very comfortable on board. Captain Murray informed me that it had not been his intention to winter here; he came to try and pick up natives to man his whale boats, and then intended to winter in the vicinity of Ottawa islands on the east coast, but they sighted two whales and then got caught in the ice, and were unable to get out.

The schooner Albert is of 155 tons and is owned by Mr. W. H. Leask, of Peterhead, Scotland; she carries a crew of eleven all told. I took stock of all articles liable for duty, and am sending in my report of the same separately.

Captain Murray, in addition to his own crew, employs some twenty natives to man his whale boats in the spring, keeping these men together with their families all winter, feeding them very well, and supplying them with the necessaries for hunting, etc.

The prospects for whaling this year, he explains, are poor, Roes Welcome being completely frozen up from Whale Point, 40 miles north of Fullerton; up to the present he has caught nothing, and he expects to get out some time in September.

The following is the route travelled:—

On leaving the detachment we travelled northeast to Cape Fullerton, about 8 miles, then north, crossing Whale point and keeping along the coast, having to make long detours, owing to very rough ice, to within 25 miles of Wager bay, then east and a little north to Wager, to cross on the other side west, then north to Walrus island, north to Beechey point, and finally 20 miles east to the schooner. This schooner is in about the middle of Repulse bay, a good harbour being formed here by four islands, and is nearly landlocked.

Remarks on the route:—

Should the Wager river freeze over at the mouth, the trip would take at least four days less, but the current is here so swift the natives say they never knew it to freeze over. Patrols travelling through the country have to cut across to make a point about 10 miles west of the Patrol house; it is not safe to cross lower down, owing to large masses of ice continually breaking off at each tide.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

On reaching Walrus island the party have to travel on the land owing to very rough ice for about 10 miles, but from here onwards the going is exceptionally good.

We saw no natives between Fullerton and Repulse bay, except the ones employed by Captain Murray, a large party of Nechillingmuits are camped at Repulse bay and seemed to be fairly well off. On the north shore, commonly known as 'Blue-land,' a small party of Igulics are camped and are well provided for. The natives in this district are the cleanest and are the best off of any natives I have visited this winter.

Deer are scarce around Fullerton and to within 100 miles of Repulse bay, when they become fairly plentiful; we shot one at the Wager river, seal are also plentiful at this time of the year, laying in the sun on the ice; Sullivan shot one large seal crossing the Wager. Ptarmigan are plentiful; we saw several large flocks.

The dogs stood the trip fairly well; I had no casualties, one dog strayed away on the night of May 2, and was given up for lost, but came into our camp on the night of the 10th on our return trip, and was in good condition.

I purchased one dog from a native at Repulse bay in place of this dog which I supposed was lost, and have taken him on the strength.

The distance travelled was about 500 miles, in 19 days, myself and the native were in good health, but both were troubled with snow blindness.

DIARY.

April 23.—Wind northeast, fine. Left Fullerton at 5.30 a.m., travelled northeast in a.m. and due north in p.m.; camped for the night at Whale point at 5 p.m.

April 24.—Wind southwest, slight snowfall. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., and camped in p.m. at 4.30, travelling along the coast all day.

April 25.—Wind north, misty. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., and after travelling for three hours made for land, travelling north by east; snow on land very soft and going bad.

April 26.—Wind northwest, fine. Left camp at 5 a.m., travelled north by east, country very rough and snow deep. Shot a deer in p.m.; camped at the Wager river at 4.30 p.m.

April 27.—Wind north, fine. Resting dogs, myself and native walked to high land to look for a crossing; open water as far as we could see.

April 28.—Calm, fine. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., travelled along Wager bay, ice very rough; reached patrol house No. 3 at 11 o'clock; we then travelled to place of crossing, camping at 5 p.m. A native came along from the north about 7 p.m., reporting deer very scarce. 'Sullivan' shot a seal in p.m.

April 29.—Northeast wind; fine. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., and travelled across Wager bay; made land at 9.30, then travelled east until 4.30 p.m.; going heavy, snow soft.

April 30.—Northwest wind; fine. Left camp at 4 a.m., travelled east to the coast, reaching the ice at 1 p.m.; travelled along the coast all day to 4.30 p.m.

May 1.—Wind north, cloudy. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., passed Walrus island at 9 a.m.; we then had to travel along the land owing to very rough ice for about 10 miles; camped for the night at Seal river; dog 'Deliauk' strayed away during night and was not recovered.

May 2.—North wind; fine. Left camp at 7 a.m., after spending two hours looking for the dog. Reached Reachey point at 3.30 p.m.; met Mr. Booth (2nd mate of the Albert) and party getting boats ready for whaling.

May 3.—North wind; fine. Left Beechey point at 6 a.m., travelled up the east side of Repulse bay, reaching the schooner Albert at 3 p.m.

May 4.—Sunday routine.

May 5.—Checking over stores for duty.

May 6.—Resting.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

May 7.—Resting. Purchased dog; also dog feed for return.

May 8.—North wind; fine. Left Repulse bay at 7 a.m., passed Beechey point at 2.30 p.m., and travelled on to 6 p.m.; going very good.

May 9.—North wind; fine. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., reached Walrus island at 3 p.m., and camped.

May 10.—North wind; misty. Left Walrus island at 4.30 a.m., travelled west and south to miss open water at Wager bay; camped at 4.30 p.m.

May 11.—North wind; fine. Left camp at 4 a.m., travelled west, crossed Wager bay, and made our old camp at 5 p.m.

May 12.—Northeast wind; fine. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., travelled along Wager bay to patrol house to get oil for Primus lamp, then travelled south by east till 4.30 p.m.

May 13.—Misty, with slight snow. Left camp at 4.30 a.m., travelling east, reached ice at noon and travelled along shore until 5 p.m.

May 14.—North wind; fine. Left camp at 3.30 a.m., travelled along the coast all day, made about 5 miles south of Whale island at 5 p.m., and camped.

May 15.—Northeast wind; cold. Left camp at 4 a.m., travelled along the main floe to Cape Fullerton, and then west to detachment, reaching home at 4.30. Found everything all right.

I brought out mail from Captain Murray and crew, and will forward this on with the Police packet for Churchill.

I have the honour to be, sir,

APPENDIX E.

CORPORAL J. G. JONES' PATROL FROM CHURCHILL TO YORK FACTORY
AND RETURN.

CHURCHILL, Man., January 7, 1913.

The Officer Commanding
R. N. W. M. Police,
'M' Division.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of a patrol to York Factory and return, for the purpose of taking a team of dogs and equipment to York for Sergeant Walker, and returning with mail.

December 9.—Acting upon instructions received from you, I left the post on the 9th of December at 8 a.m., accompanied by Sandy Oman as guide and native Eskimo 'Charlie'; also two dog teams, No. 2 and York teams. After crossing the Churchill river the wind increased, and within two hours there was a heavy ground drift. When the 'Hummock' was reached at 2.30 p.m., it was impossible to see any further than 50 yards because the storm, by now, had developed into a blizzard; so camp was made for the night.

Distance, 20 miles. Wind, northwest, strong.

December 10.—Storming all day from northwest. Remained in camp.

December 11.—The storm having lifted somewhat, I decided to start, so camp was broken at 7.45 a.m., and we proceeded to the Eastern bush. But, owing to the heavy ground drift, the guide unfortunately did not strike the trail. The going was very slow, as we were travelling through a series of willow flats, in which the snow had drifted in loose drifts with a hard crust on the surface. The dogs had great difficulty in crossing these flats, because of these crusts, scraping the hair off their toes and legs, and the willows getting in between their toes and pads, and cutting them badly. An early camp was made at 12.30 p.m., and the rest of the day was spent in making small bags to bind over the dogs feet and toes.

Distance, 9 miles. Wind northwest, strong.

December 12.—In the morning, the weather having cleared up, the guide located our position as being 3 miles from the trail. At 8 a.m. camp was broken. and after travelling for an hour the trail was found. We eventually made the south side of the bush at 11 a.m. After crossing a plain with a scattering of scrub bush some 12 miles long, 'Croys Bluff' was passed; 3 miles south of the bluff, camp was made at Lump creek.

Distance, 22 miles. Wind, northwest, light, clear.

December 13.—After caching dog-feed for the return trip, a start was made at 7.50 a.m.; we then travelled through willow and grassy flats, till White Whale lake was reached, on south side of which is a high gravel ridge; 8 miles. The trail now was over a bare plain to Kirbys Lobstick, another 7 miles, where several small bluffs of stunted spruce are situated. Camped for night at Salmon creek at 3 p.m.

Distance, 24 miles. Wind, northwest, light; bright.

December 14.—Cached dog-feed for return at Salmon creek. Left camp at 7.30 a.m. and crossed a plain to Broad river; 12 miles. After noon fire we continued to travel over another large plain to within 6 miles of the Owl river, where we camped for the night.

Distance, 31 miles. Wind, northwest, strong; overcast.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

December 15.—Started at 8 a.m. and crossed the Owl river at 9.45 a.m.; the going now was particularly bad, through willows and small clearings in low-lying country. Made to within 4 miles north of the Stony river, and stopped for the night at 4.30 p.m.

Distance, 27 miles. Wind, northwest; light, overcast.

December 16.—Cached dog-feed at Owl river. Left camp at 7.30 a.m. After crossing Stony river the trail was through small and scattered bush, and crossed numerous creeks, the largest being Partridge creek. Camped for the night at White-Bear creek at 3.15 p.m.

Distance, 21 miles. Wind, southeast, light; snowfall all day.

December 17.—Cached dog feed at Partridge lake. Broke camp at 8 a.m. and travelled to Duck creek. We then followed this creek to the coast and continued along the shore of the Nelson river, till the Hudson Bay Railway Survey camp was reached at 5 p.m. Mr. Hazen, in charge, gave us a hearty welcome and kindly gave us quarters for the night.

Distance, 32 miles. Wind, southeast; heavy snowfall.

December 18.—The river at this point was open, the ice being only 300 yards off the shore. The prospects of the river not freezing up for at least a fortnight, I hired an Indian named William Witchicat to act as guide, so as to proceed further up the river to make a crossing. This Indian has lived around this vicinity for a number of years and thoroughly understands the ice conditions of the Nelson river. Remained all day at Survey camp. Expecting to take five days to make York, according to information received that the river was open another 30 miles up, I obtained a few provisions from Mr. Hazen, who very kindly supplied us.

December 19.—Left the Survey camp at 8 a.m. and travelled along the shore of the river to within a mile of the Seal island. The ice at this place had jammed during the night and had frozen solid, which enabled us to cross to the south side of the Nelson. We then kept to the shore of the river, till the Bull track was reached, which trail took us overland to York, arriving at 5.30 p.m.

On my arrival I handed over to Sergeant Walker: one team of six dogs; six sets of harness; one sled; one wrapper sled.

Distance, 31 miles. Wind, southeast, light snowfall.

December 20. Off duty, owing to the guide stating that the river was not safe for crossing, and that it was probable that the jamb would break; Sergeant Walker considered it advisable to hold the guide till my return to Churchill. Because of the ice breaking, it would be necessary to go two days up the river to cross.

December 21.—Attending to dogs' legs and feet. Overhauling and fixing sleds and wrappers.

December 22.—Sunday routine.

December 23.—Cooking for return trip. Wind, northwest, light; clear.

December 24.—Drying out tent and repairing same. Bright.

December 25.—Sunday routine. Wind, west, light; fine.

December 26.—Drawing rations and preparing for return.

December 27.—Left York at 8.30 a.m., with guides William Witchicat and Sandy Oman, and native Eskimo 'Charlie' and No. 2 team for Churchill, taking Police, Hudson's Bay Company's and Mission mail along.

Accompanying the patrol were a party of prospectors, namely, Messrs. Whiteford, Wills and Roy, with two dog teams and two half-breeds as dog-drivers, Macpherson and Gibou.

Made fire on south side of the river and crossed about a mile below Seal island, and arrived at the Survey camp at 5.45 p.m.

Distance, 31 miles. Wind, northwest, moderate; fine.

December 28.—Remained all day at Survey camp, to replace mud on runners of the cometic-sleds, a considerable lot being broken off the previous day whilst crossing the Nelson river. Wind, southeast; snowfall all day.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

December 29.—Left the Survey camp at 8.30 a.m. and followed trail to Duck creek, where camp was made for the night at 5 p.m. Trail very heavy.

Distance, 24 miles. Heavy snowfall all day.

December 30.—Started at 7.25 a.m. and crossed to White Bear and Partridge creeks, and made camp at Stony river at 4.30 p.m.

Distance, 25 miles. Wind, southeast; heavy snowfall.

December 31.—Broke camp at 7.30 a.m. and made the Owl river for night.

Distance, 25 miles. Wind, southeast; light snowfall.

January 1.—Started 7.20 a.m. and camped on Broad river at 4 p.m., for the night.

Distance 29 miles. Wind, northwest; drifting.

January 2.—Left Broad river at 8 a.m. and crossed Salmon creek at noon, and stopped at 3.45 p.m. at Kirby's Lobstick.

Distance, 21 miles. Wind, northwest; clear.

January 3.—Left camp at Kirby's Lobstick at 7.25 a.m., nooned at Lump creek, and made the eastern bush for night at 4.30 p.m.

Distance, 32 miles. Wind, northwest, light; fine.

January 4.—Broke camp at 7.30 a.m., and after leaving the Eastern bush, the wind became stronger and it was soon blowing a blizzard. The guide, Sandy Oman, and native 'Charlie,' who were ahead of the dog-teams, whilst travelling over a lake, were lost to view owing to the thickness of the drift and storm. We could not find their track as the ice was glare. Consequently when the next bluff of bush was met, I considered it advisable to camp for the night, as we now had no one to break trail ahead of the dogs to proceed on to the post, and also as two of the party, Messrs. Wills and Roy were beginning to get frost-bitten. Stopped for night 12 miles from Churchill.

Distance, 19 miles. Storming from northwest.

