Members of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada welcome the assistance of the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce through their Construction and Consulting Services Branch in the release of this publication. This Directory offers the reader or prospective client, the broad range of design and project management capability and experience available from Canadian architectural firms currently seeking a greater participation in international construction projects. The R.A.I.C., through its Task Force on Overseas Commissions, and, in co-operation with the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce, the Association of Consulting Engineers and the Canadian Construction Association, will continue to establish ways and means to acquaint clients with the benefits to be derived through Canadian participation.

After three decades of continuous and significant growth in the Canadian Building Industry, the Canadian architect is well equipped to provide a level of service and capability that has been disciplined to produce high quality design of international standards, economic control and expeditious development.

Construction industry methods and our traditional use of external specialist consultants permits the Canadian architect to concentrate a large and experienced group upon the project and thus maintain a short activity period between commissioning and contract completion.

Canadian architects are proud of their past experience and look forward to providing and transferring the same high standards of service to their off-shore clients.
