List of Chain Store Firms in Canada, 1965	27

DEFINITIONS

Chains - A retail chain is an organization operating four or more retail stores in the same kind of business under the same legal ownership.

Classification by kind of business - Some firms operated chains in several distinct types of business and for purposes of this report these were allocated to their proper group. Department stores are not included in this report.

Classification by kind of organization - Local chains are those operating within one city or locality. Provincial chains, as the term implies, operate stores within one province only, but in more than one locality. Sectional chains cover more than one province, yet are confined to a region such as the Maritimes or Prairies. National chains operate stores in most provinces.

Number of stores - The average number of stores is obtained by averaging the numbers in operation at January 1, June 30 and December 31. The maximum is the total number of stores operated during the year, regardless of whether operated all or part of the year.

Sales - Total retail sales made through all retail outlets. Sales made through head office or warehouse are not included.

Salaries and wages - Salaries and wages reported are those paid to all employees including head office and warehouse.

Accounts outstanding - These are the amounts owing on charge, instalment or open credit accounts at the end of the year. They do not include accounts written off.

Stocks - Stocks on hand at the end of the year, in both stores and warehouses, are shown at cost or invoice value.

RETAIL CHAIN STORES

Annually, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics undertakes a survey of all known retail chain organizations in Canada—a chain organization being defined as “an organization operating four or more retail outlets in the same kind of business under the same legal ownership”. It is important to note that, under this definition, an organization operating retail outlets in more than one province is divided into a number of chains in those instances where there are four or more retail outlets operated by the chain organization in each province, but organized under separate corporate charters. Prior to 1961, an organization operating on a national scale would have been classified as a single chain store organization whether or not the outlets operated under separate corporate charters. In general, the use of the term “legal ownership” has tended to increase artificially the number of chain store organizations in Canada.

The reader should also note that chain department stores are not included in the statistics published for the retail chain store field. As well, voluntary groups or chains which are generally defined as independently owned stores affiliated with sponsoring or sponsored wholesalers are not included unless they have met the ownership clause in the definition.

During 1965, there were 602 retail chains operating in Canada, a net increase of 23 chains over the previous year. The number of retail outlets operated by the chain organizations rose to a record 11,240, an increase of 527 outlets. Sales reached a record $4,683,159,000, a gain of 11.9 per cent over the 1964 total.

All provinces recorded increases in sales through chain store outlets during 1965, with the largest gains occurring in Newfoundland (27.3 per cent), New Brunswick (18.0 per cent) and British Columbia (15.6 per cent).

All trades experienced substantial increases over the previous year; the largest gains were registered by furniture stores (25.5 per cent), men's and boys' clothing and furnishings stores (21.6 per cent and variety stores (20.7 per cent).

The chain store universe continued to be dominated by grocery and combination stores; 47.7 per cent of all chain store sales were made by stores in this kind of business. It would appear, however, that the share of the chain store market held by grocery and combination stores has now levelled off at this point.

The share of the chain store market held by sectional and national chains declined slightly over the previous year—from 60.6 per cent in 1964 to 59.6 per cent in 1965. A slight decline in market share was also registered for chain store organizations operating 100 units or more—from 61.9 per cent in 1964 to 61.0 per cent in 1965.

While total sales increased by 11.9 per cent over 1964, salaries and wages paid to employees rose from $440,830,900 in 1964 to $508,256,400 in 1965, an increase of 15.4 per cent.

The retail sales of chains represent total dollar volume and have not been adjusted for price changes.

Estimates of sales of retail chains are also published monthly. The monthly estimates are released approximately six weeks after the survey month, in two publications: “Chain Store Sales and Stocks”, Catalogue No. 63-001, and “Retail Trade”, Catalogue No. 63-005. The estimates of monthly chain store sales for 1965 are undergoing a final revision and will be published in “Retail Trade”, Catalogue No. 63-209.

Following the general statistics for all chains (on pages 7-13), the reader will find detailed tabulations for a number of specified trades: food stores, variety stores, drug stores, women's apparel stores and shoe stores. Where possible, city totals have been shown for these trades.