January 5.—The storm having cleared up, a start was made at 8.45 a.m., arriving at the post at 11.30 a.m. Here we learned that the guide Sandy Oman and native 'Charlie' had arrived safely overnight at 8 p.m.

Distance, 12 miles. Wind, northwest, moderate, clear.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The trail between York and Churchill is very badly wooded and the only places suitable for camping are at the different river banks, Kirby's Lobstick, Croys Bluff and Eastern bush, a tent and stove being indispensable.

No Indians or Breeds were seen hunting or trapping. The only trappers are H. Eby, who is trapping along the coast two miles from the Survey camp to Duck creek, and four Eskimo families, who are camped close to Cape Churchill.

The Hudson Bay Railway Survey camp, which is under the command of Mr. Hazen, has a staff of twenty-six men, who are all comfortably housed in log buildings.

The guide, Sandy Oman, and native 'Charlie' are two reliable men, and know the trail well.

GAME.

No signs of deer were seen, but ptarmigan were numerous.

APPENDIX F.

CORPORAL J. G. JONES' PATROL FROM CHURCHILL TO SPLIT LAKE
AND RETURN.

CHURCHILL, MAN., April 22, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'M' Division, Churchill.

SIR,—I have the honour to report the following patrol from Churchill to Split lake and return, for the purpose of taking party on transfer to Regina, as far as Split lake and returning with mail. Acting upon instructions received from you, I left the post on March 18, with the following detail: Reg. No. 3829 Sergeant Walker, R. H., sick; Reg. No. 4708 Constable Rose, P., on transfer to Regina; and natives 'Joe' and 'Willybuck,' with Nos. 1, 2, and 6 dog teams.

The distribution of transport was as follows:—

- No. 1 team: Dog feed, driven by 'Willybuck.'
- No. 2 team: Kits and rations, driven by Corporal Jones.
- No. 6 team: Carriole for Sergeant Walker, driven by 'Joe.'

Accompanying the patrol was one private team, driven by Constable Rose; also W. Ewen of the Hudson's Bay Co. and J. Grey, half-breed, with one Hudson's Bay Co. dog team; also Mr. L. Roy, prospector.

Split Lake detachment was reached on March 24, all members of the party and the dogs being in good shape.

On our arrival at Split lake we found that Constable Withers, D., had left in the forenoon for Le Pas, with W. K. McNaughton of the Hudson Bay Railway Survey (lunatic), accompanied by Rev. G. E. Fox, Church of England Missionary at Split lake.

On March 27 Sergeant Walker and Constable Rose left for Regina, via Thicket portage and Le Pas, with Special Constable Macleod and Indians Alec and Roderick Spence, with one Police dog team and one hired team. Special Constable Macleod and the guide Alec Spence, with the Police team, after taking Sergeant Walker and Constable Rose as far as Thicket portage were to proceed to Norway House, for the purpose of obtaining mail, myself, Natives 'Willybuck' and 'Joe,' with the three Churchill teams to wait at Split lake until their return from Norway House. They eventually returned on April 11.

As the weather was now very warm and mild, it was necessary to travel at night, and rest during the day. Consequently, the following party left at 12.30 a.m. on April 12 on return to Churchill: Corporal Jones, Natives 'Joe' and 'Willybuck' and three Police dog teams, taking through all the mail for Churchill, in all 120 pounds. On the return trip, after leaving Patrol House No. 2, I could not follow the regular trail across the plains, which are some 48 miles across, on account of the warm weather having melted the snow off the ground, leaving it absolutely bare. It was impossible to travel on this bare stretch of moss and knolls, so I decided to strike due west along one of the small creeks on the edge of the bush, and make for the Churchill river and follow its course to the post. Most of the creeks and rivers travelled on had water on the ice, caused through overflow. The Little Churchill river was especially bad, having from 6 to 14 inches in places. This caused considerable delay, as it was necessary to change our foot-gear at every fire. on account of having to travel through these overflows.

INDIANS.

At the different hunting camps going south, the Indians had gone into Split lake for Easter; several teams were met returning one day north of that post, and all reported that they had had a good season for hunting, both as regards deer and fur.

On returning north, I had occasion to warn and reprimand one of the Indians for lifting part of a cache, it was not his property, and he was not in actual want.

Apart from this there were no complaints, and they all appear to be contented and quiet.

GAME.

An abundance of ptarmigan were passed on this patrol, but no large game such as deer or moose were seen. Judging from the number of rabbit tracks seen, rabbits too are very numerous this year.

DOGS.

The dogs returned to Churchill, all in excellent condition; the trail was very bad on their feet, but with the exception of one dog, all their feet were sound.

COPY OF DIARY.

March 18.—Wind, northwest, moderate; fine and clear. Left the post at 9.15 a.m. and proceeded to the Hudson's Bay Co. post, where W. Ewen joined the party; left the company's at 10.30 a.m. and continued up the Churchill river on the west side for 12 miles and then crossed over to the east side, where a fire was made at 1.15 p.m. During the freeze up, the ice did not pile up at Mosquito point, and the crossing was fairly smooth. After the noon fire we continued on to the Deer River Patrol house and arrived there at 5.15 p.m.

Distance travelled, 30 miles.

March 19.—Wind, southwest, light; fine and clear. Left Deer River house at 7.30 a.m., and had two fires during the day, one near small creek and another close to Dog river. At the second fire, we decided, as the evening was clear and fine, to travel on until patrol house No. 2 was reached, and make this our night camp, arriving there at 9.30 p.m.

Distance travelled, 48 miles.

March 20.—Wind, southwest, moderate; bright. Started from house at 8.45 a.m. and made first fire at the edge of the brulé at 11.30 a.m., and a second fire at 2.45 p.m. We eventually made camp for the night 2 miles north of Grey lake.

Distance travelled, 30 miles.

March 21.—Wind, southwest, light; fine and clear. Broke camp at 8 a.m. and crossed Grey lake; nooned at 11.30 a.m. and again at 3.15 p.m. Shortly after leaving the last fire, we reached the Churchill river a little below the Paddle portage; we then travelled along the river until the Little Churchill river was reached; we followed this river until 6.15 p.m. and camped for the night.

Distance travelled, 39 miles.

March 22.—Wind southwest, light; fine and clear. Started at 7.30 a.m. and continued along the course of the Little Churchill river; stopped for fires at 10.30 a.m. and again at 2.30 p.m., and arrived at Sandy Mayhan's hunting cabin at 5.45 p.m.

Distance travelled, 39 miles.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

March 23.—Wind, west, moderate; cloudy. Left at 8 a.m. and made fire at Sandy lake at 12 noon, and camped for the night 14 miles north of Clearwater lake at 7 p.m.

Distance travelled, 41 miles.

March 24.—Wind, west, moderate; fine and clear. Started at 5.45 a.m., had fire on bank of Clearwater lake and again at the Teepee hill, and arrived at the Split Lake detachment at 6.15 p.m.

Distance travelled, 49 miles.

March 25 to April 11.—At Split lake, awaiting the return of Special Constable Macleod from Norway House, with mail.

April 12.—Wind, south; clear and warm. Started at 12.30 a.m. and spelled at the Teepee hill, and again at Clearwater lake, and camped at Sandy lake for the rest of the day.

Distance travelled, 70 miles.

April 13.—Wind, south; heavy rain. Started at 10 p.m., but owing to the rain, which made the trail very heavy, we could go no farther than Sandy Mayhan's cabin, arriving there at 4 a.m.

Distance travelled, 20 miles.

April 14.—Wind, south; raining. Stopped over, on account of rain.

April 15.—Wind, southwest; fine and clear. Left at 2 a.m., spelled at 6 a.m. and camped at 10 a.m. on the banks of the Little Churchill river.

Distance travelled, 31 miles.

April 16.—Wind, southwest; fine and bright.—Started at 10 p.m. of the 15th, spelled at 3 a.m. and camped 10 miles north of the Churchill river.

Distance travelled, 33 miles.

April 17.—Light snowfall early in a.m.; warm. Left camp at 9 p.m. of the 16th, rested twice during the night, and camped 8 miles west of patrol house No. 2.

Distance travelled, 46 miles.

April 18.—Unable to travel, owing to mildness of the weather, the temperature being well above freezing point.

April 19.—Wind, southwest; fine and clear. Left camp at 10 p.m. of the 18th, and kept due west until the Churchill river was reached, we then travelled on the east side of the river until 11 a.m., and camped.

Distance travelled, 32 miles.

April 20.—Wind, southwest; fine and clear. Started at 9 p.m. of the 19th, and spelled twice. When the mouth of the Deer river was reached, knowing that I was only 29 miles from the post, we turned and followed the Deer river until patrol house No. 1 was reached, and here rested. We then proceeded on down the Churchill river and arrived at the post at 11 a.m.

Distance travelled, 46 miles.

To the Honourable

LOUIS CODERRE, K.C., LL.B.,

Secretary of State of Canada.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you a statement of the work of the Correspondence Branch of the Department of the Secretary of State for the year ended March 31, 1913.

INCORPORATION OF COMPANIES.

The number of charters, including supplementary charters, issued under the Companies Act during the fiscal year 1912-13 was 835 as compared with 658 in the last previous year. The total capitalization of new companies was $625,212,299.98, and the capitalization of existing companies was increased by $55,549,900, the whole amounting to $680,762,199.98, as compared with $490,565,999 in 1911-12.

Particulars as to the capital stock, &c., of the companies incorporated or granted Supplementary Letter Patent during the twelve months, together with the date, etc., of the Canada Gazette in which the object and powers are set forth, will be found in my report of the work of the Registrar's Branch of the Department.

The departmental report for the year ending March 31, 1908, included a complete list of all companies to which charters, either original or supplementary, or both, had been granted under the various joint stock companies Acts of Canada from as far back as 1821 to that date. The present report contains the list of charters to March 31, 1913, including with the above list the list contained in each yearly report since that of the year ending March 31, 1908.

A general index of the names of all the companies incorporated in Canada, both federal and provincial, is now in course of preparation, and upon completion will prove invaluable in preventing duplication of company names.

NATURALIZATION OF ALIENS.

In my report as Deputy Registrar General above referred to, full particulars are given of all naturalizations effected throughout the Dominion for the twelve months since the date of the last return, viz., to December 31, 1912. Complete returns showing the names, places of residence, and former nationalities of all Canadian naturalized subjects of His Majesty are tabulated and recorded in the Registrar's Branch of the department, and are always available for reference.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The payments to the court officers, charged with the making of naturalization returns, details of which will be found in the report of the Auditor General, amounted to $4,449.02. All the correspondence in connection with the returns and all the accounts for the same were dealt with in this branch.

CANADA TEMPERANCE ACT.

Two elections under this Act were held during the past year, upon petition to bring the Act into force; the one in the district of Manitoulin, province of Ontario, and the other in the city of Thetford Mines, province of Quebec. In both cases the petitions were adopted. At this date the Act is in force in the following counties and cities:—

Ontario.

District of Manitoulin.

Quebec.

City of Thetford Mines.

Nova Scotia.

Counties of Annapolis, Cumberland, Digby, Guysborough, Hants, Kings, Pictou, Queens, Shelburne and Yarmouth.

New Brunswick.

Counties of Albert, Carleton, Charlotte, Kings, Northumberland, Queens, Sunbury, Westmorland and York, and city of Fredericton.

Manitoba.

Lisgar and Marquette.

The Act is not in force anywhere in any of the other provinces or territories.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE.

Subjoined is a statement of the revenue of the department for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1913.

Charters and supplementary charters	$301,578 70
Commissions	773 00
Certified copies	1,781 00
Certificates of incorporation—Boards of Trade	100 00
Certificates of deposit	281 50
Exemplifications	18 00
Certificates of legalization	46 00
Copies	11 49
Certificates	63 00

Total $304,652 69

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29

Of the foregoing amount, the sum of $25,331.25 was transferred to the King's Printer for advertising notices of letters patent under the Companies Act in the Canada Gazette; $751.75 was refunded upon applications withdrawn or not granted and $42 was transferred to other departments, leaving a net amount of $278,527.69.

The net revenue exceeded the expenditure of the department for salaries and contingencies by $200,464.76, and after all expenditure, including the collection of returns under the Naturalization Act; the cost of providing the library of the High Commissioner's office in London with Canadian books and periodicals; subscription to the Canadian Parliamentary Companion, 600 copies; the annual subscription of the Government to the International Catalogue of Scientific Literature, &c.,—left a credit balance of $192,281.12.

GENERAL.

During the year many valuable additions have been made to the records of the Library. These include many rare volumes of old sessional papers not now to be found elsewhere. The acquisition of these has enabled the librarian to complete several series dating back to Confederation. Marked progress has been made in the indexing and classification of the mass of documents deposited in the department prior to the establishment of the present library, and of these twenty-seven volumes of old departmental correspondence from 1881 to 1887, together with correspondence with the High Commissioner for Canada during the years 1880-84, and the Secretary of State for the Provinces in 1873 have been indexed and are now accessible to the public. I might mention that the present space at the disposal of the librarian is altogether inadequate to the proper display and accessibility of the material under his care.

My report of the work done in the Registrar's Branch of the department follows this. In addition to the list of charters of incorporation and supplementary charters, and the returns of naturalization already mentioned, it contains a list of all boards of trade registered in the department, trade unions, loan companies, licenses granted to British and foreign companies, commissions issued to public officers, and other useful information.

The synopsis of returns to addresses and orders passed by the Senate and House of Commons of Canada during the session of 1912-13, received and prepared by the department, and presented through the Secretary of State, will be found in Appendix A.

The Civil Service List of Canada for the year 1913, showing the names, dates of appointments, and promotion, ages and salaries of all persons permanently employed in the several departments of the service and the two Houses of Parliament on April 1, 1913, is now in course of preparation.

I have pleasure in expressing my satisfaction with the manner in which the staff of the department have performed their duties during the year.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

THOMAS MULVEY,

Under Secretary of State.

OTTAWA, April 1, 1913.

LIST OF APPENDICES.

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR'S BRANCH.

DEPARTMENT OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE,
OTTAWA, April, 1913.

