CHAPTER I

The first part of the history of the United States is the history of the colonies. The colonies were first settled by Englishmen in 1607. They were at first dependent on England for their supplies and protection. But as the colonies grew in number and in size, they began to assert their independence. They demanded that they should be able to govern themselves. They demanded that they should be able to elect their own representatives to a legislature. They demanded that they should be able to make their own laws. They demanded that they should be able to control their own trade. They demanded that they should be able to defend themselves. They demanded that they should be able to punish their own criminals. They demanded that they should be able to make their own treaties with other nations. They demanded that they should be able to make their own peace with other nations. They demanded that they should be able to make their own war with other nations. They demanded that they should be able to make their own decisions about their own future. They demanded that they should be able to make their own choices about their own destiny. They demanded that they should be able to make their own decisions about their own lives. They demanded that they should be able to make their own choices about their own fate. They demanded that they should be able to make their own decisions about their own souls. They demanded that they should be able to make their own choices about their own destinies. They demanded that they should be able to make their own decisions about their own lives. They demanded that they should be able to make their own choices about their own fates. They demanded that they should be able to make their own decisions about their own souls. They demanded that they should be able to make their own choices about their own destinies.

The second part of the history of the United States is the history of the Revolution. The Revolution began in 1775. It was a struggle for independence from Great Britain. The colonists fought the Revolutionary War. They won the war. They declared their independence from Great Britain. They established a new government. They adopted a new constitution. They created a new nation. They became the United States of America. The Revolution was a great event in the history of the world. It was a turning point in the history of the United States. It was a moment of great courage and sacrifice. It was a time of great heroism and bravery. It was a time of great love and devotion. It was a time of great faith and hope. It was a time of great joy and happiness. It was a time of great peace and harmony. It was a time of great unity and solidarity. It was a time of great strength and power. It was a time of great wisdom and knowledge. It was a time of great truth and justice. It was a time of great love and compassion. It was a time of great kindness and generosity. It was a time of great patience and tolerance. It was a time of great forgiveness and mercy. It was a time of great grace and favor. It was a time of great blessing and prosperity. It was a time of great glory and honor. It was a time of great fame and renown. It was a time of great respect and admiration. It was a time of great love and affection. It was a time of great friendship and companionship. It was a time of great support and encouragement. It was a time of great help and assistance. It was a time of great care and concern. It was a time of great compassion and empathy. It was a time of great understanding and sympathy. It was a time of great respect and esteem. It was a time of great honor and glory. It was a time of great fame and renown. It was a time of great respect and admiration. It was a time of great love and affection. It was a time of great friendship and companionship. It was a time of great support and encouragement. It was a time of great help and assistance. It was a time of great care and concern. It was a time of great compassion and empathy. It was a time of great understanding and sympathy. It was a time of great respect and esteem. It was a time of great honor and glory. It was a time of great fame and renown.