The Honourable LOUIS CODERRE, K.C., LL.B.
Secretary of State of Canada.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your information the following statement of the work performed in the Registrar's branch of your department for the year ending 31 March, 1913, viz.:—

* An annual statutory return of bonds is submitted to parliament under section 32 of Chapter 1, R.S. C., 1906, giving full particulars of the bonds registered in the branch since last return.

† Quarterly returns of these lands were sent to the registrar of each city and county in the Province of Ontario, and to the Secretary-treasurer of each city and county in the Province of Quebec in which patents were issued, and a copy of the several returns in Ontario was also sent to the Provincial Secretary of Ontario.

During the year there have been copied upwards of 3,600 pages of documents, manuscripts and records.

The number of companies incorporated under 'The Companies Act' during the fiscal year was 835 with a total capitalization of $625,212,299.98, and the number of existing companies to which Supplementary Letters Patent were issued was 104, of which 54 increased their capital stock $55,549,900, 5 decreased their capital $11,861,381;

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

the remaining 45 were granted Supplementary Letters Patent for various objects, such as changing names, extending powers, etc., etc., making a total of 939 charters and supplementaries issued during the year, an increase of 281 over the previous year, whilst the total capitalization of new companies and the increased capital of existing companies amounted to $680,762,199.98, an increase in the total over the previous fiscal year (1911-12) of $190,196,200.98.

It is gratifying to observe that the increase in the number of charters as well as increased capitalization is largely in excess of previous years, as shown by the following table:—

A synopsis (with index thereto) giving full particulars of all companies incorporated, as well as of all existing companies to which were issued Supplementary Letters Patent during the fiscal year is appended hereto.

NATURALIZATION.

During the year 1912, there were returned under 'The Naturalization Act,' the names of 18,242 persons who were granted certificates of naturalization, and of re-admission to British nationality. The greater portion of these have been indexed after having been carefully examined and compared with the copies of the certificates accompanying the returns. The returns, with the certificates, have been numbered and filed in the branch.

A schedule showing the former nationalities of the persons naturalized under 'The Naturalization Act,' chap. 77, R.S.C., as registered in this branch during the twelve months ended December 31, 1912, will be found on the following page:—

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Owing to the over-crowded state of accommodation in the provincial jail at Lethbridge, seventy prisoners were transferred from that institution to this guard-room, as follows:—

9	prisoners,	November 28, 1912.
15	"	December 28, 1912.
16	"	February 13, 1913.
20	"	August 2, 1913.
10	"	September 10, 1913.

The health of the prisoners confined in the guard-room has been very good, with the exception of the ordinary trivial complaints.

A sufficient quantity of prison clothing of good quality has been supplied. Prison discipline has been strictly enforced, and the conduct of the prisoners, taken as a whole, has been satisfactory. There were a few prisoners transferred from the provincial jail who were rather troublesome, being what I may call old jail birds; the punishment allowed by the rules and regulations for common jails in Canada, has practically no effect on such prisoners; the only punishment this kind fear is corporal punishment.

New hardwood flooring has been laid in the corridors, dining and bath-rooms, and the flooring in several cells have been relaid.

The guard-room is entirely inadequate for the number of prisoners confined here. I have had as many as 56 prisoners here with only 23 cells at my disposal. An addition to the guard-room would be desirable.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. LINBLAD, Corporal,
Provost.

INDIAN DEPARTMENT AND STATE OF INDIANS.

The past year on both reserves has been quiet, and the Indians have had a reasonably successful harvest. Our scouts at Stand Off have been changing off as usual, more frequently than I care for, but it is useless to try and hold them if they wish to go. In most instances their reason is that they wish to look after their land.

Liquor again has been the most fruitful source of trouble, and I have to report the death of an Indian and his wife from drinking Florida water, which was supplied them in Cardston. The case was pushed, and the party charged with the sale was convicted summarily. The case was appealed, and in spite of the weight of Indian evidence, the conviction was quashed. The Bloods were and still are incensed over this case, and I think that this was largely the reason why they refused to dispose of a small part of their reserve to the municipality of Cardston for the purposes of a race-course during the summer.

A great deal of interest has been caused this summer by reason of the suggestion, and subsequent application to the Federal Government for the cancellation of the grazing leases on the Indian reserves, which have hitherto been held by large stock firms, and for permission to be granted to small ranchers to run their stock there instead. As this question is still sub-judice, it would not be proper for me to comment further thereon.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S VISIT.

His Royal Highness the Governor General visited Macleod on the 9th October, 1912, during his tour of the Dominion, the escort being found by this division. It had originally been arranged for the 23rd Alberta Rangers to perform this duty, but at noon on the 7th October I was notified by the Mayor of Macleod that this arrangement had fallen through. I at once wired you for instructions, and at 3.30 p.m. of the 8th received orders to furnish the escorts. The weather on that day was vile, a sleety snow falling, with a bitter wind, but in spite of these inconveniences all the men required from detachments came through to Macleod, and the escort was ready for duty at the hour appointed.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

His Royal Highness and his party stayed at Macleod for the greater part of the day, and before dismissing the escort at the conclusion of their duties, His Royal Highness graciously complimented Inspector Pennefather on the smart appearance of his escort. His Royal Highness in conversation with myself, displayed great interest in the force, making minute inquiries regarding everything concerning the division.

DISTRIBUTION OF STRENGTH.

The strength of the district is exactly what it was a year ago, and I can only refer to Superintendent Primrose's report of last year; the criminal work is increasing and our strength stationary.

I consider it of importance that an officer be stationed in the Cardston sub-district, as the handling of it from Macleod is not satisfactory. The great difficulty heretofore, in this regard, has been to find suitable quarters at Cardston for an officer. The only way to overcome this would be to build ourselves.

I think that the headquarters of the Pincher Creek sub-district should be moved into the Pass, where the bulk of the work is. The officer in command is now stationed at Pincher Creek, and this means that he is away from his home most of the time. To station him in the Pass, close to his work, would add to the efficiency of the command and to his own comfort.

DRILL TRAINING AND MUSKETRY.

This spring the whole division received a short course of physical exercises, mounted and dismounted drills. Lectures on law and police duties were also given. We still lack a rifle range, which is a great pity. Last August the annual revolver practice was carried out; the results were not quite so good as last year, eight men qualifying for the 'crossed revolvers' as against eleven men last year.

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

I regret to have to refer to a disgraceful fracas which recently occurred at the C.P.R. depot here, in which two constables of this division were guilty of fighting with two civilians. These two men were fined, sentenced to long terms of imprisonment, and recommended to be dismissed from the force. In commenting on this I am glad to say that in my thirty years' service, I have never had to deal with a similar case.

HEALTH.

The health of the division during the past year has, on the whole, been good. I regret to have to report the death of Reg. No. 2776 Constable A. M. Fyfe, who died on the 4th October, 1913, after a long illness, the immediate cause of death being certified as paralysis. I regret the loss of this man very much; he was a very fine type and had the respect and affection of all ranks.

Reg. No. 5333 Constable Russell, R., suffered what might have easily been a fatal accident, on the 1st September last, when his own pony, which he was riding bareback, reared up and came straight over on top of him. I am glad to say that he has made a good recovery, and will soon be fit for duty.

Since the connecting of the barracks with the municipal sewerage system, the sanitary condition has been much improved.

HORSES.

Our strength in horses remains the same as last year. Eight horses have been taken on the strength during the past twelve months, seven have been cast and sold at an average figure of $77. and one died of blood poisoning. One colt born in 1912, died from pneumonia in February last; this animal had not been taken on the strength at the time it died. Five horses should be cast. The total mileage for the year by both saddle and team horses reaches the figure of 187,636 miles; striking an average of 66 horses on the strength, this gives us an average per horse of 2,843 miles.

TRANSPORT AND HARNESS.

Our transport and harness are in good shape, any repairs which were required being attended to at once.

CANTEEN.

Our canteen at Macleod does but a small business, there is never much cash in hand, but still it owns all its stock. The piano which was put in some years ago is quite popular amongst those who play at all.

READING ROOM.

The stock of books in the library has been added to from time to time from the current literature placed on the market. The illustrated and daily papers have been regularly received.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

STORES.

Occasionally during the year, there have been shortage of kit in the Q. M. store, but these have now been replenished. While on this subject I would like to invite your consideration to the subject of issuing a more suitable garment than the field jacket. While this jacket is quite suitable for stable and fatigue work, it gets shabby very quickly, the colour fades, and the men have to be constantly purchasing them on re-payment. I would suggest that the issue of a khaki serge jacket, for drill parade and patrol, keeping the present field jacket for fatigue work, would meet the requirements of the case.

The general and other stores supplied, have been of good quality.

BUILDINGS.

The whole of our buildings, including the roofs, will require to be repainted during the coming year, and I would urge the replacing of the present wooden sidewalks by some more lasting construction. At present the lumber bill to keep them in repair averages $20 per month.

GENERAL.

Before concluding this report I desire to bring to your notice the able assistance rendered to me whilst in temporary command by the officers, N.C.O.'s and constables of the division, stationed at Macleod. Reg. No. 1974 Sergeant Major Armer, W., Reg. No. 3198 Staff Sergeant Allan, J., Reg. No. 4016 Sergeant Blake, G. E., and Reg. No. 3197 Corporal Lindblad, E. L., have all performed their respective duties most conscientiously, and are worthy of special mention.

Reg. No. 2349, Staff Sergeant Piper, J. S., as Detective Sergeant, as usual has performed his duties most satisfactorily, and I cannot speak too highly of this N.C.O.

The N.C.O.'s and constables stationed on detachment have performed their many duties in a capable manner. Serious cases frequently occur when there is no time for men to report to their sub-district officers for instructions, and I am pleased to record that our N.C.O.'s and men on detachment have been equal to the occasion.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

R. E. TUCKER, Inspector.
For officer commanding 'D' Division, off duty.

APPENDIX L.

SURGEON G. P. BELL, Regina.

REGINA, October 24, 1913.

The Commissioner
R. N. W. M. Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following medical report for the year ending September 30, 1913.

The number of cases treated was 928 which, compared with last year, shows an increase of 286. The average number constantly sick was 18.26 which was more, by 5.57, than last year. The average sick time to each man was 9.65 days, which is more than in 1912, by 2.20 days. The average duration of each case of sickness 7.18 days, was lower than in the previous year by .03 days.

The deaths numbered 3, a reduction of two on the previous year, the causes being from pernicious anæmia. 1; from fracture of base of skull. 1; and gun-shot wound, 1 (homicidal).

General diseases.—Eruptive fevers were represented by 14 cases of measles, 1 of scarlet fever, and 2 of German measles. There were 135 cases of Influenza. Dysentery accounted for 5 cases. Of Malarial fevers there were 3 cases of ague, and Septic diseases furnished 3 cases of septicæmia. Tubercular disease of the lung gave 2 admissions. There were 10 cases of Gonorrhea. Rheumatism furnished 33 cases, and there were 3 cases of Debility. Other general diseases accounted for 2 cases of simple anæmia, and 1 of pernicious anæmia, the latter proving fatal.

Local diseases.—For diseases of the nervous system there were 48 admissions which included one each of locomotor ataxia, insomnia, and mania, 26 of headache, 15 of neuralgia, 2 of nervousness, and 2 of hemiplegia. Diseases of the eye and eyelids were the cause of 10 admissions, chiefly of conjunctivitis. Diseases of other organs of special sense numbered 8, six of which were aural, and two nasal. Diseases of the circulatory system: There were 3 cases, all of varix. Diseases of the respiratory system: There were 77 cases, consisting largely of coughs and colds; there were 2 cases of pneumonia, and 15 of bronchitis. Diseases of the digestive system: There were 232 cases; among these were 73 affections of the mouth and throat, 16 of colic, 7 of appendicitis, 1 of hernia, 51 of diarrhœa, 2 of jaundice, 1 of diabetes, and 6 of hæmorrhoids. Diseases of the lymphatic system furnished 5 cases; all were due to inflammation or suppuration of lymphatic glands. Diseases of the urinary system gave 2 cases, one of cystitis, and one of nephritis. Diseases of the generative system were 12 in number, consisting of 5 cases of orchitis, 5 of varicocele, 1 of phymosis, and 1 of urethral stricture. Diseases of the organs of locomotion: There were 12 cases, namely, myalgia 3, synovitis 5, bursitis 1, ingrowing toe nail 1, internal derangement of knee joint 1, and periostitis 1. Diseases of the connective tissue gave 13 cases, all of abscess. Diseases of the skin accounted for 43 cases, the principal causes being: boils 33 cases, eczema 3, and one each of impetigo and ulcer.

Injuries.—There were 247 cases of injuries, mostly due to wounds, sprains, contusions, and abrasions. There were 3 dislocations, one each of shoulder, knee, and toe, and 4 fractures, 2 of the clavicle, 1 of a finger, and 1 of the base of the skull, the latter proving fatal.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Poisons.—Two cases of ptomaine poisoning are reported.

Invalided.—There were 3 men invalided during the year, the causes being for varicocele 1, for nervousness 1, and for old injury to knee 1.

Surgical operations.—The more serious of these included 2 operations for appendicitis, 1 for hernia, 1 for internal derangement of knee joint, 1 for removal of cyst, 1 for varicocele, and 1 for varicose veins. All recovered.

Recruiting.—Two hundred and eighty-four applicants were accepted, 78 men were re-engaged, and 16 re-engaged after leaving.

Sanitary conditions.—The sanitary conditions of the several posts has been satisfactory except for the overcrowded state of the guard-room with civilian prisoners. No case of enteric fever has been reported during the year, but a slight outbreak of measles occurred at Regina, resulting in eleven cases. There was also one case of scarlet fever which was contracted from a civilian prisoner who was found to be suffering from the disease.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant.

G. PEARSON BELL.

Surgeon.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

APPENDIX M.

VETERINARY SURGEON J. F. BURNETT, REGINA.

REGINA, October 20, 1913.

The Commissioner,
R.N.W.M. Police,
Regina.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my report for the year ended September 30, 1913.

During the year I inspected the horses of 'A' Division, Maple Creek; 'C' Division, Battleford; 'D' Division, Macleod; 'E' Division, Calgary; 'F' Division, Prince Albert; and 'K' Division, Lethbridge; at each point I found the general health and condition of the horses satisfactory, the stables clean and comfortable, and the forage supplied of good quality. At the above-mentioned places there is little fault to be found with the shoeing, while at some of the outlying detachments it is anything but satisfactory, and a great deal of the trouble we have with the horses' feet is due to poor work of the blacksmiths.

Accommodation for twenty horses was secured by the erection of a fully modern stable at this post during the past summer, which does away with the necessity of keeping that number through the winter months in the old stable known as No. 5. The new stable has all the necessary conveniences, and is well lighted and ventilated.

Twelve horses were shipped from here to the Yukon last August, and were reported to have arrived at their destination in good order. Special care was exercised in the selection of these horses, and those sent were known to be sound, strong, and rugged, and well fitted to perform the work which will be required of them.

Eighty-five remounts were taken over during the year, all of them being of that stamp best suited for our work.

Special mention might be made of those purchased from Mr. D. J. Wiley, of Maple Creek, all were particularly nice turned horses with plenty of bone, and good feet. Of the lot shown by Mr. Wiley only two or three were rejected, these being horses that had been accidentally injured.

The breeding of these horses is also worth mentioning, they being out of range mares, and by a stallion out of a thoroughbred mare by a standard bred horse. This line of breeding in this instance has produced what I would consider a very high-class army remount, the thoroughbred blood toning down the action of the trotter, while the latter gives the size and intelligence, and I might say without any loss in stamina or the ability to stand hard work.

The following are the names of those from whom horses were purchased.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

APPENDIX N.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS, MACKENZIE RIVER SUB-DISTRICT.

FORT MACPHERSON, February 1, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your information the following report of the Mackenzie River Sub-District:—

Customs.—$214.24 has been collected by me at Herschell island, and I am forwarding same to the Collector of Customs at Dawson. S.S. Belvedere, $84.88; gasoline schooner Elvira, $129.24.

Crime.—There has been none in this district.

Buildings.—The quarters at Herschell island are fairly comfortable, except on very windy days when we burn a lot of extra fuel, as the wind goes right through the outside walls. The walls of the building need papering and reshingling on the outside, and this will be done next summer if we receive the material that was left by Captain C. Stein at Teller, U.S.A. The roof of this building was painted this summer. The storehouse is in good condition, and the whole of the building was painted this summer.

The quarters at Fort Macpherson are a bit more comfortable this winter than last, but it is still a very cold place to live in. The following repairs were done to the quarters by the members of the detachment, with the material supplied by the Hudson's Bay Co.: The partition between the kitchen and the N.C.O.'s room was taken down, and three rooms made out of it, viz., kitchen, N.C.O.'s room and office, and a room for Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson. The mess room was ceiled with lumber, and the walls were lined with paper and calico.

Sergeant Somers got out some logs this summer, and with the help of the members of the detachment built a storehouse, to store our fish in, as the one we had rented was not suitable.

Dogs.—There are five dogs at Fort Macpherson detachment, and they are in good condition, with the exception of old Fox who is very old and nearly blind, and will have to be condemned in the spring.

At Herschell Island detachment there were eight dogs at the start of the winter, and I purchased one more, 'Coffee,' but he was killed by our own dogs during the night on our way here, and I purchased another to replace him, 'Ginger.' Since our arrival here we lost another, 'Cockney,' from spinal meningitis. There are now eight belonging to Herschell Island detachment, and I intend purchasing two more, to complete two teams of five dogs each.

Fish and game.—The fishing at Herschell island was fairly good last year. We caught 3,600 with the gill nets, but could not catch any with the seine net.

On the 4th September I sent Corporal Trickey, Constable Johnson, Interpreter Chikchigalook, and a hired native with the whale boat to put up fish with the seine net. They returned on the 11th September, and reported that they tried along the coast to Kay point, but were unable to catch any fish with the seine net, as the fish were not running thick, and that the net was too heavy for four men to handle. The seine net of ours is far too heavy for our use, although I had four feet cut off the bottom of it this year. Last year we borrowed a light seine net, but were unable to do so this year.

I am requisitioning for a light seine net, also for a seal net.

The natives at the island caught more fish this summer than last, but still have not enough to last them through the winter.

About 350 seal were caught by the natives during the fall, and they still get a few whenever there is any open water around. No deer or sheep have been killed by them this winter.

During the summer the members of Fort Macpherson detachment caught sufficient fish for their dogs, and on the 18th September, Sergeant Somers, Constable Parsons, and Interpreter Johnnie left with the whale boat and canoe to put up fish at Arctic Red river, and returned on the 18th October by dog sled. They managed to put up 3,000 fish, which they cached at the mouth of the Peel, as the river was frozen over. This fish has now nearly all been hauled to the detachment.

The fishing on the Peel by the Indians was very poor owing to low water in the river. It was also poor on the Arctic Red river.

The natives along the Mackenzie also report that their catch of fish was not as good as last year.

The natives and Indians have killed about 70 sheep, but not much of the meat has been brought into the fort. Ptarmigan and rabbits are very plentiful this year.

Fuel.—The coal for Herschell island detachment was left by Captain C. Stein at Teller, U.S.A., but I was able to purchase two tons of coal from the gasoline schooner Elvira, and with what we had on hand will see us through the winter.

The members of the detachment hauled 20 cords of drift wood with the whale boat, and one trip with a small schooner belonging to a native. This wood had been previously gathered and piled by natives hired by us.

There is enough fuel at Fort Macpherson to last them through the winter.

Health.—The health of the men in this district has been excellent.

Mining.—A little prospecting is being done on the Bell river by a party of prospectors from Rampart House.

Natives, Eskimos.—As usual the natives from the Mackenzie river visited Herschell island during the month of August, and in September returned to their winter trapping grounds.

Mr. W. H. Fry, of the Church of England Mission, visited them during the summer, and baptized quite a number of them. He left in the middle of August per sloop Messenger for Coronation gulf, to visit the tribe of Eskimos that live around there and the Copper Mine river.

Over 200 natives were at Fort Macpherson to meet Bishop Stringer, who arrived on the Steamer Mackenzie River, and they left for down the river a few days after the departure of the steamer. Bishop Stringer and the Rev. C. E. Whittaker left for Dawson via Rampart House.

The general health of the natives has been good, and at both detachments they have been supplied with medicine whenever they needed it. Four children were born during the year, and three adults died.

Indians.—Quite a number of the Peel River Indians visited the fort in July, and they left for their hunting grounds shortly after the departure of the steamer.

Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson has attended all the sick people here, and I attach his report.

The fur catch so far has been fairly good. Mink are very plentiful this year.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Stores.—All the stores per the Mackenzie River route were received in good condition, with the exception of the following: 200 pounds flour, 100 pounds rice, and 30 pounds beans, which were badly damaged in transit, and were condemned. I am sending in requisitions for the stores required for this year.

Whalers.—The steam whaler Belvedere (Capt. S. F. Cottle) which wintered at Herschell island last winter, was not able to leave for the whaling grounds until the 15th July, owing to the season being late, and the ice not leaving the bay. She returned on the 6th September, and reported having caught eight whales this summer, making a total catch of 17 for two summers' work. They left again on the 9th September for San Francisco.

The gasoline schooner Elvira (Capt. C. T. Pederson) arrived on the evening of the 2nd August from San Francisco, and left early next morning for the east. She brought supplies from San Francisco for Mr. W. H. Fry. She returned on the evening of the 6th September, and reported having caught five whales. The captain did some trading with the natives and I collected $129.24 duty from him. She left on the 8th for the west.

Capt. C. Stein with gasoline schooner Anna Olga arrived on the 19th August from Seattle; she brought a few supplies for us, but left the bulk of them at Teller, U.S.A.

Mr. S. McIntyre accompanied by Mr. E. Ary with yacht Argo arrived from Flaxman island on the 27th August en route to Banks Land on a prospecting trip, but owing to contrary winds and their boat leaking they were forced to winter at Shingle point.

The two schooners Teddy Bear (Capt. J. Bernard) and Rosie H. (Capt. F. Wolkie) are wintering at Baillie island; they are reported to have caught no whales this season.

The schooner North Star (Capt. M. Anderson) is supposed to be wintering near Baillie island.

Transport.—The canoes at both detachments are in good condition. The whale boat at Herschell island leaks very badly, although I had it repaired this spring. The ships carpenter informed me that her bottom is rotten, and that he could not do any more to it. This boat is over 20 years old, and I do not think she is safe for our use, and I would recommend that a new boat be purchased outside, and sent in this summer. I think it is poor policy buying old boats here, as one cannot tell how old they are.

I would recommend that this detachment be supplied with auxillary power boat of about 5 tons register, and not to draw more than four feet loaded, as then we could haul our own supplies, and patrol to Baillie island. The Fort Macpherson boat needs overhauling in the spring, as she was driven on to a shingle beach during a gale, and a split made near her keel. I attach Sergeant Somers report re this matter. The toboggans at both detachments are in good condition. I would request that two Yukon pattern dog sleds be purchased in Victoria for Herschell Island detachment, and sent in by the Hudson's Bay Co's. steamer, which leaves there this year for Herschell island, as none can be purchased here.

Patrols.—There was the regular patrol from Fort Macpherson to Herschell island in the summer, and a report has been sent in.

Corporal Trickey, H. N., Constable Johnson, W. A., Interpreter Chikchigalook, and hired native, made a patrol in September with whale boat to Kay point, and return. Report attached.

Corporal Trickey, H. N., Constable Bates, G. C., with two dog teams, left on the 25th November on patrol to the No. 3 Police shelter cabin on the western branch of the Mackenzie river to cache dog feed, and returned on the 2nd December. Report attached.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

Constable Parsons and Chapman, with whale boat, left on patrol to the mouth of the Mackenzie river to cache dog feed at Nos. 3 and 4 shelter cabins and returned on the 14th September.

Sergeant Somers, Constable Parsons and Interpreter Johnnie, with canoe, left on the 1st August for Trail creek, to finish shelter cabin, and returned on the 11th August. Report attached.

Constables Johnson, Chapman and Interpreter Johnnie, with two dog teams, left Fort Macpherson on the 2nd January on patrol to Trail creek, to cache dog feed, and returned on the 29th January.

I arrived here on the 17th January with the patrol from Herschell island, for which I attach a report.

General.—Both the Hudson's Bay Co. and the Northern Trading Co. have established trading posts about 90 miles below Fort Macpherson, on a small river off the Middle Peel river.

The Hudson's Bay Co. have also established a post at Kittigazooit, at the eastern mouth of the Mackenzie river.

It is reported that the Hudson's Bay Co. are sending in a 300-ton steamer to Herschell island this year, and make their depot there, and from there run a small steamer to connect with the steamer Mackenzie River.

The summer has been a very dry one in the Mackenzie district, and very low water prevailed in the river and creeks. The fall was mild, but November, December, and January have been very cold. The lowest temperature recorded was 57 below zero on January 22 and 23rd.

No further information has been received about Hubert Darrell, who has been missing since December, 1910.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector,
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-District.

MACKENZIE RIVER SUB-DISTRICT.

FORT MACPHERSON, July 1, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division. R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your information the following report of the Mackenzie River Sub-District.

Customs.—I collected the sum of $280.08 duty at Herschell island, made up as follows: Capt. C. Steen, gasoline schooner Anna Olga, $274.83; W. D. Young, $5.25; and am forwarding same to the Collector of Customs at Dawson.

Crime.—Nil.

Fish and Game.—No fish have been caught at Herschell island during the winter. Seal have been very plentiful since the end of March, and about 600 were killed by the natives around the island. During April the natives killed fifty-two deer, but only brought a few sled loads of the meat to the island. White fox were very plentiful on the island and the coast this past winter, and about 475 were caught in the vicinity of the island. Natives killed four polar bear at the island this winter. Considerable fur was caught by the natives in the delta, lynx and mink were the main catch. The Indians have also caught considerable fur, and this year the majority of them are out of the company's debt. The Indians killed about 200 moose, and a number of sheep and caribou during the winter, but very little of the meat reached the fort.

Arms and Accoutrements.—The arms and accoutrements at both detachments are in good condition, with the exception of one Winchester carbine, and one Colts revolver, which are out of order, and I am returning them to headquarters.

Buildings—Herschell Island detachment buildings are in fair condition. The Fort Macpherson detachment buildings are in poor condition, and I do not think they will last much longer, as the sills are rotten. I would recommend that new quarters be built here, as the Hudson's Bay Co. will not do anything more to this old building.

Dogs.—At present there are nine dogs at Herschell island, and three at Fort Macpherson. We will require one more dog at Herschell island, and two more at Fort Macpherson. I condemned two dogs at Fort Macpherson, as they would be no good for next winter's work. Two of the Herschell Island dogs were killed in dog fights during the winter, and one died of dog sickness. The natives at the island lost over fifty dogs from this sickness, and the ones on the coast and in the delta also lost quite a number of dogs from the same sickness. Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson calls this sickness spinal meningitis.

Transport.—Two sled toboggans are required for Herschell island, and they will be purchased here and forwarded on. The ones at Fort Macpherson are in good condition. The canoes at both detachments are in good condition. The whale boat at Herschell is very old and in poor condition and hardly safe for our use. I have already reported on it, and recommended that a new boat be sent in this summer. What is needed at the island is an auxillary power boat of about ten tons register, and not to draw more than four feet loaded. We could then haul our own supplies, and patrol to Baillie islands and the coast. The Fort Macpherson whale boat was repaired this spring, and is now in good condition.

Provisions.—Provisions at both detachments are in good condition. I have requisitioned for provisions for both detachments for the coming year, and expect them by first boat. I sent the following provisions from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson during the winter: 600 pounds flour, 200 pounds sugar, and 100 pounds rice, as they were short of these articles. The members of Herschell Island detachment hauled them as far as the No. 3 Police cabin, and from there Constable Parsons, Interpreter Johnnie and hired Indian Enoch took them on to Fort Macpherson.

Fuel.—There is no coal on hand at Herschell island, but we are expecting fifteen tons from Teller, U.S.A., for the coming winter. There is sufficient wood to last until we can haul with the whale boat. At Fort Macpherson they cut forty cords wood during the winter, but whilst rafting it down the river in the spring, the raft broke, and they lost twenty cords of it. Some more will be cut later on to replace this amount.

Health.—The members of both detachments are in good health. I attach Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson's report on same.

I would draw attention to the increasing number of cases of mentally deranged. There is an Eskimo woman named Inonyoni at Baillie island, who was here last winter for treatment (report sent in by last mail) and who, I hear, is no better. At Herschell island there is an Eskimo named Kengaktak who is also deranged, but is not bad enough for us to take charge of. Since leaving there I hear that another is a bit off.

On the 12th June, Mr. J. Sundblad brought up John Erland, mate of the gasoline schooner Anna Olga, who Acting Assistant Surgeon Wilson found was suffering from acute mania, but he was not detained here, as Mr. Sundblad would not lay an information before seeing Captain C. Steen. These men had wintered in the delta. I did not meet this party on my way up to Fort Macpherson, but I think Captain Steen will take him to Nome, and hand him over to the American authorities, as he is an American citizen. We have no provisions for their care, and can only forward them by summer boat if they are violent.

Eskimos.—About fifteen families lived at the island during the winter. They all wintered well, as they had some grub left from last summer, and caught quite a considerable number of foxes and seal. They are able to purchase flour from Captain Steen at Shingle point. No deaths occurred amongst them since my last report; there have been two boys born. The natives in the delta also wintered well; also the ones along the east coast and at Baillie islands.

Indians.—Very few Indians wintered at the fort during the winter. As usual they were pretty hard pressed for food in the spring, but they managed to come through all right. The main party of Peel River Indians arrived here at the end of May from their winter hunting grounds. They reported having killed quite a number of moose, caribou and sheep. At present they are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the steamer.

Whalers.—No boat wintered at the island this last winter. Captain C. Steen, with the gasoline schooner Anna Olga wintered at Shingle point, and traded with the natives. He had a very small supply of flour, etc., and I believe he got rid of it all. His crew of three men wintered in the delta, and also traded. The gasoline schooner North Star, Captain M. Anderson, wintered at Atkinson point, and is reported to have done well trading with the natives.

I have not heard how the schooner Rosie H., Captain F. Wolki wintering at Baillie island, and the gasoline schooner Teddy Bear, Capt. Bernard wintering at Coronation gulf, have done, but they are both reported to be going out this summer to San Francisco.

Mining.—No mining is being done in this district. W. Mason and W. Annett, of the McRae party, are doing a little prospecting in the vicinity of the Kay Point River, but have found nothing so far.

Patrols.—The Dawson patrol consisting of Sergeant Dempster, Corporal Schutz, Constable Phillips, Special Constable Turner, and Indian John Martin, arrived here on the 8th February, and returned on the 26th February. Both the men and dogs were in good condition on arrival, with the exception of a few dogs that were very foot sore. Two of these dogs were shot on arrival, as their feet were too far gone, one was left here, and I gave Sergeant Dempster one of the Herschell Island detachment dogs in the place of him, as no more dogs could be purchased here. Both men and dogs were in good shape on leaving here.

I attach the following reports: Two reports of patrol from Herschell island to No. 3 Police cabin. Report of patrol from Fort Macpherson to Herschell island, also report from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson.

General.—Deacon W. H. Fry, of the Church of England Mission, left Kittigazooit last August in the sloop Messenger, accompanied by four native families in four whale boats, bound for Coronation gulf to visit the blonde tribe of Eskimo, only got as far as Cape Parry, and the party wintered there. The native and his wife who were on Mr. Fry's boat returned to Kittigazooit, and it is reported that they were all well. The natives caught quite a number of foxes, and that seemed to be the main meat supply, as deer and fish were scarce where they were. All the natives of the party are to return this summer, but Mr. Fry will go on if he gets a fresh supply of provisions sent him.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

The traders at Red river, Fort Macpherson, and in the delta did very well this past year, and are at present out of everything, except a little tea, tobacco, and calico.

It is reported that the Hudson's Bay Co. are going to establish two more trading posts on the coast this year, also that three outside boats will be in the trade during the summer. The winter has been a cold one, but the spring has been mild.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector.
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-district.

APPENDIX O.

INSPECTOR F. H. FRENCH, PATROL LE PAS TO CHURCHILL, HUDSON BAY.

THE PAS SUB-DISTRICT, March 16, 1913.

To the Officer Commanding,
‘F’ Division,
Prince Albert.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my report of the Pas-Churchill patrol.

On January 6, 1913, the following party left the Pas: Inspector French, Reg. No. 4092 Sergeant Munday, W., Dr. Doyle, Guide and Trail Breaker Andrew Latten, Robt. Giloery and two ‘F’ Division dog trains and one hired train.

We proceeded down the Saskatchewan river, and the second day out the guide went sick, so I paid him off and sent him back. We then continued our journey, calling at Cedar lake and Grand Rapids at which place we rested one day and continued our journey, crossing the north end of lake Winnipeg via Limestone bay and Mossy point at which place we made a portage into Playgreen lake and arrived at Norway House on the evening of January 13. We remained at Norway House for two days. On January 14 I sent the two Indians and their dog team back. On the 16th we continued our journey to Split lake, taking one ‘Depot’ Division dog train and Special Constable Merdew and Indian Guide William Stowers. On the 17th we arrived at Cross lake and met Constable Withers and Special Constable McLeod, with the Churchill mail. As Dr. Doyle was unable to travel any further I sent the Churchill mail into Norway House with the Hudson’s Bays Co. mail pack, and had Constable Withers make up a carriage for Dr. Doyle, and Special Constable McLeod took part of our load and we all started for Split lake on the 18th and arrived at Split lake on January 23, at which place we rested for three days.

On my arrival at Split lake I met Constable Harris with two Indians and one Eskimo and two ‘M’ Division dog teams of six dogs each, who had brought the mail down from Churchill and who was waiting to take the mail back with him. On January 25, Special Constable Merdeaux and Indian guide and dog team returned to Norway House. On January 27 the following party started from Split lake for Churchill: Inspector French, Sergeant Munday, Dr. Doyle and two ‘F’ Division dog teams, Constable Withers and one ‘Depot’ Division dog team, Constable Harris and two ‘M’ Division dog teams and three natives from Churchill and our Guide and Trail Breaker, Alex. Spence. We struck north to the Little Churchill and arrived at Staggs Indian camp on January 28. At this point the snow became very deep and travelling was slow. On making inquiries from the Indians, I was informed that the snow got deeper as one went north. On receipt of this information, I hired an Indian and dog team and loaded him up with 200 fish, besides the fish that we carried on our own loads. The Indian was to come as far as the Paddle portage, from which place he was to return to his camp. I paid him $3 per day and he supplied his own rations and dog feed. We arrived at the Paddle portage on January 31, took all the fish from the Indian and paid him off and sent him back.

The snow was very deep on the Little Churchill river and the trail made by Constable Harris coming down, could not be found. The three Indians were kept ahead of the dogs on snowshoes and, as a result, we were able to make fair time.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

On February 2 we arrived at the Police log house on the edge of the Barren Lands, and on the 3rd we were unable to cross on account of a blizzard. On the 4th February we started and made half way across the Barren Land and on the 5th arrived at the Police patrol house at the mouth of the Deer river. On the 6th February we patrolled down the Churchill river, having to face a very bad blizzard, and arrived at the barracks and handed over the Churchill mail and Indian treaty money to Supt. Demers.

To make this patrol we covered 800 miles, and it took 26 days actual travelling. The dogs were all very lame with sore feet when we arrived at Churchill. The dogs were rested at Churchill from February 6 to February 19.

On February 20 the following party left Fort Churchill carrying the Churchill mail: Inspector French and No. 1 dog team, Sergeant Munday and No. 2 dog team, Constable Withers and No. 1 'Depot' Division dog team and Guide and Trail Breaker Alex. Spence.

Constable Jones and Native Pete and 2 'M' Division dog teams came with us as far as the Police log house on the south side of the Barren Lands.

On the 21st we crossed the Barren Lands in one day and five dogs out of our three trains dropped in harness and were unable to use their hind legs and had to be taken out of harness and left behind to follow. I think this was caused by feeding them on blubber or dried seal meat and it in some way affected their kidneys.

On the 22nd we rested the dogs, and on the 23rd started over the Paddle portage to the Big Churchill at which place we arrived on the 24th and made Harvey's Indian camp on the 25th and arrived at Split lake on February 28. The trip from Churchill was made to Split lake in eight actual travelling days. We rested our dogs for two days and, on March 3, the following party left Split Lake: Inspector French and Sergeant Munday and two 'F' Division dog teams and Special Constable McLeod and No. 2 'Depot' Division dog team. We patrolled west to Natawanan and loaded up with 150 dog fish and hired an Indian guide and started for Thicket portage and arrived on the night of the 5th and camped with three prospectors by names Bancroft, Wright and Vickers. They have claims on Wintering lake and report that they are running from three to ten dollars to the ton in gold and silver. On the 6th we called on a white trapper by name of Jock Still and then struck south to the Hudson Bay Railway survey line and followed it west and had to break trail all day. We continued our patrol west and called at the construction camp and supply camp along the line on the 8th. At 2 p.m. Special Constable McLeod and dog team were sent back and the Indian guide paid off and returned with Special Constable McLeod. Sergeant Munday and myself continued our journey west, calling at supply camp along the line and arrived at the Pas on March 12, when I was met by Inspector R. Y. Douglas.

The trip was generally a good one, but the weather was very cold and all members of the patrol were more or less frost bitten on the face.

On the first day across the Barren Lands we lost one dog out of No. 2 team which was left for dead on the trail. The conduct of the men on the patrol was very good.

Reg. No. 4092, Sergeant Munday, W., is an excellent man on a trip and had it not been for this N.C.O.'s previous northern experience the trip would have been much harder.

Distance to Churchill via Grand Rapids and Norway House, 800 miles. Distance from Churchill to the Pas via Split lake, 600 miles. Number of days travelling from Churchill to the Pas, 17 days.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. H. FRENCH, Inspector,
In command Churchill Patrol.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

THE PAS, MANITOBA, April 4, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. P. 'F' Division,
Prince Albert.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of March 22, 1913, I beg to have the honour to herewith submit a general report of my observations of the country through which we travelled while on the Churchill patrol.

Indians.—At Cedar lake and Grand Rapids there are Indian reserves, the former supporting 300 persons and the latter 200; they are all in good circumstances and report a good fur catch.

At Norway House there are 600 souls, but most of these were away at the time of my visit; however, on making inquiries it was ascertained, that they were all in a prosperous condition and free from disease.

At Cross lake there are 400 Indians, the majority of whom were away at their traps when I passed through. The Hudson's Bay Company manager informed me that the season up-to-date had been an exceptionally good one for fur, and that the Indians in the district were all making good catches. 300 natives reside at Split lake, who report a good fur catch.

All the Indians throughout the country that the patrol covered, seemed to be well provided for. I stayed at several Indian camps on the trip in question, and the occupants all boasted large fur catches. They were very kind to us, and always made room for us in their houses.

Fur and game.—The fur catch this season, up-to-date, throughout the north country has been an exceptionally good one. Between Norway House and Churchill I saw over 100 black and silver foxes, which had been sold to the Hudson's Bay Company. There was also a very large catch of otter, mink, martin and cross and red foxes.

The game seemed to be very plentiful, fresh tracks of moose and deer being seen every day by the patrol until we reached a point 90 miles north of Split lake. After that, we struck fresh cariboo trails. On the Churchill river, and through the Barren Lands, the cariboo are very plentiful. The Indians north of Split lake practically live on nothing else but cariboo meat, during the winter season.

Mining and prospecting.—Messrs. Bancroft and Wright have staked eight claims on Sandy lake, which assayed $7 to the ton in nickel, and 80 cents to the ton in copper. These claims are on the pyrrhotite dyke. At Thicket portage, six claims have been staked, which assayed $3 to the ton in gold and silver. At Wintering lake Messrs. Bancroft and Wright and Vickers, have staked seven claims, which assayed $10 to the ton in gold and copper. On Ironstone lake, Wright and Vickers have staked six claims, which assayed $9 to the ton in copper, gold and silver. At Cariboo lake, Wright and Vickers, have staked three claims, which averaged $5 to the ton in gold and silver. All the assays on the above claims have been taken from surface samples and it is anticipated that something better will be struck in this vicinity. The first year's assessment work has been completed on all the aforesaid claims.

Hudson Bay railway construction.—The dump is completed for practically 60 miles, and about 100 men are still working on the old contract in rock cuts; this will be completed by the end of the present month. From Limestone lake east there is about 60 miles of right of way cleared. About 80 men were still working at this class of work when we passed through. The contractors, McMillan Bros., have had about 120 teams hauling freight between here and Thicket portage this winter. Every 10 miles, a large warehouse, store and cook-shack has been erected for the convenience of the men working on the construction; these camps are situated at mileage 60, 70, 80, 90, 100, 110, 120, 130, 140, 150, 160, 170 and 180. There has also been a tote road cut to Whiskey Jack portage, over which large quantities of supplies are brought in for the railroad line; these supplies had been brought to Whiskey Jack portage by boat last fall via lake Winnipeg. In conversation with McMillan Bros. they informed me that, if they could procure the labour, they would have between 2,000 and 2,500 workmen along the line from mileage 60 to Thicket portage.

The bridge at The Pas is all but completed, and the trestle bridge over the Cormorant Lake narrows is under construction.

In conversation with Messrs. Boyd and McArthur they told me that they would commence laying the steel as soon as the snow was off the dump, and by this fall they calculate on having 130 miles of track down. The number of men at present employed on the Hudson Bay railway is about 250 persons.

Magisterial Work.—There were no magisterial duties attended to on this patrol, as no complaints were made to any member of the party.

Police Duties.—The only police duties performed on this trip, other than carrying the mail and treaty money, was to locate one, George Street, a white trapper of Wintering Lake district, who was reported missing since last November. No trace of this man could be obtained. Full reports dealing with the case have already been forwarded in.

District.—The district through which we travelled was practically all muskeg, marsh, spruce swamps and lake, with an occasional high elevation of land of gravel or rock composition, with a vegetable growth of small spruce on same. Throughout the patrol I did not see any belts of merchantable timber or arable land. The country is a wilderness, only fit for trapping and fishing with, perhaps, a little mining.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

F. H. FRENCH, Inspector.
Commanding The Pas Sub-district.

APPENDIX P.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS, PATROL FROM HERSCHELL ISLAND TO FORT
MACPHERSON, JANUARY 13.Mackenzie River Sub-district.

FORT MACPHERSON, January 20, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,

'N' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR.—I have the honour to make the following report of the winter patrol from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson.

On the 8th instant, accompanied by Reg. No. 4347, Constable Johnson, W. A., and Interpreter Chikchigalook, I left Herschell island at 9 a.m. with two dog teams for Fort Macpherson. We arrived at Stokes point at 2 p.m., had dinner and left at 4 p.m., arriving at No. 1 shelter cabin on Kay point at 8 p.m. Ice very rough in places. Weather cold, southwest wind.

On the 9th instant we left the cabin at 9 a.m., nooned two hours at King point, and arrived at Shingle point at 8.30 p.m. Stayed the night with Captain C. Stein. Ice very rough. All the dogs feet cut by rough ice, and very sore. Weather very cold, southwest wind.

On the 10th we left Shingle point at 10.30 a.m., and arrived at Akpaiyooachuk at noon. Stayed the day at McIntyre's to rest dogs, as their feet were very sore. Weather very cold, strong southwest wind.

On the 11th we left at 9 a.m., nooned one and one-half hours, and arrived at No. 3 cabin at 6 p.m. Trail good. Weather very cold, southwest wind.

On the 12th we left No. 3 cabin at 8.30 a.m., nooned hour on the Big river, and pitched our tent at 6 p.m. on a small river. Trail good. Weather cold. This morning found dog 'coffee' dead; he had been killed by our own dogs during the night. Passed three native families on small river, en route to Herschell island.

On the 13th we broke camp at 8.30 a.m., nooned half an hour on the portage, and arrived at Miners cabin on Aklavik river at 6 p.m. Visited Police cabin No. 4 en route, and took eighty fish for dog feed. Travelling good. Weather very cold, slight wind.

On the 14th we left the miners cabin at 8.45 a.m., and arrived at the Hudson's Bay Co.'s post on a small river off the Middle Peel at 1 p.m., and camped for the night as it was too stormy to travel any further. Weather cold. Purchased dog 'Ginger' from J. Greenland for $30.

On the 15th we left at 6 a.m., nooned an hour, and made a Husky cabin on the Middle river at 6 p.m. Trail very heavy. Weather cold.

On the 16th we left the cabin at 8 a.m., made Coniyak's camp at 1 p.m., stopped two hours for lunch, and made an Indian cabin at the mouth of the Peel at 7 p.m. Trail heavy. Dogs tired and sore footed. Weather cold.

On the 17th left camp at 8 a.m., nooned two hours at the mouth of the Husky river, and arrived at Fort Macpherson detachment at 4.45 p.m. Weather very cold, strong head wind.

General.—At all the native camps on the river they had lots of fish on hand, also a fair supply of other food. They have caught a large number of mink this winter, but lynx and other fur seem to be scarce. Rabbits are very plentiful along the river.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

I found all the Police shelter cabins in good condition, also the supplies, with the exception of the dried fish at No. 4 cabin, which the mink and squirrels had got at and eaten quite a number. All the bundles had been left hanging from the rafters, but the squirrels had cut the yarn, and the fish were scattered on the floor. If it had not been for Mr. Storkenson calling in and noticing how things were, we would not have had much of the fish left. He placed traps in and outside the cabin, and caught 3 mink and 15 squirrels.

Travelling on the coast this year was very hard on both men and dogs, as the ice is very rough, and there is hardly any snow over it, but it was fairly good on the river.

The weather during the trip was cold.

The distance travelled is about 260 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector.

Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-district.

APPENDIX Q.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS, REPORT ON SHELTER CABINS, HERSCHELL ISLAND TO MACPHERSON.

FORT MACPHERSON, February 11, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R. N. W. M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—In reply to the Commissioner's memorandum of the 28th November last re Shelter Cabins.

I have the honour to inform you that all the cabins are at present in good condition, and each one has a stove set up in it, and well stocked with firewood.

The following supplies of provisions and dog feed are in each cabin:—

No. 5 Cabin, Trail creek.—2½ pounds baking powder, 65 pounds bacon, 75 pounds flour, 15 pounds sugar, 3 pounds salt, 3 pounds tea, 3 pounds syrup, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 1 pound bovril, 300 dry fish.

No. 4 Cabin, Mackenzie river.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuit, 10 pounds sugar, 5 pounds syrup, 2 pounds tea, 1 dozen matches, 3 pounds candles, 100 dry fish.

No. 3 Cabin, Mouth Mackenzie, W. B.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuit, 10 pounds sugar, 3 pounds tea, 10 pounds beans, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 100 dry fish.

No. 2 Cabin, Shingle point.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuits, 10 pounds sugar, 3 pounds tea, 10 pounds beans, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 7 days dog feed (muktuk).

No. 1 Cabin, Kay point.—40 pounds bacon, 40 pounds biscuits, 10 pounds sugar, 3 pounds tea, 10 pounds beans, 3 dozen matches, 6 pounds candles, 7 days dog feed (muktuk).

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector,
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-District.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

APPENDIX R.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS' PATROL FROM FORT MACPHERSON TO HERSCHELL ISLAND.

HERSCHELL ISLAND, March 10, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R. N. W. M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to make the following report of the patrol from Fort Macpherson to Herschell island.

On the morning of the 27th February, accompanied by Constable Johnson and Interpreter Chikchizalook, I left Fort Macpherson, with two dog teams, for Herschell island. We nooned two hours at the mouth of the Husky river, and arrived at the mouth of the Peel river at 4.45 p.m., where we camped for the night. Trail good. Cold and foggy, southeast wind.

On the 28th we left at 7.30 a.m., nooned one hour and arrived at Pikaloo's cabin on the Middle river at 6 p.m. Trail good. Cold and clear, southeast wind.

On the 1st March we left at 8.30 a.m., nooned 1½ hours on the portage, and arrived at the Hudson's Bay Co.'s post on a small river off the Middle Peel at 4 p.m. Trail badly drifted. Cold and stormy, northwest wind.

On the 2nd instant we left at 9 a.m., stopped three hours at Mr. J. Sundblad's camp at the mouth of a small river off the Big river, and arrived at the Miners cabin at 4.30 p.m. Trail drifted. Cold, northeast wind.

On the third instant we left at 7.30 a.m., nooned two hours on the Portage, and pitched our tent at 6 p.m. on a small river off the Big river. Trail fair. Cold and fine.

On the 4th inst. we broke camp at 8 a.m., stopped two hours for dinner, and arrived at No. 3 shelter cabin at 3.30 p.m. Trail good, southeast wind.

On the 5th inst., we left the cabin at 8 a.m., nooned two hours and arrived at Akpaiyooachuk at 3.20 p.m., where we stayed the night with Captain McIntyre. Fine a.m., snowing p.m.

On the 6th inst. we left at 9.15 a.m., and arrived at Shingle point at 10.15 a.m. Stayed the day there to rest dogs. Cold, southwest wind.

On the 7th we left at 8 a.m., stopped two hours at Sabine point for lunch, and arrived at No. 1 shelter cabin at Kay point at 4 p.m. Ice rough. Head wind all day.

On the 8th inst. we left at 7 a.m., stopped two hours at Stokes point, and arrived at Herschell island at 4 p.m. Ice very rough. Cold, southeast wind.

The natives that we visited have lots of provisions to see them through the winter, but were out of fish, and they reported that rabbits were getting scarce. They have caught quite a lot of mink this season, but not as many lynx as last year.

The weather on the trip was cold, but we had a fine trip down. The distance travelled is about 260 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector,
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-District.

APPENDIX S.

INSPECTOR W. J. BEYTS' PATROL FROM HERSCHELL ISLAND TO FORT
MACPHERSON, JUNE 13.

FORT MACPHERSON, June 24, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
'N' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Athabaska Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to make the following report of the patrol from Herschell island to Fort Macpherson.

At 8 p.m. of the 20th May, Corporal Trickey, H. N., Constable Bates, G. C., Interpreter Chikchigalook, hired native Mike, and myself, with two dog teams, left Herschell island and made Stokes point at 11.30 p.m., stopped an hour to eat, and arrived at Kay point at 5 a.m. of the 21st. Trail fair, 34 miles.

On the 21st left camp at 7 p.m., stopped an hour at King point and arrived at Shingle point at 2.45 a.m. of the 22nd. Trail fair, 32 miles.

On the 22nd left Shingle point at 5.30 p.m., and arrived at Apayoozik at 6.30 p.m. Pitched tent and got camp ready. Interpreter Chikchigalook and native Mike with dog teams made the return trip to Shingle point for the rest of the provisions.

At 6 p.m. of the 23rd, Interpreter Chikchigalook and hired native Mike returned to Herschell island with two dog teams. Corporal Trickey, Constable Bates and myself remaining at Apayoozik to await the arrival of the Fort Macpherson whale boat.

It was much colder this spring than last, and the snow was just starting to go off the island when we left, and we could have stayed there another ten days, but I did not care taking any chances on the ice at that time of the year.

On the 16th June, Constable Chapman and Interpreter Lazarus arrived at the Sand Spit with the whale boat from Fort Macpherson, but they left the whale boat about half a mile from our camp, owing to the ice not being away.

On the night of the 17th instant a good breeze sprang up, and started to take the ice away from the shore, so we broke up camp, and left at 1 a.m. of the 18th. We arrived at Rozy's camp, a mile below White Fish station, at 4.30 a.m.; stopped to eat and left again at 5.30 a.m. Arrived at No. 3 Police cabin at 10 a.m.; had dinner, loaded up baggage, and left at 12.30 p.m. Travelled till 6.15 p.m., and camped for the night on the Big river. Warm. Fair wind.

On the 19th, left at 9.15 a.m., stopped at 12.50 p.m. for dinner, left again at 2 p.m., and travelled till 7.50 p.m. Stopped an hour for supper, and left again at 9 p.m., and travelled till 5 a.m. of the 20th, when we camped for a sleep at the mouth of the Aklavik river. Warm. Mosquitoes very bad.

At 7 p.m. of the 20th a fair wind sprang up so we started again, stopped an hour for dinner, and left at midnight. Camped at 4 a.m. of the 21st about 20 miles up the Aklavik, as the wind dropped. Warm. Slight showers.

On the 21st we left at noon, stopped an hour for dinner at 5 p.m., and left again at 6 p.m., and camped at midnight on the Mackenzie river. Very light wind. Warm. Mosquitoes very bad.

On the 22nd we left at 11.40 a.m., arrived at the mouth of Peel river at 6.30 p.m., had dinner, and left at 7.45 p.m. Stopped at 1 a.m. for supper, and left again at 2 a.m., and arrived at Fort Macpherson detachment at 8 a.m. of the 23rd instant.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

Remarks.—We met quite a number of Eskimo families on the coast, where they had just arrived from the delta to hunt white whale. They have lots of provisions on hand, and are catching lots of fish.

Ducks and geese were not very plentiful on the coast this year, but we managed to get sufficient to keep us going.

The weather on the coast was cool, but we found it very warm on the river.

The distance travelled by whale boat is about 190 miles.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. BEYTS, Inspector,
Commanding Mackenzie River Sub-district.

APPENDIX T.

CORPORAL H. TRICKEY PATROL HERSCHELL ISLAND TO SHELTER
CABIN WITH DOG FEED, ETC.

HERSCHELL ISLAND DETACHMENT,

December 5, 1912.

The Officer Commanding,
Mackenzie River Sub-District,
'N' Division,
Herschell Island.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that, according to your instructions, I left Herschell island on Monday, November 25, accompanied by Constables Bates, G.C., and Interpreter Chikchigalook, with two dog teams, with loads of dog feed for the Police shelter cabins on road to Fort Macpherson, having seven days' feed for two teams for each cabin; also hinges and hasps for fixing up doors, &c.

The first night out we made Stokes point, and reached Kay Point cabin the following noon, where we fixed up the door and left some of the dog feed. From Kay point to Shingle point it took us two days, where we lightened up again by leaving some dog feed.

We made No. 3 cabin in one day. The return journey we made Herschell island in three days, being light, having been away eight days. The mileage being about 190 miles.

I found all the cabins in good condition, and left the camp stoves in each one as per your instructions, also dry wood cut up inside ready for use.

All the dogs returned in good condition.

The weather during the trip was fine, but cold.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

H. N. TRICKEY, Corporal,
In charge of detachment.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 28

APPENDIX U.

CORPORAL C. D. LANAUZE, PATROL FROM SMITH LANDING TO FORT SIMPSON, MACKENZIE RIVER AND RETURN TO FORT RESOLUTION.

GREAT SLAVE LAKE,

February 28, 1913.

The Officer Commanding,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Smith Landing.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that, acting under instructions received from you, I left Smith Landing detachment on January 17, with detachment dog train, on patrol to Fort Simpson, Mackenzie river. After crossing the 16-mile portage to Fort Smith I stayed there over night with A. J. Bell, Esq., Indian Agent. Leaving Fort Smith on the 18th, Fort Resolution was reached on January 21, after a cold, uneventful journey down the Great Slave river on a good trail. I accompanied two Hudson Bay Company's dog trains returning to Fort Resolution.

The cold was intense, the thermometer ranging between 50 and 55 below zero all the time.

At Fort Resolution I made an investigation re the sudden death of R. McCleneghan of the Northwest Fur Co., and forwarded report to you regarding same.

Here I engaged a Chipewyan Indian named 'Duffield' as forerunner for my trip to Fort Simpson at $2 per day and rations, and leaving Fort Resolution on the 27th, Hay river was reached at 2 p.m. on the 29th; a 25-below-zero wind on the big lake made travelling unpleasant.

Leaving Hay river on the 31st, Fort Providence was reached on February 2.

Here my runner unfortunately got laid up with a bad attack of La Grippe and the nuns of the Roman Catholic Mission there very kindly attended to him. I was delayed five days, and started for Fort Simpson on February 8.

I engaged a Slavey Indian 'Minoza' and dog train to come with me for two days and help haul my dog fish. I was glad I did this as we met with deep snow and no road. I had enough feed for my dogs and was able to cache two nights fish for our return, although we ran short of grub ourselves for the last day.

Fort Simpson was reached at 6 p.m. of February 13, after six days hard trail.

Two Indians passed us in the early morning on the long portage between the Mackenzie and Liard rivers and brought the news of our coming to the fort. Mr. Camsell of the Hudson Bay Company, came to meet me up the Liard river with two dog trains and drove me into the Fort.

The Rev. Gerald Card, Indian Agent at Fort Simpson, has made great progress there, having built a fine Agency building, men's houses, &c., and his experimental farm last summer was a success, wheat ripening there well.

The Government mail overtook me at Fort Providence and I carried the letters to Fort Simpson which gave the people a chance to answer their mail there.

While at Fort Simpson I made full inquiries regarding the opening up of a Police Detachment there according to your instructions, and am forwarding separate report to you.

I left Fort Simpson on February 17 and made a good trip back arriving at Fort Resolution on February 27 at 9 a.m.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

The weather was very variable during the trip, cold, warm, snowy and windy, and not many clear days. On Trout island, between Providence and Hay river, on our return, we got snowed up one night in a howling blizzard and were out on Great Slave lake in a storm between Hay river and Fort Resolution for six hours, but managed to make shore. Glare ice is very deceptive in a storm, as it looms up ahead it just looks like land.

I drove my own dogs right through; dog shoes were used all the trip, dried every spell and dogs feet doctored. Snow shoes were worn all the time.

Total mileage up to date, 830 miles.

Amongst the Resolution and Mackenzie River Indians there is no destitution, moose are plentiful, and recently many cariboo have been killed near Resolution.

Reports from Fort Rae state that the Indians there are having a hard time, as no cariboo have passed that way; fish are also scarce as these Indians depend on the cariboo and do not make a fall fishing.

The chief of the Providence Indians came to me and wanted me to tell the Government of their need for treaty. They cannot understand why the Resolution and Hay River Indians get treaty and they not.

It has been a good fur year so far, foxes and mink being very plentiful and good prices are paid in the north now.

On February 21 the mail arrived here from Fort Smith. I am in receipt of your instructions of February 12, 1913, to wait here until the arrival of Coroner Bell who is to hold an inquest on the body of R. McCleneghan. The packet leaves for Fort Smith on the 29th inst., and I am forwarding reports by same.

I expect to return to Smith Landing about the 8th March.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

APPENDIX B.

TARIFF OF FEES UNDER THE COMPANIES ACT AS FIXED BY ORDER
IN COUNCIL OF DECEMBER 30, 1909.

The following is the tariff of fees payable under section 24 of the Act:—

When the authorized capital is $50,000 or less—$100.

When the authorized capital is more than $50,000 and not more than $200,000—$100 and $1 for every $1,000 or fractional part thereof in excess of $50,000.

When the authorized capital is more than $200,000 and not more than $500,000—$250 and 50 cents for every $1,000 or fractional part thereof in excess of $200,000.

When the authorized capital is more than $500,000—$400, and 20 cents for every $1,000 or fractional part thereof in excess of $500,000.

Examples of fees according to the tariff:—

$ 50,000.. . . .	$ 100 00
75,000.. . . .	125 00
100,000.. . . .	150 00
150,000.. . . .	200 00
200,000.. . . .	250 00
250,000.. . . .	275 00
300,000.. . . .	300 00

N.B.—No fee to be exacted upon commissions appointing Commissioners to make inquiries into matters affecting public interests. (O. C., December 5, 1891.)

APPENDIX D.

REGULATIONS AND TARIFF OF FEES UNDER THE ACT RESPECTING LOAN COMPANIES.

Intending applicants for Letters Patent under this Act shall give two weeks previous notice in The Canada Gazette of their proposed application, stating therein:—

(a) The names in full and address and calling of the proposed Board of Directors, and with special mention of the names of not less than three of the applicants who are to be the provisional Board.

(b) The proposed name of the company, which shall not be that of any known company or partnership or individual or any name under which any known business is being carried on, or so nearly resembling the same as to be calculated to deceive or cause confusion. A subsisting name may, however, be given in whole or in part with the consent of the company or person entitled thereto, and the name of any existing company whose franchise and assets are to be acquired may be given to the applicants if the Governor in Council is satisfied that such company has the best right to that name.

(c) The place within Canada where the head office of the company is to be established.

(d) The object for which incorporation is sought.

(e) The amount of the proposed capital stock, the number of shares and the amount of each share.

At any time not more than two months after the last publication of such notice, the applicants may petition the Governor in Council, through the Secretary of State, for the issue of such Letters Patent.

Such petition shall state the facts set out in the notice published in The Canada Gazette, and shall be supported by affidavits or statutory declarations under the provisions of the Canada Evidence Act establishing:—

(a) That the proposed name is unobjectionable in the sense hereinbefore indicated.

(b) The sufficiency of the notice required by the preceding regulations.

(c) The truth and sufficiency of the petition and of the facts therein set forth, including the verification of the signatures of the petitioners by an affidavit or statutory declaration made by the witness thereof.

A notary, a justice of the peace or a commissioner authorized to receive affidavits, shall be competent persons before whom any affidavit, affirmation or declaration required by this Act, or regulations made thereunder, may be taken or made.

The following shall be the schedule of fees payable for Letters Patent under this Act:—

(a) When the proposed capital stock is $100,000—$200.

(b) When the proposed capital stock is more than $100,000, and less than $1,000,000, the fee to be $200, and two dollars and a half for every additional $10,000 or fractional part thereof in excess of $100,000.

(c) When the proposed capital stock is $1,000,000, the fee to be $500.

(d) When the proposed capital stock is over $1,000,000, the fee to be $500, and $5 for every additional $10,000 or fractional part thereof in excess of $1,000,000.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29

No steps shall be taken in the Department of the Secretary of State towards the issue of any Letters Patent under this Act until the fee therefor has been paid.

The Secretary of State shall be charged with the administration of this Act as far as the issue of Letters Patent thereunder is concerned.

Upon the granting of Letters Patent under this Act, notice shall forthwith be given by the Secretary of State in The Canada Gazette and the Company to which such notice relates shall cause the same to be published on four separate occasions in at least one newspaper in the country, city or place where the head office of the company is established.

REPORT OF THE UNDER-SECRETARY OF STATE FOR EXTERNAL AFFAIRS.

The Right Honourable R. L. BORDEN, P.C.,
Secretary of State for External Affairs,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report on the proceedings, transactions and affairs of the Department of External Affairs for the year 1912-13.

The more important subjects of correspondence with which the Department has been concerned, grouped as they regard Canada's relations with Foreign Powers and with other portions of the Empire, are briefly reviewed below:—

RELATIONS WITH FOREIGN POWERS.

NORTH ATLANTIC COAST FISHERIES.

The question of the constitution of the Mixed Fishery Commission, provided for by the agreement with the United States of the 20th July, 1912, to determine the reasonableness of future regulations affecting the North Atlantic Coast Fisheries, has been under the consideration of the two Governments and there is every prospect of a satisfactory personnel being soon decided upon.

PECUNIARY CLAIMS AGREEMENT WITH THE UNITED STATES.

The Tribunal for the arbitration of claims under this agreement has now been formed. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Chief Justice of Canada, has been selected as the British Arbitrator, Mr. Chandler Anderson as the Arbitrator of the United States; and these two members have concurred in the appointment of Mr. Henri Fromageot, an eminent French advocate, as third member or umpire.

The British Agent before the Tribunal is Mr. C. J. B. Hurst, C.B., of the Foreign Office; Mr. E. L. Newcombe, C.M.G., Deputy Minister of Justice, having been appointed as Associate British Agent. The United States Agent first appointed was Mr. S. Mallett Prevost, who has since been succeeded by Mr. Robert Lansing.

The Tribunal held its first Meetings at Washington on May 13th, the sessions continuing until the 17th of that month. Adjournment was then taken to the 9th of June when it re-assembled at Ottawa and remained in session there until the 18th June. The next meeting is to be held at Washington on the 9th March, 1914.

INTERNATIONAL BOUNDARY WATERS.

The following questions arising under the Boundary Waters Treaty of 1909 with the United States have been referred to the International Joint Commission:

Pollution of Boundary Waters.—At the request of the two Governments, the Commission has been asked to examine and report as to the causes by which boundary waters have been injuriously polluted, and as to the means to be taken to remedy or prevent such pollution, and this question is now receiving consideration.

Livingstone Channel Question.—Reference was similarly made of the question of the necessity for the erection of a dyke, or other compensatory work, in connection with the dredging by the United States of the Livingstone Channel in the Detroit River, and the adequacy of certain works proposed by the United States to meet such necessity if it were found to exist.

The Commission decided that the erection of a dyke was desirable, indicated its proper location and recommended other necessary measures.

Lake of the Woods.—The Commission was also asked to report whether it is practicable and desirable to maintain the waters of this lake at a stated level and, if so, at what level, and further to determine the extent and value of lands likely to be submerged, and to recommend the means for regulating the volume, use and out-flow of the waters so as to maintain the desired level with the least possible damage to public and private interests. No report in this matter has yet been made.

Dam at Kettle Falls.—Application was made to the Commission by the Rainy River Improvement Company for the approval of plans for a dam at Kettle Falls, but on the ground that the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to entertain the application it was dismissed.

Boom in Rainy River.—A further application by the Watrous Island Boom Company for the approval of a boom in the Rainy River has also been considered, but no decision has yet been announced.

TREATY WITH THE UNITED STATES FOR THE REGULATION OF FISHERIES IN WATERS CONTIGUOUS TO THE INTERNATIONAL BOUNDARY.

The United States Congress has not yet taken steps to provide for the enforcement in the United States of the regulations prepared by the Commissioners under this Treaty.

PELAGIC SEALING.

Difficulty having been found in extending to Canada by Order of the King in Council the operation of the Act of the Imperial Parliament passed to provide for the enforcement of the provisions of the quadri-partite treaty of 1911, an Act to authorize their enforcement, so far as Canada was concerned, was passed by the Canadian Parliament on the 6th June, 1913.

By Act of Congress passed the 24th August, 1912, the United States, under a power reserved by the Treaty, suspended for a period of five years from that date the killing of seals on the Pribylof Islands. Similar action in respect of the rookeries on the Commander Islands was taken by Russia, land killing being prohibited for the period covering the years 1912 to 1916 inclusive. Canada is thus deprived for five years of the percentage of skins to which she is entitled under the Treaty when land killing takes place.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29a

ALASKA BOUNDARY DEMARCATION.

Good progress has been made in this work, the demarcation being now completed from the Yukon River to the Arctic Ocean; south from that river to Mount Natazhat very little remains to be done; and operations have been begun on the portion in the difficult mountainous region lying between the latter mountain and Mount St. Elias.

TREATY OF COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION WITH JAPAN OF THE 3RD. APRIL, 1911.

Parliament having sanctioned the application to Canada of this Treaty, with the exception of Article VIII. providing for special tariff treatment, on the understanding that it should not affect the provisions of the Canada Immigration Act, Canada's adherence to the Treaty was duly notified on the 1st May, 1913.

RELATIONS WITH OTHER PORTIONS OF THE EMPIRE.

TRADE AGREEMENT BETWEEN CANADA AND THE WEST INDIES.

The Agreement of the 9th April, 1912, with certain of the West Indian Colonies was approved by the legislatures of these Colonies, by the Canadian Parliament and by His Majesty's Government, and was duly brought into operation on the 2nd June, 1913.

ROYAL COMMISSION ON TRADE AND RESOURCES OF THE EMPIRE.

Sittings of the Commission were held in London in October and November, 1912; and on the 28th December, 1912, an interim report was submitted with Minutes of the evidence taken at these sittings.

In February, 1913, in pursuit of its investigations, the Commission visited Australia and New Zealand, but no report of the proceedings in these Dominions has yet been made.

It is of interest to mention that the office of the Commissioner General in Paris has been transferred to the control of the Secretary of State for External Affairs.

I have pleasure in expressing my satisfaction with the way in which the various members of the staff have discharged their duties.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH POPE,

Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs.

OTTAWA, 30th June, 1913.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29a

PASSPORT REQUIREMENTS OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

NOTE.—British subjects travelling abroad are recommended to furnish themselves with Passports, for even in those countries where they are no longer obligatory they are found to be useful as affording a ready means of identification in case of need.

ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.—Passengers for the Argentine Republic should carry passports, and are advised to also carry certificates of birth. Persons born in His Majesty's dominions should, if they intend to become resident, even for a short time, obtain from a British Consulate in the Republic a Certificate of Nationality for purposes of identification, and to secure exemption from military service.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.—Persons entering Hungary from Servia or Roumania must be provided with passports. Although, in other cases, passports are not legally necessary, travellers are advised to carry them. For purposes of residence a passport or other document to prove identity is necessary.

BELGIUM.—It is desirable for travellers to possess passports. For purposes of residence, registration at the Police Office of the district is required, and a passport is accepted as evidence of identity.

BOLIVIA.—See Peru.

BRAZIL.—Passports not actually required, but travellers are advised to carry them for purposes of identification. If intending to become resident they should register their names and addresses at the nearest British Consulate.

BULGARIA.—Travellers should carry passports of recent date. Bulgarian visa not required. Residents should provide themselves annually with certificates of registration under the Ottoman Order in Council.

CENTRAL AMERICA.—Possession of passports desirable both for personal security and purposes of identification.

Costa Rica.—No regulations in force.

Guatemala.—Alien residents are required to present at the Guatemalan Foreign Office passports visés by the Diplomatic or Consular Officer in Guatemala of their native country.

Honduras.—No regulations except in times of disturbance.

Nicaragua.—No regulations in times of peace. To leave the country a local passport has, however, to be obtained from the Ministry of War.

SALVADOR.—Travellers should carry passports, and should, in addition, obtain passports from the Government of Salvador. (Charge for latter, 25 cents.)

CHILE.—No regulations in force.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

CHINA.—Passports are not required at open ports. For travelling into the interior a special passport must be obtained from a British Consul, which is valid for one year. (Cost, 3 dol. 50c. Mexican.)

COLOMBIA.—British subjects proceeding to the Republic of Colombia must provide themselves with passports, visés by the Colombian Minister or by a Consul of the Republic in Canada. For travelling in the interior it is advisable to obtain special passport from a British Consul (charge, sixty cents). Immigrants without resources must be provided with a passport issued gratis by the Colombian Consul at port of departure.

COREA.—Passports are not required within a radius of 100 li (33 miles) from the open ports. Persons travelling in the interior must obtain a passport through the British Consul. (Fee, 3.50 yen, about $1.75.)

CUBA.—Although passports are not legally necessary, travellers are advised to carry them. Persons intending to reside in Cuba for any length of time should have their names registered at the British Consulate-General.

DENMARK.—No regulations in force. But passports or similar documents may be required by the Police from persons accepting employment in Denmark before furnishing them with an "opholdsbog" (situation book), and also from music hall artistes.

Iceland.—No regulations in force.

St. Thomas.—No regulations in force. A local government passport must, however, be procured when leaving the island, the cost of which varies according to destination.

DOMINION REPUBLIC.—Passport necessary.

ECUADOR.—See Peru.

EGYPT.—Passports not required by law, but travellers are advised to carry them. For travelling in other parts of the Ottoman Dominions, see TURKISH EMPIRE.

Sudan.—Persons desiring to enter the Sudan, travelling third-class, unless they are officials of the government, or are travelling on government warrants, or are bonâ fide natives of the Sudan, must apply for permits to the Sudan Agent, Cairo, the Sudan Government Railway Agent at Alexandria, the Sudan Government Agent at Suez, the Governor of Halfa, the Governor of the Red Sea Province, or the Inspector at Port Sudan.

Persons proceeding south or west of El Obeid or Bara must obtain a permit from the Governor of Kordofan or his representative at El Obeid or Bara.

All Europeans are recommended to report their arrival, personally or in writing, at any place where an official holding the post of Sub-Mamur, or any superior post, is stationed.

FRANCE.—The possession of a passport may save inconvenience, since evidence of identity may at any time be required.

If produced as evidence of identity at a Post Office, the passport may require to be countersigned by the British Consul for the district.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29a

For permanent residence, or in order to exercise profession or trade, a declaration furnishing particulars with respect to the family, nationality, profession, &c., of the person making the declaration, is required to be made at the Mairie of the Commune within a few days of arrival.

Algeria.—Regulations similar to France, both as regards passports and residence, &c.

French Guiana.—Regulations similar to France, both as regards passports and residence, &c., &c.

Madagascar.—Travellers are advised to carry passports.

Martinique.—
Reunion.—
Saigon.— } Regulations similar to France, both as regards passports and residence, &c., &c.

New Caledonia.—Possession of passport desirable in view of existence of penal establishment.

Tahiti.—No regulations affecting Europeans in force.

Tunis.—Regulations similar to France, both as regards passports, and residence, &c., &c.

GERMAN EMPIRE.—Military officers travelling to Germany should be provided with passports; and although in other cases the possession of a passport is not obligatory, yet as evidence of identity may at any time be required, travellers are advised to carry them. For residence of more than three weeks a passport is absolutely necessary. Children sent to schools in Germany should carry passports.

GREECE.—No regulations in force, except as regards persons entering the country by the land frontier, who are sometimes required to be in possession of passports.

Hayti.—A passport (visé by a Haytian Consul) must, on arrival, be shown at the Port Office. It should also be produced and registered at the nearest British Consulate. On leaving the country a Haytian permit has to be obtained, as to which the British Consul should be consulted.

Italy.—The possession of a passport is not obligatory, but travellers may at any time be required to give a satisfactory account of themselves, and to establish their identity.

British subjects producing passports at Italian post offices for purposes of personal identification may be required to obtain certified translations of the same from the British Consul.

Eritrea.—Travellers proceeding to Italian Colonies should, unless they carry special letters of recommendation to the authorities, provide themselves with passports, and obtain a visé from an Italian Consulate.

Tripoli.—Foreigners to be allowed to land must show a passport issued within recent date for Tripolitania by the proper authority and visaed by the Italian authority at the port of embarkation, and must, within two days of their arrival, present themselves at the Police Office for the registration of their passports, which will be countersigned by their respective Consuls there resident.

ITALY—continued.

Italians or foreigners who arrive without having complied with the foregoing dispositions will be at once refused admission.

No person, whether Italian, native or foreigner, will be allowed to embark for other ports in Tripolitania or Cyrenaica without a special authorization on his passport.

Non-Italian wishings to leave must show a similar visé of recent date on their passports granted by their respective Consuls.

JAPAN.—Travellers are advised to carry passports.

LIBERIA.—No regulations in force, but a passport issued by the Liberian Secretary of State is required from residents leaving the country. For this 50 cents is charged.

MEXICO.—No regulations in force.

MONTENEGRO.—No special regulations exist, but a passport properly visé is required for travelling through the surrounding Turkish and Austrian territories. Persons travelling in Montenegro otherwise than by the main roads ('routes nationales'), or for purposes of science or exploration, must obtain permission from the Ministry of the Interior through their own Legation or Consulate.

MOROCCO.—It is advisable for travellers to be provided with passports, which are sometimes necessary, e. g., for travelling inland, or for embarking on board the French steamers for Oran. Any one wishing to travel into the interior should consult His Majesty's Minister at Tangier or the British Consul for the district through which this route lies.

British subjects residing for more than one month in Morocco are required, under the Morocco Order in Council, 1889, to register themselves at the British Consulate.

MUSCAT.—No regulations exist. Travelling in the interior is unsafe without an armed escort.

NETHERLANDS.—The possession of a passport is not strictly necessary, but is recommended for purposes of identification.

Dutch Guiana, Curaco and Dependencies.—No regulations in force. Travellers are advised to provide themselves with passports as evidence of nationality.

Netherlands and East Indies.—Travellers on arrival, must register themselves at the Office of the chief Local authority. For travelling inland in the islands, or for residence, a passport must also be obtained from the Local authorities, respecting which the British Consul should be considered.

NORWAY.—No regulations in force.

PARAGUAY.—No regulations in force. Neither passports nor certificates of nationality are required from foreigners by the local authorities. It is as well, however, for persons travelling in the interior of the country to be provided with passports.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29a

PERSIA.—A passport bearing the visé of a Persian Consular officer must be produced on entering Persia and the passport should be countersigned by the Persian passport officer before leaving the country.

PERU, ECUADOR AND BOLIVIA.—A passport is not actually necessary, but it is desirable to possess one in order to be able to obtain from a British Diplomatic or Consular officer the certificate of nationality required in the event of civil disturbances.

PORTUGAL.—Travellers are advised to provide themselves with passports. For residence in Portugal or Portugese Colonies, a passport or other proof of nationality is required in order to obtain the necessary permission.

Azores.—The possession of a passport is advisable.

Cape Verde Islands.—Passports are not actually required, except in times of public danger, but they are useful in view of the fact that all foreigners have to personally register themselves at the Mayor's Office as soon as possible after arrival.

Loanda.—Passports necessary.

Madeira.—No regulations in force.

Mozambique.—Travellers should be provided with passports.

ROUMANIA.—Persons travelling to Roumania must be provided with passports bearing the visé of a Roumanian Consul. A fresh visé must be obtained for each journey. On arrival they should at once obtain the visé of the British Legation or of a British Consulate and then within twenty-four hours of arrival, apply to the Roumanian authorities for a permit to reside in the country. For a stay of less than eight days this formality may be dispensed with, and the permit will be stated upon the passport by the police officials at the frontier.

RUSSIA.—Visitors to Russia must be provided with passports bearing the visé of a Russian Diplomatic or Consular officer. This visé must be within six months of the date of entering Russia. Without such visé they will not be allowed to enter the country. To persons of the Jewish faith the visé is only granted in special circumstances, as to which the Russian Consular officer should be consulted, and in any case such persons are subject to special regulations in Russia.

The passport will enable the holder to reside in Russia for six months, when it must be exchanged at the prefecture of St. Petersburg, or at the Chancery of a Provincial Governor, for a Russian "Billet de Séjour," to be renewed annually.

The cost of such a "Billet de Séjour" varies from 7 r. 15c to 1 r. 29c. Each "Billet de Séjour," on first issue or renewal, must be delivered to the local police officer for inscription or visé. For non-renewal of a "Billet de Séjour" at the time of its expiration a fine is exacted.

On leaving Russia a police certificate must be obtained which is granted on the first visit of the traveller to Russia at a cost of 75 copecks. On subsequent visits 6r. 50c is charged. If a "Billet de Séjour" has been obtained it must be returned, when the passport will be handed back to the owner with the necessary authorization to leave.

4 GEORGE V., A. 1914

In the case of persons travelling through Russia, without stopping at any point within the Empire, the visé of a Russian Consular officer "to travel through Russia" will be accepted as sufficient both for the purpose of entering and leaving the country, without obligation to obtain the police authorization to leave necessary in case of a stay in Russia.

Travellers passing through Tashkend or Askabad should place themselves in communication with the Russian officials at those towns.

SERVIA.—Travellers should be provided with passports, which are required by the Hungarian frontier officials.

SIAM.—No special regulations in force, but British subjects are required to register themselves at the British Consulate-General within one month of arrival. For travelling in the interior a passport must be obtained from the Siamese Government. Fee for registration, sixty cents, and for passport fifty cents.

SPAIN.—It is most advisable for travellers to be provided with passports. The visé of a Spanish Consul is not necessary, but will be found useful in travelling in provincial towns and country districts.

In the province of Barcelona, British subjects should, upon arrival, personally show their passports to His Majesty's Consul-General, who will thereupon furnish them with a certificate, which they are required to present, within twenty-four hours after their arrival in Barcelona, at the Office of the Civil Governor (in country towns and villages at the Office of the Mayor), in order that their names, descriptions, &c., may be registered. A fine, and possibly expulsion, may result from non-compliance with this regulation.

Canary Islands.—No regulations in force.

Ceuta.—British subjects desiring to visit Ceuta should apply through the British Vice-Consul at Algeciras for an order from the Com-mandante-General.

SWEDEN.—No regulations in force.

SWITZERLAND.—A passport is necessary in order to obtain a "Permis de Séjour," which must be taken out, after their arrival, by persons intending to reside in Switzerland. Children sent to schools in Switzerland should carry passports.

TURKISH EMPIRE.—Persons travelling to Turkey must be provided with a passport bearing the visé of a Turkish Consular officer. Without such passport they will be refused admission to the country. A fresh visé must be obtained for each journey. On leaving Turkey the visé of a British Consul should be obtained.

UNITED STATES.—No regulations in force.

Hawaiian Islands.—No regulations in force.

Philippine Islands.—Passports not required.

PORTO RICO.—Travellers are advised to carry passports.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29a

URUGUAY.—No regulations affecting Europeans in force. Travellers are, however, advised to have passports as evidence of nationality, in case of need.

VENEZUELA.—Travellers should be provided with passports bearing the visé of a Venezuelan Consular officer.

DEPARTMENT OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS, APRIL, 1913.

REGULATIONS RESPECTING PASSPORTS.

1. Applications for passports should be made in writing and enclosed in a cover addressed to "The Honourable the Secretary of State for External Affairs, Ottawa".

2. The charge for a passport, whatever number of persons may be named in it, is two dollars. The fee payable must accompany the application. Postage stamps will not be received as payment.

3. Passports are granted only to British born subjects or to persons naturalized in the Dominion of Canada. A married woman is deemed to be a subject of the state of which her husband is for the time being a subject.

4. Passports are not valid after five years from the date of issue. Fresh passports must then be obtained. When the party is a naturalized British subject he will be so designated in his passport.

5. Passports are granted to all persons either known to the Secretary of State or recommended to him by some person who is known to him; or upon the production of a declaration by the applicant, a blank form of which may be obtained at this department, verified by a declaration made by any banking firm or by any mayor, magistrate, justice of the peace, minister of religion, surgeon, solicitor, or notary resident in the Dominion of Canada. In certain cases, the applicant's certificate of birth must be produced in addition to the declaration.

6. If the applicant for a passport be a NATURALIZED BRITISH SUBJECT, his certificate of naturalization must be forwarded to the Department of External Affairs with the declaration; and his certificate of naturalization will be returned with the passport to the person who has communicated with this Department in the applicant's behalf for delivery to the latter. A statutory declaration to the effect that the proposed visit abroad is of a temporary character—giving the probable duration of same—and that the applicant intends to return to Canada and reside here permanently, must accompany the application for a passport.

7. A passport cannot be issued by the Department of External Affairs on behalf of a person already abroad; such person should apply for one to the nearest British Mission or Consulate.

N. B.—Although travellers are now free to enter most foreign countries without passports, colonial British subjects travelling abroad are recommended not to omit to provide themselves with passports, for even in those countries where they are no longer obligatory, they are found to be useful as affording a ready means of identification in case of need. British subjects intending to reside in Germany or Switzerland should provide themselves with passports.
